Aeolian Quartet Again to Travel

The Aeolian Quartette, traveling troubadours of LaVerne College, will leave Saturday, Nov. 30, for a week's tour through the San Joaquin Valley. During the present week the quartet is giving concerts in Southern California.

The quartet, composed of George Berg, first tenor; Orville Thomason, second tenor; Doyle Montz, baritone, and Russell Frantz, bass, is being excused from classes for two weeks to represent the college at a number of high schools. Don C. Miller, manager of the quartet, was absent from school last week to arrange the concerts. He announces a heavy schedule.

On the present tour the quartet is appearing at Colton high school, Riverside high school, Corona high school, Monrovia Rotary club, Fresno Tech, Fowler high school, Reedley high school, Clovis high school, Exeter high school, Delano high school and Bakersfield high school. Last Sunday night they appeared at the Covina Methodist church and next Sunday they will sing at the Kingsburg Methodist church.

The quartet has given over one hundred concerts during the past seven months and is rapidly building an enviable reputation. They hold many recommendations as well as invitations for return engagements. Concerts are already being arranged for next semester and all indications point to a busy year ahead of them.

The quartet is being directed by Prof. B. S. Haugh, head of the voice department. Prof. Ralph Travis is assisting as accompanist and adds much to their Sunday night concerts by presenting pipe organ solos.

WOMEN SPEAK EXTEMPORANEOUSLY

The Women's Extempore Contest of the Southern League was held Friday evening, November 22, at the University of California at Los Angeles.

The colleges represented were Redlands, Pomona, U. C. L. A. and LaVerne. LaVerne was represented by Miss Opal Kuns. Miss Kuns was coached by Mrs. Haugh of the speech department and made an excellent extemporaneous speech on the subject of "Farm Relief."

Miss Blossom Mills secured first place for Redlands University on her speech on "Fascism."

A. W. S. CHOOSE PLAY

"Thanks Awfully" is the play on which the girls of Miller Hall are beginning practice. Parts have been assigned and rehearsals are to begin in earnest in the near future. At present the members of the cast are working on their own individual parts.

The association plans to present an evening's entertainment consisting of two one-act plays on some date before the Christmas holidays. Their object is to secure funds for purchasing a radio for the dormitory parlor.

The play to be given in conjunction with "Thanks Awfully" has not as yet been definitely decided upon.

Consider the lowly chewing gum. How tenacious it is. It gains a foothold almost anywhere.

THANKSGIVING

We ought to make the moments notes
Of happy, glad thanksgiving;
The hours and days a silent phrase
Of music we are living.

And so the theme should swell and grow
As weeks and months pass o'er us,
And rise sublime at this good time,
A grand Thanksgiving chorus. —Wilcox.

Juniors Entertain Student Group

By some hook or crook the juniors were fortunate in being able to obtain the services of some of the world's most noted entertainers, who gave a short program before the assembly Friday morning. The most illustrious of these were Harry Lauder, Betty Compson, Brubakerovitzky, Aileen Jolson and the Aeolian Quartette.

Harry Lauder appeared first, singing his old Scotch melodies as only Harry can, but a roar of laughter filled the auditorium when everybody recognized Myrtice Butterbaugh under the Scotch costume. Betty Compson (Elizabeth Masterson) displayed her wonderful art to the audience in a reading, "At the Art Gallery."

The listeners were next overcome by the enthralling spell cast by a piano solo which was rendered by Brubakerovitzky (Edna Brubaker). Aileen Jolson (Kay Crist) presented a reading which demonstrated her powers of imitation very well.

The Aeolian Quartette with various alterations presented the final numbers. The alterations were the most remarkable points of interest in the quartette, for the voices were all soprano and the singers turned out to be Myrtice Butterbaugh, Martha Baer, Esther Dickey and Edith Murray.

The junior class president, Vernon Weybright, presented the entertainers and supervised the program.

Galli-Curci to Sing in Pomona

Madame Galli-Curci will give one of her justly famous concerts at Pomona Friday, November 29, at the high school auditorium. She will complete a series of concerts in America this year, after which she will go to Europe.

Her concerts have not been given in any of the major European countries except Spain and Italy. Her fame was achieved in Russia, Italy, Spain and the American continent.

This program is sponsored by the Pomona Ebell Club and is the second of a series in the Philharmonic course bringing famous artists within the reach of the college students.

What do you think of this statement recently heard by a faculty member at a religious education conference?

"Teachers from LaVerne College contribute to the religious life of the community in which they teach to a degree many other teachers do not. LaVerne teachers are interested in the religious and moral welfare of their pupils. They are not skeptical but well established in their own beliefs."

A PROPHECY

The time will come in America, when, as in other countries, moral and religious instruction will be given in the public schools as a definite part of the curriculum.—Professor Sarafian.

News Received From Beloved Prof.

A letter recently received by Mrs. Porter from Miss Muir was posted at Edinburgh, Scotland, 29 Warrender Park Road. It states that Miss Muir and her parents left Geneva the early part of October and after spending several days in Paris went on to Edinburgh, where they will remain till January. They may go to Italy if later the weather is too severe for her parents, but Miss Muir is hoping they can stay in Edinburgh for the winter.

Miss Muir is enrolled for the first term at the University of Edinburgh where she is studying history and also learning much about University life and methods of teaching. She says in the letter:

"This morning I attended the Freshman course in history and listened to the opening lecture on how to study. I was much im-

"What Is That In Thy Hand?"

Pastor Walker's talk to the Student Volunteers last Wednesday was much appreciated for the inspiration and practical value which it contained. The theme of his talk, "Serving God with a Consecrated Hand," was well founded in the Scriptural text, "What Is That in Thine Hand?"

It is not so much the capacity for service of a specific kind, as the willingness to use what talents we have, that counts. Whatever our abilities may be, they can be made our spiritual weapons with which to overcome the temporal world and increase the kingdom of God. Small weapons (talents) are as valuable as greater ones.

Biblical and modern heroes were cited as fitting illustrations of what initiative, purpose, the power of speech, consecrated and humble services and gifts may accomplish without foreknowledge.

Florence Brubaker led in the devotional thoughts on the value of friendship, preceding the talk, and a duet "In the Secret of His Presence," was sung by Pearl Niswander and Laura Frantz.

Announcements were made concerning the Student Volunteer convention at Whittier this week-end and some practical work at North Pomona in helping with a union Sunday School there.

The meeting was held in the College Y. W. C. A. room, the first one to be held there this year.

C. W. Consider Spirit of Thanks

Thanksgiving Day was especially commemorated by an unusual and fitting program which was presented Sunday evening at the congregation of the Christian Workers. Paul Daugherty served as leader. The service was opened by group singing which was immediately followed by devotions. The offering of prayer and the rendition of a poem constituted the devotional numbers. A trio composed of Lois Rupert, Mary Platt and May Chronister sang, after which Zelda Morelock gave a reading and Anita Bowman rendered a violin solo.

The main speakers were May Chronister and Everett Calvert. "The First Thanksgiving" was rendered through May's guidance, and Everett gave his impressions of "What Thanksgiving Should Mean Today."

Diamond Hartman entertained with a musical selection which was succeeded by a reverent piano postlude.

The program was highly appreciated for its revival of the original Thanksgiving spirit.

Pictures for the annual are now being snapped. The picture of the Y. W. C. A. room was taken last Wednesday evening immediately after the Student Volunteer meeting, and various class rooms and the gymnasium have also been photographed. The juniors and seniors are posing every day now.

Juniors Present Sparkling Comedy

The time has come when "Vanity" will appear. The message of this unique Junior Class Play to be presented in the College auditorium Tuesday evening, Nov. 26, at 8 o'clock, has been carried to the four corners of LaVerne and surrounding communities. It can hardly be possible that there is one whose ears have not tingled at the sounding report. Forget the despairs of the day which trouble the heart, and make Tuesday an evening of hearty laughter. A comedy always does that for most people, but "Vanity" has outstanding qualities which favor it from the usual comedy play. This one adds to the humor a message worth while and gives a theme for thought afterwards. "Vanity" finds herself in a great throng of predicaments as she sees only selfish self, but when she sees herself in others her attitude changes.

Do not spend the rest of your life in vain regret. It is not yet too late to secure tickets for this paragon of comedy. Get them from members of the junior class, at the LaVerne Drug Store,—or as a last resort, you may be able to get them at the door.

Musical Programs Charm Chapel

Miss Laura Durward again favored the assembly with a group of songs at the Tuesday morning chapel period. The assembly greatly appreciated Miss Durward's second program given before LaVerne College.

The first group consisted of two devotional hymns, a seventeenth century hymn called "Halleluiahs" and also "Come Unto Him," from the "Messiah." The second group was composed of folk songs. They were an old English folk song, "Shepherd, Be Light and Gay," a song from Sweden, "When I Was Seventeen," and an Irish song, "The Kerry Dance." Among the songs in the concluding group was a very amusing one, "Little Orphan Annie." For an encore Miss Durward gave, "My Lover Is a Fisherman." She was accompanied at the piano by Prof. Travis.

Miss Durward's home is in Boston, Massachusetts but she is spending the winter in Southern California, and her visit to the college was much appreciated.

Chapel exercises Thursday morning were conducted by Miss Vera Hoover. The program was wholly musical, consisting of piano solos and pianologues, the first number being a piano rendition entitled, "By the Sea." The interpretation given was interesting. A person, with some deep problem, was seated by the sea at night, trying to find a solution. The dark waves dashed the shore giving voice to the man's thoughts. At the end a feeling of peace and comfort steals over him.

The second number, also a piano solo, was "To a Comedian—Charles Chaplin," by Charles Wakefield Cadman.

"The Land of Beginning Again," a pianologue by Louise Fletcher, conveyed an interesting thought. How wonderful it would be if such a place as the "Land of Beginning Again" existed, where one could go and start all over again, leaving the former mistakes and cares behind.

The last number was another pianologue, "The Usual Way," by Phyllis Ferguson, depicting how things end in "the usual way."

Chapel ended by the students marching out "in the usual way."

At last they are here—the longed-for sophomore pins. The letters are staggered, the 2 being set lower than the 3. They are of green gold, so fixed that they can later be used as guards if so desired. When you see a proud young man or woman striding down the hall with his chest expanded you will know he is a happy member of the class of '32.

DR. KURTZ SPEAKS

Dr. Kurtz delivered the address, "Winning the World Thru Childhood," to an appreciative audience in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium last week during the Community Training School for Religious Education.

Maurice: "Will you hold these books for me?"

Lloyd: "Sir! I am a worthy senior."

Maurice: "Oh, that's all right. You look like an honest fellow."

CULTIVATE YOUR OWN GARDEN

Look about your own dooryard; into the lives and hearts of your own community. The last word of the philosopher, Voltaire, who was a great philosopher although a great cynic and satirist, was expressed in the words of Candide, the principal character of one of his great romances, "Let each of us cultivate his own garden."

Suppose Neva, assisted by her husband, sets out to convert the bare looking front yard into a flower garden and incidentally becomes an expert in dahlias or some other bulb or flower.

Suppose they they study all kinds of trees and herbs and wild flowers and get to find new life and love in hunting rare specimens. They have made a bigger, better garden of life.

Suppose we think—I mean really THINK—about beauty, all around us, and by and by come to find God's glories all around us, where formerly we saw nothing but fret, hurry, worry and study—we are no longer merely existing, we are LIVING.

We will never be happier by just loving and hating and finding fault. Let's look OURSELVES over. Set to work. Start the fires in our own "happiness furnace." Find something that interests us—within. Have it decent and improving. Make it spiritual; not sensual.

We will discover, soon enough, that no matter where we live—the lawn will be bigger, busier, better. The world will be lovelier and life will be sweeter.

This sounds like a sermon, but if it isn't true, just convince me otherwise and I'll apologize. We never can tell what we can do till we try.

LADIES' AID HONORS OLDEST MEMBER

Alumni and former students of McPherson College or Bethany Bible School will be interested in an occasion of last Wednesday at the local Church of the Brethren. The dinner of the Ladies' Aid meeting was in honor of the eightieth birthday of Mrs. Isaac Rothrock, better known as "Ma" Rothrock. She and her husband, now 83 years of age, have been making their home for three years with their daughter, Mrs. E. M. Studebaker.

For fifty-seven years, they have trod life's way together and a rare relationship of devotion exists between them. They are known by persons far and wide owing to the fact of their long occupation as cooks in dormitory kitchens. For eight years they served at McPherson College and for seventeen years at Bethany Bible School.

Mrs. Studebaker baked for her mother the usual birthday cake, one of her well-known delicious angelfoods. Grandpa Rothrock presented his wife with a half dozen beautiful large chrysanthemums. President and Mrs. Studebaker and Pastor and Mrs. Walker were among the guests at the birthday table.

President Davis of Mt. Morris College gave an address at the Fathers' and Sons' banquet in Elgin, Ill., and visited the Brethren Publishing House at that place a short time ago.

Mrs. Harper Frantz is taking a unique way to visualize the Christmas story for the beginners of the Church of the Brethren Sunday School. She has purchased a set of Christmas character dolls, Mary, Joseph, the Three Wise Men and the Shepherds.

Dr. and Mrs. Harper Frantz and little daughter plan to spend the Thanksgiving vacation with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Vaniman and family in Santa Ynez, returning home Sunday.

pressed, last summer, with the results of the tutorial system and I want to learn all I can about it."

Some further extracts from her interesting letter follow: "As I write this, we are sitting by the hearth in our new quarters at Edinburgh. Edinburgh is a lovely old town. When we were here last June I 'fell' for it hard. I thought I never had seen such a sky line of cliff and castle and cathedral! And the surrounding country, too, was so verdant and charming. Now it is gray and misty and bleak—but still beautiful. The weather makes me think of autumn in Kansas. The wind sweeps down the streets whirling the dead leaves with it. And the people scurry along all muffled with furs. But do you know, I like it—I had almost forgotten the feeling of autumn and the zest of it. I think I'll enjoy winter, too, if it is not too cold for father and mother."

"We are living in a typically English house (although in Scotland). We have a large "sitting room" with an open fireplace and kettles and frying-pan placed by the hearth. At one end of the room is a big buffet whose commodious compartments were evidently intended for brews of various sorts. The ceiling is very high and the woodwork paneled. On the walls hang some quaint pictures of English country life. All in all, it is about as different from our Bohemian apartment in Geneva as you can imagine, but it's all very interesting to us, and we are anxious to try life in this fashion."

Miss Muir says that although they are seeing interesting things and meeting pleasant people, they especially enjoy letters from home, "for nothing takes the place of our friends."

Glen: "Darling, in the moonlight your teeth are like pearls."

Florence: "Oh, indeed—and when were you in the moonlight with Pearl?"

TIMES STAFF MAKES WHOOPEE AL-FRESCO

The Miller ranch was the scene of a hilarious celebration Tuesday evening when Mrs. Miller entertained the Campus Times staff at a bean feed.

The crowd assembled about a large bonfire at approximately six o'clock and proceeded immediately to the business in hand, which consisted mostly in disposing of beans, sandwiches, salad and cake. The enjoyment which the crowd repeatedly expressed was very evident, and one and all agreed that their hostess surely knew the art of staging a successful "bean feed."

Mrs. Miller very modestly contended that the success of the affair was mostly due to the outdoor setting and the naturally good appetites of the guests. Others present, however, insisted that the excellent food was an important element.

The crowd joined in singing numerous nonsensical songs before dispersing.

The other evening Steward Allen stepped on the scales to weigh, and two small boys stood watching him. He dropped in his penny, but the machine was out of order and did not register.

"Good night, Bill!" gasped one of the small boys in amazement. "He's hollow!"

Team Work

It's all very well to have courage and skill,
And its fine to be counted a star.
But the single deed with its touch of thrill
Doesn't tell us the man you are;
For there's no lone hand in the game we play,
We must work to a bigger scheme,
And the thing that counts in the world today
Is, how do you pull with the team?

They may sound your praise and call you great,
They may single you out for fame,
But you must work with your running mate
Or you'll never win the game;
For never the work in life is done
By the man with a selfish dream,
For the battle is lost or the battle is won
By the spirit of the team.

You may think it fine to be praised for skill,
But a greater thing to do
Is to set your mind and set your will
On the goal that's just in view;
It's helping your fellow man to score
When his chances hopeless seem;
It's forgetting self till the game is o'er
And fighting for the team.
Edgar A. Guest.

STUDENT SOCIAL LIFE

Faculty News

Professor Cullen taught a two-hour class each evening last week in the Community Leadership Training School held at the Pomona Y. M. C. A. building. A Study of Middle Adolescence was the course of which he had charge. Due to the fact that the course was in the field of his specialty rather than President Studebaker's it was decided to change instructors from first arrangements.

This evening Professor Cullen is attending at Covina a meeting of the Board of Religious Education of the Church of the Brethren in Southern California.

Professor Sarafian attended the lecture on "Health Programs in the Elementary School," given by Miss Susan Dorsey at Pomona College last Wednesday afternoon. Miss Dorsey, former superintendent of Los Angeles County schools, is delivering a course of lectures at Claremont. Professor Sarafian plans that his Education classes shall go to hear the address to be given next week.

Miss Lenhardt attended Harry Lauder's concert at Pomona last Tuesday.

Mrs. Porter of Miller Hall acted as one of the hostesses last Wednesday during the social hour of the monthly meeting of the Methodist Ladies Aid. The home of Mrs. C. E. Smith was the place of meeting.

Professor and Mrs. Brubaker attended a dinner in Toll Hall at Scripps College last Tuesday. It was given in honor of Professor Hughes who came this year to Scripps College from the University of Washington. Following the banquet Professor Hughes gave a lecture on "Contemporary Drama." The heads of the English departments from various colleges and junior colleges of Southern California were present.

President and Mrs. E. M. Studebaker are entertaining tomorrow evening the officers of the Alumni Association at Wright's-cn-the-Corner.

Betts - Shirk

At a dinner party at her home Saturday evening of last week, Miss Miriam Shirk announced her engagement to Ivan Betts of Pasadena.

After her guests had arrived Miss Shirk presented little Georgia Beckner, niece of Mrs. Wanda Betts, who carried an arm bouquet of yellow roses while reciting the following poem:

"In the heart of a rose, buried so deep,

Is a dear little note fast asleep.

Open it now and you will see

When the wedding day will be."

At the conclusion of her recitation she handed each guest a rose. The message on the notes was: "Miriam and Ivan, summer, 1930."

The roses were combined with maidenhair fern and were worn as corsage bouquets by the guests the rest of the evening. Miss Miriam Shirk's rose contained her diamond ring instead of a note. She immediately placed it upon her finger.

The table was beautifully decorated with a yellow rose centerpiece and tall yellow tapers and yellow and white place cards and favors. The china used was of yellow design and the candle sticks of silver.

Misses Maurine Moomaw and Doris Beckner served the two-course meal, and Mrs. R. J. Shirk and daughter Miss Mina Shirk and Mrs. I. F. Betts of Pasadena assisted in the kitchen.

The following were the guests: Miss Alberta Maust, Miss Nellie Frantz, Miss Hazel Studebaker, Miss Florence Long, Miss Verna Shirk, Miss Hilda Brubaker, Miss Viola Smith, Mrs. Elva Shirk Brooks, Mrs. Olive Shirk Bohn, Mrs. Doris Welch Yoder, and Mrs. Wanda Carl Betts.

Miss Shirk and Mr. Betts are both popular alumni of the class of '28. They took an active interest in school functions. Mr. Betts was commissioner of finance in 1927, and captain of the basket ball team the same year. Miss Shirk held the position of vice-president in the Y. W. C. A. in 1928 and she was also May Queen of that year.

Their many friends are wishing them the best of fortunes and happiness.

Juniors Take Intra-Mural Honors

In the interclass games staged last Wednesday and Thursday, the Juniors lived up to pre-game dope and walked off with the championship by defeating the frosh in the first game by a score of 39-2, and in the play-off with the sophs, won again, but not quite so easily, by a score of 29-16. The seniors took the cellar honors by losing both their games, the first to the sophs, 17-7, and the other to the frosh, 22-6.

Both the games of Wednesday afternoon were uninteresting because of the walk-away pulled off by the winners. The sophs had it all over the seniors, having plenty of shots at the hoop, but inability to sink them kept down the score.

The juniors carried the ball down the floor time after time and with little opposition from the frosh, scored thirty-nine points. The third-year men had an excellent defense which the unorganized pea-greeners could not break through.

The contests played on Thursday were a little more interesting, especially the soph-junior tilt. This brought together two well-organized and smooth working teams. Even though they were outclassed, the sophs put up a good fight. The junior combination of Weybright, Stutzman and Thomason showed the old form of two years ago.

The frosh-senior game was nothing to brag about, since it was a rough and tumble affair between two unorganized teams. In the last half the pea-greeners came to life and ran the score up to twenty-two points. Snell was the high point man and shot thirteen points.

The line-ups for Thursday's games:

Juniors (29)	Sophomores (16)
Weybright (12) F.	Kindy (7)
Stutzman (7) F.	Deal (2)

LAST WEEK'S RESULTS

Occidental 12, Pomona 7.
Whittier 12, Redlands 12.

John Price's Bonita high school football team won over El Segundo team in a play-off Friday. If they win over Banning Thanksgiving Day they will be in position to contest for the Southern California championship after eliminating another team or two who have been champions in their own leagues.

Prof. Travis (to pupil): "Why don't you practice what you screech?"

Hubbell Chosen 1930 Captain

At the football banquet last Saturday night, Fred Hubbell was unanimously chosen by his teammates as captain of the 1930 football squad. Fred has played half-back on the varsity team for the past two years, where he has performed very creditably. Besides being a clever backfield man, he is an all-round athlete and will certainly make a fine captain.

Hubbell came to LaVerne from Pomona High, where he had played end on the football team. Coach Van Cleave used him at end on his frosh team in '27, but because of his speed and shiftiness, he was transferred to the backfield. Fred made numerals during his freshman year and has won varsity letters in football the past two seasons.

CONFERENCE NOTES

With the exception of a game between San Diego and Caltech, the football season as far the conference is concerned is closed. Occidental again is champion as a result of a 12-7 win over Pomona last Saturday. Until toward the end of the final quarter the Sagehens led the Tigers 7-6, but a fumbled punt on the 5-yard line gave Oxy the ball and making a terrific drive straight down the field gave them what finally proved to be the winning touchdown. Then after the kick-off Pomona made a desperate drive by the ozone route and worked the ball down to the Oxy 17-yard line. At this point an intercepted pass ruined the Sagehens' chances of winning.

In the other conference game Redlands pulled another surprise when they tied Whittier 12-12, on the Bulldogs' illuminated field Friday night. Redlands cinched a .500 in the standings and took fourth place.

Most of the conference schools will not officially begin basket ball practice until after the Thanksgiving holidays. This gives LaVerne a slight jump on the others. LaVerne will play its first practice game a week from Saturday.

John Kindy: "Father, can you sign your name with your eyes closed?"

Dad: "I'll try."

John: "Then sign my report card."

Varsity Basketball Practice Begins

Varsity basket ball practice got under way on Monday night with about fourteen aspirants out for a position on the team. The initial work-outs were a going over fundamentals and getting the players accustomed to the game again. First game will be next Tuesday with Chaffey J. C. at —??—

From the looks of the material, there will be plenty of competition for regular berths and at present no one has a place cinched.

There are three letter men returning and plenty of material from last year's second team and frosh outfit.

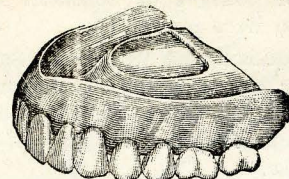

Last year LaVerne finished the season in third place in the conference and now will attempt to better that mark.

The frosh will not begin practice till next Monday.

You are the fellow that has to decide whether you'll do it or toss it aside. You are the fellow who makes up your mind whether you'll lead or linger behind. Whether you'll try for the goal that's afar, Or just be contented to stay where you are. Take it or leave it here's something to do! Think it all over—it's all up to you. —Occidental News.
