Miss Thompson

A short time ago a mixed chorus of La Verne College students was organized under the direction of Miss Maybelle Thompson, who is substituting this year for Prof. Haugh, as head of the piano and voice department of the College. In spite of a very rushed year, the Chorus has done remarkably well, and on Tuesday evening, Feb. 1st, at 8 o'clock, will give a concert in the College auditorium. An admission of fifty cents will be charged. Tickets are on sale at Kenyon's Pharmacy.

Miss Thompson and Miss Pauline Miller, who is the accompanist for the Chorus, will assist in the program. Miss Miller is a piano teacher in the school. She plays beautifully and will render some piano numbers. Miss Thompson will give some vocal solos—this is her first appearance before the La Verne public.

FAREWELL FOR THE BLICKENSTAFFS

An entertainment was given at the church on Monday evening, January 23rd, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Blickenstaff and family, who expect to sail for India on the 8th of February. The first part of the evening was made quite interesting by the delightful supper served in cafeteria style. Because of the great number of people to be served, it was a long time before they could all indulge. The auditorium in the new building was filled, and many ate outside.

After the supper was eaten, the last time in which most of the people could indulge with the Blickenstaffs, a program was rendered.

Prof. Funderburgh's talk in behalf of Mr. Blickenstaff was the chief part of the program, after which the people moved into the main building and were given a wonderful treat in the form of a lecture on India by Mr.

DR. W. S. HALL ADDRESSES STUDENTS

The students of La Verne College were very fortunate in having with them Dr. Winfield S. Hall on Thursday afternoon, Jan. 27th. As a physician, Dr. Hall is widely known. During the war he spent the greater part of his time lecturing to the soldiers. Since that time he has lectured to thousands of college men and women along the line of "Ideal Manhood and Womanhood."

At four o'clock Thursday afternoon he lectured to the young men of La Verne College on the subject of "The Basis of Real Manhood." This lecture was an opportunity of a life time to any young man. Dr. Hall then went to the Ladies Hall and there gave an instructive, interesting lecture to the young women of the college.

CADMAN MESSER CONCERT

The College has been very fortunate in securing Mr. Charles Wakefield Cadman, the famous composer and pianist, to give a concert here as one of the numbers on the Music and Lecture course.

He was first announced to appear some time in January. Later the date was set for February 5th, but since that time it has been learned that the vocalist who accompanies him, Miss Margaret Messer, cannot be here on that date, and hence a change was necessary. The concert will be given on the evening of February 19th.

Higginbottom, a returned missionary from that place. He spoke forcibly and impressively of the vast needs of India.

When Mrs. Ellis asked "What is your conception about eating in heaven," Elva spoke up quickly, "Why Mrs. Ellis, I'd always planned on it."

INDOOR GIRLS BRING HOME THE BACON

One of the interesting Girls' Baseball games of the season was played with Bonita on their grounds last Friday afternoon. With Margaret as pitcher and Frances as catcher, the opposing team would have to work real hard to win. At the game the other day, all the girls showed they were quite skilled in catching flies.

The Bonita girls lead out with the score, but our girls soon caught up and stayed ahead of them the rest of the game, which was over before our girls could realize it, with a score of 7 to 4 in La Verne's favor.

THE END OF AN IMPERFECT MONTH

When you come to the end of a trying month

And you sit alone with your Pa,
Did you ever get what we call a hunch
That you'd better have gone to Ma?
When you see Pa glare at your little white card,

And then see him glare at you,
Does your heart go flippity-flop real hard,

And your face turn a deathly hue?
Well, this is the end of a well known song,

And the end of an interview, too;
But the pain it leaves is bitter and strong

And you promise to strive anew;
For memory has painted this little chat

With colors that never fade—
When you find that you've come to the end of the month, Minus a passing grade.

LOVING CUP FOR THE WINNERS OF THE INTER-CLASS DEBATE

Friday, January 21, was another Student Assembly Period. The most important feature of the program was the presentation of a loving cup, awarded by Mr. D. S. Newcomer, as a reward to the winners of the Academy Inter-Class Debate. Mr. Netzley, Commissioner of Debating, is probably the one to whom thanks is due for giving the Academy classes an opportunity to enter such a contest. He has aroused a great deal of school spirit on the debating question, and we hope that each Academy class will go into this activity with a vim to win, and not turn out to be "roosters."

Student Program

It is the plan of the Commission to launch another Student Benefit program before long, as the treasurer of the aforesaid student body is almost minus a job. Students, get together and co-operate with us in attempting to make this program a rousing success.

Commission Office

The Commission have, for a long time, felt that owing to the numerous important questions which were placed to their discussion, it was altogether proper and fitting that they should be provided with a regular room in which they could convene without the usual disturbances. At last their hopes are realized, for the old parlor has been fitted up and it will be, hereafter, the main station of the Commission operations.

LIGHT WEIGHTS VICTORIOUS IN FIRST TWO GAMES

LA VERNE TROUNCES THE POLY NIGHT SCHOOL

Wednesday, January 26th, the La Verne light weights annexed their first game of the A. A. U. tournament by defeating L. A. Polytechnic night school by the one-sided score of 18 to 39.

In spite of the one-sided score, the game was fast and exciting thruout. At the end of the first half, the score stood 16 to 7 in La Verne's favor, and at the start of the last half Poly took a spurt, gaining 10 points, and raising their score to 17. But they only succeeded in getting one more point the remainder of the game, while La Verne kept going their usual speed.

Fundy seemed possessed of a great desire to run up the score, and ran wild thruout the game, dropping in goals from every angle. He was the individual star of the game, but Beckner came through with 13 points, which was a good day's work.

Too much credit cannot be given those two "skeeter" guards, Root and Jordan, for they were in the tustle from the start, and Poly's forwards always found them decidedly in their way every time they started for the goal. Thomas also played a fighting game at center, but wasn't very lucky in shooting.

This is the first time our men have played against a team of their own weight, and the ability of the team can be estimated fairly, when not handicapped by great odds in weight as has been the case in all of our games before.

SCHEETER TEAM GOES TO LONG BEACH

Friday evening at 7:45, the Skeeter Weight team of L. V. C. played the Long Beach 130-pound team. It was a fast and hard fought game all the way through. The first five minutes, Long Beach lead L. V. C. by five points. Then things began to happen.

Our guards and forwards got busy and the score began to pile up in La Verne's favor. At the end of the first half, the score was 12 to 18 in favor of L. V. C.

During the five minutes intermission, Long Beach resolved to fight harder, but of no avail, for L. V. C. resolved the same thing. The first ten minutes of the second half Long Beach didn't even score. The La Verne Light Weights were fighting to double the score, and in carrying out the resolution, the opponents were helpless. Long Beach only got two more goals.

About the middle of the second half Thomas went out on fouls, and H. Landis played center. Herman held up his end and continued the fight. Fundy and Beckner began to roll in the goals like clock-work. At last the whistle blew, and the final score stood 19 to 45 in favor of the Skeeters.

Below is the schedule for the coming A. A. U. tournament, so watch the "skeeters" and do your bit in boosting and supporting them:

Championship Tournament

Jan. 22—La Verne at Long Beach
Jan. 31—Alhambra at Claremont
Feb. 2—La Verne at Glendale
Feb. 4—La Verne at Whittier
Feb. 11—La Verne at Alhambra
Feb. 14—Glendale at Claremont
Feb. 17—Whittier at Claremont
Feb. 21—L. A. Poly at Claremont
Feb. 24—Long Beach at Claremont

LA V. COLLEGE vs: U. S. C.

On Tuesday evening, January 18, the College Basketball team played the U. S. C. quintet on their home court. The game resulted in the close score of 37 to 31 in favor of the Trojans.

A small, but loyal rooting section represented La Verne. It is to be regretted that more students were not able to go to Los Angeles and support the team. The gymnasium was crowded with spectators who came to see the double header. U. S. C. Frosh and Chaffey Junior played the first game, the La Verne-U. S. C. game immediately following.

In the first half of the game, the Wildcats met the U. S. C. varsity. The plucky little fighting team upheld the reputation of La Verne by holding the score to 21 to 7 at the end of the first half.

When the whistle blew for the second half, la! a new team appeared, posing as U. S. C. second team. Some side line fans, authorities on all things say that the first team was completely exterminated by our Wildcats. Our men certainly did burn the floor, for during the last half they shot goals right and left. They made 24 points against the ever-weakening U. S. C. men.

STUDENTS ATTEND VOLUNTEER CONVENTION

Sherwood Eddy Speaks

Saturday afternoon and evening, Jan. 22, sixty from La Verne attended the Southern California Student Volunteers Union Conference in Los Angeles. The meetings were held at U. S. C. in the Y. M. C. A. building, which was crowded to its limit. About three hundred Student Volunteers were present, representing eight different schools. The conference was an inspiration to everyone who attended.

OUR INTER-COLLEGIATE ATTITUDE

La Verne has figured for the first time this year in College athletics of Southern California. We have had a Basketball team that has made a good showing against their rivals, and we have a promising future ahead of us.

Athletic teams are of value to us in gaining a standing among other Colleges, in giving us new ideas for school government, and also in obtaining new students.

Several years ago it was my good fortune to go to Redlands University and arrange for a debate. They knew nothing about La Verne, but were much interested. We arranged for a Girls' Debate, and also for a Boys' Debate. The boys lost 2 to 1, but the girls defeated Redlands 3 to 0. This gave us an acquaintance with a few of Redlands' students.

The next year we took a Basketball team to Redlands and gave them a very close game. By this time we were known in Redlands, and through their kindness and assistance, we have slowly forged our way into College athletics, and next year hope to enter the Athletic Conference of the Colleges of Southern California. Thus, by means of our teams, we are known in Southern California, and now we are invited to all inter-collegiate functions, such as the Volunteer Convention, College Girls' Conferences, and Oratorical contests.

Visiting these surrounding colleges, meeting their men and women in contests, and associating with them in a social way, has given us new ideas of student life and social conduct. We realize more fully that our lives should not be lived selfishly, but that we should recognize the rights of others and especially those of the faculty. When we are permitted to attend practically every school function, we should not become "peevish" when a ruling is passed for the good of the school, even though it brings us a little personal discomfort.

Our college faculties everywhere are working for the best interests of all. Why should we not do everything possible in advancing our school, socially, intellectually and athletically, although it does require sacrifice on our part? This inter-collegiate association has helped us to a larger vision of the rights of others. We know what other institutions of learning idealize and they see by our conduct what we idealize.

Another value of inter-collegiate athletics is of attracting students. This is of importance especially in our situation. We have just become a standardized college, not widely known, and with a small student body. If we do not have good athletics, we cannot expect the successful athlete in a High School to come to a College where he must bury his talent. A strong, well-trained, sportsmanlike team will do more in attracting strong, robust, ambitious young men and thoughtful young women than several thousand dollars in advertisement.

Help make our teams the best in Southern California. Do your part in enlarging our inter-collegiate activity so that we may benefit to a greater extent from these associations.

BIG FOUR CLUB ORGANIZED

Philomathean and Alphan Literary Societies have been dead ever since school started, and thus the Academy Department of La Verne College has been without an active literary society, which need most of the students have severely felt. The lack of literary societies means a lack of good wholesome programs, a lack of socials a lack of the development of the latent talents lying in every student. It means that students will spend their time foolishly, perhaps at a cheap show, instead of developing their literary abilities.

A few of the students who felt these needs most keenly, met and discussed plans for the organization of a new club. Then six from each class who promised to support the organization became charter members. Another meeting was called and suggestions for a name for the club were brought and voted upon. "The Big Four Club"—"B. F. C." was selected.

The constitution was read and adopted. The Club is governed by an Executive Board, consisting of a General Chairman, Chairmen of Program Committee, Social Committee, Membership Committee and Finance Committee. At this meeting the following officers were elected:

General Chairman—Herman Moomaw

Chairman of Program Committee—Cecil Brower

Chairman of Social Committee—Jeanette King

Chairman of Membership Committee—Ora Weddle

Chairman of Finance Committee—Wayne Bohn

It is the aim of the Club to hold one meeting each week. Of these, one half are to be interesting and instructive programs, and the other half socials. Since the election of officers, there has been but one meeting in the form of a social.

The members of the Club are looking forward to many good times as well as a development of more real

BILL WRITES HOME

La Verne, Cal., Jan. 31, 1921

Dere brother Zeke:

How are you and the rest at home? Anything exciting happened sense you rote to me? Things have bin rather lively sense I rote to you. Say, Zeke, you shud be here now. I don't think that La Verne College has ever bin so peppy. Some of the big guys of this school got some school spirit and sed they was going to start a BIG 4 Club. This club met the other nite.

Saterdag evening, the 22nd, came as usual, without anything in particular for the majority of stewdents to do. But you knok, Zeke, where theres a majority there is also some minority, and this time the minority had the fun, while the rest went on as usual. The "Big 4 Club" is an Academy organization, whose soul purpose is for entertainment and literary activities and held its first social.

This social almost took the form of a bankwet, the only thing lackin was the big eats. You know me, Zeke. But what is that when a good time is in store. The members enjoyed themselves from seven o'clock until ten, playing games and having the bankwet. Zeke, when I get home, I'll show you how they act and what they do at a bankwet. Society like, you know. Don't forget, Zeke.

One very interesting game which is being proposed as one of the degrees of initiation was an introduction to the Bottle Lodge. Now, Zeke, you don't know what that is, but I'll tell you when I get home. Now don't get excited and think that we have lost our minds, or are very young, because neither is the case. You simply join the Bottle Lodge, that's all. Each member gets a chance at it. Don't you wish you was here, Zeke? I do. You will cum next year, won't you?

At nine thirty the bankwet started. With some it came to an end at nine forty, but the rest continued until a kid named Weddle spilled his drink on his good suit and rather discolored his nek ty, and then he quit. Funny what people will sometimes do, ain't it Zeke. Specially boys like Weddle.

The majority of the Big 4's started home feeling very well. Some of the

TRIO CELEBRATE

Sunday, January 30th, was the birthday celebration day for Lindsay-ites. At noon eight people stopped at the J. L. Miller home, and surprised Naomi Harshbarger, as she thought she was the only invited guest. After a big dinner and much fun in watching Naomi blow out the 21 candle lights on her birthday cake, they waited in suspense to see who got the pieces of cake with the ring, nickle and button in it. Then the girls, Misses Naomi Harshbarger, Ruth Emley, Lois Miller and Beulah Noll, adjourned to the parlor while the Messrs. George Hollenberg, Albert Reed and Herman Landis adjourned to the kitchen and washed the dishes.

Again at 8:15 a group of 18 young people assembled at J. L. Miller's home to celebrate the birthdays of the Misses Naomi Harshbarger and Velma Noll, and Mr. Ora Weddle. The evening was very enjoyably spent by all gathering around the piano and singing, and by listening to piano solos and trios. After the serving of light refreshments of fruit salad and cake, the young people sang some more, and after wishing the host and hostesses well, they departed.

Those present were the Misses Naomi Harshbarger, Velma Noll, Flora Mae Gaunt, Hazel Minnich, Rowena Davis, Ethel Booth, Ruth Emley, Lois Miller, Estella Landis and Beulah Noll; and the Messrs. Ora Weddle, Zaphon Hartman, Herman Landis, George Hollenberg, Quinter Hollenberg, Albert Reed, Ernest Root and Joe Davis.

When you see a Valentine in Frasher's Shop display, you just can't help sending one to some certain little maid. Of course, there are slushy ones, and giddy, and lacy ones, too, but best of all, the dainty one, hand decorated and engraved. Messages to suit anyone to whom you wish to send a bit of merriment.

BETHANY GIRLS HAVE FREAK PARTY

Anyone stepping into the home of Dorothy and Frances Arnold on the evening of the 17th, would never have imagined that he was in the presence of a group of dignified young ladies of La Verne College; but such they were. The freaks were all rare species and varied from Huckleberry Finn to Topsy. The greatest commotion was caused when Maurine Miller entered, as Sweet Susie, the rag baby, and spoke not a word. For two long hours—120 minutes—1700 seconds—she uttered no sound. It was appalling; but at least every one was relieved, and it seemed that the world was again moving in its rightful course when Maurine's voice was heard.

The games were in keeping with the occasion. Much merriment was added by several musical (?) numbers presented by the freak orchestra, under the able direction of Grace Forney.

The climax was reached when newspaper napkins were passed and refreshments were served in bowles. Anyone desiring to know how a delicious dish may be prepared from cake, crackers, cheese, olives, fruit salad and whipped cream, see the eats committee.

Miss Isabell Ely entertained a party of her girl friends at her home Wednesday evening, Jan. 19. Miss Ruth Blickenstaff, bride-to-be, was perfectly innocent as to being the honored guest, and after a pleasant evening, was nearly at an end, was indeed surprised to find herself the victim of a "shower," in which she found numerous useful and beautiful gifts. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess.

The invited guests were Miss Ruth Blickenstaff, Mrs. G. A. Hipes, of Long Beach, Ruth Barnhizer, Wilma Klinzman, Rhoda Price, Hazel Minnich, Olive Stouffer, Pauline Miller, Mrs. H. W. Frantz, and Gladys Gospel

Hazel Calvert, '19, writes from Ashton, Illinois, that she is enjoying her work, training the youthful minds. It may be all right when they have minds to train, but some of our "juveniles" have been pronounced hopeless.

A bit of the frigid zone has extended into our sunny Southern California, as is usual in the winter. On Monday morning the mountains were covered with snow almost down to the foothills. With the early morning sun shining clear and bright, the scene was magnificent, and many of the students tramped to the mountains where lively snow fights ensued. As the snow melted from the lower range the "L" stood out clear and white against the dark background, forming as beautiful a picture as any loyal student might wish to see. The "L" is often pointed out to tourists thru the valley who never heard of our college, and it is greatly admired by all who see it.

HOLD-UP 25c EACH FOR STUDENT BODY TREASURY

"I surely got my money's worth," declared those who attended the entertainment, given by the Commissioners Saturday night, to the La Verne students as a grand reaction from their wearisome examinations. Of course, it was peppy, because the negro minstrels were so funny and their songs so jazzy, keeping time to the music with the rolling of their eyes. Oh, yes, the band was good, and the trapeze work, but the best was Dr. Netzley with his hypnotic stunts. Could his subjects have come to, and heard themselves selling corn plasters and canary bird eyebrows, I'm sure they could not have sympathized with the laughing audience. But alas, it was nearly a tragedy, for when the victims were so completely overpowered by the doctor's Magnetic force, one refused to wake up, and

bring La Verne Academy Department honor and fame.
So every one should boost and push the "B. F. C." and give it loyal support; for only those who are willing to work will be admitted. Let's make this club a big thing and in this way strengthen school spirit as well as furnish entertainment and a good time

Some have wondered why four or more shouldn't ride in the back seat of a car. Mrs. Sheldon recently carried the doctrine to its logical conclusion when she spoke of talking to twelve or more young people before her on a chair.

Shaven:—I hear Landing was hit by a street car.
Shorn:—Did he recover damages?
Shaven:—Well, no! He didn't even recover consciousness.

STUDENTS ATTEND VOLUN. CONVENTION

session was held, in which each college reported the number in its Band.
La Verne, with its 54 volunteers, 22 of whom are foreign volunteers, and its 46 associate members, ranked first in this respect. The afternoon speakers were Bromley Oxnam and Sam Higginbottom.

After this session each delegation met separately, and registered and bought tickets for the banquet and evening meeting. The dinner was served in the U. S. C. cafeteria. Each delegation had its own group of tables La Verne had the largest representation, 56; the next highest being the Bible Institute with 53. At the dinner, everyone had a good time. Each school sang songs and gave school yells. A splendid spirit was manifested.

The evening session began at 7:30.
By 7:00 the Y. M. C. A. building was rapidly filling, everyone anxious to get a place.

Mr. Henderson conducted the meeting and Mr. Robinson led the song service again. Both these men are U. S. C. volunteers. The speakers of the evening were Sam Higgenbottom, Mrs. Sherwood Eddy and Sherwood Eddy. It was not only what they said that meant so much to the students, but the lives that were back of the words.

Mr. Higginbottom, who is a pioneer agricultural missionary to India, spoke of his experiences there. In the evening he told of his work with lepers. These unfortunates can teach us many lessons in giving. He said that the richest experiences of his life came from the job he didn't want.
If we put our lives into God's purpose, wherever it leads, we will find peace within.

Mrs. Eddy told some experiences with the women and girls of China.
She said that education alone, fails—they must have the Christian religion.
One educated Chinese woman said,
"We women of China are like women in the bottom of a well. Only one ray of light reaches us, the rest is darkness. You women of America live on the mountain top where all is light. We plead for help. We want to come into the glorious light."

Sherwood Eddy spoke of the present world crisis. We are in a period of great transition. The world is still fighting for democracy, freedom and righteousness. China is plunged from medievalism into the modern world.
China's only hope is Christian leadership. Then Mr. Eddy gave the volunteers three guiding principles.
He said:

First, you are going to the field at the hardest time in all history. There is intense national, racial and class feeling. Go in the spirit of Christ,

IF IT'S GOOD TO EAT WE HAVE IT!

easily won with a score of 6 to 0.
The nine innings were played in an unusually short time, and the girls almost felt able to meet their next opponents immediately afterward. A great deal more spirit was shown from the sidelines than is usually no-fact. Dayton Newcomer umpired the entire game. Yea, verily, boys, the
