The tryouts for the Inter-class Debate were held Wednesday night. The Senior team, Jeanette King, Herman Moomaw and William Riddlebarger, won 2 to 1 over the Sophomore team, Velma Vaniman, Mrs. Mae Miller and Earl Barnhart. The Junior team, Lois Forney, Ora Weddle and Harvey Emley, won over the Freshman team, Rowena Davis, Wayne Bohn and Royal Ott, 2 to 1.

The final debate was open to the public and was held in the College Auditorium on Saturday night. The question for the debate was, "Resolved, That Japanese immigration into the United States should be prohibited." The Seniors upheld the affirmative side and the Juniors the negative.

The Senior's section was decorated with purple and white streamers, and the Junior and Freshman side was decorated in green and white, and old rose and green. Each class gave its yells and song, and the debaters were given cheers.

Miss Modena Minnich played a piano solo, and a piano duet was played by Misses Hazel and Modena Minnich. Enthusiasm ran high, and the debate was a hot contest. Mr. Emley deserves especial mention for his masterful speech. The result of the debate was 2 to 1 in favor of the negative.

Mr. M. M. Livingston, of Bonita High School, Mr. E. R. Yundt, of Pomona, and Mr. Arthur Durward, of La Verne, were the judges.

A beautiful cup, donated by Mr. D. S. Newcomer, was presented by the chairman of the debate, Prof. Funderburgh, to the Junior team.

Do you want to see the Seniors' Play? They're good at it—began when they were small.

JUBILEE SINGERS ROYALLY ENTERTAIN

One of the greatest and most successful entertainments of the year was given on April 6, by the "Southern Jubilee Singers," who were hired by the Commission of La Verne College. The Auditorium was jammed to its fullest capacity, seating over 400 people. The program was most interesting, and the negro entertainers were heartily applauded.

The quartet sang a number of songs, most of which were old plantation melodies and negro camp meeting hymns. The pianologues and violin solos and readings were especially appreciated, and the echo is still in the halls of "Lasses Candy, 'Lasses Candy." The violin was made to act the part of an old eastern pump that must be primed before the water comes; and also the part of a family of pigs, as well as a horse; and a little girl's first attempt to play an organ.

Several vocal solos, as well as comic negro dialect readings were also given, and the reckless, but sure way the pianist hit up his tunes was extremely laughable. Everyone felt that he had gotten his fifty cents worth of entertainment, if not a great deal more.

Two hundred dollars was raised in selling tickets, one hundred of which was made clear and goes to help swell the Student Body treasury.

The Pill Bottle Travels to Hemet and Long Beach

Hemet Sunday, April 3d, was a great day for the Mission Band. About eight o'clock in the morning a deputation team set out for Hemet and gave a program at the church in the morning. Mr. Gregory talked and Beulah Noll and Pauline Miller sang.

Then, about twelve o'clock, the cast of "The Pill Bottle" having left La Verne shortly after Mission Band, arrived. They were all ready for the invites, which Mr. and Mrs. Dean Yoder had promised would be waiting for them, and did not hesitate in acceptance. The crowd was divided up into groups and entertained royally at the homes of the members at Hemet.

In the afternoon it was necessary to have a short rehearsal to become acquainted with the stage plan. All the churches in Hemet co-operated with them by permitting them to use the Methodist Church, which is the largest one in Hemet.

In the evening at 7:30 the main room and several adjoining rooms were crowded with people, and the cast felt that they were rendering the play to a very appreciative audience.

Special music was given between acts in accordance with the missionary spirit of the program. About forty-one dollars was taken in the offering, and the Mission Band feel that their time was well spent.

After the play, the people of Hemet again showed their hospitality by serving the entire La Verne representation with chocolate and sandwiches.

The Mission Band feels especially indebted to Mr. and Mrs. Dean Yoder for their hearty co-operation in attempting to make the program a success, and for the extensive advertising which they made of the play.

Mr. and Mrs. Yoder, having formerly attended La Verne College, show that they are still vitally interested in all the activities of La Verne. The cast wish to thank them for helping to make it possible that they

L. V. A. VICTORIOUS IN FIRST LEAGUE GAME

On last Friday La Verne Academy successfully defended herself in her first league game by defeating El Monte's nine with a score of 7 to 6. Welch, pitching for La Verne, was wild at several stages of the game, passing nine men. Poor fielding put him in holes several times, as is proven by the fact that only two hits were made off his delivery.

El Monte's pitcher was in trouble several times, but pulled out by some fluke or other, as can be imagined by the fact that with three men on base with none out, La Verne only scored one run.

La Verne, however, knicked El Monte for several clean hits, the best being a home run by J. Brooks, and Hepner laid out a beauty of a three-bagger. El Monte led the game thru-out except for four innings, when a tie held, but La Verne came from behind with a rush in their half of the ninth inning and loaded the bases. An error by El Monte's catcher allowed La Verne the necessary two runs to win the game, with only one out.

Next Friday we take on Bonita.—Let's go!

COLLEGE TEAM DEFEATED

The embryo college baseball team journeyed to Covina high school last week and came home on the short end of a 15 to 2 score. The defeat was due entirely to errors committed by our men. Two home runs were netted during the game, one by Covina, with bases loaded, and one by Root, of La Verne. Some changes will appear in the next game, no doubt.

A game, entitled the "Comedy of Errors," was played by our Academy nine on Pomona Hi's diamond on last Wednesday. The less said the better; the score was 17 to 0.

THE END OF SCHOOL

When the end of school is coming,
And just so near the close
You can't realize it's really,
But just you're in a doze
And dreaming of a Paradise
That never can be real—
When school's most out's
Exactly how you feel.
At times when you're looking back
The time has passed so soon
It only seems a week or two
From September on to June.
But then again you're looking back,
As you see it slowly nears—
Why from the time school began,
It seems one hundred years.
But at any rate, school's most out,
And you can't tell how or why,
But you're just so glad it's coming,
You almost want to cry.
Why shouldn't you have that feeling
When the end is about to come,
When you're just so sure and certain
You're going straight for home.

MISSING CARS

Just aren't your fellings awful,
And don't you get a jar
When you've gotten up so early,
But just the same, you've missed your car.
Don't you long to express your feelings
In a single English word;
Then you bite your lips in anger!
For you're sure some one has heard!

BIG FOUR

Saturday night, April 2, the Big 4 Club had a social in the old dining room. From the noise, it was evident that they were very much alive. And oh, the fun! It was decided to have an indoor track meet, so the crowd was divided into three groups, each group representing a school.

The schools represented were Parent, Fiddlecreek, and U. C. Each school sent teams to the meet. The fifty yard dash, the high hurdles, the relay and the broad jump were some of the events. In the fifty yard dash, each one was given a glass of water and told to hop across the room. It was rather hard work, but some succeeded in doing it. In the hurdles they jumped over chairs. The relay consisted of eating a cracker and then whistling. The broad jump was the most interesting of all. The ones with large mouths were lucky in this. Herman Moomaw and Johnny Hilton tied for first, their mouths measuring four inches across. Fiddlecreek won the meet and U. C. took second.

After the meet the girls were given ten beans each, and told to bid for their partners. The boys were draped in a sheet while they were auctioned off. Then came the "eats," which were much appreciated after the strenuous track meet.

As it was nearing ten o'clock, it was thought best to postpone more fun until next time, so they slowly and happily made their way home.

Beads are the daintiest of all trimmings on those pretty new dresses; and best of all, are really the most economical—for a bunch of 1,000 beads, in any of the delicate iridescent cut shades is only 45 cents. The long "Bugle" beads to match are only 35 cents a bunch now. Just think—about one-half less than they were a few months ago.

The delicate pink, blue, changeable purple, blue, green, jade green, crystal white, opalescent white, gold, silver, and all satin tints give just the needed touch for richness and daintiness.

Frasher's, at 112 East Second St., Pomona, now have embroidery beads of all descriptions and are glad to assist you in choosing.

MRS. ROGERS SPEAKS TO LARGE AUDIENCE

Wednesday afternoon, April 7th, the Mothers' and Daughters' of La Verne had their regular meeting in the College Auditorium from 3 to 4 o'clock. After a piano duet by Vera Hoover and Modena Minnich, Mrs. Rogers, the Superintendent of Social Welfare of Pomona Valley gave a very, very practical, yet an "eye-opener" address.

In the presence of a room filled with mothers and daughters of La Verne, Mrs. Rogers said that two of the greatest names on earth, besides Christ, are "Mother," and "Daughter," and there is nothing so sad as when they both miss their calling.

She said, "You students love La Verne College, not for its hard wood floors, nor its stained windows, but because of who are in it and what it stands for. If we stopped school when we got as far as the multiplication tables, we would be thought foolish, but many of us only get that far in our lives and miss the calling of God.

People who have autos would not think of starting from La Verne to Pomona at night without having their lights lit, but so many young people of today have out-grown education, and thus let their light go out—which light is being in close touch with God—and as a result become wrecks. We can have autos, education and live in the finest homes and be the possessor of the best bound Bible, but unless we read our Bibles, they will be of no value to us.

It is indeed a true saying, "The hand that rocks the cradle is the hand that rules the world," and when girls set the highest standards and make young men come up to them, the standard of manhood will rise. Women will reap what they sow until they reform the present form of dress.

Mrs. Rogers closed by saying, "We don't get any higher than our thoughts, so let us keep them clean. Girls, if you don't want to be wrecked, take down your signs. Keep your thoughts pure, live up to the teachings of home and La Verne College, and more than all, keep close to Christ!"

"I suppose you felt rather overpowered when the judge granted you a divorce from your husband."

"Well, not exactly. I felt rather unmanned."

COMMISSION NEWS

The Commission hold their regular meetings Tuesday evening at 6:30. The Commission meet with the three faculty representatives on Thursday evening at 6:30. If any students have problems to present to the Student Body, the Commission room will be open at the hours mentioned.

The Commission are very glad to inform the Student Body that over one hundred dollars was cleared on Thursday night at the entertainment given by the Jubilee singers. They wish to thank everyone for their support and co-operation in student activities.

Friday, April 8, the Commissioner of Athletics awarded the Boys Basketball letters, both to the Academy and to the College, and the Academy Track letters. The College Basketball letters are very uniquely distinguished from the Academy letters by having a leather basketball placed in the corner. The boys who have played more than one year on any respective team have a star placed on their letter for every year after the first one. Some of the boys had the honor of carrying a letter with two stars. However, the boys are not the only ones who have accomplished big things. The Girls Baseball team will be awarded letters in a week or two.

We'll all turn out to hunt "The Lost Paradise."

THE HONOR SYSTEM

During the last few years the nations have been taking phenomenal strides in their programs of self-improvement. Aristocracy and absolutism are being superseded by democracy, and small nations are being accorded considerations before unknown in the history of the world. The church also is abounding in renewed vitality and is launching out into wide and inclusive programs. Is it, therefore, surprising that La Verne College should experience the same progressive metamorphosis and keep abreast with the times? She is growing in numbers and influence, and is each year drawing nearer and nearer to her high ideal.

Democracy lays great stress upon the importance of the individual. So does the church. So does La Verne College. Individual thinking and initiative, and consciousness of personal responsibility are the ideals toward which we strive. We have come to College in order that we might receive direction and aid in the development of these abilities, and have set ourselves to the task of finding the best aids obtainable. The spontaneous birth and growth of the desire for an honor system of student control, as a means of developing true Americanism, are logical results of this high aim, for in this system lie the incentives to uprightness of individual life, and the fundamentals of self government. The honor system is not an intricate machine designed and built to administer discipline or to spy upon the students, but it is a system whereby the students may organize among themselves for the purpose of discouraging all offenses against the common good. Policemen, spies and proctors have no place in this system, for it is based upon that powerful principle, which we believe stands strongly rooted in every student's heart—that natural desire to "play fair." When the moral atmosphere is such that it is unpopular to commit offenses against the common good, disciplinarians are little needed, for the few rebellious and refractory students, who will inevitably join our student body, will be automatically curbed by "public opinion."

The system which is being worked out by the students is as yet in the formative period, but the fundamental policies have been largely agreed upon. The primary governing body shall be a council composed of the presidents of the several classes, together with a member from each class elected by the class. This council shall, therefore, consist of sixteen members, and shall elect its chairman from its membership. All rules for the governing of the students shall be formulated by the council, and shall be ratified by the student body before they become effective.

An advisory board, composed of the matron of the ladies' dormitory, the supervisor of the men's hall, and a faculty member elected by the student body, shall be convened and consulted whenever circumstances are such as to warrant it.

All disciplinary measures of a serious nature, such as expulsion, suspension, or long campus sentences, shall be passed upon by the faculty; but all other measures shall be executed by the council with the approval of the student body.

The primary object of the system, now being devised, is not to enforce disciplinary measures, but to foster a regard for the rights of others. A person who has not maliciously broken the rules of the institution shall not be asked to appear before the council unless his further conduct is such as to cause one to believe that he has not a proper regard for the common good. It shall be the duty of every student, who knows of the infraction of the rules, to attempt to induce him to be more considerate. If, however, the offender persists in his unseemly conduct, he shall be reported to the council.

Inasmuch as the above outlined plan is to be used merely as a working basis, we shall not attempt to go further into its details at the present writing. It is our desire to be able to formulate such a plan that friction and discord may be reduced to a minimum, and that our college may be able to continue her work unhindered. Although we as students are devising this plan of self-control, we are not defying the faculty, for we appreciate the value of their more mature judgment and their broader experience, and are seeking their advice and co-operation. Our ideal and goal is, "Co-operation, loyalty and efficiency." Students, are you with us? Members of the faculty, are you with us? As the welfare of the nation depends upon the attitude of the individual citizen, so the welfare of our College depends upon YOU.

Not Poetic Just Then

Prof. Shepard, of Pomona College was featured as a poet who was to render some of his original poems, at a theater at Pomona recently. In being introduced as a poet, Prof. Shepard made the following response:

"I am hesitant about being called a poet, particularly so since last Thursday. It was an ideal spring day in California, and I was on my way to Catalina. The ship was crowded with tourists, most of them hanging over the rail. However, there were a number who were able to thoroly enjoy the beauties of the trip. "One of the more fortunate approached one of the passengers, who was finding sea travel somewhat of a trial, and I heard him say, 'Are you poetic?' and the other replied,

'No, just seasick!'"

BETHANY GIRLS MEETING

Monday evening, April 4, the Bethany Girls held their regular business meeting. At seven o'clock the girls gathered in the spacious parlor of the J. H. Price home, where a glowing fireplace awaited them.

The general business of the class was discussed, followed by a few minutes of very sensible (?) and practical parliamentary drill. After listening to Victrola music and stories, delicious refreshments of fruit salad and angels' food cake were served by the hostess.

RUSSELL GROSSNICKLE IS SURPRISED

A real surprise was given Russell Grossnickle at the home of Pauline Shirk on April 2d. It may have been more of a disappointment than a surprise, however, as he went to Polly's dressed in canyon garb, with the back of his Ford chuck full of wood, tin pans, and what-not.

A most delightful evening was spent in popping corn, playing rook, pig and flinch; and in having a general good time;—but—most thrilling of all was—eating! The big surprise came when Russell blew out every one of his candles!! (Wow!!) Refreshments of ice cream, cake and punch were served to top off the fun.

Those who helped to celebrate the event were the Misses Pauline Shirk, Lucile Beckner, Modena Minnich and Cathryn Byerly; and the Messrs. Russell Grossnickle, Archie Brooks, Howard Beckner, Dwight Welch, and Ray Root.

WALTER SELL CELEBRATES

One of the pleasant social events of the Easter vacation was the birthday surprise in honor of Mr. Walter Sell. After a bountiful three course dinner, the evening was spent in games, music and a social good time.

The guests departed at an early hour, wishing the host many happy birthdays. Those present were Pastor and Mrs. Miller and Bobbie; Mr. and Mrs. I. V. Funderburgh; Mr. and Mrs. Orrin Gregory and baby Loren; Mrs. William Lehman, Miss Flora May Gaunt, George Hollenberg, Albert Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sell and baby Ruth.

APRIL FOOLS

Saturday evening, April 1, a group of young people gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Welch in honor of the birthday of Dwight. The guests assembled in the parlor and waited in darkness and as much stillness as possible until Dwight came hurrying home in answer to an urgent phone call from his mother. Of course the phone call was a fake; but all is fair in love or war or birthday parties.

Dwight denied that he was surprised, but by the expression on his face, those present did not quite agree with him. The rest of the evening was spent in singing and playing games. Dainty refreshments consisting of sandwiches, cake and punch were served by the hostess.

Those present were Jeanette King, Martha Brubaker, Modena Minnich, Maurine Miller, Eva Brownsberger, Dwight Welch, Johnny Brooks, Otis Brooks, George King and Cecil Brower.

DORM GIRLS SURPRISE MISS BROWNSBERGER

Was Eva Brownsberger surprised on the night of April 6th? She certainly was! When she entered the room of Elva Gillette, there were seven girls who had arrived before her, shouting, "Happy Birthday!"

As usual the time was spent in talking and having a general good time. About 9 o'clock dainty refreshments of chocolate and cake were served. The invited guests were Marguerite Ives, Mary Gockley, Rose Landis, Martha Brubaker, Elva Gillette, Hazel Brubaker and Jeanette King.

KOLLEGE KNEWS

Sue Bomberger, of Pasadena, spent last week visiting her brother and sister, David Bomberger and Mrs. Jesse Brandt and the many friends she has here. Wednesday evening she was a guest at the dormitory and Friday evening she entertained at Prof. Brandt's home some of her old friends.

Virgil Brooks is quarantined for diphtheria. We hope you won't be there very long, Virgil!

Something seems to be lacking around La Verne College. What is it? The hearty laugh of Ralph Netzeley. He is getting along nicely and expects to be out by Thursday.

We can see the snow from here, but some of the students weren't satisfied with that. They wanted to get right into it. So Monday morning Rose Landis, Eva Brownsberger, Nina Garst, Earl Flory and Otis Brooks jumped in a car and satisfied their desire by going to Camp Baldy. They returned in the afternoon and had with them some snow to tantalize the other students.

Saturday evening, April 2, the auditorium was filled with people who were there to be entertained by the Mexicans of La Verne under the direction of the Americanization worker, Mrs. McManus. From 8 till 11 o'clock there was entertainment of all kinds, vocal solos, plays, readings, etc., the Mexicans exhibiting talent that should be developed along the right lines.

Word has been received of the marriage of Miss Inga Smith, of Reedley, a former student of L. V. C., to Mr. Ernest Olsen. The wedding took place at Reedley, March 15th.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gible, of Pasadena, are the proud parents of a little girl, Elizabeth Ann, whom they have adopted. Elizabeth Ann is five weeks old, and we know that she will like her new home. Mrs. Gible was formerly Miss Ida Brubaker, matron of L. V. C.

R. H. Miller has been seen roaming around the college looking rather lonesome. No wonder—his wife and son Bobby have left him—not for good—but for a two months' visit with Mrs. Miller's parents who live in Indiana.

Miss Martha Hensel, Miss Harshbarger's smallpox nurse, was a visitor of Mrs. Vaniman, Thursday of last week.

The Faculty, after many meetings, have adopted and established the demerit system of conduct, to be operated until a better plan is presented. The Faculty has reorganized and a new discipline committee has been chosen. Both Faculty and students are working for the fullest co-operation.

might do their best to carry a message to the hearts of the Hemet people.

Long Beach

The next Sunday morning, April 10 a deputation team plus the "Pill Bottle" cast, left La Verne for Long Beach, where they gave a program at the church from eleven till twelve and presented the "Pill Bottle" in the evening.

The theme of the morning program was "Christ Our Ideal," and the program consisted of:

Male Quartette, "Beauty for Ashes;" Truman Funderburgh, Prof. Funderburgh, Leland Brubaker, and George Hollenberg.

Duet, "It Was For Me;" Leland Brubaker and David Bomberger.

"Christ Our Ideal," Martha Brubaker Ladies Octette, "It Is His Will."

"Realization of Ideals of Christ in Our Life," David Bomberger.

Reading, "The Burden," Kathryn Byerly.

Mixed Quartette, "Walking With Jesus;" Beulah Noll, Naomi Harshbarger, Ernest Root, David Bomberger.

After the program all were instructed to go to the basement, where a sumptuous basket dinner was served. An hour and a half was then spent in arranging the stage and practicing. After this was over, everyone was free to do whatever they wanted to. Some of them slept, others visited, but most of them went down to the beach to enjoy the ocean. At six o'clock they all gathered at the church again, and by nine o'clock the "Pill Bottle" had been spilled for the seventh and probably the last time.

Everyone of the cast seemed to be in the spirit of doing their best ever, and they accomplished it by the help of a responsive audience.

From nine till nine-thirty was spent in the basement again, where a luncheon was served to those departing to La Verne. No one could have entertained more hospitably than did the Long Beach people, and the day was indeed a happy one for all.

Commercial Candor

A gentleman from the South says the labor situation in that part of the country reminds him of an old negro who applied to a cotton plantation manager for work.

"All right," said the manager; "come around in the morning and I'll put you to work, and pay you what you are worth."

"No, suh; I can't do dat," replied the darky. "Ise gettin' mo' dan dat now."—The Bulletin (San Quentin).

LAVERNE SECOND IN SAN FERNANDO MEET

La Verne Academy sent five men to San Fernando and placed second in the meet held there on last Saturday. Compton, with a rather large squad of men, took the meet, with 28 points.

Landis placed first in the half mile in the excellent time of 2 min. 4 2/5 sec. He took second in the mile. Kerr, of Huntington Beach, who ran that event in 4 min. 41 3/5 sec., placed first.

Welch placed second in the high hurdles, and injury to his foot in this event kept him from competing in the low sticks. J. Brooks accounted for himself by a second in the furlong, and third in the shot put. These points, with a second in the relay accounted for La Verne's 18 points.

The relay was run by our men in approximately a second less than they ever ran it before; doing it in close to 1 min. 36 1/5 sec.

Annual Progressing

The proofs for most of the pictures and art work of the Orange Blossom have been received and the pictures are exceptionally good. The rest of the pictures, the cartoons and the cover design were sent to the engravers yesterday.

The art work and cartoons as well as the photographs are exceptionally good, and there is no doubt that every student will be pleased with his book.

But that isn't all. The write-up staff has a whole book full of jokes. Everyone on the staff (practically speaking) grows "more enthusiastic" every day.

Unique Musicale

An entertainment, unique in the history of La Verne, was the one presented on Saturday evening in the La Verne College auditorium by Mexican students in the Americanization night school classes taught by Mrs. Evelyn T. McManus.

The hall was crowded with eager listeners, the Americans who made up about half the audience not less interested than their Mexican neighbors. The program was composed of music, vocal and instrumental, with readings and a little play. The talent displayed was truly remarkable when we consider how little education in the way of schooling these men have had, and it is quite evident that the Mexican has much to give to his American brother in the way of entertainment.

The five piece orchestra, made up of Henry Frias, Joe Lopez, Leo Lopez Mr. Chavis and Joe Vasquez, produced what everyone termed "real music." They played beautiful selections, entirely without notes, and that under the disadvantage of having the group of players changed at the last minute. Dan Frias, who was to play first violin had the misfortune to have his hand hurt, when a load of boxes toppled over, and he was unable to take his part.

The dramatic ability of the students was displayed in the readings given by Jesus Willanueva, Agapita Moreno and Jesus Lopez, and they, with a number of other minor characters, presented the little play, "Dolores." The comic numbers gave the audience chance for a hearty laugh. Adoncio Perez, of the students, seemed director in charge of the evening, while the work of Mrs. McManus, Mrs. May Derwin, who is a volunteer worker; and the clinic nurse, Miss Stafford, was evident thruout the program.

The performers were all residents of La Verne, with the exception of Henry Frias of San Dimas, who gave both vocal and instrumental music; Mrs. Delfina Da Villareal, who played a number of piano solos, and Frank Juarez, who has an exceptionally good voice, and who sang "La Golondrina."

The entire program was presented in the Mexican language, and while only English is used in the night school, this, their first public performance was given in the Spanish so as not to detract from the natural grace and dignity of the students by making them self conscious in the use of the language with which they are not as yet thoroughly familiar. They gave us splendid music, and in producing what we like and enjoy, it stimulates their pride and conserves the latent talent.

Such an evening creates a bond of sympathy and understanding such as could be arrived at in no other way. Both Americans and Mexicans will look forward eagerly to another such program.

You've got a cool head—so has a cabbage! Well, they'll both bust to get to see the College Senior Play.

"What makes the Tower of Pisa lean?"

Fat girl—"I don't know, or I'd take some myself."

She:—I heard you singing in your room this morning.

He:—O yes, I sing a little to kill time.

She:—I'll say you have a good weapon.

Faculty Dines At the Dorm

About five o'clock, April 7th, the members of the Faculty with their respective wives or husbands, met in the parlor of the Ladies' Home. At the sound of the dinner bell, they entered the dining hall, where the students gave them a hearty welcome.

Dinner, consisting of Mrs. Michael's most delicious dishes, was enjoyed by faculty and students as well. After the first course was served, Mrs. Vaniman, as toastmistress, called for toasts from Pres. Miller, Dr. Hoover and Prof. Funderburgh.

After dinner, the Faculty went on a tour through the building and visited the rooms of all the girls. They were well pleased with the "homey" and tidy appearance of the rooms.

The dignitaries enjoyed the little visit at the dorm, and the students seemed to enjoy their presence, as well as the "company dinner."

JOHN P. EVANS - POMONA
STYLE HEADQUARTERS

Pied Piper Comes to Town

Thursday evening, March 31, Major Shoaf, a man 55 years of age and one who has had many interesting and wide experiences, gave a lecture in the auditorium. He was born of German parents, was 6 years a cowboy in the United States, and has had 32 years of service as a soldier under the British flag, of which country he is now a naturalized citizen. He has traveled in almost every country, and at present he is the guardian of fish and game in the province of Alberta, Canada. After he told of some of his interesting experiences, he showed many relics which he has collected along the way. Some of them were Mexican hand made blankets, leopard, lion, bear, and snake skins of all kinds, horse hair rope, African battle-axes, musk, ox horn, and many war relics. Mr. Shoaf gave a very entertaining program, especially when it is considered that the admission was only 11 cents, and 25 per cent of that went to the L. V. Student Body treasury.

A Love Episode

I saw her coming down the street,
I hurried on so of course we'd meet.
I looked into her soft brown eyes,
And she didn't take it by surprise.

We kissed so long and swore our love
By the shining stars above;
She squeezed my hand with a sudden lurch,
Then we two girls skipped off to church.

"Don't you think he is the biggest liar you ever saw?"

"I'd hate to say that; but he certainly is more economical of the truth when he tries to recite than any person I ever saw."

"Here lies a lawyer and an honest man."

"Must be cramped for room, burying two men in the same grave."

"Why does Alta look in the glass so often?"

"To see what's going on, of course."
