LEADERS OF CONSERVATISM

ADVOCATE CHANGES IN MEN'S WEAR-ING APPARELL

Meeting Held in Blind Pig
Night Club

At a lovely social event held last night in the Blind Pig Night Club, which is owned by Professor Travis and managed by Marvin Bollinger, the faculty of that well known meeting school, LaVerne College, discussed some proposed changes in the style of men students' wearing apparel. Hoover, whom we remember as teacher of the "Shimmy" and "Black Bottom," started the discussion by declaring himself in favor of knee breeches, bobby socks, and a blouse shirt for the men students. He was supported by Everett Calvert, whom you remember as the originator of the conservative Campus Times Platform.

They contended that this costume would not only promote the health of the students, but it would also tend to give the men a little more S. A. (successful appearance). They were supported in their contentions by Professors Sarafian and Hollenberg. However they were strongly opposed by Professors Glick, Eisan, and Brubaker, who claimed to represent the interest of the more conservative students like Ed Ohanesian and Jerry Deal. Just at this juncture Mr. Flapper teacher, Miss Martha Lenhardt, said she bet Glick, Eisan and Brubaker disapproved the new style because their knees could not stand the public gaze. (tsk, tsk). Oh my, O my, the frankness of youth!

This lovely evening was brought to a close by Fred Brunk and Joe Cosner who sang as a duet "Never Hit Your Grandmother Over the Head with a Shovel (Use a Rock instead)." They were accompanied by Ralph Travis's Speakeasy Trio.

DR. SARAFIAN PUBLISHES BOOK

Beautiful Book--Two Inches Thick

Dr. Sarafian has just published a book, and the Frosh wish to offer their congratulations and many happy returns.

It is a beautiful book to look at--two inches thick. The covers are a pale green--the latest in springtime shades for book bindings. The pages are edged with the conventional gold, tho it is a more enlightening shade of gold. The paper is that fine, soft texture you love to touch. Each page is the same kind of paper, though the pages vary in color from brilliant orange (like the citrus fruit) to the paler, more subtle shades which we often see in a sunset just after a thunder shower. The printing on

Social Changes Run Rampant

A SODA FOUNTAIN INSTALLED

Henceforth there will be no more water fountains on the two lower floors, but instead soda fountains. In the main corridor you will be served by two little, red-livered nigger boys. The drink here will be pure grape juice. In the basement, orange juice is to be had at any time deemed necessary, but here you may serve yourself, forgetting the expense and quantity. It is valiantly hoped by the dean and all the profs that this fountain will be taken advantage of to capacity. You may leave classes at any time to get a drink. If by any chance, some of you prefer water, it may be found on the top floor, but you must serve yourself.

Another change is the leveling off of the roof for an open-air ballroom. Palm trees and other tropical plants are being started. During the Tuesday and Thursday and Thursday 10:25 period a class in dancing will be conducted by Madame de Lavoire, a recent addition to the faculty. Madame has just returned from a renowned school of dancing in Paris, and is deemed very efficient.

Feature No. 3 is the installation of a system of escalators for those going either upstairs or down. Those who would rather use the stairways for exercise, etc., may slide down the bannisters, since former brakes have been removed. This is especially recommended for the Frosh.

Rather than have you awakened every fifty minutes by the alarm-clock remindin bells, the trustees have made it possible for the addition of chimes to the numerous other social changes of this institution. These will be played by Ed Ohanesian. Also, school will not begin until nine o'clock.

A new belief is being forwarded by Prof. Sarafian that students will be able to do better work if they do not have to go to bed too early. This is a new theory, and will have to be experimented with before becoming a fixed law. LaVerne College is sponsoring this experiment. During the rest of the year, it is demanded that no one go to bed before 1:39.

Students who can stay up all night five nights a week are to be excused from exams.

The faculty, commission, trustees and alumni sincerely hope that

Card Shark Attends Prayer Meeting

Prospects for Blind Chickens Promising

The demoralizing effect of losing thirteen cents at his latest game of "penny-annie" on Friday evening, the thirteenth, at the Old Hens Amalgamated Card Playing Corp., started Prof. Glick moralizing. After considering the law of averages, he decided that he could never win more than he lost. He now saw in a true light the worthlessness of playing cards. He decided to study his lessons before class instead of figuring things out as he taught them. With these good thoughts in mind, he headed for prayer meeting.

In the meantime the prayer meeting had been progressing. The evening's program had been turned over to the young people so that they could tell what good things they expected to accomplish in life. Brother Maurice Shirk had shown that his main ambition in life was to rid the U. S. A. of the dreadful "Jake" epidemic. He hoped to accomplish this by passing a law that would give life imprisonment to any one who died from drinking Jamaica ginger.

Sister Francis Nix outlined her new plan for teaching primary children the story of "Daniel in the Lions' Den." She claimed that her plan would revolutionize Sunday school teaching by explaining more clearly to the children why the lions couldn't bite Daniel. Her plan was "amen-ed" by Brother Max Forney and Dean Hoover.

Bro. Edward Ohanesian told how he hoped to help the poor ignorant natives of South Africa by going there as a missionary. He demonstrated his genius by telling of his methods of stopping polygamy and cannibalism. He says that from his wide experience in the United States, it would not take him long to convince them of the many evils of having more than one wife. He hopes to do away with the evils of cannibalism by introducing the domestic breeding of a new type of white rat. He says that the cannibals think that this species of rat is even more delicious than their own brothers.

It was at the end of Brother Ohanesian's discourse that Professor Glick entered the back of the room. Bro. Ohanesian was so

SWEETHEART STEPPED OUT ON HIM

Instant death met Joe Cosner, LaVerne's most popular campus shiek, this morning at 6:30 a. m. as the intentional result of a most spectacular suicide, when he jumped from an airplane at an altitude of 1000 feet.

According to the report of Tom Sawyer, the pilot of the plane from which the catastrophe occurred, Joe had come to the Burnley airport this morning to go by plane to Los Angeles on supposedly important business. But when the plane had risen to a height of 1000 feet, Joe, without warning to Brogan, jumped from it, landing on a hill not far from the airport--the unfortunate victim of suicide.

Upon further investigation of the sudden calamity, it was learned from Lucile Forney, fiancée of the unfortunate young man, that this action of his was precipitated by a quarrel between the two and finally came to a definite head when he discovered that Lucile had stepped out on him twice with Joe Pratt.

His body was taken to Todd and Reeves, undertakers, of LaVerne. Definite arrangements for the funeral have not yet been made.

A later report says that if Lucile will agree to refrain from stepping out, funeral services will not be necessary.

Miss Muir--A Max Factor lipstick.

Miss Hoover--A pair of "Model X" gym bloomers. It is believed that these were removed from Locker No. 13 by Ebert Ebersole under cover of the night, but according to Miss Hoover, if he returns them, his name will never be revealed.

Miss Lenhardt: Pink powder puff with green tatting on. She says shed'd like to let whoever took it have it, but she needs it so badly. (She also adds to please excuse her for telling you.)

PROF. MUIR IN COLLISION

MAX FORNEY A VICTIM OF CIRCUMSTANCES

One of the most catastrophic events of the past week was that which occurred on our own campus between the Girls' Dormitory and Founders' Hall, when Miss Muir collateral collector of the campus, fell as a result of slipping in a mud puddle which had formed on the concrete as a result of showers from on high.

Miss Muir, from most recent reports, escaped physical injury, but the mental disarrangement which has resulted has been most deplorable, for the collateral-box which she was so carefully carrying was none other than Max Forney's, and when she landed, the little "4 by 6's" all became saturated with H<sub>2</sub>O and mud, this action chemically removing the ink or blurring it so that it is no longer legible even on the most careful scrutiny.

Max Forney is much enraged at the whole occurrence. According to his testimony, this was the most honest collateral he had ever read! Of the one hundred pages reported, he had actually read 75, and of

FACULTY HOLDS BEACH PARTY

Jump-Off Point Scene of Merriment

The faculty held its annual beach party at Jumpoff Point Friday, March 27.

The entire faculty was present with the exception of Prof. Frantz, who stayed home with the children while his wife did her spring shopping.

The forenoon was pleasantly spent at various things. While Mrs. Haugh sat on the sand and wrote poetry, Prof. Hollenberg carefully scrutinized the shore for rare specimens. Miss Muir busied herself by gathering pretty shells for her play house, and Prof. Glick played around here and there with a golf club and ball.

At noon an appetizing lunch of pretzels and pink lemonade was enjoyed by all.

In the afternoon most everyone took part in the water carnival and program.

Miss Lenhardt took first prize in the high dive, while Prof. Haugh ran her a close second.

Lee Eigan carried all the honors for surf riding, but Mrs. Miller beat him badly in the five mile swimming race.

Dr. Sarafian kept score for the races and Prof. Brubaker contented himself with lying on the sand and getting a genuine sun tan.

OFFICIAL BACK SCRUBBER TO BE FURNISHED

The Associated Women Students of Miller Hall, in order to raise money to buy an appropriate wedding gift for Mrs. Porter, house mother, have decided to open the dormitory bath tubs for public use on Saturdays.

There will be an official back scrubber, who is very efficient that line of work. Rates will be charged according to the amount of water used. Everyone must bring his own soap, wash rag, a towel. Also bring scouring material to clean out the tub for the next occupant. The time limit will be one-half hour, and it would be well to have a song on your mind to sing loudly, as Edith Cosner accidentally lost the key to the door last week.

In order to save time and confusion in finding the place of freshment, take the stairs to the second story, and go to the top of the right. Be sure and count down two doors, as it might prove embarrassing to walk into one of the co-eds' rooms.

The consent of the house mother has not yet been obtained as to this project, but we of Miller Hall are sure that she will gladly operate, so that she may be the recipient of the nicest gift possible.

CAUTION.--It is urged that patrons come early, as it requires 30 to 45 minutes to fill the tub. Don't bring your celluloid figures, frogs, or other foolishness, cause it will tend to delay the process. Thank you.

Student "Hop" Held Last Fri. Evening

Prizes Awarded to Best and Poorest Couples

The Student Body of LaVerne College held its annual spring "hop" last Friday evening in the piazza of the patio. Prizes were given to the best couples. Miss Norma Larick and Mr. Glenn Hemon won the admiration of the entire audience by the graceful manipulations of their limbs. The second prize was rightfully awarded to Myrtice Butterbaugh and Ray Fessler, while the boogie prize went to Gladys Ikenberry and Paul Williams because of their awkward movements. The music furnished by the sympathy orchestra under the direction of "J. King" Brunk. The gay party broke up sharply at two, according to college rules.

As a happy ending of the dance pleasures, Miss Hoover gave "Dance of the Winds" on the sand the music of Prof. Travis's guitar.

What a lamentable fact that the faculty have not seen fit to allow us more than two short, dinky chapel periods a week! This matter was brought to my mind most forcefully when a number of the seemingly less pious students were observed last Wednesday during the 10:35 period attempting to absorb spiritual food by holding a chapel assembly on the dormitory steps. It is deplorable, yea, verily, it is most ostentatiously indiscreet. Now, I ask you, how is this going to help out the orthopaedic and osteodentulous conditions of the ostracoderm?

Besides, if anyone should happen to ask you, who cares about the price of glass eyes, anyway? Furthermore, henceforth, with or without, the stock market on Peruvian peanuts and pretzels has dwindled down to a mere pittance of its former prolific position.

Besides being an old meanie anyway, he's all the time throwing rocks. The moral is: "People who live in glass houses shouldn't throw parties." In concluding, let us all stand and sing, "Buy yourself some roller skates, so your grandmother won't have to sit on the gate." (The pickets are hard on the unemployment situation.)

There is an abundance of raw material which needs to be refined. The umbelliferous doops who haunt the halls of this nincompoopie asylum make the traffic situation hazardous—the Jehus making it especially inconvenient for hexapods and pedestrians.

But, where are we bound, and whither goes thou? And who cares? Therefore, we, the undersigned, feel that the faculty should see our points as they have been most candidly presented (regarding chapel), and grant to us the auspicious privilege of enjoying much mirth and merriment and great gobs of good gossip.

PLATFORM

1. Bigger and better babies.
2. More hectic and harassing home work.
3. More chapel periods per week.
4. Abolishment of Girls' Athletics.
5. Bigger and better bird seed.

Faculty Notes

Prof. Dorothy Merritt will take Dr. J. B. Emmert's classes in Bible the remainder of the school year as Dr. Emmert has been granted a leave of absence until time for school this fall.

Today Prof. Ralph Travis made a public announcement to the effect that he would let his beard grow, in order that he might share some of the dignity of our dean. The entire college wishes you well, Prof. Travis, in your new field.

It has been rumored about school recently that our coaches, Lee Eisan and Dale Glick, have decided to let their hair grow in order to furnish more power to the basket ball and football teams of next year. Why not suggest it to the teams, coaches, as they need the power of Samson?

Prof. and Mrs. Geo. Hollenberg left Wednesday from Seattle, Washington, for Africa, where Prof. Hollenberg will gather specimens for his scientific mind, and Mrs. Hollenberg will act as missionary to those with whom the professor comes in contact.

Just as this paper goes to press, news comes to us telling that Prof. Jesse Brandt will resign as physics teacher here. Next year he plans to teach voice in Harvard.

Prof. Haugh's students in marcelling and permanent waving will give a special demonstration for the benefit of the LaVerne College students Wednesday, April 1, 1931. Prof. Haugh began his instruction in this line the first of the year. His school is situated on Main and First streets, at San Dimas.

Prof. Gladdys Muir promises her History students that they won't have any more collateral this year. Too bad this didn't come about before so many of our beloved fellow students had gone on to their last reward.

Even Wilbur Hoke smiled in the classroom the other day when he heard one of his pupils tell a new use for the word conclusion. He asked this pupil, the son of Simeon Davis, to use the word conclusion in a sentence. "The elephant came down the hill with a can tied to his conclusion," was the bright boy's reply.

AN IMPRESSION

It is a black, mirky, stormy evening; the rain is slushing about the eaves of the old house. In the room before the fireplace with its few dying embers, sits a figure, taut with emotion, glowering at a ragged and torn piece of paper.

All is quiet, but the swirling storm. Suddenly a low moan penetrates the air. The figure moans; his hands tremble and quake convulsively. The moan rises to a piercing shriek and an unusual cry like that of a soul in agony. Huge beads of perspiration break out on the man's forehead; his face becomes agonized; his breath comes in short jerky gasps. The cries continue, sometimes in low throaty groans, and then again breaking into fiendish gibberings. Suddenly a shriek more horrible than the rest shatters the air, and the man moves. He rises to his feet, and with a sigh of satisfaction George Berg puts his saxophone in the corner and goes to bed.

ORIGIN OF APRIL FOOL'S DAY

MIGHT BE MORE THAN ONE SOURCE

Have you ever been sent upon a bootless errand on the first day of April? If you have, a Freshman would call you "un poisson d'Avril" (a fish of April); a Scotchman would call you a gowk (cuckoo); and an Englishman would call you an April fool.

April fool's day may have originated from either of two sources. Many Roman traditions and customs were accepted by the European nations who were conquered by the Romans. April fool's day may have been one of these traditions given European nations by the Romans.

The other source of April Fools' day may be from the religious plays given in medieval times. These plays interpreted different episodes of the life of Christ. One of the plays showing Jesus being sent from Pilate to Herod and then from Herod to Pilate again was given during the month of April. This journey of Jesus to Herod and back again was a useless event as far as making any progress in the trial of Jesus is concerned. To illustrate an incident of a person doing something useless, the people came to use the term, "sending a man from Pilate to Herod." Today, in Germany, this term, sending a man from Pilate to Herod, still exists.

If you are caught on April fool's day, blame either the Romans or religion for creating the tradition.

Who is the brute who threw chewing gum on the corridor floor and caused Marty Baer to miss three classes the other day? I saw Marty in the hall and she pitifully sobbed out her story that she was stuck on a wad of gum and had already missed two classes, and was about to miss another.

It took me an hour to figure out a way of releasing her, and finally I hit upon a plan. I lifted her from her shoes and sent her on to a class bare-footed.

Confess your crime, you villain, and somehow loosen Marty's shoes from the floor, as bare feet are quite apt to pick up splinters.

Why can't our upper-classmen follow the example of our noble, self-sacrificing young freshmen who have devoutly dedicated themselves as "Friars" to the monasteries for the welfare of the erring students?

It is getting pretty bad when a few inseparable students can't sit in their regular chapel seats, but have to sit in the back where they can be with their heart's desires.

What's the matter? Can't you get in enough time on the steps between classes?

Probably the school will install special curtained off boxes in the auditorium for these stricken parties.

I hate to speak of such a catty subject, but I simply can't sit back and watch perfectly sweet, soft, furry, lovable, innocent cats suffer from the cruel knife of a practicing physician. Where is our humane society? Why isn't it working on this matter.

It is a discredit to our school to let this inhuman Comparative Anatomy student treat the feline race with such cruelty. Imagine your own sweet little Felix in the hands of this brutal creature.

I certainly object to Daniel Stover playing our dear old Alma Mater on whiskey bottles. The thoughts of it are almost more than I am able to bear. As it so happened, there was no mishap, but suppose one of the bottles had broken and the disgraceful liquid had polluted our auditorium and the fumes had strangled the strains of Alma Mater in our throats.

these he had only copied side notes for fifty pages, leaving twenty-four pages which he had actually read, word for word and line for line out of Robinson's readings.
Also, Shorty Howell and Elvin Wilson, two accomplices of Max in getting the collateral, have also made complaints against the collateral collector. Shorty says that he copied paragraph headings for two solid hours, thus breaking a date with Edith Roberts, who is now hard after him.
Elvin Wilson, according to the testimony of Frances Nix, left her in the lurch on said night also, which her folks didn't like a little bit. The matter is all very complicated.

Max has gone on record as calling Miss Muir an "old meanie."
Her only reply was "Pie on that paddle!"
Prof. Hollenberg has examined each and every one of the cards for a clue to the missing memoirs, but he has finally dropped out of the fray. His microscopes have failed to reveal anything at all. Prof.
Frantz has applied chemical after chemical with no avail, but he has sent to the Bureau of Kemists in Washington for their aid in the matter.
In the meantime Miss Muir is in a state of near collapse. According to Mrs. Porter, matron, who sleeps on the same sleeping porch, she spends many a sleepless night, moaning, groaning, and calling out in her sleep. She has lost forty pounds during the last week.

When she was composed enough
the other day to interview a reporter, she said, "Oh! to think I should go and do it. What is beneath that inky, murky smear? It may have been Max's masterpiece of collateral. Can it be I shall never know what lies hidden on those "4 by 6's."
According to recent chapel arrangements, one minute is to be spent at 10:25 period every day next week in silent prayer for Miss Muir, that she may come out of this with a clear conscience.
It is hoped by the students of L.
V. C. that this will be a lesson to Prof. Muir never again to assign collateral. According to the words of Brother Maurice Shirk, who is leader and instigator of these prayers,
"May she see the folly of her life thus far in assigning that vile, swillish stuff each week! May she see the impropriety of her past actions in this preposterous predicament!" Amen.
Prof. Frantz: "What does sea water contain besides sodium chlo-ride we have mentioned?"
Ed Ohanesian: "Fish, sir."

LUMNI NOOS
The other night when George
King returned home to dinner, Maurine discovered splotches of red all over his clothes. "George,"
she exclaimed, "What on earth have you on your good suit?"
"Well," he replied, "I learned today that just as an apple a day keeps the doctor away, so ripe tomatoes drive agents away."

Johnnie Price's son, David, got stung by a bee the other day. After a long time his mother, Eva Brownsberger Price, understood him to say between sobs, "Daddy says bees have thousands of eyes;
then why can't they see to sit down
in the right place."
Miss Ruth Price reports that Virgil Neher's son Clarence is a very bright boy. The other day after the class had informed her that the ruler of Russia is called a czar and his wife a czarina, Clarence informed her that their children must be called Czardines.

D. Welty Lefever, Jr. passed an Information Test the other day and when his mother, Ruth Barnhizer LeFever, was putting him to bed, and he noticed his night suit was turned wrong side out, he said,
"Mother, I want to ask you a question. What would you use to turn your night suit right side out, a spoon, a hankie or a hand?"

Martha and Ben Hepner are very successful in teaching their little daughter correct grammar.
She stayed all night with her grandparents the past week. At breakfast table next morning she saw her Aunt Edna's spoon in her cocoa cup. "Aunt Edna Brubaker," she cried, "Take your spoon out of your cup don't you know that's not good manners."

Merle Butterbaugh reports that they have very bright pupils in the English classes in the San Marino schools. The other day one gave an illustration of past, present and future tense as follows: past lay, present set, future hatch.

Cathryn and Howard Beckner have an exceedingly bright little son. The other evening Cathryn was showing him some pictures.
When she came to one of a Zebra he exclaimed, "Oh, look at the horse with a bathing suit on."

other day: "Now, sir, tell me just

BOYS RECEIVE APPRE- CIATIVE NOTES

Girls Contribute Liberally

Due to the encouragement the girls received from their appreciation notes, the boys have tried the same plan and have allowed the girls to contribute.

The following are a few of the notes which were found to be very enlightening.

Dear Carl: "Words can not express my gratitude for the marvelous rides which I have had in your beautiful, spiffy, ever-ready limousine.

OPAL K.
Shortie Dear: There isn't much to be said about you, Glen, except that I am simply overwhelmed with your mistache. Next to "a skin you love to touch," my greatest weakness is mustaches. I hope to become better acquainted with you.

VIRGINIA STERN.
Hey, Ellis: I think you are a big hunk of cheese, but I may be able to appreciate you some time
if you stay away from my girl.
Wrathfully,

ROYAL G.
My dearest, most adorable Dr.
Hoover: You will never know how your clever, most witty, and ever hilarious jokes have stirred the bottom of my soul from gloom and disaster to the heights of galeity.

FRED MAHONEY.
My Own Dear Marvin: How can anyone help but love the beautiful strains of music which you so harmoniously produce? But, alas, I fear that you are singing your love songs to another, who probably doesn't appreciate them as I do. Please tell me it isn't true.
Tearfully,

ANITA BOWMAN.
Stutzie, Our Hero: The school couldn't possibly get along without you and your heavenly smile. You must not graduate. We cannot go on without you.

ALL THE GIRLS, Inc.
Dear Mr. Cosner: I'm greatly indebted to you for making a man of me. You have lifted me to a higher level and stirred my soul to greater things. My heart is in my throat and is squeezing my Adam's apple till the cider is drowning me.

Good-by, Joe, I owe you my soul's salvation. Indebtedly,

SAN QUENTIN WINS OVER SING SING

MAHONEY STARS FOR VICTORS

Convict Smith Upholds Standards of Sing Sing

With Mahoney playing for San Quentin and "Convict" Smith for Sing Sing, San Quentin was able to annex another victory to their honor, in the series of Jack Straw games which have gained the attention of all leading sportsmen of the country.

The memorial battle will be put down on the sport records as one of the most exciting, heart-throbbing nerve-shattering matches in history.

In the first quarter of the game, "Convict" Smith apparently was coming out on top, but after a beautiful hoop by Mahoney, he completely lost his sense of balance and therefore was under a great handicap. Once during the game when Mahoney made a terrible slip that threatened to be his downfall, Mrs. Mahoney, nee Frances Sandblom, let out a scream of horror. This worked riot on the taut nerves of the audience and Nicolas's squad of police was rushed to the scene to quell the outbreak.

Next Saturday night the next series of the game will be played. The players going on the floor this time will be Stover for San Quentin and Dellenbach for Sing Sing. The game has all indications of being as interesting and entertaining as the last one.

Come out and support your favorite penitentiary.

Brubaker and Berg Ping Pong Champs

Champions Real Asset to Institution

Kay, Elwin Give Them- selves Up

In the annual ping pong tournament at LaVerne College, Arnelia and George certainly made a name for themselves.

In the first set they won over Kay Crist and Elwyn Wilson by an unmentionable score. Kay and Elwyn have decided to give up themselves as ping pong players and take up miniature golf.

Edith Coffman and Fred Hubbell tied with Esther Dickey, so Arnelia and George played both pair at once and came out victorious.

We must take off our hats to these champions as they are a real credit to our college. They were each awarded a very attractive medal which consisted of a gold-plated safety pin with a ping pong ball tied to it.

Keep up the good works, you ping pongists, and more power to you.

Prospects for an All State Tiddle- Winks Championship Bright

Buck Ferree Advocates Training on Oatmeal

Owes Success to Grand- mother

Everyone is interested in our athletic prospects for next year. Thus it is with great pleasure that we present this authentic interview with "Sissy" Buck Ferree.—The Editor.

The doorbell was answered by Buck's English footman, Jerry Deal, and after tea had been served by Buck's Japanese houseboy (Jerry Deal), the interview began.

"Mr. Ferree," I commenced, "what are LaVerne College's prospects for football next year?"

In that thin small voice that is characteristic of him, Buck replied, "I owe my success to my grandmother. She dropped me on my head when I was a baby."

To which Mr. Ferree's secretary, (Jerry Deal) remarked, "Be yourself, kid; be yourself."

"However," continued Mr. Ferree, "in spite of a weak coaching staff, I think we will probably take our first game, which is with U. S. C., to be followed a week later by the Notre Dame game."

Mr. Ferree thinks that our chances in winning the all-state Tiddle-Winks championship are excellent, as we will have most of this year's championship team back. With Royal Glick as jumping center, Elbert Ebersole at right guard, Fred Butterbaugh at first base, and "Shorty" Harmon pole vaulting, we are inclined to agree with Mr. Ferree.

"But," cautions Buck's spinster aunt, Jerry Deal, "the boys should train on oatmeal, as does my little Buckie." (Net weight 276 lbs.)

"Dear me," sighed Buck, "I think too much stress is placed on athletics."

At this moment the clock struck six and Mr. Ferree's nurse, Jerry Deal, came in with Buckie's milk bottle. With a contented sigh, Mr. Ferree reached for the milk (which was hair tonic in disguise).

After whistling a few bars of the "Spring Song," Mr. Ferree jumped into his cradle and crottled to his bootblack, Jerry Deal, "Wake me at six, mother; I'm to be Queen of the May."

traced at having a card player in the prayer room that he asked Head Usher Snell to throw him out. A wild row ensued. An emergency call was sent in to the Glass-Eyed Police and Chief Epperson was sent to the rescue in his speedy Dora. He accidentally arrived at the wrong church and became so interested in an extremely hilarious "holy roller" service that he forgot that he was looking for a church row.

In the meantime peace had been restored when Professor Glick pleadingly told how he wished to reform. To cinch the matter, Professor Glick promised that as soon as he got a raise, he would make a donation to the prayer meeting fund for furnishing the new Home for Blind Chickens.

According to Dr. Hoover, after introducing the speaker he soon lost consciousness (insomnia, not La Paloma) and did not again open his eyes until he heard the chapel speaker having the audacity to close with one of his most cherished antidotes, Anna Emmert, soloist, also sat in the platform, but saw no one snatch the P. K.'s as she also lost consciousness (La Paloma; not insomnia). As far as can be ascertained, every one in chapel who has been interviewed was either not in chapel or was asleep. Mr. Dale Stutzman, in close proximity behind the screens, is being held as a prospective suspect.

"Free for All Fraternity Fray" Won by the Capable Freshmen

Migs, Top Spinning, "Hop-Scotch", Feature Events of the Day

Boop-a-doop Brunk Causes near Catastrophe

By a sweeping and sensational setoo the Ferocious Freshmen won the "Free For All Fraternity Fray" of last Friday, the fifteenth, with a total of ten points against twenty-two for the Juniors, their nearest rivals.

A big turn-out turned out for the F. A. F. F., which proved to be no poop out, as Coach Lee Eisan had prophesied. The whole idea was accredited to Coach Glick. The boys came dressed in their form-fitting flannels and their fluffy flared floops, looking frightfully foolish. They met before the B. J. (boys' gym) at 9:00 a. m. ready for a hot day of hectic hilarity.

The meet was opened by a preliminary "marble" match. Beautiful jade, burnt orange, canary yellow, and English green migs were in evidence as the contest commenced. "Shorty" Howell, reputed to bring home the victory for the Soffs, was disqualified for "fudging." "Master Marksman" Manning placed first, but he was ruled out because he played for keeps against Ebersole last week.

"Hi Pocket" Jones, Jr., hot shot, cancelled his chances by losing his grass green shooter. He claims it was stolen by "Snickerfritz" Snell to save the neck of the sofft. So the coast was left clear for "Marksman" Mahoney, FROSH, to crasp "do-babies."

The top spinning contest was topping! All shades and shapes were spun by the spinners. "Boop-a-doop" Brunk did a most treacherous thing at the outset of the fray when he span his spinner and landed it in the vicinity of the G. T. (great toe) of Doc Emmert and penetrated his T. N. (toe nail), much to the consternation of his toe, but "Surg" Shirk fixed him up by amputating the afflicted anatomy, and the contest recontinued. "Red Top" Weybright came forth triumphant in the top spinning tournament, much to the disgust of those degenerate doops called "sofft."

In the kite-flying contest, the most magnificent miniature and mammoth models were mounted. "Fluffy Ruffles" Ferree went and cut holes in "Hy Flyer Funk's" "Flying Fedora," and Funk went home frightfully frustrated at the ferocious faux pas. So "Leaping" Leonard took the opportunity to grace the auspicious occasion with a victory for the juniors.

Intermissions for mints, marmalade and moonshine interrupted the matches materially, but no one moped about munching. Coach Eisan passed around the "Joo-berry" jam, made by his own "Aunt Jemima."

The following are the finals of fray:

Jack Straws: (9) Stutzman, (1) Snell, (1) Saylor.

Tiddle's: (40) Cosner (1) Calvert (3) Cunningham.

Hop "Scotch": (1) Hopwood (2) Heckman (3) Harmon.

Checkers: (1) Calvert (2) Calvert (3) Calvert.

Pie Guzzling: (001) Gangor (01) Glick (1) Gnagy.

Roller Skating: (13) Saylor (6) Shirk (10) Stover.

Miss Hoover, guest of the affair, closed the activities of the day by leading the group in a little round of "I See You," which appealed to the boys in a big way. Coach Glick is thinking of installing it as a little preliminary practice for his baseball and track teams this season.

JEAN HOOVER AND E. CALVERT LEADERS OF CONSERVATISM VS. LIBERALISM

ADVOCATE CHANGES IN MEN'S WEAR- ING APPARELL

Meeting Held in Blind Pig Night Club

At a lovely social event held last night in the Blind Pig Night Club, which is owned by Professor Travis, managed by Marvin Bollinger, a faculty of that well known dancing school, LaVerne College, discussed some proposed changes in style of men students' wearing apparel. Hoover, whom we remember as teacher of the "Shimmy" and "Black Bottom," started the discussion by declaring himself in favor of knee breeches, bobby, and a blouse shirt for the men students. He was supported by Everett Calvert, whom you remember as the originator of the conservative Campus Times Platform.

They contended that this costume would not only promote the health of the students, but it would tend to give the men a little S. A. (successful appearance). They were supported in their contentions by Professors Sarian and Hollenberg. However they were strongly opposed by Professors Glick, Eisan, and Brubaker, who claimed to represent the interest of the more conservative students like Ed Ohanesian and My Deal. Just at this juncture flapper teacher, Miss Martha Lenhardt, said she bet Glick, Eisan and Brubaker disapproved the new style because their knees could not stand the public gaze. (tsk, tsk). My, O my, the frankness of them!

This lovely evening was brought to a close by Fred Brunk and Joe Cosner who sang as a duet "Never Your Grandmother Over the Head with a Shovel (Use a Rock instead)." They were accompanied by Ralph Travis's Speakeasy Trio.

R. SARAFIAN PUBLISHES BOOK

Beautiful Book--Two Inches Thick

Dr. Sarafian has just published a book, and the Frosh wish to offer in congratulations and many happy returns.

It is a beautiful book to look at—two inches thick. The covers are green—the latest in spring shades for book bindings. The pages are edged with the conventional gold, tho it is a more enticing shade of gold. The paper is that fine, soft texture you like to touch. Each page is the kind of paper, though the colors vary in color from brilliant orange (like the citrus fruit) to paler, more subtle shades which often see in a sunset just after a shower. The printing on (Continued on Page Two)

Social Changes Run Rampant

A SODA FOUNTAIN INSTALLED

School was closed last week for the installation of several great social, political, economical, mental, and moral changes. These were made at the expense of the board of trustees.

Henceforth there will be no more water fountains on the two lower floors, but instead soda fountains. In the main corridor you will be served by two little, red-livered nigger boys. The drink here will be pure grape juice. In the basement, orange juice is to be had at any time deemed necessary, but here you may serve yourself, forgetting the expense and quantity. It is valiantly hoped by the dean and all the profs that this fountain will be taken advantage of to capacity. You may leave classes at any time to get a drink. If by any chance, some of you prefer water, it may be found on the top floor, but you must serve yourself.

Another change is the leveling off of the roof for an open-air ballroom. Palm trees and other tropical plants are being started. During the Tuesday and Thursday and Thursday 10:25 period a class in dancing will be conducted by Madame de Lavoire, a recent addition to the faculty. Madame has just returned from a renowned school of dancing in Paris, and is deemed very efficient.

Feature No. 3 is the installation of a system of escalators for those going either upstairs or down. Those who would rather use the stairways for exercise, etc., may slide down the bannisters, since former brakes have been removed. This is especially recommended for the Frosh.

Rather than have you awakened every fifty minutes by the alarm-clock reminder bells, the trustees have made it possible for the addition of chimes to the numerous other social changes of this institution. These will be played by Ed Ohanesian. Also, school will not begin until nine o'clock.

A new belief is being forwarded by Prof. Sarafian that students will be able to do better work if they do not have to go to bed too early. This is a new theory, and will have to be experimented with before becoming a fixed law. LaVerne College is sponsoring this experiment. During the rest of the year, it is demanded that no one go to bed before 1:39.

Students who can stay up all night five nights a week are to be excused from exams.

The faculty, commission, trustees and alumni sincerely hope that

Card Shark Attends Prayer Meeting

Prospects for Blind Chickens Promising

The demoralizing effect of losing thirteen cents at his latest game of "penny-annie" on Friday evening, the thirteenth, at the Old Hens Amalgamated Card Playing Corp., started Prof. Glick moralizing. After considering the law of averages, he decided that he could never win more than he lost. He now saw in a true light the worthlessness of playing cards. He decided to study his lessons before class instead of figuring things out as he taught them. With these good thoughts in mind, he headed for prayer meeting.

In the meantime the prayer meeting had been progressing. The evening's program had been turned over to the young people so that they could tell what good things they expected to accomplish in life. Brother Maurice Shirk had shown that his main ambition in life was to rid the U. S. A. of the dreadful "Jake" epidemic. He hoped to accomplish this by passing a law that would give life imprisonment to any one who died from drinking Jamaica ginger.

Sister Francis Nix outlined her new plan for teaching primary children the story of "Daniel in the Lions' Den." She claimed that her plan would revolutionize Sunday school teaching by explaining more clearly to the children why the lions couldn't bite Daniel. Her plan was "amen-ed" by Brother Max Forney and Dean Hoover.

Bro. Edward Ohanesian told how he hoped to help the poor ignorant natives of South Africa by going there as a missionary. He demonstrated his genius by telling of his methods of stopping polygamy and cannibalism. He says that from his wide experience in the United States, it would not take him long to convince them of the many evils of having more than one wife. He hopes to do away with the evils of cannibalism by introducing the domestic breeding of a new type of white rat. He says that the cannibals think that this species of rat is even more delicious than their own brothers.

It was at the end of Brother Ohanesian's discourse that Professor Glick entered the back of the room. Bro. Ohanesian was so (Continued on Page Four) the student body will appreciate and take advantage of these few changes.

Enjoys a 1000 Ft. Drop

SWEETHEART STEPPED OUT ON HIM

Instant death met Joe Cosner, LaVerne's most popular campus shiek, this morning at 6:30 a. m. as the intentional result of a most spectacular suicide, when he jumped from an airplane at an altitude of 1000 feet.

According to the report of Tom Sawyer, the pilot of the plane from which the catastrophe occurred, Joe had come to the Burnley airport this morning to go by plane to Los Angeles on supposedly important business. But when the plane had risen to a height of 1000 feet, Joe, without warning to Brogan, jumped

ed from it, landing on a hill not far from the airport—the unfortunate victim of suicide.

Upon further investigation of the sudden calamity, it was learned from Lucile Forney, fiancée of the unfortunate young man, that this action of his was precipitated by a quarrel between the two and finally came to a definite head when he discovered that Lucile had stepped out on him twice with Joe Pratt.

His body was taken to Todd and Reeves, undertakers, of LaVerne. Definite arrangements for the funeral have not yet been made.

A later report says that if Lucile will agree to refrain from stepping out, funeral services will not be necessary.

PROF. MUIR IN COLLISION

MAX FORNEY A VICTIM OF CIRCUMSTANCES

One of the most catastrophic events of the past week was that which occurred on our own campus between the Girls' Dormitory and Founders' Hall, when Miss Muir, collateral collector of the campus, fell as a result of slipping in a mud puddle which had formed on the concrete as a result of showers from on high.

Miss Muir, from most recent reports, escaped physical injury, but the mental disarrangement which has resulted has been most deplorable, for the collateral box which she was so carefully carrying was none other than Max Forney's, and when she landed, the little "4 by 6's" all became saturated with H<sub>2</sub>O and mud, this action chemically removing the ink or blurring it so that it is no longer legible even on the most careful scrutiny.

Max Forney is much enraged at the whole occurrence. According to his testimony, this was the most honest collateral he had ever read! Of the one hundred pages reported, he had actually read 75, and of (Continued on Page Three)

FACULTY HOLDS BEACH PARTY

Jump-Off Point Scene of Merriment

The faculty held its annual beach party at Jumpoff Point Friday, March 27.

The entire faculty was present with the exception of Prof. Frantz, who stayed home with the children while his wife did her spring shopping.

The forenoon was pleasantly spent at various things. While Mrs. Haugh sat on the sand and wrote poetry, Prof. Hollenberg carefully scrutinized the shore for rare specimens. Miss Muir busied herself by gathering pretty shells for her play house, and Prof. Glick played around here and there with a golf club and ball.

At noon an appetizing lunch of pretzels and pink lemonade was enjoyed by all.

In the afternoon most everyone took part in the water carnival and program.

Miss Lenhardt took first prize in the high dive, while Prof. Haugh ran her a close second.

Lee Eisan carried all the honors for surf riding, but Mrs. Miller beat him badly in the five mile swimming race.

Dr. Sarafian kept score for the races and Prof. Brubaker contented himself with lying on the sand and getting a genuine sun tan.

OFFICIAL BACK SCRUBBER TO BE FURNISHED

The Associated Women Student of Miller Hall, in order to raise money to buy an appropriate wedding gift for Mrs. Porter, house mother, have decided to open the dormitory bath tubs for public use on Saturdays.

There will be an official back scrubber, who is very efficient in that line of work. Rates will be charged according to the amount of water used. Everyone must bring his own soap, wash rag, and towel. Also bring scouring material to clean out the tub for the next occupant. The time limit will be one-half hour, and it would be well to have a song on your mind to sing loudly, as Edith Coffman accidentally lost the key to the door last week.

In order to save time and confusion in finding the place of refreshment, take the stairs to the second story, and at the top turn to the right. Be sure and count down two doors, as it might prove embarrassing to walk into one of the co-eds' rooms.

The consent of the house mother has not yet been obtained as to this project, but we of Miller Hall are sure that she will gladly cooperate, so that she may be the recipient of the nicest gift possible.

CAUTION.—It is urged that all patrons come early, as it requires 30 to 45 minutes to fill the tub. Don't bring your celluloid fish frogs, or other foolishness, because it will tend to delay the process. Thank you.

Student "Hop" Held Last Fri. Evening

Prizes Awarded to Best and Poorest Couples

The Student Body of LaVerne College held its annual spring "hop" last Friday evening in the piazza of the patio. Prizes were given to the best couples. Miss Norma Larick and Mr. Glenn Harmon won the admiration of the entire audience by the graceful manipulations of their limbs. The second prize was rightfully awarded to Myrtice Butterbaugh and Ralph Fessler, while the boogie prize went to Gladys Ikenberry and Ronald Williams because of their awkward movements. The music was furnished by the sympathy orchestra under the direction of "Jazz King" Brunk. The gay party broke up sharply at two, according to college rules.

As a happy ending of the day's pleasures, Miss Hoover gave "The Dance of the Winds" on the sand to the music of Prof. Travis's guitar.

What a lamentable fact that the faculty have not seen fit to allow us more than two short, dinky chapel periods a week! This matter was brought to my mind most forcefully when a number of the seemingly less pious students were observed last Wednesday during the 10:35 period attempting to absorb spiritual food by holding a chapel assembly on the promontory steps. It is deplorable, yea, verily, it is most tentatively indiscreet. Now, I ask you, how is this going to help out the orthopaedic and osteodentulous conditions of the ostracoderm?

Besides, if anyone should happen to ask you, who cares about the price of glass eyes, anyway? Furthermore, henceforth, with or without, the stock market on Peruvian peanuts and pretzels has dwindled down to a mere pittance of its former prolific position.

Besides being an old meanie anyway, he's all the time throwing rocks. The moral is: "People who live in glass houses shouldn't throw parties." In concluding, let us all stand and sing, "Buy yourself some roller skates, so your grandmother won't have to sit on the gate." (The pickets are hard on the unemployment situation.)

There is an abundance of raw material which needs to be refined. The umbelliferous doops who haunt the halls of this incompoopie asylum make the traffic situation hazardous—unless Jehu makes it especially inconvenient for hexapods and destrictians.

But, where are we bound, and whither goes thou? And who cares? Therefore, we, the undersigned, feel that the faculty should see our points as they have been most candidly presented (regarding chapel), and grant to us the auspicious privilege of enjoying much mirth and merriment and great jobs of good gossip.

Faculty Notes

Prof. Dorothy Merritt will take Dr. J. B. Emmert's classes in Bible the remainder of the school year as Dr. Emmert has been granted a leave of absence until time for school this fall.

Today Prof. Ralph Travis made a public announcement to the effect that he would let his beard grow, in order that he might share some of the dignity of our dean. The entire college wishes you well, Prof. Travis, in your new field.

It has been rumored about school recently that our coaches, Lee Eisan and Dale Glick, have decided to let their hair grow in order to furnish more power to the basket ball and football teams of next year. Why not suggest it to the teams' coaches, as they need the power of Samson?

Prof. and Mrs. Geo. Hollenberg left Wednesday from Seattle, Washington, for Africa, where Prof. Hollenberg will gather specimens for his scientific mind, and Mrs. Hollenberg will act as missionary to those with whom the professor comes in contact.

Just as this paper goes to press, news comes to us telling that Prof. Jesse Brandt will resign as physics teacher here. Next year he plans to teach voice in Harvard.

Prof. Haugh's students in marcelling and permanent waving will give a special demonstration for the benefit of the LaVerne College students Wednesday, April 1, 1931. Prof. Haugh began his instruction in this line the first of the year. His school is situated on Main and First streets, in San Dimas.

Prof. Gladdys Muir promises her History students that they won't have any more collateral this year. Too bad this didn't come about before so many of our beloved fellow students had gone on to their last reward.

Dr. Emmert left for Paris Tuesday to study the fashions in women's hats for the 1931 fall wear.

Even Wilbur Hoke smiled in the classroom the other day when he heard one of his pupils tell a new use for the word conclusion. He asked this pupil, the son of Simeon Davis, to use the word conclusion in a sentence. "The elephant came down the hill with a can tied to his conclusion," was the bright boy's reply.

AN IMPRESSION

It is a black, mirky, stormy evening; the rain is slushing about the eaves of the old house. In the room before the fireplace with its few dying embers, sits a figure, taut with emotion, glowering at a ragged and torn piece of paper.

All is quiet, but the swirling storm. Suddenly a low moan penetrates the air. The figure moans; his hands tremble and quake convulsively. The moan rises to a piercing shriek and an unusual cry like that of a soul in agony. Huge beads of perspiration break out on the man's forehead; his face becomes agonized; his breath comes in short jerky gasps. The cries continue, sometimes in low throaty groans, and then again breaking into fiendish gibberings. Suddenly a shriek more horrible than the rest shatters the air, and the man moves. He rises to his feet, and with a sigh of satisfaction George Berg puts his saxophone in the corner and goes to bed.

MIGHT BE MORE THAN ONE SOURCE

Have you ever been sent upon a bootless errand on the first day of April? If you have, a Freshman would call you "un poisson d'Avril" (a fish of April); a Scotchman would call you a gowk (cuckoo), and an Englishman would call you an April fool.

April fool's day may have originated from either of two sources. Many Roman traditions and customs were accepted by the European nations who were conquered by the Romans. April fool's day may have been one of these traditions given European nations by the Romans.

The other source of April Fool's day may be from the religious plays given in medieval times. These plays interpreted different episodes of the life of Christ. One of the plays showing Jesus being sent from Pilate to Herod and then from Herod to Pilate again was given during the month of April. This journey of Jesus to Herod and back again was a useless event as far as making any progress in the trial of Jesus is concerned. To illustrate an incident of a person doing something useless, the people came to use the term, "sending a man from Pilate to Herod." Today, in Germany, this term, sending a man from Pilate to Herod, still exists.

If you are caught on April fool's day, blame either the Romans or religion for creating the tradition.

Who is the brute who threw chewing gum on the corridor floor and caused Marty Baer to miss three classes the other day? I saw Marty in the hall and she pitifully sobbed out her story that she was stuck on a wad of gum and had already missed two classes, and was about to miss another.

It took me an hour to figure out a way of releasing her, and finally I hit upon a plan. I lifted her from her shoes and sent her on to a class bare-footed.

Confess your crime, you villain, and somehow loosen Marty's shoes from the floor, as bare feet are quite apt to pick up splinters.

Why can't our upper-classmen follow the example of our noble self-sacrificing young Freshmen who have devoutly dedicated themselves as "Friars" to the monasteries for the welfare of the erring students?

It is getting pretty bad when a few inseparable students can't sit in their regular chapel seats, but have to sit in the back where they can be with their heart's desires.

What's the matter? Can't you get in enough time on the steps between classes?

Probably the school will install special curtained off boxes in the auditorium for these stricken parties.

I hate to speak of such a catty subject, but I simply can't sit back and watch perfectly sweet, soft, furry, lovable, innocent cats suffer from the cruel knife of a practicing physician. Where is our humane society? Why isn't it working on this matter?

It is a discredit to our school to let this inhuman Comparative Anatomy student treat the feline race with such cruelty. Imagine your own sweet little Felix in the hands of this brutal creature.

I certainly object to Daniel Stover playing our dear old Alma Mater on whiskey bottles. The thoughts of it are almost more than I am able to bear. As it so happened, there was no mishap, but suppose one of the bottles had broken and the disgraceful liquid had polluted our auditorium and the fumes had strangled the strains of Alma Mater in our throats.

NEW SETS

Afred Nicolas stepped out with Edith Flory last Tuesday evening.

Bob Welty did not attend chapel last Thursday.

Paul Funk and Helen Ellensberger spent Wednesday evening in Ganesha Park on "Watch Out" Point. Paul was showing Helen how beautiful the country is at night! They report that the "Beacon Light" on the LaVerne city hall is out.

An informal shower was given Merle Thomason last Saturday evening by the residents of Miller Hall. She wore an attractive Turkish towel, with "LaVerne College" embroidered on the end.

these he had only copied side notes for fifty pages, leaving twenty-four pages, which he had actually read, word for word and line for line out of Robinson's readings. Also, Shorty Howell and Elvin Wilson, two accomplices of Max in getting the collateral, have also made complaints against the collateral collector. Shorty says that he copied paragraph headings for two solid hours, thus breaking a date with Edith Roberts, who is now hard after him.

Elvin Wilson, according to the testimony of Frances Nix, left her in the lurch on said night also, which her folks didn't like a little bit. The matter is a very complicated.

Max has gone on record as calling Miss Muir an "old meanie." Her only reply was "Pie on that puddle!"

Prof. Hollenberg has examined each and every one of the cards for a clue to the missing memoirs, but he has finally dropped out of the fray. His microscopes have failed to reveal anything at all. Prof. Frantz has applied chemical after chemical with no avail, but he has sent to the Bureau of Kemists in Washington for their aid in the matter.

In the meantime Miss Muir is in a state of near collapse. According to Mrs. Porter, matron, who sleeps on the same sleeping porch, she spends many a sleepless night, moaning, groaning, and calling out in her sleep. She has lost forty pounds during the last week.

When she was composed enough the other day to interview a reporter, she said, "Oh! to think I should go and do it. What is beneath that inky, murky smear? It may have been Max's masterpiece of collateral. Can it be I shall never know what lies hidden on those "4 by 6's."

According to recent chapel arrangements, one minute is to be spent at 10:25 period every day next week in silent prayer for Miss Muir, that she may come out of this with a clear conscience.

It is hoped by the students of L. V. C. that this will be a lesson to Prof. Muir never again to assign collateral. According to the words of Brother Maurice Shirk, who is leader and instigator of these prayers,

"May she see the folly of her life thus far in assigning that vile, swillish stuff each week! May she see the impropriety of her past actions in this preposterous predicament!" Amen.

Prof. Frantz: "What does sea water contain besides sodium chloride we have mentioned?"

Ed Ohanesian: "Fish, sir."

LUMNI NOOS

The other night when George King returned home to dinner, Maurine discovered splotches of red all over his clothes. "George," she exclaimed, "What on earth have you on your good suit?" "Well," he replied, "I learned today that just as an apple a day keeps the doctor away, so ripe tomatoes drive agents away."

Johnnie Price's son, David, got stung by a bee the other day. After a long time his mother, Eva Brownsberger Price, understood him to say between sobs, "Daddy says bees have thousands of eyes; then why can't they see to sit down in the right place."

Miss Ruth Price reports that Virgil Neher's son Clarence is a very bright boy. The other day after the class had informed her that the ruler of Russia is called a czar and his wife a czarina, Clarence informed her that their children must be called Czardines.

D. Welty Lefever, Jr. passed an Information Test the other day and when his mother, Ruth Barnhizer Lefever, was putting him to bed, and he noticed his night suit was turned wrong side out, he said, "Mother, I want to ask you a question. What would you use to turn your night suit right side out, a spoon, a hankie or a hand?"

Martha and Ben Hepner are very successful in teaching their little daughter correct grammar. She stayed all night with her grandparents the past week. At breakfast table next morning she saw her Aunt Edna's spoon in her cocoa cup. "Aunt Edna Brubaker," she cried, "Take your spoon out of your cup don't you know that's not good manners."

Merle Butterbaugh reports that they have very bright pupils in the English classes in the San Marino schools. The other day one gave an illustration of past, present and future tense as follows: past lay, present set, future hatch.

Cathryn and Howard Beckner have an exceedingly bright little son. The other evening Kathryn was showing him some pictures. When she came to one of a Zebra he exclaimed, "Oh, look at the horse with a bathing suit on."

Judge Overholtzer, to Harvey Brubaker, in a special session of LaVerne City Superior Court the other day: "Now, sir, tell me just what passed between you and Beau-

My dearest, most adorable Dr. Hoover: You will never know how your clever, most witty, and ever hilarious jokes have stirred the bottom of my soul from gloom and disaster to the heights of gaiety.

FRED MAHONEY.

My Own Dear Marvin: How can anyone help but love the beautiful strains of music which you so harmoniously produce? But, alas, I fear that you are singing your love songs to another, who probably doesn't appreciate them as I do. Please tell me it isn't true. Tearfully,

Dear Mr. Cosner: I'm greatly indebted to you for making a man of me. You have lifted me to a higher level and stirred my soul to greater things. My heart is in my throat and is squeezing my Adam's apple till the cider is drowning me.

SAN QUENTIN WINS OVER SING SING

MAHONEY STARS FOR VICTORS

Convict Smith Upholds Standards of Sing Sing

With Mahoney playing for San Quentin and "Convict" Smith for Sing Sing, San Quentin was able to annex another victory to their honor, in the series of Jack Straw games which have gained the attention of all leading sportsmen of the country.

The memorial battle will be put down on the sport records as one of the most exciting, heart-throbbing nerve-shattering matches in history.

In the first quarter of the game, "Convict" Smith apparently was coming out on top, but after a beautiful hoop by Mahoney, he completely lost his sense of balance and therefore was under a great handicap. Once during the game when Mahoney made a terrible slip that threatened to be his downfall, Mrs. Mahoney, nee Frances Sandblom, let out a scream of horror. This worked riot on the taut nerves of the audience and Nicolas's squad of police was rushed to the scene to quell the outbreak.

Next Saturday night the next series of the game will be played. The players going on the floor this time will be Stover for San Quentin and Dellenbach for Sing Sing. The game has all indications of being as interesting and entertaining as the last one.

Come out and support your favorite penitentiary.

Brubaker and Berg Ping Pong Champs

Champions Real Asset to Institution

Kay, Elwin Give Them- selves Up

In the annual ping pong tournament at LaVerne College, Arnelia and George certainly made a name for themselves.

In the first set they won over Kay Crist and Elwyn Wilson by an unmentionable score. Kay and Elwyn have decided to give up themselves as ping pong players and take up miniature golf.

Edith Coffman and Fred Hubbell tied with Esther Dickey, so Arnelia and George played both pair at once and came out victorious.

We must take off our hats to these champions as they are a real credit to our college. They were each awarded a very attractive medal which consisted of a gold-plated safety pin with a ping pong ball tied to it.

Keep up the good works, you ping pongists, and more power to you.

Prospects for an All State Tiddle- Winks Championship Bright

Buck Ferree Advocates Training on Oatmeal

Owes Success to Grand- mother

Everyone is interested in our athletic prospects for next year. Thus it is with great pleasure that we present this authentic interview with "Sissy" Buck Ferree.—The Editor.

The doorbell was answered by Buck's English footman, Jerry Deal, and after tea had been served by Buck's Japanese houseboy (Jerry Deal), the interview began.

"Mr. Ferree," I commenced, "what are LaVerne College's prospects for football next year?"

In that thin small voice that is characteristic of him, Buck replied, "I owe my success to my grandmother. She dropped me on my head when I was a baby."

To which Mr. Ferree's secretary, (Jerry Deal) remarked, "Be yourself, kid; be yourself."

"However," continued Mr. Ferree, "in spite of a weak coaching staff, I think we will probably take our first game, which is with U. S. C., to be followed a week later by the Notre Dame game."

Mr. Ferree thinks that our chances in winning the all-state Tiddle-Winks championship are excellent, as we will have most of this year's championship team back. With Royal Glick as jumping center, Elbert Ebersole at right guard, Fred Butterbaugh at first base, and "Shorty" Harmon pole vaulting, we are inclined to agree with Mr. Ferree.

"But," cautions Buck's spinster aunt, Jerry Deal, "the boys should train on oatmeal, as does my little Buckie." (Net weight 276 lbs.)

"Dear me," sighed Buck, "I think too much stress is placed on athletics."

At this moment the clock struck six and Mr. Ferree's nurse, Jerry Deal, came in with Buckie's milk bottle. With a contented sigh, Mr. Ferree reached for the milk (which was hair tonic in disguise).

After whistling a few bars of the "Spring Song," Mr. Ferree jumped into his cradle and crooned to his bootblack, Jerry Deal, "Wake me at six, mother; I'm to be Queen of the May."

traced at having a card player in the prayer room that he asked Head Usher Snell to throw him out. A wild row ensued. An emergency call was sent in to the Glass-Eyed Police and Chief Epperson was sent to the rescue in his speedy Dora. He accidentally arrived at the wrong church and became so interested in an extremely hilarious "holy roller" service that he forgot that he was looking for a church row.

In the meantime peace had been restored when Professor Glick pleadingly told how he wished to reform. To cinch the matter, Professor Glick promised that as soon as he got a raise, he would make a donation to the prayer meeting fund for furnishing the new Home for Blind Chickens.

ley's P. K.'s taken from table in chapel sometime during Thursday chapel period while Rev. Mr. El-fresh lectured. According to Dr. Hoover, after introducing the speaker he soon lost consciousness (insomnia, not La Paloma) and did not again open his eyes until he heard the chapel speaker having the audacity to close with one of his most cherished antidotes. Anna Emmert, soloist, also sat in the platform, but saw no one snitch the P. K.'s as she also lost consciousness (La Paloma, not insomnia). As far as can be ascertained, every one in chapel who has been interviewed was either not in chapel or was asleep. Mr. Dale Stutzman, in close proximity behind the screens, is being held as a prospective suspect.

Migs, Top Spinning, "Hop-Scotch", Feature Events of the Day

Boop-a-doop Brunk Causes near Catastrophe

By a sweeping and sensational settoo the Ferocious Freshmen won the "Free For All Fraternity Fray" of last Friday, the fifteenth, with a total of ten points against twenty-two for the Juniors, their nearest rivals.

A big turn-out turned out for the F. A. F. F., which proved to be no poop out, as Coach Lee Eisan had prophesied. The whole idea was accredited to Coach Glick. The boys came dressed in their form-fitting flannels and their fluffy flared floops, looking frightfully foolish. They met before the B. J. (boys' gym) at 9:00 a. m. ready for a hot day of hectic hilarity.

The meet was opened by a preliminary "marble" match. Beautiful jade, burnt orange, canary yellow, and English green migs were in evidence as the contest commenced. "Shorty" Howell, reputed to bring home the victory for the Soffs, was disqualified for "fudging." "Master Marksman" Manning placed first, but he was ruled out because he played for keeps against Ebersole last week.

"Hi Pocket" Jones, Jr., hot shot, cancelled his chances by losing his grass green-shooter. He claims it was stolen by "Snickerfritz" Snell to save the neck of the soffs. So the coast was left clear for "Marksman" Mahoney, FROSH, to crasp "do-babies."

The top spinning contest was topping! All shades and shapes were spun by the spinners. "Boop-a-doop" Brunk did a most treacherous thing at the outset of the fray when he spun his spinner and landed it in the vicinity of the G. T. (great toe) of Doc Emmert and penetrated his T. N. (toe nail),

much to the consternation of his toe, but "Surg" Shirk fixed him up by amputating the afflicted anatomy, and the contest recontinued. "Red Top" Weybright came forth triumphant in the top spinning tournament, much to the disgust of those degenerate doops called "soffs."

In the kite-flying contest the most magnificent miniature and mammoth models were mounted. "Fluffy Ruffles" Ferree went and cut holes in "Hy Flyer Funk's" "Flying Fedora," and Funk went home frightfully frustrated at the ferocious faux pas. So "Leaping" Leonard took the opportunity to grace the auspicious occasion with a victory for the juniors.

Intermissions for mints, marmalade and moonshine interrupted the matches materially, but no one moped about munching. Coach Eisan passed around the "Joo-ber-y" jam, made by his own "Aunt Jemima."

The following are the finals of fray:

Jack Straws: (9) Stutzman, (1) Snell, (1) Saylor.
Tiddly's: (40) Cosner (1) Calvert (3) Cunningham.
Hop "Scotch": (1) Hopwood (2) Heckman (3) Harmon.
Checkers: (1) Calvert (2) Calvert (3) Calvert.
Pie Guzzling: (001) Gangor (01) Glick (1) Gnagy.
Roller Skating: (13) Saylor (6) Shirk (10) Stover.

Miss Hoover, guest of the affair, closed the activities of the day by leading the group in a little round of "I See You," which appealed to the boys in a big way. Coach Glick is thinking of installing it as a little preliminary practice for his baseball and track teams this season.
