OPENING OF NEW SCHOOL YEAR WITH AN ENROLLMENT OF 160

La Verne College has again opened her doors to another year of hard work and great achievements. Although the enrollment is not up to the hopes and expectations of every one interested, there are still others who may arrive later. It is hoped that the quality of the 160 students enrolled may make up for the larger number that was anticipated.

The Academy and College departments are quite evenly balanced this year, there being 73 enrolled in the Academy and 70 in the College. With the addition of 17 special students, L. V. C. is preparing for a greater year than any she has yet experienced.

We are glad to welcome a new Faculty member, Miss Ruth Williams, Professor of Romance Languages. It is hoped that she will learn to love La Verne as promptly and devotedly as our other new teachers have done.

All the classes and most of the organizations of the school have organized for the year, and are beginning to work out their plans. The College Seniors—they of the cap and gown—have organized themselves as follows:

President John Price
Vice President Maurine Miller
Secretary Estella Landis
Treasurer Howard Beckner

With the aid of President Funderburgh, the class advisor, the eleven Seniors hope to make this last year the biggest and best of their school life.

An even dozen intellectual looking Juniors have chosen their officers as follows:

President Guy Jordan
Vice President Eve Brownsberger
Secretary Mary Gockley
Treasurer Byrl Harper

The College Sophomores, numbering twenty-one, filled with the wisdom and understanding of their class, have cast about among their number and selected several distinguished looking people, in whom all authority and responsibility of this illustrious class shall rest:

President Ben F. Hepner
Vice President Fern Griggs
Secretary Alida Larimer
Treasurer Chase Harper
Reporter Esther Renkel

It falls to the lot of every College student to be a College Freshman at least once. Therefore the school is ever aware of its college Frosh. Twenty-six of these beings now inhabit the halls of La Verne. No startling signs of juvenility have as yet been manifested. They have organized with speed and cleverness becoming their elder brethren.

President Bertram Betts
Vice President Ramah Maust
Secretary Lois Johnson
Assistant Secretary John Brooks
Treasurer Rolland Stutzman

The Academy Seniors, numbering twenty-three, hold the largest enrollment of any class in that department. A strong triumvirate has been selected from this number to guide the class thru its last Academy year.

President Frances Arnold
Secretary Lois Sheller
Treasurer Otis Brooks

The nineteen Academy Juniors comprise a very original and lively class. A great deal will be expected from this group. Their organization is as follows:

President Orville Brooks
Vice President Olive Shirk
Secretary Ruth Van Dyke
Treasurer Glenn Kreps

In the Academy Sophomore class, of seventeen members, women's rights prevail. If the men of this class intend to have a voice in the government, they will be forced to speak under the authority of the following executive group:

President Verna Shirk
Vice President Verda Brubaker
Secretary Cecilia Shaffer
Treasurer Alberta Maust

Fourteen ambitious Academy Freshmen have declared themselves a unit by the following organization, which appears in the nature of a mixed quartette:

President Galen Smith
Vice President Doris Welch
Secretary Beulah Fink
Treasurer Harry Blickenstaff

FACULTY RECEPTION

Tuesday evening, September 12th, marked the opening social event of the year. The Faculty met the students in the gymnasium at 7:30 for a get-acquainted good time. After the students had all safely passed the long line of Faculty members, each received a small card on which to write his name to be pinned on himself and worn during the remainder of the evening, as a means of learning each other's names.

A hand shaking contest was indulged in, several persons being the winners of a "handsome bust of Abe Lincoln done in bronze," as Professor Davis expressed it, the said bust being done on a copper penny.

But most enjoyable of all, was the punch and wafers served to the students. After an amazing quantity of the delicious thirst-quencher had vanished, President Funderburgh addressed the crowd in his usual pleasing manner. This event of the year is always an enjoyable one, as old friends meet again and new friends are made.

JUNIOR GIRLS POLISH THE SCHOOL TROPHIES

Five of our Academy Junior girls have manifested a commendable school spirit by a willingness to do some of the "dirty work" of the school. As a result, our eight beautiful silver cups are shining in all their glory, due to an earnest application of silver polish and Junior pep.

The school extends thanks to the quintette of Junior maidens. The polishing crew consisted of Minnie Dickey, Miriam Shirk, Irene Brooks, Olive Shirk and Lois R. Miller.

ARE YOU KEEPING IN TOUCH WITH YOUR COLLEGE?

It is your church school. Your friends are here. Are you interested in school athletics?

Are you interested in our social life?

Are you interested in the Mission Band?

Are you interested in that chum of yours?

You can get it all in the columns of the Campus Times.

That chum is a modest fellow, so if you want to know what he is really doing, get it in the Campus Times.

Follow that football team across the line.

Follow it through the Campus Times.

Keep in touch with the college spirit. There's no better way than through a peppy school paper.

Such a paper is the Campus Times.

L. V. C. WELCOMES NEW STUDENTS

We have a number of new students this year. They come from far and near—just look over the list and see who they are:

Florence and Rose Landis come to the Academy Senior class from Live Oak, with lots of pep, and we are expecting great things from them.

Ivan Brooks, from Ceres, California, is one of our future football stars. Remember the Brooks of former years.

Lois Johnson, from Empire, is enrolled in the College Freshman class. She is a niece of Miss Vesta Sanger.

Pearl Whitcher comes to us from Glandale, Arizona.

Live Oak sends several students to us this year, and one who has never been here before is Clovie Carroll.

Fred Neher is here again, from McFarland, and is in the Academy Junior class.

Miss Edith Bowman adds one more to the Academy Senior class. She comes from Inyokern.

Velma Maust comes from Seattle, Washington, and is making her home with Mr. and Mrs. John Throne.

Miss Eva Brownsberger's home is now in La Verne. Her brothers, Milton and Rolland are also attending school.

Lois Sheller comes from Raisin, California. She is another Academy Senior.

Paul Royer comes as an Academy Sophomore, from Fresno.

Verda Brubaker, from Azusa, is also an Academy Sophomore. She is a niece of Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Brubaker, and is making her home with them.

Lillian Neher, a sister of Fred, is in school this year.

Frances McCahill joins the ranks of the College Sophomore class.

It is to be hoped that these new students will soon feel quite at home in La Verne.

We have 14 green "little" freshies, As green as we have ever had; We are hoping they don't all get scared And go running home to Dad.

CHAPEL PERIODS ARE INSTRUCTIVE

School opened with chapel services at eleven o'clock Tuesday forenoon, September 12. At that hour President I. V. Funderburgh told of the school, its traditions, standards, activities, and ideals. It proved especially beneficial to the new students and caused the old ones to realize more fully their responsibility.

Mr. L. J. Lehman, superintendent of the students at the Sunday School of the Church of the Brethren, spoke at the chapel service Wednesday, September 14. His theme was "Get the Religious Habit," and he closed his talk with a very cordial invitation to the college students to attend the regular Sunday School and church services.

On Friday of the first week—student body day—Professor D. W. Lefever discussed the commission form of government, and introduced the commissioners for the ensuing year. This proved interesting to all, and gave the new students helpful information.

Monday, September 18, Professor J. C. Brandt addressed the students, using as his text, "By Your Fruits Are Ye Known." He showed the verification through nature, and applied it to school life and its participants.

Although the world is large and each individual seems very small, his efforts reach farther than he usually realizes. This was the gist of a talk given by Rev. D. B. Loofbourrow, pastor of the Methodist Church, to the college students Wednesday, September 20.

COLLEGE STUDENT VOLUNTEERS ORGANIZE

The Student Volunteer Band is looking forward to a busy year. Being the spiritual organization in the college, it has a place to fill in helping that phase of the student's life. The opportunities and calls for Christian service are many. Although the organization of the work is among the Student Volunteers, a hearty co-operation of all the students is needed to carry out the program of Christian service.

The Mexican Prayer Meeting groups are re-organized for the year, and are ready to use every student available. The Practical Service Committee is planning to organize the Sunday afternoon singing groups more extensively. A hearty welcome is given to all the students to enter these activities and to attend the programs on Sunday morning at 8:45.

The following officers have been elected and appointed for the coming year.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE
President Susan Stoner
Vice President Vera Hoover
Secretary Estella Landis
Treasurer Howard Beckner
Chairman of Practical Service Committee Kathryn Harshbarger

PROGRAM COMMITTEE
Vera Hoover, Chairman; Ruth Emley, Chorister; Lloyd Funk.

MEMBERSHIP COMMITTEE
Alida Larimer, Chairman; Esther Renkel, Ora Weddle.

POSTER COMMITTEE
Wanda Carl, Chairman; Jess Frantz Florence Kreps.

PRACTICAL SERVICE COM.
Kathryn Harshbarger, Chairman; Lois Miller, Herman Landis, Velma Noll, Diamond Hartman.

ALUMNI NEWS

As the school year opens and the college halls are again filled with students, there are many whose minds wander back to their Alma Mater. Some have found their way back as instructors in the College, but the majority of the Alumni are widely scattered, and an attempt will be made in these columns to trace the whereabouts of most of them.

Mr. P. J. Wiebe, the first to receive a degree from La Verne College, was a visitor here last week. He is still engaged in educational work at Uplands, California.

Minneva J. Neher, who has spent several years of strenuous work at Bethany Bible School, and as Secretary of the Student Volunteers of the Church of the Brethren, is spending this year at home in La Verne.

Two of La Verne's Alumni have found their places in the foreign field. Mrs. Ina Marshburn Kaylor and Mr. Fred Hollenberg are now on the Indian mission field.

John and Roxie (Snell) Coffman have the pastorate of the Laton Church, Laton, California. They have been very successful in building up a rural church. In the same field of work are Albert and Mabel (Crist) Brubaker, who are at Rice Lake, Wisconsin. Mr. and Mrs. Brubaker went out for the summer and were so successful that they were persuaded to stay for the year.

Elliott Thomas has the principalship of the Intermediate school at Burbank, California. Mrs. Olive Stouffer Thomas is a teacher in the Burbank Grammar school.

Among the others in the teaching profession who were members of the class of '21, are Florence Julius at Bender School, Riverdale; Naomi Harshbarger in her home school at Lindsay, California; Hazel Minnich in the Virden High School, Virden, Ills; George Hollenberg, in the High School at Connersville, Indiana; and D. Welty Lefever, Pauline Miller and Marie Woody Brubaker among the faculty at La Verne.

David Bomberger has charge of the boys' division at San Diego, Calif.

Truman Funderburgh is still in the Civil Service work in Los Angeles.

Hazel Brubaker and Elva Gillette, of last year's class, have returned to teach in La Verne Academy.

Beulah Noll is teaching in a rural school near Lindsay, California.

Ernest Root is engaged in religious work in Oregon.

Ralph Netzeley is taking further medical work in Ann Arbor, Michigan.

Herman Landis is teaching in the La Verne Grammar School.

Although this does not complete the list, or give much information, we hope to hear more of our Alumni later.

WHAT WILL THIS YEAR BRING FOR LA VERNE COLLEGE?

Another year of school life has begun. After a vacation busily and happily spent, we are back to La Verne ready for work again. Though we may not realize it now, there is no time in our lives about which we will think so often as our college days, and which will be of such value to us when we are out in our chosen vocations, for it is here we make habits, friendships, and associations which will never be broken.

We want to give the new students a hearty welcome, and to let those who are not with us again know how much we miss them. Activities have already started off splendidly this year. Plans which it sometimes takes two or three weeks to make are now in operation. The spirit among the students toward our new commission, and that of the commission toward the student body is fine. Athletics have started with pep and enthusiasm. We have good social times and are getting better acquainted.

But are we going to be satisfied, students, with the achievements and events of last year? No! We are going ahead to accomplish bigger and better things if we only live up to our opportunities.

To uphold the true spirit of La Verne College and to reach our goal for this year, it will take nothing more nor less than the hearty support, co-operation, and good will of each individual student. Not every one can be on the commission or on the football team, but every one can work. Any football man will testify that the fellow who refuses to carry water on the field just because he was not elected captain of the team, is not the fellow who is wanted in a football squad. We do not want that spirit here.

None of those whom we have chosen to lead our activities can succeed this year without the backing of every student who makes up our school. New students have come to take the place of those who cannot return. The school is not the same as it was last year, or as it will be next year. It is the success or failure of this year that we are responsible for now. To make our college bigger, not only in numbers, but also in spirit and kindly feeling, and better in every way, is a personal task for each of us this year.

Let us keep our ideals high, be willing to do any task assigned to us, large or small, keep the interests of our school first and foremost in our minds, and then, by upholding the four-fold life—the spiritual, physical, mental and social—as a goal for each student, make this year one of the best in the history of La Verne College.

COMMISSION NOTES

The Commission elected at the close of the last school year is already busy with the multiple problems of the Student Body. The respective Commissioners—Phil Smith, Commissioner of Finance; Viola Neher, Commissioner of Student Welfare; Wayne Bohn, Commissioner of Athletics; Paul Throne, Commissioner of Debating; and Martha Brubaker, Commissioner of Publications—met and organized, with Phil Smith as Chairman and Martha Brubaker as Secretary. They meet once a week with Professor Davis, Professor Lefever, and Mrs. L. S. Brubaker, who are advisors from the Faculty.

The Faculty appointed Mr. A. J. Beckner as supervisor of all Student Body goods.

In accordance with the precedent formerly set, last year's Commissioners were presented with Commission pins in chapel Friday.

Jake Garber was appointed publicity reporter for all school activities.

The question of transportation to games is now under discussion. It has been suggested that a special bus be provided for the team.

The ways and means of obtaining an efficient yell leader is before the Student Body. The yell leader holds an important position in the school activities, and should be considered as holding an honorary office.

A Clean Note-Book A Good Grade

Of course one needs to be equipped—must not have to worry with a broken pencil tip or an old leaky fountain pen. Only an Eversharp with a barrel full of lead; and a fountain pen which fits your hand—one that is airtight—thus ink tight—like the Parker—will be found the perfect writing equipment—at Frasher's Kodak and Gift Shop in Pomona. You are sure to find a pen to fit your hand. They have a large floor case assortment—fine, coarse, medium—manifold and bookkeeping points—$2.50, up; with an accident guarantee which really doubly guarantees your pen.

The dormitory girls held their first devotional on Monday evening, September 18. The main feature of this meeting was a "sing" and was led by Wanda Carl. Nearly every girl was present, and an enjoyable time was had by all.

More Truth Than Poetry

With joyous heart and heavy brain
We all commence our school again.

With heavy heart and screwed up faces,
We try our best to fill our places.

Then to our work with might and main—
We're glad we're back to school again.

"Early to bed and early to rise—"
"Never before," the Freshie sighs.

Green grow the "freshies' O
Green grow the "freshies' O
The sweetest hours that I e'er spent
Are spent outside my classes O.

The teachers scowl on every han'
In every hour that passes O'
What joy in life for the freshie-man
Except outside the classes O!

Blessings on the football man—
Play the game the best you can
With thy padded pantaloons,
And thy caps shaped like spit-tunes
From my heart I give thee joy—
I was once a football boy.

Our blue-eyed Cathryn B. writes from the far east—"I'm for La Verne every time and several times in between times."

Dena says—"I'll tell you this school is some place, but La Verne is the "somet" place.

Miss Horn writes from Mexico, "I'm very much interested in La Verne. I think of the school so often and have many questions to ask about everybody and everything."

Johnny B. said—"La Verne for me," and he came back again.

And all the people said, "Amen!"

Freshman coming to La Verne (very importantly)—Which door of the car shall I get off by?

Conductor—It really doesn't make any difference, sonny, the car stops at both ends.

Martha B.:—Ruth, are you going to take anything under Welty this year? He's sure a dandy teacher.

Ruth B.:—Of course not, what's the use of paying for something I can get for nothing.

Eva B. no longer resides in the dorm, but a little thing like ten blocks distance doesn't worry her. The Peerless or the Paige is always in service, and Eve attends all school functions quite promptly.

Dr. Arnett (in Education class)—"I want someone to answer this question who has never had any education. (Turning to John P.)—Johnny, can you answer it?"

A man who traveled extensively gave this as one of the funniest idioms about mealtime he had heard:

Among the Pennsylvania Dutch he heard a girl calling to her brother in the street, "Come in here and eat yourself once. Ma and I are on the table now and pa's half et already."

This world is rough, but never mind,
Keep singing as you go;
For if you stop to kick, you'll find
You've merely stubbed your toe.

Miss Sanger:—Clarence, what shall I do with these numbers?

Clarence O.:—Add 'em.

Miss Sanger:—And what else, Harry?

Harry B. (sleepily):—Eve.

"The gentleman is not so much the man who forgets himself as the man who thinks of others."

"If one ever had correct ideas,
A Boston lady had e'm—
She wouldn't say chrysanthemum,
She said "Chrysanthemadam."

Howard:—Hey, John, have you ever been to an afternoon tea?

John:—No, but I've been in a phonograph shop when 18 phonographs were playing at once."

Howard:—Oh, that's nothing. I was in the dining room at home when my sister 'Cile entertained four of her girl friends in the parlor.

The Sophomores are so very big
The world so very small,
That to pick it up and carry it
Is scarcely work at all.

They had never met be4
But what had she 2 care
She loved him 10derly
For he was a 1,000,000aire.

OPEN FORUM

The Campus Times, published by the Student Body, is perhaps the most far-reaching advertisement of La Verne College. The many interested and loyal supporters of our school who are not in the direct vicinity of La Verne, receive their entire knowledge of the student activities through our paper. They are anxious to know what we are doing in every phase of school life. They are interested in our social events, in our athletic feats, and in our religious activities. The Campus Times staff is a means whereby material may be organized and published in an interesting way and sent to interested individuals. We cannot all be great athletes. We cannot all be debaters. We cannot all be editors. But we can all do our bit by being loyal supporters to our school paper—THE CAMPUS TIMES.

Lloyd Funk, of Pomona, filed in with the Juniors on Registration day.

Mrs. J. L. Miller entertained at dinner on September 24th the Misses Ada Moothart, Ruth Emley, Norma Reynan, and Thelma Kuns.

The second floor of the girls' dorm is once more the old snappy place. Wanda Carl, with her beaming smile and unquenchable optimism is again singing in the upper hall.

Martha and Vi, the two feminine Commissioners, are bunking together in cell No. 19. All the school chatter is daily rehearsed in this room. Maurine Miller started the school year right with her first visit to the two said young ladies Monday night. The evening was spent in study.

Mrs. Culley enjoyed a visit with her daughter, Mary Culley, in Los Angeles, Sunday, September 24. Miss Culley is taking a pre-medical course at the Southern Branch, University of California. She is also employed as secretary in the registrar's office.

Howard Benjamin Beckner, a worthy College Senior, is sorely afflicted with a bum eye. The great eye specialists of the day have made thorough examinations, and have pronounced it to be the result of the continual writing of letters to be sent a distance of 2000 miles.

Our six Lindsay students are back again this year—Velma Noll, Kathryn Harshbarger, Harris Moore, Ora Weddle, Rolland Stutzman and Viola Mae Neher of Porterville, Calif.

A Hint to the Hens

Abbie, the little girl of the family, was seated at the breakfast table one morning. As usual, eggs were served.

Either she was not hungry, or she had grown tired of the bill of fare, for very earnestly and soberly she remarked:

"I do wish hens would lay something besides eggs."

A. W. S. ENTERTAIN "LITTLE SISTERS"

Wednesday, September 13, was the first big day of the season for the members of the Associated Women Students. About four o'clock in the afternoon all the college women gathered together their "smaller sisters," and escorted them to the expression room. They eagerly waited here until orders were given to follow the leaders. After parading the campus and town, and letting the envious on-lookers know that there was to be "something doing," the procession hit the trail for Barny's home. When everyone knew where they were going and that something new was awaiting them, the walk seemed only a short one, and it was not long until all were comfortably seated upon the lawn at Barnhizers.

After each one had been served with a dipper of ice water taken from the tin bucket, the surprise of the day came. Arrayed in grandmother's big kitchen aprons, the waitresses passed the paper napkins. These napkins proved to be quite entertaining, since most students enjoy reading news from the "Times" or "Examiner." Then for the watermelons, which were last, but not least—served on kettle lids, tin platters, and pans of all descriptions, and eaten with "silverware" such as can openers and butcher knives gathered from various parts of the household. But these odd articles only helped to make the affair more informal.

Then with certain dignified college women gracefully chasing each other around trees and posts, sending showers of water upon the unaware, and gliding up and down the cement walk on coasters, no one could say that the little sisters went away without some of the "newness" worn off, and feeling as if their big sisters were only little ones grown up, after all.

A JOLLY GOOD TIME AT LOIS MILLER'S

"Saturday night at the hour of eight Make your appearance, and don't be late.

The number of the house is 307— We won't keep you out as late as eleven—

The house is placed on North E street, Where, perhaps, you'll find something to eat.

If we don't see you, we'll be very sad, Be sure to come and make us glad."

Thus ran the invitation sent out by Miss Lois M. Miller to the mem-ber of her Mexican prayer meeting group. The young people were entertained in-formally with games and music. Pie a la mode was served as refreshments.

BIG WATERMELON FEED

A custom which is of much interest to all La Verne College people is the annual get-together meeting at the first of the year. This year, under the direction of the Welfare Commis-sioner, a watermelon feed was enjoyed by the students. Nearly all of the followers of the Orange and Green were assembled on the large north court of the campus. Here a number of new and interesting games were played. One of especial interest ended with a number of blackened faces.

Paul Revere would have been great-ly shocked if he could have seen the reproduction of his famous midnight ride.

Mr. Alva Brower, a noted (?) lec-turer, gave one of his most instruc-tive addresses. Then the Bingo quartet, the pride of L. V. C., sang several songs.

Of course the watermelons were a very important part of the evening, but in order to receive even a little piece, the group in two long lines had to march around the campus and then back with a partner.

These get-together meetings are greatly enjoyed by the students, as it gives an opportunity to become better acquainted.

FAREWELL FOR MISS HELEN WINSLOW

Miss Estella Landis and Mr. Her-man Landis entertained a group of Live Oak young people at their apart-ment on Third Street on Friday even-ing, September 15. The occasion was a farewell for Miss Helen Winslow. The evening was thoroughly enjoyed, and the refreshments met with com-plete satisfaction of all present. Her-man and Estella know what people like to eat in warm weather.

Those present besides the host and hostess were the Misses Clovie Car-roll, Helen, Ada, and Ethel Winslow, and Mr. Simeon Davis.

Miss Helen Winslow left Septem-ber 18 for Fresno, where she is now attending Normal school. She ex-pects to be with us at L. V. C. again next year.

PRESIDENT AND MRS. FUNDERBURGH ENTERTAIN FACULTY

Thursday, September 21, 1922, Pres-ident and Mrs. Funderburgh enter-tained the Faculty at an afternoon tea.

During the afternoon each one had an enjoyable time talking and be-coming better acquainted with each other. Later refreshments of wafers, punch and after dinner mints were served.

Before leaving each member of the Faculty expressed a hearty thank you to President and Mrs. Funderburgh.

KOLLEGE KNEWS

NOTICE

After quite an extended absence from school, Miss Bertha Fike is en-rolled in the Academy Senior class.

Miss Pearl Witcher spent Satur-day afternoon and Sunday with her aunt in Glendora.

Miss Lillian Neher visited friends and relatives in Upland Sataurday and Sunday.

Vi has spent only one night with 'Cile so far this year—quite a sin-gular phenomenon.

Mr. Walter Gilbert went to his home in Los Angeles Saturday after-noon to spend Sunday with his parents.

On Thursday evening the Mexican Prayer Meeting groups began their year's work. Instead of going into so many Christian homes, as was done last year, the plan is to take the Mex-ican Christian friends with the groups and go into more of the non-Christian homes. Students, there is a place for you in some of these groups.

Any of the Alumni having received the A. B. degree, who want a College pin, please give or send their order to John Price.

Miss Elva Gillett spent Saturday and Sunday at the home of her brother in San Bernardino.

Miss Esther Renkel went to Los An-geles Saturday, where she visited with friends until Monday.

Misses Wanda Carl and Nova Leon-ard spent the week end at their homes in Hermosa Beach.

Miss Lois Lehmer spent Saturday and Sunday at her home in Los An-geles.

Miss Vessie Noll was unable to be in school last week because of illness. We hope she will soon be back with us again.

Dr. Hoover suffered from an at-tack of sciatica during the past week. He was able to return to his classes Saturday.

Several teachers and students at-tended the "Pilgrim Paly" in Holly-wood Friday and Saturday nights. They report it a splendid production.

Pres. Funderburgh left Friday af-ternoon for Elgin, Illinois, to attend the General Christian Workers Board meeting. He expects to be gone about ten days.

The five Landises—Estella, Herman, Ernest, Rose and Florence—are living together on East Third Street. We hope there is a fair distribution of labor.

Miss Frances Arnold was hostess at a little dinner party on Tuesday evening. A two-course luncheon was served. Those present were the Misses Frances McCahill, Lois Johnson, Norma Roynan, Lois Sheller and Olive Deardorff.

Cecil Jordan and Urbin Hartman have entered school, after extending their vacation two weeks.

A great surprise was published the other day when Lois M. Miller received the announcement of the mar-riage of Miss Juna Neff and Mr. Ernest White, both former students of La Verne. Mr. and Mrs. White are making their home in Arizona.

Miss Cathryn Byerly, who was with us last year, is greatly missed. She is taking her College work at North Manchester, Indiana, but is planning to return to La Verne next year.

Miss Pauline Shirk is enrolled as a student in Chaffey Junior College this year.

Has anyone seen Zip or Diamond? It is not definitely known whether they will return or not. Roosevelt Hartman is expected in the near fu-ture.

The College students at the Satur-day Chapel services of the first week, decided to omit the regular chapel period of that day, thus closing classes at 11:30 instead of noon. The Facul-ty advised this action.

Miss Alta Shirk is making her home with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Morton on East Third street this year.

News was received that Miss Velma Hershey, a former student of La Verne was married on Monday evening to a young man from Los Angeles. They have an apartment in the city for the present.

Mrs. Rose Ebersole is our new as-sistant cook this year. Mrs. Hoke is still with us and, is preparing splen-did meals for the dormitory students.

Dorothy Arnold and Mollie Rhodes arrived from Modesto last Sunday, where they have been making their fortunes in the profession of fruit cutting.

Mr. Dallas Fox, son of J. W., has started upon his twenty years of edu-cation as a student in the La Verne kindergarten.

Mr. and Mrs. Orie Holderman spent a few days of their honeymoon as guests at the J. S. Brower home. Mrs. Holderman will be remembered as Miss Carol Randall, a former La Verne student. The happy couple will reside in Fresno, where Mr. Hold-erman is employed at the post office.

The College Department met on Sat-urday, September 23, for the first time this year. Miss Martha Brubaker, the Vice President of last year, presided. Professor Frantz brought up the ques-tion of whether the College Depart-ment should have a Christian Work-ers Society of their own. Discussion was called for, and arguments were presented on both sides of the pro-posal. It was decided to postpone the decision until a future meeting.

Anyone who thinks the dormitory people are not going to have enough to eat this winter should come and visit our fruit room. According to the latest count there are 2,230 quarts of fruit and vegetables with which to sustain the hungry students. The person who is responsible for this substantial result of a summer's labor is none other than our splendid cook, Mrs. Hoke. The assistance which she received from the Ladies Aid is very much appreciated. Students, when you are eating fruit this winter, give three cheers for Mrs. Hoke.

FOOTBALL MEN AT WORK COACH ARNETT AT HELM

College football practice started off last week with a "boom!" About twenty-five men were out for the first practice. Several new fellows are looking good for positions on the team. Among these fellows are John Brooks, Ivan Brooks, Harris Moore, Lloyd Funk, Ora Weddle and Alva Brower. Another good thing is that four of these men are Freshmen.

All of last year's team are back except four—Herman Moomaw, Ralph Netzley, "Dutch," and Royal Ott. The old men are back with all the old fight and pep, and also with a little sack of last year's experience. "Hop" and Ben are back at their old half-back positions again. John Brooks is, without doubt, the best candidate for full-back. Captain John Price, playing quarter back, has the job of piloting the La Verne team through the season of 1922. Much of the success or failure will depend on his ability and headwork. Paul Throne, Byrl Harper and Alvin Marshburn will probably regain their positions on the line. We are expecting Ivan Brooks, a 206-pounder from Ceres, to do some wonderful work at right guard. He is the heaviest man on the team. Beckner, Smith, Betts, and Guy Jordan are fighting for end positions. Byrl Harper, Levi Dickey and Cecil Jordan will change off at center.

The schedule for the season is not quite full, but the first game will be this week. Let's all get behind the football fellows and see them through a successful season.

MISSION BAND PROGRAMS INTERESTING

The opening of the school year brought a renewal of various organizations of the College. Among them, the Student Volunteers are making a special effort to have the Sunday morning programs as helpful as possible.

The first Sunday Mrs. Grace Miller had charge of a program, introducing the Mexican work. The pastor of the Mexican Mission, Sotero Mageno, and several other Mexican Christians, gave talks and songs. It was shown how Christianity had changed their lives, and how the students could have a part in helping them. A number of students have arranged to take part in the Christian Americanization work among the Mexicans.

Sunday, September 24, a splendid program was given by the students on the theme, "The Value of Prayer." Both speeches and songs contributed to a rich, spiritual atmosphere during the program, which was as follows:

- Scripture reading, John 15: 1-8.—Viola Neher.
- Devotional, (Remarks on Prayer)—J. W. Fox.
- Trio, "The Lord is My Shepherd"—Rose Landis, Lois Miller, Kathryn Harshbarger.
- Talk, "Prayer Life of Great Men,"—Dorothea Dyck.
- Talk, "Prayer, in Relation to Service"—Byrl Harper.

Fast Work

A lady who had just received an interesting bit of news said to her little daughter: "Marjorie, dear, auntie has a new baby, and now mama is the baby's aunt, papa is the baby's uncle, and you are her little cousin."

"Well," said Marjorie, wonderingly, "wasn't that arranged quick!"—Boston Transcript.

I'd rather be a Could-Be
If I could not be an Are,
For a Could-Be is a May-Be
With a chance of touching par.
I'd rather be a Has-Been
Than a Might-Have-Been, by far,
For a Might-Have-Been has never been,
But a Has was once an Are.

ACADEMY AT FOOTBALL ENTERS FIELD FIRST TIME

Another dream has been realized and another milestone gained toward the ideal of La Verne Academy, by the addition of football to its list of athletic activities. All candidates for the squad have passed physical examinations and the team has been working on signals and the technique of the game during the last week.

Blackboard practice has been started, which is drawing a diagram of each play and explaining it in detail, much in the same way as a blackboard talk is conducted. The advantage is to give each player a clear idea of what he has to do during each play.

Among the candidates are Galen Root, Bob Hanawalt, Wayne Bohn, Paul Royer, Paul Blocker, Orville Brooks, Otis Brooks, Brownsberger, "Chet" Shirk, Gerald Miller, Babe Overholtzer, Lloyd Emmers and Frank Gillett. Orville Brooks was appointed temporary captain. Ray Root, the academy coach, is well satisfied with the back-field material. With the added equipment for tackling and charging practice, there is no reason why successful football history should not be made in La Verne this year.

Young People's Conference Now a Pleasant Memory

The Young People's Conference of the Pacific Coast was held at Pacific Palisades from the fifth of September to the tenth. In many ways it was a distinct advance over the Conference of the previous year. These conferences are yet in the experimental stage with our church and many problems will have to be solved before they can become all that we hope for them.

During the summer, preparations for the Conference were made by the General C. W. Board in co-operation with the local C. W. Board. An advertising team visited each young people's group in Southern California, posters were placed in the churches, and booster tags were given those who signed the preliminary registration slips. Many looked forward to Conference time as the bright spot of the summer vacation.

The opening day of the Conference found about eighty young people on the grounds. On all sides old friendships were renewed, and new friendships formed. The Conference spirit grew apace. The first session was a general assembly in the tabernacle. C. H. Shamberger, the general secretary of the C. W. opened the meeting with a short, informal talk, followed by an introduction of the group leaders.

The Conference proper began with the classes on Wednesday morning. It was a difficult matter to choose which class one wished to attend. Too many attractive offerings came at the same period. During the first period the choice lay between Missions, Successful Junior Societies; and Young People's Department Stewardship, Church Leadership, and How to Study the Bible, were the second period classes.

This period was followed by fifteen minutes of snappy recreation. The third period offered Life Work Choices, Recreation, and the Young People's Department.

Then came the general assembly, conducted by C. Ernest Davis. The group was led in an inspiring study of the Church of the Brethren—its history, message, and personal challenge.

From two thirty to six, the time was given over to recreation, mass games, and surf bathing. After the afternoon's fun a lively and hungry bunch of young people collected in the cafeteria for supper. Jolly groups of four gathered at the tables to eat and talk together. Singing and cheering brought the groups into common fellowship.

The call of the bugle at seven brought all together for a short vesper service. The evening session began at eight and lasted usually until nine thirty. At ten o'clock taps were sounded and the camp became quiet for the night.

berger gave an illustrated lecture on Stewardship. He substituted for M. R. Zigler, the Home Missions secretary, who, unfortunately, was ill during the entire conference. We were all very sorry that he was unable to take his classes and enjoy the Conference with us. His inspiration and help was greatly missed.

The fourth annual Fellowship Supper was held on Thursday evening. One hundred and fifty were in attendance, and enjoyed the snappy program. The various societies and young people's groups contributed to the success of the supper with readings, dialogues and musical numbers.

On Friday night the musicians and singers held the center of attention. All agreed that an unusually good musical program was rendered.

The Pasadena Young People presented a three act play, "The Cross Roads Meetin' House," at the amphitheater on Saturday night. The play was well received, and was pronounced a decided success. The cordial reception given this play will probably mean a larger interest in religious dramatics on the part of the young people.

The Conference closed on Sunday morning with a life-challenging address by Pres. Funderburgh.

STUDENT MINISTERS PLAN THEIR WORK

The Student Ministers of the College met on Friday evening, Sept. 22, and organized for the year's work by electing Simeon Davis manager.

Enthusiastic plans for carrying on the work at Moreno were made. The organization is responsible for two appointments a month at this place. A definite program of related subjects was decided upon.

Besides carrying on the work at Moreno, the organization will endeavor to supply any calls for preaching that may come from any of the churches in Southern California. So, Mr. Pastor, if you unexpectedly find yourself in a pinch, call the manager of the Student Ministers of La Verne College.
