"THE TRUTH" IS HEARD HERE

LARGE AUDIENCES HEAR JUNIOR-SENIOR PLAY

"The Truth" by Clyde Fitch, presented by the College Junior and Senior Classes, the evenings of April 6 and 8, was attended by large and appreciative audiences. This play, the second ever staged by a College class, was very worth while.

The lesson that truth should always triumph, and only truth could bring happiness was evident throughout the play. The bitter experience of Becky Warder and her husband, Tom Warder, played by Beulah Noll and Ernest Root, emphasized this lesson.

The father of Becky, Stephen Roland, whom Ralph Netzley well represented, was also another living example of what deceit and debauchery can do to a man.

Perhaps no character was appreciated more than that of Mrs. Crespigny, played by Ruth Barnhizer. The individual was completely covered in the portrayal of the character.

Lindon and his jealous wife, Eve, were very well represented by Ray Root and Maurine Miller. Laura Fraser, in the person of Vera Hoover, was an excellent comforter for the troubled married women.

Throughout the play an excellent choice of characters was seen, and much credit for the splendid presentation of the play was due to the untiring efforts of Mrs. B. S. Haugh.

Deputation Program Held at LaVerne

Upon request of several churches, the Student Volunteers sent out a deputation team the second semester. "There is Work to be Done," has been nicely followed by a devotional-inspirational theme, "Abiding in Christ." Up to the present time, nine of the thirteen churches have been visited. The program was given at La Verne Sunday evening, April 2. The large congregation was gripped by the strong message of the program, which was given as follows:

Devotional, Byrl Harper, chairman of the team.
Quartet, "Wonderful Peace," Phil Smith, Jesse Frantz, Wayne Bohn, George King.
Talk, "The Devotional Nature," Vera Hoover.
Quartet, "Just Abide."
Talk, "The Joy of the Christian Life," Ernest Root.
Reading, "Than Silver or Gold," Cathryn Byerly.
Quartet, "I Want My Life to Tell."

DEBATE RALLY ACADEMY WINS GAME FROM CHINO

First League Game

Wednesday evening, about 6:30 a group of enthusiastic students gathered near the gymnasium to stir up a little of the old La Verne pep and spirit for the debate with Pomona College. Dr. Miller, one of the coaches of debate, started things going with a snappy talk, and Paul Throne and Martha Brubaker followed with short speeches. Then Polly led the school song, "Guide of La Verne" and Emley led some yells that might have been heard for miles around.

The old rally song, "Fight for the Orange and the Green" was sung as the bonfire was getting low, and the students all left, full of enthusiasm for the debate of the evening.

LA VERNE LOSES DEBATE WITH POMONA

La Verne College held its first debate with Pomona College, Wednesday evening, March 29. As a result of the "rally" held earlier in the evening, a large audience attended the debate.

The only unfortunate thing about it, from La Verne's standpoint, was the decision of the judges—two to one in favor of Pomona.

As previously announced, La Verne upheld the affirmative of the question, "Resolved, that the open shop agreement between employers and employees without collective wage contracts, shall prevail in American industry."

This is a live, present day question that proved interesting as discussed by the speakers. Both teams claimed many similar points in upholding their respective issues. However, the contest was close, exhibiting keen thought on both sides.

The La Verne Team was composed of Byrl Harper, Herman Landis, and C. Ernest Davis. Those representing Pomona were De Forrest Home, William Haughten, and Orlin Robinson. The judges were Principal Wm. T. Randall of Bonita High School, Principal C. P. Sparks of the La Verne Grammar School, and A. T. Richardson, of the Pomona Progress, Pomona.

Naomi Harshbarger Enjoys Her Teaching

Lindsay, Calif., Mar. 16, 1922. Dear friends at L. V. C.—

Though absent from you this year, I have often been present in spirit, and have followed the fortunes of our College with a great deal of interest.

The Campus Times has been like a letter from home. Many times, when I read of L. V. C.'s success in athletics or literary activities, I have felt like shouting, "Three cheers for La Verne!" I think you should all be congratulated—you who have had a part in the winning of those victories, and you who have helped to make the Campus Times the excellent paper it is.

My own work this year is very interesting and enjoyable, despite the problems and difficulties of the inexperienced teacher. As many of you know, I am teaching the first four grades at the Woodville Grammar School, ten miles from Strathmore.

The children of this district are interesting, though rather difficult to work with. Approximately half of them are foreigners—Swedes, Portuguese, and Italians, Portuguese predominating. Of course they lack the English background of the American children, and this presents an added difficulty. The children learn the language more quickly on the play-

ACADEMY WINS GAME FROM CHINO

In the first league baseball game La Verne Academy defeated the Chino High School by a score of 7 to 4. The game was anyone's until the ninth inning, when La Verne sewed it up by running up two scores.

The game was the first for the Academy boy, and many rough spots showed up thruout the time of play. Gillett, in left field, played a heady game and looks well to hold his position in the garden. His fast throw to second, catching a man at second, cut off a threatening score. Kreps, on the mound, pitched a good steady game, after the second inning, in which he was nicked for four hits. His battery mate, V. Brooks, played a neat game, considering that it was his first attempt behind the bat. At present short stop seems to be the weak point of the team. A little more speed on the part of every member of the team will count for a good deal in supporting the pitcher.

Dr. Cyril Ross Speaks

Dr. Cyril Ross, missionary from Korea, now located at Claremont, spoke to the Mission Band Sunday morning April 2nd. For the past twenty-four years, Dr. Ross has served in Korea under the Presbyterian Board. He held the interest of his audience as he developed his theme, "The Investment of a Life." Though small of stature, he is large in spiritual power and his message gripped the hearts of his hearers. He presented the truths so plainly that everyone present was brought face to face with the question, "What shall I do with my life?"

After the Mission Band meeting, Dr. Ross visited the services at the church. He was a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Throne for dinner.

Illustrated Lecture Greatly Enjoyed

A large audience gathered in the College Auditorium Monday night, April 3rd, to hear the free illustrated lecture on "The Development of Hydro Electric Power in Southern California." It was illustrated with moving pictures, thus showing in an interesting way the development of the system used by the Southern California Edison Co. in furthering their work.

Professor Frantz introduced the speaker of the evening, Mr. Blossom, and his assistant, Mr. Williams, who ran the picture machine.

After a few general remarks, the first reel was given. It showed how the home of drudgery was transformed into one of ease and happiness, brought about by the electric stove, washer, iron, sweeper, and even children's toys.

The second reel, entitled "The Land of the White Cedar," gave an insight into the great lumber industry in the method of securing poles. The third set consisted of pictures of the various power plants in the conyons of Southern California. Hydro-electric energy which was first discovered at Redlands about twenty-eight years ago, has become a great thing in the development of Southern California. Many interesting facts were presented in the lecture. A hearty vote of thanks is due the Southern California Edison Company for this educational entertainment.

MISS DYCK GIVES PIANO RECITAL

In spite of the rain and the absence of electricity until almost eight o'clock Friday evening, March 31, a splendid crowd gathered in the College Auditorium to hear a piano recital by Miss Dorothea Dyck, a student of Professor Haugh.

Miss Dyck's piano numbers were greatly enjoyed and certainly showed that she had spent much time and labor in practice. Her rendering of the Palichinette, the Bolsheviqe piece, was especially good.

Mr. Poole and Mildred Seymour assisted Miss Dyck in her recital. Mr. Poole delighted the audience with several Scotch melodies, while Miss Seymour played a duet with Miss Dyck.

Not the least important feature of the evening was the presentation of many beautiful bouquets sent by the friends of the one who entertained all so splendidly.

The program was composed of the following numbers:

Waltz Caprice—Suite Transcription from Schubert's "Soirees de Vienne" No. 6 Liszt
Nocturne, op. 27, No. 2 Chopin
Polichinelle, Op. 3, No. 4 Rachmaninoff
Vocal Solo, "Bonnie Mary of Argyle" Mr. J. C. Poole
Sonata, No. 6 Mozart
Berceuse, Op. 57 Chopin
Vocal Solo, "War Song of the Gergalach." Mr. J. C. Poole
Indiernne, Op. 110, No. 4 Godard
Placid Lake, Op. 193 Bartlett
Colonial Song, Sentimentals No. 1 Duet Grainger
Miss Dyck and Miss Seymour

INTERESTING CHAPEL TALKS

As has been previously stated, the chapel talks have proved exceptionally interesting this year. Each member of the faculty has been doing his or her utmost to give the students a real message on things worth while.

"Variety is the spice of life," is an old saying that still holds true. Several out-of-town speakers have conducted the chapel hour within the past week. Thursday, March 30, Mr. A. A. Beisner, General Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of Pomona Valley, gave a short but pointed talk. Mr. Beisner was the organizer and campaign manager for the $250,000.00 Y. M. C. A. building recently constructed in Pomona. In his talk, he made an appeal to the students for the purity of life as essential in Christian living.

Wednesday, April 5, Dr. J. Harvey Deere, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Pomona, gave a splendid talk on the theme, "Records." He said that of all the various "records" in the world, he aimed only to speak of three—i. e., the records on our school annals—our grades; the records on the minds of our friends—our reputation; and lastly, the records of our own lives—our character. We should keep our standards high, for the highest is none too good.

PIANO RECITAL

Miss Mildred Seymour will give her Junior Piano recital Friday night, April 14. She will be assisted by Miss Lucile Beckner with vocal solos, and Miss Margaret Arbuthnot, reader. This program is free. Everybody welcome.

Fullerton Falls in Dual Meet

L. V. C. TAKES NINE FIRST PLACES

Final Score 84½ to 46½

In a dual track meet with Fullerton Junior College, the La Verne College track team paired off with the long end of the score, with an 84½ to 46½ score. Landis, for the locals, was scintillating star, along with his team mate, Welch. Landis scored three first places with a tie for third in his fourth. Welch walked away with both stick events and tied for first in the high jump.

No time was made in any of the events, except the 2-mile, on account of a slow track and a brisk wind that held the men up on the back stretch. The 2-mile event was the feature of the day, La Verne walking away with all the places, as she did in all the distance runs. The time made on this event was 10:30:4.

Hawkins of Fullerton was highpoint man of the meet, scoring five firsts and one second, for a total of 28 points. Following are the winners of first places.

ACADEMY GIRLS WALLOP CHINO

The Academy girls baseball game Thursday, March 30th, resulted in a 24 to 4 triumph over Chino. The game was simply a walk-away for the La Verne hopefuls, their stick work leaving nothing to be desired, while only a few errors were chalked against them. Minnie D. was back in the line up and gave a good account of herself at second. Miriam Shirk was a bright and shining light throughout the game, both at third and in the box. Home runs were the rule, not the exception, this game. If you want a thrill, come see the Academy girls perform.

THE ORATORICAL CONTEST

La Verne College stands for intellectual as well as physical attainments. Her task is the development of symmetrical men. Her activities are varied in order that a more perfect development of her students might be possible. She endorses and supports football, baseball, and track, but this is not all; for debating, dramatics, and oratory are also included in her extra curriculum activities. She believes in mental gymnastics as well as physical.

On Saturday evening, May 6, Mr. E. T. Keiser, of Pomona, will give to La Verne's youthful orators a twice golden opportunity. Fifteen dollars in gold will be given in prizes for the two best orators. Although this is a handsome trophy, it is not the only benefit to accrue from the contest, for the training gained in public speaking may, in itself, be golden. We cannot afford to pass such an opportunity by, for, as Dean Crane, of Cornell says, "A man is not considered educated until he can present his views clearly and forcibly."

It is said that one half of education is impression, the other half is expression. If we wish to give our very best to others in our very best manner, we must think clearly, feel deeply, free ourselves of our limitations, and develop our powers of expression and transmission. —J. W. F.

WANTED—MORE MEN

A wise old philosopher once said, "The harder you have to work to reach your goal, the greater will be your appreciation of it when it is attained." An education means but little to the fellow who has skidded through school on a bankroll and a generous supply of ~~capital~~ but it is the fortification, the reinforcement, the foundation and the superstructure of the man who has worked his way through his course in college and has WON his degree.

Knowledge is power. Neither comes to the man who drifts, but both are in reach of the man who sets his face against the winds and determines to do or drop.

The men of strength and grace are they who have willed and achieved. Their dynamics are the fruit of careful thinking, right evaluation, and unflinching determination. The world is looking for such men and will always have a place of responsibility and trust for them to fill.

Therefore, fellows, hats off to the men who, while they should be sleeping, are working night shifts in order that they man continue their courses. —J. W. F.

COMMISSION NOTES

Since the Commission is so deeply involved in the College Junior-Senior play, it has been impossible to meet in regular session during the past two weeks. The work of the various departments is progressing nicely, however, and it not suffering from neglect.

A number of "outside" students took a chance with "dorm grub" last Sunday with some of their friends. Lucile Beckner was the guest of Martha Brubaker; Harriett Woody, the guest of Adelaide Gray, and Howard Beckner and Dwight Welch were mercifully brought in from the wayside by Otis and Ray.

HORSES

(An oriental Essay, written by a Bombay High School Student).

The horse is a very noble quadruped but when he is angry he is not so. He is ridden on the spinal cord by the bridle and sadly the driver places his foot on the stirrup and divides his lower limbs across the saddle and drives his animal to the meadow. He has a long mouth and his head is attached to the trunk by a long protuberance called the neck. He has two legs, these are the weapons on which he runs and also defends himself by extending those of the rear in a parallel direction toward the following. But this he does only when he is in a vexatious mood. Two of his legs are on the front side and two are afterwards. His food is generally grasses and grains. He is also useful to take on the back a man or woman as well as some cargo. He has power to run as fast as he could. He has got to sleep at midnight, but always standing awoken. Also there are horses of short sizes. They do the same as the others are generally doing. There is no animal like the horse. No sooner they see their guardian or master they always crying for fooding, but it is always at morning time. They have a tail, but not so long as the cow or other such like animals.—Selected.

Some people hate to take examinations from Professor Barber, for fear they will get by with such a close shave.

IZZY NEWSY

Dear Sam:

Listen, Sam, did you know school was nigh on to the time in which the end is coming? Well, it is, Sam. Time flies so fast that I'll probably be home before I get time to leave. The main event of the year has just crised over and come out the most successful of any happening ever staged yet. Of course I mean the Junior-Senior play. The actors are past my commenting on. For a real true description of the merit of each, I'd rather trust to some one with more intellectual abilities than myself.

There has been a tail going around town lately, and finally it reached the dormitory. It wouldn't have been so awful if it hadn't been fastened on to a dog, and when it came into the class room it caused quite a disturbance of laughter. It didn't cause nearly as much damage as other tales I have heard that wasn't fastened on to dogs.

They smudged again last night, and I haven't got my neck clean yet. I'm sending six pairs of my best socks for ma to darn and sterilize. I tore a hole in my silk shirt yesterday. That took all the joy out of life for me. A fellow needs more than one silk shirt, when he wears 'em every day. This isn't a hint but a gentle reminder.

This letter hasn't been very general, but rather personal, but just read the "Campus Times" for general news. That's all this time.

Good Bicycle,

APRIL FOOL PARTY

Hot dog! On April 1st, the Sophomores were entertained by a "nutty" party. Even the invitations were nutty. In short everything seemed to be nutty.

They went to the home of Gladys Larimer and not being received at the front door, they went to the back, and were royally (?) entertained for about fifteen minutes. Being "April fooled" they fooled the Seniors and made their way to the front room, where they were served a delicious chicken dinner consisting of kaffir corn and green barley.

They were then invited to take a little ride, and of course knew they were to be taken to the Brubaker home, because the Seniors did not succeed in keeping their secret.

The rooms were adorned in all sorts of "nutty" decorations—signs were posted on the walls, such as "Furnish your own Cuspidor," "Take out your false teeth before you come in," and on the fire place hung a sign, "Exit!" In place of flowers were mustard and weeds in milk bottles. The portiers were made of carpet rags, which were later used for baseballs.

Weary of games, they were served with pots of chocolate and marguerites. A few minutes later a platter of chocolate coated peanuts was passed around, and on taking a bite, they discovered the peanuts to consist of paper, which revealed their partners. After "partnering" scrumptious "banana specials" and most delicious cake were served.

Time was flying very fast, and it was somewhat past regulation hours for the party to close when they jumped into the cars and rode merrily on their way to La Verne.

In the words of a loyal Sophomore, we quote, "We hand over our thanks to the Seniors, and our only regret is that this is the only time we can be together in such a way in the Academy of L. V. C."

MORE APRIL FOOLS

Every day, somewhere, someone has a birthday, and every day some one is celebrating. On this particular day, April 1, several some bodies celebrated somebody's birthday. Miss Jeanette King entertained a group of her friends with a delicious dinner in honor of her birthday. The dainty pink cake with (?) candles was the climax of the four course dinner, but not to the good entertainment which followed. Those present were Mrs. King, Misses Maurine Miller, Elva Gillett, Jeanette King, and Messrs. Cecil Brower, Otis Brooks, and George King.

FREAK BIRTHDAY DINNER

Without being fore-warned, the Misses Ethel and Helen Winslow, Alice Davis, Merle Fike and Bessie Hixson were the victims of a "freak" birthday supper in honor of Merle and Helen Friday evening, March 31. They became the charges of Bertha Swihart, Wilma Lett and Susan Stoner, who ushered them into the dining room to a table especially prepared for the eight. The eleven place-cards and newspaper napkins were the first items of interest.

A "two course" dinner was enjoyed by all. The first course, which consisted of "dormitory hash" and cat-sup, came as a surprise to the invited guests. But the hostesses explained that not until after the invitations had been given did they learn that the regular supper planned for the dorm students that evening was to be hash. Nevertheless it seemed to be greatly enjoyed, as it was a "change."

The second course redeemed the occasion when peaches and a lovely pink and white birthday cake were served. (All praise for the latter is due to Bertha Swihart.) Helen and Merle each took their turn at blowing out the candles. According to tradition, Helen has two years and Merle one, before—well—everybody knows! To add more form to this "freak" party, the electric lights went off before supper was half over. Each one seemed to be able to find her mouth, regardless of the dim candle light.

After supper a jolly hour was spent together until time to attend the musical recital. The hostesses were generously thanked for the happy, informal evening.

FACULTY DINNER

Mrs. Culley was the hostess at a pleasant dinner party Thursday evening at the Dormitory. The purpose of the function was to recall to civilized manners those members of the faculty who seem to be fast slipping from the recognized paths of social usage—who were learning to eat beef steak with their fingers and preferred their after dinner coffee served in tins. The "piece de resistance" of the dinner was a huge four-story cake whereby the hostess established for herself a lasting reputation as cake baker. After dinner only Miss Muir's delightful music succeeded in calming the intense eagerness to adjourn to the College auditorium. Even at that the party were in their places for the Junior-Senior play one half hour before the curtain rose.

Mrs. Culley was assisted by Miss Babcock, and the guests were Mrs. Babcock, Miss Muir, Miss Sanger, Miss Broad, Miss Gible, and Miss Horn.

KOLLEGE KNEWS

Mr. and Mrs. William Dyck and Miss Beulah Choate, of Reedley, visited La Verne during the week end of April 2nd. They attended Dorothea Dyck's junior piano recital and also the Mennonite Convention at Upland.

Delicious orange marmalade, the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Dyck, appeared on the tables at the Dorm. Many exclamations of appreciation floated around, and a hearty vote of thanks was given Mr. and Mrs. Dyck.

Mrs. Harper entertained at supper Monday night Nova and Onis Leonard, Esther and Earl Stoops, Walter Gilbert and John Hilton.

Miss Christine Harder, assistant pastor of the First Mennonite Church of Reedley, visited Dorothea Dyck last Monday night. She conducted a short devotional meeting with the dormitory girls.

Word has been received that Miss Pearl Coffelt, of Glendale, Arizona, will be married Sunday, April 16th. Her college acquaintances wish her success and happiness.

Pauline and Maurine Miller entertained at dinner Sunday a group of their girl friends. Those present were Elva Gillett, Mary Gockley, Eve Brownsberger, Pauline Shirk and Viola Neher.

Mr. and Mrs. Dyck entertained some of their former McPherson College friends at the dorm on Sunday before last. Their guests were Dr. and Mrs. S. J. Miller and Elder and Mrs. J. E. Steinhour.

Prof. Bowman, Earl Flory, Cecil and Alva Brower drove to Mexico over the week end of April 2nd. Several suspicious looking pictures taken in Tiajuana evidence a good time. Some flashy watch fobs, souvenirs of the trip, are being greatly admired by the students. The four wayfarers are again enjoying white men's lives at La Verne, and appear none the worse for their trip outside United States.

Leland Brubaker, an alumnus of La Verne College, has been engaged by the Board of Trustees to solicit for students for the coming year. He will begin his work in May.

A DUTCH TREAT

The "unbearable" quietness of the Ladies Dorm Thursday night, when all the inmates except four lonely maidens (who had tickets for Saturday night) were seeing "The Truth," was soon broken by some real fun. The said maidens put their heads together, and presently, after a few surmountable difficulties, the sweet odor of "almond brittle" poured forth from the Laundry room. While it cooled, the girls played the piano and mandolin, and sang songs—all for their own enjoyment. Lemonade was also a treat of the evening. Needless to say, the time passed all too rapidly.

DORM MAIDENS ENTERTAIN

Three of the girls of the dormitory, Eve Brownsberger, Viola Neher and Martha Brubaker, entertained three of the "outside" girls on Saturday night, April 8. The guests were Cathryn Byerly, Lucile Beckner and Maurine Miller. The spread occurred on the floor in one of the rooms, of course, and though several doubtful looking objects appeared first, the popcorn balls and chocolate fudge were certainly delicious, and well appreciated by the guests. To the accompaniment of vigorous cracking and crunching, and much giggling, the "eats" rapidly disappeared.

On the sleeping porch the six revelers slept until early morning, when five were awakened by the sixth in a burst of song. Such classical numbers as "I found a peanut," "Mary had a William goat," and others of equal merit were vigorously applauded by the singer herself. The guests decided that dorm life was alright, and perhaps they would call again—perhaps?

Ralph Netzley and Gorman Rensberger spent the week end with Herman Moomaw at his home in Huntington Beach.

Miss Olive Stayer entertained Alida Larimer and Olive Deardorff at her home on Sunday April 2nd.

ground than anywhere else, though it is frequently not the most desirable type.

Besides the foreign element, this district is characterized by the absence of Christian teaching. There have been no Sunday School or church services in the community for many years, and the children have practically no knowledge of the Bible. We are working with the Baptists of a neighboring town to start a Sunday School. This effort has been hindered by various epidemics that have swept the community, but our expectations are about to be realized now.

I wish you success in all the activities you undertake.

With best wishes to all,

ATHLETICS

Orange Lightweights Swamp Skeeters in Post-Season Game

March 28 the oft postponed game with Orange was played, and resulted disastrously for the locals. Most of the team had played baseball in the afternoon, while basket ball was almost forgotten. Orange excelled in all phases of the game, which was ragged and rough. The La Verne boys however, can still grab the second place medals if they defeat the Los Angeles Y. M. C. A. team in the final game.

Beckner was high point man for the Skeeters. This is the second game for Orange—the first resulted in a La Verne walk-away, so over-confidence may have had something to do with the defeat.

McIntosh of Covina very ably refereed this game, which was a difficult one to keep from degenerating into a miniature football game.

ACADEMY WIN GAME FROM CHINO

La Verne started the fireworks in the first inning by scoring three runs by means of three errors, a walk and one hit. That seemed to cinch things, but Chino got to Kreps in the second for four hits, scoring two runs. La Verne scored again in the fourth and fifth. Chino came back in the seventh to add two more markers, only to have La Verne salt the game away in the ninth by two runs.

Bohn for La Verne collected two hits out of three times at bat. O. Brooks followed closely with three hits out of five times at bat. R. Hartman got two hits out of four times up. These hits were the total number collected off King, the Chino finger.

The team shows plenty of material on hand, and good results are looked for. We meet Corona on the local grounds next Friday.

GIRLS LOSE TO COLTON

The last baseball game of the season was played by the Academy girls Wednesday at Chino, when they played Colton High. Since Claremont, Colton and La Verne were tied for first place, this game decided the two teams which were to play for the cup.

The girls put up a hard fight, and it was only by good play that Colton carried away the five extra runs which gave her the game. The score was tied at the end of the fifth inning, but Colton had a streak of luck, making six runs in one inning. The final score was 14 to 19 in favor of Colton.

The Academy team was at a disadvantage—Miriam Shirk, one of the star players being kept out of the game on account of a sprained finger. However, each girl on the team played a good game, and they each deserve a lot of credit for the hard practice and playing which they have been through this season.

Colton and Claremont will play off the tie for first place and the cup.

WHITTIER TAKES SEASON-OPENER

Score 6 to 0

April 4th, the College nine ushered in the 1922 baseball season by bowing to the smooth-working Poet nine.

Consternation reigned when, due to a misunderstanding of some sort, Whittier put in their appearance on the campus with hopes of staging a baseball game. The manager tried hard to persuade them that a track meet would be more desirable, but the conclusion was that with a game this time of year, perhaps both could be included in one.

Since baseball practice had not yet started, of course no team was chosen, and anything like real baseball was not expected. The biggest failure, however, was not in errors, but in the lack of development of the much needed batting eye. The La Verne men were as free from errors as the quakers, but failed to connect with the pill.

Welch pitched the entire game, although he made no attempt to uncork much speed. While all the time saving himself until in form he had the Poets fanning the ether most of the time. Later in the season, when both teams are in trim, a game should be worth seeing. E. Landis batted .600 per cent, which included a three bagger.

The La Verne line-up was: Welch P; Price C; Beckner 1B; J. Brooks 2B; H. Landis 3B; B. Hepner SS; E. Landis LF; A. Brooks CF; J. Garber RF. Substitutes—R. Root for B. Hepner; B. Hepner for Garber.

SENIORS ENTERTAINED AT PASADENA

"Every dog has his day," likewise every Senior has his. Sunday the Senior class was well entertained in Pasadena at the home of Ralph Netzley. The dignitaries left after the play Saturday night. The pleasure began then, and did not end until Sunday evening at 6 o'clock, when they arrived home. Everything was thoroughly enjoyed from the chats around the fire place and the "homey" meals, to the skilled games of crokinole and the sight seeing trip. The only regret of the class was that there were only twenty-four hours in a day.

Two girls were talking over the wire. Both were discussing what they should wear to the Easter party. In the midst of this important conversation a masculine voice interrupted, asking humbly for a number. One of the girls became indignant and scornfully asked:

"What line do you think you are on, anyhow?"

"Well," said the man, "I am not sure, but judging from what I have heard, I should say I was on a clothes-line."

Student Volunteer Meeting

Saturday night, April 1, will long be remembered. By whom? The Student Volunteers! Why? Because they were so royally entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Throne, returned missionaries from Singapore.

The home was decorated very appropriately with souvenirs from foreign countries which were of great interest to the students. The burning incense added to the "orientalness" already pervading the rooms.

When the meeting was called to order, a short business session followed.

The big factor of the evening, however, was the presence of Miss Louise Houston, a delegate to the Student Volunteer Council at Yonkers. Miss Houston is just brim full of inspiration and helpful suggestions to better the organization, and gave an informal talk to the group.

Even the refreshments were in keeping with the oriental idea, and consisted of sandwiches, chinese tea, rice candy, water chestnuts, candied kumquats and rice wafers, all of which are used by the Chinese on festival occasions.

The wafers were very thin and folded in a peculiar shape, and in each was enclosed a message. These messages, or small fortunes, created high interest, and afforded much fun.

Next Mrs. Throne displayed her many treasured pieces of oriental hand embroidered linen. Such a chorus of oh's! and ah's! and delighted exclamations that poured forth from all parts of the room!! At the time of departure the girls could hardly tear themselves away from the perfectly wonderful work which seemed almost a human impossibility.

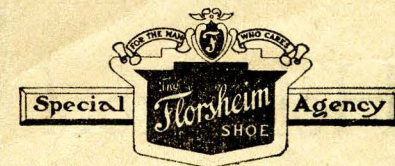

All expressed their great appreciation of the good time to the hospitalbe host and hostess.

COLLEGE SOPHS CELEBRATE BIRTHDAYS

The home of Mrs. J. L. Miller was a scene of great merriment Saturday evening, April 8, when Mrs. Miller served a six o'clock dinner to all members of the College Sophomore class, in honor of the birthdays of Merle Fike, Helen Winslow and Eva Brownsberger. All members of the class who did not have birthdays certainly called themselves fortunate, for without having to suffer the consequences of becoming more aged, they were able to indulge in the big chicken feed. However, they missed the opportunity of blowing out the candles and determining their fate, and also of cutting the big white cake. After every one had more than satisfied their appetite with the "luscious eats" those who were extremely industrious dolled up in aprons and assisted in the kitchen with washing and drying the dishes—boys as well as girls.

Those present were Mrs. J. W. Fox and son Dallas, Helen Winslow, Merle Fike, Ethel Winslow, Bessie Hixson, Susan Stoner, Mary Gockley, Eva Brownsberger, Guy Jordan and Granville Brubaker.

Helen and Ethel Winslow visited friends in Glendora Sunday. Ruth Emley and Velma Fager were also visitors at Glendora, spending the day at the Fager home.
