COMMISSION FORM OF S. B. GOVERNMENT

Perhaps the most radical change in Student Body activity at La Verne College took place when the new revision of the constitution was adopted, placing La Verne College among the increasing number of schools having the commission form of student government. This sudden change completely superseded all previous customs and methods and threw the activities into a state of confusion until the commission was elected and at work. This accounts for the lateness in getting out the college paper.

The idea of changing the old form of Student Body government to the present form was talked of before, but it had found too great an opposition until this year. Early in the year several of the students began a systematic propaganda for the commission form of government.

Realizing that the old constitution required a great deal of revision, about seventy of the students petitioned that a committee of revision be appointed and that the committee be instructed to work out a constitution providing for a commission form of government.

This petition was granted, and a committee got to work immediately. A constitution was ready for consideration in two days. Before the constitution was presented to the Student Body as a whole, it was discussed by a body of students representing the different classes of the College and Academy. After this meeting, the proposed constitution underwent a slight revision in the hands of the committee.

When the new plan was presented to the student body as a whole, it was adopted with very little change from its original form. The remarkable thing about the new movement is that it received a hearty endorsement from the student body and the faculty. There is no question but that the college is a unit in supporting the new commission form of government.

The commission plan of student government as adopted by the student body simplifies the running of student activities to a great extent. The government is in the hands of five commissioners who hold the executive and appointive powers of the student body, subject to its approval. This means that the editors of the publications and the various student managers are appointed by the commissioners instead of their being elected by the whole student body as under the old constitution. The commission acts for the student body and saves much time and energy over the old system.

The commission is made up of a Commissioner of Student Welfare, a Commissioner of Publications, a Commissioner of Finance, a Commissioner of Debating, and a Commissioner of Athletics. These commissioners have supervision of their respective departments and are responsible to the commission, which is held responsible by the student body.

The great advantage in the commission form of government over the old plan lies in the increased concentration of executive and appointive powers. The commission is at all times held in check by the initiative, referendum and recall, and is spurred on by a sense of responsibility for the success of the student body activities. Surely the coming of this new form of government is a sign of progress at old L. V. C.

In a practice game with Claremont, held on the latter's grounds, the La Verne team won with a score of 25-24. This was the most exciting game played this year. The close score added to the suspense and excitement. Those who played were:

Dwight Welch, Ernest Landis, Forwards.
Joe Davis, Center.
John Brooks, Alva Lentz, Alvin Marshburn, Guards.

ELECTION OF STUDENT BODY OFFICERS

The Student Body election went off with a bang this year. On account of the adoption of the new form of student government, the election was held a week later than the date called for in the constitution. Even before the constitution was adopted, the excitement of the coming election began. Those most interested in the change began lining up the candidates for the various commissions. The candidates were rushing wildly about seeking out able campaign managers.

The minute the constitution was adopted and the Student Body adjourned, the campaigners came around expounding the virtues of their candidate and incidentally asking you to sign that candidate's petition. After each candidate had twenty names on his list he handed it to the faculty for approval.

The hall was decorated with posters advertising the different candidates, each of whom was loyally supported by friends and classmates. Before the assembled students each candidate, introduced by his campaign manager, stated his platform briefly. Mr. Davis and Son very successfully led off the campaign meeting by a booster speech for one of the candidates. The applause which followed the appearance of the candidates showed the support and interest manifested by the students.

At four o'clock on Tuesday, Sept. 30th, the final election was held. The Australian ballot system was used, and proved very successful. Those who had paid their Student Body dues were eligible to vote, and they felt very important as they were given a ballot and passed to one of the various booths where a member of the faculty stood guard. The Freshies especially enjoyed stamping a ballot for the first time in their young lives.

The results of the election proved to be very close and the following commissioners were elected: Commissioner of Student Welfare, Marie Woody; Commissioner of Finance, David Bomberger; Commissioner of Publications, D. Welty Lefever; Commissioner of Athletics, John Price; Commissioner of Debating, Leland S. Brubaker.

On the following day after chapel service each of the new commissioners pledged his loyalty to the school and the Student Body in a few well-chosen (?) words after which the students by a rising vote pledged themselves to the support of the commissioners. Altho there are many difficulties in working out the new system, it has been recognized as a success, and the school looks forward to a still larger field of action.

Grinder and Grind

Faculty Member: When our English teacher gets through with you, you will be polished.

Student: Yes, unless I am worn out.

PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS

Students! Stop, look, listen, just one moment! Do you realize just how much we are indebted to the advertisers in this paper? Do you know they make this paper possible? Just suppose no one were to advertise in the Campus Times. What would be the result? Why there wouldn't be any Campus Times at all, or else you would have to dig down in your pockets and pay for the publishing.

All right. Now, what's your plain duty? Can you afford to pay no attention to the advertisers? Rather, do you not feel in duty bound to patronize them?

Students, cooperate with the advertisers. Give them your trade. Let them know that their advertisements are bringing results. Cooperation, the watchword of the age, is the thing we must have.

CAMPUS TIMES--NEW BI-WEEKLY NEWSPAPER

The first issue of the "Campus Times" is before you. With the month of June in the year one thousand nine hundred and nineteen, the "Palmerian" ceased to be. In October of the same year the Campus Times came into existence. Those who witnessed the expiration of the Palmerian can say without one dissenting voice that no tears were shed on that occasion. In like manner can it be said that the occasion upon which the "Campus Times" began its career was one of great rejoicing. The appearance of a live bi-weekly newspaper is hailed with satisfaction by the students. Others who read the paper will certainly never regret the change.

That which never changes never makes progress. The very meaning of the word is that of moving forward. For progress, then, there must be a change. In history there has frequently been brought about by revolutions and wars. There must be an advance from the old to the new. New methods of procedure and new ideas must be put into practice. The Campus Times is a new idea, at least as far as La Verne College is concerned. Schools innumerable all over this land have adopted the newspaper system for their publications and are meeting with marked success. Where the school newspaper has been tried out, a return to the monthly magazine would be met with many objections. This bi-weekly paper marks the beginning of a new epoch in the history of our school publications. Future students will look back to the organization of this newspaper as an important event in the history of this institution.

The advantages of this form of school paper far out-weigh the disadvantages. True, it takes more time and effort to publish a paper twice a month than it would once a month. But the news in a bi-weekly paper isn't all so stale that everyone has lost interest in it. The various activities of the school are printed before they are "Ancient History" and naturally are read with more interest. Then, too, a bi-weekly newspaper puts La Verne College in the front rank along the line of publications.

Another advantage in such a paper is that it gives the students greater opportunity for training themselves along literary lines. The experience obtained from such work is invaluable. The advertisers, too, have a better show in a newspaper than in a magazine in which the advertisements are all in the back. And indeed, we do owe much to the advertisers. They make this paper possible.

The friends of the school, scattered far and wide, have an opportunity to help make the "Campus Times" a success. Co-operation is absolutely necessary for the success of any project.

We are counting on you to rally to our support, and we feel sure you won't disappoint us. This paper will establish closer relationship and sympathy between the supporters of La Verne College and the students and faculty. Through it you will become acquainted with the student life. Were it possible to furnish this paper to each home without the subscription price, we would gladly do so. We appreciate the generous spirit of those who have contributed to this school. Do not let the change in subscription price keep you from taking the "Campus Times." You will get your money's worth.

To our many friends:—If you wish to subscribe to our paper and thus promote our mutual interest, please send your name and seventy-five cents to the Managing Editor.

The College Freshmen should enter Howard Beckner, John Price, Martha Brubaker, and Maurine Miller in a Better Babies Contest. They can take nourishment from a bottle beautifully.

APPEAL TO ALUMNI

Members of the Alumni! Attention! Do you remember those good old days spent in Lordsburg College—the good times you used to have, the tricks you used to play, the old college building, the old friends? It's La Verne College now, but it's the same old place. Students are having just as good times, and are playing jokes just as you did. Alumni, La Verne College needs your support. You want to do something to help your Alma Mater. Here's your opportunity. Send your name and seventy-five cents to the Managing Editor and we will send you the Campus Times. We know very well that you did not like the Palmerian. Neither did we, but we like the Campus Times, and so will you. The Campus Times will tell you things you want to know about the school activities and the students here. You want a part in making La Verne College bigger and better. Here's your chance! So send us your subscription today. You can't afford to lose one issue.

THE COLLEGE "L"

The "L" is another boost for a greater La Verne College. Saturday, Oct. 11th, was a school holiday. The boys went to the "L" early in the morning and worked hard all day, while the girls went to Live Oak Canyon and played hard all day. Then in the evening the big supper put every one in exceptionally good spirits. The day was well spent.

In the evening, when the boys came down to the canyon for supper, it was discovered that two of the boys, Nelson Kagarise and John Ebersole, were missing. Search parties were organized and started back into the mountains that night. Sunday afternoon the boys were found near Camp Baldy. More details will be given later.

But we must let you know who started this "L" and whose duty it is to clean or at least superintend the cleaning of it every year. Last year the Sophomore class, the class of '21, decided that the time was long past when La Verne College should have a letter "L" on the mountain side. So the class went to the faculty, obtained permission to make the "L," and arranged for a day's vacation for the whole school. Then they interested as many boys as possible, climbed the mountains and cut the letter on a suitable place previously decided upon.

Each year this letter must receive attention, so it was decided that this duty should fall upon the Sophomore class. The Sophs this year have taken hold willingly. We hope that as the years go on, this "L" will stand for the best college in California.

FOREST FIRE FIGHTING

The big fire in the mountains was successfully extinguished by the rain a few weeks ago, it is by no means forgotten. Within the college walls there was something decidedly lacking and of course, that something was our boys.

Fifteen volunteered on Sunday morning. On Monday morning the remaining boys in the dormitory were given an opportunity while at the breakfast table, to go. Sixteen or seventeen volunteered and were taken to Camp Baldy. They served there for a few days and then, having finished their work, came home. Of course, we must re-publish the letter from the Look-out man, E. E. Cook, in which he gives the boys the praise due them.

Baldy Lookout Station
Camp Baldy, Cal., 9/27/19
La Verne Leader:

Please publish the names of the La Verne College boys below and extend to them the thanks of the Forest Service men, for their great service performed during the big fire at Baldy Lookout Station. Such noble, manly and loyal boys they were to their duty—we've never before had nor seen, better men.

I'm sure you and all right-thinking and appreciative people will applaud them for having won a great victory, as our young Americans always have done in times of war and emergencies of all kinds.

E. E. COOK, Lookoutman
Following is the list of the boys who served at the Lookout Station:

Forest Ranger William Stanford, under whom the boys who went Sunday worked, sent his word of praise to these boys. He said the boys were

For a season our college halls have been silent, its doors closed. Its students have gone out far and wide, leaving their books behind. But once again La Verne College has swung wide her doors of learning and her students came in, glad to be back. When spring comes we want to get away from lessons, but the true student is always glad to get back to work again.

At the beginning of each school year we look forward to the biggest and best year in the history of the school. We talk of what we are going to accomplish, of the prospects for the year. All this is very well. It is as it should be. The one who seeks only to preserve the customs and traditions of the past or to adjust himself to conditions as he finds them, will not advance very far in life. It is certainly necessary to adjust oneself to his environment, but adjustment may be progressive or non-progressive. In order that adjustment may be progressive, the individual must seek to better his surroundings, to move forward. And so it is with college life. Some students are perfectly satisfied to travel in the same old path students have trod for years before them, and make no effort to do things in a different way. That's what students should progress, then, we should stand off and take a view of what lies before us. What are the prospects? What can we do to better them? These are questions that arise in the minds of those who think at the beginning of each school year.

We are made to wonder what has got into some of our students this last summer, for they have come back with their minds full to overflowing with plans whereby we may make progress in our student life. Some of these plans, at least, have already been put into practice. In this we hold that our adjustment to school life this year has been progressive. We have not been satisfied to go on in the same old way, doing things as we did them last year, and abiding by the same old constitutions. On the contrary, we have determined upon certain changes which we believe will give us better training individually, will be conducive to smoother running of student body affairs and will promote the welfare of our College.

First among these progressive steps is the Commission form of Student Body government. As ethics have progressed from the old system of mayor and council to newer and better forms of municipal government, so we, too, have progressed from the old system of president, secretary, etc., to a newer and, as we believe, better system. By centering the responsibility of a whole department of student body activity upon one person, greater efficiency and more satisfactory results are obtained. The initiative, referendum and recall provide against the possibility of abuse of power. If the students are wide awake and interested, there is no reason why this new system won't work.

In relation to the new system of student body government, comes the change in publications, a second progressive step. Thru the influence of our able Commissioner of Publications, Mr. Lefever, the Palmerian has become a sacred memory and the Campus Times a stern reality! Little need to say that the change from an artificial monthly magazine, such as the Palmerian, to a real, lively, bi-weekly newspaper, such as the Campus Times, is a progressive step. Our readers will recognize that there has, of necessity, been some delay in organizing a newspaper. It is our policy to make the Campus Times reflect the life of La Verne College. It is our purpose to make it such that anyone who reads may gain intimate knowledge of the inside life of the school. To carry out this policy, your co-operation, students, is indispensable.

Along many other lines we are making progress. So again we may say that the outlook for a bigger and better L. V. C. is brighter than ever before, for we have actually taken steps in progress. Already this year progress is a fact. Now let us keep it so.

BUD'S LETTER

La Verne Kollage,
October 10, 1919.

Dear Bill:

You no I promised to rite you befor I left hom to kum hear to La Verne. I am a regler kollage feller now althow I am only in the akadamy. I am a freshmun and we freshmin hav it pritty tuff.

The fakulty giv us a resephshun. You had to walk down a long line and shak hans with all the teachers. I got awful tirde befor I got to the end. The teachers fed us ice kream and kake for havng to shak hans with them.

We freshmin plade the softmores a game of baskit ball. We don't use a baskit at all. We jist try to toss the ball threw an iron ring plased up on a square bord about ate feet hi. The ball is about as large as that big hornets nest down in the bak paster. Well we plade the game but the softmores beet us pritty bad. The next da the junyers beet them. That helped sum. The junyers are our friends, you see. I dont pla on the taem yet but I think I will prety sune.

The Kollage is goin to publish a newspaper, The Campus Times. I'll send you a subscripshun. A feller made a speech in chappel and got everyboddy in the noshun of takin the paper whether thay wantid too or not. It was a grate skeme.

The Student Boddy has a commishun form of guverntment. There ar five commishuners. Marie Woody, a sort of inextinguishable girl full of kollage pepper and salt, is Commishuner of Student Welfar. Bomby, a black lookin, strappin, kollage junyer with a vois like a fog horn is Commishuner of Finanse. He takes kare of the munny. Dutch Brewbaker is Commishuner of Debate. He is a sawd off kind of guy, a good speeler, and is said to be sum debater. I am sure he is a gud bluffer. D. Welty Le fever takes care of Publikashuns. He is lite hared with a brane like an elefunts. John Price is to run the athletics. He is sure sum baskit ball playn. He cuts his hare so that it stands up all over his hed like a sheef of rie.

The litterary sositeties had a tim gettin nue members. I finally joid the Philos. Thay giv a dandy inishashun. Everybody was blindfolded and had to eat wurms. It was reel slick makarony. Sum of the girls skreemed like everthing.

Satterda we expect to go up and clear off the "L." I'll tell what that means in my next.

I think I'll lern sumthin down hear. Mr. Funderburgh, my english teacher says I shure need teechin.

Rite and tell me all the nuse.
As ever Yure bruther,

VOLUNTEER MISSION BAND

The Volunteer Mission Band is an important factor in the student life of La Verne College. Each Sunday morning the Band meets at the College and gives interesting and helpful programs. We are not studying a book this year as before, but are giving programs on various subjects. In this way we plan to give the individual members more to do and to make the meetings more helpful. The attendance has been very good so far, averaging about twenty-five or thirty.

One Sunday Miss Ruth Forney gave an inspiring talk on the Students' Life Conference at our Annual Meeting. The next Sunday, Mr. Kaylor, who has been a missionary to India spoke on some everyday experiences on the mission field. It was indeed interesting to hear of the life of our missionaries first hand. A musical program was given on Sunday Oct. 12.

One night each week two members of the Mission Band go down to the Chinese Mission in Los Angeles. They teach the Chinese boys English and help them to study the Bible. This is very fascinating work and of practical value.

The Band will begin its deputation work among the churches soon. On the evening of Nov. 2d, a program will be given at Covina.

Every student is invited to attend the Sunday morning meetings at 8:45. there is something there for you.

willing always to do the hardest tasks promptly and well. These boys were:

Leland Brubaker, David Bomberger, Ralph Netzley, Harvey Emley, Orville Brooks, Otis Brooks, Herman Landis, John Brooks, Paul Kellar, Alva Lentz, Ralph Frantz, Dwight Welch, Walter Root, Virgil Neher, John Price, Chase Harper, Marion Roynon, Howard Beckner, Archie Brooks.

We missed our boys, and of course, we had mental pictures of them with singed hair, torn clothing, worn out shoes, starving to death, and in general undergoing every hardship imaginable, but we are proud that they went and did their best. And oh! you should have seen the smiling faces after the U. S. checks were passed around.

NEWS ITEMS

President S. J. Miller, Dr. J. P. Dickey and Rev. R. H. Miller and wife are attending the annual district meeting of the Church of the Brethren which is held this year at Empire.

A malady somewhat resembling the Flu has been making its rounds in the Ladies' and Men's Dormitories. Several have been confined to their beds a few days while others are fighting the disease and trying to keep up their school work. Miss Chressie Neff was ill for over a week, but is now able to take up her work in the office again.

Miss Marjorie Thomas has also been ill the past week. Miss Minnie Rhodes has been taking her place in serving tables in the Dining Hall. Miss Thomas is now back in her place.

Miss Prudence Kagarise left Friday evening to spend a few days with her friend, Miss Marian Kennish, who was a student in La Verne College last year. Miss Kennish is attending the University of Southern California and will receive her A. B. degree in the spring.

The Mothers' and Daughters' Association of the Church of the Brethren held its first meeting in the College Auditorium on Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 1st. Mrs. J. Z. G... gave a splendid address setting forth the need and possibilities of a Mothers' and Daughters' organization in La Verne. Many of the college girls were present. A very profitable afternoon was spent by all. Before leaving, refreshments of tea and wafers were served. Both mothers and daughters are looking forward with pleasure to the next meeting.

Events of interest to many of the students are the weddings of Mr. Dean Yoder and Miss Nora Meinhart; and of Mr. Henry J. Overholtzer and Miss Anna Heard.

To Mr. and Mrs. Overholtzer and to Mr. and Mrs. Yoder, we extend our heartiest congratulations and best wishes.

Miss Meinhart and Mr. Yoder were married October 5th at their home in Hemet, having a church wedding. Those from La Verne who attended the wedding were Mr. Yoder's cousins, Mr. Walter Gilbert and Miss Mary Gilbert.

Miss Heard and Mr. Overholtzer were married at Miss Heard's home in McFarland at high noon, October 8th.

SOCIETY
On September 15th, with groans, sighs, shrieks, and smiles, the new members of the Allethelonian Literary Society slid down stairs on a fast express built for the occasion. The new members were taken thru the underworld and shown a gambler's den where the villain silt pursued his evil ways. In a dark, somber room, they found a poor decrepit soul, who, while living on earth, had acquired the habit of slipping away from home on washdays. For his punishment, he had to run the wash machine hour after hour, while his wife held over his head the far-famed rolling pin. After visiting the river Styx, and various other places of thrills and sensations, the members gathered in the Allethelonian hall. You should have heard the hounds bark for their masters when they were hunting peanuts! And then, just think, they had an auction, and some of the girls were sold for seven and a half peanuts! A short program was then given, after which refreshments, consisting of sandwiches and chocolate, ice cream and wafers were served. The Allethelonian Society is glad to welcome its new members, and hope they will do all they can to make the society a stepping stone to the Greater La Verne College.

The Bethany Girls Sunday School class entertained their new members Monday evening, September 16th, at the home of Miss Ollie Stayer. The old and new members became acquainted by talking to each person one minute. They were then entertained by "Ship's Arrived," "This in and that one," and many other games equally as interesting. Delightful refreshments of punch and salad were served.

The new members of the Philomathean Literary Society were initiated Monday evening October 6th in the old dining hall. Games were played and a good time was enjoyed by all, including several of the half-starved Alphians, who received hand-outs from the back window.

The Alphian Literary Society entertained their new members Saturday night, October 4th. The most interesting feature of the evening was the initiation of all the new members. They were led blindfolded over numerous obstacles; such as, tin cans, bed springs, unstationary teeter boards, and stair steps. Then, after being branded with an "A," which means so much to all Alphians, they became full-fledged members. Several lively games were played and enjoyed by all. Refreshments for the evening were chocolate and wafers, and apple pie a la mode. Ten o'clock came too soon, and after a rousing Alphian yell, all left the scene of merriment.

Monday evening, October 6th, the College Freshmen class was royally entertained by the Juniors at the home of Leland Brubaker in Glendora. They met for the purpose of having a good lively time, and they certainly

LYRIC CLUB

The Ladies Lyric Club of the College has been organized with the largest enrollment in the history of the school. There are now nearly thirty ladies enrolled, and we hope that other names may be added very soon.

The standard of the club has been placed so that only ladies who have had Chorus I or its equivalent will be admitted, and Professor Haugh, the director, has tested each voice carefully so that each member of the club may be placed in the part best suited to her voice.

Regular rehearsals will be given once a week, beginning Thursday, October 9, at 4 p. m. and we hope that it will not be long before the first of our entertaining and helpful programs may be given. Some up-to-date, classic and comic selections have been chosen by the director, and the girls are determined to show the very best that is in them in preparing and rendering these.

With this determination, success is certainly in their power, and every student of La Verne College is expected to boost and support the Ladies Lyric Club.

accomplished that purpose. The Juniors liked to play little tricks on the Freshies, but the latter met all the jokes good-naturedly, and proved that they were not slackers.

During the evening, however, the Freshmen were compelled to do one thing which hurt their conscience exceedingly. They are naturally timid, and when they were asked to enumerate their virtues, they nearly backed out. They thought it very improper to tell their good qualities without giving a few bad ones. Nevertheless, they plucked up courage and gave interesting talks. John Price succeeded in flattering himself the most, and after a few words of fatherly advice, the Juniors presented him with a little book.

One of the most amusing features of the evening, at least in the eyes of the Juniors, was a milk drinking contest. Four of the Freshmen, evidently the biggest babies, were given bottles of cold milk provided with nipples. Each Freshie was to try to drink the milk first. The girls calmly composed themselves in a big Morris chair and enjoyed it to the utmost; while the boys labored earnestly with the milk. In course of time, Howard Beckner succeeded in drinking his portion first. He was given a dainty rattle, which served as an excellent watch fob.

The Juniors thought the Freshies couldn't spell Constantinople, but they did just the same, even if the Juniors did say "No, no, no!" all the time.

Refreshments are usually calculated to cap the climax on an evening of fun. This case was not the exception that proved the rule. Chocolate and sandwiches first appeared on the scene, followed closely by heaping dishes of strawberry ice-cream.

Every dog has his day. Likewise every party must end, and so did this one.

On Sept. 26th, Miss Ruth Forney gave a dinner party at her home in this city. A very delightful two-course dinner was served. The guests did full justice to it, as only dorm students can. After dinner a very enjoyable evening was spent in playing games, tricks, and holding contests of various kinds. Miss Forney was leaving the city for Chicago several days later, and the guests wished her a pleasant journey and successful year at Bethany Bible School. A very delightful time was spent in the Forney home. Those present were the Misses Marshburn, Crist, Landis, Harshbarger, Kathryn and Ruth Forney; and Messrs. Lefever, Herman Landis, Ernest Root, Kaylor, and Forney.

U. S. B. C.

A meeting of the United Student Body Confederation was called on October 1st, at 4:00 p. m. Those representing La Verne were two members chosen from each class in the Academy, the commissioner, the coach, and the Student Body representative.

La Verne was chosen to elect a member from the Academy to serve as second vice-president of the U. S. B. C. Mr. Alva Lentz was chosen by the La Verne commission and accepted by the representative meeting of the U. S. B. C.

It was decided to hold the Gala Day track meet at Pomona College athletic field under the supervision of Puente in cooperation with the Y. M. C. A.

Any man enlisted in the U. S. service previous to this school year may return to school with full standing and participate in any school activity, providing he is under 21 years of age, as ruled by the Confederation.

TENNIS RACKET

In the past few years tennis has existed, but not lived, as a game in La Verne College athletics. It has apparently been considered a "sissy" game, but 'twas hard to get even the girls out for their own game. Well! This year, "Sis" and I are both getting out for tennis. Yea! Long e'er the tennis season has been thought of, we'll have some "sharks" here that will make the whale that swallowed Jonah look like a bait-trout.

Seriously, though, we have more material for tennis this year than for several years past. About 45 students have signed up for tennis. As a result, we cannot attempt to schedule them on three barely usable courts. As soon as a team and drag can be secured, our business manager promises us two new courts on the new building plot just west of the Girls' Dormitory.

La Verne Academy is going "over the top" in basket ball and track, so why not in tennis? The tennis season is far ahead, but the spirit is high already and we should not relax, because we need the practice. So! Let's go!

Tennis Rules

- (1) Keep your eye on the ball.
- (2) The point of contact should be in the middle of the racquet. Hold racquet firmly.
- (3) Never cramp. Take full swing. Never push at ball.
- (4) When serving, reach as far as possible. Balance yourself evenly.

INTER-CLASS BASKET BALL

Basket ball always starts out with lots of spirit and pep, when it starts in L. V. C. The classes all practice together for the first three or four weeks of school. Then they begin to wonder which class really is the best.

This year each class had to prove itself. Last week was set for the time when the whole school should turn out and watch the games. The games were played, two each evening; two teams playing one half, then the other two playing while the first teams rested.

The first evening the Freshmen and Sophomores, and the Juniors and Seniors played. The Sophomore-Freshie game was very exciting, and some good material for the coming year was plainly shown. Mr. Levi Dickey and the Brooks twins should take heed and never cease to practice.

The Junior-Senior game, of course, was a little more exciting, due to the fact that the Juniors had most of the first team, they were too much for the Seniors. However, the Seniors put up a good fight.

The next evening the two winning teams appeared on the court in flying colors. The Juniors held the lead, never forgetting the tactics taught by the coach. When the game was over, they were ten points ahead.

The College Juniors and Freshies played the same evening, the Juniors coming out winners.

The scores were as follows:

	Academy
Freshmen	4	Sophomore	17
Seniors	20	Juniors	31
Sophomore	8	Juniors	32
College
Freshmen	14	Juniors	20

BASKET BALL

Basket ball is a sport that has the hearty support of every loyal student of La Verne College and Academy. It is a sport that requires skill and ability to think and act quickly and what is of far greater importance, the ability to control one's temper and take the ups and downs that are bound to come in a hard fought game. To be able to do this without losing control of oneself, is real self control. The player who fails in controlling himself has failed to get the great good that Basket Ball has in store for him.

We do not say our teams are perfect along this line, but we are striving toward this end. We believe and carry out our belief that it is better to lose a game and lose it fairly than to win by resorting to unfair means. You must not judge from this that the L. V. C. teams are not out to win, because they are, but they are working fairly, knowing that "honesty is always the best policy."

The Academy team this year looks promising, exceedingly so, for it has both weight and speed, which combined with the players' experience will make them a winning team. Team work is being rapidly developed by our efficient coach, Lester Vaughn, who has charge of athletics in L. V. C. this year.

The Valley League schedule, which has just been received, is as follows:

- October 17
La Verne at Downey
- October 24
Norwalk at La Verne
- October 31
La Verne at Claremont
- November 7
La Verne at El Monte
- November 14
Puente at La Verne
- November 21
Montebello at La Verne
- November 28
La Verne at Bonita

The games are called at 3:30. You will notice that La Verne has four games away from home and three at home. This is a slight disadvantage, but was unavoidable. We wish to inform the players that the Student Body is solidly behind them and they will receive support even better than in former years; also that we expect great things from them, that they may merit this support.

But did you know that the College department is putting out a team this year? Not just for exercise, either; that team is out to win. Although the material to choose from is not very extensive, the team shows up in fine shape. More will be heard from it later in the year, as the College season does not open for some time yet. No definite information is available as to the league to be entered or the dates of the games.

The College has a practice game scheduled for Wednesday, Oct. 16th, with Bonita High School. The Academy has a practice game with Claremont Oct. 10th. The results will be placed elsewhere in the Times.

Raymond Root has been appointed by the commission as College Basket Ball Manager, and Alva Lentz, Academy Basket Ball Manager. If everyone will give them their hearty support, they will do much toward making our teams more efficient.

Under our new form of government, we expect to improve our courts and also to be more systematic in the management and care of our equipment. Byrl Harper has been appointed Care-taker and Student Body worker or 'slave.' He is responsible for our equipment and the care of the courts.

All suggestions as to how you think the management of and care of the Basket Ball equipment may be improved will be gladly received by the Commissioner of Athletics.

COLLEGE BASKET BALL

The College team plays Bonita next Wednesday. The line up is:

- John Price and Howard Becker, forwards.
- Elliott Thomas, Center.
- David Bomberger, Charles Fisher, Herman Landis, Guards.

Pomona Policeman: I shall have to arrest you if you park your car here.

La Verne Student: Why, that sign says, "Fine for parking."

VAUGHN SAYS—

Interview with the Coach

The athletic coach, Mr. Vaughn, upon being interviewed, seemed very much elated over the prospects for Basket Ball for the coming season. He says the Academy team has shown great improvement and he thinks that by Friday, when the first league game will be played, he will have a team as fast as any in the league. From fifteen to eighteen candidates have been coming out for practice every night, and the five that will form the first team will have to have merit.

Coach Vaughn has had a great deal of experience in athletics, and with the material he has on hand, we can expect a winning team this year.

Great interest has been added by the College team working against the Academy. Working against the faster team, the Academy boys are showing more speed in playing.

This is the first year the College has entered a team for the season. They will play the fast High School teams and later the College teams. The coach thinks the College team will compare favorably with other college teams.

PERECLEAN DEBATING CLUB

Well, we are here in school again, studying hard trying to remember the things brought out in each lesson. We find it difficult. We don't know what to do. It seems that we just can't remember. Listen! we will tell you what to do. Just hand your name on a slip of paper to one of the following persons; Virginia Goodman, Fern Stitser or Walter Sell, and tell them that you would like to join the Pereclean Debating Club.

The Pereclean Debating Club was organized last year by a number of Academy students who wanted to know more about public speaking. We had a good-sized club, rendered a number of interesting programs, and received some very valuable training along this line.

This year we are starting in with more zeal and enthusiasm than last year. Our first program was rendered extemporaneously. But when our coach gave his criticism, we had little reason to be discouraged, for he highly praised our good work as extemporaneous speakers, and added that "it was the best extemporaneous speaking that he had ever heard given from such a new organization."

We have Mr. Walter Hoover as our president this year, Mr. Jesse Hepner as vice-president, and Miss Modena Minnich as Secretary-Treasurer. Mr. Earl Schrock is our manager. With such officers as these, we cannot help but succeed.
