LEOPARDS DEFEAT SAGEHENS, 6 TO 0

LAMBDA EDITOR LAUNCHES DRIVE

ANNUAL CAMPAIGN WILL START MONDAY

Next week, beginning Monday, November 14, and continuing through November 23, each student will be given a chance to show his feeling towards the publication of an annual. It has become necessary to make an assessment of two dollars (2.00) per student, and in order to make this burden lighter one dollar ($1.00) will be collected now during this sales drive and the other dollar during a similar campaign in March. An attempt will be made to make this a one hundred per cent success.

The 1933 Lambda depends upon the success of this first sales drive. Start getting the pennies together this week-end and if possible make your payment to the first one who confronts you Monday morning. After you have once made your payment you will not be bothered again because you will be given a tag to wear. Be sure you wear your tag.

The sales drive will be conducted with a keen rivalry between class teams. The class coming nearest to a one hundred per cent sell-out will be given its pages in the Lambda without the customary assessment of not less than five dollars.

Cooperation plus the good old La Verne spirit spell success for the 1933 Lambda. Come on, Leopards, let's go!

UNUSUAL QUARTETTE INCLUDES STUDENTS

On Friday evening, Nov. 4, at an annual banquet, the Chaffey J. C. sophomores heard a "brand new" quartet introduced as the Apollarian Four.

The members are Marvin Bolinger, Russell Frantz, "Happy" Brubaker, and Dan Stover—a combination of quartets.

A most interesting address was given by Dr. Woellner, member of the U. C. L. A. faculty. Several numbers which the quartet of melodious voices presented were much appreciated by the audience.

DRAMATIC STUDENTS PRESENT PROGRAM

A very unique and interesting Armistice program was presented by the Advanced Dramatics class in Chapel Thursday morning.

(1) "The Old Refrain"—a violin duet by Maurine Hamann and Alta McQueen.

(2) "War Time Memories,"— a skit by the fireplace with Evelyn Deardorf, Marvin Bolinger, Vernon Heckman and Edwin Baer singing.

(3) "The Day of Glory is Here" —a reading by Evelyn Deardorf.

(4) "Trees" — Solo by Marvin Bolinger.

(5) "The Young Fellow"— a reading by Maurine Hamann.

(6) "The Unknown Soldier"— with Royal Glick as reader, Vernon Heckman, Edwin Baer and Marvin Bolinger, the unknown soldiers. The bugle call was played by Dan Stover.

TUESDAY CHAPEL IS OUTSTANDING

NEGRO STUDENT GIVES CAPTIVATING SPEECH

Mr. Howard, a negro, attending the medical college at Loma Linda, spoke in chapel Tuesday morning on the subject of national prohibition.

In defense of prohibition, Mr. Howard pointed out the arguments against it, and then in very amusing way refuted these arguments, which were as follows:

Prohibition was slipped over on the American people. How could such a thing be possible? As early as 1622 sentiment was aroused on the liquor question, and it was forbidden that intoxicating drinks be sold to the Indians. The W. C. T. U. has been at work for 57 years to educate people against the use of liquor.

Other arguments were as to the constitutionality of the Eighteenth Amendment, personal liberty in which he pointed out the fallacy. Mr. Howard stated that he believed personal liberty could only be preserved by means of the constitution, but the wets wish to preserve it in alcohol.

Then, as to the argument that the 18th Amendment is sending our young people to the dogs, Mr. Howard pointed out that on two streets of one of our cities, a short time before the 18th Amendment, 1400 girls were found in saloons. How can anyone say that more young people are drinking now than in the days of the saloon? Beer will not return good times to America. We must look to God.

I. R. C. PREPARES TO SEND ITS DELEGATES

The International Relations Club held a meeting Wednesday evening at 7:00 in the Y. W. C. A. room. The purpose of the session was to get acquainted with current problems which will be discussed at two important conferences at which the club will be represented.

The program consisted of talks and discussions in preparation for the Institute of Pacific Relations and the I. R. C. conference. Royal Glick reported on "Reparations and Inter-Allied Debts." Arnelia Brubaker gave a talk on "The United States and Latin America" and Manuel Kwon talken on "Race Problems on the Pacific Coast."

It was announced that Arnelia Brubaker and Manuel Kwon will represent the club at the Institute of Pacific Relations at Redlands University during the Thanksgiving holidays. About six members indicated a desire to attend the conference of International Clubs at U. C. L. A. next week-end. The meeting closed with a meeting of the executive committee.

Chuck Snell attended the Redland rally Wednesday evening in preparation for their game with La Verne. He reported a good time.

Harold Arnold has been ill with the flu.

MRS. FLORENCE GLICK LAID TO REST

Nearly 800 frieds, relatives and former classmates of Mrs. Dale Glick gathered last Sunday at the Church of the Brethren to pay their final tributes.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Galen K. Walker assisted by Rev. Edgar Rothrock. Professor Travis presided at the organ. The Clarion Four, Urban Hartman, Russel Frantz, Harvey Brubaker, and Wayne Bohn, La Verne college quartet during Mrs. Glick's undergraduate days, sang several favorite numbers. Lee Eisan, Crawford Brubaker, George Hollenberg, Harper Frantz, Ray Cullen, and C. J. Brandt, La Verne college faculty associates of Dale Glick, acted as pallbearers.

Mrs. Glick was very active in school activities while a student at La Verne college. She was president of College Y. W. C. A., editor of Campus Times, commissioner of publications, secretary of her class, and secretary of the student body. With graduation her activity in connection with the college did not end. She has been closely connected with our college Y. W. C. A. as faculty advisor.

The entire school mourned the passing of one so capable, so active and so well liked. Interment was made Monday morning in the Evergreen cemetery at 9 o'clock, for which classes were dismissed, and last respects were paid by faculty, students and friends.

Rev. Mr. Walker read the ritual for commital services, the Rev. Mr. Rothrock offering prayer. A mixed quartet of college students, Edith Flory, Vera Mae Shafford, Dan Stover and Marvin Bolinger, sang two selections.

MAYOR PORTER WILL SPEAK NEXT TUESDAY

John C. Porter, mayor of Los Angeles, will give a talk on some phases of his work as a mayor, in Chapel Tuesday, November 15, 1932.

We are very fortunate in securing Mayor Porter for our Chapel period, and wish to extend a very cordial invitation to the public.

VOICE PUPILS TO GIVE A RECITAL

A number of the voice pupils of Professor Haugh will give a recital on Tuesday evening, November 16, at 7:30, at the home of Professor and Mrs. Haugh, 2210 Fourth Street, La Verne.

All students of voice are invited to be present and bring a friend if they wish.

DETERMINED GOOD DEFENSE WARDS OFF POMONA SCORE

COACH EISAN ON K.H.J. BROADCAST

COACH EISAN SPEAKS IN RADIO INTERVIEW

Before all U. S. C. football games a program is given over KHJ called "Between the Goal Posts." Coaches or alumni from the opposing schools are interviewed by a sports writer.

Last Friday night Coach Howard Jones and our own Lee Eisan were interviewed.

It may be of interest to you to know Lee's part of the program. The quartette from University of California sang "Hail, All Hail," and then the announcer introduced Lee Eisan, "the smartest quarterback to wear the blue and gold," and the present head coach of La Verne College.

Some of the questions asked by the sports writer and the answers he gave were as follows:

Q.: "What was Andy Smith's greatest attribute?"

A.: "His ability to make personal friends of his players and still keep their respect."

Q.: "Who was the greatest player developed at California?"

A.: "'Brick" Muller; his greatness was in his ability to handle his body, which was a perfect one for an end, perfectly, and also his good football sense."

Q.: "What was the hardest game you played in while at Cal.?"

A.: "The U. S. C.-Cal. game. Because of a fast charging line and a strong offensive and defensive back field."

Q.: "What are Cal.'s chances tomorrow?"

A.: "Since fight is one-half of this game of football, if Cal. can show the same fight they had last year, they should have an even chance to win."

The announcer then thanked Lee for coming and wished him and his Leopards luck in the game with Pomona."

WET-DRY DIALOGUE HELD IN AUDITORIUM

"Wet vs. Dry," a dialogue-drama-debate, was presented Monday evening, Nov. 7, at the college auditorium to a full house.

The entire program takes place in a judge's office when Tom O'Neil, a big bootlegger, comes in. He is sure that the Wright Act will be repealed, and has come to be one of the first ones to get his license. They happen to be old friends who had not met for fifteen years. A lengthy conversation about the prohibition question followed.

The ensuing dialogue between these two men showed up the weakness of the dry cause by their lack of interest, and failure to vote, because they feel that the cause is won. He showed that the "wets" never give up, and the "drys" cannot either.

TIGHT CONTEST THRILLS CROWD

BROOKS, MONTGOMERY WRIGHT, LATHROP, STAR

With wild, cheering cries the Leopards have withdrawn their "ad" from the "Lost and Found" column which read, "Lost, a good line. Please return to La Verne."

The line has been returned and with interest. This was proved to the satisfaction of all La Verne rooters last Saturday night on Alumni field, Claremont, when the Leopard gridsters atoned for a 69-0 defeat at the hands of the Sagehens in 1929.

First La Verne Grid Victory

The Leopards drew a 6-0 win, which is their first grid victory over the Sagehens since the two schools have been meeting in turf conflicts. The fact that the Sagehens were supposed to be in the best shape they have been this season which makes the victory all the more sweet.

First Quarter Pomona's

The first quarter was decidedly a Pomona quarter with the Sagehens getting first to the 15-yard stripe where they lost the ball on downs, and then to the 10-yard line where they passed incomplete over the goal line.

Late in the first quarter Brooks and Captain Forney came into the game for La Verne. This seemed to be the spark the La Verne offensive needed, for it was not long before they started a march down the field which resulted in the lone La Verne touchdown. This march started when Forney recovered Nixon's fumble on the Pomona 37-yard stripe.

Brooks Scores

"Red" Montgomery tossed to Brooks for ten yards and a first down. Another pass, Brooks to Sam Rothrock, was good for a first down on the Blue 15-yard marker, and Brooks made five. "Red" then passed to Wright for three yards, and Brooks made a first down on the 5-yard line.

Brooks in two plays carried the ball to the 1-foot line and went over for the touchdown on the next play. His drop-kick for conversion was wide.

Later in this quarter the Leopards pushed to the Sagehens 10-

JUNIORS SELECT "DULCY" FOR PLAY

At last the junior class has selected its class play, "Dulcy."

"Dulcy" is the name of a rib-splitting three-act comedy written by S. Kaufman and Marc Connelly

The characters are not yet picked definitely, but within a few days the wife, husband, advertising manager and what have you will be announced.

The tentative date for the play has been set, December 16.

PEACE VS. ARMISTICE DAY

Parades, brass buttons, uniforms, guns, tin hats, and drum corps will once again be displayed on November 11. The spirit of Mars will live.

To be sure, we set aside November 11 as a national holiday—a day of peace. But so far as I can see, the peace idea is completely hidden from sight and war, the flashy, adventurous, thrilling war, is made alive in the eyes of .youth Perhaps the Legionnaires get a thrill out of parading up and down the streets, but to me it is only a selfish idea in the heads of foolish, childish men. They seem to think that the renewal of our militaristic glories is conducive to the promotion of peace. And still these same men wonder why many of the thoughtful citizens find something else to do on November 11. They wonder why thousands attend football games, visit friends or relatives, take trips, or play golf. If all that November 11 can offer is the great, big, horrible, Mars, then I say that all men would be better off if they did play golf.

I'm realizing, of course, that there are some sincere and honest people who are trying to educate children correctly and rightfully, and who still firmly believe that the way to do so is by the usual Armistice Day programs. For these people I am sorry, but for the selfish, foolish, childish men, I have no use. Peace is great, but I can't believe that anybody can see peace through the present celebration on our one great national peace day.

Dear Editor:

I've been waiting to express my feelings concerning our alumni until such an opportune time as is now presented by the selling of the Campus Times to all patrons of our Armistice Day game. The climax came after our humiliating defeat the hands of Oxy in the Rose Bowl. Many prominent alumni were overhead saying all kinds of beastly things. The Leopards were behind, hopelessly so, and the alumni wanted to get out and quickly before they would be forced to see Oxy score again. Our team was behind and therefore they were not worth supporting. The managers had no trouble keeping the dressing rooms clear that night. Our team had lost and the alumni were not interested.

This is the first school I've ever contacted (and I've been through a few) wherein the alumni was not a progressive and helping force in the active life of their Alma Mater.

The La Verne Alumni Association has every opportunity to live up to the life-long traditions of alumni associations. There's work to do at La Verne and plenty of it. A school spirit that will withstand anything, whether it be defeat upon defeat, should be just as vital a part of the alumni as it is a part of the student body.

Come on, alumni, snap out of it!

(Signed) GRACE WARD.

It seems (through local observation) that the favorite songs of lots of people is "When you Gum to the End of the Day."

MRS. HAUGH WRITES TO HER STUDENTS

My Dear, Dear Pupils:

I'm thinking of each one of you every day, and wishing I could be back with you as of yore.

Today—Thursday—I'm sitting on the back porch in the glorious sunshine, for which we should thank the lucky Democrats.

I wish I might invite you over to see me, for I am homesick for your "bright faces;" but my doctor says, "Not yet," for callers. I send thanks to you and faculty members for greetings, notes and flowers sent to me. Such remembrances mean more than you can know until sometime when you are a "shut-in."

Know that I am interested in your individual progress and when doctors says I may I'll be right back and "at 'em" again.

I'm glad for the success of the Public Speaking Class engagements and that we licked Pomona and hope La Verne makes Redlands eat dirt today.

EDITORIALS and FEATURES

GENERAL SCOPE OF HAWAIIAN HISTORY

"Ancient Polynesia, modern America; the Orient and the Occident; a busy port and a lazy tropical isle; a sophisticated metropolis and an idyllic bower of flowers."

The romantic history of the islands dates back to 1778, when Captain James Cooke, English explorer, discovered the islands. Kamehameha brought the islands under one rule in 1795; the monarchy was later overthrown for a Republican form of government in 1893; and in 1898 Hawaii, upon her own request, was annexed to the United States.

At this time whalers from all parts of the globe came to Hawaii to harpoon whales, and, thus, Hawaii became a thriving seaport. However, it took a few men with financial backing and alert and imaginative business minds to begin plantations and raise sugar cane and pineapples. Laborers were imported from the East and the West, those of the East making them better workmen. These individuals who started the business bought land and grew immensely rich from the profits thereof, and today it is not surprising to note that about five or six organizations or corporations own the whole, or, at least, have complete control of the sugar and pineapple industry in Hawaii.

At the present time the territory of Hawaii is an integral unit of the United States. The governor is appointed by the president, but the territorial legislature and other officers are elected by the people. The population of the territory is about 380,000.

KLEET KLATTER

By EDE

I can't figure out whether La Verne has really learned to tackle or if Pomona was playing with a half dead team.

Noticed once that they called time out for a man whom you wouldn't have given one chance in a hundred to live, then they lined up and he ran out for a pass fast enough to make a track team.

Wright said he never felt at home until he was lined up with one foot on or behind the goal line.

Sammy looked plenty good catching two passes and if the rest of the fellows had been running down under punts like he was maybe La Verne would have gotten a look at the other end of the field.

Ask Captain Forney what is the easiest way to lose 50 yards. Max played a fine defensive game, as well as doing some good blocking on offense.

Everyone will agree that "Cec" came into his own and, not to mention his ball carrying, he deserves much credit for staying calm and cool while kicking from behind the goal line about 50 times (slightly exaggerated).

The outstanding thing about the line is the fact that we were able to recognize we had one—and how!

It's quite a compliment when a coach coaches his team not to punt to a safety man, and sooner or later it gives an advantage to the receiving team—proved by the fact that Calvert "caught" a punt.

Noll played a whale of a game at his new position of tackle. He is working so hard that if we're not careful we won't have a 200 pound man on the team.

Nordstrom made a few men know he was around and that he had work to do, and he set about to do it.

All in all, the Pomona game was no place for a person with a weak heart to be—it was bad enough to have one when you left the game.

Keyhole Tidbits

From the looks of things La Verne and Pomona are not cramped for room by being in the same county. In fact, I think we are pretty good winners.

This week's portraits: Max Forney looking bashfully handsome. Dr. Hoover puzzling a whole class with a question and then announcing nobody knows the answer because it is "profound mystery."

I wonder why the residents of Miller Hall turn up their noses and say, "There goes the skunk!" when R. W. drives by in a tan Chevrolet coupe.

What a gorgeous moon! What perfect night! And yet I heard one pretty co-ed remark that they were all going to waste.

Do you realize how dazed Shepp really is? How far gone the semester is? How some people can study all the time?

Don't you like the idea of informal afternoon teas? They're so chatty and comfortable. By the way (and this is a secret), I hear that some Miller Hall co-eds are planning a unique Sunday afternoon fireside tea for after Thanksgiving when the football men quit training.

And that's all for this week,

TOMMY.

STUDENT SOCIAL LIFE

COLLEGE PRESIDENTS OF SO. CALIF. MEET

Max Forney attended the Southern California Association of Student Body Prexy's Tuesday evening at Pomona College.

Representatives from eight southern colleges ate dinner at Ferry's Hall. During the course of the evening Rice Ober from Occidental College, president of the group, led a discussion regarding athletic policies and factors of interest and disinterest in football as a college sport.

The next meeting of this group will weigh the problems of orientation of junior college transfers and graduate managers.

Colleges represented at this meeting were: Redlands, Pomona, La Verne, Santa Barbara, San Diego, Occidental and University of Southern California.

LEOPARDS WIN

La Verne Line Functions

Four times in the second half the Sagehens got within the ten-yard stripe but each time the Leopard line stiffened and held. At one time Pomona had a first down on the four-yard line. Two trys by Zabriskie placed the ball on the 1½ yard line but on the next play Gleek was hurled back to the three-yard line. The next play lost two yards for the Sagehens and the ball went into La Verne possession.

The final gun ended the contest with Pomona having a second down on the La Verne 9-yard line.

La Verne was on defense most of the game but they scored.

It is hard to pick any stars in such a game but Wright, Lathrop and Calvert played an outstanding defensive game, while Brooks seemed to be the spark in the offense.

The Hens would not punt to Montgomery, so he did not get much chance at returning punts.

Noll played well at his new position and Sam Rothrock showed he was varsity timber by turning in a good offensive game and getting down fast under punts. Plays didn't seem to work around his end either.

Captain Wyckoff was the only Pomona man who could snag passes. He nearly snagged too many.

Somfeld, Rodi and Nixon turned in a good game but Walker was the Blue's chief offensive threat.

C. E. OFFICERS ARE ELECTED IN MEETING

On Sunday evening, November 6, new officers were elected at the College Young People's Christian Endeavor meeting. Those who will take up new duties as C. E. officers are the following:

President, Vernon Heckman; vice-president, Esther Statler, secretary-treasurer, Frances Miller; chorister, Marvin Bolinger; pianist, Ida Kinney.

The voting took place after a brief talk by the out-going president, Arno Myers. Arno expressed his appreciation for the co-operation and help which he had received from his official helpers during his term in office.

GIRLS GROW FRISKY AT SLUMBER PARTY

November 4, 1932, Friday night the freshmen girls had the "time of their college life" thus far. Miss Mary Heffner, Miss Ruth McReynolds and Mrs. Holsinger of the dormity entertained the girls with a slumber party.

Each girl brought her own pillow case and sheet with her. It was a very informal affair which lasted from 8 o'clock until far, far into the night. During this time many frollicking, frisky games, tricks and stories composed the entertainment while freshly popped corn, roasted marshmallows, and juicy, red apples made up the refreshments. About 11 o'clock each girl chose her bed partner and was sent to bed, but for some time after that forward rolls, headstands, pillow fights and leaping from bed to bed as well as laughing, singing and talking served as entertainment on the side.

Anyone coming into the dormitory might have found at any hour, some freshman girl in the hall. The next morning at approximately 7:30 the girls had breakfast served to them in the cafeteria. This delicious meal consisted of fruit, toast and butter, and "gulali." The girls arrived home about 8 o'clock the following morning.

MODERN LANGUAGE CLUB HAS MEETING

A German program was a feature of the meeting of the Modern Language Club held last Tuesday night in the Y. W. C. A. room.

The president, Irene Blackerby, presided over the business meeting and Hazel Barnhart acted as secretary in the absence of Anna Messemer.

Mary Pence, a pledge, was initiated into the club. Prof. Miller had charge of the initiation.

Gladys Kittinger was in charge of the German program. Hazel Kennedy gave a talk on German poets and poetry, and Louise Willis gave a review of the German opera, "Rhinegold," by Richard Wagner.

Several interesting trips have been planned for the club in the near future.

ESTHER STATLER IS SURPRISED AT PARTY

The CN-10 club met last Monday evening at the home of Mrs. L. W. Brooks, as the guests of Evelyn Deardorff and Margaret Brooks, in order to bestow honor on several of its members.

The guests arrived at six-thirty and were waiting to shout "Happy Birthday" when Esther Statler arrived. The first part of the evening was spent enjoying the planned pot-luck supper, eaten by candle light. One other member was bestowed an honor seldom confered upon an individual.

The latter part of the evening was spent in deciding several very important business matters.

The rooms and table were very effectively decorated in two shades of green and white. An immense birthday cake with (?) candles revealed many of the secrets of Esther's future life. There will be years, yet, of hope, and joy, and probably anxiety.

SHAKESPEARE CLASS VISITS LIBRARY

Professor Brubaker's Shakespeare class visited the Huntington Library at San Marino Wednesday afternoon, November 9.

They visited the special Tudor drama exhibit which has been prepared at the suggestion of the Associated Colleges and Universities of the Pacific Southwest. It is a collection of the original plays of Shakespeare and literature of the sixteenth century.

The class also visited the art gallery, the mausoleum, cactus gardens, the Japanese gardens, and the grounds surrounding the Huntington Library.

Last Wednesday, November 2, the Historical Survey class made the same trip.

LEOPARD FROSH WALLOP WEBB

SENSATIONAL RUNS BY HARPER LEHMAN

Coach Dale Glick's Leopard Kitten football team completely outclassed Webb Tuesday afternoon, scoring eight touchdowns and four conversions for a grand score of 52 to 0.

The Frosh scored in every period and their defense was equally good, the Webb boys failing to make a first down. Harp Lehman, stellar back, started things off with a bang soon after the opening whistle when he raced 65 yards through a broken field to the initial touchdown. Bob Haines' educated toe accounted for the extra point. From this point the Frosh scored at will.

Lehman carried off individual honors with three long runs to touchdowns of 65 yards, 80 yards, and 102 yards, respectively. In addition his passing resulted in two more touchdowns. Johnny Itzanna's powerful thrusts at the line resulted in the other two scores.

The line play of the Kittens was much improved and was largely responsible for the large score.

Although there are only twelve men on the Frosh squad, Coach Glick has developed a strong team and they are expected to strengthen the varsity next year.

The line-up:

Webb		La Verne
Jaqua	LER	Davison
Maffet	LTR	Crago
Purcell	LGR	Vaniman
Jefferies	C	Haines (C)
Heckler	RGL	Chauncey
Darr	RTL	Harshbarger
Rossire	REL	Butterbaugh
Blackman	Q	Lehman
Hall	LHR	Arnold
Nolder	RHL	White
Cook (C)	F	Itzaina

Substitutions: For Webb—Richenbug and Heinz. For La Verne—Fessler and G. Harshbarger.

Touchdowns: Lehman, 3; Itzanna, 2; Davison, 1; White, 1; Fessler, 1.

Points after touchdown: Haines, 33 (kicks); Itzaina, 1 (buck).

JOIN THE RED CROSS

GAME TO DECIDE BULLDOG STATUS

REDLANDS BOASTS FLASHY PLAYERS

Friday afternoon at 2:30 p. m., the Redlands Bulldogs will invade the Leopards' lair to uphold their strong bid for the conference championship.

If they win the game they will have the championship whether or not they win from Whittier. The Leopards' defense is stronger than ever before and if the Bulldogs intend to go places they will have to have a punch that will be inspired. The Bulldogs have practically the same team that played the Leopards last year and defeated them 13 to 7, but the Leopards team last year had only four regulars playing on it.

Holiday, Redlands quarterback, is a brainy team director and also a fast and shifty runner, with ability to follow interference in a remarkable way. "Red" Montgomery, the Leopards' quarterback, is capable to match wits with Holiday and is just as fast and shifty, Schmidtman, the Redlands' fullback, is a husky young gentleman and can hit the line and back it up with zeal. He is making a strong bid for all-conference standing. Pee Wee Lathrop, who backs up the line for the Leopards, turned in a wonderful game against Pomona and Mr. Schmidtman will need all of his ability to outplay Pee Wee.

Forney and Brooks played a strong defensive game against Pomona, and they are expected to do the same, as well as making yards against Redlands. Both La Verne and Redlands have very strong lines and the battle that takes place between these two opposing forces should be a thrilling sight. McKenzie, Redlands' left guard, was all-conference man last year and is filling that position in a manner that more than worries his opponents.

Both teams are about equal on defense. Redlands has the odds on offense but they will need all of these odds to defeat the Leopards Friday afternoon, if they are lucky enough to do that.

Redlands, Cal Tech, 6-0.
La Verne, Pomona, 6-0.
Occidental, Santa Barbara, 20-0.

CONFERENCE DOINGS

Last week Redlands continued unbeaten in their climb for a conference championship only after a narrow escape from the awakened Cal Tech Engineers. Redlands eked out a 6-0 victory in which the victors appeared much weaker than the team which beat San Diego last week. Redlands has yet to meet two formidable foes in La Verne and Whittier and the loss of these two games will give the conference to Occidental or Whittier. Even La Verne has a mathematical possibility of winning.

Whittier came through with another victory, this time at the expense of San Diego. This game was won by the superiority of the Whittier subs who went in and scored a touchdown in the last few minutes after San Diego had tired badly. The final score was 18-14, thus leaving San Diego, one of the strongest teams in the conference, tied for last place.

After losing two games in succession, La Verne came back last week to defeat their old rival 6-0. It was a nip and tuck battle all the way with all the figures except the score favoring Pomona.

Occidental had an easy week-end in defeating Santa Barbara 20-0. It was a light workout with the Oxy backs scoring at will.

La Verne is back in the running with the big four and in the remaining games the team hopes to further advance in the standings.
