FOUNDERS' HALL IS DEDICATED

PAGEANT IS A SUCCESS

LARGE CROWD SEE HISTORY OF LA VERNE IN PAGEANT

History, English and Dramatic Departments to be Congratulated

The history of LaVerne was impressively told by means of a pageant put on in the college auditorium on Friday, Feb. 11. This pageant was written and directed entirely by the student body with the supervision of some of the faculty. The history department gathered the facts of LaVerne's history, the English department wrote them up, and the Drama department was in charge of the presentation of the pageant. All took their parts well and the people present, especially those from other states attending Bible Institute, enjoyed the pageant very much. The program was as follows:

- Episode I—The Period of Spanish Occupation.
- Episode II—The Lordsburg Boom, 1887.
- Episode III—The Coming of the Dunkers.
- Episode IV—Pictures of the Old Building.
- Episode V—The Student Life.
- Episode VI—Faculty Problems.
- Episode VII—Greater LaVerne, 1926.

RAIN PUTS OFF DEBATE

POMONA-REDLAND DEBATES ARE POSTPONED

Ladies to Debate Four Times This Week

Rain has accomplished a great impossibility. The fact is it has at last done something that men thought never could be done and that is to make a woman keep still. You don't believe it do you, but it is absolutely true.

Wednesday night, the 16th, was set for the first conference women's debate. The best talkers from each school were chosen and the judges decided upon but, behold, the Storm Lord took a hand and said, "I'm tired of hearing women talk." He completely silenced them by sending a rain which blocked the highways so that the talking champions could not get together. Thus, completely baffled, with no one to talk to, the women of LaVerne College, Redlands University, and Pomona College were compelled to sit quietly at home.

Women will be women, though, and these same college teams plan to meet at a later date to decide the talking championship.

In the meantime, LaVerne will debate on February 24th with Occidental College and the University of California at Los Angeles. LaVerne's affirmative team will play host to the Oxy women's negative team, while the Leopard negatives go to U. C. L. A. to uphold their side of the question which is: Resolved, that a Department of Education be established with a Secretary in the President's Cabinet.

DR. EDWARD FRANTZ DELIVERS ADDRESS

NEIGHBORING COLLEGES SUPPLY PROMINENT SPEAKERS

Nearly $8,000 Received as a Thank Offering

"To the glory of God the Father by whose favor we have erected this building; to the honor of Jesus Christ, the Son, our Savior who came as the light of the world; to the praise of the Holy Spirit, God with us, our Guide to the truth, we dedicate this building.

"To the cause of Christian education at its truest, its noblest and its highest, and to the pursuance of all truth; to the enabling of our youth to know and to appreciate and to choose for themselves the best; to the development and the training of men and women of sterling Christian character that they may become a force for righteousness in the nation and thruout the world; to the seeking of the higher law of the spirit of man in relation to his Creator and to the fostering of Christian living expressed in service to humanity, we dedicate this building.

"As a gift to our posterity, as a tribute of gratitude and love, as a monument to the desire for truth and the promotion of Christian education, we the people of this constituency now consecrating ourselves anew dedicate this entire building to the cause of truth and learning which is in righteousness in the name of our God to whom be praise forevermore, Amen."

In this manner approximately one thousand people dedicated LaVerne College's new administration building to the purposes named in the dedicatory service, but they also showed their willingness and intention to back the college to the limit by giving nearly $8,000 as a thank offering.

Although the new auditorium seats only 600 the large crowd (though made smaller than was expected, by the rain) was enabled to hear the whole program by the kindness of Virgil Neher, local radio man, who connected the gymnasium, library, and social hall with loud speakers.

Much comment has been heard concerning the addresses of the afternoon. Dr. Edward Frantz, editor of the Gospel Messenger, and former president of LaVerne College, was especially well received in his dedicatory address. He hinged his remarks on the subject, "College Life and Christian Faith."

His address was preceded by talks by Dr. James A. Blaisdell, President of Pomona College, and Dr. Walter J. Homan, Dean of the Department of Religious Education of Whittier College. Dr. V. L. Duke, President of Redlands University in delivering the invocation expressed a feeling that seemed to pervade the whole service when he prayed, "That we also may dedicate our lives to the service of God."

Dr. Blaisdell spoke on the "Purpose of a Liberal Arts College." In summing up his statements he said that when we speak of the whole education: the education of students for life in every aspect, we talk of liberal arts education.

"There are four points of contact between the church and the denominational college," declared Dr. Homan in his discussion of the subject, "The Denominational College in Relation to the Church." First, he said, the church founded the college; second, the church can expect leaders in service to come from the college; third, the college must lead the church in its contact with the world, must help form the ideals of the church, and fourth, there should always be a spirit of co-operation between the church and the college.

President Ellis M. Studebaker of LaVerne College in a short talk outlined the policies of the present administration of the institution. He said that the college will continue to grow and the present building facilities will be inadequate. He looks for this to occur within five years. The administration building, he explained, can be added to by constructing a west wing equal to that on the east which will form a central court to the back of the building. Then on the southwest corner of the same block a men's dormitory will be constructed equaling the ladies dorm which now stands on the southeast corner of the block. Then on the northeast and northwest corners of the same block "L" shaped buildings will be constructed for further classroom facilities, leaving the site of the old administration building for further expansion.

The president of the college declared that intentions, now, are not to make a university or even a large college out of the institution. Five hundred students, he thinks, should be the limit in attendance at one time. "Our faculty will not be large. It will rather consist of quality than quantity. . . . A faculty member must be an educator of high standards, he announced.

Also it is not the wish of the present administration to make a reformatory of LaVerne College. Any student who is found to lack moral and spiritual "backbone" will be refused the privilege to continue his studies in the college. "What we intend to do is to develop good, useful, American citizens," President Studebaker concluded his remarks by saying, "This school has passed the danger of not being able to exist. It is sure to live on. . . . But we must not get the idea that the task is finished for we have much to do."

Dr. Edward Frantz said in the course of his address, "Now you have a college, not in name only, but in fact—a real college. . . . But, splendid as this building is, it is not my chief interest. I am most interested in lives—in people; in what this college may develop" in the way of knowledge. However, "education is not knowledge, but it is the acquisition of knowledge. . . . The world is full of facts and it is part of the business of a student to master them."

He went on to say that we must search out facts from theories for "not everything that sets itself out to be a fact proves to be one."

"We can have knowledge only in terms of our own experience. . . . As a child grows he re-learns things." He declared that each age must restate its knowledge. The problem is to change our formulas of life without discarding the good, sound principles which we must have to live that fuller life. He said for example, we may remodel our homes, but as long as there is the bond of love they are still homes.

In seeking for knowledge, he continued, we should not try to find our, merely, what things are, but what they can be used for. We must learn how to do things with different materials. But it makes a difference how we do them for everything is subject to a law of some sort. "Law is never a force; it is consistency of order. Back of everything reigns God's law." "The scientists must admit that back of everything there is an Infinite." "In God we find the cause; the source of everything."

Dr. Frantz concluded by saying "Be reverent at all times for in all things there is the Infinite. God is in everything."

During the program music was furnished by the Ladies' Glee Club who sang, "God of all Nature," and the Clarion Four, presenting "Crossing the Bar," and Professors B. S. and Laura E. Haugh who sang, "Cheerfulness."

Dr. S. J. Miller, President Emeritus of LaVerne College, delivered the dedicatory prayer.

ALUMNI HOLDS REUNION

Following the lecture and pageant Friday evening, the Alumni Association held an informal gathering in the social room of the new administration building. This was the first mid-year "get together" of its kind. A good representation of alumni from the Academy as well as the College enjoyed the delicious coffee and huge squares of cake. No count was made as to the number present from the various classes, but with the exception of one, all members of the class of '23 were present. The orator of this class, C. E. Davis, gave a peppy inspirational speech to the association.

TIMES STAFF IS REORGANIZED

DON MILLER APPOINTED EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

Large Working Staff is Outstanding Policy

With a new organization under the leadership of Don Miller, as Editor-in-chief, the Campus Times may be expected to take on new life and provide a center of interest for a wider circle of students than it has in the past. The Student Body Commission has appointed Mr. Miller to take the place of Harold Hoff, former editor of the Campus Times, who is not attending school this semester. Mr. Miller will take his office next week. He has named Friday as the time when the paper will be issued in the future and he says that it will come out on that day if it comes out blank.

As it has been reorganized the staff stands as follows:

- Don Miller—Editor-in-chief.
- Raymond Mahoney—Make-up Editor.
- Nellie Frantz—News Editor.
- Reportorial Staff:
 - Onis Leonard—Sports.
 - Reatha Rensberger—Society.
 - Verna Sheets—Front Page.
 - Lorrel Weis—Features.

Y. W. C. A. SERVE SUPPER

FOUR HUNDRED FIFTY APPETITES SATISFIED AT CAFETERIA SUPPER

Association Clears Enough to Pay Debt on Room Furnishings

The Y. W. C. A. served approximately 450 people at the cafeteria supper held in the college gymnasium, Friday, February 11. The attractive decorations of accacia blossoms on the tables and around the gymnasium were enough to make any outsider want to come inside and get a better look—but once inside, the tempting odors of fried chicken or roast beef simply impelled him to take a tray and buy a substantial meal.

Kathryn Rothrock, who was in charge of the supper, proved a very capable manager and made the supper a great success. Serving almost five hundred people was no easy task; but all of the women willingly did whatever work they were asked to do.

We want to thank everyone who had a part in making it possible for the Y. M. C. A. to clear $176 by means of the supper. Although there was a good deal of expense connected with it, through the co-operation of the Ladies Aid societies of the district and the women of LaVerne the debt on the "Y" room furniture will be greatly decreased. The Ladies Aid societies helped by giving money and the women in LaVerne donated most of the salads, pies and cakes. Mrs. Grace Miller gave seven chickens dressed and ready to serve. The Star Grocery also donated some of the cakes for the supper.

CAN YOU IMAGINE IT?

Imagination is one of the finest lubricants in the world for if used properly it will keep almost any kind of human machinery running smoothly. Unfortunately it seems to be quite rare. Perhaps there is a sufficient supply in existence but it is often left idle and allowed to decay.

According to Dr. Edward Frantz imagination might be defined as that mental quality "by virtue of which" one is able to put himself in another's place, to see his point of view and to experience his reactions and emotions. When such is the case there is no occasion for the rash statements, the ironclad opinions and the hard feelings which make this old world and sometimes college campuses a bit difficult to live in. It might not be possible to bring about world peace thru a fitting use of imagination, but there are other barriers than those between nations which might be surmounted. One of the most outstanding of these is the great, stubborn wall that has existed between the older people and the young since the world began. They seem to be distinct classes in a way, which speak different languages. When they argue they are not talking about the same things. If each generation would cultivate its imagination so as to be able truly to appreciate the other's position, it would go a long way toward removing ill feeling and trouble and heartache. There would be less of friction and more of understanding.

WHAT IS TRUTH?

If some one would tell you there is no truth you would either consider him irresponsible for his speech or that he was joking. Some say that truth is universal and is truth always, and then again you hear the phrase "stretching the truth."

I have heard some pros say there is no truth except in some definite case or event in which we experience either truth or falsehood. But as to general truths such as the world being round or the moon being too cold to support life or two plus two are four any place in the universe, or speed is absolute, we only hold conceptions that are universal, any they may be truths or not. Galileo, Bacon, Newton and other men of science long ago shattered old truths and brought new ones into being.

You say, "yes but the truth is established now," but are they? The truth is that our conceptions are established now and they will remain as such till some Einstein or other such scientist or philosopher shows us that we were old moss backs in our thinking and beliefs and that we should be ashamed of ourselves in ever holding such conceptions.

This article is not to make you lose all faith in your thought or in mankind, but is trying to show you that conceptions may be changed. You hold opinions concerning your school that may be distasteful to others; you are confirmed that your ideas are correct and are very dogmatic in your statements.

When someone is trying to tell you that something or someone is right don't say that it is an untruth for it may be, and your narrow-minded, ready to accept new truths and your knowledge will grow. Have your opinions, and drive in your stakes on some idea or opinion but do not drive them in too far, because it may be necessary to pull them out.

Remember keep open minded concerning your conceptions of life and knowledge will develop accordingly.

"THE MIRACLE"

"The Miracle" which began at the Shrine Auditorium in Los Angeles on January 31, and which will run until February 26, has been the attraction for many student theater parties.

It is a most tremendous spectacle with about 600 in the cast. The action is all in pantomime, without words, but with wonderful musical and lighting effects. The inside of the enormous Shrine Auditorium has been altered to represent a cathedral, the altar being at the back of where the stage normally would be. Two immense pillars support the Gothic arches over the proscenium. At the base of one of these pillars is the statue of the Madonna portrayed by Lady Diana Manners.

The story, briefly, of the "Miracle" is that of a nun wishing to escape from the nunnery. The madonna comes down from her pedestal and takes the nun's place, until exceedingly weary of the world and wishing death the nun stumbles into the cathedral and is forgiven by the Madonna, who has again become the image.

"The Miracle" is most powerful in places, weird in others, fantastical, but yet always beautiful.

"The art of conversation is the art of hearing as well as of being heard."—Samuel T. Coleridge.

"Nothing great was ever achieved without enthusiasm."—Ralph Waldo Emerson.

SPOTTED BY THE LEOPARD

Rain, rain, and still more rain! Paul Blocher pulling Lloyd Emmert's car with a rope.

Chester Shirk getting pretty hungry at the cafeteria supper.

Professor Harper Frantz blowing soap bubbles.

Louise Huff and Edythe Miller quarreling over—they don't know what.

All of the girls receiving an appreciation note.

Mrs. Merritt acting as patrolman in the library.

Orville Brooks trying to look innocent (must be a hard job).

Washingtonians freezing out in "Sunny" California.

Onie Leonard riding the storm in a royal way.

Mrs. Ramseyer forgetting to go to class.

Several students thinking seriously of building arks.

Ray Mahoney and his leaky umbrella.

Lois Ruth Miller becoming a professional dish washer.

Nellie Frantz wishing to donate her police dog to the "Y" room.

Professor Cullen back again.

Professors trying to compete with the wind and rain in seeing which could be heard.

Kathryn Rothrock acting as "heap big manager."

A "radio" program being broadcast during the cafeteria supper.

Don Miller becoming Editor-in-chief of the Campus Times.

Marie Tingle, Mae Chronister and Mary Platt wandering aimlessly across the stage.

The faculty huddled around a little heater.

Senior play, pageant, institute, and all over—except the rain.

"Boots, boots, marching all the time" through the halls.

More new students—welcome!

THAT'S ALL!

In many ways a college is like an individual. In the matter of making and keeping friends, there is much similarity for the individual who maps out a huge task for himself, who refuses to be drawn to the right or the left despite the lures to be found, but sticks to his task, is the one who attracts many staunch friends. Likewise a college which maintains a steadily consistent ideal and strives ever to attain it, is a college that has charm for an ever-increasing amount of ardent supporters.

Students at the University of Minnesota walk 36 miles every week, according to the report of a research committee. The report points out that the student by covering his annual 2,190 miles in a straight line could enjoy extensive travel.

Two new buildings are going up on the Elizabethtown campus. One is a new gymnasium, which is to be one-story high with a basement. The second building is the Gible Science Hall. This building will be entirely devoted to science laboratories and lecture rooms.

WHO'S WHO IN L. V. C. FACULTY

Ellis M. Studebaker was born in Northern Illinois, September, 2 1881. His parents moved to Northeastern Kansas when he was six years of age. He spent the early part of life on the farm, and obtained his early education in a one-room country school. At the age of seventeen he began his educational career in McPherson College, from which institution a number of years later he graduated with the Bachelor of Arts degree. Throughout his college career he was a tutor in the above named institution, and for eight years was a regular member on the McPherson College faculty. Mr. Studebaker spent two years and a half in the Bethany Bible School of Chicago, and pursued his advanced training in the University of Washington, the University of Kansas, and the University of Chicago; receiving his Master's degree from the last named institution in 1921. August 1, 1923 he became president of LaVerne College and has since served in this capacity. President Studebaker is a member of the General Sunday School Board of the Church of the Brethren and a trustee of Bethany Bible School of Chicago.

"Wealth is the amount of desirable goods which a nation can produce and exchange."—Professor Williamson.

"Where is Noah?" That seemed to be the prevailing question around LaVerne College for the past week. LaVerne received nearly 12 inches of rain from Saturday noon till Wednesday evening, and it looked as though Noah would be needed before safety could be assured the people of Southern California.

Floods were impending and if the rain had lasted but a short time longer there would have been much more serious accidents occur. As it was highways and bridges were washed out and several lives were lost. Property was damaged to the extent of approximately one million dollars.

STUDENT LIFE

COLLEGE TRUSTEES MEET

SAME FACULTY TO BE RETAINED FOR NEXT YEAR

Business Manager and President Make Satisfactory Reports to Board

The meeting of the Board of Trustees began and ended with enthusiastic addresses. Chairman M. S. Frantz had difficulty in finding words adequate to express his joy and enthusiasm over the new building and its equipment. His feelings were shared, too, by the entire board. At the close of the day President Studebaker dispelled whatever concern or anxiety may have arisen during the hours of business by his thrilling account of the progress made by the college during the past three years. Outstanding evidences of progress are that the assets of the institution have increased more than a quarter of a million dollars; the student body is larger and wholly of college grade while the scholastic standing is decidedly improved. Plans for the immediate future include other advances. The board was never more hopeful and enthusiastic than at present and the meeting closed with a series of informal expressions of confidence and assurance of increasing success.

The new building is to be known as "Founders Hall." A suitable bronze plate bearing the names of the founders and other historical data is to be placed in the hall of honor of these benefactors. A similar plate has been authorized for Miller Hall. An extension to the gymnasium was authorized and provision made for the landscaping of the campus. A decision of more than usual importance and interest was the appropriation of five thousand dollars for books for the library. These additions are to be made as rapidly as it can be done wisely and well.

The Business Manager's report indicated satisfactory progress in the financial interests of the school. The prospects are that with the support voted by the conferences of the school districts owning the school, this will be the most satisfactory year in the history of the institution. Much enthusiasm was created by the achievements and plans of Rev. Harrison Frantz, the field secretary. He reports encouraging success in directing both students and money to LaVerne College. E. R. Yundt, who has served many years as a trustee, met with the board and expressed his opinion that the institution was never in a more satisfactory condition than at the present. He attributes this success largely to the very efficient work of the administration.

PERSONALS

Mary Blickenstaff, who was quite ill with pneumonia is now much improved and as soon as the weather clears up Mrs. Blickenstaff expects to bring her home from San Pedro.

Emma Garver one of LaVerne's former matrons spent Institute week here taking all the sessions and visiting many of her old friends. She is now making her home in Monrovia.

Y. W. C. A. TO ELECT OFFICERS

The election of Y. W. C. A. officers for the year 1927 will be held on Monday, Feb. 21, from 12 to 2 p. m. Acting on the suggestions resulting from a straw vote taken last Monday in the regular meeting, a nominating committee has placed the following women as candidates for the various offices:

President—Verda Brubaker, Kathryn Rothrock.

Vice-president—Grace Longenecker, Miriam Shirk.

Undergraduate representative—Irma Saladin, Margaret Price.

Secretary—Hilda Brubaker, Verna Sheets.

Treasurer—Alberta Maust, Genevieve Page.

Chorister—Lois R. Miller, Laura Shaver.

Nomination speeches for the candidates will be given in the regular 10:25 meeting, in order that the association members can vote intelligently. Voting will be done by ballot in the "Y" room.

The new officers will be duly installed and take their respective positions on Monday, March 8th.

GALE SEAMAN IS CHAPEL SPEAKER

Mr. Gale Seaman, regional secretary of the Y. M. C. A., gave a very interesting chapel address Wednesday, Feb. 16, on his trip to Europe.

After telling briefly of his travels he discussed the general impressions that he gained from the trip. He was impressed, first, with the utter futility of war after seeing fifty million people in Germany not knowing where their livelihood was coming from. "We don't believe in war between individuals or between states—then why believe in it between nations?" Mr. Seaman said; (2) there was a general desire for peace in the European countries; (3) Mr. Seaman said he was also made to realize more than ever the solidarity of the human race—the impossibility of people being entirely independent of each other. (4) Then, too, the unprecedented wealth and power of the United States is felt greatly. "We live a standard of life that is undreamed of by millions in Europe." (5) One of the things that impressed Mr. Seaman a great deal, was the need of the Christian spirit in the world. "Never in the history of the world was there such need of the Christian spirit," he says.

All enjoyed Mr. Seaman's talk and will be glad to have him come again to speak to the students.

NOTICE OF CORRECTION

In the edition of the Campus Times printed on Wednesday, Feb. 9, 1927, the following quotation from Dr. Frank Crumpacker was given: "Schools with curricula were not known in China until 1920."

On the contrary, Dr. Crumpacker stated that "Schools with curricula were not known in China until 1902."

We are glad to make this correction.—The Editor.

Mrs. Sam Fessler spent the Tuesday of Institute week with her granddaughter, Louise Huff. In the evening she saw the senior class play, "The Fool."

THE MIDSHIPMAN IS COMING

For last Friday the managing staff of the Orange Blossom had scheduled the picture "Janice Meredith," but because of the opereta "Pickles" produced at Bonita High School it was postponed. This week on Friday we will see the cinematograph "The Midshipman" starring Ramon Navarro. This is a story of the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis. It is an educational picture as well as a romance and adventure. The Annual staff can be commended on the type of pictures procured, and they are rewarded by the good attendance at these evenings of entertainment.

TIGERS CLAW LEOPARDS

OXY WINS DECISIVE VICTORY
FROM LA VERNE

Cal Tech to Furnish Entertainment in Battle for Cellar Champs

Tiger growls and Tiger claws suppressed the Leopard basket squad which ran into the lair of the Oxy warriors and came out with a 27 to 14 drubbing due to stellar court work by "Solly" Mishkin and clan.

The game was held at Occidental College's gym in Eagle Rock last Saturday night. The LaVerne Varsity, for a time, gave Oxy much to think about but then the Tigers got under way and Leopard hopes flew to the winds.

"Solly" Mishkin was the big noise for Oxy while Lehmer and Boots each chalked up 6 points for LaVerne. Captain Betts cavorted at center with Shirk, Bohn, Vaniman, and Hartman doing the act of receiving the Tiger claws on the defensive portion of the team.

Coach Arnett is limbering up his charges for a desperate fight against the Caltech Engineers who, like LaVerne, can show more numbers in the "lost" than the "won" column. Each are sure to be desperate when they meet on Tech's floor in Pasadena Saturday night.

WHITTIER U.C.L.A. AFTER TITLE

BRUINS, FORMER BASKETBALL
CHAMPS, PLAY QUAKERS FOR TITLE

Will the Bruin eat the Poet, or will the Poet sling a long line of poetic propaganda and bury ye Bruin to the neck and thereby choke him? That seems to be the question to be decided this week by the University of California at Los Angeles and Whittier College.

Both the Whittier Poets and the Bruin basketeers have thus far walked over everything that has come in their way and it is to be, undoubtedly, decided which will hold a permanent option on the 1000 per cent average for the year's work and thereby carry off the Southern California Conference basketball title.

The teams will meet two nights, first on the 22nd and then on the 26th. Both games are sure to be fast and furious as neither team is much to be laughed at. They are two of the best teams on the Coast.

BONITA IN RACE FOR LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP

Bonita, Colton, Chino Tie as Result of Yesterday's Games

Bonita High School, situated between LaVerne and San Dimas, is proud to announce themselves a part of a three-cornered tie for the Tri-County League basketball title. The other teams in the triangle are Chino and Colton.

The Bonita basketeers have only suffered one defeat all season, that being handed to them by Chino on Friday the 18th. As the score was close, being 9 to 10 Bonita has great hopes to beat the Chino squad when they play for the title which seems to rest between Chino and Bonita, as Colton is not considered as strong as the other two teams.

The team that wins the Tri-County title will enter the play-offs for the state title. Last year, Chino was runner-up in the state and as it is understood that they claim to have practically as good a team this year the Bonita outfit will have a strong

TRACK OR SWIM WHICH?

TRACK STARS, PUDDLE DUCKS, OR WHAT HAVE WE?

Channel Swimmers or Dredge Workers in Demand

"And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew," and "Doc" Kurtz decided to turn his track proteges into puddle ducks or, perhaps, Catalina Channel swimmers.

"Why, rain?" says he, disgustedly. "It seems to be raining something fierce on the other side of the earth and oozing forth from the ground onto our track. I really don't see how it could possibly come so fast from those clouds overhead. But, however it got there, we have a gigantic Pacific Ocean on our athletic field and all that any of the fellows who are aspiring for honors have to do is to start out and try to find where the track makes its turns. When the reward is honestly won we may be able to have a water marathon. You know—one of those things which are becoming so popular in the Sahara Desert and other coast cities."

U. C. L. A. IN SPRING GRID PRACTICE

REMEMBER THE ALAMO

Spaulding Has Large Turnout for Pre-season Practice

It has recently been learned that pigskins are popular at U. C. L. A. So popular in fact that Coach Spaulding has issued a call for spring football candidates in the middle of the winter. And the most interesting feature of all is that 60 men answered the call for a long drill season.

Seemingly, the Bruin intends to make himself the champion in Southern Conference football circles next fall. Undoubtedly it is time they should do something of the sort in order to prove their right to enter the Pacific Coast Conference where they will find some hot company.

There is no doubt but what they have as good a chance to the conference title as the next one as the newspapers announce that among the 60 aspirants Spaulding has 19 lettermen from the past season and as many numeral bearers from the Frosh outfit. Surely with this astounding array of brawn they should do something big—but—"Remember the Alamo." Numbers do not always count. LaVerne, too, is going for the title next year and most likely six other conference schools are voicing the same idea.

Furnace Creek Ranch in Death Valley, California, is the hottest known inhabited spot on the globe. A Government thermometer there registered 134 degrees in the shade. The coldest recorded locality is in Northern Siberia, where the mercury drops to 90 degrees below zero.

The Post Office Department in 1925 issued more than 17,000,000,000 stamps. In 1847 only 860,380 stamps were issued.

chance to work their way to the top this season if they are able to take the Tri-County title.

Both coaches, John Price of Bonita and Byrl Harper at Chino are LaVerne College Alumni. Much interest is taken in their teams by the students of the college.
