LA VERNE COLLEGE

Tuesday, October 28, 1924

DISTRICT MEETING OF NORTHERN CAL.

The District Meeting of Northern California which was held at Empire October 10-13, gave LaVerne College a very prominent place on its program and created a deeper interest for her.

On Friday evening, October 10th, Rev. Ernest Davis, a former student of LaVerne, gave a stereopticon lecture on the progress of the Daily Vacation Bible School in the Northern District during the last few years.

On Saturday morning, Dr. S. J. Miller gave an address on "The Ministerial Problem." He pointed out that there is a transition of attitude in the Church of the Brethren, as far as the ministry is concerned, and that there is a crying need for our young people to think seriously of the problems of the church, and especially of the ministry. Unless we can get young men for the ministry it will only be a short time until we shall have a serious dearth of ministers. We must train our young ministers for pastoral work, a different point of view from which our older ministers were trained.

Saturday afternoon was given over to the LaVerne educational program. LaVerne College was discussed from the viewpoints of the trustee, the student, the teacher and the parent.

The viewpoint of the trustee was discussed by Rev. M. S. Frantz, president of the Board of Trustees. He said that the trustees are much concerned for the growth of our College; that it touches a large number of young lives and inspires them for the nobler activities of life.

Dr. Ida Metzger, a graduate of LaVerne, discussed the student's viewpoint. She told of some of her experiences, and said that the vision which she received in LaVerne College carried her through her medical course at Ann Arbor. She pointed out the striking contrast between the Ann Arbor College with four thousand students and only ten or twelve in the Volunteer Mission Band, and LaVerne College that has had as many as two hundred in her student body and twenty in her Volunteer Mission Band. Miss Metzger is certainly an enthusiastic alumnus for LaVerne.

The viewpoint of the teacher was discussed by Dr. W. I. T. Hoover, who stressed the importance of the denominational college to which we must look for our future church leaders. He also stressed Emerson's thought that it is not so important what you study as with whom you study. Therefore, every instructor in a denominational college should be a Christian with high ideals.

Mr. Crites spoke from the parent's viewpoint. He said that after having had his children in both the Academy and College he was not afraid to trust his children to LaVerne College, and that he was willing to "bach" at home so that his family might go to La (Continued on Page 2.)

WE PRESENT MISS MARIAN HENSHALL

Who carries the role of Barbara Beecher in "Mysterious Ways," a three-act comedy which will be presented by the Crandall Players of Los Angeles at the College Auditorium on November 7th at 8 p. m. under the auspices of L. V. C. Annual Management.

She is seen at her best in the role of Barbara Beecher, in Tacie May Hannah's "Mysterious Ways." This is a three-act comedy which deals with life in the average American town. It tells the story of a church congregation that "puts on a play" to defray the expenses of its missionary society. The play ends in a near scandal for the most prominent members of the congregation. The unfolding of the plot furnishes an evening of clean, wholesome humor that completely satisfies the desire for entertainment.

Tickets may be secured and seats reserved at the L. V. Drug Store for 50c each.

LISTEN, MEN!

A lot of you men who think you're the cat's whiskers, listen to the following. 'Twas written by a woman and she tells you, all the varieties of you, just how, what and who you are:

Men are what women marry. They have two feet, two hands, and sometimes two wives; but never more than one collar or one idea at a time.

Generally speaking, they may be divided into three classes: husbands, bachelors and widowers. An eligible bachelor is a mass of obstinacy entirely surrounded by suspicion. Husbands are of three varieties: prizes, surprises and consolation prizes.

Making a husband out of a man is one of the highest plastic arts known to civilization. It requires science, sculpture, common sense, faith, hope and charity—especially charity.

If you flatter a man, it frightens him to death, and if you don't you bore him to death. If you permit him to make love to you, he gets tired of you in the end, and if you don't, he gets tired in the beginning.

If you believe him in everything, you soon cease to interest him, and if you argue with him in everything you soon cease to charm him.

If you join in the gaities and approve his smoking, he swears you are driving him to the devil, and if you don't approve of his smoking and urge him to give up his gaities, he vows you are driving him to the devil. If you are the clinging vine type, he doubts whether you have a brain, and if you are a modern, advanced and independent woman, he doubts whether you have a heart. If you are silly, he longs for a bright mate, and if you are brilliant and intellectual, he longs for a playmate.

A man is but a worm of the dust—he comes along, wiggles about a while and finally some chicken gets him.

THE TRAFFIC IN NARCOTICS

By Mabel Royer

In taking up the subject of the narcotic traffic, we are speaking of something that is an individual, national and world menace, and has been for several hundred years. Of all the problems relating to health and efficiency, there is none graver than that of narcotics.

A narcotic drug is defined as being a derivative of opium only—and would include opium, morphine, heroin, codein and laudanum. It does not include cocaine, hashish, or the coal-tar drugs which do not cause addiction but form habit.

These narcotic drugs are being used, not only in the East (to the shame of western nations and Japan, that have winked at a traffic very profitable to some of their merchants) but also in Europe and America in an increasing and alarming degree. America unhappily bears the stigma of leading the world in the consumption of opium with an average of 36 grains a year for every man, woman and child. Compare this to 27 grains for India, 4 grains for France, 3 grains for England, 2 grains for Germany, 2 grains for China, and 1 grain for Italy. Just think folks—an average of 36 grains for every man, woman and child in the United States. We must become aware of the actual condition of things right here within our very doors.

Although it is impossible to get the actual number of addicts because they try to conceal their affliction, yet in 1919 after a careful investigation, the Bureau of Internal Revenue published a report stating that America probably has over one million drug addicts, or an average of one to every one hundred people. They are found in all walks of life and all strata of society. Bankers, lawyers, judges, criminals, preachers, teachers, students and doctors, rich and poor alike, are sufferers from the narcotic drugs. The prevalent idea that drug addicts are degenerates is wrong. They are not "fiends" nor degenerates necessarily. They are sufferers from a cruel disease in which they must take opium, not for pleasure but to save themselves from torture.

The symptoms of the drug addict do not appear until the drug is taken from him. Then he becomes restless, worried and depressed. His hands tremble uncontrollably and as time passes his eyes water, he sneezes, snuffles and yawns profusely. He coughs and chokes and suffers excruciating pains in his feet and legs. He becomes too weak to stand and falls upon the floor, writhes in convulsions and doubles up with abdominal pains. His face becomes pinched and drawn. Perspiration rolls from his tortured body and he may die suddenly in complete collapse. Suicide sometimes terminates this unendurable agony.

The remarkable thing about drug addiction is that all of these withdrawal signs are almost instantly and completely relieved by the administration of any of the opiate drugs, and by no other drug or chemical known to medical science. It seems that in the drugged person's body there has been generated an obscure and powerful poison as a sort of an antidote to the action of the drug, and this counter-poison constitutes in itself a disease which alters the mechanism of the whole body and imperatively demands a continuance of the drug itself.

Since the relief afforded is so prompt, certain and complete, drug addicts suffering withdrawal agonies will go almost any length and disregard all laws to obtain the required drugs. They will lie, steal and even (Continued on Page 2.)

MUSIC DEPT. STRENGTHENED

A new plan is being used this year in the Lyric and Glee Clubs of the school. The voices were carefully selected and the parts are balanced with four voices to each part, making sixteen members in each club. The clubs are organized and great interest is being taken in the work. Not only are the members of the clubs interested but much interest is being manifested in the other classes in music because of the higher standard set for membership in the clubs.

The Ladies' Lyric Club is organized with Mrs. Mae Miller as president, Miss Mary Blickenstaff, secretary-treasurer, and Miss Lola Shirk, manager. A committee was elected to work with Professor Haugh as the music committee.

Four good voices in the Men's Glee Club which deserve special mention are Mr. I. D. Yoder, the business manager of the College; Professor Paul Sargent and George Hollenburg, and Mr. Brown of Pomona. Harvey Brubaker is president, and Ralph Shrock secretary-treasurer. There are also music committees to work with Professor Haugh in selecting the best available music.

Already the clubs are going strong on some real pieces and the interest shown by each of the members, due to the competitive basis on which they are operated, is indicative of the sort of work the clubs will be able to do this year. Be this treat or promise, here it is: The clubs will make no appearance this year until they are prepared to surprise the community, and even with this warning they will be able to surprise.

The plans are to perform in high schools and churches over Southern California in a publicity program for the school. The members of the music department feel that much good can be done this way, and this is a secret—these clubs may give programs over radio.

Y.W.C.A. LAYS PLANS

At 6 o'clock Wednesday, October 15th, the cabinet members of the Y. W. C. A. with lunch boxes under their arms, were seen scurrying to the "Y" room. Since an all-evening meeting had been planned, it was thought well to take lunch. Even a pint of milk was found to be an appropriate food for lunch.

The main point of business was the planning of a "calendar" for the school year. Among the good things planned for the year are the football banquet, the mothers' and daughters' banquet and the hi-jinks. Before Christmas, a Christmas box social will be held, at which time the ladies will prepare a good old-fashioned "Missionary box" for some special place of need. During the Bible institute, the members of the Y. W. C. A. will act in the capacity of nurses for children whose mothers attend the meeting. The May Day program will be made the climax of the year's work.

The members of the "Y" are expecting to go over the top in their program. They solicit the interest and help of each girl in school.

A committee from the Live Wire Class of the Church of the Brethren asked the cabinet to take some action concerning the girls in town who are not connected with the school. A committee from the "Y" was appointed to consider the matter and to report. Any girl in town who is not a student of the school but who is interested in "Y" activities, is invited to attend the various meetings.

LA VERNE TIES SAN DIEGO

It was the flashy forward pass of Johnny Brooks in the second quarter that gave Coach Arnett's men their touchdown, Bert Betts receiving the ball over the goal line. San Diego had been having the best of the going and had LaVerne back on her own 30-yard line. Two bucks failed to gain appreciable yardage and Johnny Brooks kicked a perfect 56-yard twisting spiral to Hancock. San Diego had the ball on their own 25-yard line when a State player juggled the ball, Urbin Hartman, a substitute end, recovering for the home team. Boots made five yards on a buck and then came thru with three more on the same style play. Glick added a yard to the cause and Otie Brooks made it first down on San Diego's 12-yard line. The heavy State forwards threw Boots for no gain and Glick squirmed thru tackle for one yard. The same gent was given the ball on the next play but failed to gain an inch. Then came a play that was psychologically timed and LaVerne deserves all kinds of credit for executing it so perfectly. Quarterback Brooks, noticing that the San Diego ends and secondary defense were playing close in for a buck, called for a forward pass. It worked perfectly, Betts shooting behind the final line and catching Brooks' hastily thrown pass. The latter had but a second to make the toss and the stands marveled at the suddenness with which the score was made.

San Diego Scores

Johnny Brooks then added the extra point with a nice goal from scrimmage. San Diego had scored early in the game, so the count read 7 to 7, remaining so until the end. Coach Peterson's Staters ran their touchdown over in the first quarter following ten minutes of straight hard-fought football with the southerners very much the aggressors. Dilly scored the touchdown on a buck and Hancock registered the seventh point with a field goal. The touchdown resulted after Glick had fumbled on LaVerne's 17-yard line, San Diego recovering. From here Hancock worked the ball to the two-yard line on a well executed criss-cross play. Dilly went over on the next play on a hard plunge.

The first quarter ended with San Diego leading 7-0. LaVerne's score came as recited soon after the start of the second quarter. Brooks' long punt started things off at the opening of the period. The half ended with honors about even.

Brethren Aggressors

At the start of the third quarter LaVerne assumed the offensive for a time and played fancy football. San Diego finally secured the pellet but Dilly was forced to kick when the LaVerne defense stiffened. His boot was rushed and the ball sailed straight up, LaVerne recovering near midfield. CO-OPERATION

The term "co-operation" has become a common one. Its use is familiar to men and women of every station in life. No longer is one unpopular if he thinks and speaks in terms expressive of the idea involved in the word co-operation, even though there does exist an undercurrent of popular notion which attaches itself to the thought that is best expressed by the phrase "unfriendly competition." In other words, this is an age in which human effort is being recognized to be most efficient when it takes the form of co-operative methods. Of course it is to be understood that the term "efficient" is used here in the sense of human effort being effective in promoting the welfare of the total number of humans concerned. In fact it is this principle in operation which makes any social endeavor rational, progressive and beneficial.

Now as to the efforts launched in the interests of a school what shall be the governing principle of any effort put forth relative to the interests of a school or a college? This can be determined only by those primarily concerned in the interests of the school or the college. That is, they who are participants in any school activity are to decide the nature of the principle which shall guide their efforts. In this connection it is well that they be acquainted with principles and methods which present the richest opportunity for the realization of the ideals commanding the effort. What a fine opportunity, then (to be specific in the application), for instructors to assist students in discovering their ideals and in choosing the method of approximating the ideals.

It is to be seen that in a school environment which is essentially Christian, there is little need for fear concerning the nature of the ideals which are set before the students by the instructors. But, be that as it may, the essential point of emphasis here is that if the students of a Christian school are to maintain the ideals of the institution in their several organized activities, they must do it through the Christian spirit of co-operation, which leads in the direction of the greatest good to all members of the institution. Debating clubs, literary societies, athletic teams, fraternities, social and religious organizations within the school, all should operate upon the basic principle of co-operation. That simply means that all should work together. An attempt to succeed on an opposing basis is futile.

Students, let's work together in the interests of LaVerne College. We have adopted the spirit of good will. Why not make it effective through a finely, rationally defined system of co-operation in every detail? With combined effort comes double success.

DISTRICT MEETING

Verne where his children could be in college.

President Studebaker then gave an address on "Opportunity and Preparation." He spoke of the opportunity which the trained young man and young woman has of seeing his or her vocation—not from the selfish viewpoint of making money—but from the viewpoint of serving human needs. "It isn't what you can get out of life, but it's what you put into life that counts." Our preparation must include: (1) A vision in which we see God, the need of the world, and ourselves in relation to that need; (2) Consecration, in which we devote ourselves wholly to a cause, and (3) Preparation for efficiency in which we must learn to know people, and things or materials with which to work, and methods—or how to make application of things or materials to people.

Miss Martha Brubaker, a graduate of LaVerne, led the singing for the LaVerne program. She also sang a solo which was highly appreciated by the audience. Martha then led the young people, who had been grouped together, in singing our beloved "Guide of LaVerne."

Saturday evening, Dr. W. I. T.

Hoover gave an address on peace entitled "The Foundation Principles of Civilization." He said that the principles which conserve peace are constructive, and those which conserve war are destructive, and that the principles of peace and of war are antagonistic to each other. The foundation principles of civilization must be ethical, moral and spiritual, and not material or military. He discussed the question philosophically and illustrated with reference to historical events.

On Sunday morning Dr. Hoover had charge of the adult group, President Studebaker had the young people's group and Dr. Miller had the intermediates for the Sunday School hour. Following this, Charles R. Fisher, general secretary of the Northern California Sunday School Council of Religious Education, gave an address dealing with the magnitude and importance of Sunday School work. Approximately eight hundred people attended the Conference Sunday.

Sunday afternoon came, and so did the District finals of the temperance oratorical contest. Miss Beulah Noll, a graduate of LaVerne College, spoke on "America's Greatest Problem," in which she very ably treated the alcohol, tobacco and cigarette evil of America. Miss Mabel Royer, a student of LaVerne, spoke on "The Narcotic Traffic." She treated the problem from an individual, national and world-wide viewpoint. Miss Noll was awarded first prize, and Miss Royer was awarded second prize.

On Sunday evening the young people of the Empire gave the play, "The Missionary Awakening of Elmgrove." This was followed by an address by Rev. M. S. Frantz, in which he told us of the great opportunities of today to do mission work.

Monday was occupied with the business of District Meeting proper.

Everybody seemed to enjoy the whole program of this District Meeting. The Northern District of California showed by their splendid program their competency in discussing the vital church problems of the day.

TRAFFIC IN NARCOTICS

commit murder. It is then that society is seriously affected and endangered. Drug addiction is responsible for some of the most atrocious crimes on record. Judge Carlos S. Hardy, justice of the Superior Court of Los Angeles, tells us that statistics show that 90 per cent of the criminals who have entered San Quentin prison in this state have been dope addicts at some time in their lives. As a result their bodies are subnormal and greatly depleted. The necessary institutional care, either in the jails, hospitals or insane asylums, of many of the drug addicts increases the financial burden of the people. Thus we see that the American people are facing a grave individual, social and economical as well as moral danger in the misuse of the narcotic drugs.

But let us go to the root of the trouble and find out the cause. Why and how do people become drug addicts? First, let us consider environment. Eminent authorities assure us that idleness, bad associates and evil environment are the chief causes for drug addiction among the youth of our land. Of 3,262 drug patients in New York city, 2,482 gave "associates" as the origin. In New York alone, the average age of the drug addicts is a little over 23 years, so you can readily see the danger from that point. The youth of today will be the men and women of tomorrow.

Second—Our modern industrial methods have so concentrated and speeded up the work to be done that many people have found it necessary to take some drug, such as opium, to quiet their nerves so they can sleep. The time soon comes when the drug is the master and the individual is the slave.

Third—There are those to whom drugs have been given legitimately for the relief of pain and diseases. Many of our wounded and gassed soldiers who suffered for weeks and months became addicts for the drug which had been necessary to relieve their pain. The same thing often happens right here at home as the result of serious operations, accidents or chronic diseases.

Fourth—Neither authorities nor statistics support the theory of some that prohibition has increased the use of drugs. Apparently, the exposure of the drug traffic, that had been secretly spreading for several years, was coincident with prohibition and not a result.

Fifth—Financial interests have been a very strong influence in the spread of drug addiction. Conspiring individuals in the drug traffic send their agents among gangs on street corners and in pool rooms to make friends with them and get them to take opium. They even put the drug in candy and give it to school children—thus working on the plan that the increased number of addicts will create a larger demand for the drug and thus build up a profitable business—for them.

Johnny Brooks then began to pass and his first attempt, a 25-yard affair to his brother Otie, was grabbed by the latter on the run. A number of bucks and end runs mixed with passes took the ball to the three-yard line. The chance to score was lost when Glick fumbled on the fourth down. The third quarter ended with LaVerne holding San Diego in their own territory and having very much the better of the argument.

The fourth quarter was played mostly in the center of the field with neither team able to penetrate within scoring distance. The ball was in the middle of the field when the game ended.

The San Diego team is doubtless one of the best outfits among the State colleges of California, and La Verne gets all kinds of credit for the game battle the Brethren put up. The entire LaVerne backfield played good ball, while the work of Captain Dickey at center and Hartman at end stood out on the line. Hancock, Russo, Dilly and McCreary were the features for San Diego.

CHAPEL NOTES

At the chapel period on October 14th, Dr. Palmer, pastor of the Methodist Church of this city, spoke from I Corinthians 12:12-27, using that scripture as a point of departure for his address. "God has prepared a definite place for all. The difficulty is that many have not found their place. Your problem is to find your place in the world and then seek to fit into that plan.

"In order to adjust one's self to the world, one must get hold of self and think things through. He must seek to live a well ordered life.

"Education is not the cramming of knowledge into your head. Education is the ability to co-ordinate your life with the life of the world. Seek God's plan for your life."

Despite the fact that Dr. Hoover forgot that he was to speak in chapel, October 15th, he gave some very good advice to the students. In substance, his advice was: "There are some things which may meet approval at one time and disapproval at another time. To get the 'blues' because some student gives a better recitation than you, shows a keen sense on your part of something worth while. To get the 'blues' because a certain looked-for letter did not arrive at the desired time, shows a lack of self-control."

"Rube or Ruby" is the name of the story used by Miss Mohler to illustrate the thought of the value of taking advantage of opportunities. The illustration was carefully drawn and forcefully presented and was appreciated very much by the student body.

On October 15th, Dr. Emmert brought a short message on "Missions and Abilities." "A missionary candidate must learn the language of the people to whom he is sent. It is well that he test his ability to speak his own language first. The better he knows his own language, the easier he will find it to learn a foreign language."

"In His teachings Jesus drew illustrations from the nature of people and things about Him," says President Studebaker.

Our knowledge is limited. "The more we know, the less we know." That is, the more we know, the more there is for us to know.

There are some students who take a short cut to a college education; they work on the policy of getting a degree. The degree counts for little. Efficiency counts for infinitely more. The question is, "What can you do?" Slow, patient, careful work which Jesus taught is sure to bring results. "This is the method of Divine power. In all activities be satisfied with patience of faith."

On Wednesday morning, October 22nd, Dr. Dickey spoke to the student body. Among the many helpful things which he said, we note the following: "You are living in an age of propaganda. Propaganda is used as a means of turning men's minds. Victories won in this age will be the result of propaganda.

Don't base your decisions entirely on the decisions of others. Learn to think for yourself. You need to face controversy, but reserve your decision until all data on the subject has been secured.

The distinctive opportunity of this age is to give your entire life to a cause which you think is worth while.

STUDENT MINISTERS ORGANIZE

On October 15th, the student ministers of the College met and organized for work this year. They are few in number this year, there being only five members in the organization. At the meeting Ora Weddle was elected president; B. F. Jamison, secretary.

Because of the small number in the organization this year, it is hoped that opportunity will be found for each minister to do some practical work during the school year.

It is interesting to know that Mr. Gordon Whipple is at present engaged in active pastoral work for the Baptist Church at Chino. He is also enrolled as a student in the College.

Any of the other members of the organization will be glad to assist in religious work where it may be needed and can be done conveniently.

SOCIETY

ALIDA LARIMER REACHES HER TWENTY-THIRD MILESTONE

The Larimer home was the scene of a happy affair on the evening of October 17th, when Mrs. J. A. Larimer entertained at dinner a number of young people in honor of the birthday of her eldest daughter, Alida. A delicious chicken dinner was served.

During the dinner, Miss Alida was presented with a beautiful set of four bud vases as a token of friendship and best wishes from those present. A social evening was spent together after dinner, everyone enjoying a good chat with friends they had not been with for some time.

Miss Larimer is a member of the Senior Class of the College and is active in student affairs.

Out-of-town guests present were Miss Maurine Miller of Azusa and Raymond Root of Burbank. LaVerne guests were the Misses Cathryn Byerly, Lucile Beckner and Modena Minnich, Mr. and Mrs. Ovid Barklow, Howard Beckner, George King, Lloyd Studebaker and Byrl Harper.

SENIOR "BLOWOUT"

On Monday night, October 13th, the august and dignified body of College Seniors met at the hour of seven at the home of Miss Lucile Beckner. When all were assembled, the business session began. A representative from the Hartsook Photograph Gallery in Pomona was present and the discussion of the offer which he made constituted the important business of the evening.

When all these matters of great consequence had been dispensed with, a large and beautiful cake occupied the center of attraction. The occasion? The birthdays, all in the month of October, of four of the fifteen Seniors, namely: Modena Minnich, Kathryn Harshbarger, Ada Moothart and Alida Larimer.

Upon the cake reposed a number of candles, the number representing perhaps the average age of the honored group, and the ceremony of lighting and extinguishing them was then duly carried on. As an accompaniment to the cake, ice cream was served. Did the Seniors enjoy it? Ask Dwight Welch.

After the climax of the ice cream and cake, the conclusion came in logical order and consisted of singing the old songs and of giving the farewells in the "usual" way.

COMMISSION NOTES

The commission has been holding regular meetings every Thursday evening. It was decided by the unanimous consent of all those who happened to be present on time at one of the meetings, that the last person to appear at each regular meeting should treat the crowd. So far, one married man and one single man are supposed to treat, but the married man has begged for time.

There has been considerable discussion as to a suitable name for our athletes. The names which have met with some degree of favor in the student body are, Panther, Spartan, Greyhound, Cavalier and Knight. A name will mean a great deal to the school and should be carefully considered before being adopted. We want a name which carries a high ideal with it, one that will look well in print and which will fit into "yells."

Another question which the commission has presented to the student body is that of presenting all Senior men who have won three or more letters in football with a sweater. This would be only a very small token of honor from the students to the players, but it would probably mean much to the Senior men. Should other sports be included in this plan? If so, what provision should be made in regard to a Senior man who is eligible to a sweater in more than one sport? Think and talk of these questions until they are satisfactorily settled. Come on, students, let's go!

PERSONALS

Most of the students attended the Los Angeles County Fair, held at Pomona, October 14-18.

Miss Dorothea Dick gave her parents, who live in Reedley, a pleasant surprise last week by visiting a few days with them.

No wonder Prof. Brandt has been smiling so much the last few days. Listen and I'll tell you why. A baby boy has come to his home to stay. They call him Lloyd Carleson.

Several of the students had the pleasure of hearing President Coolidge speak last Thursday evening over the radio.

Did you notice the clean, beaming faces of the electric light shades in the auditorium? Ask Ruth Price, Pearl Whitcher or Wilbur Hoke how it all happened.

Misses Kathryn Harshbarger, Olive Pobst and Florence Landis, with Mr. Overholtzer, motored to Los Angeles last Wednesday evening to teach in the Chinese mission. They report the work to be very interesting.

We are sorry to say that several of the students have come in contact with bad colds and are having no easy task in overcoming them.

Prof. Sargent was a guest of the Brooks boys Sunday, October 12th. From what we hear, the beefsteak was good, even if the stew was burned.

Pearl Whitcher and Lola Ramsey made a special trip to Mexican town to obtain their first sight of a cow this year.

Miss Thelma Kuns and Miss Muir have purchased a slip of the Golden Emblem Rose, which they have planted in memory of Miss Vesta Sanger. The rose is placed in front of the ladies' dormitory, as near Miss Sanger's window as possible.

A group of students spent part of last Sunday afternoon singing to "shut-ins." They expect, as far as possible, to continue this work each Sunday through the year.

ATHLETICS

LA VERNE VS. LOYOLA

The College team registered their third victory in four starts when they defeated Loyola College 15 to 0 on Loyola's grounds Saturday, October 18th. According to "dope" it was expected to be a close contest, and this it proved to be for the first three quarters of the game. However, La Verne opened up on end runs and passes in the last period of the game which kept Loyola constantly on the defense.

The game started with LaVerne kicking to Loyola. The Catholics were held for downs and the LaVerne team immediately made a march for a touchdown but were held for downs with about two feet to go for a touchdown. In their attempt to punt out of danger, a bad pass from center caused the Loyola punter to fumble and before he could punt Lehmer tackled him and a safety was registered for La Verne.

The ball was taken to the 20-yard line and Loyola took it to LaVerne's 15-yard line on straight old-fashioned off-tackle bucks by the end of the quarter. As the second period began the LaVerne forward wall strengthened and Loyola was held for downs.

LaVerne then took the ball on line bucks and short end runs to the 40-yard line where the ball was fumbled and recovered by a Loyola man. It was then carried by them to La Verne's one-yard line but the line again held and J. Brooks punted to safety. The half ended with the ball in Loyola's possession on LaVerne's 45-yard line. Early in the third period, Betts picked up a Loyola fumble and rambled 15 yards for the first touchdown of the game. The extra point was made by J. Brooks kicking, and the score stood 9 to 0. It was during this period that Glick opened up on open field running and line bucks which were all but sensational, making anywhere from five to 20 yards time after time. Both teams completed passes for substantial gains, but La Verne held the edge on gained ground and the ball was kept in Loyola's territory.

In the final quarter Loyola was desperate to score, opening up on passes and everything they had, but to no avail. Early in this period Betts was on the receiving end of a beautiful pass from J. Brooks which netted 35 yards and the second touchdown for Bert for the day. The attempt to add the extra point failed and the score stood at 15 to 0 at the end of the game.

Krock and Furlong at the tackle positions, Donohue at guard and Lowry in the backfield played exceptionally well for Loyola, while Betts, Dickey, Brubaker, Glick and J. Brooks were the brightest lights for La Verne.

The lineup follows:

Betts	L. E.	Brown
Marshburn	L. T.	Krack
Martens	L. G.	Deazy
Dickey, Capt.	C.	Sherwood
Brubaker	R. G.	Donohue
Root	R. T.	Furlong
Lehmer	R. E.	O'Hara
O. Brooks	Q.	Hoffman
Glick	L. H.	Tunney
Welch	R. H.	N. Browne
J. Brooks	F. B.	Hoeffler

ACADEMY

Although the Academy had not played a league game until Friday, they have been busy with practice games. Webb's School for Boys, from Claremont, was met on the home field Friday the 17th and the Academy boys registered a 39 to 0 score against them before the game was over.

Chet Shirk scored in the first quarter and repeated in the second with Crites adding one, but Chet was unable to add an extra point in his three attempts.

In the third quarter LaVerne was able to register only two points by way of a safety. However, in the final period Chet added two more touchdowns and Milton Brownsberger added two which with one point added by a goal after one of the touchdowns, brought the score to 39 to 0 by the end of the game.

ACADEMY MEETS POMONA

Coach Beckner with his academy team, journeyed to Pomona High School on Monday afternoon to give Coach VanCleave and his team a workout. The LaVermites did well in holding the Pomonans to a 20 to 0 score.

For the size of the squad and the inexperience of a number of the men, they played good football. Shirk and Brownsberger in the backfield, and Ernst and G. Hartman on the line, registered brilliant work for the Academy team.

Pomona has won fifteen championships in the last twenty-two years that she has been a member of the Citrus Belt League. This serves to show something of the nature of the competition which the LaVerne team met. The lineup for LaVerne follows:
 Q. B.—Shirk.
 Halves—Eikenberry and Crites.
 F. B.—Brownsberger.
 Ends—Smith and Mahoney.
 Tackles—G. Hartman and Ebersole.
 Guards—Hanawalt, D. Hartman.
 Center—Ernst.
 Substitutes—Blickenstaff, Funk.
 Big "Bill" Crowston has been out of the game for some time due to a cracked rib.

1924 RULES FOR FOOTBALL

1. No player with false teeth shall be permitted to bite an opposing player.
2. Mayhem shall be allowed when a player's teeth come accidentally into juxtaposition with an opponent's ear.
3. No member of the opposing team shall be allowed to go swimming in the water bucket.
4. Manslaughter charges shall not be filed against any player unless it can be proved that he used a black-jack.
5. The home team shall be compelled to sweep all loose noses and ears from the gridiron after every game.
—The Talisman.

A Hallowe'en Party! A Masquerade? Why of Course!

Did you ever hear of an October without a dozen or more affairs? And say—right now (don't wait till the last minute, then rush) go over to "Frasher's" in Pomona and select one of their Character Masks, then it will be easy to fix the rest of the "dress" to go with it. Whether it be a tramp, clown, big baby or Indian prince or princess—grandma or grandpa—Mr. and Mrs. Chinaman—or even the "old witch" or the "Devil himself"—you just must have the right "FACE" and select it now while assortment is complete.

Oh yes, and "Frasher's" have an entire book full of stunts, jokes and games just specially for Hallowe'en. And say—don't miss seein' their spookie "Hallowe'en Den" full of "Things."

Substitutes: For Loyola—Haddock for Deazy, Lowry for Hoffman, McIsacs for N. Browne and 2Duffey for Tunney.

For LaVerne—Hoff for Root, Hartman for Lehmer, Boots for Welch and Welch for O. Brooks.
