LEOPARDS TO TANGLE WITH SAGE HENS

v.27 #9

Vol. XXVIX La Verne, Calif. Jan. 23,1936

Saturday night at 8:00 the La Verne Leopards will entertain the Pomona Sage Hens and in the course of the evening try to tear a few feathers loose.

This is the annual contest for the Pomona Valley B.B. Championship. Any athletic contest between the two schools is always looked upon as the "Titanic" of the season. The rivalry between the two schools is very keen, especially so this year with a new coach at the helm for Pomona as well as for La Verne. Coach Arbelbide has put a fighting spirit into the Leopards and has a tricky offense that is hard to stop.

The Sage Hens have built their offensive hopes around Dick Condil, lanky sophomore center, who is ably supported by three-year letterman, Chuck Longacre, at guard, Smith-forward, Crozier-forward and Bower-guard. These five will endeavor to stop the fast

A thrilling battle was staged last Friday in the Gym between the La Verne Coeds and the La Verne Panty-waists, with Miss Sweet-Pea Frantz officiating. The grandstands went wild as the graceful P.W. maidens skimmed lightly over the floor. Although the score was tied, the Panty-Waists won a moral victory. Ted Allen was the high-point man.

The second part of the program was a novel game of basketball, played with boxing gloves. This was introduced by Coach Garry Arbelbide several years ago at Modesto, Calif. The outstanding rule of the game was the one which permitted only the man in possession of the ball to give face punches, the others being restricted to body blows. The score was 2 to 0 at the finish, and all the rooters agreed it was the most hilarious game they had witnessed.

Examination time is here. Boy,oh boy,how fast the time does go. Although the time flies fastest for those who are the busiest is no sign of sign of success in life. Here are a few quotations from Pilsbury's "Essentials of Psychology" "Individuals who do well in laboratory tests, also do well in school, and succeed in later life." "The chances are large that a man who stands in the upper tenth in a class of one hundred in one university will also stand among the upper tenth in another university. Relative grades are on the whole absolute ones. "...the all-around man is the rule, the man of one-sided development, the exception." Also, "On the hole, the man with the better intelligence is also the better tempered, and has the better qualities of leadership and persistence." Furthermore, "Comparison of grades of individuals in grammar, high schools and university shows that students witha high standing in one have a high standing in others as well. This correlation holds between school standing and accomplishment in later life." "A man who has been elected to the honorary society of the Phi Beta Kappa, election given to the men among the upper fifth of the class, is four or five times as likely to appear in 'Who's Who' as are his classmates of lower standing." From behind the Librarian's Desk

Have you ever wondered how many types of noise makers there are in the library? First there is the big hero who approaches the door with a loud whistle just to let people know he's coming. He slams the door, completely ignores the librarian, just to show he isn't afraid of her and throws his books upon the table. The chair is then scraped across the cement floor, and then the fellow grins at the whole library with a "What-a-good-boy-am I" expression.

Next the timid fellow comes in and quietly shuts the door, completely ignores the librarian because he's bashful, and sits down among his fellow students. Noise of loud chuckles then float upon the air, for a rank joke has probably been spilled. The timid fellow joins in and laughs ever louder than the rest just to show people that he is included in with the rest of the toughies. The gum-smacker now claims attention, and chews lustily like a cow her cud as he scans the Times with noisy crackling of paper. He wants every one to know that he keeps up with the world. The window adjuster now takes a turn.

First he opened the window, adjust the shade, closes the window, and then opens it again. Pure air is his motto, for he studied about carbon dioxide and knows what it does to one. Dr. Hollenberg is his ideal on this subject.

The flirter also is present, and begins his morning exercise of adding one more conquest to his list. Smiles coming to nothing he tried loud "ahems", this failing, he tries the juvenile spit-balls aimed at the apple-blossom cheek of his fair one. She screeches and looks angry, but a pleased gleam comes into her eye for she is noticed. The feminine bunch of roly-poly gigles arrives with one big giggle at the door. She leaves a trail of giggles all the way to a table which is full of boys. She gives a little different giggle on the scale of giggles for each boy and proceeds to entice them with merely giggles and more giggles, and not much else.

And lastly comes the gruff type of I-want-service, and I want it now, and with emphatic footsteps he approaches the desk and slams down a book. Service and service now is his by-word, and let no insignificant librarian keep him from his life work. By this time a bell rings and as one group of typical library studiers go out another group comes in to begin all over again.

Perhaps you would like to write a counter article from a sutdents viewpoint of the various librarians. Remember you are free to do so in the "Caustic Comment".

TUESDAY'S CHAPEL

In chapel last week we learned how to get a job and keep it, and this week Kenneth Smith, Recreation director of Pomona, told us how we can be sure that it is a good job for which we are looking. There were seven characteristics mentioned. A job should be difficult, challenging us to do our best work and offer an opportunity for achievement and advancement. Offering pleasant relationship with co-workers, giving a chance for a title and a place in the community, and being able to affiliate one's self with a worthwhile movement are essentials of a good job which cannot be overlooked.

GUESS WHO

Junior Girl

She is tall, and probably looks swanky in an evening gown. Her hair frizzes all over her head, and she vows she detests it, but we like it, and we matter most. She can joke and giggle when the occasion demands and thats more than some girls can do. She can wear clothes very well and is partial to yellow and brown. She can take an old rag of a hat and make it look like one of Chanel's creations.

She studies enough to be called an average student and still has time to play around. Her line, if there is such a thing, is something like a medieval maid's, for she is always saying, "fare-thee-well, my little man," or words to that effect. Clever, eh what? We've seen her playing around with the La Verne masculine element, but she hasn't quite made up her mind yet. Anyway, it's leap year and she can take her time.....

SENIOR BOY

He looks gruff at times, but all you have to do is make a wise crack at him about almost anything and he'll smile. Then you smile right back because you think you are going over big with him. He's got one of those new football sweaters with two stripes on the arm and he's proud of that sweater, for we knew a girl who made a remark about getting the letter off of it and she got turned down. His eyes are brown, and will twinkle if you look funny enough when he looks at you. His hair is mousey color, but what's that, as long as it's hair? He wears glasses, probably for effect. To outward appearances he doesn't study much but in the tests he usualy passes. He's all for football, and in the recent editorial controversy was on the side of the He-men. We've never seen him with a girl, but that doesn't mean a thing, for maybe he doesn't like the La Verne brand.....

LAST WEEK'S WHO'S WHO

The guesses for last week were-Senior boy:Adron Way, Junior girl:Mary Blocher, Sophomore boy:Rube Collison, Freshman boy:Bernard Finch.

Fifteen faculty women went to Wilson's on Foothill Blvd., Thursday evening for dinner.

Ted Shawn and his agile dancers were viewed by Bob Willman and Prof. Travis, at the Pomona J.C. auditorium last Friday nite. Saturday night the two attended the performance of "Yellow Jack" at the Pasadena Playhouse. The play billed Eric Snowden in the leading role. There was but one girl in the entire play and no love interest was included. It was reported to be a very excellent performance.

Several LaVernites attended a bridge-tea in El Monte at the home of Mrs. Calvert, the former Bernie Brubaker, on Sat. afternoon.

Ila Brownsburger, Ruth Miller, Marguritè Deal, and Velma Stutzman were guests. Mrs. Calvert and Catherine Perry acted as hostesses.

Marjorie Lindquist and Ted Allen were among the three hundred persons who attended the Annual Pasadena-San Gabriel Council Banquet of Boy Scouts last Thurs. nite. It was held at the Masonic Temple in Pasadena. The well-known Pasadena Bull Dog Band played at the dinner.

Mrs. Holsinger spent an eventful weekend visiting. She attended the annual Illinois picnic at Sycamore grove in Los Angeles Saturday.

Sunday she was present at a reception, celebrating the fortieth wedding anniversary of her brother D. M. Holsinger.

Louise Fisk was confronted by a surprise party Monday nite when she returned to the dorm after the concert. Marie Rowland was the hostess.

Gifts were bottles of Coca Cola from each guest.

Guests were: Louise Fisk, Marie Rowland, Bert Thomas, Louise Larick, Lucile Boots, Phyllis Kich, Viola Elmes, Mary Kneeland, and H.Strate.

Sandwiches, coffee, and a large birthday cake were served.

A short dormitory meeting was held Tuesday evening with Bert Thomas officiating in the absence of Marjorie Lindquist, President of the Club.

An open discussion was held on a party for the future and then the Treasurer gave her report.

The Dorm scandal paper, "Dust and Dirt", was then read and enjoyed.

ourselves? I say no! We should try to see and appreciate the other fellows view point, and above all, be loyal to the team that holds up the banner of the school in sports!

LVC Co-ed

Dear Editor,

Although in last week's editorial you made the statement that there are relatively more auto accidents than football accidents, I do feel that the injurious effects of football cannot be stressed too much. Automobile driving is necessary, football is not necessary; especially this case is not necessary.

I'm sure everyone has heard of Grayson, Bobby Grayson. But I doubt if many fans know that Grayson has a bad ankle, takes deadening novacaine shots before each game, spends two whole days a week taking heat treatments, and wears a sizable quantity of tape and splints in practice and games. However, the worst part of it is that he sacrifices everything for football--if his doctor says that it is possible at all for him to play, public opinion demands that he do so.

And yet think of all the thousands of fellows who would like to be in All-American Grayson's shoes.

THE GENTLE ART OF GETTING A JOB AND KEEPING IT

Some very good advice was given in chapel last Thursday by Prof. Brandt, who gave the qualities of successful teaching. To be a worthwhile teacher one must be the sort who will fit into any community, made the best of the situation, and become an asset. When one gets a job he is just starting. He must be able to carry on, put his whole self into his task, and never wear out.

It was a great challenge to us who are preparing to be teachers and was one of the best chapels of the year.

A U. of Chicago prof. gives this chemical definition:

Woman: Symbol, WO, a member of the human family.

Occurrence: Can be found wherever man exists.

Physical properties: Boils at nothing and may freeze at any moment.

Melts when properly treated.

SUPER SNOOPER

There's nothing much I can write this week---everyone must be busy studying for finals. Oh yeah?...Have you noticed the new campus couple?--Bab Haines and Martha Jones...Those Amazon gals must be all right. Instead of bringing home the bacon they brought home a table. They ran their boy friends all over San Antonio trying to find some table to eat on, and all the time they had one....Well Roscoe, you're doing better along the feminine line; boy, how do you do it? I've been trying for a whole semester; guess I haven't got what it takes...I heard Tom Carter had a flat tire in the hills after the Artist Course, Mon. eve. Who was she, Carter?...The other day I sort of strol led around and inquired of L.V.C.'s feminine elements the feature quality they expected of their future husband! Woe is me! Virg. Massey--such a cute little trick--wants only sincerity...and from what I gather Marg. Haymes wants just Jack!...Pat Packard--you guess--I'm tired...Jessie Iles wants a man with a big appetite--There's your chance, Babe Eisan... Harriett Strate wants a man that can cook and wash and dry dished. That lets me out...And Ralph, you may be the beat of a maiden's heart to some one, but your still a pain in the neck to me...Hey! George Steele, where did you get the neckerchief--do you think you're a cowboy or what?...Our Soph boys seem to have something! There are four ex-student body prexies---Dayton Dickey presided at Hemet--Dick Moon at his old Alma Mater---Clem Lapp out at Bonita and Carl Dutcher at Montebello.....Well, my frans, that's all this week...I'll wade out of the dirt and go home.....

I want to be alone!(alias Greta Garbo)

Well, Dutch, you sorta gave yourself away up above in the Packard case. Didn't ya? Just ask Dutch if Lucille still has the green lantern.....

Chi Delta Chi Initiation

Marjorie Lindquist, Ira Metzker, and Ralph Smeltzer were initiated into The Chi Delta Chi, L.V.C. Dramatic Club, at the home of Ila and Helen Brownsberger, Tuesday nite. Roscoe Vaniman was in charge of the initiation.

Plans were made for a week-end retreat at Camp LaVerne near Jenks Lake in the San Bernardino mountains on February 1 and 2.

Dorothy Blickenstaff, Paul Groff, and Ruth Miller were appointed to select the play which is to be presented by the club in the spring.

The club decided to affilliate with a national organization known as the Alpha Psi Omega in the near future. Maurine Moomaw, president, was in charge of the meeting. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses after the business meeting.

ALHAMBRA A.C. DEFEATS LA VERNE

Last Saturday nite the Alhambra A. C. defeated the La Verne Leopards in a very close affair. Al-moving Leopards.

The Leopard will bank their star sophomore, Babe Eisan to roll up a few digits. Babe has played exceptionally good B.B. this year. Capt. Everett Bannister can always be counted on for a few points. Leury Stutzman is a very dependable player and is liable to get "Hot" and make a few points. Dayton Dickey, a tricky forward, is always dangerous. Walt Anderson, who replaces Bannister at center, is also a good player that has improved greatly. At guards we will see Johnson, Butterbaugh and Thomas.

The Leopards have made the best showing this year, and if the boys can only get hot, I believe they will be able to "take" Pomona. This is a prediction.

The Leopards have defeated the Sage Hens 8 years in a row, so COME ON, Leopards! Let's Make it 9!

though the Alhambra A.C. always has a strong team. The Leopards did not seem up to par in their Ball handling. The final score was 33 to 23.

LEOPARD GROWLS

Above name souns more appropriate than Leopard Chatter; only monkeys chatter...Never let it be said that a Leopard chattered. Did I hear someone say something for or agin' football?...Seems as though I did...Orchids to the girl that stuck up for the he-men that like to play football...Someone around this school has to wear the pants...Sorry to leave Haines and Rightmer out of last week's issue of the slander sheet...Rightmer's los will be keenly felt.. In his 8 years of football experience, Bert has played every position on the team. Men like that are valuable. Bob Haines, the local boy, has made varsity letters in football--1 year as guard, and 2 at center. Bob was a very steady center and will be missed...Say, did you hear that Caltech sent Swihart an honorary letter for making so many yards for them?..only forty five yards on penalties...The boy had an off day...Think of the Coach's blood pressure. And speaking of coach, he deserves a lot of credit for the showing our team has made in basketball this year...The southern conference scramble for 'first honors this year is going to resemble a bunch of old maids at a bargain sale.. Redlands looks pretty good now...but don't count the Leopards out...Better come out and see them shellac Pomona Saturday night... We haven't lost a B.B. game to Pomona in 8 years. Last year we won 33-31. And speaking of close scores, last year we beat Pom. 7-6 in Football, 33-31 in B.B., and 8-7 in baseball. How's that for close?

FROSH HUMBLE JUNIORS

On Wednesday Jan 13, the Frosh degeated the Juniors to the tune of 24 -19 in the annual interclass tournament. It was a game filled with thrills and excitement. The last part of th e game gave the appearance of football, but of course, it wasn't. It was just the boys trying to get the full fun from a basketball game. They did, and so did the spectators. From the looks of this game, it appears that the Frosh will give the Sohpomores and Seniors a good battle. The Frosh are on their way to Interclass Pennant and they aim to get it. So watch their smoke.....

A PRAYER FOR COLLEGE INSTRUCTORS

Lord, I thank thee for students. I thank thee for the common and ordinary ones, for the vaguely ambitious, for the rare eccentrics, for the cheerfully dense, for the struggling dense, and for the dense.

I thank Thee for making them all different and all interesting. For it might have pleased Thy providence to have made them all alike. And then should I be blaspheming Thee instead.

For farmer boys with the twang of back countries I thank Thee. For the men half again my age who bear hardly with my efforts to teach them something they thought they already knew, I thank Thee. For children still in mid adolescence, floundering in a new and strange world I thank Thee. For the tender maidens that exhale exotic perfumes and sigh a note of fondness with their utterances of my last name, trusting thereby to win mercy at the last great day, even for this do I thank Thee.

More than three score such hast Thou given me, all different, all perplexing, all fascinating. I bless Thee for hundreds differing yet again from these, that Thou will give me in the years to come.

Yea, Lord, I thank Thee for students, but Lord, I beseech Thee, send no more of them in for conferences this week.

BEYOND THE HORIZON

Were a visitor from another planet to read any of our leading daily newspapers, he would likely reach the conclusion that war and preparation for future ward are the sole concern and pleasure of many people. The exposition of our best known politicians point to the fact that a virtual state of war shall exist until after election. Each group is seeking to bring to its cause an emotional appeal sufficient to arouse the voters so that they will march to the polls and register their approval or disapproval in a very positive manner.

Next week our campus will be the scene of numercus conflicts, mostly mental, however.....
