BONITA WALKED ON TO THE TUNE OF 18 TO 5

Elder J. H. B. Williams Dies in Africa

One of the saddest and most shocking pieces of news that ever came to the people of the Church of the Brethren, came last Tuesday, April 19, in the form of a cablegram from Bombasa, Africa, stating that Rev. J. H. B. Williams had contracted typhoid fever and passed away at that place on Sunday evening and would be buried there the next day.

About six months ago Elder Williams, with J. J. Yoder and Dr. Harnley were sent as a committee to visit all of the foreign mission stations of the church, with especial view toward finding a suitable site for the founding of a mission station in Africa. The committee thus far had visited China and India, and it is probable that Rev. Williams contracted the fever on the trip from India to Africa and died immediately upon his arrival in Africa. In the same field where David Livingstone gave up his life in service for his Master, J. H. B. Williams also gave his.

Since 1908 Elder Williams has been connected with the General Educational Board and the General Mission Board of the Church of the Brethren, and since that time he and his family have resided at Elgin, Illinois. At the time of his death he was secretary of the General Mission Board.

In 1915 Rev. Williams made a tour of the west in educational interests, and at that time made La Verne one of his stopping places. The older students remember him from that visit.

Words cannot express how the church will miss his leadership, especially in the missionary activities. As Mrs. Ernest Vaniman said, "We missionaries will especially miss the cheerful, encouraging letters that Billy wrote to us, and which we were always so anxious to receive."

In speaking of Rev. Williams, Ray Olewin, of Pasadena, who for a number of years worked in the Elgin printing office with him, said, "He was one of the most loving, cheerful-hearted men I ever met, and he left that impression on every one he met. He had a personal interest in everyone and it made no difference how common a person might be, he could always go to him and talk to him as a brother. He was always the same humble J. H. B. Williams, always fully dependent on his God for his strength. He was known by his pleasant way, and was never known

WHO'S WHO FOR THE COMING STUDENT BODY ELECTION

Probably the biggest event of the year is the election of the Commission. An amendment to the constitution has just been passed, changing the time for the election of the Commissioners from the third Tuesday of the first semester, to the first Tuesday of May. By this amendment the primary election will be held May 3, and the final election May 6.

To be a nominee the candidate must first secure the sanction of the faculty and then submit to the Commission a petition of twenty names of student body members, at least three days before the election.

There are a number of candidates with their managers already in the field, and this election promises to be a very closely contested one.

BECKNER FOR ATHLETICS

Students, let us consider that the past year has been the biggest and most noted year for Athletics that L. V. C. has ever known. Then for a moment let us again consider that Howard Beckner has in a large measure been responsible for this. Mr. Beckner stands for clean sports only, and we need such a man next year, who can make and keep our sports clean. Next year we are looking forward to making football our major sport. Mr. Beckner is heartily in favor of football and offers his most hearty support to bring football here to stay. He also favors our being admitted to the College Conference, and will work to that end. Why not elect a man who has a good understanding of our needs and who will give the school what it wants.

Alva Lentz, Mgr.

JOHN RHODES FOR COMMISSIONER OF FINANCE

The Commissioner of Finance has a very important office to fill. Next year this office will be even of more importance than it has been this year. The introduction of Football will be a great expense to the school. Therefore, we must have a man who will be able to fill that office with the greatest degree of efficiency.

John Rhodes is a man that has had a great deal of experience handling large sums of money. He has always been a very loyal supporter of the College in all her activities.

John stands firmly for the following platform:

1. All finances of the school on a more economical and firmer basis.
2. Better co-operation in all departments in all financial matters.
3. An aggressive STUDENT BODY program for the school year.
4. FOOTBALL paying for ITSELF and adding to the S. B. Treasury.
5. Promotion of BETTER School LIFE.

Our big John stands for these things. He generally gets what he wants. Do you want them? Vote for John, Commissioner of Finance.

He was one of the first with the idea of entering the "Skeeter-Weights" in the A. A. U. A. great booster for Athletics, with the ability for leadership, makes him a worthy candidate for the office of Commissioner of Athletics. With these qualifications he will be a big asset in making football a grand success, thus assuring its permanent adoption in La Verne College. Ray will endeavor, if elected,

1. To make football the major sport, successful.
2. To properly distribute the athletic budget.
3. To realize the entrance into the College Conference.
4. To follow an aggressive athletic policy.
5. To Organize an Association of Athletic Managers.

BAUMGARDT TO BE HERE

"AN EVENING WITH THE STARS"

B. R. Baumgardt, who is known throughout the United States as a lecturer of unusual power and charm, will render the concluding number of the La Verne College Music and Lecture Course for the present season on Tuesday evening, the 3d of May, at 8 p. m. His lecture is entitled "The Frontiers of the Universe," and will be a remarkable presentation of recent celestial photography with the greatest telescope in the world, illustrated with the stereopticon. Presented in language so simple that even a child can understand, it conveys to the mind graphically, poetically, what everyone ought to know about the wonders of the starry universe. The lecture is a celestial journey, far more wonderful than that of Aladdin on the enchanted carpet; it is a journey to the frontiers of our universe, billions of miles away in the bosom of

Safety Raiser of Enthusiasm COMMISSIONER OF STUDENT WELFARE

Do we want our college to rank with other colleges?

Do we want a cleaner record, neater campus and tidier buildings?

Do we want "peppier" programs; good entertainment, and a better operation of students with faculty?

Do we want a Commissioner who is capable and competent, one who has spent two years in a big university, and knows what other schools are doing?

Thought, Work, and Co-operation are three things La Verne needs. Do we want them? ? ?

Do we want old traditions and customs revived, and to play their part in La Verne as they do in all colleges?

Do we want Student Welfare in every sense of the term?

RALPH NETZLEY for DEBATING

Mr. Netzley has made a success of his year as Commissioner of Debating. He has supported every worth-while aggressive measure proposed during the past year.

He has even greater plans in mind for next year's debating schedule.

He is planning a Debating Conference between La Verne and three other Church of the Brethren Colleges in the East and Middle West. In this he will have the support of the administration.

ALL LAVERNE WAS OUT FOR THE GAME

On Friday the 15th, La Verne and Bonita tangled on the home lot in the second game of the Valley Baseball League. It was a complete victory that La Verne enjoyed, as the 18 to 5 score may indicate. Welch found himself in difficulty several times, but only three hits were netted off his delivery. With the exception of the fateful fifth, in which La Verne scored 12 runs, the game was well played.

La Verne started with a walk to Davis. Davis stole second. Johnnie connected for a hit that scored Davis. Ben sacrificed, sending Johnnie third, from where he scored, netting two runs for La Verne the first inning. Bonita was unable to score.

In the second inning Bonita's errors accounted for Welch and Hartman scoring. Bonita also fizzled this time at bat. Johnnie Brooks again showed up his ability by stealing three bases in the third inning, scoring the fifth run. Bonita had not yet scored. In the fourth La Verne was unable to push a marker across, while a hit and a couple of errors by our men allowed three Bonita men to cross the plate.

In the fifth La Verne went wild while Bonita fell down. Horton gave way to a substitute pitcher. However King, Bohn, Otis and John Brooks all collected hits. Four men were walked by the Bonita pitcher this inning. King, J. Brooks, Hepner and Davis each scored two runs apiece, while Bohn, O. Brooks, Hartman and Welch each scored one in this inning. From this inning on, it was nip and tuck all the way; Bonita scoring two runs and La Verne one.

Chautauqua Week Near

The glorious climax of all fine entertainments of this school year will be realized with the coming of the Chautauqua days on May 11 to 14. Every one is looking forward to this event with most joyous anticipation. Although the program rendered last year was much appreciated, the program this year promises to surpass that of last year in many respects. The entertainment is of the highest quality, and is both educational and entertaining, with bits of good humor interwoven to heighten the interest.

The opening evening is to be occupied by Marion Ballou Fisk, the clever and unique combination of cartoonist, entertainer, story-teller and lecturer. Her work is genuinely artistic and it is hard to state just where she ex-

RUNNING INTO POLITICS

There is no student in La Verne College who is not aware of the fact that the most important single event of the year is about to take place. Everyone in school is on his tip toes, figuratively speaking (naturally some more than others) and the battle has begun.

But in our excitement we forget to bring into full operation a few of the principles with which we are, in general, familiar, and which most of us accept. There is a tendency toward the narrowing of view-points.

In a campaign of this sort, too much of petty personality is apt to be injected. In the first place we jump at conclusions, and accordingly judge each other too harshly. A fellow student running for the office of commissioner is no especial occasion for one to spread broad-cast the reasons for a personal dislike for that person. Nor is it an occasion for me to attribute to him base motives and circulate these beliefs of mine among my friends, when actually I know absolutely nothing about it.

There are many things that are possible which are not probable. But the fact that such things are possible, even if they were probable would not give license for saying that they were true.

Even in such a campaign, if we would spare our words for the saying of some sound, essential fact, they would be used to better advantage.

Where we do not know the facts in the case, why judge? And still more, why publish what we do not know? Why must we forget that we are brothers, that ours is a Christian institution and that we are Christians? Why not take each other for what we are worth and work together?

WHO VOTE FOR?

Are you up the stump, don't know who to vote for? All right, listen to me—I'll tell you. For Publications VOTE FOR —? No! VOTE FOR the one who has La Verne College most at heart, for the man who will put the welfare of the school before personal glory every time—without exception. Vote for the one you like best, if in your mind he has proven that he is the most capable of filling the place. IF he has NOT proven this, if the other man has proven himself the BIGGER MAN, vote for the biggest man every time.

If you wish to find out the necessary prerequisites for a good commissioner, you have only to look over the list of qualifications of the candidates to find a complete list—but aside from all jokes or campaign speeches—you owe it to La Verne College to think the whole thing through slowly and seriously. Think of the duties and possibilities of each office and then consider these when deciding who should be your choice. The purpose of having such a commission is to give a boost to the greater La Verne College.

Then let's put on the commission the BEST men and women.

All are not girls that titters.

An "A" on your card is worth two in your mind.

You'll be hazy and lazy and have red eyes.

But dost thou love life? Then do not squander time, for that's the stuff life's made of.

THE HONOR SPIRIT

Taken from The Bulletin—Associated Students of the University of California

One of the problems of greatest importance in the administration of student affairs is that of insuring honesty in examination. In many universities and colleges throughout the country, the faculties of the respective institutions attempt to deal directly with this problem. The result is usually the use of the monitor or proctor system, which is comparable to detailing of an armed guard, to prevent cheating during examinations. Happily, this is not the case in the University of California. Here, the usual practice is, that a professor or an instructor giving an examination will, after a reasonable time has been allowed for answering questions, leave the room in which the examination is being held. Thus, at all times, the students of the University are in honor bound to write their examinations without giving or receiving assistance.

Cheating is usually believed to apply only to dishonesty in examinations, but the illegitimate use of laboratory notes, book reports, drawing plates, or any work of another is as serious a violation of the Honor Spirit as is dishonesty in examinations, and will be considered as such.

A person who will cheat after he has been placed upon his honor not to do so must be judged to be devoid of honor. To cheat in examinations, in addition to being a flagrant violation of the principles of honor and decency, is a vicious and insidious attack upon the very heart of our most treasured institution, that of self-government. It also sets a false standard for grading in the correction of examinations and tends to lower the relative position of the honest student.

Cheating, where it exists, is a malignant cancer in any student body, and threatens to tear down the strength and demolish the organization of that body. It must be torn out by the very roots before we can say that our honor system of student government has attained its highest success. Each student should bear in mind that he is constantly carrying an unfulfilled obligation to himself, to his fellow students and to those who have made possible the freedom of student self-government, unless he not only maintains himself above reproach but also forces all others with whom he comes in contact to strictly adhere to the spirit of honor.

Each student should be actuated by the spirit of honor which is included in the simple statement: "We, the students of the University of California, do not tolerate the giving or receiving of aid during examinations."

BIG FOUR PROGRAM

Program

Roll Call
Piano Quartet—Mary Blickenstaff, Lois Miller, Miriam Shirk, and Beulah Smith.
Parliamentary Drill
Magnolias Quartet—Virgil Neher, Jesse Frantz, Wayne Bohn, and Ora Weddle.
Reading—Wanda Carl
Instrumental Duet—Bill Riddlebarger, Chase Harper.
Reading—Walter Sell
Pantomime

Each number on the program was very well given. The piano quartet was exceptionally good. The Magnolias quartet sang, "Ancient Coal Colored Joseph." The fact that they were given an encore showed that the audience appreciated classic (?) music. Wanda's reading pictured very well a younger sister entertaining her sister's beaux. Wanda gave it so well that it makes one believe that she used to entertain her sister's friends. Chase and Bill's duet was much appreciated—Chase played the mandolin and Bill played the guitar. Walter Sell's reading showed how well small boys like to visit the pantry.

The Pantomime, "Courting Under Difficulties," was certainly well rendered. That alone would have been worth going to see. Alta made a very stern looking old woman. Bill was the younger brother, and he surely played his part well. Wayne and Wanda played their parts with much ease and grace.

Next Saturday night the Big Four will give an open program. It will consist of readings, music and a short play entitled, "The Burglar." This is the first time that the Big Four has given an open program, and it is hoped that there will be a full house. Come and have a good laugh!

SLUMBER PARTY

On last Friday evening two important and notable events took place. The first was a total eclipse of the moon from ten to twelve p. m. and the other and by no means the least important event, at least to six girls, was a surprise slumber party at the home of Mrs. Dayton Newcomer, in honor of the eighteenth birthday of her sister, Cathryn Byerly. During the evening delicious refreshments of chocolate, sandwiches, olives, ice cream, angel-food cake and candy were served. Later the girls went upstairs and the remainder of the night was spent — in sleeping, probably not, altho a great deal of candy was consumed and the revelry waxed loud until early in the morning.

Those who enjoyed the night were Marguerite Dickey, Modena Minnich, Martha Brubaker, Lucile Beckner, Maurine Miller and Cathryn Byerly.

FRESHMAN-JUNIOR WIENIE ROAST

Saturday evening, April 16, the Juniors and Freshmen had a wienie roast in San Dimas Canyon, in honor of their debating teams and track men.

About five thirty o'clock they, with their class teachers, Mrs. Ellis and Miss Marie Woody, started from the college in machines.

After reaching the canyon a pleasant place was selected and nearly everyone took part in playing "Ruth and Jacob." Because of the interest in the game, it was not noticed that a corn field was being used for a playground. However, the owner of the field noticed this and kindly asked the players to leave.

A bon fire was then made and each person helped himself to a wienie, bun and pickle. Of course this was a very enjoyable part of the evening. When the wienies were all eaten, a large circle was made around the fire and the crowd listened to a phonograph which one of the boys had taken. A few more games were played, and the crowd began to leave in groups.

Everyone arrived home safe and sound at an early hour, feeling much happier than when they left.

Virgil Brooks says the reason he didn't make a success of athletics this year is because of some of the people who were standing around, managing from the side lines.

San Dimas canyon seemed to be a very popular place last Saturday night, but there was ample room for the College Freshmen. By making several trips, Mr. Jordan succeeded in transporting the class to the canyon. Supper was the all-important event of the evening. Just when everyone began to think supper was going to consist of hot water and water-dogs, the sad expressions on the faces of the Freshmen gave place to ones of great joy and relief, for the eats committee brought forth a griddle and proceeded to fry sausage. Oyster soup, sausage, fried eggs and coffee prepared over a camp fire surely makes an incomparable combination for a camp supper. It is needless to say the hungry bunch did it justice.

After supper Miss Ruth Boose favored the class with several selections on her guitar, and Mary Gockley gave a reading. After a short, enjoyable hike up the moonlit canyon, someone reminded them that it was nearing 10 o'clock, and faces were turned toward.

Did the Freshies have a good time? Ask them!

It's hard for an empty head to keep from nodding in class, And hard for some girls to keep away from the glass.

KOLLEGE KNEWS

If you want to tell everything you know, just go to the Educational Sociology class, who are at present engaged in an educational survey. You may have to tell it anyway, because when they get you cornered they really ask very personal questions, for instance, how much you sleep and study. Suppose the teachers should get those blanks. Some people seem reluctant to tell what they plan to do after their school work is finished.

The classification committee made a request of the students that all, with the exception of the College Seniors, make a preliminary enrollment of the subjects they expect to take next year. Professor Frantz announced in chapel several days later that only 75 cards were turned in. Nice little bunch of 100 College Seniors we have.

The Mission Band deputation team visited Covina on Sunday the 17th, with their splendid and inspiring program. Last Sunday two teams went out, one to Santa Ana and one to Pasadena. Next Sunday they go to Glendora and the two Los Angeles churches.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Fisher and their two little sons from Strathmore, Calif. made a short visit to La Verne week before last.

Our worthy Professor Dickey seems to be living under an ill-fater star at present. While he was engaged in a noble effort to aid our baseball boys a small Mexican was seen walking off with a perfectly good white collar and a few minutes later Prof. Dickey missed his from the stump where he had laid it. Prof. Dickey is good-sized and the Mexican was small. Maybe it won't fit. We hope so.

The proper thing for absent minded Profs. now seems to be to start the car, lose the keys at home, and drive to Los Angeles, not missing them until he arrives there and has stopped the car. Such things happen, tho, even to the best of Professors. We wish our Prof. better luck next time.

Mrs. Grace Miller is always doing something to make the students of L. V. C. feel at home. This time it was in the form of entertaining Miss Estella Landis' Mexican prayer meeting group last Wednesday evening at a cafeteria dinner. Everyone had all they could eat and words can't express how they appreciate the Miller's kindness to them.

Supper at the dorm will hereafter and henceforth be served at 6 o'clock instead of 5:30, in order that the baseball boys may have more time for practice.

Sunday, April 24, Prof. and Mrs. I. V. Funderburgh, Misses Hazel Brubaker, Naomi Harshbarger, and Beulah Noll, and the Messrs. David Bomberger and Ernest Root, spent the day at Pasadena at the Bomberger home.

cells. Alexander Skibinsky, noted Russian composer, a pupil of the world's greatest master of the violin, Eugene Ysaye, has achieved the so-called impossible. His story is a marvelous one, His hand was almost blown to pieces ten years ago, but aided by unprecedented determination, he devised an artificial finger and through great practice emerged a greater violinist than ever before. His assisting artists, Edna Jones, pianist, and Catherine Peterson, soprano, are well known and talented artists.

E. Lorne Knight will tell the story of the Steffansson party, who astounded the world in 1918 by suddenly returning from the Arctic regions after five long years spent on the very top of the world, having been thought dead by all for four years. E. Lorne Knight was one of the party and his thrilling story is told from experience in conjunction with the showing of the films.

A musical 'high light' is scheduled for Chautauqua on the third day in the coming of the Oreida Ladies' Quartet, who sing all manner of songs and read, as well. Their repertoire is extensive, ranging from the familiar melodies of bygone days to the big classics of the musical library. On the evening of the same day, J. C. Herbsman, probably the best known public speaker in the West, will lecture on "America's Needs." His broad visioned comments should be heard by every man, woman and child in La Verne.

On the last day the Olivar's Manila Quartet, one of the foremost native musical organizations in the Islands, will deliver two concerts. Their four years in America has reaped a success almost sensational. There is a melodious cadence and sweetness of tone in the Filipino music even more alluring than the native melodies of Hawaii. On the evening of the last day Fay Epperson, reader and child impersonator, will entertain. She is credited with being one of the best impersonators of children on the Chautauqua platform. She lives in the lives she presents and makes the child live before you.

What think ye, hungry students? Doesn't this entertainment promise to be a real treat to top off the school year?

to be 'blue.' The people didn't realize his real worth. And perhaps one of the biggest reasons why some people haven't heard so much about him is that he never pushed himself forward. But he always did his tasks, whether large or small, with a humble heart."

We do not know the reason why Bro. Williams was called to give up his useful life at a time when he is needed so much, but everyone knows that the One who knows all did it for the best. It should be a big incentive to every living person to re-consecrate his life to his Master. And when one so dear to the heart of so many people gave his life in the dark continent of Africa, many more should be willing to do the same.

Not only will his friends miss him, but his wife and three children will feel his loss greatly, and should be held up to our Master daily that they may have strength to endure this crushing blow.

There are many rare abilities in the world that fortune never brings to light.

LaVerne Loses to Claremont Score, 4 to 3.

In a game fraught with much argument and many thrills, La Verne went down in glorious defeat at the hands of Claremont High School on Friday, by a score of 4 to 3. Welch was in fine condition, fanning fourteen men and passing only two. Errors by Otis Bohn, Hepner, Hartman and Johnny contributed to the general spilling of the game.

In the first inning Joe scored the first run by a series of overthrows by Claremont. Claremont came right back and collected two runs when C. Patton laid out a beautiful home run with one man on. With three men on base and only one out, Welch settled down and fanned the next two men.

From this period to the fourth inning no more scored, but in this frame Bohn scored the second marker for La Verne when Claremont's shortstop made an error on Landis' hit. In the fifth inning Bohn saved the day by picking a line drive from Mason's bat. From then on until the eighth inning no one scored when by one of the freakest plays ever seen on a diamond, Claremont pushed across another run. Much protest followed this play, but the umpire's thoughts and eyes were elsewhere, evidently, since he did not even see the play.

La Verne tallied in their half of the ninth when Bohn scored again. Claremont came back, however, and managed to put across the winning run, aided by two errors by Hartman and O. Brooks.

EDUCATIONAL SURVEY BEING MADE IN SCHOOL.

The students of the Educational Sociology class, in co-operation with the class in the Psychology of Education, are making an educational survey of the college. The class first mentioned has been at work preparing the survey sheets since the beginning of the semester. The object of the survey is to find out the relationship of outside activities to the student's environment, his attitude toward the school and his scholarship.

The survey has been conducted with success among the college students during the past week. Every afternoon is being devoted to the survey. The actual survey work is consuming more time than was expected, because of the length of time it takes for the students to figure out the answers to the questions. The survey will be greatly expedited if students will read the survey as posted in the bulletin board and make their estimates before appearing before the surveyors.

The survey will have a sociological as well as an educational value. It is expected that much valuable information will come into the hands of the surveyors. Only the general conclusions will be published; all other information will be strictly confidential.

It is hoped that the survey will be of scientific value as well as of local benefit in arranging a program of activities for next year.

Delegates Attend Conference at Redlands

April 15, 16, and 17, about 85 young representatives of the different Student Volunteer Bands of Southern California met at Redlands University and held their annual convention. The theme of the entire convention was the "Living Christ," and the aim was to develop leadership. For the first time in the history of the Movement, La Verne Mission Band was represented, not only with one member, but six.

Friday evening about four o'clock, a Ford was seen leaving the College in which were the Misses Susan Stoner, Naomi Harshbarger and Beulah Noll, and the Messrs. Ernest Root, George Hollenberg and Leland Brubaker—bound for Redlands. At six o'clock they arrived at the Y. W. C. A. building, where they registered and were tagged and given their meal tickets. Then, after waiting a half hour, they went to the Baptist Church where a banquet was served to the 85 Student Volunteers.

After the banquet a social hour was spent in playing games in order to get acquainted. Then they were ready to adjourn into the main auditorium room of the Baptist Church, where Rev. W. P. Dodson, a returned missionary who had been in Africa for 30 years, gave a stereopticon lecture on "The Living Christ in Africa." Dr. Dodson said that the only way to get at the heart of the hard Mohammedan problem is to get the Living Christ in our hearts, and live Him in our everyday lives among them. If we could only see the Living Christ come into the hearts of these poor, dirty people, we would strive harder to know Him ourselves and go out and give Him to them. Other people can take civilization to Africa, but only Christianity can take the Living Christ. He closed by saying, "Will we fail, or do what Christ expects of us?"

After breakfast Saturday morning the Student Volunteers gathered in the Y. W. C. A. room at the University and from 9 until 12:15 discussed problems which are vital to each Band. Some of the problems discussed were (1) the relation of the Student Volunteers to the Y. W. C. A.; (2) deputational work; (3) methods of conducting S. V. meetings; and (4) missionary education and poster making.

At 12:30 the delegates all adjourned to a beautiful place—Sylvan Park—which is part of the University campus, and there they were all "stuffed" with a bountiful dinner, which had been prepared by the University girls. Then the time was spent in lawn games and a social good time until 4 o'clock, when all went to Smiley Heights, where they enjoyed the beauties of nature and had a sunset prayer meeting.

Returning to Redlands at six o'clock all went to the First Methodist Church where they were bountifully fed again at another banquet. Remaining around the tables, the president, Ernest Henderson, of Redlands, took charge, and officers for the coming year were elected with the results:

President—Ernest Henderson, of Redlands.
Vice President—Paul Fuller, of Bible Institute.

Secretary—Caroline Millar, of U. S. C.
Treasurer—Leland Bubaker of La Verne.

Miss Julia Wagner, of Pomona College, whose parents are at present missionaries in Mexico, spoke of "The Living Christ in Mexico." She said that Mexico has a Bible and the United States has a Bible, but Mexico's Bible is wrapped in superstition, tradition and custom. It depends upon the rising generation whether the Living Christ will be taken into Mexico. Shall we who are so fortunate at to live in a Christian nation fall down and fail to take Him to Mexico?

The main address of the evening, as well as the best and most inspirational of the entire conference was given by Dr. A. J. Ramsey, of Pasadena, on "The Living Christ in our Colleges." He said that Christianity differs from all other religions in that it has a Living Christ and the only way He can live anywhere—in Africa, Mexico, or our Colleges, is to live in us. What do people think of the power of the Living Christ when they see some of the specimens that claim to have been effected by it?

Sunday morning, from 9:30 to 10:30 was spent in the Y. W. C. A. in a Fellowship Devotional. Then all of the young people journeyed to the Baptist Church, where Dr. W. A. Betts of Los Angeles delivered an address on "The Living Christ in Us." He said, "No telling what God will do with a person who yields himself wholly to Jesus Christ." We must give up our lives and take the world for Christ now. What an opportunity we have in rescuing heathendom from its darkness!

After dinner, from 2:30 to 3:00 was spent in Farewell Devotions.

Everyone present at the conference wished for the presence of the rest of the student body, so that they could receive some of the overflowing inspiration that those present received.

Thursday in Chapel the six from La Verne endeavored to give the student body some of the inspiration they received. A report was also given in Mission Band Sunday morning.

of science we traverse the circuit of immeasurable space. On the wings the universe, and are then brought safely back again to our earth.

Mr. Baumgardt is not unknown to a La Verne audience, having appeared here several years ago in his lecture "The Fiords of Norway." Nearly every year for the past twenty years he has made a lecture tour of the middle west and Atlantic states. Three times he has been around the world, lecturing, and collecting data to be used in his lecture work. He will soon start around the world for the fourth time, visiting the Holy Land, Egypt, Greece, Constantinople, Poland and many other countries.

Single admissions to this event, of which only a limited number are available, will be 50 cents. Seats may be reserved on and after Tuesday, April 26th, at Kenyon's Pharmacy.

On April 21, the Mission Band, in charge of the joint devotional, gave a lecture on Africa. Leland Brubaker gave a brief sketch of conditions in Africa, which was followed by a stereopticon lecture by D. Welty Lefever, who showed about 45 slides of African scenes.
