FOOTBALL BANQUET A GRAND SUCCESS

First of its Kind in LaVerne College. Letter Presented to Letter Men.

JOHN PRICE NEXT YEAR'S CAPTAIN

Football games? My, yes! We have had them in abundance. The final score in La Verne's first season's football career has been made, the last game being played on Friday night, Dec. 16th. This football game, which was the first of its kind in the history of our college, was certainly a walk-away.

For those who wish to be informed, it might be well to give a few of the details in the progress of the game. The dining hall served as the scene of action and battle, while the kitchen afforded a fitting place for reinforcements: the water boys (girls, as they were in this game) proving themselves capable of their honorable and important positions.

The game was played entirely in formation "F," which served the players well, and at the same time saved them the trouble of shifting. It must be understood that the members of the football team of the gridiron were not the only ones who took part in this game, for as was said before, this was an unusual battle.

There were about sixty-four players, including members of the alumni, faculty members, Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Newcomer, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Beckner and many students. The center of the formation was made up of Coach Arnett, Pres. Funderburgh, the letter men (with their "guests") and Mr. Ernest Davis. Mr. Davis acted as the star quarterback, calling signals and giving instructions to all fellow players, leading them to victory.

There were other differences between this final game and that of the regular gridiron. The goal posts were in the center of the "F" formation so as to be in easy reach of the letter men. The places of the players in the formation were not called by the quarterback, but were designated secretly by means of football place cards.

The battle was fought in fifths, a due amount of time for rest being given between each fifth. During these intervals were given such toasts, instructions and presentations as the quarterback deemed wise. Since the football season had ended, Captain Betts gave his retiring speech, after the first fifth. John Price was then elected leader of the squad for the coming year. Between other fifths, various toasts were made by alumni members who were present. President Funderburgh traced for the participants, the history of football.

During one interlude, the former captain took from a table beside him a beautiful loving cup, which, in behalf of the letter men, he presented to Coach Arnett. My, how every one envied the Coach! He expressed his thanks in a lovely tribute to the man-

Oratorical Contest To be Held

During the latter part of January the No-Tobacco League will hold its third annual convention in Los Angeles. As the custom has been, an oratorical contest dealing with the demerits of the tobacco habit or its traffic will be held the last evening of the convention. A sum of $25 and a semester schooling at U. S. C. will be awarded to the winner.

Surely L. V. C. has some students who will seize this opportunity to represent their school among other colleges. So far "Dutch" Brubaker is the only one who has shown enough interest to enroll.

Remember the victory on Armistice Day, students. Why not do it again?

A Bank of Strength and Character

In the first days of the New Year ambitious people are turning into new pathways of personal improvement. Quite logical, therefore, that New Year should be the season of new Bank Accounts. Becoming a bank depositor is unmistakable evidence of advancement, and we extend a hearty welcome to all who wish to take this step.

LAVERNE ANNEXES SECOND GAME

Score 25-15

In a fast and furious game, La Verne last Friday night took the Fullerton J. C. quintet into camp by a 25 to 15 score. La Verne excelled all the way in team work and only the smallness of the court kept the score down.

Our forwards were unable to get into action any time during the game. Their shooting was far below par. Welch was the high man of the evening. Price played a good defensive game at forward and registered one goal. Beckner was there thruout, but was unable to solve the hoop problem.

Davis and Jordan at guards were the men who kept the J. C. men wild-eyed. Davis smeared everything his arms could reach, and that's saying quite a good deal. For all round basketball, Davis was the high light. Jordan was in the midst of everything with his characteristic fight.

The last half of the game took on somewhat the aspect of a football game. Splendid interference marked the play on both sides, while falling on the ball was common thruout, on account of a great amount of fumbling. The game was keenly fought and both teams were sportsmanlike in every instance.

Cordilia's grandmother had a way of measuring a yard by holding one end of the goods to her nose and then stretching the piece at arms length. One day Cordilia found a bit of ribbon and brought it to her grandmother and said, "Smell this grandma, and see how long it is.

LaVerne and Claremont in Close Contest

L. V. C. LOSES BY ONE POINT

Friday, Dec. 16, the La Verne basket shooters met the Claremont five on the home court. The game was slow, and the boys did not play up to form. The first half was mostly "rest," but they staged a fine comeback in the second half.

Wayne Bohn had been sick several days preceding the game, and because of this, was unable to play the game as well as usual. There was a large number of fouls made on both sides, and Johnny Brooks showed his ability in shooting free throws, making five points out of a possible seven. Hartman did some good shooting also. Claremont lost to La Verne last game by one point, and this time they won the game by only one point.

DR. D. W. KURTZ GIVES LECTURE HERE

La Verne is indeed very fortunate to have the privilege of hearing Dr. Kurtz, President of McPherson College, give his series of lectures. Dr. Kurtz has come to California by special request of some of the churches in the Northern District to give a series of talks.

Sunday morning, Dec. 18, he delivered a masterful address on "Sonship." He stated that the words "Child of God," are far more significant than the words "salvation," "redemption," or "atonement." It signifies that man is joint heir with Christ, even exalted above the angels. Sonship means likeness, and those who become sons of God must be born again, in His likeness. We often sell our birthright for the immediate satisfaction of pleasure. In other words, we sell the

COLLEGE DEPART. DISCUSS TRADITIONS

At the regular meeting of the College Department Saturday Dec. 10, the question of College traditions was discussed. Traditions are the specific customs of a College which make it distinctive and apart from all other Colleges, around which are centered some of the most interesting and pleasant memories of student life.

Miss Muir gave a very interesting and instructive paper on traditions, as found in History. She pointed out how they are really customs and practices of the people which become fixed and settled, and do not die with the generation which originates them. As a father is desirous of giving his son the benefit of his knowledge and experience, so one generation is intent on keeping that which has been helpful to it, by passing it on to enrich posterity. As this is true, one finds that only the best and the worth while become so incorporated in the lives of the people that traditions arise.

Miss Lucile Beckner was next called upon to consider traditions from the standpoint of the Freshmen. She showed the necessity and importance of establishing certain customs, stating that the Freshmen were willing to comply with any rules laid down for them and that the upper classmen should not hesitate to make some for them. Otherwise, they might have to originate some themselves, similar to the green cap brigade. The Freshmen are to be commended for their loyalty.

Then Byrl Harper, representative of the Sophomore class, displayed some of his wisdom, after which a very amusing incident occurred. Many will remember that at the installation of the officers it was stated that the Vice President Martha Brubaker infinite for that which is temporal and monetary. But we have no right to sell our heritage.

This sonship of God does not come from human heritage. No one will be saved because of his ancestors, for blood alone cannot save. God came to save "everyone that believeth on Him."

Sonship of God is not gained by the will of the flesh. Heaven cannot be gained by our own efforts and achievements. Many old aesthetes and monks of ancient times tormented the flesh but that did not bring them into this wonderful relationship. Sonship is gained thru our attitude toward God.

We cannot become the sons of God

ON TO ASILOMAR!

La Verne is again reaching out in a forward step by sending representatives to the Asilomar mid-winter Student Conference. The assembly is held to train leaders for Christian work. The students of today will form the mind of Christendom tomorrow. Dr. D. W. Kurtz, president of McPherson College, will be one of the main speakers at the convention, and there will also be many other men of national reputation. The reports that will be carried back to the colleges all over the West will be an uplift to the cause of Christ that cannot be estimated in dollars and cents.

Aside from the spiritual good that will be gained from Asilomar, are the great beauties of the place. Monterey Bay has attractions that perhaps cannot be equalled on the Pacific coast. It is an ideal place for a Student Conference. The association of students from the different colleges and universities will create a greater spirit of unity.

Let's boost for the Asilomar Conference.

Point System to be Adopted Second Semester

A SYSTEM FOR EXTRA CURRICULUM ACTIVITIES

For some time it has been recognized that there should be some regulation of the extra curriculum activities in which a student engages, as well as of the number of studies that he is allowed to take. Some students because they have large ability as leaders and are willing to serve, have an undue amount of their time taken by the various clubs, committees and organizations which help make school life interesting. Some other students, however, take part in very few of these interests, and consequently miss the development and culture which comes from such activities.

In an attempt to correct this situation, the Faculty have adopted a "Point System for Extra Curriculum Activities." This system provides for the relative evaluation, in "points," of the various activities as they exist at La Verne and also provide for a limitation of points for each class of students in the Institution. It would obviously be impossible to put the plan into effect at once without disrupting some activities, but it is expected that students will begin now to arrange their work so that they will not have an excess number of points by the beginning of the Second Semester, at which time the System is to be made effective.

The System probably is not perfect, and it likely will not solve every problem which comes within its scope, but as we gain experience and see need for revision, the system can be modified. The schedule of points, with the limitation of points, is given below:

THE CHRISTMAS CALL

Nineteen hundred and twenty-one years ago three wise men saw the star of the Christ and immediately set out upon a long, hard journey, for they were determined to find Him for whom the star was shining. Farther and still farther they went. They willingly left all behind, so determined were they to find the Lord of the light.

Again the wise men of the earth are searching for the Christ. Europe and Asia, Africa, South America, and the islands of the Seven Seas are longing for Him who came into the world to teach men how to live. No longer satisfied with the life of the lower plane, they are reaching out for the blessings of light. Students in devastated Poland are enduring untold hardships in their endeavor to rise. The schools of China and of India are handicapped and altogether inadequate to meet the needs of the younger generation, and many are the countries where the voice of the Christian schoolmaster is not heard at all.

We, the American students, the keepers of the light, can scarcely realize the hopelessness of the condition of those who grope for learning and knowledge in the dark, for the Christian world has become, in its development, far removed from the pagan world. Yet, altho we have advanced greatly, we cannot go on unmindful of those less fortunate, for He who was born in Bethlehem of Judea came to bring good tidings of great joy to all people. He laid aside His kingly robes to bring the light, and now He depends upon us to carry it on out into the frontiers. We must not fail Him.

The students of La Verne College have a great opportunity and a great responsibility. Simultaneously with the coming of the Christmas season comes a Student Fellowship call from the schools of China. Remembering our responsibility as keepers of the light, let us give our Christmas presents to those who need them most. Let us help now the young men and women who hold China's future in their hands, for by so doing we shall help to bring "good tidings of great joy to all people." —J. W. F.

COMMISSION NOTES

During the last two weeks the Commissioners have been working on the 1922 annual but are finding it difficult to progress as they had desired. Although it was announced that the 1922 annual campaign had gone "over the top," the Commissioner of Publications finds that he is still lacking in subscriptions to the extent of 55. He says he must have 350 subscriptions in order to get the reduced rate. If this cannot be done, some of the special features of the book must of necessity be struck out. If the students wish a real annual they must co-operate.

The Commissioner of Finance stated in his report that Walter Sell sold $38.00 worth of tickets to the concert given by the Ladies' Lyric Club. The money, $46.75, cleared on this event, will be used by the administration to buy annuals to be sent to prospective students.

STUDENT FELLOWSHIP FUND

The General Mission Board has again called upon the students of the schools to help materially in the evangelization of the world. Last year the Student Fellowship Fund was used for the India Farm Loan. As there is a great need in China for a boys' school this year, the Mission Board is asking the students of America to help their fellow classmen in China by building them a school.

In order to get the La Verne students to realize their responsibility in this matter, the Student Volunteer Band arranged a series of talks on "Stewardship," beginning Sunday morning, Dec. 11, at Mission Band, and continuing through out the chapel periods of the following week.

Sunday morning Pastor R. H. Miller came to the Mission Band with a message on "Stewardship." He made a "plea for money to those who have no money," in the sense of having any to spare, as for instance, the poor widow who had nothing except her living and yet gave her all. Pastor Miller emphasized the fact that a gift that causes a sacrifice is multiplied many times by the sacrifice, as was the poor widow's gift made to equal more than all the gifts of the rich man.

The chapel periods were occupied by Pres. Funderburgh on "The Fundamentals of Stewardship," Bro. Emert on "Results if we do not give Attention to our Stewardship," C. E. Davis on "Examples of Stewardship," and Ernest Root on "Needs of Stewardship."

These talks, along with several numbers of special music, gave the students a realization of their responsibility. It is an opportunity as well as a responsibility.

Friday morning Prof. and Mrs. B. S. Haugh sang "Closer to Jesus," and Dr. Dickey led in a season of devotion. The students hearts were truly close to Jesus and they were well prepared to give. The students subscribed $254 to the fund and Mr. Arnett offered the closing prayer, bidding the gift God's speed in its work.

TEAM TO GO NORTH

The Student Volunteers are planning to send a Deputation Team to visit the churches of the Northern District of California during Christmas vacation. The team to be sent are Mr. and Mrs. Leland Brubaker, Susan Stoner and Bertha Swihart. The theme for their program is "Stewardship."

I REMEMBER, I REMEMBER

I remember, I remember,
The lessons I forsook
And loitered in the halls instead,
Without peeping in a book.
But little did I profit then,
Or ne'er pulled down an A;
And then in class my fevered brow
Wanted the bell to ring away.

I remember, I remember,
The cuts I used to take,
Then try to patch excuses up,
But our DEAN would prove them fake
Of the notes I used to write,
And study not at all
But loitered all my time away
Down in the study hall.

I remember, I remember,
The blushes, red and white—
My face was always acting up
When I was called on to recite.
Then questions she asked down the class,

Then she would ask me more,
And my face kept up the blush
'Till I went out the door.

I remember, I remember,
The grades I used to make—
I ne'er can get them from my mind
They're in my memory yet.
So really I have summed it up,
And I find it doesn't pay,
For I was farther off from passing then

Than I am the present day.

Dr. D. W. Kurtz Gives Lecture

by education, mere intellectual education. Christian education is the ideal. Some interesting statistics proved to us that Japan holds the highest position in the rank of education, having the lowest number of illiterates, 99 per cent of the children being in school, while America stands ninth. But man cannot be saved by scholarship alone.

Although all of these factors—our heritage, our will, our education—are very essential, yet to be sons of God we must be born of God, we must have faith in Him. Faith implies three important things, mind, soul, and personality.

His closing appeal was the great need of the world. Culture, science, everything has tried and failed. The last and only cure is—sonship with God. But it isn't enough to be born of God; we must grow. The tragedy of the church is that people have been born into the church twenty or thirty years ago, but have not grown. To grow physically, we need food, air and exercise. To grow spiritually we need Bible study, worship and service. The Bible is our guide book to the living God. We have no right to refuse to be ambassadors of our Lord. It is up to us to bring "Sonship" to the kingdoms of the earth.

Dr. Kurtz delivered a powerful address in the College auditorium Monday during the regular chapel hour on the great subject of "Education." Besides the students, there were many other interested listeners present. Dr. Kurtz emphasized the fact that education is not preparation for life, it is life. The one great hope for the world is the right kind of education. The biggest job of educators is the search for truth and this truth comes only by investigation.

One great failure of American students is the lack of a definite aim. They study for credit, not for the practical value. A lawyer learns as much in a month as a University student does in a year, because he has a motive. He knows he will use it.

In Europe the students study languages because they know they will use them. The American students must realize that the College curriculum is vital to their highest living and that if they study for a purpose they will get ten times as much out of their lessons.

The purpose of a school is to create an environment, to develop a soul. A school cannot educate; it can only furnish a suitable environment. Education itself is not inherited, but only the capacity to acquire education.

The student of today must master life now, and his after life will be mastered much more easily.

English Teacher:—Class, in this stanza, what is meant by these lines: "The shades of night were falling fast"?

Brilliant Pupil:—The people were pulling down their blinds.

IZZY NEWSY

Dear Sam:—

Why, Sam, do you realize that it's nearing Christmas? Time is sneaking up on us. Who'd have thought it, and I haven't decided yet what I'm going to give HER. Isn't it awful? I wish you'd give me some advice. I think I know what she's going to give me. Ha! ha! it makes me laugh up my sleeve to think of it. (I don't know why I should laugh up my sleeve, unless it's because my funny bone's there.)

Say, Sam, we had a wonderful game with Pomona the other night, but it would have been far more wonderful if we had won. All the L. V. C. boys call the Pomona team "Robinson," because they crew so.

But every dog has his day (sometimes we have 'em hot at the Dorm) and we are waiting for ours. We hope we win next time. Don't you, Sam?

Are you going to hang your sock up this year, Sam, or will they stand alone without hanging? If you do hang it up, don't expect much from me, for I'm flat broke. I've got to pay my pledges and go slow on presents. How are all the folks, Sam? Ma didn't trouble herself about writing this week, has she been ailing again? Ask ma how she is for me. Write more news next time, Sam.

Oh, yes, I about forgot to tell you about the contest that's going on. Walter and Marie are the contestants. I guess I could tell you more news, but you'll read it all in the Campus Times.

Adios, Hasta Manana.

IZZY NEWSY.

MUSICAL PROVES A SUCCESS

Thursday evening, Dec. 8, a concert was given by the Lyric and Glee Clubs of the College. The success of the program as previously anticipated, became a reality.

Beside the regular numbers by the Lyric and Glee Clubs, there were several special features. A ladies octette from the Lyric Club rendered two selections which were enjoyed by all. Miss Cathryn Byerly gave a splendid reading, entitled, "The Bringing of the Light."

Another special feature on the program was given by Mr. Douglas of Pomona College, who played two violin solos. The closing number was "The Old Road," sung by both the Lyric and Glee Clubs. The two clubs have done excellent work this semester under Prof. Haugh, and they hope to give a good program next semester.

The proceeds, amounting to $46.75, have been turned over to the Commission. The money will be spent for 1922 Annuals which will be used as advertisements for prospective students.

MRS FRANTZ ENTERTAINS

Just to add a little more "spice" to College life, Mrs. Frantz entertained a group of the "fairer sex" at her home Friday evening, Dec. 9. The invitations announced that it was to be a "Jolly-up" party. A passer-by, or the neighbors could easily have guessed that something was transpiring in the Frantz home from the confusion of voices intermingled with laughter as the ladies discussed some very vital (?) school problems. Of course everyone had a solution to suggest.

Perhaps Mrs. Frantz realized that the girls needed to be somewhat "sweetened" so she invited them to the kitchen to make their favorite candies. There was no room for idlers, as everyone had something to do—from measuring the sugar, syrup and water, to preparing the nuts, beating the egg whites, and even watching the candy boil. In a short time the product of their labors was ready to be enjoyed, and who can say that there ever was better fudge and divinity (although the latter had to be eaten with spoons)? However, eight girls are ready to vouch for the fact that Mrs. Frantz's Jolly-up party was a complete success.

Not all of the invited guests could attend, but those present were Pauline Miller, Mrs. Marie Brubaker, Mrs. Fox, Ruth Barnhizer, Elva Gillette, Mary Gockley, Marguerite Ives and Susan Stoner.

ACADEMY SOPHS ENTERTAIN SENIORS

Did the Sophs entertain the Seniors? Indeed they did! When? Saturday evening, Dec. 10th. Where? At the Blocher home. Wasn't it great!! I'll say so.

Both the Sophomore and the Senior colors, red and white, and green and white, respectively, glared from everywhere. The Seniors were especially pleased to observe their emblem, the oar, hanging up in the entrance.

It was discovered that even such superior beings as the Seniors could learn something from the "Intelligent Turtle." Both classes were made wise as to their ability in the art of sculpturing when each was given a stick of paraffin wax to chew and mold. Prof. Davis won the prize for making a very realistic "boa constrictor." The rooms were in a continuous roar of laughter during the playing of the game "cross questions and silly answers."

The color scheme was uniquely carried out in the refreshments, which consisted of salad, punch, ice cream and cake. Needless to say, the refreshments were as uniquely stowed away.

When the Seniors left they felt more than ever that the Sophomores were their friends even now and forever.

KOLLEGE KNEWS

Helen and Ethel Winslow and Alice Davis entertained at dinner Friday, December 9, Susan Stoner, Bertha Swihart and Wilma Lett.

As a result of the big windstorm week before last, our campus was in a sadly bestrewn condition. A greater part of the bark and limbs from the stately eucalyptus trees seemed to have found the ground early in the storm and the big pepper tree at the north west corner of the east wing was bent to the ground. However, our valiant Welfare Commissioner let no aspect of this lamentable condition escape his eagle eye, and a second campus clean-up day was proclaimed. With the assistance of all our husky lads, plus the valued advice of all those fair ones who stood near by, the big pepper was again pulled to stand upright and tied securely to the building. The bark and brush was all cleared from the grounds and burned, and again the campus stood forth spotless and clean in all her glory.

Thelma Kuns has moved to the home of Mr. G. E. Miller, where she will stay for the remainder of the year.

The College Women have been having short meetings every Wednesday afternoon at 3:45. Mrs. Culley has given several interesting and valuable lectures to the girls. It is the plan of the executive committee that similar meetings be continued throughout the year.

A keen observer might have noticed that some fairy hands have been placing bouquets in the chapel every day. Perhaps the Women's Organization are responsible for these "fair hands." At least the flowers are greatly appreciated.

Miss Dorothea Dyck has the advantage of almost three weeks Christmas vacation. She left for her home in Reedley where she will attend a Student Convention given at Fowler, a small town near Fresno. Miss Dyck is one of the speakers at the Convention.

Miss Ruth Barnhizer entertained at dinner Sunday, Dec. 11, Miss Pauline Miller, Mr. Archie Brooks and Mr. D. Welty Lefever.

Mrs. Steinaur gave an interesting little talk at Girls' Devotional last week on "Character Building."

Robert Mantelle has been playing Shakespeare's plays recently in Los Angeles. Several of the students took advantage of the opportunity to hear and see the great Shakespearean actor.

Mr. Whipple, of the No-Tobacco League gave an interesting illustrated lecture at the Church Wednesday evening, Dec. 7. Mr. Whipple is pastor of the Christian Church of Whittier.

Our matron, Mrs. Culley, made a short visit with friends in Redlands last week.

A very interesting tennis tournament has been inaugurated by the girls' physical director, Mrs. Marie Brubaker. Each student interested in tennis was allowed to draw a number, which number signified their standing as to tennis playing, number one being the champion of the school. Each student has the privilege of challenging another player who holds a smaller number, and in case he wins the game, is permitted to change numbers with the loser, thereby gaining a higher position. The enthusiasm runs high, and the tennis courts are usually occupied with competitors until almost dusk.

Two of 'em were walking home from school, when one said:—I'll bet I can make a worse face than you.

The other said:—I guess so! Look what you got to start with.

Let's all take an Evening off

And go over to Pomona to Frasher's "the shop of a thousand gifts and the Jolliest of Jolly Greeting Cards." They are open evenings all this week. Oh, what fun to do our Christmas shopping when no lesson periods interfere.

Football Banquet a Success

hood of La Verne College. We are glad that La Verne did not disappoint him.

Then came the "letters"—the big block "L," of which all La Vernites are so proud. These were presented to the boys by Pres. Funderburgh. Amid applause and calls for speeches, everyone had the honor of seeing fourteen real men, and real football players receive their first football "L's" and service stripes. "Ain't it a gran' an' glorious feelin'?"

The game of the evening was not played to the tune of the referee's whistle, but to the tune of victrola music. The football squad's water-boy was at the crank of the music box. As on the gridiron, he was always on the job.

The last fifth played, the battle won, the eats gone, the players stood and sang a tribute to the "L," "Guide of La Verne." The Bingo quartet then sent them away with a farewell song.

Taking it for granted that the reader knows that the football game about which I have written was in reality a banquet, I suggest that all who wish to take part in next year's "final football game," get their tickets early, for the number of seats is limited.

LA VERNE AND POMONA IN SCRIMMAGE

Last Tuesday night La Verne journeyed to Claremont and engaged the Pomona varsity in a scrimmage practice. Pomona showed a vast improvement over her first game, while La Verne played indifferently throughout. The work-out was fast and snappy and was excellent practice for both teams.

Academy Squad Wins Volley Ball Contest

The Volley Ball court was the scene of much excitement and "necessary boisterousness" the last week, when the girls of both the College and the Academy engaged in a Volley Ball Tournament.

The respective classes of the Academy played good close games, but the Sophs walked off with the bacon. Since the College classes were too small to put out class teams, the Seniors and Freshmen played the Juniors and Sophomores, the latter being victorious.

Then came the final contest between the College and Academy. Both departments were sufficiently supplied with rooters, and enthusiasm was at its height. The teams were well matched, but the Academy Sophs were proclaimed the champions of the day by winning two out of three games.

College Discuss Traditions

should have special charge over the President to see that he appear well at all times. This morning Mr. Price forgot to wear a tie, so Miss Brubaker was kind enough to loan him her flashy red middy tie, which, we agreed seemed unusually becoming to him; thanks to the thoughtfulness of the Vice President.

Raymond Root represented the Junior Class, and after his talk, there were a few minutes for general discussion. One of the main ideas presented was that we should not be in a hurry to make traditions, but rather, let them develop with the growth of the school, so that they shall be really worth while and lasting—such that we can remember and look back upon with pride.

Girls Defeated by Chino

December 8th the Academy girls played their second game of basket ball with Chino, on their court. Due to a little misfortune the girls were unable to keep their rivals from scoring a few points. In the second third the girls were in their usual places and were able to gain rapidly on their opponents, allowing them to make only one basket in the last two thirds. The final score was six to eight in Chino's favor. A little hard luck, girls, but you'll do better next time.

Academy Loses to Chino

The Academy hopes for the league championship were somewhat punctured when Chino trimmed the La Verne quintet 22 to 29. John Brooks was the star for La Verne. Although he was playing guard, he annexed 8 points for the cause.

Bohn at center seemed to be the object of spite from the referee and scarcely dared move around without being fouled. Hartman and O. Brooks each make some neat shots. Even George King claims the honor of shooting a basket, which perhaps is due to inordinate imagination. Just leave it to George.

Both teams did effective guarding and played better defensive than offensive games. The final result was in doubt to the close, and several times La Verne made spurts that looked like the famous come-backs shown in previous games.

Referees are often made the victims of unjust criticism, but it certainly isn't wise for the former professor of any school participating in league games, to referee. It seemed that this particular official was slightly biased, and La Verne felt amply justified in protesting the affair and asking for another game with a neutral referee.

Astronomers Go to Brackett Observatory

On Saturday evening, Dec. 10, the Astronomy class under Prof. Bowman, were granted the privilege of using the Brackett Observatory at Claremont.

The heavens were somewhat hazy, which made observation somewhat difficult. However, the class gained much information as to the uses of the telescope, chronograph, transit instrument, and sidereal clock, all of which Professor Brackett was very willing to explain and demonstrate.

The six inch telescope was focused on the moon, and the craters, Copernicus and Gessendi were easily distinguished. They appeared about the size of a half dollar. The Apennines and Alps were also visible. The telescope was also focused on a portion of the "Milky Way" and some idea as to the millions of stars composing that heavenly belt, could be appreciated.

Professor Brackett invited the class to come back sometime later when the sky is clear and the planets are above the horizon.

ADVICE

"Be on the level," said the square. "Never get unstrung," said the telegraph wire.

"Keep your tongue, still," said the wagon.

"Don't be a striker," said the match.

"Have a keen eye," said the needle.

"Don't break your neck," said the bottle.

"Be sure to look things over," said the telescope.

"Don't talk harsh," said the phonograph.

"Hold tight to what you have," said the staple puller.

"Never bum around," said the bomb.

"Always hold your temper," said the cold chisel.

"Always keep things smooth," said the plane.

"Always hold your temper," said the jack.

"Grasp at every opportunity," said the pincers.

"Always reflect on things first," said the mirror. —Selected.

Good Guessing

A tourist motoring in Ireland and wishing to go to Dublin came to a point where two unmarked roads diverged. Stopping his car he called to a native by the roadside: "Pat, which is the road to Dublin?" "How did you know my name was Pat?" "Oh, I guessed at it." "Well, you can guess the way to Dublin, then."
