COLLEGE Y.M.C.A. ORGANIZED

For a long time it has been the opinion of most of the college men that La Verne was in need of a Y. M. C. A. Several of the fellows have realized this need very much after attending Asilomar, so not long afterward a meeting was held and a constitutional committee, composed of Howard Beckner Chm., D. Welch and C. Ernest Davis, was elected to draw up a constitution.

This constitution has been presented and at the last meeting it was accepted and officers were elected.

The purpose of this organization shall be:

1. To lead students to faith in God through Jesus Christ.
2. To lead them into membership and service in the Christian Church.
3. To promote their growth in faith and character especially through Bible study, as well as to stimulate well rounded development of body and mind.
4. To promote throughout the College a positive moral and religious spirit.
5. To challenge them (students) to devote themselves to united efforts with all Christians to making the will of God effective in human society and extending the kingdom of God throughout the world.

The following officers were elected: President, Chase Harper.

Secretary, Ernest Landis.
1st Vice Pres., Herman Moomaw, also Chm. of Meetings committee.

2nd Vice Pres., Walter Gilbert, Chm. Social Service committee.
Treasurer, Guy Jordan, Chm. of Membership and Social committee.

All the men members of the faculty are showing a great interest in the organization, and there is every reason to believe that it will be a live, peppy organization that will be a credit to dear old La Verne and a big step for her future.

SECOND SEMESTER DEPUTATION BEGINS

The Student Volunteers have arranged for a Deputation Team to make a second tour among the churches of Southern California. The team gave their first programs last Sunday, visiting Long Beach and Santa Ana. Following the theme of last semester's program, in which was given a vision of the needs of the home and foreign fields, the second semester theme is, "Why Stand Ye Here Idle?". The program given Sunday was as follows:

Scripture and Devotions, Byrl Harper, substituting for J. W. Fox, leader.

THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION BACKS ATHLETIC CAMPAIGN

It is highly gratifying to all that the Alumni of La Verne have definitely identified themselves with the movement toward a GREATER LA VERNE COLLEGE. The general effort toward this goal has been checked from time to time by uncontrollable conditions. The building fund campaign was handicapped by the unrest and uncertainty following the declaration of war. The gymnasium campaign was seriously affected by the general financial depression, which has also made it impossible for the Trustees to carry out further plans for building and campus improvement.

The time is here, however, for La Verne College to demand the attention of the friends of Christian education both near and far. This is being realized. It is significant that this effort of the Alumni comes as a supplement to the campaign for endowment now carried on by the Trustees of the College. It is necessary that our College grow altogether—that no progress be made in one line to the sacrifice or neglect of any other interest.

It need not be said that our campus should present a different appearance. It is self-evident; also that the plan for the immediate development of the athletic field will help to do this.

No one regrets the high standing of La Verne's athletic teams. This campaign only recognizes in a very substantial way, this fact. Its success will be an acknowledgment of the clean, wholesome record which our College has made in physical education, and will lend encouragement to the continuation of such a policy.

The plans of the Alumni Association for the development of the field in the way of a fence and bleachers have been endorsed by the Board of Trustees of the College. This effort is, therefore, a part of the movement toward a larger and better College.

The administration recognizes this and wishes to place itself on record as supporting the Alumni in this campaign. An improvement such as is contemplated means much to our College. Not infrequently the spirit of a college is estimated by visiting teams and their supporters, by the athletic facilities. The consummation of the proposed plan, which is the object of this solicitation, will be a joy not only to Alumni and students, but to the Faculty, Trustees and friends of La Verne College as well.

This is an opportunity for the Alumni to make a contribution not only to the material equipment, but to the perpetuation of the life and spirit of our Alma Mater.

—President Funderburgh.

Probably no group of individuals, aside from those immediately connected with the College, the Student Body, Faculty and the Trustees, are more intensely interested in La Verne College than those who were at one time students within her walls—the Alumni. Other people think of La Verne College in such general terms as a place for Christian education and the development of Christian life and character. But when an alumnus thinks of La Verne he thinks in terms of his own life. And that makes the welfare of the College a thing of vital concern to him.

The Alumni are not very many as yet. Neither do we represent a large amount of wealth. Obviously we cannot erect a building—and new buildings are badly needed. Neither can we raise a substantial endowment—and this is an absolute necessity. Others must supply these needs.

But we can show to the present Student Body in a very practical way that we are still interested in the same things they are interested in. In our day we felt the need for more and better athletic equipment, a well-built athletic field, with permanent bleachers, of which we could justly be proud. This need grows more urgent year after year. The Student Body must have it. Fellow Alumni, let's give it to them.

—Prof. Harper Frantz, Pres. Alumni Association.

There is perhaps no improvement that we are contemplating here at La Verne which will tend to advertise our College any more than a well equipped athletic field. At first we may be inclined to doubt this statement, but when we consider that it is on this part of the campus we meet practically all our friends who visit us from other institutions, we at once see how true it is. A well fenced athletic field, with a bordered track, a turfed football field, a turtle-backed baseball grounds, plenty of bleachers, and well equipped dressing rooms, make a lasting impression upon those who visit us.

From the coach's standpoint, there is nothing, outside of a splendid group of young men with which to work, that gives him any more confidence and enthusiasm than a well equipped athletic field. Having such, he feels a certain pride in entertaining other coaches with their teams. He feels at ease in handling large crowds at football games and track meets.

He finds it an easy matter to have secret football practice when necessary. And he gets a response and eagerness from his own teams that is impossible without this equipment.

We have the splendid group of young men. Now let us "go after" an athletic field, equipped second to none in Southern California. We believe we can do it; we know we can do it. How? By getting behind the Alumni and pushing for all we are worth, both in energy and money.

—Coach Arnett.

The campaign to improve our athletic field is to fill an imperative need at the present time. All of the Alumni and business men who have thus far expressed their opinion are in favor of the plan and most of them are willing to back it materially. By the next issue of the Times a definite statement as to the progress of the campaign will be given out. So far two of our Alumni have responded even before the definite call for contributions was made. All of the Alumni have now received letters and pledges, which no doubt they will respond to promptly. There is every reason to believe that this campaign will succeed—and it must succeed, with our loyal business men and Alumni backing it.

—John Price, Sec.

LAVERNE CLOSES BASKET BALL SEASON

The La Verne College basketball team has been very successful this year, having played fourteen games. Out of these ten were won, one tied, and the others lost. The games lost were to Redlands, Pomona and U. S. C. "Frosh." The locals also tied Pomona, 25-25. The high point man of the season was Dwight Welch, scoring a total of 155 points. Captain Beckner followed a close second with 152. The scoring was as follows:

Welch	155 points
Beckner	152 points

The Academy was also very successful, losing only one game this season, and that to Chino high school, an inferior team in every respect. They also defeated Long Beach high school, the largest high school in Southern California by a score of 26-23. They were second in their league. Out of nine games they scored a total of 269 points against their opponents 127. Wayne Bohn was high point man, with 74 points, while Kreps was second with 63. ## A JOLLY GOOD PICNIC

Hurray for the faculty! This generous group granted the students a holiday in honor of the birthday of George Washington's birthday and the student body preferred February 21. Some wanted to go to the beach, but they decided that anywhere the L. V.ites went they were bound for a good time because of L. V. C.'s jolly spirit.

By eight thirty students and faculty were within San Dimas canyon's gates, with the world's cares and joys outside. The morning was spent in playing games, making fires, etc., but the one big feature to work up their appetites for dinner was the baseball game, to which the faculty challenged the students. The faculty put up an amazingly good game and the students came out only a few points ahead. After the game there was one grand rush for the long tables by the stream. That dinner fairly made

THE X, Y, Z AFFAIR

The first Student Body program of the year is to be given by that division of the Student Body who have named themselves the X. Y. Z.'s. Since the proceeds are to be used to pay for this year's "Orange Blossom," every student in L. V. C. should be vitally interested. The bulk of the evening's entertainment is to be L. V. C. talent, which should be of interest both to students and the friends of the Student Body.

The speech of the evening, to be delivered by C. Ernest Davis, with all his knowledge, pep and enthusiasm, should be enough in itself to draw a crowd which would overflow the auditorium. But besides this number, readings, instrumental music, vocal music, a one-act play, and stunts are to be rendered in a practical and entertaining way, so that every person within a radius of many miles need have no fear in leaving their "tear-bottles" in a peaceful rest at home and departing in a receptive mood for the College Auditorium, seat themselves for the purpose of absorbing an evening of good, rich wholesome entertainment.

Altho there is no small amount of rivalry between the two divisions of the Student Body, no one person will ever know how much more delicious this program is to be than the one to be given a month later by the other group, unless he first samples the one Friday night. Therefore, students and members of the faculty, let's not sleep well until we have done everything within our power to make everyone acquainted with the facts of the matter and persuade them to be at the Auditorium early this coming Friday evening, March 9th, for the seating capacity is limited and our BEST friends must not be among the many who will surely have to be turned away, due to the lack of room. Remember the hour, which is 8 o'clock!

PRISONS RUNNING OVER

ARE YOU BOOSTING THE ENDOWMENT CAMPAIGN ?

Are you boosting it? What? The endowment campaign! At the present time a movement is on foot which should be of vital interest and concern to every student of La Verne College, and this movement is the campaign for a $150,000 endowment for our school. To put her on a safe and sure foundation La Verne must have this endowment and must have it soon.

A great measure of the success of this campaign will be due to the friends and trustees of the college, and especially to the man who is in charge of the work. Rev. Jacob Funk, from Pomona, is putting time and energy into the task of raising this money and has certainly done a wonderful work already. Our friends at the Leader office are helping us and things are starting off with a boom!

But the friends and trustees of La Verne College cannot put this campaign across without the good will and hearty, enthusiastic support of the entire student body. If we students do not show our interest how can we expect outsiders to work and give for us? People are watching us and notice when we do not attend meetings called in the interest of the campaign, for it is our school and the endowment will benefit no one so much as ourselves.

Students, why not put the pep into this undertaking that we show in our other school activities? Talk endowment campaign! Pray for the endowment campaign, for we need His help in this as well as other undertakings.

We as students do not have money to give, but we can create an interest and enthusiasm which will induce others to give. Let's get into it with might and main and make the clock go round!

"It's L. V.'s time
To begin to climb!"

"THE ONE IDEA MAN."

A speaker who addressed one of our college organizations recently said that the person who thinks of one idea to the relative exclusion of others is a fanatic. The one class to which we as college students do not wish to be assigned is that of the fanatics. The student who studies constantly and consequently has no time for athletics or social life is a one-idea man and a fanatic. In the same way, the person whose only interest is athletics or society is a fanatic. The all-around fellow is the fellow we want. The man who can meet people and be interested in what they are interested, and who is developed in the four important phases of character, is the one who is going to be a success. Have a hobby, but do not let it make you so narrow that you can see nothing else. Be interested in as many ideas as you can. Be broad-minded. The student whom La Verne wants is the one who stands for the four-square life, for through him only can we reach out and touch other lives and make our college the influence and power that it ought to be.

Mary—"Where's his tail?"
"Oh, that's still in the ink bottle."

A young man told his girl the other Sunday night that if she didn't marry him he'd get a rope and hang himself right in front of her house.
"Oh, please don't do it, dear," she cried, "you know father doesn't want you hanging around here."

DOUBLE BIRTHDAY DINNER AT BECKNER'S

Lucile Beckner and Martha Brubaker were hostesses at a delightful dinner party, Friday evening, February 23, at which they celebrated their birthdays, both of which occur the latter part of February. Several days before the event five of the boys received the following invitations:

"How real How real!
Martha and 'Cile.
You know they're relation,
So it's cooperation.
Poor Lucile, we're sorry to say,
Is rather scarce of a birthday,
So Martha dear, with a joyous laugh
Has agreed to share her equal half,
So come! Eat hearty
At their dinner party.
Come at six Friday evening.
We don't care when you leave.
Bring your best friend."

Needless to say, all were eager to accept. A delicious dinner was served to the guests seated at a table decorated in red and white. The idea of Washington's Birthday was carried out in the color scheme and red cherries were in evidence. The chicken and "fixins" were declared unsurpassed, and when the ice cream was served and the huge birthday cake brought in, even John, whose appetite is famous, was overwhelmed, and yet George rejoiced to find himself seated by a fair one who could not master her ice cream. The cake bore twenty-one candles, but Lucile was allowed to light only nineteen for herself. Both of the hostesses made desperate efforts to extinguish every one, but both failed the first time. However, the future may not depend totally on those two little candles. The remainder of the evening was spent by the girls with magazines around the fireplace and by the boys in an uproaring game of rook in the adjoining room. The five invited guests and their "best friends" were John Price, Howard Beckner, George King, Ben Hepner, Ray Root, Eva Brownsberger, Hazel Brubaker, Maurine Miller, and the hostesses, Martha Brubaker and Lucile Beckner.

CHAPEL NOTES

Monday, February 18th, Mr. Stickle talked to the students on Americanization. He discussed the need for it, that which is being done in the large cities of our country and that which is carried on in our local community. Mr. Stickle has charge of the night school here in La Verne.

Dr. Hoover had charge of the chapel hour on Tuesday, February 19th. He discussed variety in opinions due to point of view, illustrating with the visitor who said that California produced everything, including "prunes, lemons and nuts."

"Eternal Life" was the subject used by Prof. B. S. Haugh in a talk to the Student Body Thursday, February 22. He told of the various ways in which individuals have viewed it, and pointed out the proper attitude.

Monday, February 26th, Mrs. B. S. Haugh told of the dramatic cantata, "Belshazzar," to be rendered by the Choral Union May 4th. She discussed some of the plans for it and enlisted the interest and support of the Student Body.

"Make God Your Senior Partner Throughout Life." This was the subject of an address by Rev. Platt of Oakland, given Tuesday, February 29. Rev. Platt is in this part of the state in the interests of our church mission in Oakland.

Prof. Jesse Brandt, on Wednesday, February 28th, used the parable of the lamb as told to David by Nathan as his text and applied it to student life on the habit of borrowing other's books and failing to return them. He stressed the matter of inconvenience to the owner of the books.

Thursday, March 1st, Mrs. B. M. Culley spoke during the chapel period. She based her discussion on the 91st Psalm, stressing the value of our Father's protection and the choosing of the right things as important in our college life.

IN THE SUMMER OF '23

A drama of no little interest was staged last Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock, when Miss Ruth Barnhizer entertained the College Senior class at a unique dinner. The guests found their positions on the stage by means of the place cards which were miniature saws and saw-bucks, indicating that the plot was one that would require keen insight.

The Seniors had received but little coaching and so missed their cue upon the entrance of the second course, when they failed to catch the meaning of various small letters of macaroni in their soup, into which "the beans were spilled." The "surprise twist" of the plan was revealed, however, later by the pear and date salad with certain concealed names. Much applause greeted this particular scene, and a call was made for the leading man, who was none other than Prof. D. Welty Lefever.

In each succeeding course stage properties were introduced in the form of little kewpie brides and grooms and small wedding bouquets. After the serving of coffee and bon bons which contained jokes appropriate to the occasion, the final curtain was drawn and the guests departed with many expressions of their enjoyment of the evening.

NO BEACH—BUT FUN

The Seniors and Sophomores were awakened Saturday morning to see a clouded sky and hear the rain, which meant no trip to the beach, but altho much disappointed the time was made up in the evening, which was spent most happily at the home of Velma Vaniman. After all the hot dogs, buns, pickles, apples, pie, marshmallows and hot chocolate had vanished from sight, the whole crowd was initiated into the Owl club. Everyone proved to be good members, but only remained for a short time.

The remainder of the evening was spent in playing games.

Rah! Rah! Rah! Seniors!!!

GEORGE WASHINGTON PARTY

One of the most pleasing social events of the season was staged on Saturday evening, when the Bethany Girls feted the Hustlers in a George Washington party. Decorations were unique, and in keeping with the event. From the opening to the close, as is the case when these two classes meet, joy reigned supreme.

The entertainment opened with a game of more or less athletic scope in which the idea seemed to be to see how many laps a person might sit on without being seated in a chair. Several people were prominent in this event, among them a demure damsel known as Vi. The dignified class teacher of the Hustlers seemed greatly involved in this proceeding, gathering himself into somewhere near twenty-five laps, a high score for the evening. Corns, shins and dresses came into reckoning at every turn, but no one minded, in the spirit of fun.

Partners were very cleverly selected by corresponding beauty spots. From these combinations some very artistic talent was found when endeavors were made to sketch likenesses of each other as was in the time of George.

Some very venerable and respectable families were reproduced by four divisions of the assembly. If the laughs can be accounted as the register of success Prof. Haugh comes in a top-notch in the class of worthless and decrepit elders.

The next and final choosing of partners found combinations of various sorts from ham and eggs, Jiggs and Maggie, to Spark Plug and Barney Google. Eats in this division were cherry pie and ice cream, with our old faithful Marion and Orville sneaking a second and third helping via the back door.

A rousing yell from the Hustlers broke up the party, which was a remarkable success and a good example of the B. G.'s ability to entertain.

Welty seem to think that it is not good for man to live alone? ? ? ? !

KOLLEGE KNEWS

The other day Elva called to Frank and said, "Come here, Frank, I want to see if you have poison oak." Frank brilliantly replied, "Oh poison oak isn't contagious."

Mrs. Olive Thomas of Burbank, a former student of La Verne, gave a house party to several of her old chums last Friday. Those who enjoyed this party were: Elva Gillett, Hazel Brubaker, Marie Brubaker, Ruth Barnhizer, Pauline Miller and Mrs. Harper Frantz.

Those who suffered greatly with poison oak from the canyon trip were: Mrs. Mae Miller, Gerald Miller, Olive Shirk, Minnie Dickey, Mary Gockley, Ruth Price, Ruth Van Dyke, and Bertram Betts.

After the Pomona game on Thursday afternoon, Maurine Miller, Martha Brubaker, George King and Ben Hopper motored to Los Angeles, stopping on the way for dinner. They visited one of the great palaces of art and report an enjoyable time in spite of the heavy fog.

Ruth Barnhizer and Maurine Miller have been receiving some valuable practice in substitute teaching at the La Verne grammar school. Two of the teachers were victims of the influenza and the two girls thus received some additional training in their educational work.

The College Seniors wore cute little bridal bouquets and kewpie brides and grooms on the morning following their Senior dinner. Prof. Lefever was noticeably embarrassed during History of Education class.

On Saturday, February 25, a number of La Verne's residents were seen leaving town. Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Beckner and family, accompanied by Viola Neher, Ray Root and Dwight Welch, the Newcomers and the Moomaws, motored to Long Beach. Mr. and Mrs. Will Neher, with Susan Stoner and Kathryn Harshbarger and Mr. Fink and daughter Mary, and Olive Deardorf and Thelma Kuns spent the day in Los Angeles at the McPherson meetings.

Our Annual photographer, Mr. Hartman, has been kept quite busy taking pictures lately. The pictures that have been finished are the best that have ever been taken for the Annual.

Misses Vestal Goetze, Nova Leonard and Wanda Carl accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Beckner to Hermosa Beach Sunday, March 4.

Several of the lady faculty members were entertained at the home of Mrs. Flora Teague last Wednesday. The ones who enjoyed the splendid chicken dinner were Miss Babcock, Mrs. Cully, Miss Muir and Miss Sanger.

Some of the college students attended the concert given in Claremont on March 1st by the Philharmonic Orchestra of Los Angeles.

Several of the students were visited by Mr. Flu last week. Those who enjoyed (?) the visit were: Milton Brownsberger, Marguerite Dickey, Rose and Estella Landis and Mary Blickenstaff.

Freshman-Junior Party

Yo Ho! Ho! and a bottle of rum for the pirates, who in part are the Freshie class. They daringly stole away the Juniors Friday night and took them out to their pirates' cave, under a large oak tree. After they were safely transported into the house, carefully guarded by the cut-throat band, the blindfolds were taken off and skulls and crossbones and other such sights met their eyes.

Because they were such a good-looking bunch, their possessions were returned and they were entertained in civilized fashion. Then, behold, the hidden treasure was brought forth, which was bottles of rum, rubies and slabs of ivory. The merriment waxed high after everyone drank all they could. The other treasure was divided among the captives and then they were given their freedom.

LAVERNE DEFEATS POMONA FROSH

La Verne defeated the Pomona "Frosh" on the home court by a score of 29-21. The game was fast and exciting throughout. Welch was high point man, scoring 17 points. Beckner followed close with 9. The Frosh team had defeated the second team badly earlier in the season and they were entirely too over confident. Bohn refereed.

La Verne	Pomona Frosh
Beckner	F Messeng
Price	F Wilson
Welch	C Hollinger
Brooks	G McCuley
Dickey	G Merrit

LAVERNE LOSES PRACTICE MEET

The La Verne College and Academy lost a practice track meet to Pomona Hi and J. C. only by a very few points. By the visitors winning the relay, they took the meet. John Price surprised us all by taking the pole vault. John Brooks easily took the shot and discus. Ernie took the mile and half, and also placed in the 440. The results were not so bad, considering the fact that only half the La Verne men were out. As soon as the fellows all get out and work into shape, we will be able to put out a good team.

SENIOR BOW WOW AT PALOMA VISTA

The College Seniors spent an enjoyable evening at Dr. Hoover's last Saturday evening when they were entertained at a "dog" party. The chief diversion of the evening was the playing of the game "cooties." Some fearful and wonderful artists were discovered in the course of the game.

After amusing themselves for a while in this manner the guests were shown into the dining room, which was cleverly decorated in the class colors, "wiene" brown and "mustard" yellow. The places were marked by tiny dog kennels which were built for each person. The rest of the evening was spent in eating the delicious two-course supper that was served, and talking—on such subjects as the chicken business, lunatics, etc. After signing their names in the guest book, the "bull dogs" departed, "wagging their tails behind them."

KITCHEN SHOWER

On Thursday afternoon, March the first, Mrs. Arnett's Sunday School class was entertained most delightfully by Miss Ruth Barnhizer. It started out as an Irish party, but ended in a shower when Mrs. Reintjes brot over sundry parcels and packages which the girls had left at her house to be delivered later in the afternoon. The packages on being opened by the hostess were found to contain articles for kitchen use. Several of the gifts were made for the express purpose of cooking spuds, and much advice was given by dormitory students as to acceptable menus when the utensils are put to use. No one could have been more surprised than Miss Barnhizer, and she was overheard to say that she surely was fussed.

After delightful refreshments, as the guests were leaving, Miss Barnhizer gave them a warm invitation to come again, which they declared they would accept later in the summer.

Orville Brooks is known for looks, He uses them, they say, To win the girls with home-made curls A new one every day.

(Otis says it depends on where he's going.)

Maurine—"Yes, we want to keep her."

Benny—"Ye-ah, just look what you went and did to Prof."

GIRLS LOSE FIRST LEAGUE GAME

The girls' baseball team lost their first league game to Colton by a score of 19-16. The visitors were outplayed and the locals should have had the game except for the pitching at the first of the game when several players were "walked." Miriam Shirk pitched the remainder of the game and held them well. The home team took a seven run lead in the first inning, and as far as good playing was concerned they should have had the game. The loss of one game, however, does not ruin their chances to take the league. Let's go!

COLLEGE LOSES TO POMONA

The La Verne College lost their last basketball game this season to Pomona College by a score of 26 to 14. The game was slow throughout and no real basketball was shown. Neither team showed the fight and speed they did in the game earlier in the season. Welch and Beckner each got two field goals during the entire game. Braven was high point man and star of the game, scoring 18 points.

La Verne	Pomona
Beckner	F Braven, Dyer
Price	F Lorbeer
Welch	G Chambers
Brooks	G Papozran
Dickey	C Dyer, Brainard

Substitutes for La Verne: Root for Brooks and Jordan for Dickey.

AN EVENING OF RECUPERATION

Saturday nite, March 3, all College Freshmen gathered at the home of Mina Shirk to receive the Juniors into their "rest cure" hospital. After all cases were examined, both mentally and physically, the three practicing physicians began working upon the subjects in the most practical way. The Freshmen, as well as the new patients, underwent a most careful examination, some proving to be in a most serious condition. Dr. Herman Moomaw proceeded to treat the weary ones by various methods. Not only was entertainment furnished in order to relieve their minds of the burdens of the day, but each one had to undergo a certain amount of exercise, which seemed quite strenuous, the curing, for particular patients. From time to time medicine was taken which seemed very soothing, and each one was perfectly willing to partake of such, as it was none other than "delicious punch"—but the medicine which was found to be the most relieving and having final results was given the last thing before the patients were dismissed. This was salad served with wafers, followed by a serving of ice cream and chocolate cake. The members then prepared to depart to their respective homes, each one resolving that an evening spent in the receiving hospital was an evening well spent.

Miss Alta Shirk was the hostess at a four-course dinner last Sunday evening at her home on E. Third street. Those who enjoyed this daintily prepared meal were: Lola Shirk, Urbin Hartman and Cecil Jordan.

Miss Velma Vaniman entertained several of her girl friends at dinner on Sunday, the 25th. Those present were: Olive Shirk, Miriam Shirk, Irene Brooks, Florence Landis, Mollie Rhodes and Ethel Dresher.

Miss Hazel Brubaker and Mrs. Marie Brubaker were entertained at the home of Prof. and Mrs. Brandt last Sunday.

"You look tired Brownie what's the matter?"

Brownie Brownsberger — "Been studying for an exam."

"That so? When do you begin?"

Brownie—"To-morrow."

I have a pair of ears that run in and out with me,

And what can be the use of them is more than I can see;

They followed me to school one day, The teachers said they couldn't stay,

But as I couldn't send them off They stayed all day perched out aloof.

He who whispers down a well
About the goods he has to sell
Never reaps the golden dollars
Like he who climbs a tree and hollers.

A. W. S. EAR DAY—EARS COME OUT TO VIEW THE LAND

What would we do without custom, laws, rules, etc.? Thus the A. W. S. questioned itself and decided to uphold a very old tradition. Hence they picked Monday, February 26, as the annual spring clean-up day, and on that day gave their ears an airing. These worthy belongings had been packed and hidden since last clean-up day (presumably to keep moth out), and it was decidedly quite a shock to see them out, since many had forgotten that the A. W. S. possessed such things.

No A. W. S. affair would be quite complete without their "tea," and so at 3:45 they gathered themselves together with one accord unto their den. Here a very serious operation was performed upon Miss Vessie Noll. This was not only serious but painful, as was gathered from the groans of the patient. The next upon the program was extemporaneous speeches on "Ears." Pearl W. got the prize for this for lack of competition. Miss Beckner now held a class in ear-training. All profited greatly by this. Martha B. was found to have the longest tone in her ear. The biggest surprise of the evening was when Ruth E. waxed strong in the muscles of her ear and we experienced the sight, if not the sound, of a donkey.

"Tea" was now served. Each received two cookies and three-quarters of an orange of the best jello ever grown this side of the equator.

And thus ended Ear Day of 1923.

A JOLLY GOOD PICNIC

your mouth cry! The most amazing thing about it was that not one boy was heard to say that he did not have enough to eat. The afternoon was spent just as everyone pleased. Some sat and played rook all afternoon. Others read and took pictures, etc. Others hiked to the falls and various other places in the canyon. Many of that number came back bringing poison oak, which appeared later. In the evening weiners and buns were greatly enjoyed around the big fires. Then came a program typical of the "bunch," managed by F. Gillette. Despite the decision of the judges, everyone held the same opinion concerning the "hircus and bostorus" as they had previous to the flowery debate by some of our best talent.

After the program ample provision for transportation to our homes was furnished. Everyone voted in favor of a good time.
