AEOLIANS MAKE GOOD- WILL TOUR TO EAST WILLING TO FULLY 75,000 PEOPLE BESIDES RADIO AUDIENCES

TRAVELED 11,000 MILES IN SAFETY

For the first time in the history of LaVerne College a group of singers left LaVerne with the purpose of making a good will tour among the Brethren colleges and churches of the east, and of representing LaVerne at the Annual Conference of the Church of the Brethren. A trip of this sort was an absolutely new venture, since they had no one's previous experience to profit by and no previous reputation to depend on. The Aeolians left LaVerne on May 24, and started dodging their way east; it was rather difficult, however, since the Dodge weighed 4400 pounds when it was all hanging together.

On June 15, the quartet reached Hershey, Pennsylvania, where the annual conference was held. There they sang to over 30,000 people in three days and were deluged with requests for programs, a great many of which had to be declined. They were popularly known as the "orange quartet" due to the fact that they were wearing orange colored ties.

During the next fifty-six days, after leaving the conference, the four singers gave sixty-one programs in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Maryland. Wherever they went they drew capacity crowds and were asked for return engagements. Due to the close proximity of the churches, many people heard them five and six times. Engagements were booked for every night in the week, and for three consecutive weeks they sang nine programs per week, giving three each Sunday.

While at Washington, D.C., they visited many points of interest and had the pleasure of meeting President Hoover. In Pittsburgh they sang over KDKA, which is a world-wide broadcasting station, and in Chicago they recorded two numbers for the Brunswick Phonograph Company.

They returned to LaVerne on September 1, having given 85 concerts and singing to over 75,000 people besides their radio audiences. They traveled a total of over 11,000 miles without accident, and report that exactly 526 pies, 8 chickens and a quantity of choice Pennsylvania ham was received from eastern jurisdiction.

A SUGGESTION

We suggest that the Whiskerino Club contribute to the new church what they save on razor blades until they start to shave again.

Oney: "Am I a little pale?"
Blanche K.: "No, you're a big b."

Hoover Gives Chapel Talk Thursday

STRESSES ECONOMY AMONG STUDENTS

Thursday's chapel was very interesting as well as educational. Dr. W. I. T. Hoover gave a talk on "Economy Thru Thought."

The devotions were led by the Apollo Four, who sang, "My Task," followed by prayer. Some of the points in Dr. Hoover's address were very precise and direct.

He said to keep an itemized account of what you spend and what it is spent upon. Look over your list and see how many times it was for luxury, or what those unnecessary articles were. Ask yourself if it was necessary, and if it did any good.

An illustration was given to illustrate the point. Once a man who had never been taught economy married. Instead of saving, he spent as he pleased and consequently could never make anything ahead. His wife had more sense of value, so she requested that he turn his check over to her every Saturday. He did, and "they prospered ever afterward." (Applause from the women.) "And that could be reversed." (Hearty applause from the men.)

"If you go with a young lady that demands everything she wants, quit her for a while. She will get over it. And girls, if he spends money for just anything and everything, you had better do the same."

VARSITY CLUB INITIATION

"The Varsity Club will hold its first initiation of the 1930-31 school year Saturday at 6:00 p. m. in the Y. M. C. A., followed by a banquet of both the old and new members, at 7:30 in the auditorium of the old Brethren church building," says Onis Leonard, manager.

Two initiations are held each year, one at this time and another in February for athletes who have won the coveted "L" and wish to join the Varsity Club.

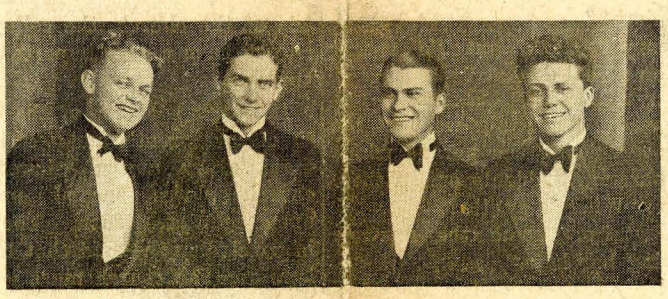

Other plans for the year consist of the "Ladies' Nite" in December, and several other banquets.

"To throw away paper or orange peels on the floor or lawn is not economy; a lot of us could be good janitors," were other statements made by Dean Hoover.

It is true that "the financial condition of some people is quite evident." We will surely profit if we bear in mind some of this advice.

AEOLIAN SINGERS

Aeolians Make Phonograph Records

While in Chicago, the Aeolian Singers recorded two sacred numbers for the Brunswick Phonograph Company. The two selections are "The Rose of Sharon," and "Jesus Satisfies Me," both of which will appear on the same record. This record will be released for public sale if there is sufficient demand for it. If you are interested in seeing this record released, see Don Miller, or one of the Aeolians. The quartet also recorded a group of six songs for an eastern cereal company, which will be broadcast over six stations in the U. S. during Thanksgiving week.

First Organ Recital is Given in New Church

ROLAND DIGGLE PLAYS BEFORE FULL HOUSE

The first organ recital in the new Church of the Brethren was given by Roland Diggle, organist and choirmaster of the St. Johns Episcopal Church and vice-president of the National Association of Organists, Monday, September 22, 1930.

The numbers played on the new organ, at this recital, by Mr. Diggle, were selections to acquaint people with the three organs in the great modern organ. They are the great organ, the swell organ, and the choir organ. The numbers included:

1. Allegro in D (Handel).
2. Twilight Melody (Meale).
3. Kamennoi Ostrow Op. 10 No. 22 (Rubinstein).
4. Choral Prelude, "Valet will ich dir geben" (Bach).
5. Fantasy on an old English air (Mills).
6. Solo, "Consider the Lilies" (Scott), sung by Mrs. Lucile Root and accompanied by Ralph Travis.
7. Violin solo, Suite No. III (Adagio) (Ries), played by Robert C. Walker and accompanied by Ralph Travis.
8. Ave Maria (Schubert).
9. Song of Joy (Diggle).
10. March of the Brethren—manuscript (Diggle) which was written for this recital.

The Sonorita Quartet Makes Debut

The Sonorita Quartet composed of Evelyn Deardorff, Geneva Suttle, Anita Bowman and Dorothy Page sang two numbers at the Pomona Church of the Brethren Services Sunday morning. The numbers were "Guide Me," and "As the Hart Panteth After the Waterbrooks, so Panteth My Heart After Thee, Oh Lord."

Sunday evening they sang for C. W. The numbers were "Guide Me," and "Day Is Dying in the West."

LA VERNE TAKES FIRST PLACE IN W.C.T.U. CONTEST

DORTHA GANS WINS $50 PRIZE FOR ORATION

The representative of LaVerne College, Miss Dortha Gans, won first place and a prize of $50 for the best oration at the W. C. T. U. oratorical contest held at Pacific Palisades on July 16. She competed with representatives of five other colleges of the Southern California Union. Pomona College took second place.

The subject of Miss Gans' oration was "The Menace of Narcotics." It was the same speech which took first place last spring when she competed with three other members of LaVerne College for the local championship. The award given at the local contest was $25; so Miss Gans has not only made $75 by her efforts, but she has also brought honor to her school.

The recital was well attended. The church was almost full. As the people filed out of the doors many remarks were made of praise for the organist, for the donor of the Organ, Mr. D. F. Schrock and family, and for the organ itself.

Mrs. Backpay: "Good morning, sir. Will you take a chair?"
Collector: "No, thank you. I've come to take the piano."

STUDENT COURT HOLDS FIRST SESSION; TREMBLING FROSH TRIED BY STERN JUDGE

JURY RETURNS VERDICT OF "GUILTY IN ALL CASES"

Organization Effectuated by Freshmen

The Freshman class organized completely and permanently at a meeting held Wednesday, September 24, at 10:25 a. m. The officers elected were: Carroll Aschbracker, president; George Weybright, vice-president; Ruth Rothrock, secretary; Elizabeth Lehman, treasurer; Fern Glick, social chairman, and Howard Pederson, official yell leader.

With such a loyal and big-hearted promise of the new president, the Frosh expect to go ahead and do things. Carroll is from the Strathmore High School, Strathmore, California.

From Fresno comes the vice-president, a graduate of Fresno Tech. George is sure to be right behind the president, with a way as bright as his.

Ruth Rothrock as a standby of Bonita Union High School will certainly stand by her pad and pencil for her Frosh class.

Because of her very honest appearance, the class chose Elizabeth Lehman as treasurer. She served as president of the Girls' League at Bonita.

Peppy people needed for peppy places: Fern Glick, social chairman. She is also from Bonita.

Last, but not least, to be mentioned is the new yell leader, Howard Pederson, who is here from Roosevelt High, Seattle, Washington.

Plans were discussed for a bigger and better bonfire.

SECOND SESSION FROSH COURT, FRIDAY

Another session of the Frosh Court will be held Friday at the Associated Students regular meeting to finish old business and to bring other sinning Frosh to trial for their wrongdoings.

Many very important cases were not brought up last week, due to lack of time, and it would be very unwise to allow those Frosh who have violated their rules to go unpunished, consequently another session.

"Spare the rod and spoil the child." And that can't be done. So come, see, and hear the fun Friday at 10:25.

Teacher "What is the shape of the earth?"
Willie: "Round."

Teacher: "How do you know its round?"

Willie: "All right, it's square, then; I don't want to start an argument."

SENTENCE FROSH WOULD EN EN MASSE

The "Frosh Court" was held Friday, Sept. 27, during the Associated Student program. Everett C. Vert presided as the judge, and Homer Kreps acted as clerk.

The Student Body meeting opened with a few announcements by President Dale Stutzman, then the court was called to order. Cunningham performed the duties of the district attorney and Fred Mahoney those of bailiff.

Ruth Rothrock was the first offender to be tried for disobeying Freshman Rules. Miss Rothrock had entered and gone out thru the front doors of Founders Hall, had not worn the prescribed "green cap," and in general had disobeyed many rules. She pleaded not guilty and asked for a judgment. Joe Roynon, Jerry DeMaurice Shirk, and Harold Baker, after a short consultation, found her guilty. She was sentenced to turn on the drinking fountain in the hall during noon hour for all Sophomores and football men.

Miss Edith Flory, the next offender, was charged with "overstepping" with Alfred Nicolas for "sassing" Sophomores. Her sentence was to find a frog and sleep with it in her room Friday night. Miss Edith Coffman was seen that she carried out the sentence.

Miss Gertrude Leonard, charged with entering the front door of Miller Hall before the upper classmen and for disobeying the Sophomores, was sentenced to wash bleachers so that Sophomores might sit on clean benches at game next Saturday.

Next came Miss Zelda Shelton who was charged with many things, "overstepping," etc. She was sentenced to sit in a high chair and drink a bottle of milk from a bottle with a nipple on it.

You shall sit on the bottom step of Founders Hall and fish from a pail of water with a hook and line and a ten cent toy fish, from Drug Store, from 12:40 until 1 o'clock, was the sentence given to Benny Anderson for being cocky and raising a "rumpus" in the hall. Maurice Shirk and Max Ford were appointed overseers of the act.

To put the flag up every morning at 7:30 and take it down every evening shall be your sentence. Were the words directed to Dan Mahoney for being a general pest and disobeying students.

All freshmen girls were charged with going out the front door at Freshman meeting and were sentenced to march down in front of the chapel to a reserved section.

FRESHMEN, THEIR TRIALS, TROUBLES, ETC.

Frosh certainly are interesting subjects! When several of them came up in court for their sentences Friday, the college felt very, very sorry for them because they took it so seriously. And yet, it does some of them very little good if they don't take it that way.

Anyway, men and women of the Freshman class, it is mostly in fun and no ill feelings are harbored in the minds of the upperclassmen for you. Consequently, all should take it in the best of good spirits, as most of you have done this year, for it is in harmony with tradition and makes for a better spirit among the members of each class and a feeling of unity in the whole school.

However, the fun was partly spoiled at Court, Friday, by a few women of the Freshman class who unthinkingly put their own ideas of a good time for all ahead of the planning of the court, which was wrong, for had they performed in the manner in which they were asked to and done the subsequent things that they were to be asked, many would have enjoyed the howls of delight by the spectators. It was entirely unnecessary to show the bailiff that he could not make them as the judge directed, for that was already known.

This group, though, has made up for their sin, in part, by sweeping the tennis courts, and can further redeem themselves by cleaning the bleachers thoroughly, although the college leaders may suffer yet, if they are not good Frosh in the future.

It was clever to sing "Show Me the Way to Go Home," however, and was thought up very quickly. (Credit must be given where it is due.)

WE WANT CO-OPERATION!

A Freshman went into The Hub the other day in Pomona and mentioned that he had seen The Hub's advertisement in the Campus Times. That is what helps the paper, and it should be done more often. Look over the advertisements in our paper each week and see what they have to offer. When you go in to buy something, mention the fact that you saw their ad.

In the case mentioned above, the student or Frosh was buying a pair of blue-jean overalls, and he used his head for something besides a platform for a green cap while making his purchase.

By the way, it might be mentioned that by doing this you will enable the staff to put more into what is written in the paper, for business men will soon find that advertising in the LaVerne College paper pays. And help more financially. Thank you!

CO-OPERATION IN ANOTHER WAY

Several write-ups have contained mistakes in spelling, names, numbers, dates, etc., lately when they came to the copy-readers, which were due to inaccurate information given to reporters. It will be appreciated if everyone will be very careful to give all news accurately to the last detail when interviewed by reporters, for it will help the reporters and the rest of the staff to print the paper with a minimum of errors in it. Thanks again!

Campus Chuckles

"Are you the man who wrote that article?"

"I am," admitted the editor faintly as he prepared to make his escape.

"Well," roared the big man, "I'm here to tell you that my middle letter is 'T' and not 'J,' and if you can't print my name correctly I wish you would please leave it out."

St. Peter: "And here is your golden harp."

Mother: "Now, Harry, isn't it nice to ride on Uncle Henry's shoulders?"

Henry: "Yeah, but I'd rather ride on a real donkey."

Most of the family were at the window viewing the parade which was passing. Suddenly one of them asked: "Where's auntie?"

"Upstairs," came the answer, "waving her hair."

"Mercy," exclaimed a horrified member of the family, "can't we afford a flag?"

Youth: "Lady, you couldn't interest me if you were in a Rolls-Royce."

She: "Well, you might give me his name and address."

FACULTY INACTIVE

LACK OF FACULTY NEWS STUMPS REPORTER

Are the members of the college faculty socially inactive or do they work too hard? I thought that after one graduated from college and entered the teaching profession, he would have time to get in contact with the outside world and enjoy the various cultural opportunities which this modern age affords. If I may mention a few of these opportunities that could be taken advantage of by our faculty, I would say they might attend a good drama or opera, hear some of the valuable orations which are being given, find out about the modern music composers, or see some interesting "movies."

Mr. Yoder says he hasn't seen a good "movie" for a long time, and Professor Travis when asked for news, said, "Well, I'm sure busy with my teaching this year. I haven't time to do anything else. I think I'll have some news Christmas, though." I wonder what it is?

If anyone knows, please tell me, so I can write it up for the Campus Times.

Miss Muir has had no news from Europe lately. And Miss Lenhart wishes she had something of interest to do.

PRES. STUDEBAKER GIVES ADDRESS

PRES. STUDEBAKER TALKS ON RELATION OF THE CHURCH TO THE SCHOOL

A very vital and interesting talk was given by President Studebaker at the Church of the Brethren Sunday evening, Aug. 31.

In this speech he agreed that the church was responsible for the existence of the college, but he furthermore stated, neither the college nor the church is first in importance. They were instituted for humanity and not humanity for them. The center of attraction should be human souls."

He defined the primary functions of the church as being twofold; first, to bring men to Christ, and, second, to build men up in Christ. And since preaching and teaching are inherent in the methods of the church, the college and church have a very important relationship.

It is the business of the college to discover truth and teach truth from every angle; whereas the church places special emphasis upon religious truth. Therefore, in conclusion, he said that the college and the church must go hand in hand as both are necessary to a wholesome and ideal training of the youth in his human and divine relationships.

OBSERVATION AND GOSSIP

1. Edith Flory and Alfred Nicolas stepped again Friday evening. Better be careful, Edith, or you will have to eat frog legs next.

2. We wonder where Royal Glick was Saturday night. Say, folks, did you happen to see a box walking around town?

3. Here is a little advice to a Freshman from Pasadena. Better be careful about asking the fellows for dates. You might get your hair pulled.

REDS INVADE L. V. C.

Will Socialism and Bolshevism hold sway at LaVerne College this year? With the very noticeable increase in the number of "Reds" now enrolled in classes at the college, such would seem to be the case. According to the reports of various observers there are at least a dozen students in the institution this year who might easily lay claim to Irish descent, owing to their "red-complexioned" hair. However, the color scheme works out marvelously, since there are "Reds," "Bricks," and "Auburns" in various shades and tones.

Whereas, in previous years, Vernon Weybright and Martha Baer had the distinction of being LaVerne's only representatives of the auburn-haired race, this year the influx of new students has made it necessary for the honor to be divided among a dozen or more people.

Following are some of the members of the Red-Haired Society of LaVerne College: Ellis Hall, Elmo Hall, "Red" Weybright, "Brick" Lewin, Martha Baer, Hazel Gilson, Irene Crockett, Cecil Huff, "Red" Montgomery, Hugh Shaw and Gladys Ikenberry (?) Also Maurice Smith might possibly be classed with this group when his hair grows out of the "convict" stage. (If any student should feel slighted because his name has been overlooked, please notify the Campus Times and due apologies will be made forthwith.)

These students brighten up the atmosphere of the college considerably, so LaVerne should highly prize their presence at this institution. An original idea for a student program might be to have Whoopee—Sophs, I am really encouraged. Yes, sir, a few more hikes from distant points won't hurt some of our super nauseating Frosh. Go to it!

Since the Apollo Four concert the other evening, there has been something troubling me. I suppose there will be no definite answer, but I should like to know why "Chuck" Manning requested the song he did for Paul Funk, "The Owl and the Pussy Cat." What a queer combination. Now if some one will tell me whether Paul has a peculiar affinity for cats or just stays up late, or what and why he likes such a combination, I will appreciate it.

Some of the Frosh are probably feeling like the little boy, who enjoyed sitting on the fence because it felt so good when he got down.

They no doubt like their little hikes because it feels so good to get home.

It ain't gonna be no fun no more. (Sung to the tune of "It ain't gonna rain no more.") No, sir, we can't ditch chapel from now on, until the Seniors discover that their sheepskin doesn't know any more than they do. It certainly is going to work a hardship on the Frosh to remain seated until the U. C. are out. Incidentally, it is going to be doubly hard on us U. C. to have to look at the Frosh as we march out. Oh, well, it might be worse; we might have to do it three times a week instead of twice.

Sometimes I enjoy allowing my fancy to turn to sentimental ditches. Just stop and consider this word, "Stardust!" Isn't it beautiful! Think of all the promises which are made on stars, all the beautiful wishes, etc. If we could assimilate, or catch some stardust, the essence of all these wishes, what a vast treasure we could uncover. It makes my heart go on a hop, skip and flop tour to think of —yeah, getting the dust from someone's wishes for a set of new teeth or a cure for the pet dog's high blood pressure.

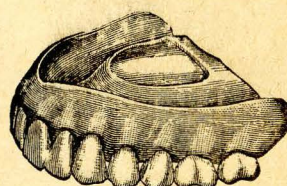

Lady Luck done smiled on me, and ah sure is gonah catch her right by de shoe string. Yes, suh, I've gwine ter sell shoe polishes to the girls to take the "whisk" out of whiskers; strain de black out ob blackberries; best ob all, I've gwine ter borrry Tommy's Ford. Why? I spects to gib dese heah whisker-who-knows morh thrills dan the time de hoss sot on my finger. I've gon'ter change 'em tin-cints fer ridin' around' de block and lettin' de wind blow fru der whiskers.

Cecil Jordan and Russell Frantz spent a few days last week hunting deer in the mountains in Central California. Cecil bagged a deer. J. R. Hanawalt was another lucky deer hunter.

The "Reds" give the entire entertainment. The scenery would at least be colorful.

Long live the red-heads!

Alumni Notes

Miss Mary Platt of San Jacinto was a LaVerne visitor Thursday evening.

Mrs. Raymond Root (Lucile Beckner) spent last week in LaVerne. Likewise, Mrs. Harold Hollinger (Gladys Larimer) of Inglewood spent a few days at the home of her mother, Mrs. Susie Larimer.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Redmond of Eagle Rock visited LaVerne friends last week.

Dr. J. W. Fox writes that he is very busy in the India Mission Hospital at Bulsar. His wife, Bessie King Fox, is assisting him in the surgery department.

Mr. and Mrs. John Brooks were recent LaVerne visitors. They are both teaching at Delano. She is remembered as Ruth Stoner.

Mr. and Mrs. Hary Blickenstaff have moved into a home of their own just across the street from the home of Mrs. Blickenstaff's mother, Mrs. Lillie Price. Mrs. Blickenstaff is remembered as Margaret Price of the class of '30. She and her husband have lived in Mrs. Price's home during the summer while her mother was in Europe

Y. W. Holds Recognition Service

The Y. W. program Monday morning was in the form of a recognition service for new members. Several devotional hymns were sung, and the president, Esther Dickey, took charge of the service. She read a very impressive ceremony fitting for recognizing those girls who had expressed their desire to work with the organization this year. After all the girls had repeated together, "It is my purpose to follow Him," with the cabinet leading, each girl marched and lit her candle from the large one the president held. The ceremony ended with the singing of the Y. W. Hymn, "Follow the Gleam."

Y. W. Cabinet Retreat a Real Treat

A happy week-end full of excitement, thrills, fun, surprises and "announcements" was spent by the Y. W. C. A. cabinet members at the Faculty Cabin in San Dimas canyon.

Those who think that the days of "Abe" Lincoln rail-splitters, good cooks, and hearty eaters are over, would have had such thoughts changed, upon seeing the industrious officers at work preparing meals, chopping wood, and cleaning house at the cabin. The theory must be that those who can work harmoniously and peaceably together at housework, should be able to co-operate well in the plans and projects of the Y. W. C. A. during the year.

Friday evening, most of the time was spent in roasting weiners and toasting marshmallows in the huge rock fireplace, and in getting beds set up. Saturday evening all were interested in hearing Miss Muir tell of incidents in her European tour. Miss Muir is one of the advisors of the Y. W. C. A., but since she could not come until Saturday, Mrs. S. J. Miller stayed with the group Friday night and Saturday morning. The afternoons were spent in hiking and story reading, and the nights were spent mostly in hearing "spooky" noises and hearing destructive rats having a midnight frolic.

Those who attended the retreat rae: Esther Dickey, Myrtice Butterbaugh, Glenna Betz, Edna Brubaker, "Kay" Crist, LaVonne Putnam, Mildred Smith, Verna Sheets, Mise Muir and Mrs. S. J. Miller. It was impossible for Wilma Long, Arnelia Brubaker, Virginia Stern and Virginia Scarisbrack to be present as they had other engagements.

CLASS POPULARIZES ALL-SUFFICIENT ADJECTIVE

Did you ever hear of an adjective that could be used to describe anything and everything? A group of Seniors have made the marvelous discovery of such a word, which makes writing of English compositions, term papers, making speeches, or exclaiming over the elegance of a friend's new clothes, a very simple affair. This many-meanings-in one word is "terse."

At various times, Freshmen have been noticed with puzzled countenances, upon hearing Seniors who have gone through the routine of Freshman rhetoric with high honors, using such expressions as the following:

"I had a terse time at the party." Your dress surely does look terse." "Don't these waffles taste terse, though?" "Ed has such terse whiskers." "Wasn't the Frosh court terse?"

Aren't these enough to puzzle a Freshman, or even an upper-classman? We admit that such is the case; but, Freshmen, when you graduate to the Senior class, and your rusty (or worn-out) brain can no longer function along the line of synonyms, antonyms or homonyms, you may be glad to adopt such an all-meaningful word as "terse."

Isn't it terse that the English language contains such a terse word as "terse"? Look it up in Webster's and add this terse word to your terse vocabulary, Class of '34!

Fred: "I doctor myself with the aid of medical books."

Francis: "Yes, and some day you'll die of a misprint."

Teacher: "Hand me that note."

Student: "I'll write you one in a minute. This is for some one else."

SOUTHERN CONFERENCE RESULTS

Occidental Defeats Mexicans, 31-6
Occidental crushed the warriors from the University of Mexico 31-6 the curtain-raiser Friday night at the Los Angeles Soliseum. The game showed that the Tigers will gain make a strong bid for the championship which they now hold as a result of a win over Pomona last year by one touchdown. The Mexicans were fair, but still have plenty to learn about the gentle art of advancing the pigskin.

Engineers, 6—Santa Barbara, 6
Caltech and Santa Barbara, two teams on the Leopards' schedule, settled to a 6-6 tie in a night game Friday, neither showing very much offensive or defensive strength. This was probably due to their inexperience under the lights and early season clumsiness; but they will no doubt improve a great deal the next two or three weeks and will be plenty tough for the Leopards.

Whittier Poets, 7—U. S. S. Oklahoma, 7
Whittier displayed lots of material in their Saturday night game with the sailors from the U. S. S. Oklahoma; but as yet have not a very consistent or smooth-running

Varsity in Scrimmage with Frosh Team

EISAN PUTS PLAYERS THRU REAL WORKOUT

A game was staged between the varsity and the Frosh last Saturday.

The previous statement is not exactly true. In the first place, a game consists of four 15-minute quarters, and not of one quarter of 10 minutes, a second quarter of 19 minutes, a third quarter of 20 minutes, a fourth quarter of half an hour, and a fifth quarter of twelve minutes. Another fact which would seem to make the statement a falsehood is the fact that the Frosh did not play all of the time, and neither did the varsity. For, first one side and then the other was relieved by the varsity second team.

However, if you would ask any man on the squad if he had played a game he would have said yes, that is, if he would have been able to say anything at all, for Coach Eisan put the boys through the hardest workout they have had this year.

The afternoon showed some very good football and some very bad football. Neither squad was able to use an offensive that seemed destined to go places, and each team made some very good gains at times. The varsity found the aerial method a good way to gain yards and Weybright made a number of yards by plowing through the line. The Frosh rolled up most of their yardage through scintillating runs by Brooks and Montgomery. The Frosh have an ace in the hole, in Vaniman, whenever they need a yard or two, for he is always good for that much straight through the line. Defensively, the Frosh showed lots of punch with Vaniman backing up the line and Davis, a halfback, coming in and making tackles on the line of scrimmage. Red Weybright used sound judgment in not calling any plays over Noll, a tackle for the Frosh.

The real defensive of the afternoon was supplied by "Smitty," Maurice Smith, the second string, fullback, and his work showed up all the more because he was working behind a weaker line than was Weybright and Vaniman.

A fumbling epidemic seemed to smite the players at times, and undoubtedly Eisan will give the boys a lot of drill in the gentle art of holding on to the pigskin this week.

It is a good thing that Eisan has two more weeks before the first conference game, for it seems that the boys will need it.

machine. The best the Poets could do against the navy me was a 7-7 tie; but with a little more practice under the direction of Chief Newman, will probably boast one of the strongest aggregations in the conference.

Redlands, 19—Lexington Crew 6
With both Beiden brothers again in the line-up, the Redlands Bulldogs passed their way to a 19-6 win over the crew from the Lexington in their first game of the year. They key-men in the passing attack which brought two of their three touchdowns were the Beiden brothers, Beil and Keele.

LEOPARD'S STRENGTH TO BE TESTED SATURDAY

LaVerne Varsity Team Meets L. A. J. C. in First Football Game

How good is the Leopard varsity? That is a question which will be answered Saturday.

At that time they will meet the Los Angeles Junior College team on Arnet Field. This is to be the first game in which the varsity will be put to an actual test.

The varsity has had several scrimmages of one type or another, but they have been of a conditioning nature rather than a testing process. However, these practice affairs have served to give a line on the material which will carry the brunt of the burden through the year and the team is beginning to take on the polish that is necessary for a football team that expects to get anywhere.

Red Weybright was inserted at the fullback berth at the beginning of the season, and with all of his one hundred and eighty-five pounds is sure to remain there. He is heavy and fast, which is a combination that makes a football player. He is a good interference runner and is learning the gentle art of throwing himself through the line with his eyebrows on the turf and his legs working like pistons.

He is also a brainy man and for this reason has been assigned the signal warbling duties.

Of course there is only one man on the squad that has the class to hold down the quarter back position—that is Capt. "Benny" Hubbell with his 155 pounds. He is fast at skirting the ends and has the famous Gilda Gray hip motion for eluding tacklers. He rates with any of the broken field runners in the conference. He is also a good man to send down after passes. His greatest fault at present seems to be an attack of fumble-itis while playing safety, but he will undoubtedly get that out of his system before the season opens.

The halfbacks at present seem to be Forney and Shirk. Forney is a cinch for the first string. He is only a Sophomore, but likes his football in large doses. He is a capable interference runner and seems destined to spend most of his times at that the rest of the year. He will also take care of the passing duties while he is in the game. He is a fair punter and may be assigned this task before the end of the season. Shirk got his chance on the first string when Buck Lewin pulled a muscle in his ankle, but doesn't seem to fill Buck's shoes very well. He tries hard.

has real football ability, and likes the game, so he may snap out of it yet.

Two J. C. men from San Berdoo have come in to take over the wing positions. Bert Jones on one and Ralph Adams on the other. Jones is of the long drawn out type and makes an easy target for a passer. He is a good punter and has been performing this duty lately. Adams is aggressive and a good defensive man.

The tackle positions are being taken care of by two big fellows. "Buck" Ferree, who tips the beam at 210 pounds, and Ike Funk, who is good for about 185. Ferree is an old hand at the game and knows what he is doing, and any man who knows what to do with 210 pounds does not need a nurse. Funk is a strong man but lacks experience and is a little slow on the charge. These are handicaps he will have to overcome with fight if he expects to stay on the first string.

Roynon has been doing the thankless duties of the running guard and has a build which just suits him for the job. He has had no previous experience as an interference runner and it remains to be seen whether or not he makes the grade. Stover has been playing the standing guard and seems to be settled for the year. Nicolas is the center but seems to have some trouble getting the signals through his head, and he will have to snap it up if he wishes to stay on the first string, for he is a little weak on the defense, too.

On the second team are two men who seemed to be destined to use lots of service. They are "Smitty" Smith, a fullback, and Jerry Deal, a tackle.

The cripples of the squad, Leonard and Lewin, are about ready for active service and will undoubtedly be given first string tickets on their return. Lewin will be inserted at running guard where he will be able to use his ability as an interference runner. Leonard will take over the snapper-back position and will fit right in for most of his football position has been spent in the center position.

All of these men will get a testing next Saturday in the L. A. J. C. game and Coach Eisan is expected to get a real slant on the squad. The strength of the squad from the city is not known except that they rate as one of the strongest teams in the J. C. circuit.

CALTECH GAME ERROR

Through some error or oversight the LaVerne - Caltech game, which was previously scheduled to take place in the evening of October 11 in the Rose Bowl, will not be staged at night and neither will it be played in the Rose Bowl.

The true facts of the case are that it will be played the afternoon of October 11th on the Tournament Park field in Pasadena.

CITRUS J. C. TACKLES ALL LA VERNE TEAMS

Citrus J. C. journeyed to LaVerne last Thursday to engage in what they fondly hoped would be a scrimmage with the varsity. However, before they started for home they had taken on the varsity, second string, and the Frosh; and undoubtedly they had enough football for one afternoon.

The contest was purely a scrimmage and was just one of those affairs which leave the players with sore muscles and a little more knowledge of how it should be done.

WORLD SERIES STARTS WED.

At last, the hot National League pennant race has ended and the Cards will again play in a World Series, this time against the Athletics, who have been certain victors in the American League for some time with Simmons, Foxx, Cochrane, and others with popular Philadelphia club and Connie Mack at the helm.

The first game of the World Championship Series will be played at Philadelphia Wednesday, October 1st.

The game will be broadcasted and can be heard by local fans by tuning in on KHJ, at 11 a. m. Pacific Standard Time.

COAST CONFERENCE GRID NEWS

Golden Bears Trip Broncos

California's varsities finally got to functioning after trailing Santa Clara at the half 6-7, and came through with a 19-7 win. Cal's superior offensive is shown by the fact that they made 15 first downs to 9 for the Broncos, and the second varsity was on Clipper Smith's team's one-yard line at the end of the first half.

Griffiths has taken over the quarterback position left vacant as a result of Eisan's graduation.

Stanford Defeats Olympic Club

With the second team playing most of the game, Stanford showed strength in an 18-0 defeat handed the Olympic Club team of San Francisco. Simpkins and Moffat were the big guns in Pop Warner's offense and were the main cogs in the drives which resulted in two of the Cards' touchdowns.

Men of Troy Smother Bruins

The Trojan machine hardly had a good workout with U. C. L. A., the U. S. C. men scoring at will and finishing the game with 52 points chalked up for them to none for the Bruins.

The Bruins, it might be mentioned, are in a much more difficult athletic position than LaVerne, for they are in a much tougher conference, in fact, the best in the country. They can rejoice over the fact that the Trojan score this year was 24 points under the 1929 total.
