THE 1922 ANNUAL GOES OVER THE TOP!

STUDENT BODY SUBSCRIBES FOR 275 ANNUALS

Commission Fears Dispelled

On the evening of Dec. 1 the Student Body Commission, while in joint Cabinet Meeting with representatives from the Faculty, decided that the Annual proposition was a big one. Some thought that the cost of the book this year would not be able to be raised. The students are hard pressed for money, and unless they were willing to subscribe for the minimum number of Annuals, the quality of the Annual would necessarily have to be lowered.

However, the fears of the Commission were soon dispelled at the Student Body meeting Friday, when the Annual proposition went over the top with a whirlwind. Mr. Ernest Davis, a right hand man to the Commission, conducted the campaign in a very efficient way. The Student Body subscribed for 275 Annuals and the administration agreed to buy an allotment of about 50, to be used as advertising literature.

More than 325 Annuals must be sold, but surely there are many loyal La Verne Alumni who will buy the books and help the cause. The students subscribed by classes, and the number of subscriptions was placed after the enrollment of the classes.

Several of the students subscribed for as many as five, and all showed loyalty in subscribing for as many as they could.

AT LAST OUR GYM IS BEING ERECTED

The building for which we have been waiting and longing is at last in the process of erection. Actual building operations have begun on the La Verne College Gymnasium, which is the second of the contemplated group of new buildings for the school.

The excavating has been completed and the foundation has been laid by H. M. Hanawalt, who is doing the cement work. The carpenter work has been started under the direction of W. O. Moomaw. It is expected that the building will be completed and ready for use before the beginning of the new year.

This building will be one of which our school and city will be proud, as it will provide a spacious hall for speaking and entertainments, as well as for gymnastics and athletic contests.

LA VERNE WINS FIRST COLLEGE GAME

Score 32 to 21

On Saturday night, Dec. 3, La Verne College took a big step forward when she downed the Pomona College basket-shooters by a score of 32 to 21. Incidentally this is the same score by which Pomona trimmed La Verne last year.

Pomona put up only a fair exhibition of what may be termed as team work. Her team was not nearly so fast and accurate in shooting baskets as might be expected. La Verne had the big edge on Pomona in team work and even though her practice has been on an outside court, yet the La Verne men found the ring quite often.

Welch at center played a bang-up game. His shots were fast and sure and many a time he got away free for an open shoot. Beckner played a little below his usual par, after he injured his knee. However, he was all over the court and in every play. His guard no doubt thought he was seeing double, to see him first at one

RIVERSIDE COMPLETELY OUT-PLAYED

Last Game of the Season

Smarting under the 7-3 defeat of the first game with Riverside, La Verne journeyed to the Riverside gridiron on Thanksgiving with a determination to get revenge. Just how much satisfaction was felt can be guessed by the score, 19 to 7.

The game opened with Riverside receiving the kick-off and repeatedly bucking the La Verne lines for first downs and a touchdown. The Minnesota shift worked nicely and had the La Verne line guessing. 'Twas a noble beginning, but it also was the end of the scoring on the part of Riverside.

La Verne received the second kick-off. Ott fumbled and Price picked up the elusive pigskin and carried the ball for a touchdown around right end, making a 70 yard run. Riverside then received the kick and were pushed back of their own goal line where a punt was blocked and Marshburn fell on the ball for the second score. Root missed goal.

Riverside then chose to kick, but were unable to stop La Verne's march down the field. Welch made a sensational end run, but was downed a foot from the goal line. The ball was carried over by Price on a fake through center. Root failed to convert, making the score 19 to 7 at the end of the first half.

Neither team scored in the second half, although La Verne was on the verge of crossing the Riverside goal when the whistle blew.

Our star half back, Hepner, had the misfortune of spraining his knee after making a 30 yard gain on a beautiful end run which kept him out of the entire game. Root took his

TO LV.C. ALUMNI LYRIC AND GLEE CLUB RECITAL

The Commissioner of Publications wishes to announce that this year's proposed Annual is to be the best one in the history of La Verne College. Its principal features are a cover, regular inserts and colored pictures. It should be of interest to the Alumni because this is a history making year for La Verne, for achievements in athletics and debate.

Among many campus views will be a picture of the new Gym. This year book will contain an alumni department which will give the names, addresses, and occupations of all La Verne alumni.

It will contain an information bureau by means of which every Alumnus may be able to find out where his old class mates are, and what they are doing. The price of the book is $2.50 until January 15, after which date the price will be raised to $2.75. Address H. M. Moomaw, La Verne, Calif.

Thursday night, Dec. 8th, the Lyric and Glee Clubs will give a recital in the College Auditorium. Prof. Haugh who has charge of the two clubs, has been working hard in the preparation of this program and he promises that it will be the best the clubs have ever given. There are two extra numbers, a reading and a violin solo. The admission is fifty cents, student admission, thirty-five cents. Friends of the College, show your support by being at the Auditorium Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

LV.C. TO DEVELOP FIGHTING TEAM

Debating Spirit Ought to Conquer Any Foe

Mr. Roy Flory, manager of College Debating, announces a big program for this year. Although the quadrangular Debate with the Eastern Colleges did not materialize as planned, the idea is not dropped, and will be continued next year. The fact that the first undertaking did not materialize ought not be discouraging, for it is only repeated efforts that win success.

The manager has arranged a full schedule for this year. La Verne will debate Redlands varsity team and the California Institute of Technology varsity some time in March.

San Jose College plans to make a tour of the Southern California colleges and universities, and it is altogether probable that a debate can be arranged with them. Caltek would like to arrange a Frosh debate in addition to the one with the Varsity, and if La Verne's squad develops favorably, such a debate will be scheduled.

The debating team will meet this week and plan their research work. The question with Caltek and Redlands will be on the open shop problem. The prospects for the squad are good and much interest is being manifested. Anyone interested in debate, see Flory.

"TORCH" CHOOSES TWO NEW MEMBERS

College Men's Honor Society Pledges Two Men

At a recent meeting of the local "Torch" of the "Embers," two men were unanimously chosen by the organization. The "Torch" will give a banquet in honor of the new members on December 10th.

The other day Otis Brooks was passing thru the halls and accidentally overheard part of a conversation between Ruth Barnhizer and Pauline Miller. Ruth was saying—

"You know we were up until one o'clock that night, and HE could have asked me then."

What is the meaning of all this, Ruth?

Student Volunteers Busy with Deputation Work

The Student Volunteers are not idle this year, but are very active. Not only have they been having practical and inspirational programs here every Sunday morning, but they have a deputation team which is busy giving programs at the churches in Southern California. The program as arranged: Duet, Speak to me, Jesus—Beulah Noll and Susan Stoner.

A Bank of Strength and Character

In the first days of the New Year ambitious people are turning into new pathways of personal improvement. Quite logical, therefore, that New Year should be the season of new Bank Accounts. The first thing the students beheld on entering chapel Tuesday, Nov. 15, were prominent green and white paper decorations round and about the platform of said chapel. Their curiosity was aroused. CORONA SWAMPED by Orange and Green

Wow! You've heard about complete walk-aways. Well that's about what the game with Corona amounted to Nov. 18. The Orange and Green succeeded in running up the record score of the year, 43 to 9.

Corona had an inexperienced team and failed to solve the La Verne defense. Bohn was modest as usual, and only made 26 points this game, but no doubt he will improve with practice.

CO-OPERATION

Do you know the meaning of Co-operation?

Doubtless everyone of us have heard the word many times, but how often have we stopped to question its significance and importance.

"Co-operation is a thing that does things, and does them right now!" This definition has left a lasting impression on my mind.

Co-operation made America a democracy rather than an aristocracy, and enables us to live in peace and liberty within this complex society.

Co-operation won the last great war, and will assist the nations of the world to agree in this present Conference to crown Peace, king forever.

Co-operation has made and developed La Verne College, and will make it successful.

Co-operation evolved, developed and perfected the Commission form of Government.

Co-operation makes possible our publications, the Annual and the Campus Times.

Co-operation conceived the idea of Student Government. A Council, representative of the eight respective classes, was organized.

They have been struggling for some time to formulate plans whereby student Government may be set in operation. These plans were submitted to the Student Body.

Some of the suggested regulations were adopted, some rejected, which is a natural result, as long as there are two sides to every question.

But a great number of the students did not take enough interest in the question to stand and vote. We have in our College a school democracy, and if we do not have enough school spirit to be active members of this democracy, we ought not even be considered members.

The Council have performed their task. What are you going to do?

You must support them.

Co-operation and nothing but Co-operation can make Student Government a success.

This valley of perpetual smoke was the most interesting part of the program. It was probably at one time a boiling lake of mud, but now it has cooled until there is a crust over it that will hold men with perfect safety. There are still many fissure lakes and numberless fumaroles or steaming fissures which characterize the Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes. The exploring party used these fumaroles for cooking. The temperatures of these places was often high enough to melt lead. The ground was so hot that they had to put their bed covers under themselves to be cool enough to sleep.

The entire evening was full of instruction and entertainment. The La Verne people heard the wonders of Alaska told in a fascinating story and saw many pictures of wonderful beauty and scientific interest.

IZZY NEWSY

Dear Sam:—

I'm almost too busy to write, but I suppose I can take time, since you enjoy my letters so much. I surely had a grand and glorious Thanksgiving, the only thing I lacked for dinner was capacity to hold it all. Now I'm back at school, Sam, going at the same old gait, rushing to classes, grabbing my books, hailing the kids in the hall, scheduling committee meetings, whispering in the library, writing notes in the study hall, and doing just everything the same as before. Life is one grand rush after another.

But after all, it's a great life to be a student, Sam, you don't have time to get the blues or even have time to talk about people. But sometimes it's hard to schedule a study period these busy days. But, Sam, if we don't stop after awhile and shake ourselves up and organize our committee meeting periods and our gossiping periods, and schedule our studying periods, what are we going to come to? When the semester has come to the close, are we going to have those term papers ready to present, or will they be mere quantities. What kind of grades are we going to get?

Sam, I'll bet you think this is a crazy letter, but I'd like your honest opinion along this line. What are we going to come to when we don't get down to honest to truth studying, but spend our time everlastingly on outside organizations? Of course you'll say, Sam, that these outside organizations have to be, and of course they do but that's just the question—How can we students, busy as we are, attend to both? I'd like to hear from you as soon as possible, and hope you can give me some sound advice. It is much needed.

Good night, Sam.

s-t-e-p-p-i-n-g—no need to be told.

Their expectations were soon realized, when down the aisle marched two rows of very good-looking Seniors, all dressed in white sweaters with green monograms. No one realized that the Seniors did have such a large class until they took their respective positions on the platform.

Velma Fager took charge of the devotional exercises, and Gladys Larimer led the singing. Ernest Davis, the Class Teacher, cited the good points of the Seniors, while the rest of the students listened with awe and wonder.

Mary Blickenstaff rendered a piano solo, after which Harvey Emley, class president, made several remarks. He announced the coming of the Senior Class Play, "The Penalty of Pride," to be given before the Christmas holiday.

The last number on the program was the class song, "Rowing, not Drifting," composed by the Seniors, the music as well as the words being original.

After chapel, classes, study hall, faculty and all were forgotten as the class took their departure for some unknown place. When they returned their brilliant countenances gave evidence to the fact that they had received an inspiration while gone, but where they received it remains a mystery.

The crowning event of the day was a banquet at the Dormitory. One

OPEN FORUM

(Editor's Note)

Students: This column of the Campus Times is to be open to you, providing you want it. It is a place where each of you may express your own individual views and opinions on any school question or problem. It is your opportunity to make the paper better.

DO YOU WANT A CAMPUS TIMES

Of course the students will all say "yes" without hesitation. But do you want it enough to work for it; to use a little of your talent; to sacrifice some of your extra time that you usually spend in whispering or in writing notes.

Somehow the individual student is asleep to his responsibility. He is too busy to write articles at the urgent request of the editors of the respective departments. Yet if the paper is not up to par he usually finds time to criticize.

Again, students often consent to write articles, but they pay no attention to the grammar, the spelling or the sentence construction they are employing. Why should they? That's what the editor is for—to correct the write-ups.

This is true. The editors are responsible for any thing that enters their particular departments, and yet it is understood that College people can write intelligible articles. And they can! The only reason they do not, is that they spend too little time on the work they are attempting to do. This is such a fast age they don't have time for studying or living, much less writing for the Campus Times.

Are you one of these students? Perhaps you don't realize that the editors spend much more time than they should correcting material. Of course the editor receives entire credit for all mistakes in the paper, and yet, should you not do your part in assisting that editor?

How many of the students would like to see a paper in print just as the material was handed in? How many of the reporters would like to have their name printed at the close of their articles? If such was the case, no doubt the writers would be more careful. Then they would be proud that they were the authors of said articles.

Students, it's up to you. You have said you wanted a school paper. Put your words into action and give your editors your heartiest support.

Several students made a trip to the "L" during the holidays. Those accomplishing said trip were Mr. and Mrs. Fox, Alice Davis, Helen and Ethel Winslow, and Royal Ott.

part of the dining hall was decorated with the Senior Penant and colors. The Seniors assembled themselves about a long table loaded down with eats, and ate until they could eat no more. This event ended a long looked for day, and will be a landmark to the Class of '22.

The Administration has granted to the Commission the proceeds from the concert which will be given by the Lyric and Glee Clubs this week. The Commission proposes to use the money to buy Annuals, which are to be sent to prospective students.

The Commission is planning a banquet to be given to the football men in the near future.

The Commissioner of Publications announces that 275 Annuals have been signed for. This year's Annual will be an unusually fine one and will cost $2.50.

The Commissioner of Debaing announces that arrangements are being made for Varsity debates with Redlands and Caltek.

KATMAI AND THE VALLEY OF TEN THOUSAND SMOKES

The second number of the La Verne College Music and Lecture Course was given by Mr. Lucius Grant Folsom Friday evening. Mr. Folsom, having been with the National Geographic Expedition of 1915-16-17-19, came to La Verne under the auspices of the National Geographic Society with a hundred or more colored pictures and a reel of moving pictures, illustrating the phenomena of the greatest volcanic eruption of recent times, in Alaska.

Mr. Folsom first gave a few pictures illustrating the damages done by the ash from the eruption of Mt. Katmai in 1912. It even drove the wild animals and vermin from their abode for many miles around, and completely killed the forest and plant life.

Next we were shown pictures of the wonderful scenery along the trail that leads from the port to the "Hot place in Alaska." The gorges cut by some of the streams are equalled only by the Grand Canyon of the Colorado.

Mt. Katmai is the largest active volcano in the world. The rim of the crater is three miles in diameter. After exploring this region for some time, the party discovered the Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes.

ELVA GILLETTE ENTERTAINS IN LOS ANGELES

Friday evening, Nov. 25th, Elva Gillette was hostess at a delightful party held at the home of her brother in Los Angeles. A large group of students were present and also several from Los Angeles. The evening was spent with games, music and various stunts. The electric shocking machine proved to be more shocking than electric,—much to the surprise of several of the brave young ladies; and the cleverness of the entertainers completely overwhelmed the bewildered boys.

Delicious refreshments of jello, cake and coffee were served, and a great many apples and nuts disappeared around the open fire place. The guests, hoping that Elva would have another party soon, left reluctantly for their journey back to La Verne.

Those present from La Verne were Mary Gockley, Wanda Carl, Jeanette King, Eva Brownsberger, Hazel and Martha Brubaker, Pauline and Maurine Miller, Marguerite Ives, Beulah Noll, Cecil Brower, John Price, David Bomberger, Ernest Landis, Archie Brooks, George King, Ralph Netzley and Frank Gillette.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

Friday, Nov. 24, Rae Brubaker gave a birthday party in honor of her brother Harvey, the Academy Seniors being the favored guests. The parlor was artistically decorated in the class colors, green and white, and with the Senior pennant.

The evening was spent in playing games, telling fortunes, and redeeming forfeits. The final event of the evening, as usual, was the "bringing on of the eats," which consisted of green and white cake, green jello and punch. At the time for departure, the only regret that prevailed was that Harvey had but one birthday a year.

"The Penalty of Pride."

BECKNER HOME SCENE OF MERRIMENT

The home of A. J. Beckner was a scene of merriment Thanksgiving evening, when Lucile and Howard Beckner entertained a group of young people at dinner. There was no doubt as to the hunger of the football boys who were present and, of course, after such a thrilling and exciting game the spectators had also "worked up some appetite." At 7 o'clock all were ready for "that wonderful chicken dinner" and all its "fixings" and "followings."

The rooms were very appropriately decorated with autumn leaves. The place cards were very unique. Between courses, jokes and stories were told. John Price "peeled forth" in song, and Ray Root read an original poem.

The remainder of the evening was spent in playing games and in visiting. Those who enjoyed the successful affair were Cathryn Byerly, Martha Brubaker, Eva Brownsberger, Lucile Beckner, Harvey Gibble, Wilbur Gibson, Ernest Landis, John Price, Ray Root and Howard Beckner.

THANKSGIVING FEED AT THE DORM

The dormitory students almost imagined they were home Thanksgiving evening, for the dinner served was almost like Thanksgiving dinners at home.

The dining hall was very artistically decorated, the tables being arranged in a big letter "T." Very unique place cards, consisting of Bible questions and answers, helped to carry out the artistic scheme. "Music while you eat," was the result of the kind heartedness of the boys, who permitted the use of their victrola for the occasion.

Roast chicken, with all the "trimmings" was only part of the many good things prepared by Auntie Michaels. The Dorm students would be thankful if Thanksgiving came oftener.

KOLLEGE KNEWS

The first quarter report cards decorated with A's, B's and C's, etc. were distributed last week in chapel, and Chapter I of the year 1921-'22 was ended.

Mr. and Mrs. Leland Brubaker returned Sunday, November 27th, from Oakland. They report successful meetings and a delightful visit. Everyone is glad to hear the cheery voices of Mr. and Mrs. Brubaker in the halls again.

Mary Hoke became assistant cook in the Dorm December 1, and Ruth Emley, her predecessor, has enrolled in several classes with the intention of graduating next spring.

Professor Emmert visited Fig Garden Thanksgiving day, Fresno Friday evening, and Raisin City Saturday and Sunday, where he gave illustrated lectures.

Several of the boys went deep sea fishing the day following Thanksgiving. They certainly cast their nets with faith and fervor on the other side of the boat, for the dorm had fried fish three times a day, until the students who ate thereof began to feel decidedly "finny."

Orville Brooks, a former La Verne student who has been a visitor here for the last few weeks, left for Modesto last Tuesday.

Marion Roynon, who was enrolled this year among the College Freshmen, accompanied Orville Brooks north. The students miss his cheery voice and pleasant smile, and were as sorry to have him leave as he was to go. His enthusiasm and support in the College activities will surely be missed.

The five days vacation at Thanksgiving left every one with a delightfully well-fed feeling. The dormitory students enjoyed a delicious dinner at 7 o'clock after the game. The satisfied feeling of victory and the good "eats" made another one of those "perfect days"

Miss Kathryn Harshbarger spent the holidays at the home of Esther Renkle in Pasadena.

Cecil Brower, Maurine Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Fox and son Dallas, took Thanksgiving dinner at the King home.

What happens Dec. 21 and 22?

Misses Wanda Carl and Marguerite Dickey were the guests of Cathryn Byerly on Thanksgiving Day.

Mina, Olive, Verna and Alta Shirk took their turkey dinner at the home of Dr. Shirk.

Mr. Harry Brandt gave an interesting talk in chapel Thursday morning on the subject, "The Importance of Doing One's Best." He stressed the phrase, "going the second mile," and gave the students some very timely suggestions.

Miss Culley spent several days during the Thanksgiving holidays at Redlands, visiting friends.

Mary Gockley enjoyed the visit of her father, Mr. S. C. Gockley, during the Thanksgiving holidays.

Academy Defeats Monrovia

Friday the La Verne Academy basket ball team traveled to Monrovia to stage a practice contest. Upon arrival the team's righteous indignation was aroused by the basket ball court, which was covered by a good inch of dust. The La Verne men showed their presence of mind, however, by watering and lining off the court.

The Monrovia coach felt he had at least three teams that could send the La Verne quintet home defeated. The first team was out played by the La Verne men, and at the end of the first quarter another team was ushered in, but alas, they were similar and alike unto the first. The La Verne men did not show their usual fight and were decidedly off on goal shooting, but still the score was 12 to 4 at the end of the first half. It would have been 30 to 4 if the team had played true to form.

In the second half the regulars were sent in by Monrovia, who were faster than their predecessors, and put more vim and pep into the La Verne outfit and gave the large crowd of spectators a few thrills.

Every man fought his best the rest of the game, as is indicated by the final score, 24 to 13.

"Write Gifts" For Everybody

and sure, 'tis the "Write things" you should give or that is at least the gift you'd like to receive. And of course you know what a large variety of "Write Gifts" Frasher's (in Pomona) have for your selection—such as Fountain Pens, $2.50 and up, genuine Eversharp Pencils, 50c and up; Address, Diary, and Date books, 25c and up; and best of all, a gift box of "gifty" stationery.

Mrs. J. L. Miller entertained a number of the Sollege students at a dinner Saturday evening. The occasion was in honor of Mr. J. L. Miller's birthday and the return of Mr. Ernest Root.

second half, Roynon, who had charge of the team due to the absence of the Coach, sent in a small whirlwind by the name of Kreps, who proceeded to shoot goals while Corona stood and wondered. Next Dickey was sent in, and he fought like a wild cat.

The La Verne team as a unit did better work and snappier and more accurate passing than any time this season.

THE PRODIGAL STUDENT

A certain man had two sons, and it came to pass in the first year of President Harding that the younger of them said to his father, "Father, give me the portion of goods that falleth unto me." And he divided his goods unto them.

And not many days after, the younger son gathered all together, not forgetting his $14 shirts, silk hose, flashy cravats, and large collection of portraits of various and sundry specimens of the female sex, and took his journey into a far country to a distant college, for he expected to sharpen his wits against the grindstone of academic life.

But there he wasted his substance in riotous living. Ice cream sodas, cherry flips, pies, doughnuts, chocolates, treating, etc., etc., soon consumed his board and tuition.

And when he had spent nearly all, there came a statement from the business manager's office, and the young man began to be in want.

And he went and joined himself to a citizen of that country in after school hours, and he sent him into his orange groves to perform grievous labor. And he fain would have paid his bill with the candy wrappers, chewing gum coupons, and movie tickets which he had collected, but no man bade him.

And when vacation came, a large portion of his bill was still unpaid.

When the young man came to himself he said, "How many hired servants of my father have bread and gasoline enough and to spare, and I am in great want.

"I will arise and go to my father and will say unto him, 'Father, I am a boob. I have erred before men and in thy sight, and am no longer worthy to be supported by thee: make me as one of thy hired servants, that I may earn enough to discharge my obligations so foolishly incurred.'"

And he arose and came unannounced to his home town, but his father, knowing that school was out, was at the depot looking for him.

And the son said unto him, "Father, I am a boob. I have erred before men and in thy sight and am no longer worthy to be supported by thee. Make me as one of thy hired servants that I may earn enough to discharge my obligations so foolishly incurred."

And his father fell on his neck and kissed him, and said, "Son, thy debt shall be cancelled," and because he was a wise father he continued, "but you shall indeed become as one of my hired servants. Your wages, however, are to be used toward college expenses for another year, for I perceive that your experience at this educational institution has caused an idea to sprout where none grew before."

Then the father said to the mother, "Mother, bring forth the best cake and pie and put it upon the table, and kill the fatted hen, for this our son, who was a financial boob, has learned the A B C's of economic wisdom." And they began to be merry. And because of the great change in the young man, the elder brother had no complaint to make.

There is a Work to be Done—Elva Gillette.

Quartette; A Thot of Him—Beulah Noll, Susan Stoner, Phil Smith and Harvey Emley.

Christian Service—Ralph Netzley. Reading; The Man Who Died For Me—Bertha Swihart.

Quartette; No One But You.

Up to date the team have visited Hemet, Pomona, South and East Los Angeles, Long Beach and Inglewood. They feel encouraged over the work and are looking forward to their visit at other places in the near future.

Not long ago the Student Volunteers diverted from the usual plan of having their business meeting at noon or after 3.45, and had it in the evening. They met in the Expression Room, and after discussing several vital problems and transacting the necessary business, they had a good social time. They played several games such as Sunday baseball. After light refreshments were served, they departed to their several abodes. More of such meetings are being planned for the future.

ACADEMY DEBATING OFFICERS INSTALLED

At the first meeting of the Academy Debating Club, Nov. 18, the following officers were elected:

President, Urbin Hartman.
Vice President, Ramah Maust.
Secretary Treasurer, Marguerite Dickey.

President Funderburgh conducted the installation service, in which he enumerated the respective duties of each officer. The members unanimously agreed to co-operate with them to the best of their ability. In his talk, he stated that the work of a debating club was difficult and it was essential that every member push and not drag. Mrs. Haugh, as coach of the club, outlined her intended work for the year.

On account of overwork, Urbin Hartman was forced to resign, but under the leadership of Wilbur Hoke, the new president, great things are being expected.

Representatives from La Verne are to meet with Claremont to decide on a question for Interscholastic debate. The inter-class trophy cup debate will precede the interscholastic debate and the question will be the same.

Mr. Ernest Root has returned to La Verne. He will attend College next semester, receiving his A. B. in the spring. In the meantime he expects to work on the gymnasium. The College Seniors are very glad that Mr. Root has returned, for he will increase their number to seven.
