COLLEGE WEEK

JANUARY 15th TO 22nd. ALL DISTRICTS ENGAGED IN SPECIAL CAMPAIGN

For the first time in the history of La Verne College, the entire College territory has observed "College Week" While the Districts of California and Arizona have engaged in special campaigns for funds to meet the current expenses, all the churches in the Pacific Coast territory have been asked to join in a week of prayer and thought for Christian Education.

The following letter was mailed to each pastor or elder of these churches:

To the Churches of the Brethren Of California and Arizona Greeting:

As the days are passing and the New Year approaches, we are all impressed to look ahead and survey the prospects of the future. Our blessings have been many and the bounties and mercies of Heaven have filled our cups to overflowing.

In making plans to better fulfill the will of our Master, the great cause of Christian Education claims a large share of our interest. The heavy responsibility involved in the development and training of our young men and women for Christian leadership, compels us to seek a closer fellowship with our Father and with one another in the accomplishment of this important task.

By the endorsement of the Executive Committee of the Educational Board of La Verne College, your Acting President, together with the Trustees, Officers of the Administration, and Faculty of the College, herewith calls for a week of intercession and consecration among the churches in behalf of the Educational work of our territory. This week of prayer and offering is to extend from Sunday January 15 to Sunday, January 22.

The approval and adoption, by the Districts in their recent regular conference, of the enlarged program submitted by your Educational Board, gives assurance of the spirit of united co-operation and support on the part of a people who love the Lord and rejoice in the consecration of young life to His service. The hearty determination that our College should continue and grow and prosper will find adequate opportunity of expression in the acknowledgement of the stewardship of life and possessions for this great cause.

We believe the unity of heart and spirit thus created will mean much in the promotion of the cause of Christ among us. It is hoped that during this COLLEGE WEEK, not only shall our gifts be commensurate with the urgent need of our College, but there shall be kindled among us a spiritual enthusiasm that shall dominate our lives throughout the entire year.

It is with confidence and hope that we are called to this fellowship of service. May the Good Father lead us all, and may His children be readily responsive in the accomplishment of His will.

Yours in the interest of His Kingdom,
I. V. FUNDERBURGH,
Acting President

DO YOUR PART

Students, the management of the college is asking the people of the Pacific and Idaho for $15,000 this week for the purpose of keeping our school going. It will mean a sacrifice for our parents and others to give that much, so here is a call for us to do our part. We cannot give financially, but we can show our interest in the work by economizing in our school expenses.

Let's do without everything but what is absolutely necessary. We cannot do otherwise and be loyal to our college in these times of financial depression.

Miss Estella Landis, of Live Oak, arrived at La Verne last week, to resume her studies at the College. Estella is a former L. V. C. student, and we are glad to welcome her among our midst again.

Adelaide Grey has been very sick with congestion of the lungs and pneumonia. It is hoped that she will soon be out again.

A Bank of Strength and Character

In the first days of the New Year ambitious people are turning into new pathways of personal improvement. Quite logical, therefore, that New Year should be the season of new Bank Accounts. Becoming a bank depositor is unmistakable evidence of advancement, and we extend a hearty welcome to all who wish to take this step.

Semester Deputation Work Nearly Ended

Royally Received at Pasadena

The Deputation Team of the Student Volunteers have almost completed their round of visits to the churches of the Southern District. Up to date, they have visited all of them except Pomona and Boyle Heights Mission.

Sunday, Jan. 15, they went to Pasadena and received a very royal welcome. A group of them, accompanied by the Johns—Price and Brooks, left La Verne in the morning, arriving at Pasadena in time for church. Then they went to Ralph Netzley's home for dinner, where they were met by the rest of the team, together with David and Sue Bomberger and Wanda Carl. The time was then spent in watching Ralph make and pull taffy, after which all took part in eating their share. When each one's voice had been sweetened, they sat around the fire place until church time, and sang accompanied with the mouth harp played by Mr. Netzley, Ralph's father.

There was a large and appreciative audience present to hear the program, and the team felt as though their efforts had not been in vain.

After the program, the team, together with Dr. J. S. Miller, Walter Gilbert, Wanda Carl, Granville Brubaker, John Price, John Brooks, David and Sue Bomberger, were invited to the home of Miss Effie Shrock, where they were served elaborate refreshments. Those present surely did appreciate the warm hospitality shown them by the Pasadena people.

If a task is once begun,
Never leave it till it's done.
Be the labor great or small,
Do it well or not at all.

Com. Students Welfare Candidates Appear

Election January 26

The appointed day for the election of a Commissioner of Student Welfare to fill the vacancy made by the resignation of Herman Moomaw, came and went without a candidate for the office appearing. With the passing of the exams and the resultant release of tension, the A. W. S. busied themselves and placed two likely candidates in the arena. It is gratifying to note that they are both girls, for it is altogether desirable that the fairer sex be represented on the Commission. Those appearing as candidates are Maurine Miller and Eunice Kreps. The student body has great confidence in these two girls, and either of them is altogether worthy of the loyal support of the entire student body. The election will be held on Thursday, Jan. 26th.

CORAL UNION ORGANIZES

Begin Work on Oratorio

This semester Prof. Haugh is conducting a chorus composed of the Lyric and Glee Clubs, together with a number of town people. The Chorus is now practicing "The Prodigal Son," an Oratorio by Arthur Sullivan. This promises to be a fine entertainment, and will be given as the last number of the Lecture Course. Prof. Haugh urges every one to come. All students are invited, and anyone in town who likes to sing is urged to come and help make the Choral Union a success.

The class meets every Tuesday evening at 7:00 o'clock. Come and bring some one with you.

JUBILEE SINGERS

The Western Jubilee Singers came to La Verne College last Saturday evening under the auspices of the student body. This colored quartet entertained as only negroes can entertain. The program consisted of negro folk and plantation melodies, humorous, popular and classical selections, dialect readings, piano and violin solos. The audience laughed at Mr. Smith's readings, wondered at Mr. Stewart's mastery of the piano, and thoroughly enjoyed the violin solos by "babe" Rose.

The crowd was not large on account of the cold weather and the smudging, but everyone present enjoyed the program to the last minute.

NEW BOOKS FOR LIBRARY

The College Library is continually enlarging. Several dollars were handed Dr. Hoover, for the benefit of the College, and he very wisely used the money to purchase some worth while books. No nobler gift could be presented to the school than books, for the library is an essential asset in the school life of every student.

The following books were recently placed in the library: "The Psychology of Religious Experience," by Edward Scribner Ames; "The Development of Religion," by King; "At One with the Invisible," by Sneath, and "The Varieties of Religion," by William James.

Rhoda Trostle, a former L. V. C. student, was a visitor at the Ladies Dorm Sunday afternoon.

BIBLE INSTITUTE LAVERNE COLLEGE

Big Program Planned

The regular annual Bible Institute of La Verne College will begin Feb. 5th and continue until the 12th. The Institute theme is "The Bible: A Message of God's Revelation and Man's Salvation." An inspirational and worth while program has been arranged. It includes such speakers as Elder J. S. Zimmerman, who has charge of all the chapel periods; Prof. and Mrs. B. S. Haugh, who have a period each day with Bible and Hymn study; Elder J. E. Steinour, and Dr. J. P. Dickey, both conducting an hour of Bible studies; Dr. Chas. K. Edmuds, Pres. of Canton Christian College, Canton, China, who gives an illustrated lecture on "The Present Situation in China;" and other members of the L. V. C. faculty.

In addition to the above program, the College has arranged for an Institute specially designed for the much-needed and newly demanded Directors and Teachers of Daily Vacation Bible Schools. It immediately follows the Bible Institute, to continue five days (Feb. 13 to 17). Such subjects as Organization and Curriculum, Story Telling, Music, Motivated Expression, and Supervised Play will be presented by specialists in their lines. A course of very helpful lectures on the subject of Religious Education is to be given in the Church on the evenings of the Institute. This course is especially planned to meet the needs of those teaching or preparing to teach in Daily Vacation Bible Schools.

Letter From Former La Verne Students

The following letter was received by the Commission from La Vernites in North Manchester College:

N. Manchester, Ind.

The Student Commission, La Verne College.

Dear La Vernites:

Amid the memories that fill our moody, dreamy hours on cloudy, stormy days, and thru the ever changing complex of life's never ending throbs—from out the best of all that life affords, we cannot help but choose to think of days and years we spent with pals of L. V. C.

We read with eagerness, and not unmixed with pride, the Campus Times, and note the victories won. We share as if we still were there in everything you do, and by our faith in old La Verne and you, evince a kind of rightful pride that we can represent our Alma Mater here as you do in the West.

Success to you in all you do, is our sincerest wish.

HOWARD BOSLER,
JOHN HOLLENBERG.

Phil Smith is also leaving us for his home in Reedley. As the famous tenor of the Bingo Polywog quartette, he will be ever renowned.

D. W. Lefever and D. R. Bomberger still make their annual visits to La Verne.

Dr. Gribble, a missionary from Africa, talked to the students last week in chapel.

IN THE LEAGUE

In the first game of the Junior College league, L. V. C. defeated Riverside 36 to 16. The first half was featured by the accurate shooting and team work of La Verne. Beckner, at last has come back to his last year's stride for shooting, and tossed goals from every angle. Johnnie played a fast game at forward, and with Welch, La Verne had a scoring trio that Riverside was unable to solve. Root displayed some neat work, and Davis, the only man who played the full game, was a thorn to Riverside throughout.

Schedule for the season

Jan. 24—L. V. C. vs. Pomona Jr.

Jan. 27—L. V. C. vs. Bye.

Feb. 1—L. V. C. vs. San Diego.

Feb. 3—L. V. C. vs. Santa Ana.

Games with Chaffey and Fullerton will be arranged at the close of the schedule.

NEW MERIT SYSTEM

The Faculty have recently formulated an additional requirement for a B. A. degree. In addition to the present catalogue statement, the following goes into effect this year: 120 semester hours of work carrying at least 180 "merits," (as per scale below) are required for graduation. The last 24 hours must be done in residence. They have also formulated a system of merits whereby one may graduate with honors. (This also becomes effective this year). Candidates who, in addition to the above requirements and those stated in the catalogue, earn grades on the 120 hours carrying 340 or more merits, will be graduated with the honor of "magna cum laude;" those earning 290 merits or above, with the honor of "cum laude."

The basis of calculating the merits shall be:—for each hour of work an A grade carries 3 merits; B plus, 2½ merits; B, 2 merits; B minus, 1½ merits; C, 1 merit.

MRS. CARL SPEAKS TO A. W. S.

Mrs. Carl, of Portland, Oregon, talked to the girls of the College last week on subjects of social life. Mrs. Carl is a noted, national Y. W. C. A. worker, and is now making a tour of Southern California speaking to the girls. She was a very interesting speaker, and at each meeting she had a very large and appreciative audience. Mrs. Carl is an aunt of Wanda Carl, Wilma Lett and Herman Moomaw.

SECOND SEMESTER BEGINS

A visitor at the college last week would undoubtedly have noticed that the majority of the students were in an exceedingly studious mood. From early morning until late at night the library was the scene of much activity; students pouring over books in a last frantic effort to master a year's work in a few moments. There were two phrases which might be heard any time and any where, "I must study for my exam," and "I must finish my term paper."

But this week the atmosphere has changed. There is a general feeling of satisfaction and the students have a "little spare time." The why can be answered in only one way: Exams are ended, term papers are all in, and the records are complete. In other words, the first semester of the school year 1921-22 is complete, and the second semester ushered in.

GRADES

Grades are a very important factor in school life. Some students just desire to get through College "by the skin of their teeth," so to speak. Others are working for a "cum laude," or even a "magna cum laude." Each is a College graduate, but the student who has availed himself of his opportunity and has done his best, is the one who will do his best in school life. It is a common saying that we are now laying the foundation of our future building. The life we live now is the life we will live when we leave the College and enter the activities of the world. The grades we are content with now, we will be content with then. We can win only by honest endeavor.

Never dodge difficulties;
Meet them, greet them, and Beat them.

COMMISSION NOTES

COMMISSION NOTES

The caretaker of College and Academy athletic supplies has reported to the Commission that he is unable to get the men who are responsible for the care of tennis and basketball courts to do their work. The Commission will ask the student body at the next regular meeting what they wish to do about it.

Since no candidate for the position of Commissioner of Student Welfare appeared on the election day of Jan. 16, the election has been postponed until Thursday, Jan. 26.

The Commissioner of Athletics recommended Ernest Landis as Track Manager. The recommendation was accepted.

Council Chairman Gilbert asked that the commission take over, with the consent of the student body, the enforcement of the tennis rules until the council shall be able to function.

The student body authorized the Commission to appoint a representative to keep in touch with the National Student Committee for the Limitation of Armaments, and to direct the work in La Verne College.

Jeannette King will not be in school this semester, but at least she will still be in La Verne and among the students as before.

GEM ARTISTS

Saturday evening the Gem Artists presented their annual performance in the presence of a large and appreciative audience. The program was as follows:

The Indian Wrestling Match—Sir Archibald Shimafny and Sir Got a Loco.

The Hawaiian Entertainers—Madame Waikiki and Madame Tokyo.

A Duet—Paderinsky Quartette.

Bohemian March—Madame Sonskowsky.

Trained Galimper from Australia.

Pantomime—Gasoline Gus and Amarrillia.

Orchestra Two Records on the Victrola—Miss Hootmany.

At the close of the program four members of the faculty present at the entertainment kindly passed the hat. The audience very willingly responded and refreshments of ice cream and cookies were served to the worthy performers, Marguerite Ives, Wanda Carl, Mary Gockley, Susan Stoner, Elva Gillett, Viola Neher and Minnie Rhodes, the stage director.

Something we never hear:—Teacher, I forgot the assignment, so I read the whole book so as to be sure and have my lesson.

They say that going up in an airplane is grand. The feeling is just the opposite from coming down in one."

IZZY NEWSY

Dear Sam:
You just can't imagine how glorious it is to be over all your examinations, have all your term papers in, and collateral cards filled to the brim. Really Sam, it was worth all the agony they produced just to have that calm, self-possessed, easy feeling of knowing that you're square with the world—

"You can look the whole world in the face,

For you're through with your exam."

That gossip going around about La Verne being dead is all bosh. I never saw an ant den any livelier. Basketball games are scheduled all the time, parties coming off, negro minstrels, and just everything. There's a few students have gone home, but I'm sure they're going to wish themselves back before they get home—at least, we'll wish them back.

Say, Sam, is it cold up there? The boys have all been smudging to keep from freezing down here.

Did you ever see smudge, Sam? Well it's awful, to say the least. I'll tell you some of its characteristics. It makes poor innocent white cats black. It makes students who have slept out on the sleeping porch wonder what's the matter with them the next morning. It sometimes frightens them, and makes them wonder at their peculiar color. Then smudge makes you, when you touch things, to say as of old, "Unclean, unclean."

But smudge has its good qualities as well. It makes oranges have that juicy flavor, and rids them from all tendency of freezing. It disgusts people, and you don't have to talk to them, but go on and study. It affords an interesting subject for discussion, for it's something no one can avoid—every one certainly is posted all over with the subject. It even affords a subject to write to you on.

Well, be good, Sam, and don't do anything I wouldn't do. Write when can. Good night,

IZZY SMUDGY.

IZZY'S RAVIN'

Once I pondered, weak and weary
Very tired and almost teary
Over many note books and forgotten lore—

When suddenly I recollected
That on the morrow I'd be inspected
And maybe my grades would be rejected—

Rejected because I knew no more.
'Tis a calamity, I muttered, to think;
My thoughts are fluttered,
And examinations are a bore.

How distinctly I'd forgotten; all my thoughts

Were obscure as cotton,
As I scanned the well-filled pages
That I hadn't read for ages,
And knowledge tried to store.

Eagerly I looked them over,
Trying hard to make discover,
Making out it was my lover,
And examinations not a bore.

Then my mind was sure and certain
All my thoughts came just a squirtin'
"Oh," says I "my brain's not muddy"
As I delved down hard to study,

And learned things by the score.
"Now if I flunk it is no matter,
For when you flunk you can't go flatter,

Though you go down to the floor.
When you take examination,
You have this great consolation,
Teacher's ravin', nothing more."

Examinations

An "exam" haunts you in the Present,
Keeps you in the subjective;
And flunks you in the future.
There's tense interest in that.

NEW FINANCE BOOKS

The new finance books ordered by Mr. Rhodes, formerly Commissioner of Finance, were approved by the Student Body at a recent meeting. These books will greatly lessen the troubles of the Treasurer, as the different expenditures can easily be systematized.

The bee that gets the honey doesn't loaf around the hive.

In the Book Room

Freshman:—Do you keep stationery here?

Miss Broad:—No, I move around once in a while.

OPEN FORUM

Now that the nightmare of "mid-years" is over and once more the pulse and respiration seem to be gaining normalcy, we have time to pause for a few minutes and think of the timely and very important question of aims, methods and real value of the extended examinations.

If we consider the matter historically we find that the argument in favor of examinations has its weaknesses, for they were introduced, not for the purpose of instruction, but as a means of weeding out intellectual sluggards.

We wish to point out only a few of the most nauseating faults of our system.

In the first place, it is impossible for the examiner to tell much concerning the attainment of the examined. There are always at least two classes of students. Let us call those classes A and B. The A students work diligently and conscientiously throughout the term, doing highly satisfactory work. The B students we call "dawdlers," but by means of good lubricating oil, with bluffing as an aid, they can easily "slip" through. Both classes dread the ordeal of examinations, and to both classes is the system unfair and unjust, for many instructors count a great deal on the final, mid-year test, as they say it is the epitome of the term's work.

As we have said, both classes dread the tests, but they seem more unfair to class A. For after they have "reviewed and stewed" until they are in a "pet," and literally trembling, how can they do their best work, conscious of the fact that their grade depends on it? Now the B students who have not studied during the term, but who are endowed with a good memory and perhaps an appetite for black coffee can by their own individual method of "cramming and stuffing" pull just as good a grade as the A students

We are wondering seriously if it is wise to set aside four days of the school term just for that sort of thing. To be sure, the student spends actually no more than 10 hours in writing, but what does he do the remainder of those four days? Does he do anything positive and constructive for himself, his school or his country during the intervals? We must answer no. He is merely inflating himself with facts.

Much more can be said, but the discussion will be continued in a later issue.

Question:—Why is a squirrel and an elephant alike?

Answer:—Because there is a "b" in both.

Byrl:—Why do you always pat your foot to music?

Walter:—It's the music in my sole, I guess.

Wanda:—Lend me a nickle, Ruth.

Ruth:—Sorry, but the nickle I lend is out, and I already have several names down for it when it comes back.

SURPRISE ON ESTHER RENKEL
Mrs. Harper's home was the scene of a jolly surprise party the evening of Jan. 14th, Miss Esther Renkel being the honored guest. It all happened this way. Kathryn Harshbarger, Dorothea Dyck and Alida Larimer "put their heads together and a bright idea developed." This idea was to give Esther one more good time before she left for S. B. U. C., where she will continue her school work the second semester. How to develop the plot was a puzzle to the girls, but Mrs. Harper came to the rescue by inviting Esther down to spend the evening.

At 7:30 there was much excitement in front of the Girls Dorm when students from Academy Sophs to dignified College Seniors gathered to make up the crowd. When they arrived at the Harper home, Miss Renkle was informed that there was a gentleman to see her. The surprise was complete. The evening was spent in playing old time games, such as Fruit Basket and spin the bottle.

Refreshments of brick ice cream and caks were served, after which the guests departed.

PAULINE AND MAURINE ENTERTAIN

Saturday evening, January 14, the Misses Pauline and Maurine Miller entertained some of their friends at a Rook party. The evening was very enjoyably spent in talking, laughing, playing the piano (by Pauline), playing Rook and eating. Those permitted to enjoy the evening were Misses Cathryn Byerly, Beulah Noll, Pauline and Maurine Miller, and Messrs. Howard Beckner, Ralph Netzley, Archie Brooks and George King.

MORE SURPRISES

On the evening of January 9, a group of eleven girls assembled in Wanda Carl's room for a birthday surprise given in honor of Elva Gillett. The room was lighted with candles, and sofa pillows served as chairs. By each dish of bananas topped with whipped cream were the place cards, consisting of a pink frosted cookie with a toothpick standing upright in the center, bravely supporting a miniature peanut on which had been inscribed the names of those present. On the top of the big white cake, in pink frosting was written several dates which—but 'tis not proper to tell tales out of school! The napkins were very fashionably designed from the comic sections of the Daily Examiner.

The honored guest had retired before the party was given, and was not in the best humor to enjoy a surprise. Before adjourning each and every one agreed to wear the place cards about their necks. Thus the peanut brigade on the following day.

Those present were Margarita Ives Beulah Noll, Susan Stoner, Wanda Carl, Mary Gockley, Eva Brownsberger, Viola Neher, Minnie Rhodes, Hazel and Martha Brubaker, and Elva Gillett.

VERA ENTERTAINS

Miss Vera Hoover entertained several of the College girls at her home Saturday evening. A delicious chicken dinner was the main feature of the evening. Those present were Wanda Carl, Mary Gockley, Minnie Rhodes, Elva Gillette and Martha Brubaker.

KOLLEGE KNEWS

"The north wind doth blow, And we shall have smudge"—So runs that ancient classic of our childhood and the latter part of last week the students truly tucked their heads under their wings figuratively speaking, and sought the heated rooms. It was certainly a cruel trick of fate that the furnace in the girls' dorm was out of commission during the coldest spell. The "cramming" for exams was done around the big fireplace in the parlor, or perhaps in some cases, not done at all.

Last week was truly the reign of anxiety, hopes and fears rising, sighs and groans; much turning and fluttering of leaves and mute appealing faces were in evidence everywhere. Nevertheless those tale bearing, night mare raising, nerve racking "student responses" were sternly required, and only the worthy faculty know the rest of the tale.

Marguerite Ives left for her home in Washington last Thursday afternoon. It is to be regretted that she cannot finish the school year, for Margy will certainly be missed by all who knew her. She was a valued member of the "Gem Artists" of Dormitory fame, and her classical numbers on these entertainments will not soon be forgotten.

Another of the original spirits of dormitory life is departing from us. Wanda Carl plans to return to her home in Portland, Oregon, in a few days. She is plainly labeled an optimist, and it isn't just every one who is lucky enough to be able to pick out the funny side of everything first.

Another loss which the close of the semester costs us is that of our indomitable auburn-haired Commissioner of Welfare, Herman Moomaw. He will probably be back in school again next year.

Elder H. H. Ritter, of Mabel, Ore., has been visiting La Verne for several days. He is a representative of the district of Oregon who is investigating educational work.

"Aunty" Michaels has kindly given the students the use of her new Victrola. The music is greatly enjoyed in the dining hall at meal time, and every one appreciates auntie's serving good music with her good meals.

Esther Renkle and Minnie Rhodes, from the College Freshman ranks will soon leave for their homes, Pasadena and near Modesto, respectively. We hope to see them both back again some time.

When some one earnestly asks you to allow him to take your picture, you are supposed to be flattered and grateful, whatever motives he may have. So last Friday, a week, at the chapel hour, the school adjusted its ties, combed its pompadours and powdered its noses, and filed out to the rear court of the building, where a large panorama was taken of the entire school. The smiles were noticeably broader at the end, which was taken last, due to the encouragement and cheering remarks on the part of those whom the camera had already passed, but the picture when finished, was not half as bad as it might be, and the photographer may be able to pay for his carfare and lunch, after all.

"Patronize our advertisers."

You never can tell just what peculiar turns Dame Fashion may take. One morning several days ago, it would appear that small peanuts suspended on red ribbons and tied tightly about the neck of the wearers was the very latest thing in peanuts. As added distinction, the name of said wearer was artistically engraved with "Mother Stewart's Bluing" on each peanut. Perhaps this new departure in neckwear was patterned on the dog collar name plate idea, but at least it is decidedly artistic and decorative, and the eleven fashionable young ladies received many flattering compliments on their taste and artistic ideas. Just who brought this novelty from Paris is not known, but as has been said, "You never can tell."

U. S. C. Takes Fast Game

La Verne College's basket ball team took a rather big bite when they tackled the U. S. C. aggregation on the L. A. A. C. court in Los Angeles. The final score stood 44 to 16 in favor of U. S. C.

The game was exceptionally fast, and was closer than the score indicates. La Verne held the lead for about the first quarter; but U. S. C. soon forged ahead at a rate that could not be overcome. The winners have a team which is especially fast; and one which uses the five man defense to good advantage, thus forcing La Verne to much long shooting.

The L. A. A. C. court is so large that La Verne was at considerable disadvantage. However, our miniature team made a very creditable showing against their heavier opponents.

The spoken word;

Indoor Base Ball

Indoor Baseball is again the favorite sport among the girls. The dignified and stately college seniors play alongside of the young and frivolous Academy freshmen, and all seem to enjoy it. Shouts mixed with laughter may be heard on the baseball diamond every evening.

At the last meeting of our league, it was decided to offer a pennant to the winning girls Indoor team. All of the schools, Colton, Corona, Claremont, Chino, and La Verne have decided to enter teams. The first league game will be played March 10, 1922.

The selection of the team for La Verne is now being made, and we want every girl that aspires to such a position to report for practice every night as soon after 3:45 as possible. The help of the older and more experienced College girls is much needed, and will be greatly appreciated by their younger sisters. The many helpful suggestions that Ray has given us have been very much appreciated. The girls as well as their coach are doing their best to put out a winning team.

Come on, La Verne, give your whole souled support to this, the only athletic activity that the girls ever enter! Help them to make it one big victory for you!

A Valuable Fact Revealed

The other day Elva was visiting at Long Beach when an elderly gentleman approached her and asked her name. Elva told him and then this conversation followed:

He: Was your father's name Charles Gillette?

Elva: Yes Sir.

He: Oh, I visited at your home once when you were a very small child.

Elva: How many years ago was that?

He: Just twenty-seven years ago.

(Too bad, Elva, that he told on you.)

Smile and the world smiles with you, "Knock" and you go it alone;

For the cheerful grin
Will let you in
Where the kicker is never known.

Of all sad words
Of tongue or pen
The saddest are these—
Go home at ten.

Family Reunion

The Spoopendykes held forth in a family reunion Tuesday evening, Jan. 17, in the year 1922. It was an unusually sad affair, as it was a farewell dinner given in honor of Father Spoopendyke and Aunt Amelia, who are soon to part fellowship with us.

The victuals were spread on the scarlet red table cloth exhibiting many strange combinations. The oil lamp, an heirloom of the Spoopendyke family, cast a ruddy glow on the loving family group.

The first catastrophe of the evening took place when father distributed the tomato soup on his stubby beard, much to the disgust of the sophisticated Arrybelle, just home from the Manuel Noodleman University. But the one calamity that touched the hearts of all those present occurred when the inquisitive Sammy asked his Aunt Amelia why she never got married. The worthy spinster burst into tears and removed her spectacles for she was made to think of her lover who was shot in the heel while so nobly retreating in the Silly War of 1812. The innocent child was gently rebuked by the embarrassed mother, to whose locks was added another silver thread.

Grandma Snoozer, as usual, sipped the coffee from her saucer, and caused considerable commotion when the diminutive twins, Sally and Ruthy, insisted on doing likewise.

The reunion was pronounced a triumphant success by all, with the exception of Grandma, who declared that she was all tuckered out from the exertion.

Until this time, no one had realized what a gentle, loving mother Mary could be, and the dignity and sternness of her devoted husband, Marguerite. Just how Wanda acquired the characteristics of a weeping spinster and Eva of a Grandmother, crippled with the rheumatiz, is unknown. Martha very gracefully became the cultured college girl, and acted accordingly, demanding from her mother that the twins be taught a few points in etiquette. Elva, in the person of small Samuel who displayed his love for doughnuts afforded a large part of the confusion and uproar of the Spoopendyke family reunion.
