

"L" DAY TO BE OBSERVED BY COLLEGE STUDENT BODY

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 28th DECLARED A HOLIDAY BY FACULTY

WEEKLY PROGRAM TO BE HELD IN CANYON

Every day at last! Tuesday dawns upon us again and the student body enjoying the most delightful days of the year, for both students and faculty look forward to "L" Day.

Every morning students clad in hiking clothes, with spade, shovel or hoe, and all of the paraphernalia that goes with it, will be climbing the mountain side. Before the sun gets up to them, these travelers will have started their journey, not for the sake of gold, but to clear off the old tradition which has followed for many years.

It has always been the job of the freshmen to do the hard manual labor in cleaning off the "L," the upperclassmen boss the team. Cheer up, Freshmen, it isn't so bad and we only clean it once a year.

You can hear a few students say, "I can't go Tuesday. I have too much studying," or "I can't go for it takes too much energy." Freshmen forget that history collateral classes and Seniors, you have time the week-end to study History and Education. Let's put this knowledge to some practical use.

Even if you can't go to the "L," you should plan to spend the evening in San Dimas Canyon where the Sophomores and Juniors are having an excellent evening with a camp fire and a program for the evening is as follows:

School songs and yells.
Vocal solo, Tad Davis.
Reading, Hazel Barnhart.
Piano duet, Edna Brubaker and Esther Thomason.
Songs by the Aeolian Quartet.
Faculty skit.
Vocal duet, Daniel Stover and Edna Bolinger.

Because there are many new students each year we recount in the paper the history of our "L." Professor George Holenberg of the Botany Department is a reliable authority on the history of "L" for as a member of the class of 1911, which initiated the movement, he is the only one of its members now about college. Furthermore, he is one of the four men who first climbed to the top site and tentatively marked the letter with white sheets, and at the spot was plainly visible to LaVerne and a larger group who went up later to clear off brush.

It was in 1919 that the idea of "L" was sponsored by the sophomore class. Professor Rex of the Chemistry Department, Professor Funderburgh, Sociology teacher, also became interested in the plan. The first site was the first range west of (Continued on Page Two)

"Campus" Times Staff Hold First Meeting

PRESS CLUB ORGANIZED BY JOURNALISM GROUP

An enthusiastic group of members of the Campus Times staff gathered in the Y. M. C. A. room at 7:45 p. m. October 23 to discuss problems of the school paper and to complete the staff. The remainder of the evening was spent organizing a press club and playing games.

The editor, Everett Calvert, took charge of the business part of the meeting. He said that he was pleased with the cooperation of the members of the staff and that he thought the journalism class had improved the quality of the write-ups very much. In the future it is possible that all the members of the staff and all the reporters will be required to be enrolled in the journalism class or to have completed the course. Plans are being made by which only students who have had sufficient experience fulfilling minor positions on the paper will be appointed to the more important ones. These plans will probably lead to some method of regular succession before long; that is, the members of the staff holding the position of reporter, copy reader, or proof reader will work up possibly to sport editor, feature editor, or make-up editor the next year, and maybe to editor-in-chief or Bus. Mgr. the next year.

Although there is a marked improvement in the paper so far, there are still a few minor details to be worked out. The improvement is due largely to the journalism class and Professor Brubaker's efforts with this group of students. There is much interest centered around the Campus Times this year both by the faculty and the students in school, and many friends on the outside. It takes interest, experience and ability to put out a good school paper. Our paper should improve from year to year as more and more students become interested in journalism.

At the close of the business part of the meeting it was suggested that a press club be organized. This idea was enthusiastically approved by all present. The officers chosen were: Everett Calvert, president; Charles Manning, vice president; and Dalzie Wimer, secretary-treasurer. It was decided that the meetings would be held the second Monday evening of each month. All members who were present will be known as charter members and all others who are eligible and wish to join will be initiated. All members of the Campus Times and Lambda staffs are urged to join as the club meetings will take the place of most of the staff meetings.

PLANS FOR FEAST OF NATIONS NOW COMPLETED

COMMITTEES AT WORK

Feast at the Feast of Nations, Saturday, November 1, at 5:30 p. m.

Extensive plans for this community cafeteria supper are being made by LaVonne Putnam and Harry Thomas, who are in charge of appointing committees and laying general plans.

Students who have been chosen for the various booths are willingly cooperating in the attempt to make the Feast of Nations this year an event which will be remembered in years to come by those who participate in this delightful get-together and tasty supper.

The menu will include swiss steak, fish, ice cream, punch, coffee, potatoes, carrots, gravy, beets, salads, cake and pies—good enough to attract any one to the college gymnasium between the hours of 5:30 and 7:00 Saturday evening.

People of LaVerne and nearby communities are donating much of the food to be sold by Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. members, from unique booths decorated as representing foreign countries.

Committees appointed are:

English Booth
Swiss Steak: Martha Baer, Ed Cunningham; Doyle Montz, decorator.

Fish: Elizabeth Masterson, Glenn Harmon; Anna Emmert, decorator.

Iceland
Viola Smith, Ruby Saylor, Everett Calvert; Kay Crist, decorator.

Coffee: Mildred Smith, Vernon Weybright; decorator also.

Irish Booth
Potatoes: Esther Thomason, Charles Manning.

Gravy: Dortha Gans; decorators, Onis Leonard, Blanche Klingaman.

Beets: Wilma Long.

American Booth
Salads: Edna Brubaker, Jerry Deal; decorator, Frances Sandblom.

Dutch Booth
Bread and butter: Naomi Whipple; decorators, Flossie Page, Russell Frantz.

Candy Booth
Virginia Scarisbrick, Helen Buckley; decorators, Virginia S., Helen B., and Dale Stutzman.

Swedish Booth
Pie and Cake: Esther Dickey, Orville Thomason; decorator, Fern Bowman.

Other committees appointed are: Publicity, Elwyn Boly; table decorations and dishes, Glenna Betz; properties, Zola DuBois; dish washing committee, Miriam Dickey; clean-up, Fred Butterbaugh; tables and chairs, George

HALLOWE'EN JAMBOREE TO BE HELD IN GYM

PRIZES OFFERED FOR FUNNIEST COSTUME

The annual Penny Fair and Masquerade is to be held Friday night at 8:00 p. m., October 31, in the Gymnasium.

Hey, hey, pie and cider." "Come have your fortune told." "Looky, looky, latest way to smash your fingers." These cries and many others will bombard our ears next Friday night as we gaze at all the freaks, side shows and wonders which L. V. C. can muster.

There are going to be all kinds, types, and makes of side shows and contests for the variously and peculiarly attired thrill seekers. You can enjoy all manner of things, from smashing your thumb to tickling your tonsils with the good old essence of Hallowe'en and Black Cats—cider.

Prizes will be offered for the most original costumes; so come on, dig down in the old attic trunk and get antiquated. Remember, have an accessible pocket in your costume and fill it full of pennies. It might be a wise idea to start saving them now. You know, three pennies at the fair will be worth a whole jug full in the kitchen sink.

Forensic Club Enjoys Banquet

The Forensic Club was organized for the coming year at a banquet held at the Chocolate Tavern Tuesday evening, October 21.

Everett Calvert, former president of the organization, acted as toastmaster. Each member was called upon to contribute two minutes of entertainment to the program. Other numbers on the program were a reading entitled "The Highwayman," given by Wilma Long; a song, "Danny Boy," by Ed Cunningham, and a musical skit entitled "The Keys to Heaven" was given by Professor and Mrs. B. S. Haugh, who were guests at the banquet.

After the program a business meeting was held. The officers elected were as follows: Orlin Vaniman, president; Alexander Mal-Weybright.

Many have special work to do; others may do their part by boosting the Feast of Nations. By the cooperation of all, this should prove to be the greatest Feast of Nations in the history of LaVerne College.

Enthusiasm Runs High in Associated Student Body Meeting

COACHES EISAN AND GLICK GIVE ADVICE TO ROOTERS

The Associated Student Body meeting was called to order Friday October 24, by President Stutzman.

"L" Day was announced for next Tuesday. Rules and regulations were read by the president. The Juniors are to have charge of the program and the Sophomores the eats.

The Hallowe'en Jamboree was announced for Oct. 31. It is to be a masquerade and penny fair.

Helen Buckley then sang two numbers, "I'm Waiting for Ships That Never Come in," and "Start Over Again," accompanied by Miss Virginia Scarisbrick.

The San Diego Varsity game was then announced for Oct. 25 at 7:45 in San Diego. The rest of the meeting was given over to yells and singing. Charles Manning, Elbert Ebersole, and Howard Pederesen, the yell leaders, certainly aroused enthusiasm.

Frosh, Sophs Enjoy Retreat

Thirty-four freshmen and sophomores enjoyed the Sunday School Retreat at the faculty cabin Saturday evening and Sunday morning, October 25 and 26. Leaving LaVerne at about five o'clock, the group arrived at the cabin in time for a little fun before supper was served. The meal consisted of mashed potatoes and gravy, meat loaf, salad, cottage pudding, pickles, rolls and chocolate. An informal program followed, readings, songs, yells, and a talk by Miss Muir on some embarrassing moments she had as a foreign student. The entire group then went on a hike up to Wolfskill Falls Camp, where some rested and some used the swings until time to go back. At the cabin again, corn was popped and eaten, songs were sung, and at 12:30 the group went to bed, to go to sleep a few hours later, more or less, after listening to ghost stories, seeing mice, and killing bumblebees, and in the men's camp, having a few fights.

Everybody was up and beds were rolled by six o'clock the next morning. The morning watch was led by Rev. Fox. Breakfast, consisting of bacon and eggs, coffee and toast, was served to a hungry group, after which they left for LaVerne and Sunday School.

NICOLAS, ADAMS PLAY OUTSTANDING GAME

San Diego expected a breather when they played LaVerne and the final score shows just how much of a "breather" it was. Coach Herreid was plainly worried and had his full strength in all the time.

About half of LaVerne journeyed to the border city and were rewarded by seeing a real football game.

The battle started very inauspiciously for the Leopard squad, San Diego making their first touchdown in just four minutes after the beginning of the game. Forney was forced to punt from his own 15-yard line. The punt was blocked and San Diego recovered on the 5 yard line. They bucked it over for the score and the conversion was good, making the score San Diego 7, LaVerne 0.

San Diego made their second touchdown in the first quarter. They put the ball in scoring position by a couple of long runs from scrimmage by Walker and then carried the ball over on line bucks. This conversion was also good, making the score San Diego 14, LaVerne 0.

LaVerne gained strength as the game progressed and the battle saw-sawed back and forth for the most of the half. Near the end of the first half San Diego had the ball on their own 35 yard line. The Aztecs elected to pass. Walker faded back with the ball and almost instantly Nicolas was on him. He hurried his pass and "Smitty" Smith gathered it in on about the 50 yard line and journeyed on down the field for a touchdown. The try for the extra point was wide and this accounts for the final score, San Diego 14, LaVerne 6.

The second half was a real football game between two evenly matched teams. First San Diego and then LaVerne would have the advantage, with neither team having the punch to put it over.

In the closing seconds of the game Coach Eisan injected some fresh men into the game and with this rejuvenated blood the Leopards carried the ball 75 yards in just one minute. When the final gun sounded LaVerne had the ball on San Diego's 20 yard line and was still going strong.

The game produced fewer outstanding players on the LaVerne squad than previous games, but the whole team functioned more effectively than at any time heretofore. Undoubtedly, Nicolas was the outstanding defensive player on the field, however. He was never taken out of the line, and time and again he broke through the San Diego line to smear the plays before they had a chance to start. At one time he smothered Dilley for a ten yard loss before he had a (Continued on Page Four)

MORALE OF STUDENTS SOARING HIGH!

The morale of the Associated Students is one hundred per cent better than it was at the first of the year.

Every activity seems to have capable leaders and the rest are falling in behind them to make each club, organization, sport, and other activity both successful and interesting. This is having its effect on the college as a whole, and the spirit of the students, as one unit, is booming.

Athletics are being backed up better, too. The size of the rooting section and its yelling at the San Diego game proved this; and it certainly helped the fellows to fight the Aztecs to a standstill after the first two or three minutes of play, when all of San Diego's points were scored. The players realized the support they were getting and fought harder.

Now, let's keep it up and boost our individual activities and school functions! There should be close to 100 per cent of the students at the "L" tomorrow, and the Halloween party Friday night!

WHO DOES WHAT ON THE CAMPUS TIMES

The staff is now completed, although there will be occasional changes and additions from time to time. Above, you can see who does what on the paper, but perhaps there may be doubt as to just what some staff members do; so here is a brief review of some of them.

The make-up editors estimate the value, type, and importance of articles and then assign them to one of the four pages. When this is done, each page is planned and headlines are written for each article. Briefly, the make-up editors are responsible for the appearance of the paper and the arrangement of reading material.

The news editor lists the events or student activities that will go in each issue by the Wednesday before, and if there is no regular reporter for the event, she assigns a reporter to cover it. So be sure to inform the news editor of anything that is not on the calendar or advertised in another way, or it may not get in the paper!

The feature editor either writes or secures humorous articles from other sources and also has charge of Campus Chuckles.

The copy and proof readers check the grammatical and typographical errors of the copy which is printed.

The sports editor, of course, covers the most important athletic events and is in reality a reporter.

Special reporters! Why call them special? Because only those who have shown themselves capable of writing well can write for the Campus Times and partly because these reporters have regular beats or special types of news to write!

The exchange editor seeks to exchange with other college papers that will be useful to us, and secures the papers you wish to read.

The members of the staff in the business department do just about what their titles indicate. The business secretary keeps books, sends out bills, etc., and the circulation manager has charge of folding all the papers and mailing those sent out. Her assistants help her in this work.

TOO BAD

Benny Anderson: "Can't you see my heart is on fire?"
Miriam Dickey: "Well, what am I to do? Do I look like a fire extinguisher?"

She: "The faculty is going to stop all petting."

He: "Well, they ought to; they are getting too old for such things."

FROSH MEET, PLAN "L" DAY

The Freshman class met with its advisor, Prof. Brandt, last Tuesday night, Oct. 21, at 8:15 in the Y. M. room.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Carroll Aeschbacher. The class decided upon its dues and suggestions are being worked on for class colors, which will be announced at the next

Dayton Stutzman: "I wonder where Columbus is."

Zula Hollinger: "I found him in the encyclopedia."

Mrs. Haugh: "All ready to run up the curtain."

Tommy T.: "What do you think I am, a squirrel?"

Prof. Frantz: "This gas is deadly poison. What steps would you take if it should escape?"
Joe Roynon: "Long ones."

Frances Nix: "Why, doctor, you told me to show my tongue but you haven't even looked at it."

Doctor: "No, that was only to keep you quiet while I wrote this perscription."

Ed O.: "When I was in your place I thought nothing of ten-mile walks."

Royal Glick: "Well, I didn't think much of it, either."

Soph (to Frosh): "Say, do you know there is a town in Massachusetts named after you?"

Proud Frosh: "Oh! No, what is it?"

Soph: "Marblehead!"

Martha Darkes: "Please, Lord, help me to be half as popular as the dog that ran into the library."

Eleanor Shepp: "No, daddy, I won't need any clothes this winter."

Father: "Ye fishes! I was afraid it would come to that."

Willie Long: "My intellect is my fortune."

Ralph F.: "Oh, well, poverty is no disgrace."

Fern Glick: "Do you think that airplanes will ever supplant the automobiles?"

Ruth Rothrock: "No, who would want to park in a damp old cloud?"

Kenny Deardorff: "Have you ever been in a railway accident?"

Orlin Lett: "Yes, once, I was in a train and as we went through a tunnel, I kissed the father instead of the daughter."

May I print a kiss upon your lips, I asked;

"L" DAY TO BE OBSERVED

the present location, but the class became more ambitious and decided that the ideal spot would be a higher one. Of this we are especially glad, for our letter is said to be one of the highest letters of its kind in the world, placed at an altitude of approximately 5000 feet.

The personnel of this pioneer group consisted of Professors Rexroad and Funderburgh and two sophomore boys, David Bomberger and George Hollenberg. They set out early one morning from Live Oak canyon in their expedition, equipped with lunches, one axe, tape measure and three sheets, following what trails and firebreaks they could in order to reach the desired spot. This longer trail was used until 1922 through the present San Dimas and Fern Canyons to Browns Flat and then up to the "L."

There being much underbrush, it was no easy task for this quartet to reach their desired destiny. But upon doing so they used the sheets, tying them on bushes, and so marking the three points of the letter.

Several weeks later a group of college boys went in a body to actually stake and measure up the ground, remove the brush, and make a plain "L." There were about 30 or more folks who finally had to come down that hillside, leaving the "L" unwidened and unblocked, because of the lack of water, which hindered its completion. Three years later saw the completion of the letter, and likewise the shortened trail. It was this same year that a group of fifteen girls, of whom Vera Hoover was a member, made the trip.

A permanent memorial of the event was placed near the top of the letter by these first ingenious sophomores in their senior year. The stake and block weighing 75 pounds were made by Welty Leffever and George Hollenberg and carried in relays of only two turns each to the top of the mountain by Leland Brubaker, George Hollenberg and Beryle Harper.

The following inscription was made on the silver surface of the bronze plate, "Initiated by the class of '21. Erected by the student body of L. V. C., 1919." Besides this there may be seen on the cement the initials of the four original surveyors. Although this was set up in the spring, "L" Day comes traditionally in the fall after the first rains.

The "L" has a vertical measurement of 340 feet, with a base 180 feet long and 45 feet wide. It is located on the topmost peak of the mountains next to "Old Baldy" in the San Gabriel range north of LaVerne. The sentiment of the "L" is crystallized in an appropriate college song entitled "Guide of LaVerne."

A NEW ELEMENT—WOMAN.
Symbol: Wo.

A member of the human family. Occurrence: Can be found wherever man exists. Seldom occurs in the free state. Quality depends upon the state in which it is found. With the exception of Massachusetts state, the combined state is to be preferred.

Physical properties: Extremely active. Possesses great affinity for gold, silver, platinum and precious stones of all kinds. Violent reaction when left alone by men. Ability to absorb all sorts of expensive foods at any time. Undissolved by liquids, but activity is greatly increased when saturated with spirit solutions. Sometimes yields to pressure. Turns green when placed next to a better appearing sample. Ages very indefinitely. Fresh variety has great magnetic attraction.

Note: Highly explosive and likely to be dangerous in inexperienced hands.

Cy Nical Comments

This telegram was received by Coach Eisan while at Santa Barbara

Mr. Lee Eisan: Come home at once - stop - Dinah in pound - stop - mother of eight pups - stop - no trouble at all - stop - Congratulations. Dean Hoover.

Incidents noted on the Santa Barbara trip:

1. The telegram which she sent Nick must have been a wow. I saw Nick deliberately try to walk through a plate glass window. He nursed a bumped nose for his dreaming. Ain't love grand?

2. I believe Ed Ohanesian would make a good elevator boy. He certainly got a kick out of chasing the elevator up and down at the hotel.

3. Oh, boy, the meat we tried to eat! It had been plenty aggravated before we had a chance to maul it. When some of the fellows were half through I could hardly tell which pile of meat they had chewed.

4. A cop accused Ed Oanesian of being a high school kid, but Ed explained his mistake by saying he had shaved that morning. The cop retaliated by saying that did not account for the condition between his ears. Mm-m-m-m?

5. When a gang of about fifteen file across a street they are certain to be christened in several different languages, and we were.

6. I observed that there is a whole lot to Bridge. No foolin'.

7. I wonder if Alex hasn't missed his calling by not going to different radio stations as a specialist in bedtime story telling.

"Life is just one fool thing after another. Love is just two fool things after each other."

Love is blind, but marriage is an eye-opener.

Yes, sir, Frances Nix deserves an A. She told Prof. Brubaker that the Journalism class was what Mrs. Haugh told them their drama class was—a workshop. Quite terse, don't you think.

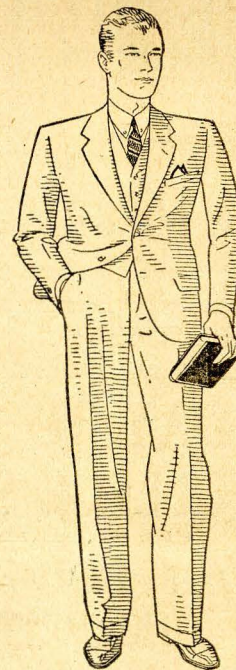

It is comical to note the difference between the girls and the boys when they go to have their pictures taken. The girl spends fifteen minutes primping and the fellow one-fifteenth of a minute. Which gets the best picture? Usually neither one, but both about the same. I ask you, girls, is it worth while?

Rev. Stauffacher said in his address here Oct. 16 that "Man is indeed a little lower than God." He made this statement after commenting on our remarkable growth intellectually and our control and understanding of natural laws. Yes, these God-like creatures are certainly omnipotent on the high seas when God's anger rises and sinks their unsinkable ships, or when God blows his breath thru the heavens and the mechanically perfect airplane goes to destruction. God pity us if we think we are infallible and omnipotent.

I want to state here that we fellows could not have better managers and coaches. They certainly did all in their power to treat us the best. I believe that I am expressing the opinion of the other fellows as well as my own.

Alumni Notes

Glenn Vaniman of Kingsburg visited friends in Long Beach and LaVerne recently. He reports that he enjoys his work in Kingsburg high school very much.

Jay Myers and Cecelia Shaffer Myers are rejoicing over the birth of a little son at the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. C. P. Shaffer in Cucamonga October 18. He has been named Charles Arthur in honor of both his grandfathers. He weighs 7 1/4 pounds. Cecelia is spending some time with her parents. Jay will come down to take his family home in a few weeks. They have a little girl two years of age named Joan.

Harvey and Annie (Nelson) Hanawalt entertained the choir of the Long Beach church of the Brethren with a dinner party in the patio of their beautiful home Saturday evening. A number of alumni and former students of the college are members of this choir.

May Rexroad Moomaw, Dora Nelson Bedford, and Miss Blickenstaff Rexroad being among the number. The Hallowe'en motif predominated in the decorations.

Gorman Rensberger and his wife, Ruth Emley Rensberger, of Santa Ana, spent Sunday in LaVerne. Also Miss Mina Shirk of Victorville and Miss Alberta Maust of Buena Park were LaVerne visitors Sunday.

Faculty News

President Studebaker returned from the inaugural occasion of President Sproul of the University of California at Berkeley on Thursday evening. At noon of the same day he took lunch at the Faculty Club with the University Examiner Dwight C. Baker and in the afternoon visited with his nephew, Leland Studebaker, who is doing second year medical work at Stanford University.

Dr. Hoover is teaching a new Sunday School class at the Church of the Brethren. All former college students and college alumni are invited to attend, 9:45 a. m.

President Studebaker will attend the Teachers Training Conference at San Jose State College Friday and Saturday, October 31 and November 1.

Professor Hollenberg and his botany class will leave for Camp Baldy Monday afternoon, Oct. 27.

A dinner party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Glick on Wednesday evening, October 22. Those present at the party were Mr. and Mrs. Lee Eisan, Mr. and Mrs. Levi Dickey, Miss Vivian Jones and Ernest Landis.

PROGRAM, GAMES ENJOYED

The Associated Women Students of Miller Hall held their Hallowe'en fete last Wednesday night in Miller Hall.

Several readings, musical numbers, and snappy, interesting games made a very enjoyable evening for all. It was also heard that gentlemen enjoyed the candy found in the different rooms during "open house"; these included Coaches Eisan and Glick.

Opal Kuns made an announcement that a play is to be given by the A. W. S. of Miller Hall, entitled "It's a Ming." Watch the bulletin board for the time and place.

LUCILE FORNEY TO BE SECY-TREASURER

At a meeting of the Foreign Language Club on Tuesday afternoon chairmen for the various departments were elected as follows: French, Wilma Baldwin; Spanish, Alice Butner, and German, Frances Berg.

Lucile Forney was elected secretary-treasurer of the entire club. Her chief duty will be to look up current foreign news that might be interesting to the club members and see that some good foreign newspapers find their way to the college library.

An attempt was made to set a regular date for club meetings, but no definite decision was reached.

PLAN "L" DAY PROGRAM; ROLLER SKATING PARTY

Plans for the "L" Day program and a roller skating party for next month were the main features of the Junior class meeting at the Bishop home in Pomona on Thursday evening, Oct. 23.

Miss Esther Thomason was appointed chairman of the program committee and the Misses Ruth Bishop and Jean Bland and Harry Thomas were made her associates.

The roller skating party which is scheduled for October 25, will take place at Roller Dome in Culver City. A business meeting at Miss "Frankie" Sandblom's home will precede the party.

After the business was finished, entertainment in the form of games and conversation was provided.

Dainty refreshments consisting of hot chocolate, sandwiches and fruit salad, cleverly prepared to represent Hallowe'en, were served.

was "Our Best Selves." He also lectured at B. P. Y. D. on "The Religious Achievements of India" Sunday evening.

Professor Haugh has organized a new male quartet, the personnel being: First tenor, Ellsworth Relogle; second tenor, Elmo Hall; first bass, Kenneth Heckman; second bass, Charles Snell.

He is also organizing a class for voice training in two sections at the Church of the Brethren, for members of the choir. The classes will be held Tuesday evenings.

Miss Elsie Coffman, a native of New York, accompanied Professor for its marvelous sunsets. Mr. Travis says so too. We welcome Miss Coffman to sunny California.

Student Volunteer Entertain Oxy Visitors

When the Student Volunteers met at the old church building Wednesday evening, an especially good time was provided by the social and program committee. Fifty people were present.

In honor of visiting friends from Occidental College, a delicious banquet was arranged for the group, during which readings and solos were presented for further enjoyment during the hour.

With Ed Cunningham, the president, as toastmaster, there was a general spirit of merriment and fun. Hazel Barnhart gave several amusing readings in her characteristic style, and Geneva Suttle sang two solos of a light nature.

The guests of honor were Miss Peggy McCune, president of the Southern California Student Volunteer Union, and David Graham, another officer of the organization. After the banquet, the local cabinet met with them to make plans for the coming conference of the S. C. S. V. U. which will convene at LaVerne November 14, 15 and 16.

Y. W. C. A. Notes

Singing of Y. W. songs was enjoyed by the girls of the organization at their meeting Monday morning. Several rounds as well other peppy songs were sung.

It had been planned to have Prof. Muir give a talk on her recent trip to Europe, but due to a misunderstanding she was unable to be present. It is planned to have Prof. Muir give her talk in the near future.

The Freshman Girls' Club enjoyed a talk by Miss Ruth Price at the meeting held last Thursday, October 23.

Miss Price is an alumnus of LaVerne. Her talk was on experiences that she enjoyed while in Europe recently.

An interesting display of curios from many countries of Europe was shown. Traveling bags plastered with stickers from here, there and everywhere proved to be of particular interest to the girls.

Preceding the talk, Grace Gans favored the group with a reading.

Dr. Van Kirk Reads from Browning in Chapel

SELECTIONS FROM "RING AND BOOK" INTERPRETED

Both chapel periods of this week have been filled by Dr. Van Kirk who read certain excerpts from "The Ring and the Book" by Browning, the synopsis of which was given in a former issue.

The particular selection which he read was Guiseppes' defense of Pompilia before the court. At the close of the Tuesday chapel period the reader stopped in a very interesting place and consequently his crowd for Thursday was assured beforehand.

Dr. Van Kirk is considered a clever reader, not only of Browning but also of Shakespeare. He is especially remembered by LaVerne students for his rendition of part of "The Merchant of Venice," which he gave last year.

The LaVerne College students seek to express their appreciation for his part in making chapel interesting by giving him a hearty welcome each time he comes.

Frances Nix Surprised With Birthday Party

A surprise party was given Frances Nix last Wednesday night at her home.

The crowd met at the Dickey home and from there went to the home of Miss Nix. When they arrived Frances was visiting at a neighbor's home, but her mother soon called her home.

The celebration went in playing bunko and bridge. Mrs. Nix served ice cream and cake.

Those present were the Misses Esther and Miriam Dickey, Edna and Bernice Brubaker, Myrtice Butterbaugh, Frances Berg, the guest of honor, Frances Nix, and Messrs. Ralph Travis, Gerald Deal, Doyle Montz, George Berg, Elwin Wilson, Kenneth Brownsberger and Daniel Mahoney.

WEEK-END RESULTS

Pomona 6, Redlands 0

The Sagehens finally scored a touchdown and as a result won their first victory of the season, having been beaten by San Diego, U. C. L. A. and Caltech in the three previous starts.

The Bulldogs deserved to win the game, and from all reports, outplayed their opponents throughout the contest. However, breaks decided the outcome of the game, and Pomona won.

Santa Barbara 13, Whittier 7

The Roadrunners upset the highly touted Quakers Friday night on Whittier's field, 13-7. Before the game it was thought certain that Whittier would win.

Santa Barbara has now defeated Redlands, Whittier, and LaVerne, and tied Caltech, all conference schools, for a pretty good record.

Whittier, on the other hand, has a strong team, but apparently not nearly as good as was expected at first.

Arizona 26, Oxy 0

Occidental's first two games were evidently played over their heads or else the U. of Mexico and Whittier were pretty weak, for Arizona, who beat Caltech only 27-13, defeated the Tigers 26-0. And San Diego, a week ago, upset them 14-7.

chance to pass. At another time he hurried the passer to such an extent that he passed into the arms of Smith, who raced for the touchdown. The only unfortunate thing for "Nick" was that he hurt his elbow late in the game, and will be laid up for a couple of weeks.

Ralph Adams played a real game at his end position. He was breaking into the backfield very effectively and he was going down fast under punts. However, Adams always plays such a strong game that it is almost expected of him to keep it up.

Forney played a great game in the backfield, his greatest trouble being in getting his passes far enough down the field to Jones on a couple of occasions. Jones was punting as he is capable of doing and he got LaVerne out of several holes with his long boots.

The biggest improvement the LaVerne team showed was in its pass defense. The team played a great game on both defense and offense, with possibly the best showing on the defense.

The LaVerne team lined up with R. Adams and Jones, ends; Ferree and Leonard, tackles; Nicolas and Funk, guards; and Montz, center. In the backfield were Weybright, Forney, Hubbell (c.), and Smith. Other men who got into the game were Deal, Roynon, Thomason, A. Adams, Shirk and Stover.

Deal went in for Leonard in the first quarter and played a good game despite the fact that he had just recovered from a shoulder injury.

It was a great game!

There must be some truth to an editorial printed in "The Occidental," Oxy's weekly, just before the San Diego game. This editorial stated that it seemed hard to key the men up or to get the student body excited over championships any more, there being such an abundance of them at the Tiger institution at the present time. Well, LaVerne's hoping they will be congregating here before long, as there has been a poor crop of them up to the present date, and then Oxy won't need to be bothered with them any longer.

U. C. L. A. 30, Caltech 0

The Bruins of U. C. L. A. were apparently awakened from a quiet snooze by St. Mary's last week-end, for they continued their ominous prowling Friday night at the Rose Bowl to defeat the Engineers 30-0.

Caltech was not downed without a struggle, however, the first half ending with the score only 6-0.

Caltech is still favored to put up a good fight for the championship, regardless of this defeat.

On Par With Pomona, Oxy and Redlands; Stronger Than Whittier and Cal-Christian

How do the Leopards compare with other conference teams at the present time? In answer to this question two San Diego players said, "Stronger than Pomona, and about three touchdowns better than Occidental." From that reply, you can draw your own conclusions as to the respect for the Leopards the San Diego men had after the battle Saturday night.

That is San Diego's opinion, but what do comparative scores show? Well, it depends which scores you use. San Diego beat Oxy 14-7 and LaVerne 14-6; and Oxy beat Whittier 25-0, which makes LaVerne several touchdowns better than Whittier. On the other hand Santa Barbara defeated LaVerne 24-6 and Whittier only 13-7, which shows Whittier a couple touchdowns stronger than the Leopards.

Then Caltech had a hard time beating LaVerne 27-13; Pomona a hard time holding Caltech to a 2-0 score after which the Sagehens beat Redlands 6-0, putting us about on a par with Pomona and the Bulldogs.

Again, Santa Barbara barely nosed out Redlands 7-6, while their win of 24-6 over LaVerne still remains.

Just what do all these comparative scores amount to is a mooted question, but it is doubtful if any real dope can be had from these if you just look at all of them on the surface.

But what comparative scores ever showed anything, anyway?

Certainly they never helped Stanford when they played against U. S. C.; Whittier when they played Santa Barbara; nor California against Washington, so let's forget 'em for a minute.

What does matter, and gives us the real low-down on the Leopards and possibly a basis for a Conference rating is the evolution of LaVerne scores against their opponents this year and the unquestionable increase in power and team play displayed in each succeeding game.

First came the L. A. J. C. team and a 26-0 score which was a rather poor showing; then the Engineers with the Leopards a little stronger, and a 27-13 score; next Santa Barbara and a deceitful score of 24-6, when the Leopards shoved their opponents all over the lot for a half; and finally the battle with San Diego Saturday night which narrowly avoided being the biggest upset of the season in a game full of thrills and Leopard fight, which ended 14-6.

This record shows two things of importance. First that the Leopards have had some of the very best coaching in the Conference, and that Eisan is on his way to being a top-notch in the coaching game, which is bound to carry LaVerne to the top. Second, that the way the Leopards played against the Aztecs is a surer basis to fig-

GRID PREDICTIONS

The Sports Staff makes the following predictions for this week-end's games:

Redlands vs. Occidental—Oxy to win, by not more than one touchdown.

San Diego vs. Whittier—San Diego to win, by two touchdowns; approximate score, 20-6. Pomona vs. Arizona—Arizona by four touchdowns.

U. S. C. vs. Denver—S. C. by at least 70 points, if use first or second string.

California vs. Montana—Golden Bears, by four touchdowns.

Washington vs. College of Puget Sound—Huskies by six touchdowns.

Idaho vs. Gonzaga—The Vandals two touchdowns better.

COAST CONFERENCE GRID NEWS

Trojans 41, Stanford 12

There has been talk about upsets, trappings, beatings, lickings, surprises, etc., many long years; but few will equal the spectacle at Palo Alto Saturday in the realm of football.

What was forecasted to be a close, hard-fought battle between two mighty elevens with the "breaks" deciding the game, turned out to be a rout from start to finish for the powerful Trojans.

An idea of how pitiful the scene put on before nearly 90,000 fans at Palo Alto really was can be gained by two records, the 41-12 score, and the amazing total of 481 yards gained by U. S. C. to 141 for the Cards.

Duffield got to going, finally, and demonstrated his true value by outplaying Mohler, the Alhambra star, while he was in the game, which may give you an idea as to whether Howard Jones has been playing these two men right this season or not.

Huskies 13, Golden Bears 0

The third major upset of the 1930 season in the Coast Conference found California on the weak end of a 13-0 score against the Washington Huskies, coached by "Jimmy" Phelan.

The loss of at least six first string players from last year's squad at Berkeley is undoubtedly making more difference in Price's team than was previously anticipated. Men like Eisan, Lom, Norton, Neil, Swartz and Riegals can't be taken from any team without making quite a difference. The Huskies are much stronger than was supposed, too, which may explain the Golden Bears' second defeat at the hands of teams from the far north this year.

Washington State 61, Montana 0

The Cougars continued their triumphant march toward the seemingly not far distant Coast championship by thoroughly trouncing Montana, the final score being 61-0.

The Huskies seem to be about the only team that has a chance to stop Hollingbery's men now, and the Huskies served notice that they are going to be hard to beat when they toppled the Golden Bears over 13-0 Saturday.

ure games from than is any other method of predicting their future.

For this reason, the writer rates the Leopards about even, if not slightly better than Whittier and Redlands, and just as good as Pomona and Occidental at the present time.

If LaVerne improves as much in the future as they have between games in the past, the Leopards should easily defeat Cal-Christian and then beat both Whittier and Redlands by one or two touchdowns.

ASSOCIATED STUDENTS MEETING

Lee Eisan and Dale Glick, our coaches, gave speeches in which they cheered the boys on, and gave the rooters some advice and instructions.

The meeting was closed by singing the Alma Mater.

All during the meeting the enthusiasm ran high. Come on, L. V. C., you are getting more pep, but you need twice as much as you have now. Let's help our boys win their games!

lides, vice-president, and Opa Kuns, secretary-treasurer.

Activities and plans for the following year were discussed. Professor Brubaker, the faculty advisor for the club, urged everyone to support the Women's Extremous Contest and the women's debate, which are the next forensic functions on schedule. He also suggested to the club his plan for having a debate squad from which to choose the conference debater instead of only a team as in previous years. This plan met with the strong approval of the organization, and it was unanimously voted to adopt this new method.

The Forensic Club promises to be one of the truly active organizations of the college in its support and promotion of all forensic activities.

Professor Sarafian will speak over Radio KMPC Wednesday evening, Oct. 25, at 9:00 p. m. on "The Mainsprings of Human Action."
