

Y. M. C. A. ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

CAMP LAVERNE SCENE OF Y. M. C. A. RETREAT

Y. M. C. A. officers for the coming year were elected during the annual spring retreat at Jenks Lake.

Charles Snell was chosen president; Johnnie Heiser, first vice-president; Elvin Wilson, second vice-president; Bill Clinkenbeard, secretary, and Ernest Swihart, treasurer.

After the election, Prof. Cullen, who is advisor of the boys, led them in an interesting discussion of the men's social life on the campus.

The boys went to Camp LaVerne after school on Friday, but some did not arrive until after midnight. There was a good bit of snow there and the weather was just crisp enough for a good time.

Baseball and volley ball tournaments were run off on Saturday. Coach Eisan's team won in volley ball and Coach Glick's team in baseball. Prof. Cullen and Dr. Studebaker also had teams. Dr. Gilbert was umpire.

Max Forney planned all the meals and everyone had plenty to eat, as was natural with him at the head.

President Studebaker led Sunday morning devotions at Inspiration Point. The subject of his talk was "Meditation." A discussion followed on the meaning of prayer.

The retiring officers for the year are: Dick Maley, president; Jerry Deal, first vice-president; Orlin Vaniman, second vice-president; Ernest Swihart, secretary, and Max Forney, treasurer.

"THE UNDISCOVERED COUNTRY" SENIOR PLAY

Are you willing to probe the secrets of nature? Are you brave enough to face reality in its barest form?

The possibilities of enjoying one of the greatest thrills ever produced on the stage will be yours May 25 and 26 when the Senior class of LaVerne College presents "The Undiscovered Country," by Anthony Merrun. Shivers, thrills, laughs, struggles, adventure, beauty, tranquility, love, daring exploration; all these and a thousand other emotions will run rampant through your mind as you witness the greatest production ever staged in Southern California. Plan to see "The Undiscovered Country" May 25 and 26.

"When I came here ten months ago it was with a definite purpose in mind. I had been doing a great deal of research work in London and had come to a place where absolute seclusion became a necessity. I came here, found this house vacant and took it. Here I have made the closest study, the study of ? ? ? ?"

"I have wondered a thousand times what he is doing in there. Of course I wouldn't presume to peek through the keyhole, besides, it is stuffed with paper."

"Moral right! I don't care for it. What! When I'm offered life? When the prison door is opened, who thinks of his right to freedom?"

Science is that knowledge which is the outcome of methods of observation, reflection, and testing which are deliberately adopted to secure a settled, assured knowledge. "Every sane man knows that nothing is impossible."

DR. KURTZ SPEAKS IN TUESDAY CHAPEL

Dr. Kurtz, well known and admired by the students of LaVerne, spoke in chapel here Tuesday, May 3. His topic was "The Epic of the Inner Life."

Some of the highlights of his address are as follows:

The trouble with a lot of students today is that they attempt to bring the immature religion of their childhood up against mature modern science. It is the duty of the church to develop their religious life to maturity. The needs of the world are spiritual and not material. The depression was caused by spiritual faults and must be cured by spiritual means. We must have confidence, courage and faith.

Dr. Kurtz asked directly, "Will you make your life mean something? Will you live a life of service?" (Continued on Page Four)

W. C. T. U. CONTESTANTS TO GIVE ORATIONS

The contestants who participated in the W. C. T. U. prohibition contests will again give their orations in the Church of the Brethren Sunday evening, May 14, at 8:00.

The speakers and their subjects are as follows: Orlin Vaniman, "Sons of Progress"; Ardith Horning, "King of Slaves"; Royal Glick, "A Call for Men"; Marguerite Pobst, "Challenge to American Youth"; Helen Van Fleet, "The Destroyer of Mind and Body," and Charles Manning, "Youth It's After Self."

WATER-DOGS CHASE CHAFFEY PANTHERS

Coach Eisan's water dogs invaded the Chaffey Panthers' plunge in a dual meet Tuesday afternoon. The Leopard varsity broke no records, but Coach Eisan had an opportunity to see the team in competition, and the need for some hard work-outs before the conference meet May 14th.

Bert Jones, "the married man," annexed 9 points for the Leopards, Welty added 6, Brownberger 5, and Maley 3.

Two dual meets are scheduled for next week and then the Leopards will struggle for places in the conference meet May 14th. Hard work-outs should put the team in better condition, and better records are expected.

rites for BENNY ANDERSON HELD

STUDENTS, FACULTY AND FRIENDS ATTEND

Many fellow students, members of the faculty, and friends joined in the funeral services for Benny Anderson Thursday, April 5, at Elks Temple in Alhambra.

The service was especially for LaVerne College and was presided over by President Studebaker, classes having been dismissed so that students and faculty might attend. Rev. Rothrock preached the funeral sermon and was assisted in the service by the College Quartet who sang two numbers, "Crossing the Bar," and "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere."

CALIF. JR. REP. GIVES PROGRAM AT MEETING

The California Junior Republic entertained in the Associated Students' meeting Friday, April 29th.

Howard Greene has organized an orchestra and Marvin Bolinger and Dan Stover a glee club. Numbers by the orchestra and glee club composed the program, as follows:

1. Two orchestra numbers, directed by Mr. Greene.
2. Two glee club numbers directed by Marvin Bolinger and accompanied by Dan Stover.
3. Supt. Charles E. Wright told a little about the school.
4. Hawaiian guitar solo, "Aloha," by Mr. Jones.
5. Volga Boatman, the glee club.
6. Dance of Gnomes, orchestra.
7. Songs, Kitten on the Keys, "Elsie Shultzenheim," "The World Is Waiting for the Sunrise," and "Rosie's Sister," with ukulele accompaniment, Charles Jerail.
8. "Anchors Away," glee club.
9. "Majestic Overture," orchestra.
10. Violin solo, "Melody in F," Mr. Kraemer.
11. One of the boys of the school told about their government, organized and run by the students. One unusual thing he said was that they have no corrupt officials.
12. The program ended by the entire group playing and singing a LaVerne College song, "To Win the Day." They also gave LaVerne a yell.

One of the interesting features of the program other than from the California Junior Republic was the presentation of a beautiful loving cup to the faculty from the seniors for the winning of the horseshoe tournament—Coach Eisan received it so beautifully.

There are thirty billion feet of standing timber in North Carolina. America has some fine old ruins. You see them at night clubs with sweeties.

ORATORICAL CONTEST HELD AT LAVERNE

The Southern Intercollegiate Public Speaking Contest was held in the LaVerne College auditorium last Thursday evening, April 28. LaVerne was represented by Chalmer Faw, who presented his oration, "Alive to the Times," which won first place in the Keiser Oratorical Contest the week previous.

President Studebaker presided over the meeting and special music was furnished by the Lyric Quartet.

The six colleges represented in this oratorical contest were Redlands, Whittier, Cal-Christian, Occidental, California School of Technology and LaVerne.

First place went to Mr. Farud of Occidental who spoke on "Modern Cave Men." Whittier, Caltech, and Redlands, represented respectively by Joseph Sweeney, Gerald Isenhower and Ted Hatlen, tied for second place. Chalmer Faw took third place and Gordon Smith of Cal-Christian was fourth.

"ALL'S RIGHT WITH THE WORLD"

And life is all brighter for another May Day gone. There's something mighty fine about the hurried steps of little feet on the porch, a hasty knock, and scampering lads and lassies, for there on the doorstep is the most beautiful basket of flowers for which one could ever wish. All the more beautiful, too, because tiny hands that placed each flower so carefully were guided by loving thoughts and an honest, happy, unpretentious desire to share the joys that come with spring. The world somehow seemed bright again.

And life is all stronger with a participation in "Boys' Week" as the prize lads of the land are placed in government positions to rule over their country for a time. To these future leaders great honor is paid; to these future followers, deep respect is shown. As these brave youths face the trials of the world with fresh strength and energy, the older men raise their eyes toward their God and offer up a prayer of thankfulness and satisfaction, knowing that all will be right.

And life is all bigger with the coming of Mother's Day—a day to understand, to cherish, and to love all the self-sacrificing mothers of the land. We feel, with E. W. Patten, that when Mother's Day comes

"There's dew on the grass of the pastureland,
And the night birds croon in the trees;
Only a rover can understand
The call of such as these.
There's a glint of stars on the meadow pond,
In the window a beaming light,
I've been to the rim of the world—and beyond,
But I'm headin' home tonight."

We are "headin' home tonight" as Mother's Day always acts as a magnet to our weary souls. We feel that only mother can give rest and peace to a heavy heart. These precious bits of humanity—how much, how much, oh God, have they suffered, yielded and loved; how long have they cherished the dream of this day? True, these mothers of ours toil day in and day out, knowing somehow that they have not toiled in vain, even though their loved ones have failed to stop long enough to give a few moments of life-renewing affection. But as we go on our way without letting even a tiny bit of love be spoken, each one of us is thinking

"It's easier to write than say
The things I feel
On Mother's Day.
So though I really don't deserve ye,
I'm glad your're mine and Saints preserve ye!"

And so, mothers, you'll just have to go on toiling the years away, with a bit of playing, perhaps, taking the heart-felt affections and love without vocalization, and be proud to be cherished on the greatest day of happiness—on Mother's Day. But the youth also must keep in mind that there are

"Hundreds of stars in the pretty sky,
Hundreds of shells on the shore together,
Hundreds of birds that go singing by,
Hundreds of bees in the sunny weather;
Hundreds of dewdrops to greet the dawn,
Hundreds of lambs in the purple clover,
Hundreds of butterflies on the lawn—
But only one mother the wide world over."

and that to this one mother, all honor and love is due. It takes only an affectionate smile, a loving caress, or a beautiful spoken word to make this one mother the happiest person on God's earth. With these few thoughts all can say, "all's right with the world."

Some people are bent from too much work; others get crooked trying to avoid work.

A loose tongue is as dangerous as a loose screw.

To think of a clever, but cutting remark, and then not make it—that is a sign of nobility.

Inability or unwillingness to express oneself in speech or writing, and no knowledge of English grammar are some of the weaknesses most common to university freshmen, Herman G. James, president of the University of South Dakota, writes in the current issue of the S. D. E. A. Journal.

PEP

Weren't those C. J. R. boys just about the most whole-hearted, enthusiastic group of boys you've ever seen? They appeared so genuinely interested in their activities with a spirit of putting their very best into what they were doing that the writer obtained perhaps a rather erroneous impression from the "L. V. C. studentry" but nevertheless an important one, that we were feeling a tiny bit outclassed by that spirit of animation as shown by the boys.

College life must have pep, that spirit of entering into whatever one does with an earnest desire to do so, and "do so good!" Now how can we tell that a group or individual has pep unless he be given a chance to express it?

To be sure, we can make the most of those opportunities within our reach. For instance: think how much faster a class period would pass if there were snappy, "right to the point" recitations. Upon attending a lecture, we could show some amount of interest and enthusiasm in our faces, although sometimes we have to put forth our very best efforts. An ardent spirit is infectious, however, and no doubt we would have more forceful lectures if the "prof" could view a sea of eager, zealous faces.

At the Keiser Oratorical Contest recently two young men were heard who astounded many with their ability to talk forcibly. It is the writer's opinion that too few students have the chance to express themselves outside of the classroom, among the college mates. Would an assembly period where we could discuss student affairs, social problems and current topics be advisable?

Would the addition of a few pep songs, similar to "Anchors Away," and the memorization of our own college songs and ballads further this spirit?

To be on enthusiastic group, we must have unity. When President Studebaker spoke to us on Step-out Day, we seem to be drawn closer together as a college group. Perhaps we students would like to see and hear our president more often.

Anyway, let's work for something—and why not?

Vigor, vitality, vim and punch—

That's pep!

The courage to act on a sudden hunch—

That's pep!

The nerve to tackle 'he hardest thing
With feet that climb and hands that cling,

And a heart that never forgets to sing—

That's pep!

Sand and grit on a concrete base—

That's pep!

Friendly smile on an honest face—

That's pep!

The spirit that helps when another's down,

That knows how to scatter the darkest frown,

That loves its neighbor, and loves its town—

That's pep!

To say "I will," for you know you can—

That's pep!

To look for the best in any man—

That's pep!

To meet each thundering knockout blow,

And come back with a laugh because you know

You'll get the best of the whole darned show—

That's pep!

SPASMS

Not to be too much of a wet blanket to the hopes of the current graduating class; but—

After reading "A. B., Unemployed," by G. W. Condit in the May issue of the "Forum," I feel very sorry for those sweet young things that are going to be dumped on an already over-supplied and unsympathetic world. The disheartening experience of this young man during hopeless job hunting will be experienced by a greater number from the graduating class of 1932; and who will predict what economic depths awaits the class of 1933.

As a result of his experience and that of thousands of others, after being deprived of a normal family life and trade or business experience by the artificial educational and cultural standards of a college education—where they were not taught to think how to remember—Condit feels that the American world owes college graduates and everyone else—"a little something."

The question raised by this dejected graduate in regards to the educational system reaches the very basis of the institution itself. Whether a college education helps in this economic world, or whether it is a luxury afforded by a wealthy few.

A PEN POINTER

Evidently the majority of the boys at LaVerne College have at last decided that the smudging season for this year is over. At least those blackened trousers so prominent on the campus a few weeks ago are at last becoming a rarity.

It is quite gratifying to feel that one can now go to class and not fear that they will have to sit by some one whose clothing reeks with smudge oil and mother earth.

We are not advocating Lord Fauntleroy trousers and curls, but won't it be nice when the last pair of smudge pants goes on the nail to stay? It does seem that since those grammar school days are in the past, that grammar school disregard for cleanliness should be there too.

Mid-year examinations at Boston University were very revealing. A few of the answers were: "Theodore Dreiser is a probable candidate for the presidency and is the author of 'Main Street.' In 1658 the Pilgrims crossed the Atlantic Ocean. This is known as the 'Pilgrim's Progress.' The death of Socrates was caused by an overdose of wedlock."

"How did you like your party, Jackie?"

"Awful! You said I could eat as much as I liked, and I couldn't."

A DOUBTFUL BLESSING

I stood one day with quivering lips and tears rolling down my cheeks. What had happened? Mother had gone to the apple tree, where an abundant and never failing supply of correction rods grew. She came back and soon in broken stammering phrases I was willing to promise perfect obedience in the future. But as I turned away I said, "When I get big I'll never whip my little boys and girls."

Today I look back, and when I think of that old apple tree, I say, "Lord bless it!" Then I thought my mother a tyrant—now I think of her as a guiding force the value of which can never be estimated. Do I now think that she was cruel to me? No! I think that every punishment I ever received (with the exception of one) was good for me.

Is your mother living? If she is, write and tell her how much you can now appreciate the use of those apple tree switches. Tell her that they taught you reverence, obedience, co-operation, submission and any other adjectives that will aptly describe your sensations.

An apple tree switch is a blessing if rightly used, with a dressing of the freedom of Rousseau thrown in for the child life. God bless the mother who knows how to apply and then to dress!

CHI DELTA CHI HOLDS LAST BUSINESS MEETING

Convening for a last business meeting of the school year, Chi Delta Chi met at the home of J. Russell Frantz on the evening of April 28.

The president, Orlin Vaniman, conducted a discussion upon the many pertinent club affairs, and called upon the secretary, Opal Kuns, for a reading of the new constitution, which was revised and finally accepted by the group.

Plans for a banquet, date set tentatively for May 10th, and the appointment of Kathryn Blickenstaff and Mary Hollinger as "menu selectors" were made.

Several musically inclined members entertained, followed by the solving of an arithmetical equation: Waffles times strawberry jam plus chocolate beverage equals delicious.

C. E. CONVENTION TO BE HELD AT WHITTIER

The annual Los Angeles county C. E. convention will be held at Whittier this year, beginning Friday evening, May 6, at 7:00, and closing Sunday evening at 8:30 p. m.

Among the important speakers of the convention are Rev. Cortland Myers, Boston, Massachusetts; Rev. Stuart McLennan of the Hollywood Presbyterian church; Rev. Talbot of the Church of the Open Door in Los Angeles, and Rev. Hutsler of the Christian Church in Pomona.

The convention will be held in the high school auditorium, Philadelphia street and Whittier boulevard.

LAVERNE STUDENTS ATTEND CONCERT

Several LaVerne students attended the annual home concert of the championship Pomona College men's glee club Friday evening in Bridges Hall of Music.

The club won heavy applause throughout the entire presentation from the enthusiastic audience. Among the special numbers ranking high in the favor of the house were the "Melodies in Rosewood and Brass" given on the marimba by Keith Montgomery and Dexter Griffith. Among the numbers rendered by the pair, who have ranked high in the estimation of all the audiences before which the group has performed this season, was Light Cavalry Overture by Suppe, and Liebestraum. The several vocal solos featuring Ager Shelton, William Tebbetts, Charles Dickenson and Joseph Momyer, baritones; and Bob Boyd and Dick Henderson, tenors, were well received.

Many notables from surrounding southern California cities were among those present at Saturday night's concert.

BERT JONES MARRIED IN UPLAND SUNDAY

Mr. Robert Dana Jones, LaVerne College Senior and athlete from Colton, was married Sunday, May 1, to Miss Elizabeth Hawkins of Upland, graduate of Chaffey Junior College and University of Southern California.

The ceremony was performed in the home they have chosen at 857 East Ninth street, Upland, by Judge Benjamin F. Warmer of Ontario, assisted by the Rev. Frederick White, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Corona, both long time friends of the bride's family.

Bert Jones, prominent in Colton high school and San Bernardino junior college athletics, was a member of this year's basket ball and football teams at LaVerne. Following graduation in June, he plans to take up post graduate work at the University of California, Berkeley.

I. R. C. ELECTS NEW OFFICERS AT MEETING

Mary Ellen Lauver was elected president of the International Relations Club at the meeting held Monday evening at Miller Hall. Miss Lauver has been vitally interested in the study of international problems and has done work along that line.

Nine new members were also elected, including one honorary member, Dr. Emmert. These new members are Cleo Beery, Grace Gans, Paul Miller, Joyce Deitz, Rulin Bruesch, Lucy Trostle, Arnelia Brubaker and Hazel Kennedy.

Miss Virginia Scarisbrick announced that May 11 would be the last meeting of the year. This will be in the form of a dinner at Miller Hall when the new officers will be installed. Mrs. Burgess of Claremont will be the speaker, talking on the race problem in California.

W. A. A. CABINET HAS DISCUSSION IN MEETING

The cabinet of the Women's Athletic Association held a meeting at Edith Eisan's.

Informal discussions on topics primarily relating to W. A. A. affairs and the coming banquet May 6th at the Crystal Room in Pomona were the concern of the group.

Perhaps due to Wilbur Jones' early arrival for Frances Nix, the girls dispersed before a late hour.

Evelyn Deardorff was elected president of the Student Volunteers for the coming year, last Wednesday evening, after Cleo Beery had filled his resignation. Cleo was elected to the office of president a week ago, but because of other pressing duties could not accept the responsibility.

Irene Blackerby served as chairman in the absence of the president, George Berg. The following officers were elected:

Florence Messamer, secretary.

BERT JONES ANNOUNCES WEDDING BY SUCKERS

Bert Jones employed the most unique way of announcing his Sunday wedding to the LaVerne student body Monday afternoon.

Standing gallantly in the hall, he proffered suckers to all students and even allowed them flavor selection.

Presently the bell rang and wearied of standing (and sitting) so long, he carried the remains of his treasure into Miss Muir's history class. The sweet young professor gayly sucked with the rest of the class. However, her gaiety was tinged with bewilderment for she could not understand why the tall he-man suddenly should become so generous. She understands now.

STUDENT VOLUNTEERS HOLD WEEKLY MEETING

The Student Volunteers held their regular meeting at Colton, in the home of Hazel Rothrock, Neva Snell and Retha Rensberger.

The program consisted of the following:

Devotions, led by Reatha Rensberger.

Vocal trio, Miriam Murray, Verna Cooney and Grace Brubaker, "Nothing Between."

Violin solo, William Clinkenbeard.

An address and discussion, led by Professor Tilden of San Bernardino J. C., on the topic of "Motives." Professor Tilden is in the Social Science department, and twelve years ago he served as a missionary in N. E. India.

Prof. Tilden told the group that the people of India and China, some day, are going to give the present known Christian world a new Christ—one we have never known, and one much dearer than the Christ we now know.

He also gave two kinds of judgment to think about. First, the judgment of what one should do with his life. Second, the problem judgment of a life companion. These are problems and motives for every individual's decisions.

About ten o'clock the meeting was turned into a social hour. Refreshments of delicious home-made nut icebox cookies and hot chocolate were served to about fifty of the LaVerne group.

"THE TORCH BEARERS" TO BE AT PADUA HILLS

With Dorothy Merritt of the LaVerne College faculty in the leading role of Mrs. Pampinelli, George Kelly's celebrated comedy, "The Torch Bearers," will be presented May 3, 4, 5, 6 and 7 by the Claremont Community Players at the Little Theater in Padua Hills. Friday, May 6, has been set as LaVerne College night for the production.

Mingling high comedy with laughably satiric thrusts, "The Torch Bearers" recounts the uproarious difficulties which beset a band of amateurs in their efforts to present a stage production, carrying them thru the rehearsal stage into the actual performance and then on to the amusing aftermath. Keen characterization and an irresistible brand of humor mark the play's progress.

Others in the cast include Charles Hotchkiss, Fred R. Nohave, Richard Hays Williams, George G. Stone, Norma Tantlinger, Laura C. Runals and Alida Parker.

Virginia Scarisbrick, Helen Ellenberger, Jennie Werkman, and Miss Gladdys Muir.

Preceding the address, Vernon Heckman sang a solo, "The Builder," accompanied by Prof. Travis.

America, as a novice in the lifting events compared to some of the nations which have had weight lifting entrants ever since the Athens Olympiad of 1896, looks to receiving the hardest competition from Egypt. Pharaoh's descendants have lost none of their lifting abilities inherited from the pyramid-builders. They hold the lightweight, light heavyweight, and heavyweight world records.

In addition, certain determined gentlemen from France, Germany, Austria and Italy will attempt a repetition of former victories.
