CAMPUS TIMES

VOL 29 NO 6 #9 LA VERNE JANUARY 8, 1937

MISS EARHART OPENS CLAREMONT LECTURE COURSE

STAFF REORGANIZED

A meeting of the staff of this paper revealed the fact that several changes have been made for this semester, and tentatively such for next semester. Vivien Saul has assumed the duties of Editor with the resigning Editor, Hal Michael, helping her as assistant. He will also assist Bud McSweeney as cartoonist. Dan Mahoney will fill the position of Staff Assistant, to work with the business staff. Other additions to the staff personnel are: Jessie Iles, Jewel Niswander, Lucille Gregory, Virginia Massey, Elaine Garner and Doric Meacham.

The staff is working industriously in an endeavor to present you weekly with a really good Campus Times. Without this paper, our Campus life would be rather dull. So it is an absolute necessity that your full cooperation be given to the staff. Of late this has been rather a "thankless" job for those working on it, so your appreciation will be very gladly accepted.

Get together! Back the Campus Times!! NOW!!!

BASKETBALL SCHEDULE

Wed.	Jan. 13	La Verne at Pomona
Fri.	Jan. 22	Redlands at La Verne
Sat.	Jan 23	La Verne at Redlands
Sat.	Jan. 30	Ghosts at La Verne
Fri.	Feb. 5	La Verne at Occidental
Sat.	Feb. 6	Occidental at La Verne
Fri.	Feb. 12	La Verne at Whittier
Sat.	Feb. 13	Whittier at La Verne
Fri.	Feb. 19	La Verne at San Diego
Sat.	Feb. 20	La Verne at San Diego
Fri.	Feb. 26	La Verne at Santa Barbara
Sat.	Feb. 27	La Verne at Santa Barbara

Amelia Earhart Putnam, first woman to accomplish numerous aviation feats, will introduce the Claremont College lecture course Friday night in the Bridges Auditorium. She will speak on "Aviation Adventures".

Since 1928 when Miss Earhart acquired the distinction of being the first woman to fly the Atlantic twice the first woman to fly an autogyro, and the first woman to make a transcontinental non-stop flight, the first person to fly alone from Honolulu to California and from Mexico City to New York City-she well deserves to be the first woman to receive the Distinguished Flying Cross.

Miss Earhart is an accomplished speaker and tells a thrilling story of her 16 years of adventure in the air. She has written extensively for magazines and has published two books, "Twenty Hours and Forty Minutes" and "The Fun Of It".

In private life Miss Earhart is Mrs George Putnam, wife of the New York publisher, explorer, and author. She has been a flyer since 1920 when she received her first lesson near L.A.

The boyish aviatrix recently returned to Southern California in her 210 mile-an-hour twin engine Lockheed Electra. This place has a cruising radius of 4500 miles and loaded weighs 16,000 pounds. It is equipped with a tyro-pilot, a mechanical devise replacing the pilot at the controls for flying the ship automatically.

Other speakers in the Lecture Series include Martin and Osa Johnson, explorers, speaking on "Wildest Borneo" illustrating with motion pictures; Admiral Byrd, on the second chapter of "Atarctic-----

---

cont. on pg. 6

Campus Times Staff

Editor-in-chief--Vivien Saul
Assistant Editor-Hal Michael
Staff Assistant--Dan Mahoney
Feature Writers--Carl Dutcher
Virginia Massey, Venona Fike,
Hal Michael, Jessie Iles.
Sports Writers--Bill Crawford,
Catherine Miller
Art Editors-----Bud McSweeney,
Hal Michael
Literary Editor-Margaret Grant
News Editor-----Phyllis Koch
Reporters-------Madge Fisher,
Mary Lou Jackson, Eliz. Otto,
Virginia Watson, Bertha Holmes,
Doris Meacham, Cathryn Thomas,
Janet Brink, Don Gans
Business Secy's--Vivien Saul,
Margaret Grant, Jewel Niswander, Harriett Strate, Lucille Gregory, Elaine Garner
Proof Reader-----Esther Meyers
Faculty Advisor--Ruth Cline

EDITORIAL

Young Authors

A great book! All pages empty! Yet very definitely marked were places for twelve complete chapters. The young author sat studying the blank page--or was it the blank space only that attracted his attention? Was he even thinking of the emptiness of the page? Could it be that he was carefully figuring out what would be the most suitable title sentence. He seemed to grow restless. An expression of curiosity swept across his face. What was the second page like? the third? the fourth? With an almost reckless movement the young author turned the first page in order to satisfy that fiendish curiosity. Now before him was the second page, but it too was blank. He, not satisfied, turned leaf by leaf until he had passed five chapters--all empty pages. He turned and saw the sixth chapter and knew the seventh and eighth chapters would immediately follow, but he didn't turn farther. He had, it seemed, ideas for those three chapters. He seemed very sure of what he would write in those chapters. Feverishly he picked up a pen that was decorated with bright flashy colors. Without a moments hesitation he began to write, but soon he stopped. A puzzled look came into his eyes. There were no marks to be found where he had just written! He tried to write, but still no results. Frantically he picked up a more sombre-colored pen in place of the bright one, turned back to the very first page and began to write. This time he could see what he had written. Yes! Every word was distinct and clear. But why? Why did not his writing show in the sixth chapter when he used a more beautiful pen, and now did show when he used a more homely pen?

Slowly but surely the realization of the truth dawned upon his troubled mind. There could nothing be written on the second page--or in the sixth chapter until the first page or chapter had been completed. That was it! He must finish one page before he could write any thing on the next. Oh, he could have ideas for the future chapters, but he could never write it until he was quite sure of whatever it might be.

Satisfied, he continued to write. At the close of each day he turned a completed page well filled, with, perhaps, a blot here and there but always one page at a time.

Days, weeks, and months passed. Sometimes the young author wrote swiftly and carelessly; other times more slowly and deliberately. But always he wrote only as he was sure about the exact wording or phrasing.

The writing continued until finally the last page of the twelfth chapter had been completed.

Having finished his book, the young author turned with an air of satisfaction knowing he had done his very best.

—o— —o— 1937 —o— —o—

SENIORS, JUNIORS WIN

Tuesday night saw the downfall of the Frosh and Sophs in the annual interclass basketball games.

The Seniors won the first game from the Fighting Frosh after trouncing them to the tune of 30 to 31. The Seniors showed astonishing possibilities as good basketball players. They had the edge on the fighting frosh from the start. The Frosh only had four men, but it was a real game.

Next came another blood-thirsty game between the Sophs and Juniors. It was a fight to the finish, ending in favor of the Jrs. 25-18.

All went well but for occasional fights between the two referees Dutcher and Shechorn. I think with two or three years more experience they both will be better refs. They almost came to blows once.

Thursday night every one come out and see th se two mighty teams the Seniors and the Juniors battle it out to the finish. It should be one of the finest games this year.

Saturday night the first conference basketball game will be played in the L.V. gym floor. Coach Lloyd promises a good game and the boys are all ready to go. So let's be there and get behind them and win our first Conference victory this year.

SENIORS WIN INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL GAME

The Junior-Senior basketball game came out with the Seniors in the lead 30-27, after a hard fought battle.

The Seniors came into the game with a bang, and at the end of the first quarter had piled up a nice score of 17 to 6. The second quarter was uneventful except for a miraculous basket made by Anderson for the Juniors. It was a combination back flip and half Nelson, and caused much commotion on the side lines. Although the Seniors were handicaped by having only 5 men, they managed to hold their own.

The second half of the game went much Better for the Juniors. They were better organized, and gradually built up the score until it was tied. About this time Glover was put out on fouls, but the Juniors were sportsmen enough to let him stay in the game because the Seniors did not have another man to put in.

Finally the Seniors again put forth special effort, and at the end of the game they were ahead. The game was one of those freaks of nature: football men playing very heavy basketball. With such men as Badonski, Price, Howeth, Anderson, Walsh, Mangun and Conway on the Junior team and Dull, Glover, Lehman, Mahoney, and Messick on the Senior team, it can readily be seen that the referee Snockleburg and the umpire Elwood Jae, ceased to call fouls after some time, and just let the game proceed at will. All in all, it was a lot of fun.

Girl's Sports

Due to uncontrollable weather conditions the last few weeks, the girls have been unable to have any interclass sports. However, the plans for volleyball are going on and Marion Landis expects a very good turnout for this sport.

SUPER SNOOPER

School again after two weeks of vacation and nothing exciting yet... I hear we're going to have a skating party next week. You guys better hurry and get a date...Well, Price, did Moon cramp your style by telling the kitchen help to stay out of the food supply room--looks as if you, Frantz and Crawford will have to find a new place to do your courting-- or whatever it is...This Mary Lou Harp affair is getting more serious everyday. Poor Harp...Swi must be loosing his grip--you're doing O.K. Jessie...What's this? Is Pat trying to make Travie express his emotions through poetry. You'd better get busy, Johnny and Clayton and watch this gal, she's running wild...I know some one that's in love with you, Velma, but he's terribly bash ful, aren't you, Andy? Oh Yeah??.. Is it true that Dot Homes is going to live in the dorm next semester? Oh Boy!...How about it, Dull? Your giving Lindy quite a rush around-- Keep sailing boy...Times kind of short---so ---so long.....

DORM GOSSIP

Hello, Folks! Happy New Year. Your snoopy reporter tried to find out some of the New Year resolutions of the dorm inmates. It seems that the females are so good that they don't need to make any. The blondes did most to start the new year. One gorgeous one said this year she was going to turn the other cheek. Don't let her jealous boy-friend catch her at such goings-on. Another score was made by a blonde who stated that she was going to be nice to Price no matter what the cost. (I rather liked that pun). So, you didn't think I'd tell? Let that be a lesson to you. Then there is a rumor that two of the lighter sex are only going to date out once a week. Now maybe we brunettes can get a break.

The best reason for not making any resolutions was given by Opple Shirley who said she meant to but slept too late on New Year's day to attend to it.
(Maybe I know about that too.)

GUESS WHO???
Senior Girl

"Romeo, Romeo, Wherefore art thou, Romeo?" (used by courtesy of Bill Shakespeare). Yes, my dear little readers, the great "Billie" Shakespeare wrote those immortal words in the 16th century. Little did he know then that those words would be uttered so beautifully by one of our own LaVerne College Co-eds.

As far as we are able to learn she has never yet found her "Romeo so watch out, fellows, she's still on the loose!

This lady fair is more on the "Smallish" order. She has a very round face which is encircled by locks of curly brown hair.

It just came to my ears, dear readers, that this damsel in quest ion has traveled abroad and has been proposed to 5 times--(and still she calls for a Romeo! but she says never will she marry until a man proposes to her in the Harper Frantz manner. (Say, Prof., what have you been up to?). She seems to have a mania for writing to famous authors such as William Allen White and asking them to "please write a play so all the world can benefit by his great genius."

LaBelle has a smile that would captivate even the heart of Tarzan. I think she would feel right at home in the strong embrace of such a one as Tarzan, too.

She's a lot of fun to have on a party--if you don't believe me, just ask Bill Crawford. She's the type that adds that well-known "Shake-spearian Spice" to a party.

She has a favorite place in the library at the extreme south-end table. She reigns there like a queen--(when ever she's there).

Now if you know her--I'll ask you in one of her per expressions to "Do tell!"

Mother Holsinger wants to be better next year so maybe there will be more late dates. Or did she just mean she wants to be a better grandmother.

SOCIETY

Opal Burnett seemed to have been very much in demand during the vacation. She was a guest at Margaret Grant's home in Frisco and later at Mary Shick's home in McFarland.

Eleanor Herrick, Mary Ellen Lapp, Donald Butterbaugh, Leland Nisbet, and Hayden Chamberlin attended an Italian dinner party given by Annellen Wilson. It ended as a theatre party.

Lucille Gregory spent her vacation in Whittier.

Madge Fischer gave a New Year's Night party for a few of the unfortunate ones, who could not go home for the vacation. Lucille Gregory, Frances Kutchback, Jewel Niswander, Mary Ellen Lapp, Babe Misan, Cliff Frantz, John Landis, Bob Fischer, Howard Glover, and Archie Reeves attended, and spent an enjoyable evening playing games.

Dawn and Fletcher Hornbaker were very fortunate in being able to spend Christmas vacation at home in Artesia, New Mexico.

ALUMNI NEWS

The holiday season brought many of our former students back to visit us. Some of those seen around here were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Butterbaugh, Ray Root and family, Wayne Boehn, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mahoney, Ruth Gregory, Lorena Buck, Everett Bannister, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Butterbaugh, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Bessy, Howard Nordstrom and wife, Ted Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Shirk, John Dickey, Max Forney, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Leonard, Paul Lathrop, Everett Myer, and others.

A few of our friends found time to get married or engaged this vacation. Mabel Minnich was married to Francis Miller, December 20, in Berkeley. Mrs. Miller, a former student of LaVerne, and her husband are both students of the University of California. Adrian Wright was married, December 22, Jay Bessy acted as best man. Marguerite Deal announced her engagement to Willard Davidson at a party given by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Overholtzer of Covina. Congratulations everyone!

Mr. and Mrs. Elwin White were seen with Janet Brink and Roy Smith at the snow.

Mark Lehmer, along with John, Cecil, Otis, and Virgil Brooks witnessed the basket ball games between Ohio State-U.S.C., and Washington-U.C.L.A. The following evening Sammy Rothrock saw the same teams play.

Dr. Fox left by plane from Burbank for New York, January 3. From there he will go by boat to London and then on to India. Mr. and Mrs. Blickenstaff have just recently arrived from India.

We trust that all of our alumni had a happy vacation.

THINGS WE SHOULD KNOW ABOUT OUR FACULTY

In answer to the many requests of students and members of the faculty, the Campus Times Staff has decided to continue the short biographies of the members of the faculty of LaVerne College.

Miss Ruth Cline, professor of English is one of our newer faculty members. She has been an instructor of L.V.C. for three years and previous to accepting this position, taught in North Carolina and Virginia.

Winchester, Virginia is the home and birthplace of Miss Cline. As a student she attended Bridgewater College, Vanderbuilt University, Radcliffe College, which is a branch of Harvard, and the University of Chicago.

Miss Cline is planning to return to her home in Virginia this summer after attending the summer session at the University of Chicago. She will return in the fall to take up her teaching here in LaVerne.

IMPRESSIONS

A still room, food on tables waiting patiently to be eaten, serious faces looking down at plates or contemplating last weeks nail polish, Anderson with eyes closed and a smile on his face like the small boy caught in the cookie jar, and Dick Moon with squared jaw--reading------

CAMERA!! The dining club session on Emily Post.

A fly buzzing, pupils hoping it would come nearer to be caught. Forsooths, Ays, Varlets, and knaves floating hazily on the air in word form, the teacher seeing napping in the back row--and suddenly backs stiffened, eyes brightened--for hail beat against the window--Hail! Hail!

CAMERA!! 1:15 Shakespeare and hail mixed in.

The dorm porch, girls discussing men and things, and what did HE give you for Christmas, the question popped to her, blushes following and girls giggling, the answer: I can't mention it.

CAMERA!! Nona Fike after being asked what Mahoney gave her for Xmas.

A cold hall, fellows gazing at the bulletin board, a lecture series sign attracting attention, some one saying He'd like to hear the Johnsons on exploring, 'cuz the Johnsons are smart.

CAMERA!! Ellwood Johnson bragging on a family tree that doesn't belong to him.

CHAPEL

Dr. J. W. Fox, who is missionary in Navsari, India, and a graduate La Verne College, spoke in chapel, Thursday, December 17. He spoke of the work of Ghandi and his people. He mentioned the fact that Ghandi took Christianity and applied its principles to Oriental needs. The Hindus are a people of contemplation and their philosophy of life has resulted from years of thinking. He also told about his hospital at Navsari.

On Tuesday morning, January 5, 1937, Dr. Hoover read some questions which people who live in the East have asked about California. Harold Michael and Phyllis Koch led the group in singing several hymns.

COLLEGE C. E.

Interesting sidelights of life in India were given by Mr. Lynn Blickenstaff in C.E. last Sunday evening. Mr. Blickenstaff is one of the missionaries supported by the LaVern Church of the Brethern and is here on furlough.

EMMERT FELLOWSHIP FORUM

Echos from the Asilomar Conference were given at the meeting of the Emmert Fellowship Forum Monday evening at June Walker's home. The reports were given by Maurine Moomaw, Elaine Garner, Mary Blocker, Paul Groff, Ralph Smeltzer, and Helen Brownsberger. The Forum meets regularly every two weeks on Monday evening from seven to nine P.M.

(Cont. from page 1)

Expedition"; Thornton Wilder, author of "The Bridge of San Luis Rey" on "The Relationship between Literature and Life"; Senor Madariaga, world statesman on "The Price of Peace"; and Everett Dean Martin, author, on "The Menace of Propoganda

Special season tickets for college students are half price ($1.75) and may be obtained from Mary Kneeland or Don Verbeck.

LAMBDA ANNOUNCEMENT!

I wish to announce that snap pictures are welcome now for the coming yearly "Lambda". To those who are not acquainted with this, it is our Year Book. It has been our practice to accept "donations" of "Snaps" for the book, and awarding prizes for the best ones. We will try to do this again this year. I have already seen many, many very good "snaps".

If you want to, hand these to me with your name on the back, and you will be entered in the contest. I will keep them and try to return them to you in the best of condition.

Thank you,
Phyllis Koch, snap editor

MILLARD SHEETS TO TALK

An invitation has been extended to the elementary curriculum class to be present at a lecture given by Mr. Millard Sheets, noted art authority, on "Creative Self-expression" --emphasizing art, music etc. Mr. Sheets, graduate of Pomona College, will be presented at Fremont Junior High School, Claremont, Mon., Jan.18 at 4:00 p.m. All others wishing to attend are invited to do so.

Also, a general invitation has been extended by Mr. McCanne to those of this curriculum class to visit the Pomona elementary schools. He requests that you call Po. 37 before coming, so as to find out which school he is at when you want to come. He also prefers that you come in groups of only two or threes.

WE CONGRAGULATE YOU

We find that on Jan.7 such people as Dorothy Frantz, Mary Kneeland, and La Verne Crites celebrated their birthdays. Also we know that Dr. Frantz celebrated his Jan. 1, and that Mary Shick will celebrate hers Jan. 12, and Belva Buck Jan. 29. Any others that you know of this month, slip the information into the ears of one of the reporters.

LOOK TO THIS DAY!

Look to this day!
For it is life, the very life of life,
In its brief course lie all the va
ieties and realities of yo existen
The bliss of growth;
The glory of action;
The Spleandor of beauty;
For yesterday is already a dream,
and tomorrow is only a vision;
But today, well lived, makes every yesterday
A dream of happiness, and every tomorrow a vision of hope.
Look well, therefore, to this day!
Such is the salutation of the dawn!
--From the Sanscrit

GIRLS!!!!!

Be sure and come to the Y.W. meeting, Friday morning, Jan. 8. Miss Torreyson will tell us all about her travels in Spain.

DRAMA CLASS TO PRESENT PROGRAM

The drama class is at present preparing a unique and different one act play to be presented at the end of January. It is a fantasy, and promises to be very entertaining. The cast is:

Pierette--Jean Angel
Pierot----Hal Michael

This is the first of the series of programs to be presented throughout the year.

