RECORDS OF AEOLIAN QUARTET ARE ON SALE

When the Aeolian Quartet was in New York last summer, they made some Columbia phonograph recordings. They now want to sell these for 75 cents. All students who are interested in buying these records see Russell Frantz or George Berg.

Y. M. AND Y. W. HOLD JOINT MEETING FRIDAY

The Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. had a joint meeting Friday morning, April 8.

Announcement concerning the Y. M. C. A. play and program was made by Dick Maley. Vernon Heckman and Elwin White presented a little Jewish skit, Vernon being Benny and Elwin representing Izzy. The Dorian Trio, composed of Helen Ellenberg, Grace Gans and Mary Gillette, sang two numbers, "Cradle Song" by Brahms and a Chinese number, "Ching-a-lu." The next and last number on the program was a skit without a name, directed by Helen Heisey. The boy was taken by Alice Strate, the girl by Mary Emmera and the moon by Betty Shaffer.

"Torchy" Samson made an announcement about the girls hi-jinks to be Thursday, April 14.

SEVERAL NEW BOOKS ADDED TO LIBRARY

The latest donations to our supply of library books was made by Louise Huff, a member of the graduating class of 1931. This donation contained a set of ten Junior Classics, and a set of ten Colliers' New Encyclopedias.

In addition to these books four sets of Eugene O'Neil's plays were purchased by the contemporary drama class. Travels of Marco Polo and a History of the British Empire were purchased for the History Department.

It has come to our attention that inhabitants of the polar regions live entirely on whale oil and blubber. We Americans subsist on a much more diversified diet and do the same thing.

THURSDAY TO BE L. V. COLLEGE NITE AT PADUA

Thursday night, April 14, has been designated as LaVerne College night for the Claremont Community Players production of Glenn Hughes' scientific mystery melodrama of 1930, "Green Fire," it was announced this week by Mary C. Blaisdell, Players director. The play will be presented April 12 through April 16, with a matinee April 16, at the Little Theatre in Padua Hills.

"Green Fire" combines a unique mystery plot with keen melodramatic interest, employing a variety of weird scientific apparatus in its development.

The story recounts an exciting duel of wits between two great scientists of the future for control of the secret of releasing atomic energy; one wishes with the knowledge to destroy the universe, and the other seeks to use it for the benefit of mankind. The ensuing battle is said to be thrilling in the extreme, rising to a sensational climax as has ever been staged.

George B. Hamilton, remembered for his work as "Disraeli" and "Grumpy," carries the leading role in the production.

W. A. A. TO PRESENT PROGRAM IN ASSEMBLY

Presenting its first program, the W. A. A. will have charge of the Friday student assembly. There will be an hour's program of skits, songs, and dances.

Edith Eisan is general chairman and with Frances Nix, president, will have charge of the program.

REV. STEAD SPEAKS IN THURSDAY CHAPEL

Rev. J. R. Stead of Pomona spoke in chapel Thursday on the importance of dependability in our lives. According to Dr. Stead, dependability is within the reach of all. It is a quality upon which great emphasis is placed in every phase of life and without which we cannot hope to succeed.

SENIORS TO GIVE "THE UNDISCOVERED COUNTRY"

The Senior class of LaVerne College has selected "The Undiscovered Country," an English play by Anthony Merryn, as its contribution to local high class entertainment.

"The Undiscovered Country" has never yet been produced in Southern California, but has played elsewhere very successfully by virtue of its uniqueness, its depth of theme and thought, its delicate, intrinsic construction. Not a farce, not a comedy—but simple, heavy drama presented in the Scilly Islands.

Critics especially recommend this three-act play because it is something entirely new, and often characterized solely for its originality of content.

Seniors who are entering most enthusiastically into the following roles are:

Esther Thomason—Mrs. Sapwell.
Homer Kreps—Rosevean.
Jerry Deal—Thegarthen.
Charles Manning—Dr. Dorset.
Orlin Vaniman—Conrad Mapleson.
Frances Bishop—Florence Mapleson.
Russell Frantz—John Starling.
Ardith Horning—Stella.
All is promising, so watch further notices concerning the Senior play of 1932.

CHORAL UNION TO GIVE "TRIAL BY JURY"

Anyone who happened to be in the basement hall last Thursday after school certainly did hear queer and peculiar sounds gushing forth from the room used by Prof. Travis. There were wild cries of "I love her," followed by a full voiced counsel, "Swear thou by jury," and then a plaintive bird-like voice muttering, "Comes the broken flower."

To a casual observer these weird callings meant little, but to the curious they signified that actual work on the Choral Union's next production of the Gilbert and Sullivan musical farce, "Trial by Jury" had actually started. The "jury," composed of Professors Haugh and Travis, were listening to one student after another as each endeavored to land a coveted place in the cast of this operetta. After listening to many, the following cast was selected:

Angelina—Edith Flory.
Edwin—Marvin Bolinger.
Judge—Vernon Heckman.
Usher—Ellsworth Replogle.
Counsel—Robert Walker.
Foreman of Jury—Russell Frantz.
Bridesmaid—Vera Mae Shafford,
Marion Steves, Alice Strate.

This is the first time that humorous, dramatic musical production has ever been produced at our college, and everyone is anticipating a splendid evening's entertainment from the Choral Union on May 12.

GIRLS PLAN HI-JINKS IN GYM THURSDAY

In foolish costume of "anything or nothing at all," the girls will hold their annual hi-jinks Thursday evening in the gym at 7:30 o'clock.

Rough and tumble games will be had for both lady-like ladies and otherwise on this occasion of masculine-free jollity. There will be a grand march after which prizes will be awarded to the girls with costumes suiting the judges' fancy.

Mrs. Anderson will conduct the fun in the gym. Then there will be things to eat in the dormitory, and a program arranged by Opal Kuns, who is the vice president of the Associated Women Students of Miller Hall.

The idea of a dormitory aftermath is quite new and it is hoped that it will prove to be as interesting as it is unique. Very few girls know about the towel-clad beauties, the romancing fireplace, the mysterious corridors that echo laughter—cruel, angelic, or otherwise—the solemn knock on the doors, of midnight escapades, or the sunbath retreat; but there are still opportunities to learn, and Thursday night is one of them.

DECLAMATION CONTEST OPEN TO STUDENTS

Southern California Intercollegiate Public Speaking Conference is sponsoring its annual Declamation Contest of Dramatic Interpretation at Whittier approximately in the middle of May.

Any man in school is eligible for this contest. The readings are 12 minutes in length, including introduction. Any LaVerne man placing first, second or third in this contest will win the regular LaVerne forensic award.

Anyone interested should see Mrs. Haugh at once.

TOPICS POSTED FOR I. R. C. TALKS WEDNESDAY

Miss Mary Lauver has posted the following suggested topics for the I. R. C. talks:

1. Japanese views of the Manchurian War.
2. Balancing the National Budget.
3. Withdrawal of American Troops from Nicaragua.
4. Stimson's Journey to the Disarmament Conference. Why?
5. Philippine Islands' Request for Independence.
6. Possibilities for the Presidential Campaign.
7. Recent German Election, and the Defeat of the Hitlerite Faction.
8. Rioting of the Unemployed.

The I. R. C. members will meet at Miller Hall for their Wednesday night program. Miss Virginia Scarisbrick is president of this newly founded orator.

STUDENT VOLUNTEERS HOLD WEEKLY MEETING

The regular meeting of the Student Volunteers was held at the home of Mineva Neher last Wednesday night. The evening was in charge of the senior members, and proved to be "just like them"—so interesting and splendid. After a number of group songs, led by Grace Brubaker, a few items of business led by President Chalmer Faw, were transacted. Vera Hoover played a beautiful piano solo, and devotions on the topic of "Stewardship" were led by Verna Cooney. Miriam Murray sang a solo, "Supplication," Chalmer Faw then gave a short talk on "The Famine of the Words of Jehovah," in which he challenged every individual to so live his life that Christ's words would never die, lest we famish for them.

The meeting was closed by singing the Doxology.

The Neher home is the display place of many lovely and interesting Chinese arts, as well as many beautiful oil paintings. It is quite an inspiration to be shown these things, and to hear the stories told. This was the privilege of the group after the meeting.

INSTALLATION OF NEW COMMISSION POSTPONED

Due to the great demand for the 10:10 period on Friday by other organizations of the school, the installation of the new student body officers has been postponed until the first week in May.

The Associated Students of LaVerne College extend their sympathy to Ray Wilkerson and family in this time of bereavement.

Dr. Brandt: "If you subtract 14 from 16, what's the difference?"
Weybright: Yeah; I think it's a lot of foolishness, too.

Y.M.C.A. PROGRAM SCORES BIG HIT

"HEY, TEACHER!" KEEPS AUDIENCE LAUGHING

Wearing a dainty blue figured voile dress, high heeled slippers and no stockings, the usual amount of undesirable make-up, including fascinating spit curls, John Heiser as the "slicker from New York" scored the biggest hit in the Y. M. annual program last Friday night when "Hey, Teacher!" a two-act farce, was presented in the college auditorium. The German professor as portrayal by Ray Wilkerson was the other outstanding character.

The first act of "Hey, Teacher!" shawed the members of the school board interviewing applicants for their school. Jerry Deal, wearing a red blouse, a black shirt, and a black hat, was miraculously changed so as to play the part of the woman school board member. Joyce Dietz, as the other lady member of the board, was a typical old maidish type with specs and the traditional shawl. The elderly gentleman of the board who was very deaf when necessary, was taken by Ronald Bessey. Bessey was hidden behind whiskers and grayed hair. Chalmer Faw, as the last member of the board, just couldn't keep his eyes off from the New York "slicker."

Bill Clinkenbeard was the first applicant, but she was rejected because of her mania for reciting poetry, and Ray Wilkerson was the one finally hired for the position.

MISS NEHER RECEIVES PARTING GIFT IN CHINA

As a parting gift upon leaving China, Miss Mineva Neher received from her friends of the church at Shon Yang a little emblem of a shield done in silver. It is set on a red velvet base in a glass case, and on it are inscribed some Chinese figures written in classic Chinese. This little gift was presented to Miss Neher at a farewell meeting, because of her faithfulness and kindness to the Chinese people with whom she was working. With this gift there was a red paper containing the names of all the contributors.

REV. PALMER SPEAKS IN TUESDAY CHAPEL

Students in chapel Tuesday enjoyed an interesting lecture by Rev. Dr. Gordon Palmer of the First Baptist church in Pomona. Dr. Palmer addressed the students on the solution to the three major problems that face us today, namely: Law, War and Crime.

In regard to law observance he said that liberty ends where Christian brotherhood begins. We are free to act within the bounds of Christian fellowship.

War and crime go hand in hand. From the standpoint of both, human life is cheap. Cash and money are put ahead of mankind, and power ahead of personality. Man, manhood and personality, says Dr. Palmer, are the most valuable things in life, and until this is realized there will be no prevention of war and crime.

In conclusion he stated that what this country needs is a new loyalty to ideals, and a new conception of manhood and womanhood.

LANDINGS OF SATISFACTION

In our climb up life's stairway we often times reach what we think is the top step. We may think that graduating from college, tucking a sheepskin under our arm and telling the world to look out, "Here Us Comes," is just about the top step. It isn't; it is only one of the first landings and there are flights of stairs on ahead of us. When we reach that landing it is time to stop and look back. If you think your climb has been all glory just feel that bump on your shin where you fell on the step and bumped it. You got a little vain in your own strength, swelled your chest and couldn't see the stairs. See that scarred place on your toe. You got a little weary and tired. Your foot dragged a little and bang, you stubbed your toe on the step of despondency. Feel that dirt and grime on your face. Do you remember the time you were just starting to college and you got faint-hearted, or the time you decided it wasn't worth going on in anything? You turned around and started back. Just as you reached the bottom step a gust of windy passion came along and splattered the filth and grime of the world all over you. Look at your hands. They are smeared with the filth from the bannister. Remember how anxious you were to speed up and you tried to pull yourself up by something else than your own convictions.

Turn around now and look up on the flights of stairs. See, they are long and steep, and there are places where you fell before waiting for you to come along again. It is long, steep, and you are tired. Look, there on your right, on this landing, is a handy and inviting seat. Why go on? Wait, there at the bottom of the seat something is written. It is "The Seat of Self-Satisfaction." Should be stop here? Think! As you gaze up the long flights with a new desire to reach the top you seem to see a little further than you did before. There, far up at the top, beyond landing after landing, there is a soft glow. It is the glow of the knowledge of a job well done. It is the glow of the Master's face when he says, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant. Enter thou into the joys of my kingdom."

Is it worth while to go on? Certainly, we do not have to make the same mistakes. Look back and see why you made them and then look ahead with determination not to make them again.

College is one of the first landings in our trip through life. We cannot rest in the seat of self-satisfaction of graduation. We must keep our eyes fixed on the goal ahead. Let us watch our steps, and continue up the stairway of life.

"Still pursuing, still achieving,
Learn to labor and to wait."

A MEDLEY OF TYPES

From the State Aztec

Probably nothing is more characteristic of the imitative childishness of most State College students than the fear of being different. A new idea, a startling originality, is anathema. The tendency is to remain at everyone else's level, not to create or establish a level of one's own.

Colorful individuals are a joy to whom existence is something more than routine. But how rare they are! The majority accept their ideals ready-made, pick up current catch-phrases as their conversational basis, and limit their outlook to clothes, parties, and small talk. Rarely do they get beyond the shallow waters of daily life. If by any miracle a stray new thought enters their heads, it is promptly suppressed through lack of intellectual courage. Conversely, the usual personality is looked on askance as more suitable for side-shows than the human scene.

In this college, one must seek, if you are hunting with Diogenes' lantern, elsewhere than the social fraternities and popular students if the rare, higher types are to be found. Their function, whatever it may be, is certainly not the development of restless spirits who sense the underlying mystery of life.

True, it will be held that the university is helpless, and that the sorry work of individual maladjustment was completed long before the student came to the campus. True, the burden of the blame rests with the stupidities that have shaped "Mr. Average Student" since he first saw the light of day.

But is this not true, that the university, where the highest enlightenment is in process, have done little or nothing to chart new educational channels, liberating man from social taboos that dominate his very conscious existence.

Why start a new day with yesterday's shadows? This college blight of "Mr. Average" should be disembalanced, unbandaged, and dissected piece by piece and some of the more harmful bones taken out and supplanted by a new outlook and rational judgment.

But as the Higher Powers have not conferred on men the gift of seeing themselves in their true light, probably this unfortunate element of too many Babbits and too few Leaders will be a perennial college disease.

CAMPUS SLANG

AN EDUCATION

A dignified elderly gentleman was walking with Dean Hoover on the LaVerne College campus. He passed many groups of young people who were talking about Econ, Zoo, Chem and Psych.

"These Econ, Zoo, Chem and Psych are very popular young people, are they not," asked the man.

"I do not think so," replied Dean Hoover. "You should listen more closely and you would soon change your mind."

So the visitor stopped near one of the groups.

"Well," he heard a student say, "if that grandmother's uncle thinks I'm going to cram for that chem exam he better thing again."

"Yea, but those apple polishers in econ sure slicker through without any trouble."

"How about in zoo? They are so cracked they don't know what the score is."

"Psych, too. They ask if they're supposed to run a temperature when an assignment is given."

"Hey, you guys, scram," interrupted a voice. "This is my crate."

"Two of a kind if this is your infant."

"Say, who do you think you are, round-head?"

"Now, pansy. Don't call me names or I'll fix you so your mother won't know you."

"Ah, go jump in a couple of lakes, I'm shoving off."

"Mr. Hoover, what language do these students talk?" asked the visitor. "I do not understand what they are saying. But here are some girls. Maybe I could interpret them."

"Gosh, Sue," said one. "Isn't that a spiffy car?"

"Hot Socks! I'll say. But look at that swelegant one over there."

"Gee, some of them sure slay a person, don't they?"

"Well, I've got to get going now. Bye, I'll be seeing."

"For crying in a handkerchief. She sure left in a hurry. Guess I'll go too. So-long."

"Mr. Hoover," finally said the visitor, "I certainly have enjoyed visiting this spiffy school, but now I must get going before I become slayed by the college slang and begin talking it myself."

Ed O. (to gas station operator): "Which gas is the cheapest, the red or the white?"

Operator: "The white."

Ed O.: "Is that the whitest you have?"

SPASMETTES

With three of next year's commissioners wearing the same kind of sweaters, it seems that we ought to have a uniform for the entire set of officials. I think a band master's fur derby, a Spanish shawl, and a grass skirt would be cute.

Another illusion has been shattered. For years I have always thought that the groups of debaters in Pershing Square were spontaneous gatherings, motivated only by their idea to exchange ideas. After listening to them, it seems the same group of men gather every evening, to start some far-fetched discussion about economics, or religion, or something else equally absurd. Loiterers drawn into the discussion are pounced upon by the group and severely squelched.

One individual who looked like a reformed Shakespearean tragedian seemed to be the instigator of the discussions, and would circulate in each group asking pertinent questions with the air of a revolutionist.

His conversation with a flowsey, barfly crony indicated that he had been going to some Theosophate lectures and in the opinion of his pals, "he sure was slipping."

A robust, strident voiced joker took great delight in antagonizing a lank, Adam's-apple-ish Kansas convert of Brother Tom. The hell fire and brimstone "Kansas" heaped upon the heads of the damned were laughed contemptuously away by his loud-mouthed antagonized.

To every religious argument there was a sturdy Swede who furnished the Greek chorus effect by standing directly in front of the Godless one and in an unargumentative monotone repeated, "I too was a sinner like you once. I smoke, I drink, I swear. I too was a sinner like you once."

SLAPSTICK POPULAR

Slapstick comedy on the pie-slinging style is the type of motion picture favored by the classes as well as the masses.

Early returns on a poll conducted by the Association of Motion Picture Producers, headed by Will Hays, has revealed that as the most surprising development of picture preference in recent years.

Slapstick comedy is the first choice of a majority of voters. Second choice goes to "thrill pictures" based upon mystery plays and detective stories, and third choice is for adventure films and stirring yarns of the wide open spaces.

SPORT GOSSIP

by EDE

After many postponements, the annual faculty-senior horseshoe tournament will (we hope) be over with. Then the problem will be to find the cup to award.

We hope that all the fellows who missed the passes in touch-tackle games, will get all the misses out of their systems now. (Coach says he means both kinds.)

Seemed to me that Peewee's passing looked mighty good, and with spring practice a week away, I'm thinking they'll be doing something about it.

Not to change the subject, but just to shift to track—

Max has been throwing the shot consistently over 41 feet. Whatever training Max is doing should be encouraged.

Bert Jones has been taking a few light work-outs and broken jaw or not, he hopes to be out for the conference meet. (Anyway, from what I've heard, broken jaws should only bother women.)

There's a scarcity of track news due to scarcity of track men out this past week. There's talk around that if the girls would take a rest, the fellows to get out to practice once in a while, anyway.

We have a potential 880 man in Sammy Rothrock and a miler in Harshbarger, both of whom have been training for these events.

No matter when you look, Myer is running a 2-mile. Wonder if he ever gets tired. He ran it in 11 min. 14 sec., which is very good considering the condition of the track.

HE WHO GETS SAT ON

He made a run around the end, Was tackled from the rear; The right guard sat upon his neck, The fullback on his ear; The center sat upon his back; Two ends upon his chest. BERT JONES ELECTED VARSITY TRACK CAPTAIN

"Bert" Jones, star track man, football man, basket ball man, swimming man, and otherwise an all around athlete, was elected captain of the varsity track team Monday afternoon, after the track picture had been taken. Bert, who has been laid up with a broken jaw, is out in a suit and training for the various sprints and the low and high hurdles.

"Peanuts" Roberts, the frosh star miler and 880 man, was elected captain of the Freshman track team. The Freshmen have a good track squad this year and they should be able to collect some points in the conference meet. Roberts is an able man to lead them and see that they keep in training.

L. V. SWIMMING TEAM SHOWS GOOD MATERIAL

Next Thursday afternoon at 3:30 at Chaffey plunge, LaVerne will have its first swimming meet of this year. The various swimming men have been practicing at the Y. M. C. A. plunge in Pomona, and as yet there are no definite ideas as to the times they have made in the various distances. Jones, the star swimmer of the Leopard team, will not be able to take part, due to his injured jaw.

Ronald Williams will enter in the 880 yard swim, and Bessey in the 440 and the relay.

"Hobbs" Adams, who was in the San Bernardino Junior College team, is LaVerne's best bet in the 50 yard, the 100 yard and the 880 yard. Allen and Stern will also enter in the 880 yard. Maley will enter the 410 yard and relay.

Welty will be in the relay, and possibly other events.

LaVerne will be weak in the diving events, as there are no expert divers on the squad.

JUNIORS WIN INTER-CLASS PASSBALL TITLE

Monday afternoon the Juniors defeated the Sophomores, 12 to 6, to win the passball interclass games. The Sophomores were short several men, or the outcome might have been different. It was hard to tell whether they were a bunch of debaters or football players, as there was so much arguing with Eisan, the referee, and between the various players. Due to the passing ability of "Peewee" and the snagging of these passes by Snell and Forney, the Juniors were able to collect two touchdowns. The Sophomores made a touchdown when Brownsberger snagged a beautiful pass.

The Juniors also defeated the Seniors 12 to 6 and the Freshmen by the same score.

The Sophomores also defeated the Freshmen and the Seniors forfeited to them.

CONFERENCE DUAL MEET CINCHED BY OCCIDENTAL

Coming as an expectation rather than a disappointment, San Diego State's track and field team went down to defeat at the hands of the Occidental Tigers to the tune of 98 to 42 in a conference meet held at the Aztec oval last Saturday afternoon. The Bengals swept all places in five events and scored a total of 10 firsts. Two Aztec records went by the board, and State managed to answer Coach Peterson's prayer by holding the Tigers below 100 markers.

The summary:

100 yard dash—Won by Belman (O); second, Powell (O); third, Jones (S). Time, :10.

120 yard high hurdles—Won by Meeks (O); second, Johnson (O); third, Kelly (O). Time, :15.4.

L. V. C. SWIMMING TEAM TO MEET CHAFFEY J. C.

The L. V. C. swimming team is scheduled to meet Chaffey J. C. at 3:30 p. m. next Thursday in the first practice meet of the season. There is a possibility that Jones will be able to compete by Thursday, and if so, the team will be strengthened considerably.

The relay team looks good, and should make a fair showing this season. This team is composed of Adams, Welty, Bessey, Maley, and Jones who will alternate with either Bessey or Maley. In the sprints Adams, Welty and Jones will be the mainstays. Ohanesian, Maley and Allen will compete in the quarter mile, while Welty and Williams are entered in the breast stroke. The team is badly in need of divers and anyone interested in diving should report to Dick Maley.

The squad is also practicing life saving which will enable them to pass the professional life guard examinations. The fellows out for the team have not had long to practice yet, but are now putting in about an hour and a half a day at the Pomona Y. M. C. A. pool and expect to be in good shape before the conference meet.

Although not yet scheduled for certain, the team is expecting a meet with Pomona College, San Bernardino J. C. and Chaffey J. C. some time next week.

CHAFFEY DEFEATS L. V. BASEBALL TEAM 9-3

Last Friday afternoon the LaVerne baseball team went to Chaffey Junior College, at Chaffey, where they were defeated 9 to 3.

Due to the many errors made by the Leopard squad, the Chaffey team was able to make the circuit of the bases without much trouble. Also due to the pitching ability of Chaffey's left-handed pitcher, the LaVerne team was unable to collect many runs, until another man was put in his place and three runs were made. Stern was able to collect a single and Bessey a double.

As there are no conference baseball teams this year, there are no letters being given, and these fellows are to be praised for putting in their time at practice.

Dean Hoover: And what's your ambition, Chuck?

Chuck: "I ain't got any. I just want to be vice-president."

Frazer (O). Distance, 22 feet 7 1/2 inches.

Javelin—Won by Mosolf (S); second, Forbes (O); third, Snedden (O). Distance 184 feet 1/2 inch.

Final score: Occidental -98, San Diego 42.

CO-EDS END SEASON IN EXCITING GAME

Last Friday night the LaVerne Co-eds played their last game in the Civic League series which has covered a period of several months. The defeat at the hands of the Presbyterians coming only after a hard and valiant fight put LaVerne in third place and the Presbyterians second. At the half the score stood 13 to 13 and at the beginning of the fourth quarter LaVerne was leading 25 to 21. In the last few minutes of play the Presbyterians rallied to win, 28 to 25.

The first three places in the Civic League were won by:

First—Covina.

Second—Presbyterians.

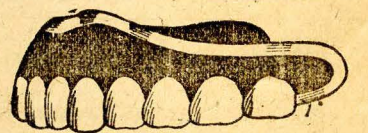

Third—LaVerne.

LaVerne was tied with the Presbyterians for second place, but because they were beaten in their last game they have to be satisfied with third.

As a final event in the Civic League for this year, a banquet was held Tuesday night at the Y. Here all the members of the six participating teams gathered for a last good time together. Rewards were made to the members of the winning team.

The members of this year's Co-ed team were: forwards, Frances Nix, Edith Eisan, Molly Warrington; centers, Elice Strate, Elizabeth Lehman; guards, Edith Roberts, Kathryn Blickenstaff, Fern Rule and Mirim Dickey. This team was ably coached by Ronald Bessey.

Each member of the team will receive fifteen points toward winning their letter in W. A. A.

CHARACTER FIRST IN CHOICE OF BOY FRIEND

By Helen Semerai

Do girls prefer the popular, good looking youth with a car (as is so often insinuated) to the conscientious, ambitious youth? No!

Boys! Cars, good looks and popularity won't win you the affection of your prospective girl friend. At least the statistics gathered from a variable group of 50 co-eds claim them to be but minor details in the requirements of a boy friend. Apparently the youth with the "swanky" car hasn't any more chance than the fellow who does his family dozen on his own two feet. However, the girls, after serious thought, checked character as the most important item in their make-up, with sincerity a close second (likely they're tired of being fooled). Next in importance came ambition and ability, two essentials necessary for achievement. Personal appearance, not to be neglected, made its bow in fifth place, completing the fundamentals of a pretty fine individual.

So far only five of the 10 items have been considered. Nevertheless the last half might be worth thinking about; as they are sometimes said to be the cause of So-and-So going with Such-and-Such boys! If all in sight be truth, well—there isn't a reason in the world why you shouldn't win your fair maiden's heart. Bury your fears, standing of family in community, popularity, good looks, athletic ability, and the possession of a car, respectively, form the last half, or the least important factors, in the choosing of a boy friend, according to the fair co-eds.

The boys insisted the girls need not depend upon family position (as it is sometimes supposed) or popularity to win their way into the hearts of their secret desire as these terminated the list of requirements checked by some 50 youths. Character in the girls was wholeheartedly considered the most desired trait, with truthfulness and cleanliness (remember cleanliness is next to Godliness) following closely. Poise and cleverness completed the first half of the supposedly True Confessions of the boys. Bang! Good looks next claimed their attention, proving boys go further than face value (it being rated sixth) when "girl hunting." Womanly charms and their ability to be good sports followed, with popularity and family position bringing up the end.

The list in order of decreasing follows:

Women Desire—

1. Character 1.30
2. Sincerity 2.70
3. Ambition 3.24
4. Ability 4.15
5. Personal appearance 4.78
6. Standing of parents 7.10
7. Popularity 7.13
8. Good looks 7.72
9. Athletic ability 7.93
10. Car (possession) 9.30

Men Desire—

1. Character 1.31
2. Truthfulness 3.31
3. Cleanliness 3.63
4. Poise 5.40
5. Cleverness 5.24
6. Good looks 5.73
7. Womanliness 5.90
8. Sportiness 6.04
9. Popularity 9.10
10. Family position 9.21

GIRLS ENTERTAIN WITH NOVEL SLUMBER PARTY

Everlyn Deardorff, Virginia Stern and Roberta Sellers were hostesses at a slumber party last Friday night at their home.

After the program the girls gathered for fun and inspiration—yes, and sleep! During the evening the girls wrote letters to the members of "the old gang" who are not attending LaVerne this year, and appreciation notes to the girls present.

About midnight refreshments of punch and cheese delights were served, after which the short story, "The Heart of the Rose," was read. Then everyone settled down to sweet dreams.

At six o'clock everyone was up, or made to get up, pictures were taken, and breakfast served.

Those attending were Harriet Hoke, Esther Statler, Dorothy Page, Frances Horner, Evelyn Edmister, Gertrude Leonard, Grace Gans, Anita Bowman, Arnelia Brubaker, Evelyn Wine, Fern Rule, Lena Mae Ross, Jennie Werkman, and the hostesses, Evelyn Deardorff, Virginia Stern, and Roberta Sellers.

Y. M. PROGRAM

The second act showed the first day of school with the new German professor at the desk. The members of the class did the usual thing and caused the poor old German professor to almost give up the ghost. Leslie DeHart, Johnny Booth, Charles Snell, John Dickey, Elvin Wilson, Red Montgomery, Harold Hylton, George Weybright, Jerry Harshbarger, Max Forney and Shorty Howell were the school children.

As a special feature, the "Two and a half Jeers" from Pomona Junior College entertained between acts. The college orchestra under the direction of Howard Greene, the "Bennie and Izzy" act of Vernon Heckman and Elwin White, a saxophone solo by Russell Frantz, and a reading by Vernon Heckman also entertained the audience between acts.

You can't prove it by geometry, but most love triangles turn out to be "wreck-tangles."—Lodi Flame.
