NEW ERA BANQUET TONIGHT IN GYMNASIUM

100 Per Cent Attendance Expected of LaVerne Students

Science Lectures Were Greatly Educational

VAST KNOWLEDGE OF SUBJECTS IS EXHIBITED BY SPEAKER

Personal Experience as Exemplified by Lantern Slides and Illustrations Endowed Lecturer With Ability to Present Subject.

Prof. Nininger, a man of much traveling experience and a widely renowned scientist from McPherson College, delivered four excellent lectures in the College Auditorium, on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons and Tuesday and Thursday evenings.

The subjects of his lectures, which radiate interest themselves, were: "Meteorites," "Prehistoric Animals," and "Carlsbad Cavern." Prof. Nininger's subjects, being very different, attracted very much interest individually, besides the general interest in the series of lectures. To add variety and more interest to the lectures, he showed some highly illustrative pictures which pleased everyone.

The lecture on, and the pictures of "Carlsbad Cavern" proved to be one of the most interesting lectures because Prof. Nininger had been there himself and vividly portrayed the cavern in the imagination of everyone by the way he told it. The pictures of the wonderful formations of the stalactites and stalagmites were also very beautiful to look at.

The interest displayed in this one lecture was manifested throughout the series and was a fitting climax.

In his other lectures he told many interesting things about the prehistoric animals, especially of this section of the country, and of meteorites and birds.

One of the main points he held out to everyone was to preserve our gifts of nature, such as forests, birds, etc., and study history and things of the past, for from these one may understand the present and appreciate it more.

Student Volunteers Convention at U. S. C.

The fall student Volunteers' Conference was held Friday and Saturday, October 21 and 22, at U. S. C. in the Y. M. C. A. Hut.

There were many inspiring speakers and the spirit of the conference was that of fellowship and good will. Each one was made to feel as if he "belonged," for all the people met on the basis of a common aim. The aim of service for others, in obedience to the "Great Commission," as given by the Saviour, Jesus Christ.

The banquet occurred on Friday evening and Occidental College furnished the fun.

Ruth Weaver gave the welcoming speech, after which Dr. D. W. Kurtz made the main address of the evening: "Christ, the Solution of the Human Problem." It will be remembered that he gave the same one in LaVerne some weeks ago. Mrs. Ruth (Continued on Page Three)

Don Miller, "ye editor" of The Campus Times, has been working hard all year to stir up interest and enthusiasm in his staff of editors of The Campus Times. Howard Frantz, the business man, has been working equally hard and quite efficiently with his large staff of advertising managers and circulation department members.

The two men have gotten their heads together and have worked out rules for a contest to be participated in by the members of the various departments.

The contest is to be of a three-fold nature, a separate division for each of three departments, namely: news department, advertising department, and circulation department.

The rules for this contest will be posted in the Campus Times room for all who may be interested.

Personality is of greater value than the body we live in. The body will perish, but the personality lives on forever.

Education Classes Start Practice Teaching

The Practise Teaching Class under Prof. R. C. Cullen took up their teaching duties proper on Monday, October 24th. The first three weeks of school were spent observing methods and studying the pupils by visiting the various grammar school classes. Following this, they helped to register the minors of LaVerne in an effort to become acquainted with the patrons.

Each will teach in the Grammar School five hours each week. They are organized as follows: Marion Boots teaches Math to the seventh grade and physical education in the Mexican School. Lola Ramsey, sixth grade English; Ruth Stoner, fifth grade geography; Genevieve Page, fourth grade art and History; Ruth Blocher, seventh grade History and seventh and eighth grade cooking; Ralph Schrock, Orchestra; Ethel Drescher, second grade; Edythe Miller, second grade; Reatha Rensberger, fourth grade, Reading and Spelling; Mary Messamer, fifth grade, Reading and History.

Bruce Grey Visits College on Monday

Bruce Gray, traveling secretary for the Student Volunteer movement, visited the College Monday, October 31, and was open to conferences during the day after speaking to the Y. M. C. A. group at the weekly meeting in the morning.

Mr. Gray is a graduate of the University of Toronto, Canada. He comes with an international outlook and an attitude favoring world-wide brotherhood. The students who took advantage of his visit received beyond doubt a vision of world affairs.

Mr. Grey also occupied the pulpit at the Church of the Brethren Sunday evening.

Large Attendance Is Expected at Feast

HISTORIC BACKGROUND RECOGNIZED AS STIMULUS FOR FUTURE

Dr. D. W. Kurtz to Be Main Speaker of the Evening—Constituency to Join in Making Program Worthy of Occasion.

The New Era Banquet, which is to be held on Tuesday, November 1st, at 7 o'clock in the LaVerne College Gymnasium, will mark the first anniversary of the new era of LaVerne College. On November 1st, 1926, the College formally moved from the old building into Founders' Hall, the new administration building. It was indeed the beginning of a new era; in one short year LaVerne College has grown from a little over a hundred to more than two hundred students. It now has full accreditation with the State Board of Education and the assurance from the university that graduates who have a high grade of scholarship will be admitted to that institution with full standing as candidates for higher degrees.

This benefit program is to become an annual event hereafter. The object of the banquet this year is to provide funds for library books. The trustees of the College have voted $5,000 for this purpose and any individual who purchases one or more $25 tickets will make a very definite contribution to the "New Era" of the College.

Contributions are coming in daily from all over the country. It is anticipated that 500 will be in attendance as well as one hundred per cent of the student body. The students have displayed a splendid amount of (Continued on Page Four)

McPherson Students Give Chapel Program

Three of the McPherson students addressed the student body Thursday morning. Mr. Jack Lehman was chairman of the group and introduced Mr. Richardson and Mr. Elrod.

Mr. Richards told about camp life and their experiences with it. He also portrayed some of the unusual characteristics shown by various individuals in the traveling school. Mr. Eby delighted in the scenery found in Yosemite but said that it could not be compared to the beauty of some of the LaVerne girls. Prof. Nininger lost some of his peace qualities when trying to drive a bear away.

Mr. Elrod gave some of the values of a traveling school. He said that the personal contact which one gets with other students and leading men of schools and cities is very valuable.

CALENDAR

Nov. 1—7-10, College Banquet.
Nov. 6—Revival meetings begin.
Nov. 11—Armistice Day.
Nov. 19—Y. W. C. A. Feast of Nations.
Nov. 23—Thanksgiving vacation begins.

To the freshman, college is the realization of a long dreamed-of dream, a sort of intellectual paradise. He has looked forward through all the years when he, too, may achieve collegiate honor. Now that he has reached the beginning of a college life, he finds the spirit and atmosphere very much alive. Even though the upper division men prefer to show him his fitting place as a beginner, "a green freshie," he feels the exuberant spirit and gets the laugh out of it.

College is a wonderful place in which each freshman may gain stores of knowledge, worlds of experience, and many joys. He has adjusted himself to his new surroundings, and having caught the thrilling, forward-reaching spirit of this school, he expects to do many things. The helping hand, the ready advice and friendliness have harbored many freshmen over the first hard lap of the way, and now that they are started well, they must work hard, play hard, and loyally support the activities and spirit of their Alma Mater.

Men's Forensic Work Begun In Earnest

Men's forensic activities at LaVerne were given a good start when those so interested met Monday, October 31, under the leadership of Lorell Weiss, Commissioner of Forensics, and outlined the greater activities for the year.

Tryouts for the conference extemporaneous speaking contest which is to be held at the University of Redlands, November 22, will be held next Monday. Five or six men are to compete for the honor of representing LaVerne. The general subject is, "The Relation of the Press to American Life."

Debate tryouts will be held in the near future. The question for conference debate revolves around the policy of intervention of American armed troops for the interest of American capital in foreign lands. This question lacks nothing in quality of timeliness. Competition will be strong in this part of the forensic work.

One acquires a large scope of ideas by associating with so many different people. A traveling school is valuable also because it corrects a great number of false impressions which one receives from books. He said he had the idea that Southern California was one beautiful park, but found out that it was desert and mountains with just a few fertile valleys between, most of these being man made. Another value of a traveling school, as given by Mr. Elrod, is the opportunity of seeing things in their natural state. Just as a bird seems most beautiful in its native home, so all of nature's wonders seem best in their original setting.

This is the last time the student body will be permitted to hear the McPherson students, as they departed Friday morning. May they have great success on the remainder of their trip.

Grand Piano Benefit Is Worthy Affair

ENTIRE PROGRAM OF STUDENTS IS ONE OF BEST EVER PRESENTED

Lois Martho Miller Is Given Great Honor and Praise for Directing Such a Unique and Outstanding Affair.

The grand piano benefit program was successfully staged Friday night, October 28.

It was a unique arrangement of opera selections, presented in the setting of an evening garden scene. Lighting and costuming were successful in creating appropriate atmosphere.

The curtain raiser was a piano duet by Verda and Edna MBrubaker. "A Little Bit of Spice" was cleverly presented by the Junior Clarion Four. The Lyric Trio, Erma Saladin, Hilda Brubaker and Verda Brubaker, sang a group of songs in costume.

Cecilia Shaffer, in dainty colonial dress, gave a delightful arrangement of "Traumerei," using a violin solo to introduce the reading.

Between the scenes Nellie Frantz entertained with readings.

The second part of the entertainment was a Gypsy scene, given by a chorus of 20 voices, who sang the Anvil Chorus. Those who had solo parts in the scene were Ernest Carl, "Anvil Song," and "The Smuggler," Emerson Button, "Toreador Song," Erma Saladin, "Habanera," Edith Blickenstaff, "Gypsy Trail," Naomi Metzger, "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice," Glenn Vaniman, "Gypsy Love Song," and Joe Hoffman, "Dreams of Long Ago." Other features were: Duets by Edith Blickenstaff and Emerson Button, and Joe Hoffman and Gladys Ikenberry; the grand march and the Soldiers' Chorus.

It was one of the most unique programs which was ever offered by the LaVerne student body. Lois Martho Miller, professor of piano, arranged the program and had charge of presenting it. The proceeds will be used to meet payment of the concert grand piano which was installed in the auditorium last November.

Special Speaker Is Heard by Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. had the privilege of hearing Miss Helen Price, traveling secretary of this division of the Asilomar, Monday morning.

Miss Price spoke of the condition of Europe and of the mistrust that is prevalent among the citizens of those countries. She then told how these ideas were being replaced by trust and confidence through the work of the student associations.

She spoke particularly of the turmoil in China. The latest reports from there show that although there is much unrest and strife, yet the spiritual progress is great, and that the Chinese students still have faith and courage and they feel that things will be all right in the end.

LET THE SINNERS PAY FOR THEIR SINS

For some time it has been noticed that certain supposedly friendly nations who owe the United States gigantic sums of money have been making desperate efforts to be released from their debts. They ask for pity and call the Americans "bloodsucking capitalists." They say that the United States is trying to drive them into the ground; tax them to death.

Yes, the poor things! The people that are making all the fuss sure pity their poor people who have to pay the taxes. And we pity them too, but in a different way. They are being taxed to death but are not making any effort to stop some of the other things which are taxing them so heavily.

For instance, a large percentage of their taxes is going to support gigantic armies. If these countries would eliminate armies they could pay their war debts with little trouble, but instead, they wish to throw away the debts of the past war and go on preparing for a newer, greater conflagration.

We, as Americans, should not allow these war debts to be canceled unless these countries absolutely cancel all steps to war. All our efforts for world peace will be thrown to the winds the instant we cancel their debts. Why? These nations now are highly armed and fortified. They are prepared for war but they are so depleted in credit that they cannot support a great war unless the United States releases their debts, which would virtually lead to the re-establishment of their credit abroad. It would allow them to concentrate all their efforts on preparation for war which would soon take place, for it is an old truth that a man who is looking for a fight is apt to find one. And so it is with a nation.

America in no way should release these nations from a debt which would merely put them in a position whereby they could fight.

It seems just a little queer how nations who have experienced war in such forceful language as some of the European nations have, have not learned yet that war is causing them much grief. At least, if they do know it, it does not seem to affect them, for they are today preparing desperately to get into another fight. They don't seem to realize the cost of war. America should make them see just another glimpse of what it really costs. If they realized this, they might realize to a slightly fuller degree what war means.

A STUDY IN BOOKS BY MEN WHO KNOW

Collected by Don C. Miller

"Some books are to be tasted, others to be swallowed, and some few to be chewed and digested."—Francis Bacon.

"A blessed companion is a book—a book that is fitly chosen is a lifelong friend."—Douglas Jerrold.

"Books, like proverbs, receive their chief value from the stamp and esteem of ages through which they have passed."—Sir William Temple.

"A good book is the precious life-blood of a master-spirit, embalmed and treasured up on purpose to a life beyond life."—John Milton.

"The foolishness of a book is a kind of leaky boat on a sea of wisdom; some of the wisdom will get in anyhow."—Oliver W. Holmes.

"If a man wants to read good books, he must make it a point to avoid bad ones; for life is short, and time and energy limited."—Schopenhauer.

"In books lies the soul of the whole past time."

MONOLOGUE OF A LADY AT A FOOTBALL GAME

"Oh, my stars! Look at the funny way those men crouch on the field. Tee-hee! They look so funny! Oh! They're all tangled up. I wonder—E-e-e-k! That big fat man with the rolled sox grabbed that nice-looking boy right around the ankles and tripped him. I think that's awful. O-o-h, oh stars! He almost made a touchdown (jumping up and down and pounding man in front of her on the head). E-e-k! Look! Oh—if he—be careful or—O-o-h! (kicking man in front of her enthusiastically.) He did it—I knew he—Oh, dear! Too bad.

Now why is that man standing out there with his arms raised like that? He seems to be mumbling—Oh, I see—He's calling signals, you say? Well—I thought he was praying—Well, I've read of players doing that before a game. Still, I don't see how the Lord could be interested in ball games with so many other—Oh, my stars! Did you see that kick? If he hadn't fumbled that ball they would have made a touchdown.

"Oh, goodness me! I didn't mean to—Well, I'm very sorry, I'm sure. I didn't mean to kick you—I'm very emotional and naturally when my team is winning—Well, I don't think much of your spirit (turning to friend)—I declare, some people are so touchy. Why, the game is almost over. How time fidgets, or whatever they say. The other team will win, all right. Well, these men ought to sit some place else if they want quiet—O-o-h, look! Another touchdown—They are going to win—They're going to win (voice raises till she screams). They did win—Oh, I knew it—I can always tell. It's something psychic about me—I think I would be a good referee or spiritualist or something.

"My goodness! Did you ever see such a crowd? I'm going to get out while I can. If that man would stop pushing. Whew! That's over—Well, one thing is certain, I always enjoy ball games—Of course a real sportsman always does (laughing depreciatingly)—Oh, no; I don't think I'm wonderful about sports—but, well—oh, it's so nice of you to say so—But I mean I really do have something about me—You can't explain it. But I can always tell who is going to win. Good-bye, m'dear—see you later.

Dear Editor:

Do you know anything about the feast of nations? I heard some one say there was going to be one some time this month. Please let me know, for I would not miss it for worlds.

Anxious.

MY CREED

This is my aim, that I ever shall be
An instrument singing in Life's symphony,

A maker of music in true harmony;
To say but the best with whispering strings,

To tell of the Master on melody's wings,
To sing with the world of the joy that life brings!

To keep myself in growing health;
To fill my mind with learning wealth;

To laugh and smile with joy all day;
To do my best in work and play;

To be most kind in thought,
To give my all to one in need; and deed;

To see the beauty in all things;
To treasure all that friendship brings;

To be a sportsman and a pal;
To love, for love is best of all.

STUDENT VOLUNTEER CONVENTION AT U. S. C.

R. Price read "The Flag That Flies Above All Others."

On Saturday at 6:30 the Morning Watch was conducted by Leland Brubaker (Dutch) in the topmost part of the tower of the U. S. C. administration building. His talk was very inspiring and helped to start the day aright.

After breakfast there were speeches on the India and China mission fields. Bruce Gray told about the quadrennial conference to be held in Detroit during the Christmas vacation.

At noon box lunches were served on the campus lawn near the Senior bench. This was followed by a game of indoor base ball and then ice cream cones—the last-named being Bruce Gray's treat.

Business meetings were next in order and then talks were given by three foreign students, Burmese, South American and Filipino. Each one told of the condition of his country and its need of Christianity.

In the evening, dinner was served in the Y. M. C. A. Hut and Dr. John G. Hill gave an illustrated lecture on Burma and Palestine, which was very interesting and enjoyable.

STUDENT SOCIAL LIFE

McPHERSONITES HAVE RE-UNION

Wednesday evening, October 26, all persons in the community having lived in McPherson, were invited to a McPherson reunion. Including the McPherson Traveling College, a large number of about sixty congregated at the social room in Founder's Hall. With Mr. Ray Cullen as chairman, a short program was given. Each person gave his name, the time of his residence in McPherson and what he acquired there. Many brought away credits, grades, honors, and memories, but a good many of the older ones brought away husbands and wives. Mrs. Frantz gave several readings, after which the group sang McPherson's Alma Mater Hymn, led by Glenn Rothrock.

The remainder of the evening was spent in a social time and the consuming of a delicious basket lunch, which was prepared by all and enjoyed by all. Before breaking up, the group made a circle and joined together in singing "Blest Be the Tie That Binds."

The speaker of Y. M. C. A. meeting was Bruce Gray of Toronto, Canada, traveling secretary of the Student Volunteer movement. His main subject was the international missionary movement and home missionary work.

STUDENT VOLUNTEER MEETING

At the Volunteer meeting Wednesday evening reports on the Student Volunteer conference at U. S. C. were given by delegates and two talks by McPherson students.

The reports given by Mary Platt, Edith Bowman, Avery Dunning, and Melvin Rothrock were very interesting and left the group with the desire to attend the conference next fall.

Mr. Richard of McPherson talked of the need of missionaries among the Mexicans of LaVerne and told of his experience with the Mexican children during his stay here. Mr. Hueston of McPherson showed the value of personal contact with people who have not had Christian influence.

They were also honored by the presence of Mr. and Mrs. Studebaker.

DEBATE MEETING HELD

Last Thursday Wilma Long attended a meeting of the woman's debate managers of the Southern California Conference, held at Claremont. They decided that the question to be debated this year should be, "Resolved that the influence of modern advertising is detrimental to public welfare." They also decided that the judges should be chosen from the faculty of the schools debating, one from the home school and two from the visiting school.

The ticket selling contest for the New Era Banquet closed Saturday night at 7 o'clock. It is apparent that the Freshman Class has taken the leading part. Honorable mention is due to the Freshman Class for turning in the first ticket sold. The winning class will be announced at the banquet Tuesday night, and the prize will be awarded.

II. The Advertising Department Contest.

(a) Entrants.—All members of the advertising department are eligible.
(b) The winner will be judged solely by new advertising obtained. A point will be given for each inch of advertising sold. A contract sold to a business man will count two points per inch for each week during the contest period. No business men who have been contract advertisers in The Campus Times during the present year may be solicited.
(c) The contestants may go into any territory to sell ads.
(d) A contestant must keep up his solicitation among his regular business men or his new ads will not count for the week in which he fails to do so.
(e) The contest period shall range from November 1 to December 12, 10 a. m.
(f) The business manager shall be the sole judge.
(g) A prize of five dollars ($5) will be given to the winner providing he sells at least ten dollars ($10) worth of advertising space, i. e., ten dollars ($10) worth for the papers printed during the contest period.

III. The Circulation Department Contest.

(a) All members of the circulation department are eligible.
(b) The winner of the contest will be the contestant who sells the most subscriptions for the remainder of the year. Subscriptions may be sold to any individual paying the subscription rate of one dollar ($1) for the remainder of the year.
(c) The contest period shall range from November 1 to December 12.
(d) The winner will be awarded a prize of five dollars ($5) provided he sells at least ten dollars ($10) worth of subscriptions.
(e) The business manager shall be sole judge.

RULES OF NEWS WRITING CONTEST

The rules for the contest are as follows:

I. The News Writing Contest.

(a) Entrants.—All members of the front page, feature, society, sport and correspondence departments are eligible except the heads of those departments.

(b) The prize will be given to the person who has the greatest number of column inches printed in The Campus Times during the contest period, which shall range from November 1 to 10 a. m., December 12.

(c) The news editor is the sole judge of all material as to whether it should be printed or not. To judge fairly according to news value only, the news editor desires that no names shall be written on the material submitted, and to avoid recognition of handwriting, typewritten copies are desired when possible. To make sure that each article is accredited to the right party it is requested that when the article is turned in to the department head, a paper with the writer's name should be attached.

(d) Any type of news or feature material is acceptable.

(e) Department editors will assist their department members in getting the material in printable condition. They will assign articles to be written. Any contestant may write other news besides that assigned, even though some other person may be writing that particular news. The best writeup will be printed. However, such writeups will not be credited to the writer unless he, or she, has completed their assignment.

(f) A prize of five dollars ($5) will be given to the winner. An additional prize in the form of a party will be given to the department which aver-

C. C. C.-LaVerne Game Called Off

LACK OF AGREEMENT ON ELIGIBILITY—RULES CAUSED CANCELATION

Leopards to Spend Time in Preparation for Armistice Day Game

The game with the California Christian College Panthers, scheduled for last Saturday a. m., was canceled because of the failure of C. C. C. to interpret conference rules correctly. The contract for the playing of the game stated that both schools would play under conference rules. This phrase was necessary in order to protect LaVerne as a conference member. The conference allows no conference member to play with non-conference schools unless they conform to conference rules.

As the date of the game drew near, it was discovered that C. C. C. contemplated playing five men who were transfers from other schools, thus making them ineligible according to conference rules. It was then necessary for LaVerne to cancel the game in order to protect herself in the eyes of the other conference schools.

LaVerne is indeed sorry that this game was called off, for the squad has looked forward to this game for some time as an expected victory.

A COUNTRY GENTLEMAN

My, but it seems great to come to school once more, e'en though I can't be a student. I wonder what Ma would think if I brought her here to see these here rooms. And such chairs to set on, not like our old hard benches with no backs, the kind we all sat on when I went to school.

Such elegant drinking fountains—but there ain't nothing like an old tin cup, dipping water from a cool spring for a blushing maiden. I sure will have to tell Ma 'bout those billboards. My! but it takes a powerful long time to read them things. I wonder what those square things is doing on the bannisters—'pears like no one is sliding on them like they all done last year. Maybe they thought they would rip up their pants. Most dinner time and Ma would be sore as if I'd be late. So I'll come back and see you all another time if my Ford will gallup.

BESSEY MAKES LONE TOUCH-DOWN IN POST-DAYLIGHT GAME

Frosh Point Efforts Towards Caltech Frosh Game

Last week the Peagreeners played the strong Citrus J. C. team and came out victors in a loosely played game. The game started in the dim twilight and lasted until all solar activity had ceased. This was one of the features of the game, for it was the first non-illuminated game ever attempted.

Nevertheless, Fred Hubble ran wild and gained almost at will. His short end runs and off tackle cut-backs were enough to worry any team. Bayhman, Bessey and Lathrop also played good in their respective backfield positions. The line did exceptionally well on both defensive and offensive playing. Only the shortened quarters and lack of light prevented further scoring.

The frosh will concentrate this week, if the weather allows, on an attacking method to use against the Caltech yearlings next Saturday. This will be the Kittens' second conference game and they are planning for a victory.

SATURDAY'S SCORES

Pomona 18—Dan Diego 12
U. C. L. A. 32—Redlands 0
Oxy 28—Caltech 7
Stanford 19—Oregon 0
U. S. C. 13—U. of Calif. 0
Washington 61—Whitman 7
Oregon Aggies 13—Wash. State 6

Sports Snorts

San Diego has proved itself to have a strong football team by scoring two touchdowns to Pomona's three in the game Saturday. The score was 18-12 in favor of Pomona. LaVerne's chances of winning from San Diego look doubtful, for it must be remembered that Pomona defeated the Leopards 52-0. Don't give up though, but plan for a real fight and an even chance for victory.

The Frosh play their second conference game Saturday with the Caltech Frosh. A hard fight is expected but the Frosh say they're going to fight the hardest to win.

Of late many arguments have been heard around the campus as to whether the Frosh football squad wasn't just a little too "cocky." This was taken from the fact that some of the Frosh footballers expressed the idea that they thought they could defeat the varsity. An answer to this question will probably be given tomorrow afternoon, as the varsity plays the Citrus J. C. team, which the Frosh defeated 6-0.

Due to the fact that Pomona and U. C. L. A. are both undefeated, it looks as if the game Saturday would be a championship game. It is to be played Saturday at the Coliseum.

"Yep," said Farmer Ferrel, "we expect considerable from our Ray at college this year. Durin' the summer he won the hog callin' contest down at the county fair, and then he put in two months with them Japanese tumblers in Ringlin's circus. Yep, I'll be purty much disappointed if he ain't made a cheer leader this fall."

They say that Mr. Ford is in no way connected with the earthquake in Jerusalem.

PREPARE FOR ARMISTICE DAY

The Leopards have two weeks to prepare for the Homecoming Day game on November 11th, Armistice Day. They will play the U. S. C. Dental College. The teeth pullers are an unknown quantity, but they should afford plenty of competition, for they are made up of former college and university players. This is the only game previous to the Aztec game on Thanksgiving Day.

The Kittens will probably have an opening game for the Leopard-Dental conflict and it in itself should be a thriller.

NEW ERA BANQUET TONIGHT IN GYM

enthusiasm and a cash prize is being offered to the class selling the most tickets. The greatest expression of appreciation on the part of LaVerne College is extended to the Aid Societies of the Church of the Brethren, who have cooperated splendidly with the College by purchasing a $25 ticket for their pastors. The churches from the Southern District which have already cooperated in this manner are Pasadena, Covina, Inglewood, Hermosa, LaVerne, Long Beach, and the Calvary Church in Los Angeles. From the Northern District are Empire and Lindsay. This will advertise the Aid Societies and foster interest on the part of the society, as well as definitely aiding the pastor and bringing him in closer contact with leaders of both church and college.

The main address will be given by the well known lecturer, Dr. Kurtz, former president of McPherson College, in Kansas. Dr. Kurtz spoke at the World's Sunday School Convention in Tokio, Japan, in 1920, and again in Edinburgh, Scotland, in 1924. One newspaper in its writeup of the latter convention stated that "when the speaker from the plains of Kansas arose there was more applause than for any other present."

Other numbers on the program will be several orchestra selections directed by Prof. Haugh; songs by the Lyric Trio, and several numbers by the Clarion Four.

Toasts will be given by members of the Chamber of Commerce of La Verne and Pomona; by alumni, and by representatives from surrounding colleges led by the toastmaster, Mr. Paige, secretary of Pomona Chamber of Commerce. College songs and yells will be rendered by students of LaVerne College, who will attend in a body. A full house of over 500 people is expected.

The class winning the most points in the competition will be awarded a prize of twenty dollars in gold. The next highest class will be given ten dollars. These prizes will be presented at the banquet.
