LAVERNE STUDENT GIVEN HONOR ROLL

Member of Clarion Four Chosen from Twenty-five Colleges in Committee of Five

Howard Hoff was just recently elected to be a member of the field council of the annual Asilomar Conference. This committee is composed of five delegates from the twenty-five colleges in the Western States and Hawaii. The council met in Sacramento last Friday and will continue to meet quite often in preparation for the conference next Christmas.

"Howdy" was chosen from a large number of fellows from all the colleges and universities represented at the conference. His position as a member of the Clarion Four made it possible for him to be a candidate for the choice. This is a distinct honor for him and is a credit to La Verne to be represented in the place of, perhaps, a university. The other members of the council are:

Bob Kerr, U. C. S. A., president; Leonard Wilbur, Stanford, secretary (Son of U. S. Secretary of the Navy); Fred Seibert, Nevada; Howard Hoff, LaVerne; "Ed" Rich, N. C.; Howard Schaeffer, New Mexico; "Dick" Hall, Arizona; Katagiri, U. of Hawaii; "Chuck" Schwieso, Cal. Tech. (Student-secretary representative); "Ted" Colman, Cal. Tech., alumni representative; Kawais, Stanford, foreign student representative; and Los Angeles city representative.

GLEE CLUB APPEARS WITH GREAT CLASS

When the College Glee Club makes its debut of the year in a series of programs that are planned, it will do so attired in all the class which uniform dress suits can afford. The club, which is composed of about 25 musically inclined fellows of the school, under the direction of Prof. B. S. Haugh, is being equipped with that number of tuxedos. This will immeasurably beautify each appearance in a way that only uniform dress can do.

The first date is not definitely decided as yet but will probably be within the next month. A full evening's program is being prepared, ranging from choruses to solos and readings. Prof. Haugh is quite confident that he has an organization that will do the school credit.

Within Recent Years

A Bank has come, more and more, to be considered in the light of a public utility. The day of the Bank as a close enterprise, sacred to advising and serving a chosen few, has gone the way of other days.

Whether you seek a definite financial service or just plain advice, it is the desire of the Farmers and Merchants to be broadly helpful in its contact with you.

COMMERCIAL SAVINGS

College students and friends were again called upon to extend deep sympathy to the family of Mr. John Larimer, veteran citizen of LaVerne, upon his death, which occurred rather suddenly on February 12th. There are three children who have united the family closely to the interests of the College: Alida Larimer Harper, graduated last year; Gladys Larimer, who is now a Senior; Johnny, an academy student last year, but who is now in Bonita High.

Mr. Larimer passed away after little more than a day's illness from an attack of an infirmity which had ailed him for years. Funeral services were held in the Church of the Brethren here at LaVerne on Monday afternoon.

Grow old along with me!
The best is yet to be,
The last of life, for which the first was made.
Our times are in his hand
Who saith, "A whole I planned;
Youth shows but half; trust God;
see all, nor be afraid."
—Robert Browning.

STRUCTURE OF MATTER CHAPEL TALK

"All Material Organisms of Universe Unable to Conceive the Meaneast Thought of Man"

Professor J. C. Brandt, head of the Mathematics Department of the College, spoke in chapel last Tuesday on the thoroughly up-to-the-minute problem, the modern theory of the structure of matter. Prof. Brandt says everyone possessing a college education should have a general notion of this problem.

Besides giving a very clear and condensed lecture on the unfathomable subject, he concluded with the thought that the more one goes into the scientific study of the universe, the more does one turn to a supreme being as the ultimate explanation of existence. Matter can never account for mind. How can the materials which obey laws conceive of the laws which they obey? The realms of thought and of matter are as far apart as the east is from the west. Man is infinitely greater than the universe.

"Nothing I have ever seen has led me to believe that the natural result of disorder is order, or of discord is harmony. Beauty does not come from the more, nor goodness from the dregs of life."

Professor Cullen is already afflicted with spring fever. He gave a sociology class their first surprise test of the semester the other day.

LAVERNE BEATS U. OF R. IN FAST GAME

FROSH WIN PRELIMINARY GAME

Two Victories Over University of Redlands in Week Elevate La Verne's Conference Standing

The LaVerne College basketball cagers have added another scalp to their heavily burdened belt. On Friday, the 19th inst., in the LaVerne Gym, the Redlands University dropped a fast and exciting game to the local Leopards by a score of 37-27.

The game was thrilling and close all the way through up until the last few minutes of play, when the Leopards took a ten-point lead and kept it till the final whistle.

Capt. Lehmer, with the aid of his four stars, co-operating in a good fashion, showed the fans and the Redlands team how basketball should be played. Lehmer, by reason of this game, raised his point total for the season by 16 points. This was four more points than Kreps found time to shoot, which gave him second high point honors for the evening. Capt. Hosegood, of Redlands, was the visiting high point man, with ten points to his credit. He played in a sensational manner, sometimes taking the ball from center and scoring direct.

Chet Shirk played an excellent game at guard in spite of a badly turned ankle. By his close defense he nipped many a Bull Dog rush in the bud. John Brooks played his usual good, steady game at guard and annexing a couple of points when in a pinch. Ivan Betts was playing the floor well but fell somewhat under par in his basket shooting.

Bell, playing forward for the visitors, was the most dangerous man on the floor, and only very careful guarding kept him from running up a high score.

Kittens Win Preliminary

The preliminary game was played by the Frosh teams of both schools, the Leopard Kittens winning from the Bull Pups by a 21 to 14 score. This was their revenge game for the defeat that had been handed to them the previous week.

A Very Recent Picture

College Auditorium

Saturday Night February 27th

The LaVerne College inmates are going to celebrate the birthday of one who never told a lie—that is, a lie that anyone ever found out, or big enough to hurt his conscience so that he would have to admit that it was a lie. Of course he told fibs, such as admitting he liked his wife's new hat, or telling the iceman that he didn't have the spare change on hand to pay his last month's bill. But those prevarications don't count in the history of a militarist.

We celebrate his birthday because he chopped down a cherry tree, crossed the Delaware, and delivered his farewell address, but this took up a comparatively small part of his life. What was he doing the rest of the time?

One may judge this, from the way celebrate his birthday. The LaVerne College student body and faculty are going on their annual picnic to Balboa Palisades, to spend the day in great merry-making and rollicking. We do this to celebrate the fact that this man, Washington, set his country free. We can be merry in this freedom, for now, thanks to the Lords of America, we still have one-tenth of that freedom left. —R. M.

LAVERNE PROFESSOR HAS ARTICLE PUBLISHED

Prof. Kevorak Sarafian, instructor in languages at the College, was given distinguished honor by the publication of one of his articles in the Education Magazine for February. He wrote on "The Teaching of French in the Elementary Schools," an article covering about fifteen pages.

JUNIORS CHOOSE CLASS PLAYS

Rumbling and buzzing are breaking in upon the quiet of school life here for the bees are giving warning that they are soon going to swarm. The Junior hive has already selected its three one-act plays, "Lima Beans," "Sauce for the Gosling," and "Dust of the Road." As soon as the characters are selected, a general bustle of activity will ensue, culminating in a first-rate production under the able coaching of Mrs. Haugh.

For the first time in the history of LaVerne College an automaton play, "Lima Beans," will be given.

Claude Bowman has been elected treasurer of the Junior Class to replace Ralph Shrock, who is not in school this semester.

The "Bozos" gave a very interesting program in chapel on Friday in return for the "Spare Rib" program given a couple of weeks ago. It was a "radio program." The radio was visible but the broadcasting station was behind the curtain.

CLARION FOUR CONTINUE WINNING HONORS

Lyric Club and Deputation Teams Start Extensive Programs in Southern California Churches

The College Lyric Club, under direction of Prof. B. S. Haugh, has just begun a program of out-of-town presentations which will probably continue far into the spring. So far, programs have been given in Long Beach and Inglewood. Next Thursday evening, a program will be given in Glendora.

All of these programs are in the home churches, but the club is prepared to render secular as well as religious programs. With a few exceptions, the evening renditions are composed of both.

The Clarion Four

LaVerne's popular quartet has just fulfilled two honorary dates. Over last week-end they went to Sacramento to lead the program of the Northern California Older Boys (Hi-Y) Conference. Their success was measured by the fact that they, upon their last appearance, were given a five-minute salute by the six hundred high school delegates—the longest of any who appeared on the program. They met one of the justices of the Supreme Court, who told them that he was downright ashamed of himself that he had not previously known of LaVerne College, and informed them that they had done $2,000 worth of advertising for the College in that appearance.

Y. W. OFFICERS ELECTED FOR NEXT YEAR

Y. W. C. A. officers for next year were elected on Monday, the 15th inst. Previous to this time, nominations had been posted for consideration, and on Monday during the regular Y. W. C. A. period, campaign speeches were made. Each manager presented her candidate and appealed to the good judgment of the girls by suggesting that they vote for their particular nominee. At noon the polls were open for an hour and the following is the result:

President—Nellie Frantz
Vice-President—Ramah Maust
Secretary—Ruth Stoner
Treasurer—Verna Shirk
Faculty Advisor—Mrs. Ray Cullen
Verda Brubaker was elected undergraduate representative to attend the summer conference at Asilomar.

Sending Valentines With A Living Heart

The "Y" girls have expressed the true spirit of St. Valentine in their beautiful custom of exchanging notes of appreciation on that day. History is a little vague about the saint, but we know that he was a kindly bishop who ministered to his neighbors. The world can stand more of the kind of ministry which goes on through the heart-bespattered valentine box in the "Y" room.

The girls of LaVerne rub shoulders continually but they seldom get a straight look into each others' hearts. It is on Valentine's day that each is given a golden opportunity to tell another, or a dozen others, just why it is good that they are alive. There are certain indigo days when it's easy to think one is not worth the snap of her fingers, much less the price for college education. At such a time a bunch of sweet appreciation will lift her to the splendid plane of self-confidence again. College has its share of the knocks of the world. If one listens to them it is quite natural to think that there is little good in anyone or anything. Such an attitude is opposed to the very purpose of a College. Comparatively few students make a practice of patting themselves on the back, but everyone is used to getting knocked on the back. Why shouldn't we change the order for just one day at least. St. Valentine's Day gives us a specific chance to have a heart.

This day has too long been celebrated in a mechanical sort of way. Valentines have even been given in forms of mechanical toys. If the spirit of good will and love can be expressed by that sort of valentine, well and good. But the girls of LaVerne have found that an informal note of appreciation and respect has a warmer tone and a greater message of cheer and inspiration than all the valentines in the world with pasted hearts. —N. Editor-in-Chief, Campus Times:

... Are you sorry now that you have come to LaVerne? I am sure that you are not and I hope that you will learn to love her as much as we who have left her old halls.

I would be mighty glad to step into the old chapel some morning and tell the students what I am sending to you in written form. (This was a "quite lengthy epistle on one of the many experiences" he has been having in the Chinese rebellion. It is as interesting as any story, and is posted in the library so that the students might read it.)

Will be glad for a line from you. We enjoy the Campus Times so much and look forward to its coming. Keep it the pride of the school and I am sure you will get great pleasure out of making it even greater than that. Here's success to you. Tell the fellows hello for me. As ever, your friend.

Credit Where Credit Is Due

The editor of any school paper has a varied lot of opposition to contend with.

There are often circumstances which make unwise the publication of material that would improve the paper.

There are the trials and tribulations of editorship—the delinquency of articles handed in which often compels him to write them himself and suffer the blame for hasty composition.

There is the condemnation which comes from a hundred and one different kinds of mistakes which certain ones do not like. Even to the writing of editorials—the ones that are honestly aimed at a known fault are often unmercifully criticized with every imaginable adjective.

But these are expected. The editor is placed on the job to succeed and the least failing must be taken as medicine. He has no excuse, for he was expected to make good, and people cannot, and never have, realized the difficulties of the job. It would take an iron man not to feel the sting and spend many discouraged hours over the inconsiderate attacks. But if he survives temperamentally whole and in good grace, his experience will have been of incalculable value to him. That, perhaps, furnishes the incentive.

But there often comes criticism which an editor can, with wholly righteous indignation, refute. Just now there is some feeling that the Clarion Four have been receiving too much prominence on the front page. "About all the news any more is about the quartette," quoting literally. Well, at any rate it is NEWS. Let this also be known: As long as the fellows continue to bring the glory to La Verne they are now bringing, their name will receive plenty of prominence on the news page. We continue to write up athletic achievements to the pleasure of the reader. It's a question which two groups advertise La Verne the more. Furthermore, let us paragraph this fact:

This publicity is not alone for the advertisement of the quartette, but to let others know through The Campus Times that LaVerne College is the academic home of the Clarion Four. You see, it helps further to advertise the College.

Chapel Chimes

It is a tragedy to grow old but a blessing to grow older.

Some people of sixty-five have minds of fifteen. Youth is the time when habits are locked in the nervous system.

It would be a shame to have some habits locked in one's nervous system throughout life. I may not be able to run faster than a youth, but I can think faster. That's the beauty of growing older.

Dr. Hoover.

Everyone ought to know how to work and to earn money. Some day you will probably be obliged to.

We need the practical side of life along with our studies.

Learn how to spend as well as how to save.

Dr. Shirk.

Few students know how to study. A few simple rules will enable one to get lessons quicker and better and with more leisure time. Here are the rules:

1. Map out a schedule for studying.
2. Stick to it.
3. Concentrate.
4. Correlate previous with present lesson.
5. Get the main points in a hurried reading.
6. Get the minor points in a thorough reading.
7. Close the book and repeat to yourself.

THE SPARE RIB

VOLUME I

THE ORIGINAL SPARE RIB

Once there was a man who lived all alone;

All alone on a beautiful isle.

There was nary a soul to comfort him,

Though he searched a weary mile.

As he sat by his fire in the evening glow

His thoughts afar did roam.

"If I only had a wife," said he,
"This sure would be home, sweet home."

"Why not?" said a voice close to his ear;

"What would you give for a bride?"

The man was startled, no one could he see,

Though the voice seemed near his side.

"What would you give for a bride?" came again

As he sat alone by his fire.

"I'd give—ah, me!—I'd give a rib,
For that's all I have to spare.

So the man fell into a deep, deep sleep.

Into a deep, deep sleep fell he,

And when he awake, there by his side

Was his spare rib, his beautiful Eve.

Adam had a little rib

Which bothered him one day,

And so he had it taken out
Without much more delay.

Then Adam sat upon the grass—
Soon rocked himself to sleep.

The bone, a woman, Eve, it turned,
And started then to speak.

Adam, outclassed from the start,
Could not make this "Rib" pause.

The college women saw her power
And soon took up her cause.

They did the college men as Eve
Had to poor Adam done.

They signed for Annuals by the peck
And beat the men, by gum!

Adam had a little rib,
And while that rib is here,

It feels assured that it can help
"Orange Blossom" bloom this year.

EDITORIAL

"Spare Ribs"—it has a good sound; the very words set well between the teeth. And consider their lofty connotation, the wealth of meaning lying back of them. They bring to mind the noble and ancient line that has been proud to claim the title from Eve to Mary Pickford and Miriam Shirk of modern times, with Cleopatra and Helen of Troy sprinkled in between. And again—Spare Ribs. Well, it means stern stuff. Think of our grand forefathers of pioneer days. They ate spare ribs and depended on them to furnish brawn and brain. We can see them feasting comfortably in the old log cabin, and perhaps the next instant being called upon to tomahawk a stray savage with a rib which they had to spare. Yes, the order has a good background. But what will it do with a task like financing the annual? The answer is simple. Money will stick to the Ribs like our grandmothers used to tell us oatmeal porridge and sausage would.

She was so dumb when she came to college, she thought Joan de Arc was the Eve of the French Revolution.

Dear Old Pal:

I promised to write to you when anything special happened. Well, the newest movement at the college is the organization of the Order of Spare Ribs. The girls and boys are each putting on a program and of course the girls were the first to organize. I am one of the main ones in the organization, as I usually am in everything. Now don't think I'm bragging on myself, but I really don't

When the boys found out our name, they said they were going to call themselves rib-crushers. I asked one of the boys why they chose that name. Well, you know how innocent I am. He answered that he could show me better than he could tell me, and he put his arm around me and squeezed me something awful. I sure did blush. I asked several other boys after that, just for fun, but they just laughed and walked away. It's chapel time, so I must close. Love from me to you.

NELLIE FRANTZ, EDITOR

Dr. J. B. Emmert, who represented LaVerne College at the annual meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Bethany Bible School, held at Chicago on February 9th, returned to his classes last Saturday.

The Bethany Bible School is a seminary and training school of the Church of the Brethren, and this meeting was held to discuss and consider the general affairs of the college. On his trip he had an interesting talk with Miss Susan Stoner, who graduated from LaVerne and is now a student at Bethany. She made eager inquiries about everything concerning LaVerne and the students.

FAITH! YE WILL BE HAVING A JOLLY OLD "IRISH" TIME!

An "Irish Party!" With folks dressed in an "Irish way"—talking in an "Irish way"—hearing and telling "Irish jokes." Begorry, it would be fun! Play "Irish games," eat "Irish things," such as Frasher's can tell and help you to fix. Frasher's party department in Pomona is fairly bubbly over with jolly things of "Dublin." Wriggling snakes of every hue! Dull little gray and green paper ones. Wiggly rubber ones; soft little cotton ones; springing wire ones; great large jointed ones, so real and life-like! Jumping frogs and everything the like of which the good Saint Patrick banished from the beautiful Isle of Ireland. Then too there are "Potato" and "Patty's Pig" filler boxes, castle favors, shamrocks for menus or the Irish dance program. Gay colleen and Pat's party hats; tall green candles. In fact, Frasher's have EVERYTHING needed to make the affair a grand success from the time you send the dainty little "Harp" or jolly "Hat" invitations till the last Irish game is played.

MINGLED EMOTIONS

It has been discovered that it takes only one two-hundred and twenty-third part of a cent's worth of ink to write a million-dollar check. It takes practically the same amount to explain why elephants are unable to swim as rapidly as sharks.

FAREWELL LUNCHEON

On Wednesday, February 17th, Florence Landis, president of the Y. W. C. A., gave a delightful luncheon for the members of her cabinet in appreciation of their work during the past year. The innocent cabinet went to her home for a business meeting and found itself unexpectedly at a party. While the delicious refreshments were being served, problems and plans were discussed and the real meaning of the "Y" was brought home to every girl. They left after a jolly time together, with a warm glow in their hearts for the president and the work she represents.

Y. W. DISCUSSION GROUP

Members of the Y. W. C. A. met in the parlor of the Girls' Dormitory on Wednesday, February 10th, for a discussion group and friendly social hour. Mrs. Shaffer led thinking along lines of the opportunity of married women, and out of her experience presented helpful ideals. Women have come into their own and it is inspiring to know that their field for service is unlimited. The evening was concluded with refreshments and a song.

DEPUTATION TEAM

The Southern California Deputation Team of LaVerne College, composed of the quartet—Zafon Hartman, Mark Lehmer, Claude Bowman and Paul Blocher—with Ramah Maust and Sarah Yoon, will begin their schedule February 21st at the Inglewood Church, in the morning service, and in the evening at Glendora. They will cover seventeen churches and will give their program at two churches on the same day.

WHO'S WHO IN LAVERNE

Mark Lehmer

Mark Lehmer, '28, is captain of the varsity basketball team. In his senior year at Lincoln High School, he was All-City forward in the Los Angeles High School League. Last year he made the first team when a freshman and was chosen to lead this year's squad. He is high point man of the season. To date, after playing games, he has made a total of points, or points per game.

Mark is not only a star athlete in basketball, but in every other sport. He has played end on the football team both years—the only time he has ever played football. He continually outplayed the best ends of the conference teams that were played. In track he is a weight man, specialty, the shot-put. With no immediate practice because of a sore hand from baseball practice, which had disabled him for two weeks, he entered the Conference track meet in the Coliseum last year and tied with John Brooks for third place. This act, by the way, upset Occidental's dope for the meet and gave it to Pomona.

He went out for baseball last year as a rookie, as far as playing baseball was concerned. Like football, he had never donned a suit in that sport. He made first string catcher and emerged from the season with high batting honors, for which he was awarded a trophy.

Mark is not only an athlete, he was on the debating team last year. This year he is vice-president of the Y. M. C. A. He traveled on the Arizona Deputation Team during the Christmas vacation and is on the Southern California Team now. He is Sophomore Class president and teaches a Sunday School Class.

Pearl didn't even blush when she dropped her purse and Dr. Emmert observed that it sounded like there were nails in it.

CHAPTER LXXXVI

Our Hero Teaches a Lesson

The fighting continued on the front porch till the old building shook as by an earthquake. The old halls fairly rang with threats and cries and the almost rhythmic thud of falling bodies. 'Twas into this mass of frenzied students that our hero stepped. At his approach the fighting ceased immediately. The zeal of battle subsided as the troubled waves quell at the pouring on of oil. Every man-jack of them all got up from the floor, upon which they had been struggling and, compelled by the great personality of Otis, which fairly dominated the place as a mazda light penetrates a darkened room, stood in abashed silence and expectation of reprimand which they suddenly realized was due them.

But Otis allowed the silence to speak its own lesson for a few moments, then calmly said, "For shame, fellows! Dr. Hoover and I were terribly ashamed of you."

FROSH LOSE FIRST GAME

The Leopard Kittens amalgamated into a basketball team and essayed to send the Bull Pups down the road with their tails between their legs.

All this introduction is in regard to the basketball game between the La Verne Frosh and the Redlands Frosh, played as an opener for the varsity contest last week.

In spite of the absence of two of the best Frosh players, inexperience and lack of practice, the Kittens succeeded in throwing a big scare into their opponents. Vaniman, a new man at guard, was very persistent in his playing, while Brownsberger, also new at the game, surprised himself by taking high point honors for his team. The Freshmen are practicing hard this week with the expectation of turning the tables on the Pups.

LA VERNE OUT-TOSSES RIVERSIDE Y. M. C. A.

In a game featured by heavy scoring by both teams the LaVerne Leopards out-tossed the Riverside Y. M. C. A. quintet by a score of 46 to 40. The game was played on the Y. M. C. A. court on Tuesday, February 9th. The Leopards took the lead early in the fray and kept it by a one or two-point lead for the remainder of the game.

The score would indicate that the guarding was lax, but this was not the case. Both teams had a good, fast offensive system of play which was hard to break up. This is proved by the fact that Coach Arnett, after the game, told the boys that it was the best game that they had played this season.

Capt. Lehmer continued in his role as high point man. He beat his nearest opponent by a three-point lead. He rang up 20 points. One basket was registered from beyond the center of the floor. Betts, at center, played a good game from his position under the basket, meanwhile scoring 16 points.

The game was too close to be safe, but the Leopards do not intend to give them any chance to enter their den when the return game is played on the home court.

LA VERNE IN THIRD CONFERENCE WIN

For the third time this season La Verne has won a basketball game from a conference team. This was the 39-31 victory over Redlands at Redlands on Saturday, February 13th. LaVerne took the lead and kept it during the whole game. The Bulldogs at no time were a danger to the Leopards. The Bulldogs tried various combinations to thwart the team work and basket-shooting of the Leopards.

Kreps at forward was inspired into playing his old form of basketball and copped the honors of high point man. He registered 14 points the first half and then, overcome by ennui, was able to cage only two points.

Capt. Lehmer, being very modest away from home, could not break the ice till the second half, when he scored 10 points. Betts had a good start for a high individual score but was thwarted by the referee, who had the opinion that he was through and gave him his resignation slip in the first half. Shirk, who was playing a good game at guard, in spite of the flu which he possessed, took the example of Betts and became entitled to a much-needed rest.

Calvin and Lund, of Redlands, divided honors for high-point men of their team, with 9 points each. Capt. Hosegood, of the Bulldogs, did not seem to be up to par in playing his position at guard, so they shifted him to forward.

"DOCS" NEED RECUPERATION

As a finish for the Bible Institute there was staged a comedy basketball game between the Los Angeles Osteopathic College and the LaVerne College "Felines." The "Rubbers" showed lack of practice, as the 56 to 25 score indicates. The score was held down by the fact that the Leopards were not able to shoot when they received the chance which came at will.

The game afforded immense amusement for the crowd as well as the La Verne team, for the team work of the Leopards seemed to astound the "Rubbers" to such an extent that they were paralyzed and needed help to move from one part of the floor to another.

Betts, LaVerne center, was the outstanding point attainer for the evening. He amassed 14 points in half the game. Kreps is credited with the same number of points, but he was in during three-fourths of the game.

A potential forward was found in the person of Harold Hoff, who collected 8 points in half the game. Mahoney was conspicuous for his inability to cage the easy shots.

"Bull" Finch, coach of Pomona High, acting as referee, enjoyed the game very much and expressed his thanks for such an entertaining evening.

The Kittens showed considerable improvement, thanks to their one week's practice, which they did not have before their preceding game. Had the Frosh been organized sooner in the season they could easily have shown up several Conference Frosh teams. Crites, playing guard for the Kittens, was high point man with ten points. Vaniman, handling the other guard position, showed up as possible varsity material for the future.

Silvy, of Pomona Y. M. C. A., and Brubaker, of LaVerne, officiated in a very satisfactory manner.

LA VERNE WINS FROM BAY CITY QUINTET

In a very one-sided game, the Leopards took a 50 to 29 victory from the San Francisco Theological Seminary. The game was played on the LaVerne floor, Wednesday, February 17th. The Bay City outfit is making a tour of the Southland. They made their debut by losing to Pomona College by practically the same score as they did to LaVerne.

The Leopards displayed a fast and accurate passing attack, combined with their dead-shot basket-shooting. Kreps "went wild" and took high point honors with 21 points, beating out Brown, of the northern team, by one point.

Brown was a brilliant player at any point on the floor, but he lacked the support of the rest of the team. They played a neat court game but lost many shots which appeared to be due them. However, the College fellows found little trouble in carrying the ball through the court for a steady stream of scoring. Capt. Lehmer started the first quarter in good fashion by accounting for about ten points. He played the floor spe-
