VARSITY FORENSIC CLUB DEBATES WEIGHTY QUESTION

Stage Adorned With Care for Occasion

Benefits of Round and Square
Chicken Roosts Arouse
Argument

President Dale Stutzman called the Associated Student Body meeting to order at 10:25 Thursday, December 4.

The football banquet was announced again for Saturday night. Students were urged to attend. Anyone who has seen, thought of, or heard of Professor Hollenberg's "French Botany Book" please return it to him.

The LaVerne Varsity Forensic Club had charge of the meeting. It was a debate on the question, "Resolved, that a round chicken roost is more benefit to society than a square one." The question was debated by Rev. (Revolutionary) Fawcett and Paw Calvert on the affirmative team, and Rev. Evolutionary Birmingham and Professor Vaniman on the negative team.

Rev. Glenn Harmon introduced the famous men and stated the question.

The stage was set with the latest of care to appear very much like a stage set for any great debate. It was even adorned with gas, soda water, guns, waste paper baskets, alarm clocks—and things necessary for a debate.

The first speaker, Rev. Fawcett, presented the affirmative. He announced the motto, "the motto of the affirmative is bigger, better chickens, and bigger, fatter careers." Then he proceeded to demonstrate his scientific bent by digging deeply into history and digging up references from unheard sources. For example, he quoted from the diary of Mrs. Noah which has just recently been unearthed in Mesopotamia by an archeological expedition led by Dr. Howard Archibald Cunningham, D., P.D.Q.) Mr. Fawcett quoted from the fourth and fifth days of the flood.

"4th Day: Rain again today; no sun of let-up. All animals are resting well except our pair of Rhode Island and Red chickens. Something must be done. They are failing fast. Future generations will be chickenless, and we will all perish from worry and lack of sleep. Then there won't be any L. V. C. May we come speedily."

"5th Day: Still raining. We must wait for a wet winter. Last nightuddy Noah finally saved the human race by replacing the old round chicken roosts with comfortable round ones. Chickens resting very once more. Animals all reported well and happy. Let 'er rain!"

Mr. Fawcett then solved the labor problem by recommending round roosts, for they require more labor to make and more labor to paint. Professor Vaniman was the first negative speaker. He came armed with two examples of roosts, a roundstick for one, and a square

DR. D. W. LEFEVER TALKS IN CHAPEL PERIOD FRIDAY

Dr. D. Welty Lefever, an alumnus of LaVerne College, who is at present teaching in the department of education at University of Southern California, as an associate professor, made a visit to his Alma Mater and gave a lecture on the value of knowledge during the chapel period on Friday morning.

Dr. Lefever first related the history of knowledge of the past. In days of Bible history knowledge was instructed to a select group, the priests, who knew all there was to be known.

At a later time these things were put in encyclopedias and everyone had access to them.

Today knowledge is not the possession of any one body of people. Even the college graduate does not have a monopoly on it (although some of them do think so), but he does recognize the value of knowledge and begins to realize how much there is left to learn.

Just a few bits of knowledge when properly applied can change the lives of millions and millions of people. Inventions such as the compass, gunpowder, the printing press, and the steam engine are good examples of well applied knowledge that has brought wonderful results.

The importance of knowledge cannot be doubted when we see the great numbers of quacks and fakers who are trying to get rich quick by playing up to the simple faith of the individual. In fact, that scheme is always used in advertisement.

La Verne - Pasadena Meet in Non-decision Debate

Misses Crist and Barnhart
Represent L. V. C.

Miss Catherine Crist and Miss Hazel Barnhart met Pasadena in a non-decision debate last Monday night at Pasadena.

The conference question, concerning a department of education was discussed. Mr. Smith and Mr. Evans upheld the affirmative side of the issue for Pasadena. Since no decision was rendered, it is impossible to judge the exact results of this debate. It was a very interesting and fairly even battle, however.

The debates scheduled for this week-end are as follows: Tuesday night Virginia Scarisbrick and Arnelia Brubaker will debate the negative side of the question at Redlands.

Thursday evening the LaVerne affirmative team, composed of Mary Hollinger and Opal Kuns, will meet Redlands in our own auditorium. This same team will also meet Pasadena here tonight in a non-conference debate.

Choral Union to Present Selections from Messiah

"David and Goliath" to Be Next Project

On Sunday evening, Dec. 14, the Choral Union of LaVerne College will present selections from Handel's "Messiah," at the Church of the Brethren at 7:30 p. m.

The oratorio is the greatest one that has ever been written, and several of the numbers have never been excelled. It represents the product of Handel's genius, and reflects the noblest aspirations and most exalted devotions of mankind. Among all his oratorios it retains its original freshness, vigor, and beauty in the highest degree, in that it appeals to the loftiest sentiment and to the universal religious devotions.

The "Messiah" is divided into three parts. The first illustrates the longing of the world for the Messiah, prophesies his coming, and announces his truth. The second part is devoted to the sufferings, death and exaltation of Christ. It develops the spread and ultimate triumphs of the gospel, while the third is occupied with the declaration of the highest truth of doctrine: faith in the existence of God; surety of the mortal life, resurrection, and the attainment of an eternity of happiness.

The Choral Union has been meeting regularly with Professor Haugh on Wednesday mornings, and in different groups with Professor Travis on Monday evenings and Tuesday afternoons. This rendition of this world famous oratorio will be the first time it has ever been sung in LaVerne, and will be the only performance of it in this vicinity this year.

Among a number of choruses, solos will be sung by Dortha Gans, Myrtice Butterbaugh, Anna Emmert, Vera Flora, Marvin Bolinger, Orville Thomason, and Doyle Montz.

The next production that the Choral Union will work on is "David and Goliath."

Elmo Hall went up to Frantz's the other night and none of the girls were home. Russell came to the door and Elmo (very excited) said: "Here's Dora's coat; is May home?"

AFFIRMATIVE WINS NEGATIVE LOSES IN WOMEN'S DEBATES

DISCUSS ESTABLISHMENT OF DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

A three to nothing victory was won last Thursday night in a verbal battle at Whittier College. Virginia Scarisbrick and Virginia Stern upheld the affirmative for LaVerne.

The question which is the Women's conference question of the season, was, "Resolved, that a department of education with a secretary in the president's cabinet should be established in the United States."

For a time the contest was quite even. Points were constructed but quickly torn down by the opposing team, but as the contest neared a close it became apparent that the affirmative team was leading. This opinion was confirmed when the judges rendered their three to nothing decision in favor of LaVerne.

Last Thursday evening our negative team suffered defeat at the hands of Whittier's affirmative team at LaVerne. The same question was discussed. The LaVerne negative debaters were Arnelia Brubaker and Eleanor Shepp. Miss Manshardt and Miss Trusdale defended the affirmative side of the issue.

The Whittier women built a strong constructive argument, proceeding logically from point to point. By the time the negative speakers were through firing, however, the affirmative case was badly shattered.

The refutations followed rapidly and without announcing. They were sure and deadly in their aim.

The most outstanding refutation was the last one, which was given by Miss Manshardt of Whittier. It was clear and decisive and it may have been this more than anything else which lost the debate for LaVerne.

FOOTBALL BANQUET ATTENDED BY MORE THAN 160 PEOPLE

Varsity Club Introduces H. S. Basketball Tournament

WINNER TO RECEIVE PERPETUAL TROPHY

One of the best ideas yet advanced has been inaugurated by the ever active Varsity Club, and as a result there will be a high school basketball tournament this Friday and Saturday in the college gym with about eight teams entered. The winner is to be given a perpetual trophy.

At first it was planned to invite just the teams who are coached by LaVerne alumni to enter, but several exceptions may be made.

Lompoc, coached by Chester Shirk, and Bonita, coached by John Price, have definitely accepted bids to enter the tournament. Other teams which will probably be entered are Delano, San Jacinto, Chino, El Monte, Colton, and Corona.

The play-offs will start Friday evening, the definite time to be announced later. Two or three games will be played at that time. Then, play will be resumed Saturday morning and will continue into the afternoon. When third and fourth places have been determined, hostilities will cease until the evening when the two undefeated teams will fight it out for the trophy preliminary to the Leopard varsity game with the Shamrock Club of Inglewood. The loser of the final game of the tournament will take second place.

Let's all go out and help make this project a success and incidentally see what kind of coaches the alumni are.

Since the rest of this article was written, Chino, coached by Levi Dickey; San Jacinto, coached by Orville Brooks, and Delano, coached by John Brooks have also accepted bids to enter the tournament.

during which they are to give programs in the various schools and churches of the San Joaquin Valley, among them McFarland, Bakersfield, Fresno, Reedley, and Kingsburg.

The quartet intends to be gone for a full week, returning Saturday morning, Dec. 13.

During this trip, as well as making many new friends for the college, they expect to renew their acquaintances of previous trips. Vernon Heckman and Marvin Bolinger were members of the Northern Deputation team last year, and the quartet gave programs in many of the same places during the tour which they made of the coast this summer. They were warmly received.

We are sure the quartet will come back with their usual reports of success and amusement.

'Hobbs' Adams Chosen for New Captain

LaVerne's '31 Season Should Be a Success

Many students, professors, alumni and business men of LaVerne met Saturday evening, Dec. 6, at 7 p. m. for the annual Football Banquet.

At 7 o'clock the doors were opened and the crowd rushed in to search high and low for their place cards. After everyone had finally found his and her respective place the toastmaster, Professor Cullen said: "If you are fortunate enough to have a salad in front of you grab a knife and start in." This surely was invitation enough for any hungry person.

Several couples were late, among them Fred Hubbell (but he couldn't help it) and were greeted with cheers, applause, and jeers.

The menu included Salad, Swiss steak, mashed potatoes and gravy, cranberries, olives, hot rolls and butter, ice cream and cup cakes and coffee.

Since none of the alumni were included on the program, they were given a chance to speak. Of course Marion Roynon, assistant superintendent of city schools, who is very interested in attaching radios to the feet of orange trees and becoming city superintendent, was the first. After he finished it was suggested that he take a green pill for a cure.

"Dutch" Brubaker and Dwight Welch also spoke in behalf of the Alumni Association and expressed their praise and commendation to the old team, coach, and new team.

The voting for the new captain then, took place. The group was given a vote to make the election unanimous. Captain Hubbell introduced the new captain as Hobbs Adams, a new yet very capable young man. He has played on the champion football team for four years in different schools. He, although only a three months student of LaVerne, said, "This year we have been a little sister in the league, but next year we will be big brother."

The program of the evening was:

1. Two violin duets by LaVerne Putnam and Robert Walker, accompanied by Edna Brubaker.

2. A toast by Dr. Studebaker, in which he commended and congratulated the coach and the fellow players. He stated "we are back of the movement and ready for success."

3. A solo by Vera Flora.

4. Two readings by Wilma Long.

5. Coach Lee Eisan's speech. He thanked every man for the support he had given. The new managerial system was commended very highly. Coach Eisan said, "A good team must take a good beating once in a while, and this was LaVerne's once."

6. Speech by Dale Glick. He gave seven reasons why he thought LaVerne's 1931 season would be successful.

HATS OFF TO THE VARSITY CLUB!

The Varsity Club deserves much praise for the work it is doing for LaVerne College. Why? Well, because—

At the beginning of the present term, several varsity club men devoted much of their time and influence to bring good athletes and scholars to LaVerne. The result was a conference championship for the Frosh football team, the entrance of several junior college athletes, and the best prospects for the 1931 varsity in years.

Its members are boosting LaVerne College everywhere they go. About ten Varsity Club men are high school coaches, and numerous others are coaching and teaching in junior highs and elementary schools; and it seems that all take a little time now and then to say a good word for their Alma Mater.

The Varsity Club is sponsoring a high school basketball tournament in the college pavilion this week-end in which eight high school teams will battle it out for a perpetual trophy to be awarded the winning team from year to year. This idea was suggested and is being carried out strictly by members of the Varsity Club, and if any of its members deserve special credit, they are those who are entering their teams in the tournament, some from as far as Lompoc and Delano.

The Varsity Club, because of some of the above activities, has become one of the most influential organizations connected with LaVerne College. Its members are real men and it is a real honor to become a member of the club, only those who have received a varsity athletic award being eligible for membership.

Hats off to the Varsity Club! Now lay the hats aside and give its members a hand!

COLLEGE CONVERSATIONS

The topics of the conversations of college students has been made the subject of a rather extended study by two graduate students at the University of Ohio. They say, "There is a rather popular notion abroad in college circles that students learn as much or even more from each other than from their studies and professors." For this to be true the topics of conversation must be above the trivial. For this purpose the study was inaugurated.

The topics of conversation were listed in the order of the number of times discussed. For men the ranking in order of frequency is dates, fraternities, sports, dancing and clothes. For women the ranking order is dates, clothes, sororities, gossip and food. The greatest topic of general interest was found to be sex and related topics. The investigators found that although considerable interest was found in intellectual and artistic subjects, students were less interested in the colossal experiments of the day.

Many inferences can be drawn from the consideration of the results of this investigation. The investigators themselves concluded that, "the bull session is a minor educational force." In spite of this conclusion anyone who is acquainted with the "bull session" feels that there surely is educational value, good or bad, in it. A student reacts to only a small part of a professor's lecture, but that does not preclude his gaining much educational value from that same lecture. In a similar way although discussions among students are given up largely to more or less trivial conversations the time that is given to real serious matters is what makes them a potent influence.—Our College Times.

Cy Nical Comments

"Love may be blind, but it can see" in the dark."

It tickles me when chapel speakers say "with your permission," when they start a speech. If we could tell them what we think, they probably would say excuse me, I have important business at home. They know we can't say anything, so they like to rub it in.

I wonder why the chapel speaker referred to President Hoover as a namesake of Dean Hoover. Do you want to guess with me?

The spirit moved me deeply to wonder what Dean Hoover meant by referring to Prof. Travis when mentioning evidences of match making in college. Hey, Travis, are you holding out on us? Who is she?

Have you noticed Ralph Fessier and his new eye openers? I imagine he sees Willie in an altogether new light. Eh, what?

Ogeegosh—the lousy looks of our stage are getting lousier. It is a disgrace to a college when the Prexy, in front of the student body, has to arrange two chairs out of the chaos for the chairman and the speaker. No exaggeration, our stage would not be tolerated in a grammar school. Who is to blame? Can't something be done? Are we a "one horse shay" school, or a college with a little bit of pride and spunk? Come on, let's get next to ourselves, and either quit disgracing the school by calling speakers of any note to speak in such debauched conditions, or else spend at least fifteen cents and get some stage settings.

Have you noticed what high steppers the Miller Hall inmates have become? Believe me, when girls get so high heeled that they step over a flagpole, they are stepping with plenty of attitude.

After listening to the debate last Thursday, I feel morally obligated to start a crusade for the relief of chickens. Just imagine the poor things having to sit on either one of the terrible types of roosts which were pictured. I am sure I don't know which is the worst, do you?

I almost think Prof. Cullen has an uncanny intellect. He uttered an utterance the other day which merits heavy thinking. He said: "Let the Frosh wait until they grow into cords." In other words, the Frosh should know at least as little as the Sophs before they begin to think about wearing cords.

Py golly, I think some people must have been vaccinated with a phonograph needle—all they can do is talk.

I noticed a bulletin the student lobby advertising electric meat slicers. Does some one think we have a college of butchery, or do they think we are going to turn Soviet?

Have you noticed our new magazine rack? It really is encouraging to have access to several new periodicals. However, most of us can merely look at them. We must spend our time reading history, or sociology, or outlining education. Oh well, it is fun to look at the pretty cover pictures.

Dwight DuBois: "That tunnel we just passed thru cost over a million dollars."

Pearl Niswander: "It was an absolute waste of money as far as you are concerned."

Freshman Girl's Club Meet and Discuss Problems

PRES. SCARISBRICK ASKS CO-OPERATION OF ALL

The Freshman girls' club met in the Y. W. room after school Thursday evening, with President Virginia Scarisbrick presiding. As this was a regular business meeting, several important items were brought up. It was decided that the dues of the club would be ten cents for each girl before any party that might be given.

How to have larger attendance at the meetings was also discussed, as well as how to make the meetings more interesting and lively.

The girls decided to have a tea before Christmas vacation. President Virginia Scarisbrick announced to the group that they will be expected to sell candy at the basket ball games. Virginia also asked that the girls have more co-operation in doing this than there was during the football season.

Evelyn Holmes asked the girls to clean the Y. W. room on the day assigned to them, and do it well.

WHAT WOULD HAPPEN—

1. If Edith Roberts did not have some one to gossip about or some boys to stand on the corners with?
2. If "Red" Montgomery had not lent his sweater to Fern Glick? Fern, we surely hope you won't catch cold since you gave it back.
Did you know Evelyn Deardorff's name was bluey? What is the matter? Can't Cecil make you feel better than that?

UNDER THE TENT OF THE SKY

The wind cracked his whip,
The storm flashed a gun,
And the animal-clouds marched one by one
Under the tent of the sky.
There were elephants blue,
And shaggy white bears,
And dozens and dozens of prancing gray mares
With their beautiful heads held high.

The Aeolian quartet gave a program Thursday afternoon at the Brea high school.

As a deputation from LaVerne College, a group of students went to Glendale Presbyterian church, meeting there a group from the Glendale Junior College who plan to join the Student Volunteer movement. Those going from LaVerne were Misses Dortha Gans and Pearl Niswander, and Messrs. Fred Brunk, Ed Cunningham, and Harry Thomas. They had the pleasure of taking Miss Margaret McCune of Oxy also to Glendale where she gave a talk on the Student Volunteer movement.

Pearl Niswander, Reatha Rensberger, Dwight DuBois, and Fred Bunk had dinner Sunday at the W. E. Niswander home in Fullerton.

stick for the other. He remarked that Rev. Faw had graduated from the Poultry Raisers University of South America, where he had received his B. V. D's. Professor's arguments were that from the age-old round roosts chickens have lain round eggs. By roosting on a square roost, eggs would soon assume a square build, a characteristic which would keep them from rolling off the table and also stack them up for a square meal. He gave the dictionary definition of "chicken" and confused himself and his audience, as he wasn't sure whether he was speaking of a fowl or a young, inexperienced person.

Professor Calvert, the second affirmative speaker, then took the platform. After getting arranged, he told of an expedition to a chicken roost. The chickens, when a match was lighted, jumped and began to flap their wings and raise a great commotion. They had been resting on a square chicken roost. Now, Professor said that square roosts caused small thighs, crooked wishbones, weak drum sticks, and poor, weak-wishbones and without these L. V. C. women could not get married.

Evolutionary Cunningham addressed the audience as "Ladies and gentlemen, and a few extras." He, realizing that the affirmative team had opened their minds so that the audience could explore the wide-open spaces, came face to face with the grave question. He expounded on the question, "Did the hen come first, or did the egg?"

The prehistoric hen first had no roost. Then she took to trees. But, as time has gone on, great changes have come about. Men have come to realize that square roosts are the best. So, to be consistent with modern culture, we must have square roosts.

Several other points of great interest were brought to the surface of this deep ocean of thought before Mr. Cunningham finally decided that he had won. He closed by saying, "We thank you profusely for your meek submission to our attack. But remember, he who laughs last is worth two in the bush."

A coin was flipped to see who won. It came up tails! Therefore the negative won. The winning team rushed madly across the stage to congratulate the losers. Thus the meeting adjourned.

"SPOONERISMS"

We have been getting considerable amusement lately from a collection of so-called Spoonerisms, those slips of the tongue in which beginning consonants are transposed. Maybe you can get a chuckle out of these:

Is it kistomary to cuss the bride?
May I sew you to a sheet.
Do you never harbor in your bosom a half-warmed fish?
Our distinguished guest of the evening, Dr. Small Pith.
In case of war we must depend on the cattle shippis and bruisers of our fleet.

Some students are guilty of tasting a whole worm.
We will not permit anyone to fight liars on the campus.
Missing all the mystery lectures is cause for dismissal.
The swoon has queened.
Go ahead, now, and roll your own.

Invest Heavily in College Education

Economists draw curves, graphs, diagrams, and charts of every description. They weigh evidence, historical and statistical, and say: "The depression of the price level will still continue. It may reach the low ebb by as early as 1943."

Merchants, manufacturers, capitalists, brokers, laborers, and the public in general take all this information, check their bank statements, survey their certificates, and buy or sell. They play the game of guessing.

The process of judging takes place in other lines. Over 100,000 of Kansas' youth have weighed all the advantages and disadvantages of a university education in the past 67 years. As a result they have invested heavily in it with much of their parents' cash and at least four years of their time. Despite the stock slump and loss of business confidence, more of them than ever before have had faith in the value of university training.

Now, a year after the depression has set in, the public realizes that though the price level may sink for thirteen years, the value of an education will be the same, if not enhanced, by 1943. Speaking unofficially for the statisticians, we say, buy heavily what the university has to offer.

Superstition is the most common result of ignorance. Consequently superstition is rampant. As a group of college students, we should use our influence to overcome it.
The progress of the human race is a result of honest doubting. This is one thing which a college student should learn to do. Make the world show you! Demand evidence! You should be humble in your doubting, however.
Although knowledge is the thing that is most needed by the common people today, there must be an aristocracy of learning because it is impossible to popularize knowledge.
The true source of freedom is truth. Jesus said, "The truth will make you free," and the last few generations have proved it.

CASABA MEN TO VIE WITH SHAMROCK CLUB

The LaVerne casaba tossers will swing into action for the first time of the 1930 season Saturday, Dec. 13, at 8 o'clock. As this is the first game of the season and as the LaVerne team will only have had two weeks of practice, the game is not expected to be of the highest calibre. Another factor which may keep the game from being a real affair, is that the Shamrock Club is a town team from Inglewood, and town teams are not noted for their ability to play a high type of ball.

However, the Leopards will present five lettermen who were runners-up for the conference gonfalon last year. Among this bunch, we find two all-conference men, "Red" Weybright, forward, and Orville Thomason, center; and three other men whom LaVerne would be unwilling to trade for any other three conference players. With this aggregation on the floor, it is certain that some good basket ball will result. The game is not thought to be hard to take, and as it is only a practice affair, it is certain that the subs will get to do plenty of work.

LaVerne faces a hard schedule this year. The "Five Horsemen" have much to do and much is expected of the "Five Horsemen."

Also, the "Five Horsemen" will be supported by probably the best reserve material in the conference and easily the best coach in the conference.

This is a LaVerne year!

RALPH 'HOBBS' ADAMS TO LEAD LEOPARDS

Ralph "Hobbs" Adams! There you have it. The man who will captain the 1931 grid machine of LaVerne College! The man who will lead the LaVerne warriors on the battle field! The man who will lead the Leopards into the promised land of the win column! The man who will lead the LaVerne varsity in its battle to overcome the nemesis of defeat. The man who is an inspiration to his teammates and a real leader. The man who is a man!

"Hobbs" Adams is a transfer from San Bernardino Junior College and has only been in LaVerne for three months. But three months were long enough for him to prove that he is a real football player, and for him to become extremely popular with the players. "Hobbs" is certain to prove a great leader and he is fortunate in being able to captain a team that is on the up grade.

Besides his leadership, Adams has played like an all-conference man.

Before coming to LaVerne he played at Colton High and San Berdo J. C.

However, with the exception of only four or five games, a member of the Campus Times staff was present at every Conference tussle; so we believe that the teams chosen are entitled to your notice and consideration.

JUNIORS TAKE INTER-CLASS CHAMPIONSHIP

Defeat Frosh in Close Game 19-16

The Junior casaba tossers defeated the Frosh basketball team and took the 1930 interclass championship in a thrilling game last Tuesday which ended 19-16.

The Juniors, led by Kindy and Deal, played heads-up basketball throughout and deserved to win, even playing the last few minutes minus two of their best players, who had been forced from the game on fouls.

The Frosh might have won if more of their reserve material had been called on for longer periods; but as it was five men attempted to stick it out most of the first half and the entire second half, which gave them no advantage over the tired Juniors who had only five good men and two subs.

Kindy led the scorers of the evening with nine points, while Deal, also a Junior, was second with six digits.

For the Frosh, Davis and Brooks tied for high point honors, both ringing the bell for five points.

This is the only year in which the present Senior class has not taken the interclass since they came to LaVerne College, having won it while Frosh and then successfully defended it the two following years. Probably, the gunting would have again gone to the Seniors this year had not a rule eliminating varsity lettermen from the play-offs been made, which excluded the "new" "Five Horsemen," Weybright, Stutzman, Thomason, Hubbell, and Nicolas from competition.

The line-up:

Juniors 19	Frosh 16
Kindy (9)	F (5) Davis
Deal (6)	F (5) Brooks
Welty (3)	C (2) D. Stutzman
Jones (1)	RG (1) Anderson
Thomas	SG Vaniman

Substitutes: Juniors—Mahoney and DeHart. Frosh: Kelley, Montgomery, A. Calvert, G. Weybright, Singer (2), Fluck (1), and Brownsberger.

For several positions it was almost a toss-up as to which man should be placed on the first team. Baker, captain and center of the Whittier team, and Chappell, captain and center of the Occidental team, ran Berry of Pomona a close race; but Berry because of his consistent and all-around playing both on offense and defense, although on a losing team, was given the first string berth, while Baker and Chappell were both placed on the second team, the former being moved to guard to get both men on the team.

Ralph "Hobbs" Adams (Leopard right end, has probably been left off of several all-conference teams only because few have watched him; but to us who have seen his brilliant and consistent play at the wing berth all season, there is little doubt as to who deserves the honors that go with all-conference selection. (Another proof of Adams' worth is his election to captain the LaVerne team in 1931.) Hayes and Crawford were both good performers at this position and are very close seconds to Adams, while Bell of Redlands was easily the best wingman in the conference.

The only other close choices were Dickey at a halfback position and Dilley, the first team fullback, Reed and Watson being practically as good as the first team selections at their respective jobs.

However, Dickey has been very consistent on a winning team both on offense and defense, and due to this and the fact that he made best efforts when the going was most rough entitled him to be placed on the first team.

Dilley had a slight edge over his Watson, because of his great importance to the team on which he played and his excellent defensive work at backing up the line.

The other selections were easy to make for the first team choices are easily first team men; and the second team selections although all good men are really deserving of only second team mention with the exception of those referred to above. We believe that both teams are well rounded out both in the

SOPHS DEFEAT SENIORS SCORE 28-18

Seniors Have Honor of Exploring Cellar

The Sophomores got going after a period of lethargy in which it looked like the Seniors might win, and came through with a 28-18 win in the first game last Tuesday afternoon.

For a while the Seniors came through nicely, holding their opponents to only a few points and amusing themselves with a little scoring of their own once in a while which kept the spectators interested.

Snell, a Soph, led the scorers of both games with fourteen points, six field goals and two foul shots. Howell and Forney came next for the Sophs, ringing up six and five points respectively.

For the Seniors, Smith was high point man with eight markers, while Edinger and Calvert were next with four points each.

This game determined the cellar investigators, the Seniors being destined to do the investigating in the said regions as was predicted in the last issue.

The encounter was much more of a basket ball game than the Frosh-Senior affair, and although "Buck" Ferree failed to last the entire game, the Seniors played nice ball.

The line-ups:

Sophs 28	Seniors 18
Howell (6)	F (8) Smith
Wilson (3)	F (4) Calvert
Forney (5)	C (4) Edinger
Snell (14)	RG (2) Leonard
A. Adams	SG Ferree
Substitutes: Sophs—Heckman, Stover and Fyock.	Seniors—DuBois.

Two grid classics are to be played yet before complete attention can be turned to basketball and the minor sports. They are the Army-Navy games Saturday, Dec. 13, and the New Years' Day clash between Washington State and Alabama.

All are good teams but the Army and Washington State look to be a little the best at the present time. However, no predictions are being made by this writer after the affair in Los Angeles last Saturday.

line and backfield, and would work well as a unit.

If captains were to be chosen, H. Beiden and Baker would probably be given the honors.
