I. R. C. HEARS SHERWOOD EDDY IN PASADENA SUNDAY

Sunday afternoon the I. R. C. heard Sherwood Eddy speak in Pasadena. The club members met at Miller Hall, then went to the First Methodist Church in Pasadena.

Sherwood Eddy spoke on "The Challenge of the Far East to the Western World," at the Youth Mass Meeting. His simple and direct manner made his speech doubly inspiring. He told of the danger of communism in China, and the danger of another world war. The speaker vividly portrayed the far-reaching results of war, and made an eloquent plea to the youth of the nation to stand against it. Eddy showed how the present situation both in the East and at home is a challenge to the Christianity of the western world.

After the speech the members of the club met at the home of Miss Muir for discussion and tea. The dainty refreshments and the hospitality were much enjoyed. At 6:30 Mary Ellen Lauver and Virginia Scarisbrick spoke on Disarmament at the C. E. of the Church of the Brethren in Pasadena.

A surprisingly large number of LaVerne people were seen at the Youth Mass Meeting. Everyone who went received much benefit from the lecture by Mr. Eddy.

CONFERENCE DEBATES TO BE HELD AT CAL-CHRISTIAN

All conference debates this year will be held in one tournament at California Christian College Friday and Saturday of this week. Every college will debate every other college in the conference on these two days. The ballots of the judges will not be opened until all of the debates have been heard, at which time the winners will be announced.

Coach Brubaker believes that he has better all around debating material on both men's and women's teams than in any previous year, and with a little backing and enthusiasm expressed by the student body, there is no reason why we should not come out of the tournament on top.

PROF. MERRITT TO GIVE LECTURE ON ART IN THURSDAY CHAPEL

Prof. Merritt will give a very interesting illustrated lecture on art during the chapel period Thursday. She has a series of slides of famous artists by which she will point out the fundamental principles of design and composition in art and the outstanding achievements from the time of the early Renaissance to the very modern paintings of note.

FRESHMAN GIRLS ENTERTAIN Y. W. C. A. WITH INTERESTING PROGRAM

Freshman girls entertained the Y. W. C. A. with an interesting program Friday morning.

After spirited group singing of "I Want to Be a Friend of Yours," and "A Chinese Honey Moon," led by Mary Emmert, Helen Heisey read "Yes or No." The reading was based on the Dutch custom of proposing marriage. Frances Neher and Ida Kinney then sang "Virginia Lullaby" and Kathryn Blickenstaff played a medley of popular songs on the piano.

Because of the nearness of the valentine season, the tradition of exchanging friendship notes was once more observed. Scores and scores of cleverly folded and decorated notes were written by the girls to their friends and acquaintances and every one was the happy recipient of at least several.

STUDENTS HAVE SHOCKING EXPERIENCE ON DOORKNOB

Students who attempted to open the door to one of the Physics labs last Tuesday received a distinct shock. The doorknob exerted a strong attraction, so that the innocent victim became very much attached to it. Enterprising students who had connected an electrical charge to the doorknob and then wet the floor, were probably very much gratified with the results of the experiment.

CHAPEL ADDRESS GIVEN BY REV. HUTSLAR OF POMONA

"The present economic problem is the consequence of spiritual and mental malnutrition," said Rev. Hutslar, pastor of the Christian Church in Pomona, in his chapel address Thursday.

Rev. Hutslar told of a very interesting hobby of his which concerns the matter of full-filled capacities of the individual. He pointed out that unless we develop our capacities to our highest efficiency we are robbing ourselves of happiness as when we meet difficult problems in life we will not be able to cope with them unless we have been equipped to the best of our ability.

MAURICE SHIRK RETURNS AFTER BEING SNOWED IN AT BIG BEAR

Maurice Shirk, former LaVerne College student, with Edith Brydon, Marjory Taylor, Floyd Jones, and Mrs. R. S. Brydon, was among those snowed in at Camp Percival at Big Bear. Maurice and his companions arrived home last week after being forced to stay at Camp Percival for ten days.

The unusually heavy snowfall was unexpected and it caught the extraordinarily large number of people who were enjoying the winter sports. Those who finally did succeed in getting out reported the "snowed inners" to the San Bernardino radio station, which sent word to the families of each, telling them of their safety. When the road was at last opened, it required five hours to reach Victorville.

This particular LaVerne group reported an exciting time, but were glad to see home.

DORM GIRLS ENJOY PARTY WITH SELECTED BOY FRIENDS

Games and beaux and chocolate fudge sundaes and punch were to be had in abundance at the dormitory leap year party Monday.

When the boys arrived they were invited to visit the girls' rooms. Many of them had never been within the sacred portals of a women's dormitory before and it was with real interest that they peered at the fanciful pillows, vases, and pictures which create individuality for each room.

A variety of games were placed on numerous card tables in the lobby for the guests who had a lot of fun playing flinch, rook, pit, dominoes, and an unusual beau game.

Prof. Travis was the party's "leap year specialty." He accepted a date, which was blind on both sides, with Jennie Werkman, and both parties were happily surprised.

After refreshments had been served, some of the boys determined among themselves not to go home till morning—but they did.

Opal Kuns and Virginia Matthews planned the entertainment and refreshments respectively.

SNOW REVEALS BEAUTY OF "L"

The storm last week laid a blanket of snow over the mountains, beautifully outlining the "L" against the dark background of the mountain side. The symbol of LaVerne was strikingly into the view while towering above it were the white peaks buried deep under several feet of fresh snow. The "L" certainly presented an inspiring picture to the residents of the valley.

All students who are interested in becoming assistant student store managers, please hand in your written application to the Commission by Tuesday, Feb. 23.

"MAKERS OF MEN" TO BE PICTURE FOR LAVERNE NIGHT

"Makers of Men," a football picture with Jack Holt, Joan Marsh and Richard Cromwell, will be the picture for the LaVerne College night at the Sunkist Theatre, Pomona, February 23.

This 50-50 night will also include a twenty-five minute program given by LaVerne College, featuring the Apollo Four. The tickets, price 35 cents may be secured at the Student Store or from the members of the Campus Times staff.

IDEALS AND MEANING OF S. V. ORGANIZATION DISCUSSED

A recent discussion of interest to students concerning the meaning, ideals and work of Student Volunteers revealed these facts:

1. The group is interested primarily in Christian missions, and world-wide questions.
2. It is interested in devotional and Christian character development.
3. It is interested in music, art, and various types of spiritual culture. In fact, it is an organization which stands for all-around development, physical as well as religious.
4. The group is NOT a "holier than thou" bunch of reformers, a secret organization, a political combination or ring, or a gossip club, but it stands for loyalty to Christ and to fellow men.

Often the organization has foreign speakers here, foreign socials in the homes of foreign missionaries, and inspirational retreats. The group attempts in every way to co-operate with the other school activities, and to help keep a friendly attitude prevalent in the college.

This year the group has pledged $250 for the support of a Chinese native missionary, Pastor Yin, and his work over there in the mission. They are also sending out two plays to spread the idea of peace throughout Southern California.

The Student Volunteer group invites any student who is interested to attend their meetings.

STUDENT VOLUNTEERS HAVE SAINT VALENTINE PARTY WEDNESDAY

Miss Frances Neher and her mother were hostesses at a social for the Student Volunteers, held at their home last Wednesday evening.

The first two hours were spent in playing many games, some of which carried out the spirit of St. Valentine's day. These were directed by Mary Throne. After many hearty laughs, the meeting was turned to the devotional attitude. This part of the program consisted of an evening hymn, "Holy, Holy, Holy"; a vocal solo by "Fritz" Brunk; a devotional talk by Evelyn Deardorff, and a piano solo by Ida Kinney.

The hostess served refreshments of sandwiches, delicious hot chocolate, and some of her tasty gingerbread.

SIX CO-EDS HAVE MERRY EVENING AT HARRISON FRANTZ HOME

Six college co-eds sat hungrily about the round table in the upstairs apartment of the Harrison Frantz home. One huge blue bowl of "German Vegetable Stew" formed the centerpiece from which frail little wreaths of steam stimulated the little collegiate noses.

After the "soup concert" the little dears gathered 'bout the fare wax jolly in some accomplishments regarding the formation of candy (which was really sold at the Y. W. C. A. food sale last Saturday!)

The girls worked hard, but suddenly began to make several trips downstairs for egg beaters, dishes, etc. (The young man of the house had returned home.)

The "working" girls left for their dormitory sleeping rooms in an "oriental mood" after the concluding number had been rendered by Miss Eleanor Shepp—a presentation of the musical piano number (done vocally) "In a Persian Market."

The "sweet" sextette included the Misses Eleanor Shepp, Helen Heisey, Betty Shaffer, Helen Ellenberger, Frances Sandblom, and Evelyn Wine.

DISARMAMENT CONFERENCE IS NOW IN SESSION AT GENEVA

Sixty nations are represented at the Arms Limitation Conference, sponsored by the League of Nations, now in session at Geneva.

It is the first world conference on arms limitation since that called at The Hague 33 years ago by Czar Nicholas.

The aims of the conference are: (1) Limitation of all war forces—land, sea and air; (2) a showdown on some of the high pledges between nations that signed the Treaty of Versailles and the covenant of the League of Nations.

Five plans are under discussion to accomplish the aims of the conference:

I. Budgetary Limitation. Indirect control of armaments by limiting money which signatory nations may spend (opposed by U. S. and not favored by Great Britain).

II. De Juvenel Plan. Sets up international air union under which all nations would place air services at disposal of League of Nations in crisis.

III. Direct Limitations. Control by agreement of the actual number of men, guns, aircraft and warships for each nation. (Backed U. S. but opposed by Continental Europe.)

IV. Paul Boncour Plan. Would pool all armed forces and equipment under League of Nations to put down wars of aggression. (Opposed by U. S. and Europe.)

V. Russian Plan. Would compel strongest powers to immediately reduce armaments by 50 per cent; medium powers by 33 per cent, and smaller powers by 25 per cent.

Germany demands substantial reduction in arms in response to treaty pledges if reductions are not obtained; demands release from limitations imposed by Treaty of Versailles.

Pacifists would like to see the Geneva Conference extend the limitation to include:

1. Further limitation on all classes of naval armament.
2. Limitation of land forces.
3. Limitation of air forces without hampering aviation.
4. Prohibition of gas and bacterial warfare.

The main problem seems to be whether to accede to or deny Germany's demands. The probable maximum outcome will be limitation of armament.

SURPRISE PARTY AT "MOUSE TRAP" HONORS VIRGINIA STERN

A group of friends gathered at the "Mouse Trap" Saturday night, after the game, to honor Virginia Stern's birthday. Several hours were spent in stories, jokes, and indulging in delicious refreshments of jello salad, heart-shaped open sandwiches, cheesed crackers, and punch.

Those present were Virginia Stern, Lena Mae Ross, Hazel Brubaker, Mary Hollinger, Arnelia Brubaker Roberta Sellers, and Evelyn Deardorff, Doyle Ruark, John Batelaan, Royal Glick, Sidney Hunter, Robert Walker, Doyle Montz, and Cecil Huff.

CONRAD SAILER IN "CENSORED" AT PASADENA COMMUNITY PLAYHOUSE

Conrad Seiler, author of "Censored," new comedy-satire which was inspired by the raid on the Los Angeles production of "Desire Under the Elms" some years ago, which event he covered for "The Nation," will play the role of the censored author in the premiere production of the play at the Pasadena Community Playhouse from February 15 to 27.

The play, previously presented before an audience of Pasadena Community Playhouse members, reached superb heights of farce, created a sensation and received the largest vote for regular production ever cast in Playhouse history.

We must confess, oh darn,
It's still the same old yarn;
We'll win, the papers say.
We bet. It didn't pay.

Expectant Father: "Doctor, tell me quick! Is it a him or a her?"
Doctor: "It's a them."

IF LINCOLN LIVED TODAY

When the Norn Mother saw the Whirlwind Hour
Greating and darkening as it hurried on,
She left the Heaven of Heroes and came down
To make a great man to meet the mortal need.
She took the tried clay of the common road—
Clay warm yet with the genial heat of Earth,
Dasht through it all a strain of prophecy,
Tempered the heap with the thrill of human tears,
Then mixt a laughter with the serious stuff.
Into the shape she breathed a flame to light
That tender, tragic, ever-changing face;
And laid on him a sense of the Mystic Powers,
Moving—all husht—behind the mortal veil.
Here was a man to hold against the world,
A man to match the mountains and the sea.

This little part of "Lincoln, the Man of the People" by Markham sets forth one of the greatest characters in our history in a most striking manner. "She took from the tried clay of the common road." Lincoln was a common man, yet he had that stamina, durability, and will that made him one of our greatest national figures.

When as a lad Lincoln spoke of slavery and said if he ever got a chance he would "hit it and hit it hard." He made his chance and he drove his ax of conviction clean and straight to the root of the course. As I think of Lincoln and marvel at his power and greatness, through his simplicity and humbleness, I wonder what Lincoln would do if he were living today. What would he do if he were a student at LaVerne College? How would he meet our questions and problems? What would he do if he were living and was in our public life today? What steps would he take towards gangdom, prohibition, and the hundred other problems which are defeating our politicians?

If he were going to school with you and me I wonder if we would not feel his wisdom and try to make our school and life better for association with him. In our little lives we hurry and scurry hither and yon and take to time to consider some of the things which go to make and build that finer side of our lives and minds. We have so complex a society that we do not stop to think. Our object is get by, but would Lincoln do that?

The hush of spacious prairies filled his soul. His words were oaks in acorns; and his thoughts were roots firmly gript in granite truth.

Wouldn't he stop to consider the other fellow a little more than you or I in our daily bustle? I wonder if he wouldn't take a little time for meditation to gather those pure thoughts which would be "gript in granite truth." Wouldn't he consider the honor of the school and his character one of the greatest prizes he could own? Let us be a little more like Lincoln and temper our lives with the thrill of human tears. A kindly word or deed never went astray and a smile goes a long way so you and I can help our fellow students many a day by just a little more love and kindness.

My thoughts turn to our present day problem. I wonder what Lincoln would do if he were sitting on the bench in some of our courts and dealing with that yellow scourge which is in our midst, gangdom. Do you think Lincoln would see a a man sent to prison because he didn't give the government a share in his income when that income had been gained illegally? I do not, yet that is what sent Al Capone to prison. He failed to give the government his income tax, a tax on an income reaped at the expense of the laws and ideals of the country, so he is sent to prison for failure to pay instead of for his crimes which make him a menace to society. What would Lincoln do to the drunken drivers which kill and maim innocent citizens? Would he grant a pardon because they were unaccountable at the time of the deed? Never! A man that said he would hit slavery and hit it hard would hit intoxicated driving and liquor harder.

LEO TOLSTOY'S "REDEMPTION" TO BE PRESENTED AT LITTLE THEATRE

Authentic gypsy music, sung by a chorus of twelve, will be used in the Claremont Community Players heralded production of Count Leo Tolstoy's classic masterpiece, "Redemption," according to word received on the campus today from Mary C. Blaisdell, Players director. Sometimes called "The Living Corpse," the famous play is to be presented March 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5, with a matinee March 5, at the Little Theatre in Padua Hills.

Sung in one of the most widely-known and colorful scenes of the classic drama, the thrill in gypsy songs have been specially arranged for the Players production by Joseph W. Clokey, author of the operetta, "Our American Cousin."

He built the rail-pile as he built the state, Pouring his splendid strength through every blow:

The grip that swung the ax in Illinois Was on the pen that set a people free.

Likewise Lincoln would deal with the question today in that same manner by pouring his splendid strength into every problem. Why can't we do the same instead of letting things slide as we do every day? I wonder, do we pay tribute to Lincoln by the lives we live? Are we worthy of so rich a heritage as he has left us? Do we try to pattern our lives in a small way after his? It is within the power of every one of us to make our school, state, country and lives better by taking advantage of the example Lincoln has left to us. I ask myself now wherein did his power lie? Was it within himself? No matter where you look you will find that Lincoln always took God as a guide. He never tried to do things on his own strength, and that is where you and I fall down every day. Let us be honest, pure of heart and mind, and true to our fellow men and be able, as Lincoln was, by the help of God,

To send the keen ax to the root of wrong, Clearing a free way for the feet of God, The eyes of conscience testing every stroke, and, when we come to the end of our journey, it may be a college life or the end of our star here on earth, let us be able to leave a niche in well filled where you and I have spent our lives.

And when he fell in whirlwind, he went down And when a lordly cedar, green with boughs Goes down with a great shout upon the hills, And leaves a lonesome place against the sky.

SPASMS

The following letter came to me by mistake, I think. The writer of the masterpiece may have the letter by calling at the Campus Times office.

Dear Family: I have always wanted to tell you about the fine Y. M. C. A. we have here at LaVerne, and this seems to be a good time, because it has been raining all this week and nothing else has happened much. The president of the Y is Dick Maley, a fine fellow who carries out the serious thoughts and purposes of the Y. M. C. A., and I think you would like him, dad. Well this Friday we had a talk by Professor Cullen, only you would never guess he is a sociology prof because he is so young and is always kidding every one. He talked about social attitudes, which is a very deep subject to sociologists, and I am going to take this course next year. Anyway the conclusion reached by the fellows after the discussion was that we men were not stepping out with the women as much as we should, thereby causing ourselves to become rough and uncouth in our manners rather than having a social as well as academic education.

You remember that you told me to always go to Y meetings when I left home, and to carry the spirit of the Y wherever I went. Well, it seems as if this was one time it would be possible for me to really do some good for the Y in a practical way rather than just thinking about some of those high ideals we learned in Hi-Y at home. Of course, to get a real social education it will take a little more money than just a book learning, but I am sure you will not want your son to come home from college and act like a rustic because he has not learned to behave in any social circles, and besides the Y. M. is back of this social education movement so it is perfectly above board and a part of my duty to the Y.

If you'll increase my allowance some now and some more next month (I'll tell you when to stop) you will be helping out this crusade for social education of both men and women the Y has started.

Your loving son,
(Name withheld.)

CHARM

Dear S. O. S.:

In reply to your letter of several weeks ago, I should like to say that the men aren't the only ones who have set up standards for a companion of the opposite sex. The women, too, have their ideas and here are some of them.

The ideal man is a he-man. He is masterful but gentle. Girls do not admire the wishy-washy sort of man who can be wraped around their little fingers.

They like to have their dates made in advance and after they are over, it is one of the lowest things a man can do to make all is occurrences the property of his associates.

The ideal man is careful about his grooming. His nails are clean; his hair is trimmed neatly; his shoes are polished; his clothes are pressed. He does not disdain the use of Listerine and Lifebuoy, for it is true that your best friend won't tell you.

The ideal man is intelligent (and that includes the understanding and meaning of the word "no." He is interested in the world's activities for interest in things outside of himself makes him truly interesting.

Epecially is the ideal man cultured. Culture is the essence of charm, good breeding, and personal magnetism. It includes high ideals and courteous maners. Combined with friendliness it makes for a good mixer. It makes a man respect a girl's wishes. It makes him attentive to the girl with whom he is. All in all, culture is that quality in a man which makes a girl proud of him.

The ideal man is a good sport. It is not necessary that he be a good athlete to show this quality, although that is admirable and a girl likes such a person, but in all his living he does not grumble and complain or scold the other fellow or feel that he is being down-trodden.

And do the men ever stop to think that the small sacrifice which is often necessary in order to purchase a corsage or other flowers or candy is well repaid by the girl's appreciation and her delight in their thoughtfulness?

Most sincerely yours,
Torlen.

MEOWS

Chivalry still exists. They say that Chester Gillette stooped and tied Frances Neher's shoestrings for her. That must be the very nth of devotion.

I didn't know that LaVerne was training its student body to be a herd of cattle until the other night at Oxy when I could find only six students who weren't chewing cuds.

Speaking of Oxy, I think that our team might have beaten theirs if we had had more support from the booing sections—booing wins the referees to our side and inspires the players, besides being an excellent example of school spirit and sportsmanship, you know.

Wilbur Jones needs only to enter a room where Frances Nix is to receive his "forward march" orders.

You would better watch Johnnie Wolfe, the new black-haired Freshman, to see that he doesn't overstep. He took a girl whom I believe is from L. A. to the basket ball game Friday.

Since when have Kenneth Heckman and Mildred Brubaker been going together?

Say, if I were Marvin Crites, I'd be more than a little bit jealous if Harold Hylton stepped out with my best girl friend, wouldn't you?

Homer Kreps wasn't one of the "Three Musketeers" Friday night, for he escorted Frances Sandblom to the game. I wonder how many times that makes that Arno has had cause to be worried.

If you ask me, Ronald Williams would appeal to women as more than a mere date if he got over the notion that he is "God's gift to women."

Said Edith Eisan: "What are you going to do when our yell leader (meaning Bozo) sits and holds his girl's hand all during the game?"

Dr. Bell mentioned the good-looking boys in front of him in chapel the other day; but if you don't think all the really handsome ones and their brothers graduated last year, ask Virginia Matthews.

Shepp should be recognized for discovering the most effective munition of modern warfare—powdered sugar. For further information, see Russell Frantz.

Did any one happen to see that queer expression on Sydney Hunter's face when Prof. Cullen asked him what love was?

ALSO, I WISH YOU COULD HAVE SEEN

- Irene Blackerby, Evelyn Deardorff, and John Booth eating a Chinese supper with chopsticks last Thursday night at Covina.
- Arnelia Brubaker and Mary Hollinger on their Leap-year dates.
- Joyce Dietz all dressed up, and with a blonde date.
- Ward Turney with that crazy felt hat at the Whittier game.
- "Dot" Page's hair cut.
- Esther Statler when she slipped and fell at the feet of several men.
- John Booth's and Dan Stover's mustaches.

UNDER THE BASKET

By EDE

Well, the thing I'm surprised at is that we sank any baskets on the court at Cal-Christian. It was as broad as it was long, and that's not saying it was long.

Wonder how many more yell leaders than three we'd need in order to have one at a game. They were conspicuous by their absence at Cal-Christian.

We'll never know what this team is capable of until we have a good rooting section behind them. They reached the heights in the Redlands game, but they did it on their own ability.

Bert Jones got in for a while and played a good guarding game. It's part of the sad story that he wasn't with us all season.

Can't figure out why the frosh lost their first Oxy game, but the fact that Harold Hylton took out Crites' girl might have had something to do with the second game.

As per usual, Frankie turned in a fine game for the frosh.

Wilbur Jones traded places with George Weybright for Weybright was at the Oxy games on time.

After playing a game Friday night which showed "little or no fight," the varsity came back Saturday night to fight the whole game and make us proud of them.

The starting line-up Saturday of Forney, Brooks, Snell, Hobbs and Jones, seemed to click and the missing of told the sad story at the end.

Red Weybright succeeded in stirring up plenty of spirit with his yell leading. We even got a chance at the new Leopard yell. (The varsity did play better.) The yelling may tell part of the story. Referee Dempsey said he never saw such a changed team.

Chuck Snell deserves much credit for this fight in being able to take the "beating" which he does and still come back still trying.

Max Forney is a competitive athlete, for after being a first team man at the first of the season, was replaced for a time but he kept trying and if you saw the game Saturday night you saw the change.

Whether this school knows it or not, wants to know it or not, whether we win these San Diego games and end this season in some glory—depends on the spirit of the rooters of this school. The answer will be on the score boards Friday and Saturday night.

Let's show some FIGHT!

SPORTS

KITTENS LOSE TO OXY FROSH AFTER TWO EXTRA PERIODS

In their last conference game of the season the Leopard Kittens went down in defeat before Occidental Frosh in a fast and thrilling game, by a score of 36 to 32.

The Kittens played a fast floor game which kept Oxy on the defense most of the time. Elder, the Kittens' sensational guard, time after time would break through this defense to either drop on in the bucket or pass to one of the forwards who would shoot a basket. The half ended with the score in Oxy's favor, 19 to 14.

Coming back at the half the Kittens rallied and took the lead. They held it until the final few minutes of play, when Tapping, Oxy guard, sank two baskets in quick succession to tie the score. The game ended with the score 30 to 30.

An extra period was then played and it also ended in a tie, 32 to 32. A second extra period was played and it was in this period that Oxy scored four more points to win.

Elder was high point man for the Kittens with 9 points; Beebe of Oxy was high man for his team with 9 points. The line-ups:

LaVerne		Occidental
Rothrock (4)	F	Lund (7)
Crites (6)	F	Beebe (9)
Nordstrom	C	Caugh
Elder (9)	G	Tapping (8)
Dickey (5)	G	Howe (6)
LaVerne subs: Harshbarger (2), Jones (6); Occidental: Alexander (6); MacMillan.

LEOPARDS TO PLAY AZTECS HERE FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

In the final two games of this basket ball season, the Leopards will play San Diego State College, at LaVerne, on Friday, Feb. 19, and Saturday, Feb. 20. Both games will start at eight o'clock with no frosh preliminaries.

San Diego State has a strong team which boasts of two victories and no defeats, while LaVerne has three victories and five defeats for its record. However, the Leopards are out for blood and are waiting to keep the record clean, since they have defeated San Diego in the previous years.

The conference standings are:

	W	L
San Diego	3	0
Redlands	4	2
Whittier	4	2
Occidental	3	3
LaVerne	3	4
Santa Barbara	0	3
Pomona	0	4

LEOPARDS LOSE DOUBLE-HEADER TO OXY TIGERS

Swamped by a 43 to 18 score, the Leopards bowed to the Oxy Tigers at the Glendale High School gym on Friday night, Feb. 12. Both teams scored right after the opening whistle, and after only a minute of play the count was Oxy 4, LaVerne 3. This marked the close of the LaVerne scoring for the greater part of the first half, as the Leopard defense proved unable to stop Oxy's fast passing team and the Tigers began to roll up the score.

Late in the first period the Leopards once more got their eyes on the basket and brought the score to 17 to 11 in favor of Oxy when the half ended.

The Leopards came back fighting at the start of the second half, but most of their shots failed as time and again the ball just missed the hoop. Oxy kept the Leopard busy so that LaVerne's team play was not up to par and passes often went wild. The Tigers, on the other hand, although not shooting as often as the Leopards, made most of their attempts count. The combination of Noble, Pupis and Main certainly worked to perfection as they worked the ball under the LaVerne basket to score. Near the end of the game Oxy put on another spurt and finished far in front with the score 43 to 18.

Snell of LaVerne and Pupis of Oxy tied for scoring honors with 12 points each, closely followed by Main of Oxy with 9 and Noble with 8. Six of Snell's points were made on free throws. The line-ups:

LaVerne 18		Oxy 43
Snell (12)	F	Main (9)
Montgomery	F	Pupis (12)
Wilson (2)	C	Noble (8)
Welty	G	Gustovitch (1)
Weybright	G	Blee (4)
LaVerne substitutes: Calvert, Forney (2), Adams (2), Brooks, Jones, Deal. Occidental: Hunt (4), Seiler (4), Evans.

SECOND GAME

Leopard varsity was again defeated by Occidental in a return game at the local gym Saturday night, Feb. 13. The Leopards, however, showed much more aggressiveness in the last encounter and held the score to 28 to 16. Inability to hit the basket marked the difference between victory and defeat, as LaVerne shot two or three times to one for Oxy, but as they don't count the close ones, Oxy came out on top.

The Leopards showed lots of fight and started off with a bang, scoring 4 points before Oxy got into action. The Tigers soon evened the score, however, and LaVerne then lost an opportunity to gain a good lead by missing 7 out of 9 foul shots in quick succession. LaVerne stayed in front most of the first half, in spite of the great number of shots missed, but Oxy's fast passing and accurate shooting gradually put the Tigers in front and they finished the half with a three point lead, the score being 17 to 14.

The first half was by far the most exciting seen since the last Redlands contest. The play was fast and the excitement became too much for the players on both sides. Fouls were frequent, and passes became more wild as the half proceeded. The fans were apparently enjoying the acrobatic stunts as the players went into nose dives and tail spins in the mad scramble for possession of the ball. Playing became ragged on both sides and the ball was passed to an opposing player almost as often as to a team mate.

As the second half opened, Oxy scored on field goal and neither team scored a point for nearly ten minutes thereafter. Both teams settled down somewhat and played more carefully than during the first half, but LaVerne's shots were more wild than ever. Oxy's scoring combination finally began to click as the end of the game approached and the Tigers widened their lead. Out of all their attempts in the last half the Leopards failed to sink a single field goal, scoring only two points on foul shots. Oxy scored 11 points, making the final score 28 to 16.

Snell of LaVerne, and Noble, Oxy center, divided scoring honors with 10 points each, closely followed by Main, Oxy forward, who tallied 9 points. Forney played a good floor game and scored 5 points for the Leopards. The line-ups:

LaVerne		Occidental
Snell (10)	F	Main (9)
Brooks	F	Pupis (6)
Forney (5)	C	Noble (10)
Jones	G	Gustovitch (2)
Adams (1)	G	Blee
LaVerne subs: Calvert, Montgomery, Weybright; Occidental, Hunt (1), Evans, Seiler.
