MISS THOMPSON TALKS OF EUROPEAN TOUR

Miss Henrietta Thompson spoke to the assembly during the chapel hour Tuesday morning. Miss Thompson is the International Student Secretary of the World Student Christian Federation.

Dean Hoover made a few announcements at the opening of the service. Myrtice Butterbaugh led a short song service, after which Professor Hoover offered prayer.

Last summer Miss Thompson accompanied a group of twelve girls to Europe to study student conditions. Miss Thompson gave a very interesting talk on the new impression the girls received from their European tour.

The travelers first gained an entirely new concept of history. For example, when they visited Hamilton Court, they discovered that Henry VIII. had been an important patron of art and literature. They visited some of the colleges founded by Henry VIII. While in Europe, the visitors saw war in a new light. In the museums they saw room after room filled with all kinds of war implements, as well as other souvenirs of battles. These souvenirs are kept, not to magnify the military prowess of the nation, but as a symbol that those things are in the past, never to be indulged in again.

From their European travels the tourists got a new view of the race question. In Europe the racial struggle is over creed, whereas in our own country it is over the color line.

In conclusion, Miss Thompson told about the impressions of Czechoslovakia. Although the people in that country are very poor and have a hard time, their students are very energetic and eager to get acquainted with the students of other countries. It is only through acquaintance and knowledge that peace may be made permanent and real.

SOPHS ENTERTAIN STUDENT BODY

The long-awaited Sophomore program was presented Friday morning to an expectant audience.

A quartet composed of Kenneth Deardorff, Leslie DeHart, Dan Stover and Vernon Heckman rendered a comic number. A short comedy of one act, "What They Think," was then presented. The cast consisted of four characters, which were Mamma Smith, Papa Smith, and Josie and Bobby Smith, their children. These parts were assumed by Daisy Johnson, Chuck Manning, Frances Bishop and John Kindy.

The story centered around the activities of an American family, the members of which could not get along together on account of constant disagreements between the father and the mother in regard to the raising of their young folks. The father had no sympathy with the younger generation and with their ideas of open frankness which dominated their doings. The particular scene and time which demonstrates these situations occurs in the Smith living room at 3 a. m. when Josie is just getting home from an evening of her kind of fun, which is so ab-

COLLEGE ORCHESTRA BEGINS PRACTICE

A college orchestra has been organized this year under the direction of Professor Travis, and although the group is small, some very talented musicians are members of it.

Each Monday evening from 7 to 8 o'clock the orchestra has been practicing, learning selections which they will give at a student assembly some time in the near future.

The following students have been practicing with the orchestra or have expressed a desire to be in it:

LaVonne Putnam, Doyle Montz, Russell Frantz, Orville Thomason, Ronald Williams, Elbert Ebersole, Edith Coffman, Anita Bowman, Flossie Page, Daniel Stover.

Esther Thomason, pianist.
Professor Travis, director.

The students of the college will anxiously await the first appearance of the newly organized college orchestra. The people in the orchestra have shown splendid school spirit by their co-operation in this way.

FROSH FOOTBALL RECORD SUPERIOR

It is not known definitely whether the frosh have finished their football season, but they will probably play at least one more game. The pea-greeners have tentative games with Chino Hi, Pomona Hi and Cal-Christian frosh. A game for Thanksgiving Day is expected to be scheduled soon.

The Frosh have made an excellent showing this year in games so far, having tied the Sherman Indians, beat Cal-Tech frosh 7-0, won from Cal Prep 26-0, and lost a close game to Bonita 7-6.

STUDENT VOLUNTEERS CONDUCT PRAYER MEETING

Instead of a regular meeting, the Volunteers conducted the mid-week prayer service at the local Church of the Brethren last week. This was a new undertaking for group, but was enjoyed by all present, for it afforded an opportunity for fellowship with many of the older people in our midst, unlike that obtained in other ways.

The theme for the evening was the Joy of Christian Living. After a beautiful prelude by Grace Gockley at the organ, Miriam Murray led the congregation in a short song service. Devotions, which were led by Martha Baer, included a response, "The Lord is in His Holy Temple," sung by a quartet composed of Lois Rupert, May Chronister, Marvin Bollinger and Vernon Heckman.

Hazel Rothrock, who presided over the meeting, opened the discussion and personal testimony centering around the theme which was divided into three phases, the Joy of Salvation, of Fellowship, and of Service. Many worth-while things were gleaned from the various talks, creating in each one a renewed spirit of gladness and thanksgiving for the blessings which are ours.

At the close, Dr. Emmert led in sentence prayers which were followed by another response, "Send Out Thy Light," sung by the same quartet.

STUDENT PROGRAM AT MIDNITE MISSION

One of the largest crowds that has ever gone to Midnight Mission attended Thursday evening, November 14, and put on a program of two hours duration, from 8 to 10 p. m., for the entertainment of those who frequent the mission. Although not all of the group were college representatives, the majority of the forty-seven persons attending were delegates from LaVerne College.

Glenn Harmon, who was in charge of the program, had a varied and interesting group of numbers to offer, consisting of instrumental and vocal selections. The program was interspersed by congregational singing which was led by Pearl Niswander and accompanied by Mary Throne at the piano. Chalmer Faw led the devotions.

Those who participated in the presentation of the program were: Mary Throne, Pearl Niswander, May Chronister, Geneva Suttle, Hazel Barnhart, Molly Warrington, Vena and Sylvia DeHart, Vernon Heckman, Glenn Harmon, Chalmer Faw, Dr. Emmert, Albert Gnagy, Clarence Brubaker and Joe Cosner.

The evening meal was served at 10 o'clock and a warm invitation was extended to the entertainers to dine at the common board. A number of the group gratefully accepted the proffered hospitality.

It was stated that the only thing which marred the evening was the absence of Brother Tom, who is traveling in Europe and Palestine. He is expected to return, however, about December 15th.

Harison Frantz, field representative of the college, recently spent a week among churches of northern California, traveling as far north as Modesto. He solicited funds for the New Era banquet to be held February 6 during Bible Institute. The plans for this year are different than the ticket system formerly used, and if successful will be the means of canceling the present deficit of $15,000.

JUNIORS PRODUCE LIVELY COMEDY

A real surprise is coming to thrill and to make you laugh. This feature is the greatest present interest at the college, namely the Junior Class Play, entitled, "Vanity." The type of this play is one which will satisfy and be enjoyed by everyone. It has been chosen to suit the expectations of young and old as a good entertainment. Every effort is now being directed by the various members of the cast and by the competent director, Mrs. B.S. Haugh, to add the finishing touches for the best and most successful Junior Play ever presented at LaVerne College. A continued increase of interest is evident at the college to boost this event.

The actual presentation will take place Tuesday evening, Nov. 26, at LaVerne College auditorium. Tickets are now being printed and will be on sale at Herr's Drug Store and seats will be reserved there.

FOOTBALL BANQUET NOV. 23

It is the hope of the students that the football banquet will partially demonstrate to the varsity players how much their tireless efforts and loyal co-operation have been appreciated. The banquet is to be held Saturday evening at 7:00 o'clock in Miller Hall.

A continuous program of vocal and instrumental selections and appreciation speeches will be presented during the progress of the banquet, and toasts and jokes will not be lacking with Ray Cullen in the position of toastmaster.

The entire school group is invited to attend this affair, which is expected to be as great or greater this year than in former years; and furthermore, each attendant may bring his friends. It might be well to mention just incidentally that the charges will be a dollar per plate.

Every big success is necessarily a result of good management, and the football banquet will surely be one, since the following managers have been chosen with this end in view: Dale Stutzman, publicity; Catherine Crist, program; Viola Smith, menu; Mary Hollinger, waitresses; Vivienne Wyne and Neva Snell, dishes; Eleanor Maryott, favors; Ruth Dickey, printed programs and place cards; Mary Throne, decorations, and Ruth Gregory, tables.

Special Biological Research Work

Professor Hollenberg of the Biology Department is making an extensive study of one of the marine algae, the Halicystis, and seeking to classify properly this tiny marine plant. He began the study last summer at Pacific Grove, where is located the marine station of Stanford University, and has as his end in view the writing of his doctor's thesis. Numerous drawings have been made; some delving into German writings, the only full data on the plant, has been necessary; and just now considerable difficulty is being experienced in getting satisfactory microscopic slides. Fifty of these have been made, whereas ten is a sufficient number in most instances, Profes-

DR. DEXTER SPEAKS ON "PEACE"

The chapel period last Thursday was very interesting and beneficial. Dr. Dexter, president of Whittier College, conducted devotions and spoke on the subject of "Peace." Miss Mina Throne sang "Recessional," which was very appropriate to the subject.

Whittier College and LaVerne have many ideals in common, and it was a pleasure to have such a fine speaker as Dr. Dexter visit the college. He stated that there is pleasure in cooperation between schools such as LaVerne and Whittier.

The main points in his address were: Is war inevitable, as often thought, and what is the task of the future?

War is not inherent in the human race and it should not be inevitable. There have always been wars, but that does not necessarily mean they must continue. From the earliest childhood people are taught, consciously or unconsciously, fighting in various ways. The trait of fighting is not inherited but taught. Social disorders are the results of many of these fighting habits.

The task of the future is to replace fear with confidence; supplant extreme prudence with adventure; and supplant the ambition of security with the ambition of service. The world must be educated to the idea of peace, not war. War should be demoralized through the schools and despiritualized through the churches. Just because war has always existed is no reason why it should continue to exist. It must be outlawed, and peace should be the inevitable. With co-operation on the part of the various nations of the world, the ideal of peace can be attained.

STUDENT VOLUNTEERS

The Student Volunteers are beginning work on the two plays which they are to present as their project this year. The plays which have been chosen are "The Heroine of Ava" and "Robert and Mary." Both center about the lives of missionaries in the foreign fields.

Chalmer Faw has been chosen manager of "The Heroine of Ava" and Alba Montgomery will coach it. The costuming is to be in the hands of Harriet Hoke and Chester Flory. Harry Thomas is in charge of properties. The cast is well organized and prepared for their first practice, which is to be held Tuesday evening, November 19.

The other play, "Robert and Mary," is to be directed by Doyle Montz. Marie Tingle is general manager, and Glenna Betz is chairman of the committee on costumes. This play will also hold its preliminary practice in the near future and soon be at work on regular rehearsals.

A JOB

Prof. Jamison: "My boy, your work has fallen down, and if you are going to pick it up you will have to step on it."

sor Hollenberg's study is very technical and concerns chiefly the physiology and reproduction of the plant. Of special interest is the fact that this is the first time such extensive and detailed study of the species has been made in America.

LET'S LOOK TOWARD THANKSGIVING

A week from Thursday is Thanksgiving Day. It will be the three hundred and eighth one since our country was founded by our Pilgrim Fathers. It was on this day that they offered up praise and thanks to our Creator for all the success and good things with which they had been blest. At this time they retraced the experiences of their past, gloried in the things of their present, and did not fail to look toward the future. Hard would it be for them to realize that in three hundred and eight years the nation which they were founding would be so thankless.

Yes, it is Thanksgiving Day to all of us in name, but to very few in real meaning. The most of us will just think about it as a day to eat and eat until our stomachs are gorged and our minds are clogged; just a day to celebrate a short vacation from school; just a day to go to the theater, football game or some other amusement; just a day when people have a good time and forget work. Why can't we have pride? Why do we so soon forget?

How are we going to do during this three hundred and eighth Thanksgiving Day—do like the average people do, or do something a little different?

Suppose we do the latter and give a few minutes of our time to the really sincere thought of the past, of the meaning of this day,—and see how much clearer our conscience will be when night comes. Let us make it a memory or impression on our minds that will leave a good taste, instead of a blot—a happy thought instead of a dark shadow.

WHAT ARE WE FIGHTING FOR

Hurry, hurry, everything is all in a flurry-scurry today. We all start out with a goal in view and a determination to reach it, with head held high and flying colors. We think we see the goal of attainment gleaming for just one stray moment over the horizon of life. But lo, one rift of clouds slips suddenly unhampered and unmercifully between, enveloping that gleaming signal with a shroud of mystery.

But why does that vision still cling and continue to tantalize us till with another struggle and brave attempt, after a time for rejuvenation, we brace our shoulder and say, "On, desire, on!" Then, strange to say, an added strength is given us, but when we see our goal a second time beckoning as a beacon light, we see the many rays of small possibilities which before we had overlooked. We had failed to see that those little intervening glimpses or small moments were after all the ones that count most and spread the most love, happiness and contentment.

So, in visualizing our goal we, the students of a striving, flourishing college, should meet our defeats and mistakes which are bound to eclipse our confidence for a time. But when in the far distance we see that ideal or shining goal beginning to dim and lose its lustre because of our lazy indifference, it is odd that something called "that old fighting spirit" becomes dominant and we raise another army with grit, spunk and bulldog determination to keep our ideal a shining, bright and glorious vision of happy delight. Now that football is over, we can turn our attention to basketball. LaVerne will have a good basketball team this year and should be well supported—this doesn't mean by the college alone, but also by the town at large. It is hard to support a losing team with all the enthusiasm that one does a winning team, but it could be done and in this way conditions could be improved.

The great American public has to see a team win if it is to give approval. They forget the fundamental aim of sport—the betterment of self regardless of winning. What the public needs is a little education along the lines of true sportsmanship. If the "wise guys" around LaVerne thought they were gaining popularity by their razzing attitude toward our team this year they were badly mistaken. Criticism of a constructive sort is welcome, but the everlasting asinine dumb cracks that one too often hears only show the lack of brains and breeding on the part of the speaker.

I played on the football team this year and I am proud of it. I never have been with a bunch of fellows that fought harder or more consistently.

By the way, the football banquet is to be held next Saturday night. This is one of the best social events of the year, so come and bring your lady friend or the lady friend of some one else.

In a late number of the Campus Times there appeared an article that reminded one of old times when the "sophisticated" element argued that the automobile would not be a success. I refer to the article on the "talkies." Now I figure that a man has a right to make rash statements, but I ask you, "S. A.," do you expect we, the students of LaVerne College to believe that "hokey"? Do you realize that if all of the race had been such skeptics as you seem to be that we would be that we would be crawling around on our hands and knees yet? Now, I warn you one thing to begin with, you won't make your success with your denial as Wilbur Glenn Voliva does with his that the world is flat. I've seen you around school and I have liked you and respected you and your wisdom, and now you have to make a great mistake and spoil it all. I was a little like you though, when I was a kid, so doubtless you will be all over that cynical stage in a year or two.

I suggest that you and Mr. Fox take up the subject and discuss it in full, as my time is too valuable, but in closing I might say that of course you are wrong.

I sometimes wonder just why the Y. M. C. A. should always be called upon to furnish the stage for the various plays that are put on here. The Y. M. C. A. has bought its furniture and furnished its room and likes to have is in presentable condition at all times, but this is not possible when the furnishings are continually being taken out.

I might ask what the matron would think if we went over and moved out her furniture to furnish a stage set. If the Y. W. C. A. was desecrated in a like manner we would not object so much.

The Y. M. C. A. cabinet decided last spring that the furnishings of the room were always welcome for anything to benefit the students as a whole, but that if the different organizations wanted to use any of the "Y's" property they should pay a just rental.

Furniture stores furnish stages for the advertising they get from them BUT THE Y. M. C. A. of LA VERNE COLLEGE DOES NOT NEED SUCH ADVERTISING. We have speakers come to "Y" every Monday morning and we would appreciate having enough of our chairs there to give them a decent impression. I may be considered a "radical" for writing such "heresy" but the "Y" would appreciate a little decent treatment along the aforementioned line.

horred by her strict father. Bobby meets her at the door telling her that she had better invent an alibi in a hurry as things had "come to a boil," meaning that her father had come to the end of his tolerance. Josie refuses to do so, but declares that she will tell the absolute truth, since there is nothing dishonorable about it. While they are talking, they hear their parents coming and hide. The parents have a long discussion in which the mother upholds her children, comparing their actions with those of her own young days. The father, on the other hand, condemns them, declaring that their conduct is questionable because of their mother's irresponsibility. Meanwhile Josie and Bobby are hearing this dialogue and use information gathered from it in a later meeting with their parents at which they announce their conclusion that since living in peace is impossible, divorce would be preferable to such unpleasantness.

The sophomores terminated their program by singing their class song which was entirely composed by Charles Manning.

Everyone agrees that Kenneth Deardorff showed his ability to superintend, in the results of his efforts.

THE OLD PROBLEM OF IMMIGRATION

Freshman boys are organizing a debating team. Future freshmen will become extinct in college if the freshmen of this year are not able to prove the legality of their existence in college.

This great issue which they are fighting is: "Resolved, that fresh-man immigration should be restricted."

The real question is: "Resolved, that Mexican immigration should be restricted."

Professor Brubaker in announcing that a debating team for freshman boys was to be organized and presenting the subject became confused and mistook freshmen for Mexicans.

Ed: "Onward, move onward, O time in your flight, and make the bell ring before I recite."

A.B.C.D.F. ANALYZED

Do you ever wonder as to the meaning of the letters which stand for grades? Here is what William DeWitt Hyde says:

A means you have grasped a subject; thought about it; reacted upon it; made it your own, so that you can give it out again with the stamp of your individual insight upon it.

B means that you have taken it in, and can give it out again in the same form in which it came to you. In details, what you say and write sounds like what the A man says and writes; but the words come from the book or the teacher, not from you. No B man can ever make a scholar; he will be a receiver rather than a giver; a creature rather than a creator to the end of his days.

C means the same as B, only that your second-hand information is partial and fragmentary, rather than complete.

D means that you have been exposed to a subject long enough and often enough to leave on the plate of your memory a few faint traces which the charity of the examiner is able to identify. Poor and pitiful as such an exhibition is, we allow a limited number of D's to count on a degree.

E means failure. Two E's bring a letter to your parents, stating that if the college were to allow you to remain longer, under the impression that you are getting an education, it would be receiving money under false pretenses.

FACULTY NEWS

Professor Travis played an organ solo in the Presbyterian church at Santa Ana Sunday evening. He also accompanied several numbers sung by members of the Aeolian Four during their program.

Miss Vera Hoover entertained a group of friends at a waffle supper in her home Sunday evening, November 10. Those present were Hester Cox, Evelyn Deardorff, Virginia Stern, Harold Stern, Cecil Huff and Chester Flory.

Miss Lenhardt attended a meeting of the Alliance Francaise Thursday evening in Los Angeles at the Artland Club Building.

Dr. Renaud of the University gave a lecture in French on the present economic status of France. The Alliance Francaise is a national organization of persons interested in France, and while Miss Lenhardt was teaching in Sioux City, Iowa, she was president of the local unit there.

Cullen Talks to Y. W.

"Why Have a Y?" was the interesting subject discussed by Professor Cullen at the Monday meeting of the Y. W. C. A.

He stressed the fact that any organization if it is to be worthwhile, must make a definite contribution, and the function of the Y. W. C. A. should be a co-ordinating agency taking part in all of the activities of the school. To accomplish its purpose, the "Y" must boost instead of knock.

Too often the meaning and significance of the letters Y. W. C. A. are forgotten, but Professor Cullen gave a good interpretation of them as follows:

Y stands for youth. It means that we are getting ready for service.

W stands for all that is embodied in the term "women's."

C means following the principles of Christ. The heart of the organization is left out if the "C" is not there.

A stands for association—a mingling with others. Our associations help in forming our personality.

In closing, suggestions for various types of inspiring programs for the association were made by the speaker.

Mrs. Ida Brubaker Gible and her husband and daughter of Monrovia spent Sunday with her brother, Prof. Crawford C. Brubaker. She is remembered as a former matron of the college.

Group singing of devotional songs was led by Myrtice Butterbaugh, and a violin solo, "Pas Des Fleures," was played by Anita Bowman.

This program served to stimulate thought which will later, no doubt, result in action for the improvement of the "Y."

WHITTIER DEFEATS LAVERNE 66-0

LaVerne lost the final game of the year to the Whittier outfit by a 66-0 score. This defeat ended about the worst football season in the history of the school as far as scores were concerned.

The Leopards started the game with a bang. After being downed on receiving the kick-off the local squad carried the ball for huge gains, with Hubbell, Root, Thomason and Weybright advancing the pigskin down to the Poet 26-yard line. At this point a fumble gave the Whittier squad the ball after it looked like a sure touchdown for LaVerne. From this time on the Quakers had everything their own way, threw passes right and left for big yardage, ran ends and hit the line for gain after gain and before the game was over Whittier put ten touchdowns over.

The line-up:

CONFERENCE NOTES

The race for the conference title is still up in the air, as Pomona and Oxy won their respective games. Tech was beaten by the Tigers, 27-0, and the Sagehens toppled San Diego 13-0. These two teams meet next Saturday with Oxy given a slight edge. This game will finish the conference schedule for both teams. Whittier and Redlands play next Saturday with San Diego and Cal-Tech, completing the standings on Thanksgiving Day.

It happened! That noble event on Monday afternoon, accompanied by the cheers and thrills of a large number of students. The mighty force of the Junior Girls' Basketball team collided with the Sophomore Girls' team.

At first the sophomores seemed happily to be gaining the score, and during the first quarter their faces were gleaming with pride at the score of 8 to 0 in their favor. What exquisite yells their bleachers did produce!

But steadily and surely the bold attempts of the stalwart junior team gripped the sophomores in their clutches, and at the end of the "half" the juniors were honored with a goal. Then, strengthened by the freshness of the football flavored H2-O which was speedily brought on hand by Edith Murrey and Martha Baer, soothed and encouraged by the capabilities of Coach Weybright, the juniors again resumed their duties to uphold their nobility against the sophomores.

Look! it is going in! Rey! "Vi!" Another basket for the juniors. "There is goes again!" By that time "Vi" was being cheered with shrills that rang the ears.

It was a bitter pill for the distressed sophomores to swallow. Every attempt seemed downed and unsuccessful. The last quarter was nearly over and not a goal had they gained since the first quarter. That downward tendency was in-

CLASS BASKET BALL STARTS WEDNESDAY

Interclass basket ball is in the limelight throughout the coming week and we hope it will settle which of the classes has the best material along the line of cage sport. Without a doubt the sophs and juniors will fight it out for the title.

The juniors have the same smooth-working combination that took the intra-mural games two years ago, and is composed of Weybright and Stutzman, forwards, Thomason at center and Nicolas and Hubbell, guards. On Wednesday afternoon the juniors meet the freshmen, and should win easily.

The sophs have an easy time when they meet the seniors just after the frosh-junior affair. The second year men have most of the combination that won the conference championship last year, but have a gap that is hard to fill in the center position. The soph team will probably be composed of Kindy and Deal as forwards; Weltty, center, with Heiser and Thomas as guards.

The seniors will have the hardest time of all, as they have only one man on the team who has ever played basket ball before. As yet the team has not been picked because no one knows who can play at what position. Dellenbach will play standing guard for the last year men, and the rest of the team will be chosen some time before the game starts. With only eight men in the class and only one who has played in team competition, the seniors have a very peculiar problem. However, the class of '30 might shine in some sort of movie inter-class affair.

The frosh are the dark horses, as is the usual custom for the intra-mural games. It is known that the class of '33 has several high school cage stars among its numbers and may pull an upset like the class of '31 did two years ago.

There is a wealth of basket ball material in the school and everyone will get a chance to see it in action at the intra-mural games on Wednesday and Thursday.

deed heart-breaking. Again both teams exerted terrific strength and skill for the final show. By those thrills from the junior bleachers as one goal after another was made, it was most evident that the fate of the sophomores was at last declared.

Bang! The end! Although a good game was played by both teams, the juniors are claiming the honor due to winning the score, 16 to 8 The junior championship team line-up is as follows:

Eddie Brubaker, guard
Myrtice Butterbaugh, guard
Esther Dickey, jumping center
Flossie Page, running center
Viola Smith, forward
Vivienne Wynne, guard
Frances Berg, forward
Sophomores:
Louise Griset, jumping center
Mildren Smith, running center
Mary Throne, Running center
Frances Bishop, Edith Roberts, forwards.
Ruth Gregory, Frances Sandblom, guards
Grace Brubaker, guard.

VARSITY BASKET BALL STARTS MON.

Varsity basket ball practice will start next Monday and Coach Van Cleave expects a big squad out for the initial workouts. With a big schedule ahead of them, the team will have to round into shape in a hurry, as some of the stronger teams are to be met before Christmas holidays. These include the Southwestern University team on December 7, and the U. C. L. A. Bruins on December 13. Both of these games will be played in the local pavilion.

At most of the positions there will be several fighting for a first string place. At forward, Weybright and Stutzman will fight it out with Kindy and Deal. At center, Thomason seems to have an edge over all others; at running guard, Root and Hubbell seem to be the main contenders, and Nicolas and Thomas will stage a battle for standing guard.

The complete schedule has not been made out but the following games are already booked, with some more to be scheduled for Christmas vacation.

December 7—Southwestern University, at LaVerne.

December 13—U. C. L. A., at LaVerne.

January 2—Cal-Christian, at LaVerne.

Jan. 7—L. A. Olympic Club, at LaVerne.

Jan. 11—LaVerne at Whittier.

Jan. 17—Redlands at LaVerne.

Jan. 18—LaVerne at Redlands.

Jan. 25—Occidental at LaVerne.

Feb. 8—LaVerne at Cal-Tech.

Feb. 14 and 15—San Diego at LaVerne.

Feb. 22—Santa Barbara State (where played to be decided).

March 1—Pomona at LaVerne.

OXFORD-POMONA DEBATE ATTRACTS LA VERNE-ITES

Professor Brubaker, Professor Jamison, Neva Snell, Vivienne Wynne and Opal Kuns attended the Oxford Pomona debate last Thursday evening at Pomona.

The question was, "Resolved, that this is the best of all possible worlds." The affirmative was upheld by Pomona, while the Oxford team argued the pessimistic side of the question.

The brilliant wit and humor of the Oxford men certainly demolished the old theory that an Englishman can't see a joke. Pomona met their dark arguments point by point, and did their best to cheer the Englishmen up.

No decision was made. The audience, however, was very optimistic because it was generally felt that the Oxford-Pomona forensic battle was "the best of all possible debates."
