THE MAN AT THE HELM

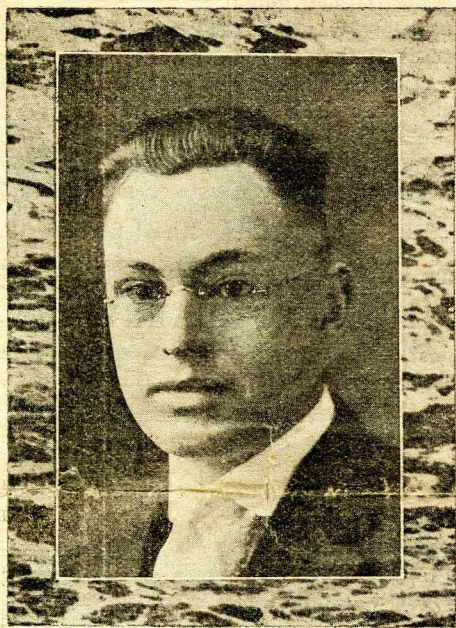

BY MARIE BRUBAKER

La Verne College is again well under way for another successful school year. The man who is guiding our bark this year is Prof. I. V. Funderburgh. For the past eleven or twelve years, Mr. Funderburgh has been connected with the school in a more or less direct way, and we know that he has the highest and best interests of our College at heart.

Our president gave his first tenor solo in Stuart, Colo., on Oct. 10, 1889. He was just an ordinary baby, who laughed part of the time, cried part school were taken in the Rocky Ford High School, Colorado. The later years of his high school course were spent in La Verne Academy, from which he graduated in 1911.

As many geniuses have done, Mr. Funderburgh recognized the possibilities of La Verne, and spent four years here. During this time he took an active part in the music and dramatic work, receiving a diploma from the Expression Department. He also took the Bible course and received his B. S. L.

of the time, and slept most of the time. And as all children do, he grew and grew until he was old enough to enter the public schools.

As his parents were living on a big farm, during his early school days he always rode a pony to the old school house. One day his mother was much mystified upon seeing Isaac lying close to the pony's neck, and urging it to the greatest speed possible, come flying home. When he reached the barnyard gate, he turned pony saddle, bridle and all loose and rushed in to his mother.

When his mother finally succeeded in finding out what the matter was, the awful "It" was passing the house. It was a big tractor, the first one that little Isaac had ever seen. Judging from the way he drives that "chiver" we think his mother must have succeeded in convincing him that anything with wheels and a gasoline engine couldn't hurt him.

Grammar school days were soon passed, and his first years of high

After graduating from the College here, he went to Pomona College, where he received his A. B. degree. For the last six years he has been a teacher in our school. In 1916-1917 he went to U. S. C., where he completed the work required for his M. A. degree.

His college accomplishments have been many, yet those who have known him as a student and teacher realize that there is always time in Isaac Funderburgh's life for a good practical joke, or any wholesome fun. Never has any young man or woman needed help but that his time was theirs.

Not only in our school has his organizing and directing ability become known, but all over our brotherhood. At present he is the General Chairman of the Christian Workers Board, and Executive Secretary of his own District. He is also Regional Director of the Forward Movement.

His keen interest in young people makes him a live, wide-awake Christian Worker. Owing to his untiring efforts and his love for young people, the great Young People's Convention at Santa Monica became an unqualified success.

La Verne is indeed glad to have a man at the head who is so able to guide her through the storms of school life. A man who is young enough to sympathize and to understand the visions and aspirations of the young people within our midst, and yet old enough to see and know the best thing to do under the most trying circumstances.

This man of God, although his task is one of the greatest—that of helping a struggling College to stay on her feet—will, through his own strength and the strength of his Christ, be able to lead La Verne on to greater achievements than she has ever before attained.

LV.C. WOMEN STEP FORWARD

At last! Woman has come to the realization that she is a very vital factor in college life. Having realized this, she immediately began the search for the most effective way to assert herself.

The College women of La Verne College, following in the wake of many sister organizations, formally organized Friday, October 7th.

The Executive Committee was authorized to draft a constitution. The Committee realize the responsibility and dignity of such an organization, and are therefore wisely, proceeding slowly. They are trying, by various means, to learn from older organizations of similar character, the possibilities of women's activities when wisely supervised.

The following officers were elected to steer the "Women's Org." on her maiden voyage:

President, Ruth N. Barnhizer.
Vice President, Elva Gillette.
Secretary, Eva Brownsberger.
Treasurer, Viola Neher.

CHAPEL EXERCISES IMPROVED

If one of L. V. C.'s last year's students were to visit the College this year, one of the biggest evidences of progress would be noticed when he went to chapel. In the first place, upon entering the auditorium door, he would notice that the number of chairs occupied by the faculty had increased from fifteen to twenty-one.

Then the next noticeable feature would be in the talks of the faculty. They are so much more interesting and worth while this year than ever before. Really—most of the students enjoy going to chapel this year because they are getting something that is helpful and practical.

The Faculty have a Chapel Committee who plan the themes for each speaker. Some of the interesting speeches made during the last two weeks were:

School Economics, Prof. Ernest Davis
Students Relation to the Community, Dr. J. P. Dickey.
Church Etiquette, Mrs. B. S. Haugh
School Traditions, Prof. H. W. Frantz
Student and Health, Miss Babcock
Value of Literature, Prof Barber.

Friday is set aside as Student Body Day, and the Commission has charge of the meeting. Saturday has been reserved as strictly College Day. A committee composed of one member of the Faculty and a representative from each class was appointed to arrange the chapel program for this day.

BASKET BALL SQUAD WORKING HARD

The Academy Basket Ball squad is developing very rapidly to that quality we call superior. Although the coach has not been able to be with the team every night because of the College football team, they have been doing their best.

It is their plan to have several practice games with the adjoining schools. Good luck, boys. On Friday, Oct. 21 is their first League game with George Jr. Republic on their court. Let's go, La Verne rooters and team, and show 'em up.

Students, it's up to you to put your full support behind:—Bohn, J. Brooks, O. Brooks, King, U. Hartman, Dickey, Kreps, R. Hartman and Emley.
—LET'S GO!—

'L'S THIRD BIRTHDAY CELEBRATED

All the interest and enthusiasm of the fourth week of school culminated in "L" Day and the activities which accompanied it.

Saturday, October 8th, was a school holiday, built upon the traditions surrounding the school symbol, the "L" which looks out upon La Verne and the surrounding country from one of the higher peaks north of town. This is a holiday observed near the beginning of each school year, and the purpose is to clean off the "L."

The first group of hikers, Levi Dickey, Kreps and Brower left Friday morning about five o'clock with three burros as fellow companions. These boys started early with the provisions, in order that breakfast and dinner might be served at Brown's Flats Saturday.

The remaining boys were divided into squads and carrying their beds with them, left at all hours Friday. The football boys did not leave until late because of engagements elsewhere; but they arrived at Brown's Flats in time to get a doze before the strenuous labor which was to be theirs upon awakening.

There certainly was peace and quietness at the Ladies' Dorm Friday evening. The girls reigned supreme, hindered only by a few boys who were either too fat or too lean to make the climb. All were busy filling their patented canteens—alias a catchup bottle plus a twine string strap—and seeing that each girl had a lemon and a package of chewing gum (as if they could be wafled to the "L" on a package of gum or a lemon). Girls of every form and description flitted frantically through the halls to borrow an old hat or a tie, and to see what the remainder of the inmates were doing.

However, all sought their places of repose early, and each alarm was set for 3:30 a. m. And when morning came, all fairly flew out of bed and were ready for breakfast at 4 o'clock. After a little nourishment, consisting of "autumn leaves," fried eggs and bacon, each girl washed her respective dishes. Then she planted herself on the front porch, awaiting the arrival of a certain truck which was to have the honor of conveying them to Live Oak Canyon.

It was indeed a lively looking crowd of girls who journeyed through the streets of La Verne about five o'clock. From the sound of voices, it seemed as if the girls were not content to be the only early wakers, but desired that everyone in and out of town should participate in the pleasure

College Dept. Growing

Hurrah for the strong college spirit at L. V. C. this year. A forward step has been taken since the Saturday chapel periods are reserved strictly for the College Department. The long hoped-for wish of many former students who have graduated, is now being realized. The College Department is growing and is becoming a vital force in La Verne.

As this department is still in its infancy, the students now have the privilege and honor of establishing certain traditions. In order to carry out its plans and ideals, the College Department organized Saturday, Oct. 15, with the election of the following officers:

President, John Price.
Vice President, Martha Brubaker.
Secretary, Cathryn Byerly.
Treasurer, Bertram Betts.

Anyhow, about fifty girls, arranged in squads, hit the trail at 5:30. And it surely was thrilling, to say the least to see that long string of white middie wind its way up and down the long mountain climb.

The day was ideal, and everyone was headed for the "L," and nothing but the "L." Needless to say, with such an aim, everyone who started the hike arrived on the aforesaid spot some time before dinner.

In the meantime the boys had been strenuously wielding their picks, hoes, etc., and had not only cleared the brush from the "L," but also had made a better trail from Brown's Flats to the "L."

After a short sojourn on the "L" itself, all returned to Brown's Flats for dinner. The boys are responsible for the wieners, baked potatoes, sandwiches, apples and coffee which found easy way to the stomachs of the hungry climbers. After dinner the groups began to wend their way back to the canyon.

The trail seemed literally alive with human beings, some walking leisurely down the trail, others sliding down the "fire escape," while others simply fell down all the short cuts which came their way. Of course, all arrived safely at camp, with no serious injuries, although many manifested the fact that they had more feet than they did when they left.

On arriving at the canyon supper was found in the first stages of preparation. After telling all of those who did not go to the "L" of the many varied experiences, each removed as much of the loose dirt as was necessary in order to partake of the evening meal, and stood in the "bread line." A sumptuous supper was served, consisting of potato salad, wieners, sandwiches, pickles, fruit salad, doughnuts and coffee. The meal was evidently enjoyed by all, judging from the merriment which succeeded.

Afterwards a short program of readings and special music was rendered. Many jokes and funny stories were told between acts. After the entertainment each was served a glass of real apple cider, and was sent on his way homeward.

The credit for the eats and the entertainment is due to the College Sophomores, who spent hours of effort and labor that the students might enjoy themselves.

For some unaccountable reason many students seemed to have acquired a bad case of rheumatics during the night. But most of them are recovering nicely and are looking forward to the next birthday of the "L."

Although "L" day originated only four years ago, its anniversary is recognized as a legal holiday on the calendar of La Verne College. Even this year the event was scheduled among the College activities in the Annual Bulletin. Everyone looked forward to the occasion weeks ahead, hunting old shoes, mending old clothes, and engaging in extended walks in order to get in trim for the hike.

Although the boys went for one distinct purpose—to remove the unnecessary brush from the "L," the girls motives were varied. Some went for the hike, others went because it was their last chance, while others, and far the largest number, went primarily for the purpose of being able to say they had been to the "L." Yet, whatever the motive, each and every one had a wonderful "mountain top" experience and received some inspiration.

As we gazed upon the symbol of our College before we started up the trail, we were impressed with the realization that the path, which led to our destination, was long, narrow and winding. Only those with strong will power, determination, and perseverance would ever be able to plant their feet on the coveted spot. On our way up the mountain side, many became tired and weary, but by plodding undauntedly onward, all who started at the foot of the trail early in the morning gained the height for which they were striving, and spent a few happy moments in that one favored plot of ground carved in a letter "L."

The pleasure and thrill of just saying YES to the inquiry "Did you ever get to the 'L,'" is due compensation for the innumerable blisters and the unlocatable stiffness acquired by many students.

Students, let this dauntless perseverance be an index to our educational as well as to our physical accomplishments, for as long as perseverance is the dominant factor in our lives, we are bound to succeed.

LOST

"LOST: Somewhere between sunrise and sunset, Two Golden Hours, each set with sixty diamond minutes. No reward is offered, for they are gone forever."

How many of us, as students, could be conscientious with ourselves and not place our signature after the above "lost" notice? Be honest with yourself. If your name doesn't fit, you are an exception. If it does, it is time you are keeping count of your minutes, to see that they are being used wisely and constructively.

LATENT TALENT

At the close of the last school year, when many of our brilliant College students left their seats of honor and entered the ranks of the Alumni, it was noised abroad that from thence forth onward, all activities must necessarily cease for want of talent. In fact, it was seemingly impossible to imagine La Verne College existing without the aforesaid class of '21. But as this school year opened, the rumor passed away, and all school activities have been renewed with increased pep and enthusiasm. We are progressing famously and many students are being harnessed into positions, who had never before been given a chance to do anything.

The gap left by last year's Seniors has been filled, and although not in the same way, at least, the workers are willing to work. If our school is to reach the ideal, each student should be permitted at some time in his school life to hold some position or take an active part in some school activity. We are so accustomed to have the entire work being done by a few, that it is difficult to get a democracy in our school activities.

There is an old adage that there are as good fish in the sea as have ever been pulled out. Our task is to PULL THEM OUT.

COMMISSION NOTES

Jeannette King, Commissioner of Student Welfare, until Herman Moomaw's arrival, reports that arrangements are being made for a masked Hallowe'en party.

The Commission decided to send Netzley or Root to Los Angeles to engage a company of entertainers for our Armistice Day program.

The Commissioner of Publications is investigating the advisability of getting some La Verne College letterhead stationery printed. This writing material will be placed on sale in the bookroom if the Commission reports favorably.

Harvey Emley's resignation as manager of Academy debating has been accepted, but his successor has not yet been appointed.

The Commission petitioned the Faculty for a half holiday for the students in order that all hands might be enlisted in a Campus Clean-up day in the near future. The request was granted.

The hour for the regular weekly Commission meeting has been set for 7:15 p. m. Wednesday.

At 7:15 p. m. Thursday evenings the Faculty-Commission cabinet will meet in the Commission Room in the Administration building.

The Pennant Committee has been instructed to continue its work and to report as soon as possible.

As an appreciation for the support which Mr. and Mrs. L. B. MacDonald Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Beckner, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Smith, and Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Newcomer have given to Student Body activities, the Commission has issued to them complimentary tickets admitting them free of charge to all Student Body functions.

The first Faculty-Commission meeting was held on Thursday evening to discuss student welfare problems. Mrs. Haugh and Prof. Ernest Davis, representing the Faculty, met with the Commission and suggested that ways and means be provided to induce the men in the dormitory to keep their rooms more tidy.

BY BOB HIMSELF

In the years to come when Ralph Netzley gets the glad tidings of the big game when his son returns from the Yale-La Verne football match, the old boy will slap his knee and say, "By crackie, I made the first touchdown in the football career of La Verne College, and if you don't believe it, just ask Grandpa Newcomer."

Some of the students from the cross roads towns are objecting to the ringing of the 10 p. m. bell. They do not like to be awakened from their slumbers.

Mrs. S. J. M. when she first beheld her hubby minus the hirsute adornment is reported to have said, "Now Samuel Jefferson, you go and put 'em right back on."

One would think the ladies of the dorm were organizing a football team as they daily wend their way to the village weighmaster to register the loss and gain. Mrs. Michael seems to make the stout thin and the thin stout. Great is she!

Perhaps our College has not arrived as yet, but anyhow the girls are on the weigh.

Dayton Newcomer is foster father of the football team. From October to December he is just fifty fifty, bank and football. And thy say he knows more about the game than Heinz knew about pickles.

Senior:—We've been waiting a long time for our Gym.

Freshie:—(excitedly) Who is Jim?

NOTSO NEWSEY

Dear Sam:—Well this is an answer to the letter I didn't get. I don't know why you never wrote, but I guess there's a reason for all things, even for "Postum."

Oh, so much has happened since I last wrote, I just can't begin to tell it all. I'll have to begin in the middle and leave off the other two ends.

I hiked to the "L" Saturday, that's quite a distance from school, Sam. If you don't believe me, you try it for a stroll sometime. Well, when I reached that one spot on the mountain I couldn't even speak, it was so glorious, (then of course, I was out of breath from the climb). I never had such a wonderful feeling in my life, and never expect to again, until the day I'm through with my stiffness from getting there.

The sights were gorgeous, we could see the little insects crawling on the foothill boulevard; almost, and then we could have seen Frank's green socks with orange strips in them, if he'd been down there with them on.

Oh, it was all great, as I said before, but we all paid the price. Why actually the next morning I was so crippled I had to roll off from the bed to get out, then my legs had to form a contract with each other, like this: "I'll let you by this time if you'll let me by the next time." But, of course, we're all glad we made it up there, and gladder we made it back. So we have no reason to complain.

Friday we had a big football game with Riverside. It surely was interesting, but you can read that in the "Campus Times." Then Wednesday we had a wonderful talk in chapel by a man that didn't come, and we got to keep our quarters.

Oh, yes, I almost forgot to tell you—you know Wilbur Hoke's hand? Well, he fell on it the other night playing football, and I guess broke it. I know just lots of things I could tell you, but I just can't kiddo, because the "Campus Times" wouldn't have anything to tell that'd be new. I advise you, though, to read everything in it carefully if you want to know what's going on here.

Say, Sam, I know something that you'd like to hear, so listen. There's a cute girl here at school said she'd like to write to you sometime. Now, the next time you get a letter from me, it will be from her.

Good night, Sam, it's high time I was in bed.

SURPRISE ON "VI"

The room of Elva and Eva was the height of merriment Tuesday evening, Oct. 4, when a group of girls gathered there for the purpose of giving a little surprise party in honor of Viola Neher. She had been told to visit the second floor at the hour of nine-thirty to discuss the weighty matters of the day, principally politics.

She willingly consented, and when she arrived on the scene a happy bunch of girls were there to wish her a happy birthday.

As usual, the greater part of the time was spent in talking and laughing. About ten o'clock, light refreshments of peaches, chocolate and wafers were served, and upon leaving, each wished Viola many more happy birthdays.

Those present were Viola Neher, Marguerite Ives, Elva Gillette, Eva Brownsberger, Martha and Hazel Brubaker, Wanda Carl, Minnie and Mollie Rhodes, Mary Gockley, and Beulah Noll.

MORE BIRTHDAY SURPRISES

Irma Dunker was pleasantly surprised last Tuesday evening to find upon entering the dining hall a special table arranged in honor of her birthday. The table was decorated with pink crepe paper and flowers, while dainty place cards bore the names of the invited guests. Ice cream and cake were the special features of the occasion.

ACADEMY FRESHIES INITIATE THEMSELVES

The Academy Freshmen "held forth" for the first time in the history of their existence on Saturday night, Oct. 1st, at Neva Bowman's home. They had a "high old time," so they say, playing games, giving readings and rendering vocal and instrumental duets. Beulah Noll and Ralph Netzley, who acted as chaperones for the "tiny 'uns" played a duet of "Chop Sticks" for their benefit. Refreshments of watermelon, cake and chocolate were served as a fitting climax for the social.

THE BIG-FOUR CLUB

The Big-Four Club is again busy and has many plans for the coming year. Probably not much has been heard from the Club yet, but the members have met and organized. Rosevelt Hartman was elected General Chairman; Frances Arnold, Chairman of the Program Committee; Lola Shirk, Chairman of the Social Committee; Virgil Neher, Chairman of the Membership Committee, and Rolland Stutzman, Chairman of the Finance Committee.

The Club will give a number of programs, some open to the public, and some for the members of the Club only. The purpose of the Club is to furnish entertainment and instruction to its members, and to promote the social life of the Academy students.

"Patronize our advertisers."

KOLLEGE KNEWS

President Funderburgh paid us a short visit this week. He had just returned from the District meetings at Live Oak, following his trip to Chicago. Everyone was glad to see our busy, fleeting president, and certainly hope he calls again.

"Patronize our advertisers."

Miss Velma Noll was a visitor for several days last week. She came down from her home in Strathmore with Ben Fisher and family, from that vicinity, who visited relatives here.

Mrs. Grace Miller entertained at a triple birthday dinner last Friday night a week. The honorees were Viola Neher, Kathryn Harshbarger and Esther Stoops. The girls were fifty-four years old. Many happy returns, young ladies.

Mrs. Marie Brubaker entertained Sunday at dinner Mrs. Bertha Swihart, Velma Fager and Beulah Noll.

Gorman Rensberger has unfortunately been the victim of a bad attack of tonsillitis, and was very ill for several days. However, he is improving now, and is again about his work.

Miss Sanger has also been very ill at the Pomona Valley hospital where she was taken last Friday. However, she expects to return again in a few days.

Mrs. Claude Arnett gave an interesting and instructive talk to the girls at their Devotional last Monday evening. The subject was, "Faces." She told the girls how to make their faces beautiful and how to keep them so. The girls now wash their faces up instead of down. "Beauty, we'll claim you yet."

"Patronize our advertisers."

There was nothing to do one evening last week and a few of the dormitory girls were homesick, so of course, it all resulted in a fudge party in room 17. The electric plate worked splendidly, and the fudge turned out very "licious." The party was very quiet, only got called down three times by the matron in all evening.

Leland Brubaker was privileged to attend the Executive Committee meeting of Student Volunteers of Southern California in Los Angeles Sunday, October 9th.

Prof. J. B. Emmert has been absent for sometime on trips to Hemet and Live Oak. We are glad to welcome him again in our midst.

Ralph Netzley visited at his home in Pasaadena Sunday, October 9th.

Welty Lefever found it convenient and expedient to visit La Verne a week ago last Sunday. His beaming face "doeth good like a medicine."

MEN'S DEVOTIONAL

On Wednesday evening the men met in the chapel for their weekly devotional. Coach Arnett spoke to them and showed very strikingly that students get no more out of their college work and activities than they put into them. He called their attention to the fact that there are, in the patent offices at Washington D. C., thousands of models of perpetual motion machines, through which men have been trying to get something for nothing. Such essayers have failed because the laws of physics are the laws of God and are as unchangeable as ever. Neither can college men expect to get something for nothing. To succeed and make themselves indispensable to the world in its need, men must put themselves, heart and soul, into their work, and must expect to get no more true value out of life than they are willing to put into it.

The men are anxious to hear Coach Arnett again, for his messages are as wholesome, strong, and manly as he himself is.

You can always tell a Senior,
He is so sedately dressed—
You can always tell a Junior
By the way he swells his chest—
You can always tell a Freshman
By his timid ways, and such—
You can always tell a Sophomore,
But you cannot tell him much.

Freshman:— There is something preying on my mind.
Senior:— Don't worry, it will starve to death.

Lives of Seniors all remind us
We should cram for all our tests
And departing, leave behind us
Our initials on our desks.

ATHLETICS

LA VERNE VERSUS COVINA

A very enthusiastic and loyal crowd of rooters gathered on the football field Oct. 2nd, to witness what was anticipated to be a very exciting game between La Verne and Covina. Although Covina had played football for several years, while this was only the second game for the La Verne boys, yet the teams seemed to be fairly well matched, and a struggle ensued.

Several times during the game Covina had the ball in dangerous territory, but were unable to score because of the strong opposition they encountered at every turn.

The first goal was carried by La Verne in the third quarter, when Betts intercepted a forward pass and ran 30 yards for a touchdown. Root kicked goal, the score standing La Verne 7 to Covina 0, at the end of the third.

In the fourth quarter Covina completed a forward pass, made a touch down, and kicked goal, which tied the score.

La Verne College may well be proud of her football team and the sportsmanlike spirit which was manifested in the game.

BIG GAME AT RIVERSIDE

The football men encountered their first game with College men Friday, October 14th, at Riverside Junior College. Although the team was defeated 3 to 7, Coach Arnett stated that they played one of their best games, as far as technique was concerned.

One thing which hindered the La Verne team was the grassy turf on which they were required to play, and to which they were not accustomed. Nevertheless, no one was injured and each one felt the game worth while even though the victory was not for L. V. C.

The game was well attended; the students as well as the town's people showed their loyal support.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT ENLARGED

The Music Department this year is doing fine work already. Professor Haugh is at the head of the Vocal and Piano Departments, and he also has charge of the Lyric and Glee Clubs and the directing class. There are now thirty-six enrolled in the Lyric Club and over twenty in the Glee Club.

Miss Bernice Gibble and Miss Pauline Miller are both assistants in the Piano Department, and Miss Gibble has charge of the ear-training class, music history and two classes in chorus.

There will be two pupils' recitals each quarter, at which all music students are required to be present.

We wonder why more young men are not taking music this year. Aside from the Glee Club, not one of the College boys are enrolled in music. Come on, boys, we need bass and tenor singers, too.

STUDENTS BOOST FOOTBALL

Football, above all things earthly, is most exciting. I've gotten more "kick and thrills" out of football than any other sport I've ever witnessed. The true blue, manly strength and courage of the men stand out prominently. The thrills are somewhat chilled, however, when we see a bruised and bandaged group straggling thru the halls all stiff and incapable of studying well. But football is worth the price. It is true that football is doing and will do wonders in making a bigger La Verne College, and we feel already that we could not do without this sport.

—CATHRYN BYERLY, A. B. '21

I believe that College football is going to be so drawing to the students that our Academy basket ball will be out of date. Each one has the football spirit so well developed in his system that he can't stay away from the games. The coach will have to keep his eye open and watch our Basket Ball team or else he will find one or two of them over watching the football game while the other three men are playing a league game. But we need to support the football boys, for they are the fellows who are going to put La Verne on the map, and that is what we are striving for.

URBIN HARTMAN, '24.

Football will do more to put La Verne College on par with other colleges than any other one thing. Besides this, it brings the very best out of the player, and unifies the side lines as no other sport can do. The introduction of football was the beginning of a new era for L. V. C.

HERMAN LANDIS, A. B. '22

At last we've got it. What? The football fever. We've got the black eyes, the game legs, the broken ribs, the sprained ankles, the skinned noses, and the absent-minded gazes in our classes. In fact, we've got everything that belongs to football, even the enthusiasm and pep that's so common among the rooters. It's too bad we couldn't have had it sooner, and yet it's a comfort to know that even with our bunch of green horns we haven't had to take a goose egg yet. Although sometimes your heart almost jumps into your throat on those awful downs, and you're just sure some one is desperately wounded, there's still a wonderful thrill when they all come up all right and are after that old ball again. It's a grand game, and with La Verne's characteristic push and enthusiasm, and our town folks' loyal support, we will make it as grand a success.

MARIE BRUBAKER.

STUDENT VOLUNTEERS ORGANIZE

The Student Volunteers, with new spirit and interest, held their first meeting the first Sunday after school started, September 18th. Pres. I. V. Funderburgh gave the address of the morning on the subject, "What I expect of the Student Volunteers this year."

Another feature of interest was a splendid address given by Mr. Arnett, athletic coach, given October 9th. His subject was, "The Prayer Life of the Student," and in this talk he stressed "service."

With good interest, the Mission Band hopes to have a very successful year.

ALUMNI

WHO'S WHERE?

The Academy graduates of 1921 are somewhat scattered this year. Although the College Freshman class is the largest that has ever entered the College Department, many of its old members are unable to be back. Several are attending other schools and colleges.

Modena Minnich, Lois Lehmer, and Grace Forney are taking College Freshman work at Manchester. Modena is also assistant instructor in the Music Department of the college.

Wilda Kagarise and Perry Schrock are attending Chaffey Junior College at Ontario.

Raymond Keller is attending a Junior College in the northern part of the state, and Bill Riddlebarger is going to school in Idaho.

Because of ill health, Mary Gilbert is unable to be in school this year, but she is studying art and music in Los Angeles.

Others of the class are working. Nellie Fisher is in the Pomona Library; and Margaret Forney in a private home in Pomona.

Jess Hepner is at home at Covina; Sam Maust is finding hard work at Strathmore, while Beth Thomas is at home in Bowmont, Idaho.

FOOTBALL HEROES

The limping, halting gait and blackened eyes of our football boys do not indicate weakness at all, but merely the fact that they throw themselves into our new sport with the same enthusiasm and whole-hearted spirit they have manifested in all our other sports.

Two rather unfortunate accidents occurred recently which, though not of a very serious nature, are certainly inconvenient both to the victims and the team. In the Covina game our broad smiling Dutch received a sprained ankle, and waved a gallant crutch for several days.

Just whether Wilbur Hoke was trying to make himself a hero, or see how much pressure his various bones would stand, when he unceremoniously fell down and broke his arm, is not known.

However, the whole school is backing our unfortunate heroes, and we don't blame football at all, because these accidents might easily have occurred in any other game, as neither happened in hard play. They only tend to make the enthusiasm and support even greater, and the student body a stronger, more loyal unit.
