DENOMINATIONAL PEACE CONFERENCE

THREE SESSIONS TO BE HELD BY CHURCHES

To awaken, call forth, and to deepen conscience on the war issue, representatives of the Friends, Mennonites, and Church of the Brethren, have agreed to invite those who are interested in these principles to a Peace Conference at LaVerne College, LaVerne, Saturday, March 5th, 1932.

In the political, social and economic spheres, many efforts have been put forth to impress the people in general of the folly of war and the desirability of peace. Organizations as the League of Nations and the World Court have accomplished noteworthy achievements. Conferences of various types have been held and now the Disarmament Conference is in session. All these efforts help. There are many, however, who in addition to supporting these enterprises feel that the church should grapple with this problem from the viewpoint of the Christian religion as inaugurated by Jesus Christ. This conscientious conviction does not interfere with definite action by individuals or groups, as the sending of petitions or requests to the proper persons; rather it strengthens the action and enlarges the field of activity.

The program will be as follows:

I. D. YODER RESIGNS BUSINESS MANAGERSHIP

I. D. Yoder, former business manager of LaVerne College, resigned his position some time ago and is now taking charge of his private business affairs in Los Angeles.

The duties of the business manager have been taken over by other members of the administration. President Studebaker now has charge of making all purchases for the school and of signing all the checks. Harrison Frantz has complete supervision of Miller Hall, including the cafeteria and Miss Mary Lauver is now the office bookkeeper.

Mr. Yoder began his duties as business manager of LaVerne College in 1923, the same year in which Dr. Studebaker became its president. He has served the school faithfully for nine years and is a loyal supporter of its policies and ideals and a generous contributor to its maintenance.

FRANCIS SHAW TO TAKE LEAD IN "REDEMPTION"

Francis W. Shaw, a newly registered second semester frosh, will play the lead, Theodore Vasilyevich Protosov (Fedya) in Tolstoy's classic drama "Redemption," presented at Padua Hills, March 1st to 5th.

Mr. Shaw, a brother of Hugh Shaw, graduated from Claremont High School in 1926, and has ever since then been working on the professional stage. He has painted scenery, done make-up work, besides acting. First working in the Pittsburgh Professional Theater, he later spent his time as assistant to Mr. Munson, art director of the Belasco Theatre. Before coming to The Little Theatre in Padua Hills, where he played Tom Ames in "Hotel Universe," he was with the Pasadena Playhouse.

March 3rd has been set aside as LaVerne College night, and, in the words of Francis W. Shaw, "every student should be there to see this classic piece of the theatre, ranking with the great plays of Shakespeare and the Greeks." The simple thread of the story, dealing with the character Fedya, portraying his weakness, his baffled honesty and his inherent nobility which could win through to ultimate redemption only by the sacrifice of his life, is the vivid picturing of life, done with Tolstoy's masterly touch of character penetration.

ROADRUNNER Y CHOOSES TWO FORMER L. V. C. MEN

Two former LaVerne students, Norval Caywood and Zola DuBois, were included in a group of ten that was chosen from eighty candidates for the Santa Barbara State College Roadrunner "Y."

The Roadrunner "Y" was organized at Santa Barbara State College in October, 1931. The membership consists of men interested in training for Christian leadership in their chosen professions.

The purpose of the Roadrunner "Y" is to develop leadership with character, personality, and high standards of living. It is also working to further a spirit of friendliness and co-operation among the men on the campus.

of years there both preceding and following the time of the revolution.

At a conference of students and teachers in Balboa in October, Dr. Day gave an address on "Communism and its Challenge to the Christian World."

Tolstoy's 'Redemption' Now Being Presented

THURSDAY TO BE L. V. C. NIGHT AT PADUA

Thursday, March 3, has been set as LaVerne College night at the Claremont Community Players' presentation of Count Leo Tolstoy's classic masterpiece "Redemption," held as the greatest production of the year, it was learned from Mary C. Blaisdell, Players director. The famous drama will play March 1, 2, 3,

COUNT LEO TOLSTOY

4, and 5, with a matinee March 5, at the Little Theatre in Padua Hills.

Featuring a cast of forty, Russian costumes, unique scenic effects and a chorus singing the thrilling, authentic gypsy music, "Redemption" looms as the most colorful and spectacular production of the Players' history.

The ten scenes of the play recount in poignant and powerful fashion the story of the character Fedya, portraying his weakness, his baffled honesty and his inherent nobility which could win through to redemption only by the sacrifice of his life.

"Redemption" is considered a classic piece of the theatre, and has been played in the famous theatres of the two continents. As in his great novels, for which he is best known, Tolstoy has written with that masterly touch of character penetration and knowledge of life which make for great drama.

The special student rate of fifty cents will apply for each performance of the play.

X A X MEETS TO DISCUSS PROGRAM

X A X members met last Tuesday to discuss plans for an evening of three one-act plays to be presented Thursday, March 10.

The program arranged is pure comedy and promises to be a rare treat for play-goers of LaVerne. "Wonder Hat," a fantastic farce, will be directed by Eleanor Shepp, "The Boor" is to be directed by Constance Horning, and an original play written by the Advanced Play-Write class, entitled "Dogs, Cats and a Professor" will be directed by Opal Kuns. This latter is a farce on college life into which a good deal of local color has been introduced.

X A X announces that with the intention of helping the social situation of LaVerne from an economic

INTERESTING CHAPEL SERVICE TO BE MARCH 8

On March 8 an unusual and extremely interesting chapel service will be held in the LaVerne College auditorium. It will be in the form of a motion picture. The picture will show the activities of the League of Nations from its formation to recent times. This motion picture vividly shows the aims and activities of the League and strikingly shows the condition of the world in modern times.

This picture is being shown here at the expense of the International Relations Club. The public is invited to come to LaVerne College auditorium at 10:10 a. m. Tuesday, March 8, to see this interesting and educational picture.

PERRY DILLEY TO GIVE PUPPET SHOW

Presenting "Booby Hans" by Hans Christian Andersen, and "Alice in Wonderland" by Lewis Carroll, Perry Dilley's puppets will give a performance at the Pasadena Community Playhouse, Saturday morning, March 5, at 10:30 o'clock.

McGill University has a new clock whose chimes can be heard all over the campus. It not only strikes every hour, so as to aid students in getting to class on time, but it also strikes every quarter hour, thus aiding the students to keep awake in classes.

standpoint, they are selling the tickets at an astonishingly low price of 15c per person, or 2 for 25c—while they last. Here is your chance, men; in this case it "pays to date."

COLLEGE STUDENTS SPONSOR PROGRAM

PROF. EINSTEIN AND MILLIKAN, BEARD SPEAK

By Chuck Manning

Southern California college students climaxed any previous attempts toward student understanding of world events in a "Program in the Interest of Public Opinion" conducted in the new Pasadena Civic Auditorium on Saturday night, Feb. 27. Dr. Charles A. Beard, Dr. Robert A. Millikan, and Prof. Albert Einstein were the internationally known figures of the program.

The object of this meeting was to create a better understanding among the students of the responsibility which is theirs in the great world problems which confront us today. Larimer Haynes, student president of Occidental, reviewed briefly the historical influence of student opinion in the past. Practically every constructive step taken in the past decades has been instigated by students. I feel Dean McHenry of U. C. L. A. sounded an imperative challenge to every student when he said the students of today were ideally fitted to take the proper steps toward the creation of peace because we have not experienced the horrors of war but we have grown up in the aftermath of the war and can see the absolute folly of war.

Prof. Einstein challenged the students to set an example for the older generation. "The older generation is looking to the youth of today and hope they will strive for and reach that which has been denied them."

Dr. Millikan made the significant statement that the white civilization is headed for certain extinction unless we can arrive at a means of settling our international problems other than by war.

Dr. Beard pointed out clearly that no nation can be a sovereign nation in our present civilization. We will have to forfeit a measure of our national freedom if we arbitrate, and we must arbitrate.

With such statements as the foregoing to stimulate thought throughout the land and with such a meeting sponsored by the students, it seems to me that the American students are awakening to their power and responsibility. I believe a movement has been started which will continue to grow. We students have the power within our grasp to make or break our country. As Dr. Beard said, "the militant would have us have defense enough to protect every American dollar anywhere and every young person must be ready to go, regardless of what that dollar is doing." Are we, the youth of today, going to allow six per cent of the people to drive us to war? Never, if there is a war I want to have a hand in starting it, not be told to fight for someone else's idea. Keep the ball rolling, students.

Returning to the stage as a thespian for the first time since last summer when he enacted the role of the theatrical producer in a production of "Many Waters," Gilmore Brown, noted producing director of the Pasadena Community Playhouse will play the role of King Henry VIII in the elaborate revival of the famous romantic drama, "When Knighthood Was In Flower," by Paul Kester, to be produced with Maude Fealy and cast of 150 players from March 3 to 12. A year ago, Brown played the title role in a production of "Othello," and during the fifteen years of the existence of the playhouse, of which he was one of the co-founders, has played around two hundred widely diversified roles.

27-23 IN HECTIC GAME

After a rather rough game with Throne's Friday night, the Co-eds were successful in winning, 23-27. Before the game was over, LaVerne was playing with only four players, but these four brought the score from an 18-18 tie. Rule, Roberts and Blickenstaff left the game on personals. Others playing were I. Sheller, Nix, Lehman, and Ward.

LaVerne is now tied for second place with the Presbyterians, who lost to Covina.

After losing three games, Throne's has strengthened its team by securing three players from the Pomona J. C. team. From now on she will be one of the stronger teams of the league.

LAVERNE PLACES FOURTH IN FOOTBALL RELAY

Last Saturday at Patterson Field, Occidental, a novel football relay was held, in which Pomona was winner. Four fellows from LaVerne went to the relay in which the contestants had to wear a full football outfit. Each fellow had to run the full length of the football field, carrying a football instead of a baton. Max Forney, Cecil Brooks, "Kenny" Brownsberger and Bert Jones were the team from LaVerne who took part. They took fourth, due to a fumble. Occidental took second, Whittier third, and San Diego fifth.

SAN DIEGO WINS BASKET BALL CHAMPIONSHIP

San Diego wins the basket ball championship, being beaten only once this season, and that was by LaVerne. San Diego defeated Redlands last Saturday night in order to win. Whittier took second, losing once to San Diego and once to Redlands. Redlands came third, losing once to LaVerne, once to Whittier, once to San Diego. Occidental came fourth with five losses. LaVerne was sixth with six losses, which was rather redeemed by their defeating the champions in one game and giving them a bad scare in the second.

Four seniors are lost from the basket ball squad this season. Bert Jones, Bob Welty, Hobbs Adams and Jerry Deal are the men graduating and who have turned in their suits for the last time. All four of these men played at guard position and it will be hard to find four men who can fill these positions as effectively as they have filled them this season.

Bert Jones and Hobbs Adams transferred here from San Bernardino Junior College, where they both had played basket ball. Bert made his letter last year also. Hobbs did not go out last year, but he came out this season and turned in some neat work at guard.

Jerry Deal and Bob Welty both played on the frosh team in '28, which took second in the frosh conference. They did not make their letter when Sophomores, but were able to play enough when Juniors to earn a letter.

We are sorry to see these fellows leave the basket ball squads as they were all good sports and could be counted on to put up a good fight.

Next year Marty Carter, one of the best Junior College forwards on the coast, will be playing with LaVerne. Carter and Snell should make a scoring combination that will be hard to beat. Forney, Brooks, Montgomery, Weybright, Calvert, Saylor, along with the frosh material from this year, will make a good bunch to choose the rest of the squad from.

It is the little things that bother us. One can sit on a mountain, but not on a tack.

UNDER THE
by EDE

Because of a slight delay in the mails, this last installment of "Under the Basket" failed to reach LaVerne in time for last issue.—Chuck.

Jones and Welty were in no small measure responsible for the winning of the first San Diego game, and the close score of the game Saturday night.

Bert Jones ended four years of college basket ball by being sent from the game on personal fouls. It was the first time he had the experience. Friday night Red donated a couple of "buckets"—for which we were duly thankful.

If Max Forney can keep improving all next basket ball season, LaVerne will have an all-conference man. He turned in two brilliant San Diego games.

Snell turned in his usual fine game and also took his usual beating. He also played with an infected knee that would have kept another player on the bench.

After crabbing like I did about the rooting, I must admit that there was a wonderful improvement. Things might have happened if we had started earlier in the season.

Elvin, after giving us heart failure by almost not reporting, went into the game and in a half minute sank a basket. Nice work.

It looked like the big parade, when Jones, Forney and Calvert left the game on personals in the extra period. I began to worry because we only had thirteen men out for the game.

It's a good thing the season ended because the starting combination of Welty, Jones, Forney, Calvert and Snell was the last combination the coach could have figured out.

Personally I think there ought to be a law against extra period games. Either that or the college should be responsible for the doctor bills.

Found at last—an official that calls fouls. Ayers knew the rules and called them as he saw them. Too bad he saw so much of LaVerne.

Suppose you know this ends the season and the basket ball careers of Jones, Adams, Welty and Deal. Needless to say they will be badly missed.

In spite of the loss of these men the prospects look exceedingly bright for a successful season next year.

And so ends "Under the Basket."

STUDENT VOLUNTEERS HAVE DISCUSSION

The Student Volunteer organization met last Wednesday evening at the home of Evelyn Edmister to discuss the relation of their group to other college groups. Jerry Deal and "Chuck" Manning led the discussion which proved very interesting and helpful—at least it sounded that way, for the meeting lasted until 10 p. m.

After unusually interesting campaign speeches, the polls were opened for voting. The following girls were elected:

President, Mary Hollinger.
Vice-president, Virginia Scarisbrick.
Secretary, Anna Messamer.
Treasurer, Eleanor Shepp.
Song leader, Edith Flory.

These new officers will choose the members of their cabinet at a later date.

REV. LYNN SPEAKS IN TUESDAY CHAPEL

Rev. Lynn, pastor of the First Brethren Church of LaVerne, spoke in chapel Tuesday.

We are wrong if we are in school with the idea of preparing ourselves for better material gain. The main idea should be to develop in ourselves the spirit of service so that people will be made happier and the world bettered a little for our having lived. In conclusion he emphasized the fact that our supreme work is to win souls for Christ, no matter what field or profession we choose, and that should bring the greatest happiness.

Preceding the lecture two solos were sung by Chuck Snell, "Shipmates of Mine," and "Give a Man a Horse He Can Ride." He was accompanied by Elizabeth Lehman.

SEVERAL STUDENTS VISIT CATALINA

Alice Strait, Lucile Hylton, Carrol Aeschbacher and Hamilton White took a cruise to Catalina Island Sunday. They meant to catch the ten o'clock boat but "just missed it," so had to take a sea plane ride.

Lena Mae Ross, Virginia Stern, Evelyn Deardorff, John Baitloon, Doyle Ruark and Cecil Huff also were seen roaming the Bird Farm on Catalina Island. None of the party seemed to be the least bit prone to seasickness.

DORM GIRLS HIKE TO PUDDINGSTONE

Because the weather was too lovely to keep anyone indoors Thursday afternoon, the dormitory girls packed their lunches and hiked to Puddingstone dam for supper.

At about five o'clock one could see them swinging merrily westward along the road back of the athletic field. Over railroad ties and irrigation ditches, hills and a dam crest and past angry dogs they went until almost dark.

Then they gathered firewood and built a fire at the foot of a hill. Soon the odor of baking wieners was fragrant in the still night air. Those who were in love put pickles in their sandwiches and everybody used mustard. How good everything tasted to the hungry travelers!

The fire died out and there was only star light to give light to the infinite night. Arm in arm the girls trudged homeward down the dusty road. Some of them clutched handfuls of gay yellow violets and wild shooting stars which they had plucked in the meadows.

Occasionally one could hear snatches of songs, both dreamy and march tunes, sung by dim shadows in the darkness.

At last in the distance, the gray walls of the dormitory were seen. Footsteps were quickened and soon most of the happy weary ones snuggled contentedly between cool sheets.

DIAL TELEPHONES PUZZLE L. V. C. STUDENT

It all happened in a telephone booth in the Los Angeles Philharmonic Auditorium last week.

Elmo Holl for the first time in his life was trying to use a dial telephone. He had an extremely important call to put through and he knew what number he wanted, but for the life of him he couldn't get his party. For fifteen minutes he struggled in vain, always sticking his finger into the wrong place. Finally he appealed to Vernon Heckman, who gallantly came to his rescue by dialing successfully the number of Elmo's old Oregon flame who was then visiting in the city.

REPLOGLE S CELEBRATE WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Replogle celebrated their twentieth wedding anniversary Thursday evening in the dormitory.

All the girls in the dorm were invited to the occasion where delicious frosted angel food cake and grape punch were served. Both Mr. and Mrs. Replogle have been supremely happy in their married life and the guests wished them many more years of continued joy.
