STUDENT VOLUNTEER CONFERENCE AT WHITTIER

LAVERNE HAS A LARGE REPRESENTATION

The annual spring conference of the Southern California Student Volunteer Movement was held at Whittier College March 10-12. La Verne was well represented at the opening session (dinner Friday evening) by twenty-two students and friends.

After dinner at the Friends Church a "jolly-up hour" was spent in the gymnasium. The address of the evening was given in the college auditorium by G. Bromley Oxnam on the theme, "The Power of a World Vision," in which he gave a powerful message.

Following the devotions conducted by Pres. Wright of Whittier College Saturday morning, there were two sessions. Session A was conducted by Miss Mary Baker, traveling secretary of the Student Volunteer Movement, with a discussion of Student problems; and Session B conducted by several missionaries on the problems of the mission field.

After luncheon Miss Huston and Mr. Larson, the two delegates to the Council at Yonkers, N. Y., gave interesting reports. The rest of the afternoon was spent in business meetings and recreation.

A banquet was enjoyed in the evening during which the various schools gave songs and yells. The election of officers at the evening session resulted as follows: Ernest Larson of Redlands, president; Louise Huston of Occidental, vice president; Nettie Denning of Whittier, secretary; and Lewis Leezer of Pomona, Treasurer.

By request the U. S. C. Volunteers presented "The Pill Bottle" Saturday night. The special musical numbers by the Saxophone and Harmony quartettes of the Bible Institute were greatly enjoyed between acts.

A praise and prayer service was conducted Sunday morning on the campus by Miss Baker. An inspiration was received by all as they felt God's presents revealed through nature.

At 11:00 a. m. a Volunteer service was held in the Friends church, and a powerful address was given by Dr. Ralph C. Norton, director of the Belgium Gospel Mission.

After dinner the Volunteers met for the closing session in the form of a special recognition service for those members who have received their appointment and are going out during this year. The testimonies and sentence prayers, together with the songs made this session the clinching meeting of the conference.

The Volunteers bade their friends farewell and departed for their respective schools, thankful for the inspiration of the Conference as a whole and especially for the splendid hospitality shown by the Whittier friends.

A. W. S. CONFERENCE AT S. B. U. C.

The A. W. S. of La Verne was among the women's organizations of the nine colleges represented in the annual conference of the Associated Women Students of Southern California. Only two delegates, Mary Gockley and Maurine Miller, represented La Verne, as the others were ill with the popular flu. Though the girls left suddenly and hurriedly, and were greeted by a down pour of rain in the city, the conference was a decided success and much enjoyed by all the delegates. The colleges represented were Pomona, U. S. C., Santa Barbara, San Diego, Occidental, Fresno, Southern Branch, and La Verne, while Chaffey, Redlands and Whittier failed to appear.

The girls of the Southern Branch proved themselves admirable hostesses, from the moment the delegates arrived. The unit from each school was placed in the hands of their particular hostess, immediately on arrival, and were conducted to the beautiful tower rooms of the A. W. S., where registration took place and tea was served. After a gay, informal chatting among the different delegates, the conference was formally opened in the science hall, where the discussion of school problems began. The relations of the school and the student were discussed, and each college presented their local difficulties in regard to unification, attendance at meetings and organization.

After the adjournment of the first session the hostesses escorted their guests through the rain to their homes where they prepared for the evening banquet, which was held at the California Club banquet hall. During the evening, between courses, the guests were delightfully entertained by the girls of S. B. U. C. with vocal music, whistling solos and a Spanish dance.

The speaker of the evening was Mrs. Robert Burdett, chairman of the California Federation of Women's Clubs. She gave an inspirational address on the subject "Unity Among Colleges and the Outside World." Other speakers were Mrs. Laughlin, Dean of Women of S. B. U. C., and the Deans from Santa Barbara and San Diego.

Each group returned home with their hostess for the night, and there they were served breakfast on Saturday morning.

The morning session opened promptly

MARCH 25--BIG MEET

The big meet of the Tri-County League comes off Saturday, March 25th. La Verne has the responsibility of managing this meet, which will either be held here or at Chaffey Jr. College. Medals are given for the four first places, and a cup to the winning team. Each man may enter only three events and the relay. This will handicap John Brooks somewhat, but still, the rest should have a chance.

Remember the day and come see La Verne Academy take their share of the medals.

Triangle Track Meet

March 17, the home field will see Chino, Pomona and La Verne Academy tangle in a triangle meet. Nothing definite is known concerning the strength of these teams, but the Academy looks good to make the team move that beats them. J. Brooks, O. Brooks, Bohn, Hartman, Dickey, Root should give a good account of themselves.

The College Department Visits Mt. Wilson

Yes, we went to Mount Wilson and returned all safe and sound. For some time, the astronomy class have contemplated going to Mt. Wilson to look through the big observatory there. Also, the Faculty decided to give the College Department a vacation Saturday, so from the combination which ensued, a group of about twenty-four young people left their dear homes Friday afternoon and started up the trail for Wilson—a hike of about seven and a half miles.

The day was somewhat cloudy, but ideal for climbing. The view of the valley below was a marvel to most of them, and each expressed themselves accordingly. After traveling some distance, they found themselves in the clouds, and later, small particles of snow were evident. But they were undaunted, and with the hopes of the wonderful wiener bake which was to be indulged in at midnight, they pushed on toward the top.

After reaching the road, they were encouraged by a sign which said, in big, black letters, "Smile; Only 1 mile from top." They hastened their pace, only to find after they had traveled at least a half mile, that they were still "one mile from the top." That continued to be the distance until the toll gate was finally reached.

The students surely gave a cheer when they reached the top, and had a reunion with the other members of the crowd, who had gone in a machine, alias, John Price's Peerless, loaded down with robes, coats, and eats and wieners and buns.

On their arrival, it began to snow just a little, so they decided to get their fire permit. But no permit was to be had, except at the risk of 50 bucks fine. Consequently they decided to eat their supper and have their wiener bake after they started down the hill Saturday morning.

After supper, about 8 o'clock, it was

ACADEMY GIRLS WIN FROM COLTON

FIRST LEAGUE GAME

Score 12 to 9

In the first inning both teams scored and then Colton chalked up 9 runs in the first four innings, while La Verne only stacked up five. After this, however, the orange and green woke up and made seven runs, while Colton didn't cross the plate in the last five innings.

Irma Dunker pitched the entire game, and had the Colton fair ones guessing after the first four innings. The playing was rather loose, overthrows were always in order. Mable Griggs knocked a home run with two on bases.

The organized "howling" of the Academy boys added interest to the fracas.

Alida Larimer entertained Sunday Olive Deardorff, Cathryn Byerly, Byrl Harper, Jesse Frantz and Howard Beckner.

Elder H. Spenser Minnich, former secretary of the general Sunday School Board, gave a talk to the students in chapel Thursday morning.

ELDREDGE PROGRAM BIG SUCCESS

LARGE CROWD PRESENT TO HEAR IMPERSONATOR

La Verneites were entertained Saturday evening, March 4th, by another of Gilbert Atlee Eldridge's delightful programs. In his two appearances here, Mr. Eldridge has become a friend of the college students. No "uppishness" about him! He is one that doesn't forget you when his back is turned.

When he was on the stage in one of his impersonations, however, his audience quickly forgot him. One could hardly believe that the old woman rapidly knitting a sock, while chattering in a "woman's chatter," often interrupted by a wheezing cough, was only a disguised man; and that the spry little fellow in knee trousers and ruffles, sitting squaw fashion on the top of a table, could possibly be a man of mature years.

During the evening various types and ages of people were impersonated in costume. One old rheumatic man expressed his never-failing optimism in spite of his many ailments, and another called the sympathy of everyone to him in his sorrow because his son out west had "gone wrong," saying that he was in the Legislature, whatever that was. "The Home Coming" taken from "Enoch Arden" was also very truly presented.

Perhaps the most striking impersonation of the evening was that of a school girl reading an original essay on "Sprung." Her red checked apron, upon which was primly pinned a handkerchief, and a characteristic giggle added to a very realistic characterization.

The entire program was a tickler of the funny bones, and appreciated to the utmost.

BASE BALL GIRLS DEDICATE NEW CAPS

The Student Body donated a portion of one of their busy business hours to the welcoming of a group of chorus girls, headed with orange and green felt caps. The audience received them with many a cheer. Soon the noise was quieted and the listeners became receptive vessels for the coming music. The pitch was thrown by the Pitcher, which was caught and held spell bound by the Catcher. Only one number was rendered, a trio which consisted of a First Base, a Second Base, and a Third Base. Then after a silent pause there were two Short Stops.

Everyone's heart was Field with great rejoicing from Right, Left and Center. Before the selection came to standstill, there were four Substitute rests. Such music could not have been rendered without the aid of a Director. Soon she appeared, and announced where they held their rehearsals, and invited the attendance and loyal support of everyone, to their future games.

Whittier Spoils LV.C.'s Hope of the A. A. U. Championship

Score 35 to 23

In a fast, clean game, the Whittier light weights took Arnett's youngsters into camp, but only after a close, hard-fought game. The La Verne team missed E. Landis at forward, while Jordan was considerably under the weather, for old man "flu" isn't a bit particular who he tackles.

During both the first and last halves Whittier broke loose for several goals in succession, after which La Verne would go on a rampage, but the res-

Fundy's Team Wallop Los Angeles Five

Saturday, Feb. 25, a picked team composed of lightweights, with the exception of Welch, took on a combination team from the South and East Los Angeles churches, and defeated them 27 to 33.

The Skeeters did not play a game Friday, Feb. 24, on account of L. A. Poly dropping out of the tournament, so Fundy seized the opportunity and scheduled the game with the L. A. aggregation.

The visitors showed some real class, but they were handicapped having not played together before, and their teamwork was lacking. However, the team contained several former stars, and we hope to meet them again.

Sophs Take Inter-Class Meet

In spite of the fact that the weather was somewhat disagreeable, the Academy interclass was run off Saturday afternoon, and plenty of pep was present. It soon became evident that the race was between the Sophs and Seniors, and it was not until the Sophs had grabbed all the points in the mile that they were sure of the meet.

There were but few records made yet some good material was found, and the Coach thinks he has discovered some dark horses that will count for points. Johnnie broke the school record in the shot by tossing it 41 feet 5 1/4 inches, and Archie heaved the discus for 108 feet 11 inches. The pole vault developed to be quite a contest between Cec' Jordan and John and finally ended in a tie.

Bohn won the 220 by a good margin and Otis annexed five points in the century for the Juniors. Johnnie finished high point man and Bohn received second honors by beating Otis out by one point.

The final count was Sophs 51; Seniors 45; Juniors 18, and the Frosh 1.

THE STUDENT VOLUNTEER CONVENTION

At Whittier College on March 10, 11, and 12, the Student Volunteers of the Colleges of Southern California met in a convention and discussed the problems which confront those who are entering the greatest field of service which the world affords. Young men and women have caught a glimpse of the world's great needs and are unselfishly giving their all that these needs might be satisfied. They are preparing to take the gospel of Christ to those who are living in ignorance, superstition and degradation. They have heard the great challenge and are in training to meet it.

Millions are seeking for the great Creator and Father, but cannot find Him. They live and die in misery knowing naught but idols of wood and stone and demons. Dr. Lambuth writes, "The alleviations which in Christian countries mitigate the suffering of the dying are unknown to the heathen and they regard death as the triumph of the supposed demon. Amidst beating of gongs, drummings, shoutings, and incantations, with their dying thirst unassuaged, and with their nostrils plugged with a mixture of aromatic herbs and clay, our heathen brothers and sisters are passing in an unending, ghastly, reproachful procession into Christless graves." It is to these, who know not God, the most needy of all humanity, that the Student Volunteers are dedicating their lives, talents, and all.

It is from such groups of consecrated young manhood and young womanhood that the men will come who are to take up J. H. B. Williams' work where he laid it down in Africa, and from which the heroic teachers and doctors will come who will penetrate the mountain fastnesses of unexplored Tibet as they take up the work where Dr. Shelton laid it down on February 17 of this year. The "dark continent" shall be made light, and the "forbidden city," Lhasa, in the rugged interior of Tibet, shall be thrown open to Christianity by men of the Student Volunteers. —J. W. F.

COMMISSION NOTES

Commissioner of Debating Netzley resigned as chairman of the Commission on account of being restricted by the "Point System" to the sum of 85 points. Commissioner of Finance Ott was elected to fill the vacancy thus made.

On account of the necessity of economy, the Commission decided to refer the question whether or not to schedule a debate with Pacific College, to the Student Body at the next meeting.

Commissioner of Finance Ott reported the gross receipts from Mr. Eldridge's entertainment to be $70.30. The expenses were $37.60, leaving a gain of $32.70 to be placed in the Student Body treasury.

The Commission is planning to urge the learning of the school songs and is looking for some new yells.

Sunday, March 5, Maurine Miller entertained at dinner Martha Brubaker, Dorothy Arnold, Vera Hoover and Eva Brownsberger.

Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Brubaker entertained at a chicken dinner March 6th Beulah Noll and Hazel and Martha Brubaker.

SENIORS TAKE THE CUP

The Academy classes ran a close contest for the Newcomer debating cup, on the question: "Resolved that America should cancel all European war debts." The preliminary debates between the Seniors and the Sophomores, and the Juniors and the Freshmen were held Wednesday evening, March 8. Although the underclassmen put up strong arguments, the upperclassmen won in these debates.

The classes were represented by the following teams:

Seniors—Harvey Emley, Madie Royer, Ramah Maust.
Juniors—Mrs. Mae Miller, Velma Vaniman, Wilbur Hoke.
Sophomores—Roosevelt Hartman, Zafon Hartman, Miriam Shirk.
Freshmen—Chester Shirk, Mabel Griggs, Elsie Booth.

The final debate was held Saturday night, March 11, with the Seniors supporting the affirmative and the Juniors the negative. After an interesting and exciting contest with well-grounded arguments on both sides, the chairman, Chase Harper, announced the decision of the judges as two to one in favor of the affirmative. Amid loud applause, Ralph Netzley presented the Newcomer debating cup to the Senior Class.

IZZY NEWSY

Dear Sam,
Since the "flu" is over and "sprung" has come, I feel so good, Sam, that all I feel like doing is staying outside and listen to birds sing. I know just how everything is at home, it's just lovely. If you were here, Sam, you could have hiked to Mt. Wilson. We surely had a glorious old trip! Saw stars, through the telescope that have never been created yet. I enjoyed everything about it except the "clime it" and it was a little too severe. I was reminded of my hike to the L. Do you know what L stands for, Sam? It stands to different people for different things. For instance, to me it means leg-ache. To those who never hiked to it, it means laziness. Mt. Wilson stands for the same thing.

I wish you could have seen the track meet, Sam. It surely was interesting. The one who came out ahead won in everything.

The new Senior Play is coming along "jake." You'll just have to see it.

Fare thee well,
IZZY SPRINGEY.

BLUE MONDAYS

When you feel that luck's agin' you,
And oh, you're feeling blue,
You hate every one that's living
And think they're hating you.

Your mind is filled with wanderings
And just brim full of doubt—
You wonder why you are in the world
And wish that you were out.

You ask yourself, "What use am I?
I am not worth a cent—
I haven't any talents
And my life us useless spent.

All the time you're getting bluer,
And Oh, you want to die,
There's nothing in the world to do
But just sit down and cry.

Now don't you think you're foolish
For making such ado?
And don't you think you're foolish
For even feeling blue?

For don't you know such selfish tho'ts
Never get us anywhere
When so many others around you
Are such thoughts worth while and fair?

Whose fault is it, our worthlessness,
Unless it is our own,
For every person is his king
And ruler of his throne.

You can command yourself at will
And be what you would be,
For only you can shape your life
And make it fruitfully.

So when such thoughts molest you
And keep popping in your head
About your being worthless
And wishing you were dead,

Do something for your neighbor
And make your life worth while
You can do a little something
If it's nothing more than smile.

And when your life is busy
Finding noble deeds to do,
You'll never have the time no more
To even think of feeling blue.

One may accomplish much in an hour if he will only do it.

It is easy to get an "A" in attendance.

When one reviews a "Review of Reviews" does he review his review of the "Review of Reviews" before he reviews this "Review of Reviews?"

The largest feat of the programme were Willie's.

The grip which he had on his grip was similar to the grip that the gripe had on him.

Because of a trip, he took a trip to a hospital.

The fast horse was securely fast to a post.

Miss Pauline Miller entertained at dinner Sunday March 12 Hazel Brubaker, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Overholzer and daughter Virginia, David Bomberger and Archie Brooks. Those who have been at the Miller home have some idea of the delicious dinner which was served and the enjoyable afternoon which followed.

Banana pie—like mother used to bake. Yes, the dorm students had it last Wednesday. Really, truly banana pie.

Social Pathology Class Visits County Farm

As a fitting climax to several weeks study on the subject of Poverty and Dependency, the Social Pathology class, accompanied by Prof. Bowman, spent the afternoon of Feb. 22 visiting the Los Angeles County Farm, near Downey.

The group of ten were speedily conveyed in John's Peerless and Russell's Ford, arriving without difficulty after an hour's drive. Mr. Harriman, who for the past six years has been the superintendent of the institution, was soon found, and he very kindly, and in a most interesting way directed the group through the various divisions of the institution.

The Farm consists of 400 acres of land, one half of which is in cultivation. There are twenty-six buildings, costing about $400,000. The Farm is a little city in itself, having at present a total population of 950, which includes 250 harmlessly insane persons in the psychopathic ward. These are incurable.

The greater part of the population consists of the aged poor who have no means of supporting themselves. The average age is 72. Those who are able to work are given something to do each day.

Wholesome and abundant recreation is provided during the week and religious services are held on Sunday. Entertainment is absolutely essential in such a society, that trouble may be forgotten.

It is an interesting fact that 85% of the cases here represented are due to some mental deficiency, in most cases traced to alcoholism or heredity. Only 16% of the inmates are women.

The Farm has its own drug-store, hospital ward, and necessary equipment for ordinary medical attention. A resident physician and necessary nurses are constantly on duty.

The buildings are modern, and the equipment is the very best, indicating the interest in which Los Angeles County has in caring for this class of her citizens.

L. V. A. ALUMNA SURPRISED
 Mr. and Mrs. Forney, of Pomona, entertained a group of the college students and others on Thursday evening, Feb. 25. The jolly affair celebrated the eighteenth birthday of their daughter Margaret, a member of the Academy class of '21. After Margaret had recovered from the shock of her surprise, the guests were informally entertained by playing games until they were called to the attractive table in the dining room. With the aid of paper bluebirds, the room was decorated in blue and white. In the center of the table was a beautiful birthday cake, with "Margaret" artistically written across the top. It bore the necessary number of blue candles, which "Mark" had difficulty in extinguishing. A dainty two-course supper was served, in which the color scheme was carried out. Miss Anna Bailey, also a former La Verne student, assisted the hostess in the evening's entertainment. Those enjoying the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Forney were the Misses Viola Neher, Jeannette King, Alta Shirk, Cathryn Byerly, Pauline Shirk, Dorothy Arnold and Lucile Beckner, and the Messrs. Howard Beckner, Dwight Welch, Raymond Root, Cecil and Alva Brower, Cecil Jordan, Russel Grossnickle, Arthur Blood, and Bennie Hepner.

A BIRTHDAY SLUMBER PARTY
 February 22nd proved to be very exciting, for on that day the birthdays of both Martha and George Washington were celebrated. The climax was reached when Martha, Eve and Maurine assembled at the Miller home about 8:30 that evening.

Here Martha was entertained, and also helped entertain for the remainder of that day and the beginning of the next. After a spell of gabbin' and gossiping, the trio indulged in eats, consisting of apples and cream tarts. Then came bed time, with its sleepless and happy night.

STUDENTS TO ENTERTAIN
 PUBLIC SOON
 On the evening of March 24th, the Student Body will entertain their neighbors and friends at an original student program. Each class in both College and Academy will present one number from their own talent, and the public may be assured an entertaining evening. The auditorium is comparatively small, but the student body given to the public a hearty invitation to come and enjoy themselves. No admission fee will be charged, other than a smiling face.

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF LEAVES HER TEENS

Another of Mrs. J. L. Miller's big birthday dinners was served in honor of Martha's birthday Saturday evening, March 4, although this was not the date of her birthday. The celebration was a little late on account of the activities of the "flu," but this fact in no way lessened the enjoyment of the occasion.

Mrs. Miller invited the Junior class as guests, and you can imagine the hearty good times when this class gets together. When the honored guest arrived, she seemed very much surprised to find her classmates there also. A splendid dinner and a number of lively talkers kept the fun at its height.

When the cake came on the scene with its sixteen candles, the climax was reached. Many doubts arose concerning the number. Some doubted their ability to count; others rather quietly doubted the evident age of Martha.

Even with such a limited number of candles, Martha succeeded in blowing out only fourteen. Then when the cake was cut, she got the "ring." It certainly seems that she is in grave danger.

Howard Beckner proved to be the lucky (?) fellow to get the "button" signifying single blessedness. In a second generous slice, Martha found herself the possessor of a cross, signifying a missionary career. Ruth Barnhizer was delighted in fishing a nickle, promise of wealth, from her slice, while Maurine Miller was promised fame as an authoress by a tiny pencil.

When every crumb was devoured, the guests left to attend the program at the college by Mr. Eldridge, the Impersonator.

POMONA STUDENT VOLUNTEER ENTERTAINS

Monday evening, March 6, a group of Student Volunteers from La Verne and Redlands were entertained at Pomona College, by the Student Volunteer Band there. At 7:15 they met at Bridges Hall to hear a violin, organ and violinist recital, which was very greatly enjoyed. Then the group adjourned to the church, where a few games were played and refreshments served. The evening was very appropriately closed with a short inspirational devotional in behalf of the Student Volunteer Convention at Whit tier, March 10-12. They parted with the hope of having similar meetings together again.

KOLLEGE KNEWS

King Flu celebrated his third anniversary this month and both students and faculty members were victims of his celebration. Many of the classes were forced to be dismissed, and the ranks in chapel were decidedly depleted. However, the epidemic seems to be on the wane now, as most every one has at some time been a victim of the disease.

The astronomy class sallied forth on a star gazing expedition one Monday night in the recent past. Although no new constellations or planets of importance were discovered, the zodiacal light was plainly seen in the west and the stars were all found exactly where Prof. Bowman had told the class they would be. So the heavens were pronounced O. K. and the class dismissed.

The male quartette consisting of Wayne Bohn, George King, Jesse Frantz and Phil Smith, made a trip to the Hermosa Beach church Sunday evening March 5th, where they rendered several selections.

A special musical program was given at Joint Devotional Friday evening, March 3rd.

The other man's misfortune always attracts mankind. That's philosophy! And when three gas wells in succession exploded and burned for several days in the Whittier vicinity, many of the students visited the scene of the fire. In the night the red glow in the southwest was indeed striking and spectacular.

The La Verne College students were saddened by the death of Mr. J. W. Brooks, and extend their sympathy to the bereaved family. Mr. Brooks was the grandfather of Dwight Welch, Glen and Eunice Kreps, and the Brooks boys.

Diamond Hartman, who has been confined to his bed for several weeks, is now up and around again. He is compelled to walk with the aid of crutches, but that is better than remaining in bed.

The "whisker league," fortunately has dissolved, and things about school seem very well kept and tidy now—about the same effect as if the hedges were suddenly well trimmed after a season of freedom from the edged weapon.

TAFFY PULL

Friday evening, March 3rd, six girls met at the home of Ethel Dresher, the main event of the evening being a taffy pull. It was indeed a glorious affair, and when the taffy was "taffy" there were six different looking kinds, although all was boiled in the same kettle. The kind which had holes in it was pronounced perfect. Then the girls arranged themselves in front of the fire place, within easy reach of the taffy and a dishpan of popcorn, and told jokes and ate to their hearts' content. Those present were the Misses Lola, Miriam and Olive Shirk, Lois Ruth Miller, Mollie Rhodes and Ethel Dresher.

Verna Shirk is now quarantined at her home with scarlet fever. Every one wishes her the best of luck in her brawl with the disease and a speedy recovery.

Ollie Stayer entertained at dinner Sunday March 5, Elva Gillette, Viola Neher and Bessie Hixon.

MORE SURPRISES

Surprise parties are loads of fun, as all Freshie girls very well know. Friday night, March 3, Miss Olive Stayer gave a birthday surprise party for Mildred Stayer. The evening was spent with games and jokes, and concluded with the most delightful "eats" consisting of orange jello and birthday cake. The color scheme was carried out in yellow and green, from the tiny invitations to the dainty favors which decorated the table.

Those present were Mildred Stayer Mary and Evelyn Garber, Harriet Woody, Esther Stoops, Elsie Booth, Alberta Maust, Adelaide Gray, who also was celebrating her birthday, and Mable Griggs.

Susan Stoner, Martha Brubaker, Miss Gobble and Eva Brownsberger furnished vocal and instrumental music at a meeting of the Young People's Branch of the W. C. T. U. which was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Somerville, March 7th.

College Dept. Visits Mt. Wilson

still snowing slightly, and the crowd received the second happy bit of news
—that the observatory would not be opened until 8 o'clock in the morning.
They were aggravated at first because the moon and star were just shining wonderful—the only trouble was they couldn't see them. However, they went for a good time, and they had it, even if they couldn't see the stars and constellations.

Mt. Wilson was certainly a marvelous sight. There was snow everywhere. The snow underneath was hard and there was just enough soft on top to slide, and they slid to their hearts' content. At first Rhoda's coat was the best sled in the crowd, but later, long narrow boards were found to be very good for sliding purposes.
They came dashing down the hillside, sometimes carrying two people, sometimes one, and sometimes none, for the occupants had slid off by the way side. Numerous spills were in order, and a jolly time enjoyed by all.

According to the dorm rules (?)
they began to get ready to retire at 10 o'clock, more or less.

The girls were certainly lucky, for the boys saw that they had very comfortable sleeping quarters in various little cabins, three girls in each cabin.

The boys slept (?) in an inn, but apparently most of them played rook
in their sleep.

Of course all went to bed with the desire of waking up before the sun did. And all did—for the sun didn't rise—at least on Mount Wilson. In-

BONITA GIRLS WIN FIRST GAME OF INDOOR

Tuesday, March 7, the Bonita diamond was the scene of a 26 to 13 victory for the Bonita girls over the La Verne Academy team. This is the first game for La Verne, so the showing made was not so bad.

The last half of the game was an exhibition of some real playing by the La Verne girls. Irma knocked a home run, Minnie Dickey pulled in a couple of line drives out of the atmosphere, etc., while the grandstand roared and thundered.

This game showed the weak places of the L. V. A. team, and their next game with Chino should see a different brand of ball. This was a practice affair, but the game Friday will be a regular league game. The line-up:

Frances A., C; Miriam S. P; Harriet W. 1B; Olive S. RS; Minnie D.
2B; Lola S, LS; Irma D. 3B; Annabell
H. RF; Mable G. CF; Mollie R. LF.
Substitutes—Minnie D for Miriam S.; Irma D for Minnie.

cents always managed to stay a goal
or two in the lead, and thus it ended.
Beckner scored most of the goals for La Verne, but Herman Landis and Kreps also made some nifty shots.

The line-up was:

|             |         |
|-------------|---------|
| Kreps       | Forward |
| Funderburgh | Forward |
| Beckner     | Center  |
| Root        | Guard   |
| Jordan      | Guard   |

Herman Landis substituted for Kreps.

Prof. Ernest Davis and brother Joe and Royal Ott left Friday afternoon for a jack rabbit hunt. The rabbits evidently traveled swifter than the Flivver, for the hunt was extended almost to the borders of Arizona and the party did not return until Sunday afternoon.

The publication of the Campus Times was postponed one week because of the prevalence of the flu
among the members of the staff.

Mrs. Anna Heard Overholtzer and daughter Virginia spent last week visiting students and friends in La Verne.

stead, a heavy snow storm greeted them, and the men at camp warned them that they had better leave unless they wanted to be snowed in for about four weeks.

Of course they decided they didn't,
because there would be so much work
to make up, and consequently camp was broken and the merry (?) group started ahead of the car for the trip home. Three of the boys blazed the road for the car, and the remainder began hitting the trail for home.

They looked like so many travelers in the Alps. The snow was too beautiful to describe, and the pictures were like those you read about. They walked in snow the greater part of the way, and the remainder in pouring down rain.

It certainly was a "soaked" bunch which reached the bottom and started for home. Most everyone got home about noon, but Howard had a little car trouble and didn't get home until 1:30. He seemed to have the worst luck in the bunch. He got too near a little stream going up, slid down the hill just once too often after he got there, and skidded in the mud coming down. Ask Howard for particulars.

Anyhow, everyone expressed themselves as having the most wonderful time they ever had in their lives, and if they couldn't have the stars and the snow both, they preferred the snow.

PAPER WEIGHTS DOWN H. P. A. C.

In a game void of thrills or fight
or even real basket shooting, La Verne's lightweights won their fifth game of seven played, when they measured Huntington Park by a 21
to 15 score.

The score does not indicate the true run of the game, since the ball was in La Verne's possession the greater part of the time, but when it came to shooting, the basket might as well have been on Mars.

The defense was great. The Park men were forced time and again to shoot from the center of the floor.
La Verne's use of out of bounds plays
was conspicuous for their absence.

The team showed a slowing-up of form, probably due to the extended vacation on account of "flu" etc.

Jordan played his usual bang-up game at guard, breaking up everything in sight. Herman Landis played the other guard position with consistency. Beckner at center is still handicapped by his "elbow-apple" which insists on getting into every play. His shooting was, no doubt, affected by this, since he registered
only one lone basket.

Ernie played a good game, but missed many easy shots. Fundy was off-color and should have counted for twice the five baskets that he shot.
Kreps substituted for E. Landis and played a good consistent game.

Thomas and North starred for the losers.

A. W. S. CONFERENCE

ly at nine o'clock, with a report from the San Francisco conference, in which the honor point system, student employment problem, relation of students and faculty, and honor societies were touched briefly, while the loan fund was discussed quite thoroughly.

While some of these points are not practical for La Verne, on account of its small enrolment, yet a great many beneficial ideas were received, and our local A. W. S. is looking ahead to a day when it shall have the problems of a large school to be met successfully.

A more thorough discussion was given the question of "The Student and the College" after which pictures were taken of the conference and a dainty luncheon was served on the sunny balcony of one of the buildings
where the groups freely discussed
many phases of school life.

The afternoon session began at 2 o'clock, when the question of Intercollegiate Co-operation was discussed under the leadership of La Verne and Santa Barbara. Plans for closer relationship between the Colleges were laid, and debating, oratory, athletics, dramatics and exchange of publications were handled, each college giving an idea of what they were doing along each line and tendering suggestions in regard to closer co-operation among the schools.

The final business was transacted,
in which the officers for the coming year were elected. The results were as follows, the president of each A.
W. S. taking the office voted to their school:

President—Southern Branch U. C.
Vice President—Fresno.
Secretary—Occidental.
Treasurer—Santa Barbara.

After an exciting dispute and rivalry between Fresno and Santa Barbara for the conference of 1923, the decision was given to the latter college, and the meeting adjourned.

It is certainly to be regretted that the entire delegation of La Verne could not be present, especially our "peppy" president Ruth Barnhizer,
but we are looking forward to a large representation at Santa Barbara next year.

Elder John Heckman spoke to the Mission Band Sunday morning, Feb.
26, on "The Purity of Life," which was enjoyed by all present.

Mrs. Catherine Trimmer Woods entertained at a chicken dinner Monday, March 13. Those permitted to enjoy it were Olive Deardorff, Pastor R. H.
Miller and wife and son Bobby, and
Mr. and Mrs. Levi Minnich.

La Verne Loses to Redlands

In spite of a brave fight, the College Debating Team were doomed to come out second best in the debate Wednesday night, March 1. L. V. C. supported the negative side of the question, Resolved: "That the Union Shop should prevail in American Industries."

The affirmative was well defended by the visiting team, and although victorious, they were met on every issue with ready and pointed replies.

The chairman of the evening was Prof. G. V. Whaley, of Pomona, who opened the program of the evening in a very unique way. The audience was introduced to the speakers on the two teams. Those representing Redlands were Messrs. Stewart, Wright and Shell, and the local team consisted of Messrs. Throne, Netzley and Sell.

The teams met and parted on the most friendly terms, with a desire to arrange for future debates between the two institutions.

Regardless of losing this first debate, La Verne is not discouraged, but it working all the harder to win the next one, which will probably be with Pacific College.

They gave the first program at Covina
and Glendora last Sunday. The program is of a devotional nature, the theme being "Abiding in Christ." The team is composed of Byrl Harper (Captain), Ernest Root and Vera
Hoover (Speakers), Cathryn Byerly (Reader) and male quartette composed of Jesse Frantz, Phil Smith, Wayne Bohn and George King.

Men Classified

"There are two kinds of men in this world," thundered the orator
There are just two kinds—the rich and the poor."

"You're wrong," shouted a barber
"There are two kinds: those who shave themselves and those who get shaved!"

"You're wrong, too," said the manicurist. "There are two kinds: Easy marks or tightwads."

"You are all wrong," said the egotist. "There are two kinds. Myself and others."

Which merely goes to prove that anything can be proved from the point of view.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.
