TUD. VOLUNTEER CONFERENCE HELD HERE

BRINGING CHRIST TO A WORLD OF TURMOIL" IS THEME

LaVerne was very fortunate this morning in entertaining the annual fall conference of the Southern California Student Volunteer Union over a week-end of Nov. 14, 15 and 16. Registration began at 4:30 Friday morning with representatives from Redlands, Occidental, Whittier, U. C. L. A. and Glendale J. C. present. A cafeteria dinner at 6:30 served as a splendid means of getting acquainted besides that of physical recuperation.

The conference proper started at 8 o'clock Friday with the theme "Bringing Christ to a World of Turmoil." Martha Baer, vice president of the local organization, was chairman and Vera Hoover led the devotions for this first session. The Seaman, Baptist student secretary from U. C. L. A., presented an impressive challenge on the subject of "A Needy World." Recent changes, world needs, and the spirit of turmoil were pointed out in a way that gripped the thought of every person present, and a splendid foundation was laid for the discussion of the conference theme.

Morning watch services were held at 7 o'clock Saturday morning in the new church, with Miss Edna Coates leading the group in quiet meditation of beautiful prayer thoughts while Vera Hoover played softly on the pipe organ.

Breakfast followed immediately after the morning watch.

At 9 o'clock the morning sessions were held in the music room of the college. The Union president, Miss Peggy McCune, was in charge. Rev. L. Lorbeer of Claremont continued the development of the theme by speaking on the "All-faithful Christ." His talk took the form of stirring personal experiences which demonstrated that the inescapable and adequate solution was the solution for world peace. After his address, the students divided into four discussion groups led by Reverend Lorbeer, "Watch" Brubaker, Dr. Studebaker, and Reverend Marsh respectively. These groups the students' personal responses to world needs were discussed. Then at 11:15 the groups came together in the auditorium for an exchange of ideas and reports from various colleges and organizations.

After a lunch at the church, the conference dismissed to witness the noon's football games.

Convening again at 6:30 for a splendidly arranged banquet in the new church, the group enjoyed an evening and a half of good eats and good fellowship.

Ed Cunningham was toastmaster of the occasion. President Studebaker gave the welcome and Peggy McCune the response. After this, humorous readings, songs and stunts were the means of enjoyable entertainment. At 8 o'clock Saturday evening a closing special session convened in the new church. Miss McCune was in charge of the meeting.

Press Club Initiates Many New Members Taffy Pull Enjoyed BY GROUP

The Press Club held a regular meeting at the home of Harrison Frantz November 10. A number of new members were initiated after which the group enjoyed a taffy pull.

The president, Everett Calvert, took charge of the business part of the meeting at which the constitution was adopted and "Press Club" was chosen for a name. The group of old members then initiated the new ones. This was loads of fun for all, including the victims who were in the process of becoming members.

Among the games used for the initiation was "Are You There, Kelly?" Newspaper clubs played the leading role in this game and many of the members emerged badly battered but still laughing. Other games used were airplane rides and a Chinese prayer.

After the initiation the group enjoyed a number of games until the announcement came from the kitchen that the candy was ready to pull. Each member was given a slip of paper on which was written the name of a character well known in literature. These names were in pairs, such as Jack and Jill, and the couples holding the names which went together were partners during the candy pull. The candy took up most of the remainder of the evening, but at last the group gathered around the piano and sang a few popular songs until it was time to go home. It was then suggested that "Good Night" be played so that each one would have someone to go home with.

HAIL SONG

Hail LaVerne Leopards,
Hail LaVerne Leopards,
Kings are we of brain and brawn.
Hail LaVerne Leopards,
Hail LaVerne Leopards,
We will fight until the dawn.
Roar, roar, Leopards,
Raise your voices high.
Shout, boys, shout,
Till your voices reach the sky.
Hail LaVerne Leopards,
Hail LaVerne Leopards,
We will pass our rivals by.
Tune: "Hail Burgundy" from
"The Vagabond King"
Written by Orbin "Tad" Davis.

THE SUN AT THE DOOR

How sweet to remember
When age creeps along
Of the dear little cradle
And the mother's sweet song
To her children in infancy
As they rocked on the floor
Where the everyday sunshine
Came in at the door.

Now those who are left,
Are to manhood grown,
And out of their cradles
The dear ones have flown.
But still to her memory
Comes the same sweet song,
That soothed them to sleep
Ere the years made them strong,
Yes still in her memory as "the shadows creep"
Rock me to sleep mother,
Rock me to sleep.

COACH EISAN ENTERTAINS 'Y' MEN

TELLS OF HUMOROUS EXPERIENCES ON GRIDIRON

Coach Eisan entertained the "Y" men during their regular period last Monday with accounts of a number of humorous incidents that he has seen or experienced on the gridiron.

He told about a dizzy spell he had in a high school game as a result of a hard bump; a story or two about Lom and other California men, and concluded with a few words about dirty playing, asserting that in the ten seasons he has played football, he knows of only two or three players who intentionally injured an opponent.

The talk was extremely interesting, and the men have decided that Eisan is a real orator and public speaker as well as a fine coach.

SUPPORT THE TEAM IN THE FINAL GAME

Everybody should come out to see the Leopard-Bulldog struggle next Saturday afternoon on our own field. Just because Whittier walked off with a 54-0 victory last Saturday is no reason why we should lose interest in our team. The boys need the support of the rooters in this final conference game as much or more than in any game during the season.

We still have a chance to win a conference game. The game Saturday is anybody's game until the final report of the pistol. It is true that Redlands seems to have a strong team, but with good support our team has a chance.

Activity Cards Filled Out During Chapel Period

Thursday morning's chapel period devoted to filling in the activity cards since it was impossible to do this at the time of registration.

Before the cards were distributed President Studebaker talked for a few minutes concerning the importance of some activity in addition to the regular curriculum. He suggested also that it can be detrimental if it interferes with study and recitation. Student activities not only give the student extra recommendations for his college

Y. W. Girls Give Varied Program

A varied program was given by the Y. W. girls Monday. Gladys Ikenberry favored the group with three numbers, "If I Had a Girl Like You," "If I Could Be with You," and "I'm Yours." She was accompanied on the piano by Zelda Sheller.

Catherine Crist gave two readings, "Choices of Women," and "Men."

"Willie" Long pleased the group with several readings, among them being "Confessions," "Poems in Praise of Practically Nothing," and "I Have a Rendezvous With Death." "Willie" also gave several little wisecracks about various things, which amused the girls greatly.

Myrtice Butterbaugh led the group in singing a number of Y. W. songs in closing.

FORENSIC CLUB HOLDS MEETING

The Forensic Club held an important called meeting last Thursday, at 3:45 p. m., in the Y. M. C. A. room.

The president, Orlin Vaniman, appointed a committee to revise the article of the constitution pertaining to membership. This has been made necessary by recent rules of the club which permit only those who hold varsity awards to become members.

Forensic activities are rapidly growing in number and in importance. The club holds a real position in college functions and its members decided that it should be represented in this year's Lambda. It was voted to assess each individual member for funds to cover this expense.

Before the meeting adjourned it was announced that the next meeting would be Monday, Nov. 17, at 8:00 p. m. at the home of Miss Virginia Stern at 2432 Fifth street.

This is an important meeting and all members are expected to be present.

LEOPARDS TO TANGLE WITH BULLDOGS SATURDAY

Chi Delta Chi Holds Business Meeting

Last Monday evening, Nov. 10, Chi Delta Chi held a business meeting at the Montz home. The meeting was called to order by the president, Miss Eleanor Shepp, and business that had been left over from a hasty breakfast meeting held at the St. Charles Grill in Pomona, Oct. 30, was discussed in detail.

At the breakfast meeting the early forms of a constitution were read and suggestions were made. Frances Bishop was elected chairman of the pin committee, and Elizabeth Masterson was chosen to direct the first play.

The business of Monday's meeting was to choose a one-act play which is to be put on before Christmas vacation. After a lively discussion of several plays the play, "The Nine Who Were Mother," by George Savage, was selected. This play carries out the Christmas spirit in a very unique way. Mother, in the play, like all mothers, is always the worker and the planner whom everyone depends upon. At Christmas time her duties multiply all out of proportion to her pleasure—so thinks her young son who is a doctor. He therefore invents a disease and mother to bed for a rest cure during the Christmas season. The fun begins when the nine able-bodied members of the family try to fill the place mother had filled.

Among the other business was a report from the pin committee, and a report from the treasurer urging all members to pay their dues immediately.

Another much discussed topic in which the public as well as the club is interested was the matter of admission to plays which are to be put on during the school year. It was decided to charge 25 cents for an evening of plays, and ten cents for a single one-act play to be put on during school hours.

Chi Delta Chi's aim is to buy the college some much needed stage equipment. The members of this club are willing to put time and energy into the production of worth while plays, and we urge the rest of the school and friends of the college to support us in this project by attending these programs, which will certainly be worth while. All the money from these plays will go to the fund for stage equipment, and not to the club. All club socials are paid for by regular membership dues payable each semester.

Chi Delta Chi wants to be of real service to LaVerne College and will sincerely appreciate the cooperation of the student body.

FINAL GAME TO BE PLAYED ON ARNETT FIELD

Although Redlands Favored to Win Leopards May Take Last Game

The Leopards will tangle with the Redlands Bulldogs here Saturday at 2:15 in the final game of the season.

The Bulldogs use an aerial attack almost exclusively which is bound to make it an interesting game for the spectators. In every game they have thrown the ball over the lot, their game with Occidental affording a good example. In this game they tried 25 passes and completed 8 for an average of a little better than 3 yards for each of the 25 attempts.

Hank Beiden does most of the tossing for the Redlands outfit and he is plenty good, both on long and short heaves. From all reports, his passing has been just plain poison for opponents this year.

Redlands will be favored to win due to their 6-0 defeat of San Diego and their 19-0 win over Can Christian. The Leopard's 54-0 soothing by the Poets also enters in, but even then our team has a good chance of winning, if they play their best brand of football. Who can ever tell, maybe this last game will see the Leopards in the win column.

DEPUTATION TEAM CHOSEN

Will Give Programs in the North

The deputation team that is sent out each year from L. V. C. has been chosen. It consists of Frances Berg, Martha Baer, Leslie D. Hart, Ed Cunningham and Elizabeth Masterson.

This team will give programs most of the northern churches. They plan to start probably on the morning of December 19, and will spend the full vacation on the trip.

They have chosen for their theme "Our Best Selves," and the full program will center around this idea. The program will consist of quartet numbers, duets, solos, two speeches, and a reading, besides devotions.

Ed Cunningham and Martha Baer are the speakers, Elizabeth Masterson, reader; Leslie DeHart, chairman of the group, and Frances Berg and Ed Cunningham the soloists.

Prof. Cullen: "What are the five races of mankind?"

Fred Hubbell: The 100 yard dash, the hurdles, the quarter, the half mile, and the mile.

DO YOU EVER "THINK" JUST A LITTLE BIT?

Are you one of the many that are so busy "going to college" that you don't have time to think? If so, read on.

There are many students who get so interested in just "going to college" and wrapped up in the many activities that accompany American colleges and universities today that they forget to think. Everything rushes them so that they hardly have time to finish one task or activity till another one is due. These "students," or rather "college attendants," are always having a social, getting ready for a test, memorizing a lesson, rushing to a class, reading the paper, writing letters, criticising someone or something they didn't like, seeing the girl or boy friend, going to the show, taking a trip, or any one of a thousand other things.

Now, the type being referred to is not always one who gets poor grades necessarily, for many get good grades and yet are not what the writer believes to be real students or "thinkers." They may outline the material in their textbooks, take notes in class, make reports once in a while, etc., and then get an A or B. Outside of the time in class and the times they are outlining from the book, these supposedly good students think nothing about the principles they have studied, and do not apply them in their words or actions, but only consider these statements and facts when an examination is to be given. A year or so later, this type of individual doesn't "remember" anything, for it was just memory in the first place, and after the examinations were over there was no incentive to remember.

A good illustration of this is afforded by many students who have been heard to say that all they got out of their Psychology course was "No psychosis without neurosis," and they don't even know the tremendous import of that law or principle.

What good is an education going to do such students? Absolutely nothing, unless they learn to reason and to make the principles they learn and the knowledge they acquire part of their own thinking and a guide for their actions. Students had better learn a few principles and acquire a little knowledge and actually think them through and make them a part of themselves than to learn all the facts in the textbooks and not understand them and not be able to interpret their meaning into their own life.

Learn to think! It doesn't take any extra time but only an attitude of inquiry and the application of reason to your experiences recorded in your mind so that you will be able to interpret and understand them. Figure out what the reasons for your own and others actions are, the why of this or that social institution, how what you are learning can help you live a more reasonable life, and make an attempt to understand everything you know.

If you want to be real students and to enjoy life, be a "THINKER."

FOOTBALL PLAYERS YOU RARELY SEE

1. The end who does not theatrically stretch his arms way out to catch a forward pass ten yards ahead of him, which he obviously can't get.
2. The center who does not secretly move the ball ahead a few inches on each play.
3. The linesman who does not rub his hands together and spit on them just before the opening whistle.
4. The quarter back who does not take the ball himself when the team is very near to a touchdown.

5. The player with an American name who makes the all-American team.

DO THEY OR DON'T THEY?

That is the question.
"Of course, they do; haven't I had a dog for three years, and doesn't he know me when he sees or hears me, and doesn't he know when it's time to eat? Of course he thinks; why shouldn't he?"
"No, he doesn't. He can't think. It is impossible, ridiculous, absurd.

Campus Chuckles

Mrs. Darkes: "Didn't I see you sitting on that young man's lap last night?"

Martha D.: "Well, you told me that if he tried to get sentimental I must sit on him."

I wonder, near or far?

An anxious parent asks, and adds,
And also, where's the car?

Prof. Frantz (in chemistry):
"What is the most outstanding contribution that chemistry has given to the world?"

Ruth R.: "Blondes."

Ronald Bessey: "I can't give you anything but love.

Myrtice B.: "Well, hurry up; let's have it."

Love is divine, marriage inhuman.

Miss Muir: "Stop pushing."

Hefty Man: "I wasn't pushing; I only sighed."

U. S. C. Co-ed: "Don't you even speak of love?"

Bert Jones: "Oh, sure. Lovely weather we're having, isn't it?"

Ike Funk: "Does Willie know anything about automobiles?"

Ralph Fesler, "Heavens, no! She asked me if I cooled my car by stripping the gears."

Maurice Shirk: "Do you know how to play golf?"

Opal Kuns: "Gracious, no. I don't even know how to handle the caddy."

Ed Ohan.: "A lotta girls are going crazy when I marry."

Frances Nix: "How many do you expect to marry?"

Prof. Hollenberg: "Can you give me an example of wasted energy?"

Jack Singer: "Yes, sir; telling a hair-raising story to a bald-headed man."

CUPID SWALLOWED

T'other day as I was twining
Roses for a crown to dine in,
What, of all things, midst the heap,
Should I light on, fast asleep,
But the little desperate elf—
The tiny traitor—Love himself!
By the wings I pinched him up
Like a bee, and in a cup
Of my wine I plunged and sank him;
And what d'ye think I did? I drank him!

Faith, I thought him dead. Not he!
There he lives with tenfold glee,
And now this moment, with his wings,
I feel him tickling my heart-strings.

—Leigh Hunt.

It is purely instinct that makes a dog do the things he does. Human beings are the only beings that have the power to think, and besides, if you believe animals think, how can you prove it? They can't tell you."

Such were the pros and cons discussed in the psychology class one day, on the question, "Do animals think?" Much discussion followed and still the class is asking, "Do animals think?"

Cy Nical Comments

I liked one phrase of Miss Flory's song the other morning very much. It was "live and love a while." I am really serious when I say that living without loving for about ten hours would be a long time for some folks I know, especially Frosh.

I thought that love sick fellow was bad enough, but I have observed something which is worse even than that, and it is a boy-crazy girl. The boy-crazy girl may kid herself into thinking that she is making a hit with the fellows, but take it from me, she is not. Nothing is more disgusting to a fellow than such a deluded sample of femininity. Get wise to yourselves, some of you girls. You are old enough to get out of rompers and wear the manners of a lady.

It is easy enough to imagine your embarrassment when you decide to shoot it out with the burglar and discover that the gun has no bullets. It is very much the same when someone attempts to set up the stage. The stage setter is expected to develop a stage worthy of anything which may come along and he doesn't have a gol-derned thing to set it up with. Wouldn't it be wonderful if someone would get some spotlights and some wings to match the curtains for a starter?

Of all the lazy, inconsiderate louts I ever saw, some of the Frosh boys (I can't say men) take the pitchfork. There are about four or five fellows in that class who are men, and they have to do everything if it gets done. The rest of the class think that if they do a thing once, they are exempt for the rest of the year. It is just such a lousy attitude that caused about the same four or five fellows to do the work on the bonfire. Come on, pull up your suspenders and act like college men.

From appearances, I judged that "Chuck" Manning and Doyle Montz had gone without breakfast for a week previous to Armistice Day. They were not eating everything on the table at noon, but they were doing nobly in sampling everything. I wonder, should we tell their mamas to fix a lunch for them to eat in the afternoon? I really think that they have much more capacity than can be filled in three meals.

President Studebaker said that what the student meant when he said etc. was "I don't know, but you do." Maybe so, but I do know that the person who says the same thing three different ways, covers a lot of paper, and adds the etc. at the end of each question usually gets the best grade in a certain professor's class. Isn't it much more logical to state what one knows in short, clear cut statements, instead of just handing in a pile of blue books and getting graded on quantity and (?) quality?

There is a sign in the library about your neighbor enjoying your conversation when he wants to study, but I imagine that he gets more kick out of hearing me whisper than he does hearing a continual slap as I attempt to swat flies. I sometimes think those flies are from a line of pedigreed cue ball sitters, because they certainly can stick and never seem to tire.

'Ray for Elizabeth Lehman! Take it from me, that march you played in chapel was what we want. Give us marches with plenty of swing, and Dean Hoover won't

SOME THINGS WE WOULD LIKE TO KNOW—

- Why—
1. Freshmen can't keep quiet in the halls during class hours?
 2. Prof. Hollenberg gives such hard examinations?
 3. Miss Muir doesn't serve a refreshing drink in her 2:50 Friday class?
 4. Prof. Travis has so many girl students?
 5. Dr. Hoover didn't want his picture taken?
 6. Mrs. Merritt insists on giving examinations right after vacations?
 7. Miss Lenhardt never sees the funny side of a joke?

have to get up and request that we march out chain gang style. All in favor of such peppy music say "Aye."

"As a sheep is dumb before its shearers," so are the Frosh dumb, but a different brand of dumb. Some of the Frosh boys thought they could let their wool grow, but under the expert direction of the Sophs they were promptly de-wooled. Remember, sideburns are a mark of intelligence and culture and are to be worn only by upper classmen.

Aren't we critters of habit? Did you ever notice how certain people almost always sit at the same table in the library? Sometimes I can see the reason, but most of the time I think we just get in a rut and can't walk out of it. Try some different places, it will keep Mrs. Miller busy following you up and turning you off.

Some ships go east, and some go west,
Whilst the self-same wind doth blow.
For it's rudder and sail, and not the gale,
Decide where the ship shall go.

Nor wind, nor gale, controls our fate,
As we journey along thru life;
It's the set of the soul decides the goal,
And not the calm nor the strife.

LUMNI NOOS

A number of members of the alumni attended the Southern California Student Volunteer conference held in the Church of the Brethren over the week-end. Included were Misses Mary Platt of San Jacinto, Miss Hazel Rothrock of San Bernardino, Mrs. Gladys Hollinger of Inglewood, and Miss Clovie Carrol of Brea.

Lloyd Cunningham of Oakley made a flying trip to LaVerne Friday and Saturday, but returned to Laton to spend Sunday.

Glenn Vaniman of Kingsburg spent the week-end in Long Beach and LaVerne. He came down from Kingsburg with Mrs. Mae Miller and her husband, who also spent the week-end in Southern California. They were accompanied by Prof. Funderburgh's son, Martelle.

Misses Mary Platt and Hazel Rothrock were dinner guests of Miss Neva Snell in San Bernardino Armistice Day. Mary reports that she is very busy with a troop of Girl Scouts at San Jacinto where she teaches and over the week-end she helps her father with his pastoral work at the Church of the Brethren in San Bernardino. She is chorister and Sunday school teacher.

Lloyd and Grace Emmert of Ojai spent the week-end in LaVerne. Also Zafon Hartman of the same place.

NEWSETTES

Dale Stutzman, student body president, attended the monthly meeting of the organization of Conference student body presidents. U. S. C. and Loyola, although not members of the conference, are also members of this organization.

Once a month a different college or university entertains this group. U. S. C. was host last time.

The entertainment consisted of dinner in the consul room, an interesting program and various other kinds of entertainment.

Opal Kuns and Barnice Conley were co-hostesses to a group of eds and co-eds at San Dimas canyon last Monday night. A weiner bake and marshmallow roast, singing, etc., took up most of the evening. Those who were present at the affair were Merle Thomason, Ruth Gibbel, Zelda Sheller, Helen Buckley, Virginia Scarisbrick, "Buck" Ferree, "Peewee" Lathrop, Cecil Brooks, Bob Welty, Maurice Shirk, Ed Ohanesian and the hostesses.

Lucille Hylton, a popular member of the U. C. L. A. student body and a former LaVerne student, was the week-end guest of Harriet Hoke.

Martha Baer was happy indeed to entertain her brother, Walter Baer, and friend, Hugo Lichti, from Paso Robles. They visited in LaVerne Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, and attended the Chaffey-Oneonta football game Tuesday afternoon.

Mildred Smith was hostess at her home last Monday night to a small group of LaVerne College students. Games were played and prizes awarded to Myrtice Butterbaugh and Esther Dickey. A jolly evening was spent by all, and the hour for departure arrived all too soon. LaVonne Putnam and Wilma Long were having such good times that they decided to remain with the hostess all night. Pastor G. K. Walker Talks to Volunteers

Wednesday evening, Nov. 12, the Student Volunteers met at the home of Miss Vera Hoover for their weekly program.

Pastor Galen K. Walker was the speaker of the evening and brought a vital message on peace. Joe Cosner, as leader, conducted the devotions, reading from the Sermon on the Mount and leading in prayer. A duet number was beautifully sung by Pearl Niswander and Dortha Gans.

Announcements were made concerning the Mexican prayer meeting work which is being organized under the practical service chairman, Fred Butterbaugh. Work is to begin in the Chinese mission in Los Angeles on Sunday afternoons.

A definite activity program was initiated at the meeting in the drawing of names of missionaries. Each one is to take an interest in his missionary, read about him, write to him, and report items of interest to the group.

The evening's address was a paper prepared by the pastor in a debate at a ministerium back east on the question, "Resolved, that the church as a whole should set its forces against the entire war system." The affirmative side was ably and convincingly presented by Pastor Walker under three points.

1. The teaching of Christ, the head of the church, is opposed to war. His is a gospel of peace.

2. No other organization has such power or strength to outlaw war as has the church.

3. Another war will wipe out civilization.

The cause of peace must not only be preached but action must be taken to maintain it.

STUDENT VOLUNTEER CONFERENCE

After a brief devotional period, Dr. Emmert put the finishing touches on the conference theme by his message on "Our Part as Willing Students." In the forceful personal appeal which only Dr. Emmert can make, the Bible story of the feeding of the five thousand lived again before the minds of the audience, inspiring them to bring what they have to the feet of the Master to be blessed to meet the needs of the world.

Due to the rain, morning watch Sunday was held in the new church instead of Ganesha park, as previously planned. Miss Dortha Gans was in charge. Breakfast in the old church followed the service. Many of the representatives stayed for church services Sunday morning, while others returned home immediately.

Lodging for the visitors was arranged by Dwight DuBois, while Glenna Betz and Virginia Stern were in charge of the eats.

It is needless to say that the conference was a huge success and LaVerne is happy to have been host to such a gathering.

ent were Misses LaVonne Putnam, Wilma Long, Edna Brubaker, Esther Dickey, Myrtice Butterbaugh, Ruby Saylor, Viola Smith.

The French division of the Foreign Language Club met for a brief period on Wednesday noon, at which time a name committee was appointed and a program chairman and a secretary were elected.

The name committee includes Grace Brubaker, Doyle Montz and Norma Larrick. Ruth Rothrock was elected for program chairman, and Florence Snider for secretary.

The meetings will be held twice a month on Wednesday and will be in the form of a noon luncheon. The first regular meeting will be next Wednesday.

Safeway Helps the Community

A Safeway Store benefits a community in ways too numerous to list in detail. It brings more people to the community, increases trade, pays taxes, supports civic enterprises, forces others to adopt better methods and leaves more money in the community by reducing the living costs of its people.

WEEKEND RESULTS

Whittier 33, Pomona 6

On Armistice Day, the Poets defeated the Sagehens 33-6 on Whittier's field.

Pomona got off to a good start and shoved over a touchdown before the game was five minutes old; but this was all Pomona had. Whittier led 20-6 at the half and scored twice more in the second half.

Occidental 21, Santa Barbara 0

The Tigers accomplished what four other conference teams have tried last Friday night at Santa Barbara, overcoming all odds and various handicaps to beat the Roadrunners 21-0.

Santa Barbara stuck it out good the first quarter, but the Oxy machine got going the second half and tallied their 21 digits.

Submarine Team 13, San Diego 7

Just how strong the Submarine team is, is not known, but it was at least strong enough to hand the Aztecs their third consecutive defeat. The Aztecs have been going down hill ever since they met the Leopards, instead of improving as the season progressed.

Redlands 19, Cal-Christian 0

The Bulldogs got the Panthers' number and tamed them to the tune of 19-0 Saturday.

Leopards Wilt in Second Half; Final Score 54-0

The Leopard varsity again tried to win a conference game, and again they were repulsed, this time by the powerful Whittier football team coached by Chief Newman. The Whittier Poets not only repulsed the Leopard attempt, but they made it a rout, the final score being 54-0.

The game started with a bang, all of the noise being produced by Whittier. LaVerne received the kick-off and was held. LaVerne punted to Whittier and the ball was down on Whittier's 35 yard line. On Whittier's first offensive play they opened a hole in the LaVerne line and Marshburn carried the ball to the LaVerne 20 yard line. From here they shoved it over on a series of short bucks.

From then on to the end of the half it was a real ball game, neither team being able to add to the score. Whittier outgained the LaVerne team, but their defense always tightened near the goal line and Forney or Jones would get off a nice punt to get the team out of danger. After the first three minutes mental and physical lapse which has bothered LaVerne in all of her games to date, they played a great game until half time.

But at the beginning of the second half it was a different story. Whittier came back to run amuck. They pushed over four touchdowns in the third period and three more in the fourth stanza, making the final score Whittier 54, LaVerne 0.

The Leopard varsity was badly blown up during this hand and failed to click either defensively or offensively. The punting in the second half was still of high caliber, but it made little difference for the Whittier team would score from any position.

The punting for the day was very good on the whole, there being only one or two poor boots. Jones, Forney, and Calvert took turns in this department of the game. The best tackling of the day was done by "Hobbs" Adams and his substitute, Alfred Adams. "Hobbs" smeared a couple of plays before they got started and Alfred was strong on going down under punts.

The work of the team as a whole was defensively strong in the first half and terrible any way you look at it the second half.

The line-up:

LaVerne 0	Whittier 54
Jones	LER Lewis
Ferree	LTR Davidson
Funk	LGR F. Jones
Leonard	C Baker(e)
Roynon	RGL Daugherty
Deal	RTL Gibbs
R. Adams	REL Bonner
Weybright	Q Dell
Shirk	RHL Pendleton
Smith	F Sinatora

The other men to see action were Forney, Nicolas, Thomason, Ohanesian, Calvert, Stover, Montz, Snell, A. Adams, and Howell.

Frosh Defeat S. D. Frosh Brooks, Vaniman and Davis Star

The Frosh aggregation swung into action Saturday against the little Papooses of San Diego State after several weeks of rest from their conference duties and won, 27-9.

The game scintillated with brilliant performances from the LaVerne angle. "Tad" Davis supplied the spark and punch to a well ordered offensive and defensive punch. Tad was all over the place and in every play. He personally attended to the scoring of the first two touchdowns and converted two more. He seemed to intercept passes at will and ran riot with the ball. When on the defense, he extracted a choice bit of satisfaction in making his tackles on or behind the line of scrimmage.

The work of Davis was beautiful to watch but it was not such a great deal better than the work of the other backs. Cecil Brooks played his same hard-running type of football. He celebrated his captaincy for the day by slashing off large gains over tackle and traversing the ends for generous amounts of yardage.

Ralph Vaniman played like he enjoyed the game. Whenever a yard or two was needed for a first down, the ball was given to "Van," and the needed yardage was acquired. Van is a strong, heavy man and is always good for some yardage. He pulled possibly the most spectacular play of the afternoon when he intercepted a San Diego lateral pass five yards back of the line of scrimmage.

Although "Red" Montgomery failed to score during the contest, he proved himself a real field general, always calling the right play at the right time. He kept the old pepper up on the squad and kept them driving all the time.

The work of the backs stood out but it would not have been so evident if the line had not played such a whale of a good game and made this galloping and dashing of the backs possible. The return of Sweihart to the center berth was a real asset for he is big and has had lots of football experience. He was a strong cog in the offensive and ably helped Vaniman back up the line while on defense.

The ends, Fluck and Wilkerson, played a great game. Wilkerson was especially good at breaking up the running plays, and Fluck excelled in going down under punts and nailing the safety man before he had a chance to return the ball. Noll and Calvert at the tackle berths broke up lots of San Diego plays and opened up good sized holes while on the offensive. Deeter played his usual strong game at guard. Benny Anderson, playing his first game at the guard position, played a flashy game.

San Diego was outclassed from the first. The Frosh advanced the Redlands at LaVerne—Close game.

Pomona vs. Occidental—Oxy will win again.

California vs. Stanford — Cards are best bet.

Santa Clara vs. Loyola — Broncos.

Cal - Christian vs. Arizona State—Arizona.

Oregon State vs. U. C. L. A. —Staters by three or four touchdowns.

U. S. C. vs. Washington—Trojans by several touchdowns.

COAST CONFERENCE GRID NEWS

Washington State Takes Championship

The Cougars completed their 1936 Coast Conference schedule by eking out a close 3-0 victory over the Huskies Saturday which raises their number of wins to six, while they have no defeats. This gives Hollingberry's team the championship, for every other team in the conference has suffered at least one defeat.

The lone three points which were the margin of victory came from a 48 yard place kick by the Cougar end on the fifth play of the game.

The champions have a game yet with Villanova in the east and if triumphant will probably play in the Rose Bowl New Year's Day.

U. S. C. 52, Hawaii 0

Using their first string for only one quarter, the Trojans easily rang up a 52-0 win over the visiting Islanders.

Stanford 57, Caltech 7

The Engineers stepped out of their division Saturday, led the Cards 7-6 in the middle of the second quarter, then weakened before a superior offense, and went down to defeat 57-7.

Oregon State ??, Oregon 0

The Oregon Staters pulled something in the nature of a surprise if not an upset and beat the hitherto undefeated Webfeet.

California 8, Nevada 0

The Bears just managed to win over Nevada 8-0 in an uninteresting game at Memorial Stadium Saturday. It rained throughout the game and only about one hundred fans turned out.

ball down, the field twice in the first quarter to score two touchdowns and to convert both. They tallied another touchdown in the second quarter, but failed to convert, making the score 20-0 at the end of the half. The Frosh scored their final touchdown in the third quarter and converted to make the final score LaVerne Frosh 27, San Diego Frosh 0.

The LaVerne line-up was as follows: Ends, Wilkerson and Fluck; tackles, Moll and Calvert; guards, Deeter and Anderson; center, Sweihart; quarter back, Montgomery; half backs, Brooks (c) and Davis, and fullback, Vaniman.

Other players to see service were Kelley, Aeschbacher, Messick, Replogle, Singer and Weybright.
