LAVERNE COLLEGE CLOSES SUCCESSFUL YEAR

This year has been a wonderful year in more ways than one. The scholastic achievements have been of the best, the athletic teams have made an enviable record, and the school has advanced in every possible way.

This year the college has enjoyed a larger enrollment than in any year previous, and student activities have increased.

The year began with great enthusiasm on the part of the students. A student body party was held on the athletic field which gave all new students and others a fine opinion of student life. The Frosh-Soph. mud roll followed soon after with the Sophs coming out on the long end of the rope. Many other student social activities have been equally as successful.

The New Era Banquet, held on November 1st was a great success. Dr. Kurtz was the speaker and the proceeds amounted to some thousands of dollars.

"L" day was a big affair for the students. They had the best time ever, so they say.

Armistice Day or the Annual Home Coming Day was a great feature of the year.

The two weeks visit of Dr. D. W. Kurtz to the town and the campus will go down as a unique opportunity for growth in ideals.

The news from Detroit on January 6th telling of the success of Lorell Weiss, the LaVerne delegate to the International Student Volunteer's Convention, in winning the oratorical contest which gave him the position of delegate to the Youth's conference in Holland, was a great event.

Bible institute, the Clarion Four farewell concert, the Junior play, the Senior play, "Makers of War," the Spring Festival and many other affairs will be remembered by the students as very delightful occasions.

The commencement exercises next Thursday morning will close La Verne's greatest year.

MRS. ARNETT RECEIVES DEGREE

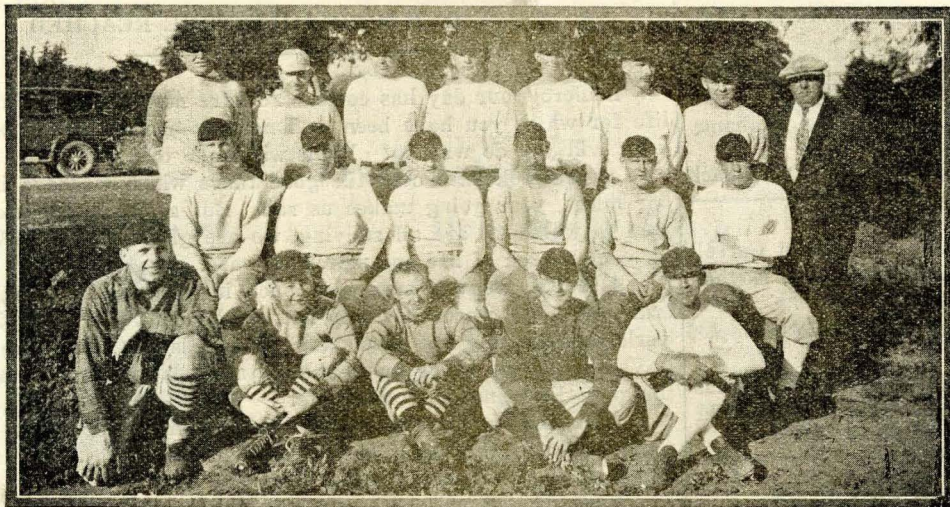

Mrs. Claude E. Arnett will receive her masters degree from Transylvania College, Lexington, KY., on the 6th of June, which will culminate ten years of extended study. She received her B.A. at that college in 1914. In 1916 and 17 she studied for her M. A. while she taught half time. She completed all requirements except her thesis during those two years.

In 1923 and 1924 she taught English and dramatics in LaVerne Academy. During the summer of 1927 she took work in Pomona College and wrote her thesis on "Education as a Means of Social Progress." This was accepted by her Alma Mater with very complimentary remarks as the fulfillment of her requirement for the degree.

Wednesday morning Rev. C. C. Heckman, a missionary on furlough from the African Mission field gave a talk in chapel about his work.

He told of some of the great problems which faced the missionary going to this field. Perhaps the greatest problem is that of dishonesty and exaggeration. As a conclusion he gave several examples which portrayed how Christianity was rapidly remedying this problem.

DR. ARNETT TAKES LEAVE FOR TRIP TO EAST

Community and School Pay Great Tribute to Favorite Professor and Civic Service Official

Dr. Claude E. Arnett, athletic coach, and instructor in the Sociology and Education department at LaVerne College for the past seven years, as well as holder of many civic offices, moved up his various duties and, with his family, left for the east yesterday afternoon where he will continue his studies at Columbia University. He plans a short visit in his old college town, Lexington, Kentucky, where Mrs. Arnett will receive her Masters Degree from Transylvania College on the 6th of June.

The past week has been quite a busy one for Dr. Arnett. His early leaving made it necessary to complete his professional duties in a shorter time than otherwise necessary. Then, too, the various organizations which have received his services during the year he has been at LaVerne were quite insistent on showing their appreciation by farewell dinners and other equivalent methods of affording him a good send off. On Thursday evening, the citizens of the community gave a farewell social in gratitude for his work as city court Judge and as a member of the elementary school board.

Students Present Gifts

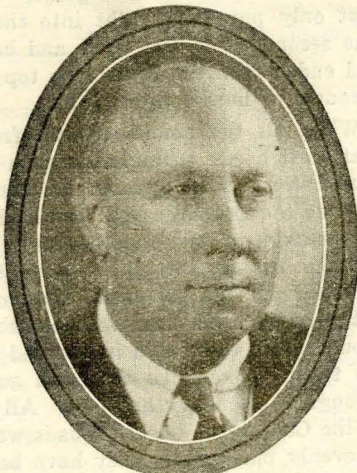

In Student body assembly last Friday morning the student body presented Dr. Arnett a large wool athletic blanket like the ones the three year letter men, receive, with the exception that his name was placed on the gift. In presenting the blanket, Glenn Vaniman, president of the Student Body, expressed the belief that the student body owes no more to any one man than it does to Coach Arnett for the high ideals which he has inspired, both in the class room and on the athletic field. It will be remembered that Coach Arnett has, single handed, raised LaVerne's athletic standing from obscurity to a respect-

Leopards Have Good Year in Sports

Outside of getting away to a bad start in football, LaVerne College has probably spent its most prosperous year in athletic competition during the past year.

Handicapped by a lack of material Coach Claude Arnett's pigskin artists got away to a bad start and were unable to develop before the final whistle blew, but soon after Coach Van Cleave started the fast Leopards off in basketball, and they played so royally that football was forgotten for a time. The Leopards took their first practice games in a whirlwind fashion and then surprised Southern California rooters by beating the much talked of Pomona Sagehens in a battle which took an extra period to decide the winner.

Then came Whittier and Oxy. Whittier was strong and well deserved all the victories she won. But Oxy was simply lucky. At least from a critics point of view. Of course that doesn't win ball games, but yet who could have seen the Oxy Tigers on the court and understand their victories? For all that they won games right and left and in the end tied none other than the Whittier Poets themselves.

Redlands played a stealthy, waiting ed position in the Southern California Athletic Conference.

The Varsity club gave a dinner on Friday noon at which Dr. Arnett was given a gold baseball as an expression of gratitude from the athletes themselves. Chester Shirk and Marion Boots paid high tributes in short talks to the clean sportsmanship which Coach Arnett had instilled into his teams.

Seniors Present Play "Smilin' Through"

The Senior play, "Smilin' Through," was a great success. It brought both laughter and tears to the eyes of all who saw it presented. As a production it was well-finished and typical of Mrs. Haugh's work as coach.

The actors ably portrayed the characters they represented. Those that were especially noticed were Simeon Davis, as the uncle; Nellie Frantz, as the bride; and Miriam Shirk, as the Irish lassie.

Simeon Davis worked so completely out of himself that he was scarcely recognized by the audience. Nellie Frantz was as sweet and charming as only an old-fashioned bride could be. Miriam Shirk played her part so well that she received a letter of commendation from a pastor of one of the Pomona churches.

As a whole the Seniors can be proud of such a presentation from their class.

ORATORICAL CONTEST

The last contest of the college year will take place at the Church of the Brethren on Wednesday evening, May 23, at 8 p. m. There will be four contestants and they will speak on some phase of the general subject "Prohibition."

This contest is sponsored by the Temperance and Purity Department of the General Welfare Board of the Church of the Brethren. The winner of the contest in each of the colleges will compete in a contest at annual Conference.

There will be no admission charge, so everyone should plan to attend this contest. The contestants are Zafon Hartman, Howard Frantz, Harold Hoff and Ed Cunningham.

Athletes Receive Awards from Students

In Friday's Student Body meeting the members of the varsity and freshmen basketball and baseball teams were awarded emblems by the Student Body for their service to the college. Coach Claude Arnett presented the awards.

The varsity men who received basketball letters and stripes were Mark Lehmer, a letter and three stripes; Marion Boots, a letter and three stripes; Chester Shirk, a letter and two stripes; Glen Kreps, a letter and two stripes; Galen Root, a letter and two stripes; Orville Brooks, a letter and two stripes; and Glenn Vaniman, a letter and two stripes.

Of the varsity baseball team the following were awarded letters and three stripes: Wayne Bohn, Capt., Mark Lehmer, and Marion Boots. Those who received a letter and two stripes were Galen Root, Chester Shirk, Orville Brooks, Francis Crites, Harold Hoff and Glen Kreps. Raymond Mahoney received a letter and one stripe for his services as baseball manager.

The freshmen who received numerals for basketball were Orville Thomason, Capt., Dale Stutzman, Vernon Weybright, Fred Hubble, and Alfred Nicolas.

Numerals were given to the following freshmen for basketball: Paul Lathrop, Capt., Ray Ferrell, Fred Hubble, Ronald Bessey, Vernon Weybright, Orville Thomason, Walter Everett Calvert, Joe Roynon, and Clarence Brubaker.

In addition to these awards Coach Arnett presented a letter and three stripes to Mark Lehmer for his work on the varsity track squad, and presented numerals to Fred Hubble and Leslie Shepherd of the Frosh track team.

All the varsity men who received two stripes will be back next year in Leopard garb, more experienced and more capable than ever. These men with the additional power received from the Frosh numeral bearers will give LaVerne some of the best balanced squads ever seen on the La Verne campus.

Because this is Coach Arnett's last year at LaVerne the Student Body, as an expression of their appreciation for what he has done for LaVerne and the athletics here, presented him with a large blanket in the College colors with the letters "Coach Arnett 1928" in green on an orange background.

FINAL NOTES FROM THE EDITORIAL PEN

And now we come to the inevitable. This editorial pen is no more. New hands must take over the duties of this paper. New forces must control it.

But before silencing this talkative pen it is only right that just credit be given to those who really made this paper the success which it was. Even the most skeptical will have to admit that we have made some gains in the past year on the Campus Times. Although we have at times omitted important news by mistake; although we have misspelled names, words, etc.; although we have, perhaps, not given just credit where credit was due, we have committed these errors altogether unintentionally.

We have made enemies of people who thought that this paper was run by favoritism, but we have held no favoritism purposely. We have tried to make this paper a representative paper of the college for which it serves, and although we have often failed in this ideal, we have so failed only because of human inabilities.

We fully realize that this paper has not reached its best. It has not reached our ideal of a college paper and we are sorry that it has not. Notwithstanding all of these failings, we believe we have had some great successes and made some wonderful advances. The quality of the news has grown gradually better throughout the year; the type of the news has become more representative, and the general plan of the paper has grown better.

Then again, from a business angle, the paper has paid for itself. We have been handicapped for the last two years by a lack of finances, but during the year we have been able to clear ourselves of our debts, and we can now look the world square in the eyes.

We have faithfully fulfilled our pledge of putting the Campus Times out on time. Although we were often pressed to the limit, and can almost attribute the successful culmination of this pledge to fate, we believe that as this was the first year in which a weekly paper at LaVerne College can show this perfect record, we, have, at least, accomplished something valuable which we hope will go down as an example to the future years in which this paper will be published.

These successes can be attributed to no one person, but must be accredited to the work of a faithful staff. No one person took all of the responsibility of putting out the Times, but many accepted and fulfilled their responsibilities to the best of their abilities.

And it is to these people that I, as editor, give the credit for the successes which this paper has made. Although a majority of the staff started inexperienced, they faithful stuck to their posts. They worked and learned as they worked. They endeavored ever to make this paper the best that they knew how. They sacrificed pleasure and good grades in order to carry out the work which they had promised to do. They have stood back of me at every turn, and all that I can say is that what advances we have made can be accredited to none other than the members of my loyal staff of workers.

Folks, I don't know how to thank them for the work which they put into the Campus Times. Loyalty can never be paid this side of heaven. And the best thing about my staff has been that spirit of loyalty upon which I have always been able to place the greatest trust.

As for myself, I'm at a loss to know what I really did on the Campus this year beside writing editorials. The news staff wrote all the news. The department editors assigned the news to the reporters and did the general supervision work. The News Editor did all the copy reading and the Make-up Department planned what should go into the paper and where each article should go. The Business Manager cared for all the books, and the Advertising Department raised the money to pay the expenses. And then the Circulation Department saw that the papers went wherever they were supposed to go.

Looking over that list of how the work was divided up, I am absolutely at a loss to discover what I did. I'm really ashamed of myself for not working more. Why, honestly, there were weeks at a time when I did not even know what the paper was going to look like until it came off the press.

An although I may not have worked as much as I should have, I am greatly pleased to think that my staff has so faithfully taken over the work and has in this way prepared for a bright future for the Campus Times. It is my only hope that these who have grown into fulfilling the needs of the paper will continue to work with it as long as they can possibly do so. With their faithfulness and the experience which they have gained in the past, it is a certainty that they can come back next year with the new editor and make the paper a real success. I hold no doubts in my mind that next year's paper will reach a place much higher than we have ever reached this year.

In all that I have done with the paper I have had but one aim: The sacrifice of the present for the well being of the future. In the future, though it may seem far off, LaVerne College will need a good paper much more than it does now, and it is for this future that we have been building.

No one man can stand all the work and strain of a college weekly. There must be many capable hands to carry on the work. And it has been my effort as editor in the last year and a half to prepare people to carry on the work of publishing this paper more competently in the future than has been done in the past. Often, to do this, I have made the mistake of placing trust in untrustworthy hands, and thus caused failures by my poor judgment. But I believe the next editor will find a good, dependable staff of workers ready to work at his call.

If this proves to be true, my chief aim as editor of this paper has been realized, but if it is not true, I have failed.

Wishing the next editor the highest of success and hoping that next year's Campus Times will be a great improvement over that of this year, I am, as ever, a loyal supporter of LaVerne College, its students, and its ideals.

ONE MORE MILESTONE REACHED

Seniors, your day has come. You are now going into that real part of life for which you have been so long preparing. Life is waiting for you; what will you do with it? What will it do to you?

As we look back over the good times which we have had with you in our midst, your going makes us sad. But as we look forward toward the goal to which we are all striving, we are glad that you are ready to take up your burden of life and march forward.

Although we will miss you much in our social and athletic and general school life, we cannot help but be glad that you are going out into the world representing the ideals and standards for which we have stood at LaVerne College. Live up to those standards ever. They are the greatest things to be gained in college life.

Your tasks in life will be big. There is much for you to do. Do it with a grin. This is the secret gate to a life of happiness. Be happy in serving others and you will never regret it.

Some of you will become great, others may never be known to the world. But however that may be, take stock of your talents which your school life should have uncovered. Then, set a goal. Set it high. Make it a goal which will tend to rid the world of its cares and sorrows. Make it a goal by which you can make men happy. If you do this and try—try forever—you will succeed. You will be great. You will be happy in your greatness. In this way you will be a help to us and all who follow. It will show us that a correct living of LaVerne's ideals will benefit us. It will strengthen us.

Thus we bid you a fond farewell. Though perhaps we may not meet again, we shall always remember the class of '28, and we sincerely hope that they will not forget their college and their friends in it.

LEOPARDS HAVE GOOD YEAR

type of basketball and in this manner won two close tilts from the Leopards. But that was soon followed up by two Leopard wins over the Caltech Engineers. Then it was the Aztecs. They got walloped in the first game, but that only put more fight into them. The second game was close and hard and ended with the Staters on top by a couple of hard fought points.

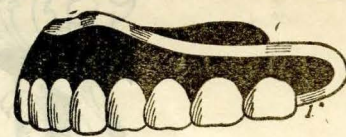

When all the smoke cleared from that most hectic basketball season La Verne stood in third place. It wasn't because the Leopards had such a high per centage of wins but because all through the season upsets were the rule and not the extreme. Everyone but Whittier and Oxy were smashed around quite badly and in the end all the teams looked like they had gone through some heavy artillery. All in all the Conference basket squads were as evenly matched as they have been in many a long year.

To put a suitable climax upon the year Coach Arnett put the best baseball squad LaVerne has ever sent into competition upon the field this spring and as a result came out victors in eleven out of fourteen contests, lost two and tied one. The tie was in a late afternoon battle with the strong Riverside J. C. outfit on the Jaysee diamond. Previous to this the Leopards had extracted a close 4 to 3 victory from the same team.

The first team to put the Leopards into the defeat column was the Occidental aggregation. This game was a fairy tale affair. At the end of the eighth inning LaVerne was trailing by an absurd score of 8 to 3. It looked just too bad for the Leopards but in their half of the ninth the Leopards filled the bases and then Shirk put a homer way out into the open spaces. Things began to look better right then. And by the end of their half of the inning LaVerne was leading 9 to 8. But Oxy tied the score. After two more innings of the most hectic battle of Southern Conference Baseball Occidental took the decision by a 11 to 10 count.

San Diego proved tough going for the Leopards also, but due to a homer poled into the brush by Lehmer the Leopards won by a 1 to 0 score.

To close the season and hush La Verne Conference title aspirations the Whittier Poets won their hard battle Saturday and put themselves in first place for the year. This defeat sets the Leopards back to third place where they will probably stay although there is a chance that the result of other conference games yet to be played by Occidental and Pomona will result in placing LaVerne in second position.

Altogether baseball has been the biggest triumph of the Leopards' athletic year. With Kreps doing steady work on the mound and Shirk, Lehmer, Hollinger and Bohm contributing many extra base blows to make things interesting for their opponents the Leopards were an altogether dangerous outfit to play with as has well been proved by their seasonal record.

Brubaker-Smith Nuptials Performed

Bridges Hall at Claremont Is Setting of the Wedding

Bridges Hall of music in Claremont was the setting for the beautiful wedding when Beulah Smith became the bride of Harvey W. Brubaker, on Wednesday evening May 16 at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Lloyd Studebaker at the organ played two solos "Love's Old Sweet Song" and "Because" as a prelude. Lois Martha Miller then sang "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly." An organ solo "The Sweetest Story Ever Told" followed.

The bridal party entered as Lohengren's Wedding March was played. Wayne W. Bohn was Mr. Brubaker's best man. He and Mr. Brubaker were members of the Clarion Four quartet. Joseph Huffman who also sang with the quartet was one of the ushers. The other usher was Galen Smith, the bride's brother.

Marguerite Dickey and Ramah Maust, college friends of the bride were her bridesmaids. Mary Blickenstaff was the maid of honor, Wayne Shrock, the ring bearer and June Banfield, the flower girl.

The bride was beautiful in a gown of white taffeta and tulle. Her long veil was of white embroidered silk net, held in place with a band of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white sweet peas and bride's rosebuds, with maiden hair fern.

Miss Blickenstaff wore pale green taffeta with lace and carried Cecil Bruner roses. Miss Maust wore pink taffeta and Miss Dickey orchid taffeta and carried sweet peas of the same shades. The little flower girl was dressed in dainty pink and the ring bearer wore a white suit.

During the entire ceremony, soft music was played on the organ. Rev. Edgar Rothrock performed the impressive double ring ceremony. Miss Miller sang a wedding hymn "O Perfect Love" as the closing prayer.

Mendelssohn's March was used as the recessional.

The reception was held in the patio where congratulations were extended to the bride and groom. Mrs. Martha Minnix had charge of the serving of the refreshments. She was assisted by Kathryn Rothrock, Verda Brubaker, Harriet Woody, Hilda Brubaker, Alberta Maust, Ruth Dickey, Josie Maust, Esther Dickey, Margaret Price, Ruth Rothrock, Viola Smith and Aileen Rothrock.

Over two hundred guests were present, many of them being college friends and classmates of the young couple. There were also many out of town guests who are relatives of the bride and groom.

Mr. Brubaker was the baritone of the well known LaVerne College Clarion Four quartet. He is a popular soloist, and during his college days he was prominent in athletics and other student activities.

Mrs. Brubaker is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Smith of La Verne. She is a graduate of the music department of LaVerne College and was the accompanist for the Clarion Four. Both Mr. and Mrs. Brubaker are graduates of LaVerne College.

Campus Times Staff Have Enjoyable Party

Nearing the end of a year of work, the Campus Times staff forgot their troubles, studies, etc., and went to Ganesha Park Thursday evening for a swim. But due to misunderstanding with the owner of the plunge, who drained the water out before the staff arrived on the grounds, the swim proved to be a dry land affair.

To make up for the lack of a swim the members of the staff entertained themselves by holding a juvenile track meet in which jumping proved to be the main sport.

As a part of the evening's entertainment, sandwiches and chocolate were served and then everyone returned home to his (or her) little bed.

Frosh Entertain the Junior Class

The Freshman class entertained the Junior class Tuesday night at the Los Serranos Country Club. Margaret Williams acted as hostess. The entertainment of the party was in the form of Bunco which everyone enjoyed unusually. Milton Brownsberger won first prize. The winner of the consolation prize is not mentioned.

After the game some went boating on the lake while others listened to the radio or did otherwise.

Finally all gathered together for the most important event of the evening, i. e., the refreshments, which consisted of ice cream sundaes, wafers, and coffee.

The Aeolian quartet added to the enjoyment of the eats by rendering two numbers.

The class of '29 thank the class of '31 for the whole evening and the good spirit behind it.

The Sophomore class held their last social function of the year last night at Dickey's cabin just off the Foothill Boulevard.

Refreshments were the big event of the evening. To climax the good eats a fire was built and everyone gathered about to roast marshmallows. Then, featuring Willie Long, a war began which consisted of a battle to determine which person could have the most marshmallow parked on his face. Miss Long was decidedly the victor.

Thursday night a farewell program was given to Dr. and Mrs. Arnett at the church. In the evening, many friends of the town gathered together and had a basket dinner in the Sunday School rooms after which they assembled in the auditorium. Rev. Rothrock took charge. Speeches were given by representatives of the various classes telling of the appreciation of all of what Mr. and Mrs. Arnett have done and meant to La Verne. They responded and then after a solo by Joe Huffman, the party adjourned and wished Dr. and Mrs. Arnett the best of wishes for the future.

Charles Crail and Chet Williams of U. C. L. A. Develop Interest for Movement in College Organizations
The campus was favored today by a visit of two students from U. C. L. A. who were here in behalf of the international student friendship movement which is being promoted by the international relations organizations of that institution.

Charles Crail, provisional president of the movement among Southern California colleges was an all-day visitor and met in conferences with leaders of the various fellowship organizations in LaVerne. Chet Williams stopped over for an hour on his way to the University of Redlands and showed the motion picture story of the conference held at the Mission Inn in Riverside where this new plan for promotion of world friendship was introduced to representatives from eight colleges and accepted. Mr. Williams will attend the Youths' Conference in Holland this summer.

Commission Takes Important Action

The Student Body Commission held its last regularly meeting of the year on Monday evening at which time the student body machine was set into neutral and primed for an automatic shift into high gear on September the sixth.

The freshmen regulations were passed upon and will go into the Student Hand Book as presented in the last student body assembly. Verna Shirk was elected student representative to the chapel program committee. An insignia was adopted for debate awards. And a committee was appointed to revise the constitution of the student body government. This committee is to work on the revision during the summer months and submit their alterations to the student body next fall. This composed the outstanding matters of consideration.

Leopards Lose Title to Whittier

HEAVY SLUGGING POETS RUIN CHAMPIONSHIP

Leopards Make Eighth Inning Rally
But Finish Ninth With Errors

The LaVerne College Leopards lost their first chance at a Southern California Conference championship Saturday, when they allowed Whittier nine hits and made seven errors in the baseball game on the home field. The Leopards only made seven hits and were benefited by five errors. It was quite a coincidence that each team scored as many runs as they made hits.

To start things off Tweedy singled and Hunnicutt knocked a circuit clout. Sheldon scored on two errors and a sacrifice hit which finished the first inning scoring. Lewis scored again in the second frame on a double followed by a single and then Hanson scored again in the seventh on a single, a triple and an error. Hunnicutt and Weaver did the same in the ninth on two hits and an error.

The Leopards didn't score until in the fifth when Root, Brooks and Kreps made three singles in succession, and Crites sacrificed Root in. Brooks and Kreps both were safe at home when the catcher stepped out of his box to break up a sacrifice. Root scored again on a single, a sacrifice and an error in the seventh. Bohn and Shirk got on in the eighth and Lehmer cleaned the bases. Thus the scoring ended 9-7.

The Leopards did not play their best type of ball but several sensational plays were made to brighten things up. Bohn caught a fly over his shoulder and Boots did the grandstand act by spearing a drive with one hand while preparing to do a nose dive.

The game inning by inning:

Shirk Recieves Arnett Trophy

SECOND BASEMAN COLLECTS
TEN HITS OUT OF TWENTY

Team Average Is High at .303

Chet Shirk, second baseman, for this year's Leopard squad is the possessor of a .500 batting average and the Arnett Batting Trophy as a result. Shirk led Lehmer by .120 points. Crites was a close third with .363 and Kreps possessed an average of .333. All of these are above the average of .329 that last year's winner Hollinger possessed.

Shirk started out right by collecting four hits out of five in the Caltech game, a single, a triple and two home runs. In the Redlands game he got a single, double and triple out of four times at the plate. At Oxy he only received a double out of three trips to the plate, and he did the same at San Diego. Chet only received a single out of three in the final Whittier game. This gives him ten hits out of twenty times up or a percentage of .500. He received three singles, three doubles, two triples and two homers or thirteen extra base hits.

The team as a whole hit exceedingly well this year, having an average of .303 which is a good batting average for any one. This average is only 26 points below last year's high point man.

Farewell, Seniors

Softly we sing, dear, songs of love and wishes true,
Lingering awhile here, in goodbye to you.

You are going from us, and we've both to say adieu,
In our memories promise to hold friendship true.

When you have journeyed, far out upon life's sea,
Kindly remember, schoolmates far from thee.

In our heart of hearts, dear, we are trying hard to smile,
But the pain of parting makes friends worth while.

We ask for courage and a faith in all that's true,
To keep us happy when we part from you.

But, dear friends, the memories glow
our message from above,
And our sad hearts whisper softly,
love, love, love.

Seniors, dear seniors, we bid you a last adieu.
Goodbye, dear seniors, farewell to you.

Senior Class Song

When we are far away from L. V. C., Her memories from us will never flee.
The friendships we have made will ever stay
To help and cheer us on our upward way.
They take us back again to memories fair,
Where sunlight's golden rays beam everywhere.
My college joys again come back to me,
Together shared at dear old L. V. C.
It was my college taught me how to live,
And to that memory my life I'll ever give.
I'm never sad and lone while on my way,
As long as I remember college days.

Commencement Week Activities

The Senior class has a heavy week ahead of them for besides finishing their sundry school duties they are planning to graduate with lots of excitement going on around them.

Friday night President Studebaker will start the grand finale by giving the class his annual reception. The following evening the Alumni will give the class of '28 a hearty welcome at the annual Alumni Banquet to be held in Miller Hall.

Sunday night, May 27, Dr. Studebaker will give them his parting words in the baccalaureate sermon which will be held in the College auditorium at 8 p. m. All the churches of LaVerne are co-operating with the college on this night in order to make it a real community affair and for that reason there will be no services at the local churches Sunday evening.

Tuesday evening, May 29, the class will hold its last class meeting and the next evening will give the annual class day exercises. The class has planned a very unusual program for this occasion which will take place at 8 p. m. They will start the program with their recessional. Next will be a song by the class. The main feature of the evening will be a dramatic reading given by Leota Witmer who will read the three act drama, "Children of the Moon." Special numbers of music will be furnished by members of the class between acts. Concluding the events of the evening will be a formal reception for the class and their parents and friends to be given on the campus at the rear of Founders Hall.

Then concluding their stay at La Verne College the class of '28 will receive their degrees in Founders Hall Thursday, May 31 at ten a. m.

Bits of Humor

Edna Brubaker: "Where was the Armistice signed?"

Olive Thorne: "In the lower right hand corner."

Edythe Miller: "I thought you said you were a mind reader?"

Gypsy: "Well, so I am."

Edythe: "Then why don't you read my mind?"

Gypsy: "I'm searching for it."

Hazel Funk: "Just when did the revival of learning begin?"

Clovie Carroll: "Just before exams."

Lois Ruth Miller: "What is that bump on the front of your car?"

George Anderson: "Oh, the radiator just had a boil."

Don: "Have you a minute to spare?"

Tingle: "Sure."

Don: "Tell me all you know."

Miss Muir: "Napoleon was a wonderful man. History tells us he got along with only four hours of sleep a day."

Leslie Shepherd: (yawning) "Oh well, I guess four hours a day would do me if people wouldn't disturb me at night."

"What is this?" asked the teacher, holding up the picture of a zebra.

Alma Linebaugh: (When she was a child) "A horse in a bathing suit."

Dr. Hoover: What about an attorney; is he a producer?

Otis Whipple: Yes; he produces the evidence.

Mrs. Gnagey: Why, Mildred, you shouldn't be afraid of the dark.

Mildred: Aw, ma, I can't help it. It gets in my eyes and I can't see anything.

Prof. Griffing, to Physics Class: Now get this basic proposition into your head and you'll have it all in a nutshell.

An angry woman to a naughty neighbor boy as she held him by the collar, "I believe Satan's got ahold of you."

Little boy: "I believe so, too."

"Say!" yelled the farmer, who owns the pond, "Don't you see that sign: 'No Fishing Here?'"

"I sure do," said Nick, disgustedly. "The fellow that printed that sign sure knew what he was talking about."

Dr. Hoover: "Mr. Button, I wish you would pay a little attention to the recitation."

Button: "I'm paying as little attention as possible."

Sailor: "They've just dropped their anchor."

Mary Platt: "Gracious, I was afraid they would, it's been dangling outside for some time."

Mother: When I was young, girls never thought of doing the things they do today.

Hazel Studebaker: That's probably why they didn't do them.

Leslie Shepherd: "When I took my hat to be cleaned they put it on a wooden block."

Ruth Gibble: "Isn't it usually on one?"

Harriet Woody: How's your husband getting along?

Mrs. Cecelia Myers: Well, sometimes he's better and sometimes he's worse, but from the way he growsl and takes on when he's better, I think he's better when he's worse.

It Isn't
THE FUNNIEST THING IN THE WORLD
To have your books out of balance or to get behind with your records, but it's
A GENUINE PLEASURE
For me to straighten them out, bring them up to date or revise your accounting system.
