LEOPARDS SPLIT
SERIES WITH AZTECS
LEOPARDS SHOW REAL
FIGHT IN FINAL GAMES

The Leopard varsity closed the 1932 basket ball season by dividing their two game series with San Diego, conference leading team who was previously undefeated. LaVerne took the first game from the Aztecs by a 29 to 25 score and dropped the second when San Diego scored the winning goal with only ten seconds to play.

Playing the best game they have shown since early in the season, the Leopards took the measure of the Aztecs in the first contest. Coach Elsan again tried a new starting line-up with Snell and Calvert forwards, Forney, center; and Welty and Jones, guards. Having tall men back under the basket helped to prevent Tucker, lengthy Aztec center, from sinking many dump shots. The LaVerne team played a consistent game throughout and the score was always close. The Leopards started off with a bang and took a 6 to 3 lead as Snell and Calvert came through to score from under the basket. LaVerne maintained a 4-point lead until well along in the first period when Tucker, San Diego center, piled up several points and the half closed with the Aztecs leading 15 to 13. LaVerne evened the count soon after the second half opened but the Leopards were not to be denied and soon began to forge ahead, holding the lead until the final gun closed the game, with the Leopards out in front 29 to 25.

The Leopards had their eyes on the basket much better than in the Oxy games, Forney, Snell, and Montgomery all making some nice shots. Snell

PROF. MERRITT GIVES LECTURE ON ART

Prof. Merritt gave a very interesting illustrated lecture on art appreciation in Thursday's chapel period. The purpose of the lecture was primarily to give an idea of the composition and fundamental characteristics of truly great art. These factors are: Proper shading, alignment, balance, and a degree of deviation from exactly reproducing the original.

Several famous masterpieces were shown and brief explanations concerning the qualities that make them great were given.

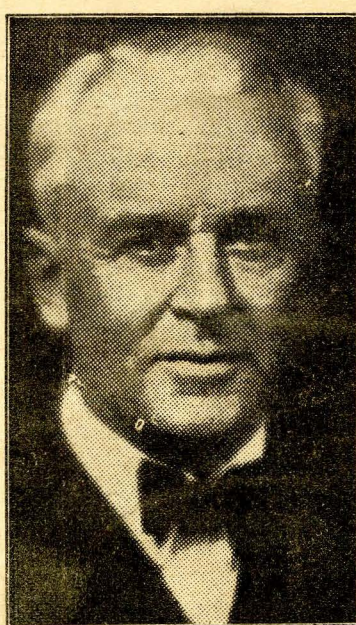

DR. GRIBBEL TO SPEAK AT BRETHREN CHURCH

Dr. Gribbel, returned missionary from Africa, will speak at the First Brethren Church, corner of Third and E streets, at 7:30 Wednesday evening.

Dr. Gribbel and her husband opened the Brethren Ubange Shari field in the heart of Africa. She has spent nearly half of her life with the black men and is certain to have something of interest to all.

THURSDAY CHAPEL

Mrs. A. J. Neison, contralto singer, from Upland will entertain us with a recital in Thursday chapel this week.

DR. ROBERT A. MILLIKAN

DR. BAXTER GIVES WASHINGTON ADDRESS

Doctor Bruce Baxter, Dean of the School of Religion, U. S. C., spoke in a patriotic meeting held in the college auditorium Monday evening, Feb. 22, in commemoration of Washington.

Dr. Baxter reviewed Washington's early life and told several interesting facts about his career. He summed up his speech by saying that one great word told why Washington was a great man — "character." Washington had a simple faith in God throughout his entire life. At a high age he wrote a book of prayers. In the army, in the absence of a chaplain, he conducted religious services. After the war he farmed. He owned one of the greatest plantations in the colonies and maintained a large group of slaves. However, he treated them as he would like to be treated. When Washington came near to death he said, "I know I am dying, but I thank God I am not afraid to die."

TWO SPEAKERS GIVE ADDRESSES IN CHAPEL

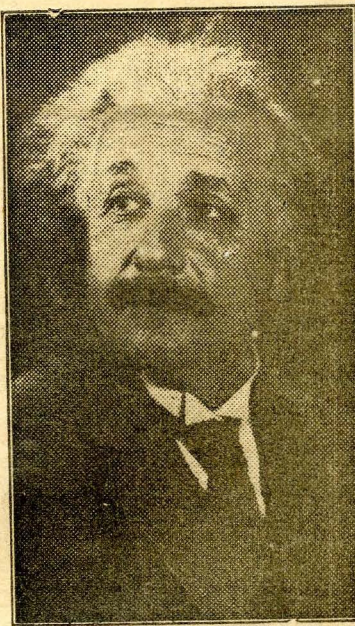

Two very interesting speakers were heard in chapel Tuesday: Byron Untiedt, boy hero of the Colorado bus tragedy, and Dr. Davis, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church in Pomona.

Byron Untiedt spoke for a few minutes concerning his experience, and said that he only did his duty as he saw it, and as best he knew how. It is his belief that any dependable American boy would have done the same under the circumstances.

Dr. Davis gave an unusual address on Abraham Lincoln. He sketched Lincoln's character in a unique manner and compared the apparent failure of his early life with the great success that followed. He stressed those qualities that Lincoln possessed, such as honesty, courage, determination, strength of will, humor, pathos, love of his fellow men, and an unshakable faith in God.

If television isn't working, how does a powerful station near the one you are enjoying know you are in the bathtub?

Of course, the righteous are rewarded here and now. Look how many children are awarded to the preacher.

BEARD, MILLIKAN ALSO TO SPEAK

Climaxing previous student world peace discussions and marking the most comprehensive attempt toward an understanding of world events ever inaugurated by students, Southern California college students will conduct a "Program in the Interest of Public Opinion" in the new Pasadena Civic Auditorium on Saturday night, February 27, at 8:15 o'clock. Dr. Charles A. Beard, Dr. Robert A. Millikan, and Prof. Albert Einstein are the internationally known figures who will be featured on the program. Dean McHenry, student body president at the University of California at Los Angeles, and prominently identified with international student movements, will represent the students' viewpoint on the program, in his talk on "The American Student and World Peace."

A 15-minute portion of the program will be broadcast over the Pacific coast area, from radio station KHJ, Los Angeles. The air program will be from 8:45 to 9 o'clock, Pacific standard time, and will include Prof. Einstein's speech in German, and the English translation delivered by Dr. William B. Munro of Caltech.

Dr. Millikan, chairman of the executive council of the California Institute of Technology, will strike the keynote of the program in his speech on "The Conditions of Peace," and will then introduce Prof. Einstein.

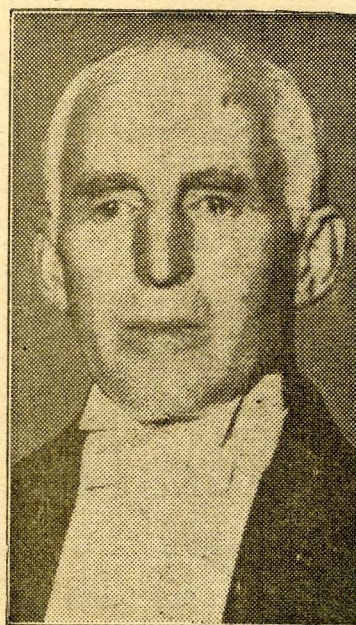

Prof. Einstein, a visiting scientist at Caltech, is greatly interested in the arousing of a public consciousness for peace and good government, and will speak on "Public Opinion" before the student gathering.

Dr. Charles A. Beard, a visiting professor at Caltech, will deliver the main address of the evening, on "National Policy and Armaments."

Dean McHenry's representation of the student attitude will be in the nature of a sequel to Prof. Einstein's speech on public opinion which will precede. McHenry will present the student viewpoint and interest in international affairs.

LAVERNE PLACES IN DEBATE TOURNNEY

LaVerne College debaters closed the debate season by taking second and third places in the Southern California Colleges Intercollegiate Public Speaking League Tourney held at California Christian College Friday and Saturday, February 19 and 20.

Cal-Christian and Whittier tied for first place in the men's division, Redlands and LaVerne tied for second, Caltech placed third, and Pasadena College fourth. In the women's division U. C. L. A. placed first, Redlands second, LaVerne third, and Cal-Christian fourth.

The LaVerne men's team was composed of Messrs. Orlin Vaniman and Robert Walker, affirmative, Chalmer Faw and Royal Glick, negative. LaVerne's affirmative team was the only team in the league that went straight through undefeated. The women's team was composed of Misses Virginia Scarisbrick and Helen Heisey, affirmative, Virginia Stern and Arnelia Brubaker, negative.

Coach Brubaker can well be proud of his teams and LaVerne proud of both as they had to meet some of the stiffest competition. In the men's division Redlands and Whittier were the strongest. The Whittier team had just returned from a tour in which they had had thirty-five practice debates.

The standings of the various entrants is as follows:

Men's Division
	W	L	%
Whittier	7	3	.700
Cal Christian	7	3	.700
LaVerne	6	4	.600
Redlands	6	4	.600
Caltech	4	6	.400
Pasadena	0	10	.000
Women's Division
	W	L	%
U. C. L. A.	6	0	1.000
Redlands	4	2	.666
LaVerne	2	4	.333
Cal Christian	0	6	.000

ture of a sequel to Prof. Einstein's speech on public opinion which will precede. McHenry will present the student viewpoint and interest in international affairs.

An endorsement of the program has been given by the honorable Frank B. Kellogg, former secretary of state, and co-author of the famous Kellogg-Briand Peace Pact.

CAMPUS TIMES GETS SHARE IN TICKET SALE

SUCCESS DEPENDS UPON TICKET SALES

Tonight is LaVerne night at the Sunkist Theatre. The main feature, Jack Holt in "Makers of Men," with Joan Marsh and Richard Comwell, is a football picture especially selected for this occasion. At additional cost to the theatre this play was chosen so as to be suitable to the students, to the administration, and to any one else who might go. The short subjects were also selected with great care and twenty-five minutes of the evening's program will be put on by LaVerne College talent, the Apollo Four. The price of admission is the usual 35 cents for each ticket.

Ticket sellers, this is the last chance you'll have to sell those tickets that you have. Let's make a special effort, a last great drive, this afternoon and sell every one and his lady friend a ticket. Sell them to high school students, to your brothers, sisters, parents, relatives, friends—yes, do your enemies a favor and sell them tickets too. The key word is "sell."

When this last big drive is over, let's not turn in our tickets and say, I could have sold there, but— Let us be inspired to greater efforts by the fact that we are doing something for ourselves in that our share of the proceeds goes into the financing of the Campus Times.

From now on until Tuesday night let our battle cry be "Remember LaVerne Night!"

ORATORICAL CONTESTS ARE OPEN TO STUDENTS

A new field of forensic activities will be open to students this semester—oratory—the noblest, the most eloquent type of public speaking.

Three contests are open to any student, the only requirement being a passing grade in twelve hours of work. The first contest is sponsored by the W. C. T. U. and will be held April 14th. The topic must be some phase of prohibition and a prize of $25 will be given the winner. To hold this contest it is necessary to have at least four contestants. Anyone who plans to try for the twenty-five is asked to turn his or her name in to Mrs. Haugh by March 1st.

The annual Keiser Oratorical Contest is to be held April 21. The choice of topics is open but is limited to be-12 to 15 hundred words. First prize is $8, second prize $5, and third prize $3.

The third contest is one that is held annually, but comes to LaVerne only once every six years. It is the oratorical contest sponsored by the Southern California Intercollegiate Public Speaking Conference, of which LaVerne is a member. The contest will be held at LaVerne this year, Thursday evening, April 28. Any man in school is eligible to represent LaVerne in this contest. There is also a Conference Contest for the women, the time and place being undecided as yet.

Mrs. Haugh will gladly coach all contestants and will select a man and a woman to represent LaVerne in

SOCIAL PARLORS

If you remember, there were several public spirited students around the institution a short time ago who agitated a movement for the equipping of the so-called social parlor for the purpose of really being a social hall. To further the cause, President Studebaker donated an excellent ping pong table. Interest has been running high in this noble game, but what has been done to make the hall any more attractive? As far as I have been able to see the chairs have been piled up in one corner and make an excellent place to lose a ball. Coach said we could pile those gol danged chairs out in the gym on the stage. That is a good suggestion and I move that someone take action on the matter. I suppose it was a little too much work to lift the puppet stage up on top of the rooms back stage, where everything else is stored, so it was carried down in the social parlor, I mean ping pong room. The puppet stage wouldn't be so bad if the kind hearted fellows who carried it down there had placed it in a decent place. At least it would be nice to look at the front of it and it might be used to cover up some of the disagreeable things down there that can't be removed, such as the stove.

"A man is just what he is in the dark." That is just what I think of some of those who are always saying what should be done but never take the initiative and do something. There are several students around here who have no great amount to do in student activities. Why can't they take it upon themselves to tidy up that room and make an attractive lounging room? Those who are all the time making suggestions when others are around are the ones who sit back and let the other fellow do things. Come on, get the thrill out of doing things once in a while. Show others that you have the stuff in you that will make you like you and give you the name for being original. If we are going to have a recreation hall in the so-called social parlor let us have a commendable one.

THE INK WELL

BOOKS

You ask if the Ink Well has gone dry? No, it has been merely shoved back on the desk awhile, recuperating a bit, and getting a new mixture of ink. Come, then, pull up a chair, and let's have a chat about an old, old subject. Even though it does sound "dry," maybe we can yet squeeze a little juice out of it.

Books are canned life. When a man feels that something he has experienced or learned is indispuensible to the generations to come, he takes that life-truth and boils it down for canning. (Some, of course, quit boiling too soon—their products are bulky and hard to digest). Then he takes the concentrated mind—or heart-food (which ever it is)—and seals it up in a neat little container for world consumption. This we call a book. If it has a catchy flavor and is spiced to suit the public taste, it may become a "best seller" and adorn the shelf of every book-lover in the country, (depression victims excepted). Then, in time, if it survives without becoming too moldy or flavorless, it is dubbed a "classic" and is poured down the gaping throats of each successive generation.

Like all canned goods, books constitute a vast store of food, and fortunate is the man whose cellar is full of them, when life's wintry days come. They represent the best mind-action and heart-blood of all the centuries. Years of toil and hours of agonizing study lie back of them. Dig deep into their treasures and imbibe from their contents the essence of all the good that has gone before, skilfully prepared by masters. The varieties are limitless and the supply is inexhaustible. Taste and learn.

Then, sometime, after you have pried into enough of these "canned lives" and have learned all they can teach you, do a little canning of your own; that is, if you just can't keep from it.

THE SPY GLASS

Dan Stover missed class the other day because of illness. All the shades of the house were drawn to encourage the soothing touch of darkness. However, strains of piano music were heard without which sounded precisely "Stoverish." Probably Vernon Heckman!

Imagine the "unique" sensations Helen Heisey, Evelyn Wine and Virginia Scarisbrick must have experienced when they found themselves in the Men's Dorm at Cal-Christian instead of "Room 21." The fellows enjoyed their embarrassed consternation!

Russell Frantz has introduced a bit o' "gala" atmosphere to the L. V. C. hall. This attraction should draw the little snapshots thither.

He had it all rolled up in the fold of the sweater he was wearing; he exchanged "knowing" looks with the lad sitting in the next chapel row; he shifted uneasily as the lecturer stressed "goodness" and "upright" young men—did this young culprit of the little firecracker explosion in the hall recently.

The "Spy Glass" cannot find May Fickel about the campus. Do you suppose she is really "keeping house?"

EDITORIALS and FEATURES

EXCHANGES

Although given a choice of classic and current authors, the freshmen choose contemporary writers almost without exception and seem to enjoy the realistic style of treatment more than the romantic. It is interesting to note that more J. C. men choose books of the romantic school and that the majority of the women reviewed the realistic. Are women becoming too matter-of-fact?—Citrus Acid.

LILY KARDOS TO LEAD IN NEXT PASADENA PLAY

Remembered for her outstanding performance as Lily Kardos in the stage production of "The Song of Songs," Maude Fealy, noted actress of the stage in England and America will play the role of Mary Tudor in a Lavish revival of "When Knighthood Was in Flower," Paul Kester's dramatization of the famous novel of the 90's by Charles Major.

Students of English history, the drama, art, and costume designing, will find in the play, "When Knighthood Was in Flower" items of great interest and educational value in addition to the splendid evening of entertainment afforded by this play which brings back the rich period of romance and adventure of King Henry VIII of England and Mary Tudor, his rebellious daughter. The time is 1513, when knights were bold and ladies fair and when the brave not only deserved the fair but saw to it that they won their sweethearts even at the point of the sword.

SPASMS

The following letter has come to me anonymously from some one's darling daughter. Not having any children attending this school, I will return it to the author, or mail it to any place in these United States free of charge.

Dearest Mother: Do you remember, mother, that I wrote you how unsocial the men are here at LaVerne, that they don't date much, and they go around looking like farmers? But in spite of the way they dress, some of them are really awfully nice. Well, the Y. W. has started a 50-50 club here. You know, mother, I told you all about it, the boys and girls dividing the expenses of a date. We thought, because of the depression, or whatever their excuse is, the men would be able to go out oftener with this plan than before. And you can have so much more fun and go more places with boys than with a lot of girls, anyway. Besides, this school is supposed to be a matrimonial bureau, but some of us haven't been able to get very well acquainted with any of the men yet. So I was thinking, mother dear, if you could get father to increase my allowance a little, for books or something, I could help these unsocial men by giving them a chance to go out more. Another advantage is that a girl would not be under any obligation to her date if she paid her own way, and she could ask whomever she wanted, and some of these men are really awfully cute. I just know you would like them, mother.

Please see what you can do about father, because school won't last much longer and there are some senior men that I just know aren't happy.

Your loving daughter,

"REDEMPTION" TO BE PRESENTED AT PADUA

"Redemption," Count Leo Tolstoy's classic drama, has been announced as the sixth production of the Claremont Community Players' current season, it was learned today from Mary C. Blaisdell, Players' director. The famous play, which is sometimes known as "The Living Corpse," will be presented March 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5, with a matinee March 5, at the Little Theatre in Padua Hills.

Eleven of the forty characters required for the colorful production have already been cast. Francis W. Shaw will play the role of Feyda which was done by John Barrymore in New York, and has since become, in the tradition of Hamlet and Macbeth, one of the most celebrated roles in the theatre. Others in the cast are Frieda Jaeger, Stuart Briggs, Helen R. Huggins, Henry Watermon, Eunice Judy, Sam Warren, Marjorie Allen, Hazel Nohavee, Fred Graesser and Richard Williams.

"Redemption" is considered the greatest dramatic work of the widely-read Tolstoy, author of "War and Peace" and "Anna Karenina," and according to Miss Blaisdell, will be the Players "piece de resistance" of the season.

MEOWS

Just as a change, suppose I leave off my usually clever comments and simply give the cold bare facts. And if you are especially interested to know the reason for this great burst of common sense, blame it on the weather.

1. "King George" celebrated his twenty-first birthday Sunday by taking Helen E. to Baldy.

2. Chet Gillette and Swihart were there with Frances and Ida.

3. Shepp returned to school all nicely sunburned after being at Big Pines.

4. What happened to the boys and girls' rooting section?

5. Bob Welty didn't get in until 5 a. m. Sunday morning.

6. Cleo and Arno are also showing sunburned faces.

8. There was a waffle supper after the game at Vera May's, Edith's and Mildred's place.

8. Hobbs Adams sported a good-looking blue sweater Monday.

9. Bob Walker and Bob Haris are going to play in the all Southern California College Symphony orchestra which gives its annual program at Santa Barbara on March 1st.

INTERCLASS MEET
TO BE HELD MARCH 1

The annual interclass track meet will be held March 1 on LaVerne's track and football field. Each class should have all their fellows out there the rest of this week to practice and find out what they can do, in order that there will be plenty of competition and fun next Tuesday afternoon. The main events will be the 100 yard, 220 yard, 440 yard, and mile runs. The field events will be the broad jump, high jump, pole vault, discus, shot put and javelin.
As there is not going to be any baseball team, except those who just want to play, there should be a good turn out for track for both the frosh and varsity.

There will be several dual meets scheduled in which the frosh will work with the varsity. Then on April 15, the frosh conference track meet will be held. Last year only six frosh went to the frosh track meet and they brought home quite a number of points. This year there is again some good frosh material. They should place in some events.
On April 16, the varsity track meet in which all the colleges of the conference will take part, will be held at the Coliseum. Last year only two men entered, but this year there should be a much larger group go to this meet and bring home some points.

Come on, all you fellows, and put some pep into this inter-class meet, and then stay out and get in the other meets.

CO-ED TEAM LOSES
TO COVINA 16-21

Coach Bessey's co-ed basket ball team's hopes for the championship of the Civic League are not so bright after a 16-21 defeat by the Covina Alumni Friday. Both Covina and the Presbyterians have won every game played so far.

Next Friday night LaVerne meets Throne's, by far the weakest team in the league. The week following the co-eds play the Presbyterians, champions of last year, in what is expected to be a game worth seeing.

The line-up for the Covina game was: Forwards, Lehman, Warrington, Blickenstaff; center, Strate; guards, Roberts, Rule, I. Sheller.

If the fates have decided to destroy this civilization they've probably been reading the new popular songs.

Weybright; San Diego: Wells (2),
Bostron (2).

The second game was rougher and faster than the first, and San Diego, fighting hard to overcome the Leopard lead, succeeded in tying the score before the final gun. The Leopards again took the lead in the overtime period but in the intense excitement they muffed a couple of passes with the result that San Diego scored a set up and won by one point, 29 to 28.

With the starting whistle both teams began a battle which brought the spectators to their feet often, cheering wildly. The Leopards again got the lead at the start and played one or two points ahead until the half closed with LaVerne leading 12 to 11. The excitement of the crowd was reflected in the playing of the teams on the floor, as players on both sides were over eager. As the play became fast, the fouling increased, and before the game was over three LaVerne men and two San Diego players were out on fouls.

On the first play of the second half San Diego scored a field goal to take the lead for the first time. However, the Leopards got hot and scored several field goals to take a 22 to 16 lead. San Diego then gradually crept up and evened the score at 25 all as the game ended. With a foul throw and a field goal LaVerne took a three point lead in the overtime period. The fans went wild, but soon suffered disappointment as the Aztecs scored two foul tries and then, with ten seconds to play, secured the ball on a bad pass and scored with no one near to interfere.

Both teams played great games, although the play was rough and at times ragged due to the players becoming excited. Forney played a good floor game and was high scorer for LaVerne with 10 points. Tucker of San Diego scored 10 also, while Miles, Aztec forward, was close behind with 9. Snell was way off his usual form in shooting and failed to sink a field goal, his five points being scored on foul shots. He played a great floor game, however, as well as the other members of the team. Wilson, who replaced Forney at center, showed his usual speed and scored two field goals during his stay in the game. Welty and Jones were both working good under the basket on the defense and were getting the ball out nicely. San Diego attempted many more shots than LaVerne, but luck was not with them most of the time.

The line-ups:
LaVerne 28 San Diego 29
Snell (5) F Miles (9)
Calvert (5) F Linkletter (8)
Forney (10) C Tucker (10)
Jones G Clarkson
Welty (4) G Brown
LaVerne subs: Brooks, Montgomery,

SO. CALIF. RELAYS TO BE RUN OFF FEB. 27

The second annual Southern California College Relays will be run off Saturday, Feb. 27. Patterson Field, located at Occidental College, Eagle Rock, will be the scene of the track and field festivities. The field events will get under way at ten o'clock, when the strong arm athletes exhibit their ability to heave the shotput to qualify for the finals at 1:45 in the afternoon. The track events are initiated into the schedule at 1:30, with the 100 yard J. C. Novice heats, the finals of which will be run off at 2:35.

LaVerne College should have a good representation in this track and field event. It not only affords keen competition, as the Junior Colleges in Southern California are also eligible as well as the Southern Conference colleges, but will also give the inexperienced, as well as the veterans, an opportunity for practice in preparation for the Southern California Conference track and field meet to be held in April.

Awards will be given to the winners in their respective events. An official medal with a stamp of the design is placed on file with the J. A. Meyers Company, of Los Angeles. There will be three sets for each relay event, one gold, one silver, and one bronze, and five individual medals for each open event.

SURPRISE PARTY GIVEN PROF. TRAVIS

After choir practice last Thursday evening a group of forty people met in Fellowship Hall to surprise Ralph Travis.

Ralph was asked to practice with Mrs. Arnold at eight o'clock at Fellowship Hall, and when he arrived the choir guests were all awaiting him with "Happy Birthday." They realized that his birthday was a month ago, but not wanting to allow any such event to slip by unnoticed, decided to surprise him anyway.

The choir presented him with a new watch, after which Glenna Betz and Ethel Drescher introduced a number of very interesting games.

Refreshments of hot chocolate and angel food cake were served. Then Mr. Travis very generously cut his birthday cake, which was decorated with "7-32," and passed it to all the guests to help enjoy.

SOPHOMORES TO HAVE PARTY FEBRUARY 29

February 29 is the date set for the Sophomore Leap Year party.

This affair is to be a theatre party, probably at the Sunkist Theatre in Pomona, although as yet no definite arrangements have been made.

A country is safe so long as every great man's conscience is troubled by injustice and wrong outside his own district.

FROSH HAVE YEAP YEAR PARTY IN MOUNTAINS

The Freshman Leap Year party was held last Thursday night, Feb. 18, at the Y. M. C. A. cabin in San Gabriel canyon.

It was a beautiful moonlight night and flashlights were not needed to find the trail to the cabin. Every one arrived at the cabin making noise as only Freshmen can. It took time to build a fire and then the party began with an accordion solo given by Carr Deitz, Joyce's brother. During the evening he played several selections, using both a small accordion and a large Italian model. And you should have heard Jones sing! It was marvelous!

Betty Shaffer, in charge of the social committee, provided interesting entertainment in the way of games. Refreshments consisting of tamale pie, chili beans, pumpkin pie and hot chocolate kept the Freshmen busy for three-quarters of an hour.

To the tune of "Home, Sweet Home," most of the group started down the trail; the others stayed to clean up the cabin and when they arrived in LaVerne went up to Brandt's to wash the dishes.

In spite of the rainy weather there were nineteen couples present, so the girls are to be congratulated on their dating.

STUDENT VOLUNTEERS HOLD WEEKLY MEETING

The Student Volunteers held their regular meeting last week at the home of Rev. Walker. The theme of the program was "Appreciation of Nature." The devotions expressed the influence of nature on man's relations to God. "Bob" and June Walker gave several musical numbers and Cleo Beery led the group in thinking of the challenge nature makes to man.

Yet here and there you find people who squander their money for meat and bread when they haven't a dog to their name.

Because the co-eds of Oakland Tech are allowed on the campus stockless, a group of boys have organized an anti-shirt club.

CALENDAR

Tues., Feb. 23—L. V. C. Night at Sunkist Theatre.

Wed., Feb. 24—Student Volunteers.

Thursday, Feb. 25—Chapel; Contralto soloist from Upland.

Recital, Greene's pupils, in auditorium.

Mon., Feb. 29.—Soph party.

Tues., Mar. 1—District Young People's Banquet at Glendora.

SOPHOMORES ENTERTAIN AT STUDENT MEETING

Both business and pleasure were combined in the student body assembly Friday morning.

Jerry Deal read several proposed amendments to the constitution which will move the primary election of student officers from the last to the first Tuesday in April and will award script "L's" for achievement in the minor sports, and will make swimming a minor sport.

These amendments will be voted upon at the next student body meeting.

After this business the meeting was turned over to George Weybright, who presided while the sophomores entertained. The students enjoyed the piano duets of Elizabeth Lehman and Edith Flory immensely and it was a great treat, too, to hear Edith Eisan sing so charmingly. Grace Gans interpreted the reading, "My Sister's Best Friend," very characteristically in the role of a little sister, as frequent laughter and smiles indicated.

Y. W. C. A. TO ELECT OFFICERS FRIDAY

Officers for the Y. W. C. A. will be elected at the regular meeting of the association next Friday.

The candidates, as chosen by the nominating committee, are:

President—Mary Hollinger and Elizabeth Lehman.

Vice-President—Frances Saylor and Virginia Searisbrick.

Secretary—Kathryn Blickenstaff, Helen Heisey, and Anna Messamer.

Treasurer—Edna Samson, Eleanor Shepp, and Evelyn Wine.

Song leader—Edith Flory and Florence Mesamer.
