The Dedication of the College Administration Building, Sunday, Feb. 13th, will be the grand finale of the Bible Institute which has been held at the college during the past week. Dr. Edward Frantz, editor of the Gospel Messenger, gave a number of strong messages. His morning series of talks on "The Bible for Today" were especially appreciated by many people. He gave lectures on several portions of the Bible and then when the audience became acquainted with his text, he brought out in a very brief, concise way the application of that scripture to the life of today. His afternoon studies of Galatians were equally interesting.

Dr. Frank Crumpacker, an equally well-liked speaker as Dr. Frantz, and a returned missionary from China, gave several lectures on the conditions in China. Because of his numerous lectures, he has more time to tell of the real conditions in China than most speakers can tell. He told of past and present conditions, and the outlook for the future and the part Christianity has had in this transition. Dr. Crumpacker makes his talks simple and practical so that every one who listens can understand the every day conditions in China.

The combined Music and Drama departments furnished a half-hour program each evening as a prologue to the lectures. The men's and women's glee clubs, the Clarion Four, Lyric Four, readers and soloists were on the list of entertainers. A number was given each morning between sessions. These were all appreciated very much by the audience.

The 11:05 period each morning was taken up by faculty speakers. President Studebaker, Dean Hoover, Doctor Arnett, Dr. Harper Frantz, Prof. Laura E. Haugh and Professor Cullen furnished the lectures for this hour. These were exceptionally good and demonstrated to the visitors the calibre of our faculty.

Arrangements are being made for an immense crowd at the dedication service on Sunday. Amplifiers have been installed in the gymnasium and on the athletic field, by the LaVerne Radio Shop. This will afford seating arrangements for nearly fifteen hundred people, and listening accommodations for many hundred more. If the weather remains favorable there will be several thousand people in attendance. Several outside speakers will take part in the service with Dr. Frantz giving the dedicatory address.

The program is as follows:

Doxology (audience standing).
Invocation—Doctor V. L. Duke,
President University of Redlands.
Music, "God of All Nature", Tschais-

Y. W. C. A. CAFETERIA SUPPER

This evening the college women are giving a cafeteria supper in the gymnasium. Service will start at 4:30 and continue until 6:30. The women of the town have donated part of the food and several aid societies of the district have given money. The proceeds of the supper will pay for the furniture in the Y. W. C. A. room on the second floor of the administration building. Kathryn Rothrock is chairman of the arrangements for the supper. The girls are working hard to make preparations for feeding five hundred people. Come and eat supper with them tonite at 4:30 in the gym.

RECEPTION ROOM OF PRESIDENT

The beautiful new president's reception room has been the topic of conversation through this past week. It is a charming and delightful room which any college might be proud to own.

Upon entering the room, one is at once impressed with the warm friendliness of it. It is a symphony of varying shades of blues and golds and restful grays.

The windows on the north are dressed in gold net curtains with striped overdrapes of blue and gold. The walls are done in gray and cream.

The furniture is of walnut, upholstered in blue Spanish leather.

The keynote of the room is simplicity. It is a room which attracts through its beauty; captivates because of its warm friendliness, and charms with its dignity.

STUDENTS LEAGUE OF MANY NATIONS

On Saturday evening, Feb. 5, at the Church of the Brethren, a very interesting program was given by the Students' League of Many Nations. The members of the league represented nearly every leading nation of the world. There was an Indian chief in full regalia, a Scotch girl, and a Dutch girl. Portugal was represented and France, also. There were others, and the audience was in deed charmed by the inspirational singing of the entertaining students. Each one also told a little story of his country, life or conversion. The Indian chief gave an interesting account of the Indian life and of his adventures in the war. The student representing Sweden spoke of the great men of his country.

The colorful costumes of the students lent an atmosphere entirely original and delightful.

The students are trained in a Bible Training School in New York. Mr. Davis, the president of the school, was with the students and gave the history of the school and introduced the speakers.

Many to Compete in the Eisteddfod

The annual Eisteddfod contests of Los Angeles County, in which the various organizations and educational institutions compete for honors in the fields of literature, music and drama, will be held from March 1 to — at the appointed centers. The preliminary tryouts for LaVerne, San Dimas, and Bonita will be held at Bonita High School on Feb. 19. Judges will be present from Los Angeles to select the winners for each group, who will then be sent to Pomona to compete in the larger contest there. It is anticipated that the Eisteddfod will be much more elaborate and worthwhile than it has been at any time in the past.

LaVerne students have been directing a great deal of energy towards the presentation of some creditable pieces of work at the contest. The entries from the Speech department will be as follows:

"The Finger of God," a one-act play—The Drama Class
Interpretative Readings—
Humoresque.....Lois Ruth Miller
A Few Bars in the Key of C.....

Olive Shirk
Pardners.....John Brubaker

From the Music department the following will enter the contest:

Solos, first soprano—Lois Ruth Miller, Naomi Metzger.

Solos, second soprano—Mary Mes-samer, Lola Shirk.

Baritone solo—Emerson Button.

Bass solo—Lloyd Emmert.

Duet—Lois Martha Miller, Harvey Brubaker.

A fee of 50c will be charged each contestant and it is urged that this fee together with information blanks be sent in to headquarters immediately.

HISTORICAL PAGEANT

The Spaniards came and realized the goodness of this valley. They established their large ranchos and the priests their missions. Later the explorers, fur-traders and adventurers came through the valley. They went back East and told of the Paradise of Southern California.

With the aid of the Southern Pacific railroad the great Lordsburg boom started and failed, as booms oft have the habit of doing. Lordsburg College was established and made its struggle for existence and growth.

The school has grown to the extent that it outgrew its former home. New buildings were erected and occupied.

This is all portrayed in the Historical Pageant of LaVerne College which is given in the College Auditorium at 7:30 p. m., Friday, Feb. 11th. It portrays the growth from savagery to the highest type of Christian education.

THE FLAG RAISING CEREMONY

A flag-raising ceremony was held Tuesday, Feb. 8. During the noon hour visitors, faculty and students all gathered to witness the raising of the flag which was presented to the school by the class of 1925 and the Academy Seniors.

During the singing of "America the Beautiful" the flag was brought from the building by some of the former Academy Seniors. Rev. Rothrock then introduced President Studebaker who expressed the appreciation of the college for the flag. He also thanked Mr. and Mrs. Herr for the beautiful flag which they gave the school for the stage of the auditorium.

While the flag was being raised everyone joined in the singing of "America" and with Old Glory floating on high, the flag salute was given.

WOMEN'S CONFER- ENCE DEBATE

The first women's league debate will be held next Wednesday evening, Feb. 16th. As heretofore stated—the question under debate is: Resolved that a Department of Education be established with a Secretary in the President's Cabinet. Misses Inez Eshelman and Ruth Stoner will uphold the affirmative and will debate Redlands University—at Redlands, next Wednesday evening. The Misses Ramah Maust and Wilma Long will uphold the negative and will debate Pomona College in our College auditorium. The debaters have been working hard on this live question and hope to at least arouse the interest of the public.

There will be a second debate on this same question on Thursday evening, February 24th. This time the affirmative team will debate Occidental College in the College auditorium, and the negative team will debate University of Southern Branch—there.

SENIORS PRESENT "THE FOOL"

RECORD AUDIENCE SEES PLAY

Class of '27 Repeated Its Play on Thursday Evening

The class of '27 and its coach, Professor Laura E. Haugh, are to be complimented upon their successful presentation of Channing Pollock's "The Fool" Tuesday and Thursday evenings. Without doubt, this play is the strongest and most difficult ever staged in LaVerne.

"The Fool" is the story of a pastor who tried to live as Christ would live, and refused to bow to the selfish desires of his wealthy parishioners. Instead, he criticized the deplorable working conditions of the men in their mines. After his pastorate was given to another, he went out to the slums and, in spite of countless difficulties and disappointments, faithfully took care of the spiritual and physical needs of those in the slums and the miners' families that were suffering during the strike. The world called him a fool for turning down a rich pastorate, for helping those of the slums and the miners, and for refusing a high-salaried position with the mining company. However, those who criticized him finally had to acknowledge that they were the fools and the failures and that he was the wise man and the great success of all time and all eternity because he had found the true way to peace and happiness through Service.

Harvey Emley, as Daniel Gilchrist, the minister who worked in the slums and for the miners, handled this difficult role with an ease which is not often found in amateur productions.

Lola Shirk splendidly portrayed the role of a young society girl who selfishly considered position and wealth above her love for Gilchrist, but who later repented bitterly.

Hoyt Strickler, as the odious Jerry Goodkind, Harvey Brubaker as his father, and Lloyd Emmert as Ur-manski, a laborer, were very realistic. Lloyd Studebaker, as Max Stedtman, gave a clever portrayal of the treacherous strike-breaker employed by the capitalists.

Even the minor parts were highly finished, and Professor Laura E. Haugh, director of the play, has been given credit for producing a play that would be worthy of any stage and which compares favorably with professional productions.

"The Fool" is particularly well-adapted for presentation at a Christian College because of the fearless manner in which the hero holds the Christian attitude in the face of the great evils of the day. Drama has been defined as life in action—and it always includes a struggle. The struggle in this drama is between the flesh and material world, as portrayed through a number of characters, and the Christian ideals, as portrayed through but one character; but the Christian ideals ultimately triumphed over the opposition of the flesh and the world.

RESPONSIBILITY OF L. V. C. STUDENTS

All students have responsibilities. All people have responsibilities. Some people resent them; some take them in a matter of fact way and others take them to heart and act on them in a constructive method. There are various kinds of responsibilities to be met. Everyone has his responsibility towards the welfare of society. Parents have their responsibilities toward their children, teachers to their pupils, employers to their employees and ad infinitum.

But the responsibilities that concern us are those that effect the welfare of our college and ourselves, which are one. The success of this college or any college depends on the attitudes of the students, and the success in which they meet these responsibilities.

We come or are sent to school in order to become open-minded, to obtain right attitudes and live the complete life. We come and obtain attitudes which in our ordinary run of life we conceive as right; we think we have become very open-minded because we might have changed our minds on some subject.

There are various kinds of responsibilities to be met in the four years at school. The one most preached to us is that of good sportsmanship in athletics. In our own opinion we are, but are we open-minded enough to see beyond our noses and review ourselves as other schools see us. There are other ways of proving our sportsmanship and that is in connection with all other extra-curricula activities for each one of them represents the school and must be given our honest, full support. Some activities aren't so popular but that is where more sportsmanship is needed.

We also have a responsibility towards our constituents. We do not realize fully what they have made possible for us as we walk through the halls of our buildings. They have given of their material and spiritual goods for our benefit. Because of the conservative methods, attitudes and beliefs of a number of these people, we, who are OPEN-MINDED consider them NARROW-MINDED when they criticize our works and achievements. The very idea that we consider them narrow-minded is a proof that we are more narrow-minded than they.

As a result of the Senior play, "The Fool", there has come to some a considerable criticism regarding some things in the play. Because they are too NARROW-MINDED to see that the objectionable features were a means to an end that was helpful and not an end within themselves, we criticize them just as fully and display our superlative narrow-mindedness, which is a failure to meet our responsibility. Please remember that the other fellow is social and has a right to his own mind.

We have still a further responsibility to meet, and that is to the future students of this school. The Administration uses various means in order to obtain new students. The students themselves in their conduct and achievements often unconsciously influence prospective students one way or another as to their choosing their future Alma Mater.

One of the most used methods of influencing new students to attend L. V. C. is that of sending copies of "The Campus Times" to them. This periodical is to purvey to the outsider the news and accomplishments of the school as a whole. This can only be done by the students, faculty and administration members meeting their responsibilities. "The Campus Times" represents all. Why cannot all help when asked? Do not even wait to be asked to write an article; volunteer your work. Tell all the news you know, for the editor isn't a multiple creature that can be everywhere at the event of all news, neither could he write it if he did witness all school news. Here is a splendid method of meeting your responsibilities.

Consider. Are you meeting favorably all of your responsibilities towards your school, yourself, and society in general?

SPICE OF INSTITUTE SPEECHES

"The Christian leadership in China has an influence all out of proportion to numbers."—Dr. F. H. Crumpacker.

"The permanency of religion is not tied up in any one organization or Church."—Dr. Edward Frantz.

"The men who go far as pathfinders are moved by religious motives."—Rev. Rothrock.

"There are two distinct uprisings in China today, a political uprising and an intellectual revolution."

"The Chinese hold on to what they believe and do not like change."

—Dr. F. H. Crumpacker.

"The Chinese are imbibing the influence of Christianity as to unselfishness."—Dr. F. H. Crumpacker.

"The only institutions that can stand are those based on the spirit of the letter to Philemon—brotherly love."—Dr. Edward Frantz.

"Schools with curricula were not known in China until 1920. They have learned the system of education from Christian missionaries."

"Christianity is a great leavening force in China today."

—Dr. F. H. Crumpacker

"What Paul said to the Romans, he says to us today—'Present your bodies a living sacrifice.'"—Dr. Edward Frantz.

HAPPINESS

What is happiness—that mystical something which the world through all ages has sought to gain? Is it riches? Is it pleasure? When we have all we want do we have what we want—Happiness?

The wonderful play, "The Fool," which the Senior class recently presented, answers these questions. Happiness comes through service. "Happiness is service"—service for others. Without sacrifice—a willingness to live for and befriend others—there is no happiness.

God made man so that he must be atune with his fellowmen, living for his neighbors before he can have true happiness. "Whosoever shall gain his life" for himself, for his selfish person, shall lose it; but "whosoever shall lose his life for others shall gain it"—gain that fulness, that sublimity of life—Happiness. Thus, and thus only can happiness be gained and without happiness life is not worth living.

Do you want happiness? Then why don't you work to get it? You say, "I am". But truthfully, are you? Are you not working with just that selfish purpose of gaining happiness? But I will say to you that in this way you can gain no happiness. When you forget self and say: "My life is dedicated to others; to take their burdens on my shoulders; to lay in the gutter that my brother may keep his feet out of the mud"; then and then only, can you truthfully say "I am happy."

"The churches should stop fighting among themselves and use all of their power to fight evil."

"The religion of tomorrow will be one of co-operation among denominations, to render greater service to humanity."

—Dr. Claude Arnett.

THE RELIGION OF TOMORROW

Dr. Arnett delivered a very rational and forceful address on "The Religion of Tomorrow" as his part of the Bible Institute program. We would like to print the address in full but space forbids and so we will give you the outline which is very concise and definite in form.

The Religion of Tomorrow

A. Introduction—

I. Great points of view in History of Christianity.

1. Christ
2. Church
3. Bible
4. Bible and conscience.

B. Body—The Religion of Tomorrow Will Be—

I. In Harmony with Science:

1. By recognizing that science is God's truth.
2. By using the methods of science in determining religious truths.

II. Concretely Ethical rather than Theological and Metaphysical.

III. Collective rather than Individualistic.

IV. Active rather than Passive or Contemplative.

V. Constructive and Affirmative rather than merely Negative.

VI. Co-operative rather than Competitive.

C. Conclusion.

CLARION FOUR FORM NUCLEUS
OF CLUB

Club Preparing Programs for Southern California Eisteddfod

The Men's Glee Club are putting the finishing touches on their practice, in preparation of their program which they intend to start rendering in the near future. The first one is to be given in Covina on Sunday, Feb. 20. Their programs can be wholly of a religious nature or entirely secular, according to the whims of the audience. Most of their programs are a combination of both types. They have Negro spirituals, religious numbers, classical, light comedy and popular numbers to make their program well balanced.

The well-known Clarion Four form the nucleus of the club. It has been reorganized with Russell Frantz capably holding the place of second tenor. The other three members are the same, Urbin Hartman, first tenor; Harvey Brubaker, first bass, and Wayne Bohn, second bass. This quartet probably more than any other organization has worked widely in the interests of the school. They spend the summers in giving programs up and down the coast. They are busy throughout the school year with numerous business and civic clubs, high school, church and radio engagements. They will also take part in the Dedicatory services Sunday.

The club is preparing their numbers for the annual Southern California Eisteddfod in which they expect to take first place. Professor Haugh has done much to develop this club and with the help of Francis Crites as manager they expect to give several programs throughout Southern California.

HEARTS AND FLOWERS

The Y. W. C. A. will observe St. Valentine's Day in the traditional manner yet with a new touch. There will be the exchange of appreciation notes carrying their small messages of good will and love in their usual large and satisfying way. A frilly heart be-spattered box in the "Y" room will receive and dispense them. In addition each member will be asked to bring as many as possible of the loveliest flowers she can find, to be placed also in the "Y" room. At noon when the notes are given to their rightful owners, each girl is to select a flower and wear it as a sign that she has touched hearts with some one else.

TRUSTEE MEETING SCHEDULED

The annual meeting of the Board of Trustees of the College will be held in the president's office at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, Feb. 12. The meeting is very important for there is a heavy docket of business on hand. It is expected that there will be a full representation of both the Northern and Southern Districts. The Alumni have been asked to suggest names for the new administration building and one will be definitely selected by the trustees and permanently bestowed on the building.

Annabelle Huberty Becomes Bride of Barry Epperson—Couple to Reside in LaVerne

It has recently been learned that one of LaVerne's former students succumbed to the fiery darts of Cupid when Annabelle Huberty became the wife of Barry Epperson, Wednesday.

The wedding was a quiet affair which was held in Los Angeles where the couple are spending a few days' honeymoon, after which they will come to LaVerne to live.

Mrs. Epperson was a student in the LaVerne Academy and a graduate of the class of '24. Her many friends at the college and throughout the whole town extend to her and Mr. Epperson wishes for a happy married life.

INTEREST AT INSTITUTE GROWS

Record Crowds Hear Lectures and Special Features

The crowds at the Bible Institute are steadily growing. From about two hundred on Monday the attendance has increased to unusually large numbers. During Thursday and Friday the auditorium was practically filled while on Friday night it is estimated that seven hundred and fifty crowded into the building to see the Historical Pageant and hear the lecture of Dr. Edward Frantz. About one hundred and fifty of these were forced to stand during the entire three-hour program because all the seats were filled.

The crowds Saturday and Sunday are expected to grow still larger. For the dedication Sunday it is expected that at least two thousand will be present and as a system of loud speakers has been installed all will be able to hear the dedicatory exercises.

"Life is not measured in gold but in growth; not in position, but in personal power; not in capital, but in character."

Aesop's Fables were written and compiled by a Graeco-Italian named Babrius several centuries after Aesop's reputed death in 564 B. C. Socrates and later writers, revising the Brabian fables, gave them Aesop's name.

Endowment Gift Planned As Memorial To School

The Senior classes as they go out and meet practical life do not take everything and leave nothing. Each year the Senior classes leave memorials to the school. The class of '27 as the first part of their memorial have increased the stage settings by giving to the school the scenery used in their production of "The Fool." The scenery is neutral and may be used in various types of plays. It cost the class $360 and it will mean that much saving to some other organization who expect to put on a play.

The class has planned to give a liberal amount to the endowment of the school, but they are not ready for an announcement to that effect as yet.

LAVERNE SWAMPS SOUTHWESTERN

METHOD OF PLAY DEMORALIZES VISITING TEAM

Leopards Take a 36 to 23 Game
Out of Fire in Last Half

Oh, yes! LaVerne does have a basketball team—a real one at that. Everyone who saw the game played Saturday night on the LaVerne court with Southwestern University suddenly became aware of this fact.

All season the Leopards have dragged along at a slow gait, dropping most of their games by a few points. Their offense has been slow, their defense erratic. And so it was Saturday night until the second half. At the middle of the game Southwestern led by a 19 to 14 score. Everything was set in the minds of the spectators for a LaVerne defeat.

The referee tossed the ball up to start the second half and what looked like sure defeat for the Leopards. But no. Boots sank two in succession from the side of the court in about the time it takes to tell it. The team went wild. We can't describe the rosters. Everyone did something different but everyone made a noise.

Lehmer followed Boots' example and put two in from center. By that time Southwestern was sweating a cold sweat. They might just as well have taken their men off the court and watched the Leopards shoot baskets.

Bohn and Shirk held the University team to two field goals in the second half. The Leopard defense was sure; their offense speedy, steady and confident. With such playing, what can Occidental do when the Leopards meet them Saturday?

Lehmer took high point honors by shooting seven field goals for the Leopards.

Line-ups:
LaVerne Southwestern
Lehmer (14) RF Augustine (10)
Boots (6) LF Shapiro (9)
Betts (C) (7) C Licker (2)
Shirk (6) RG Giss (0)
Bohn (1) LG Lathrop (2)

Substitutions: Southwestern: Bernstein for Licker. LaVerne: Brooks (2) for Boots.

TRACK PRACTICE IS IN ORDER

COACH KURTZ HAS SEVERAL GOOD TRACK ASPIRANTS

Frosh Have a Large Turn-out of Former High School Tracksters

With the newly conditioned track comes the daily practice of track men. The turn-out so far has been small because of the intense basketball training. But as the basketball training nears an end there appear more knights of the abbreviated costume on the track.

Last year was the first year that the college put a track team out for competition. There was only a few but most of them were stars or near stars in their events. The Varsity team has Lehmer, Boots and Capt. Milt. Brownsberger as a good trio of weight men. Lehmer, former L. A. city champion in the shot-put, heaves the shot consistently better than forty-two feet. Boots and Brownsberger specialize in the discus. Two good men for stick-jumping, are Harold Brownsberger, king of the high hurdles, and Orville Brooks, who manipulates the low hurdles.

Capt. Milt Brownsberger can easily care for the 440 yd dash, having placed in the conference meet during his first track competition. Lloyd Emmert will take care of the 880 yd.

LEOPARDS TO MEET OXY TIGERS

LA VERNE AND OXY ON PAR
IN CONFERENCE TILT

Outcome of Next Conference Games
to Determine Conference Calibre

The next menagerial contest in the Southern California Intercollegiate Athletic Association will be the meeting of the LaVerne Leopards and Oxy Tigers. The Oxy Tigers have a little the best of the pre-game argument by virtue of their win over Redlands. On the other hand the Leopards have taken a new lease on life by virtue of the win over Southwestern University. Oxy beat San Diego in an extra period play-off, so that Oxy is on a par with the Aztecs, and the Leopards consider themselves equal to the San Diego team in spite of their double defeat at their hands.

The games with Oxy and Cal Tech are to determine LaVerne's standing in the Conference with regards to basketball—if she has any. Cal Tech has never defeated the Leopards in any sport and the home men are going to keep tradition intact in the game a week from Saturday.

The Oxy game is to be played on the Oxy court on Saturday, Feb. 12.

THE FROSH WIN OVER MONROVIA

The Frosh basketball team won their Wednesday afternoon game with Monrovia High School in the second half when they met that aggregation on the LaVerne court.

The score at half-time gave a 7 to 6 advantage over the yearlings, but, as usual, the Kittens staged their second half come-back and snatched the bacon from Monrovia's waiting hands by a 20 to 11 score.

Captain Dellenbach and Ross Heminger used airtight defense methods thruout the game, allowing their opponents but very few shots closer than mid-court. The Kitten offense took advantage of this and ran the high school boys off of their feet.

Fischer, playing one of his best games for the Frosh, was easy winner of high score honors by sinking 10 points. Besides this he played a splendid court game at all times.

The Frosh lined up with Fischer and Miller, forwards; Leonard, center; and Dellenbach and Heminger, guards. Brubaker substituted for Miller.

run. Mahoney, Hartman and Vaniman are the sole aspirants for the distance runs. The sprints are taken care of quite ably by Otis Brooks.

Lehmer and Orville Brooks are preparing for the cross country flight over the broad jumping pit, and Milt Brownsberger is trying to do away with the laws of gravity in trying to reach the dizzy heights of the high jump.

The Frosh turn-out will be good. The Frosh are always an unknown quantity, but we have sneaking suspicion that some of them will be exceptionally good. Fischer, an all-around athlete, is a good man in all events, such as sprints, high jump and weights. He specializes in the last two, doing nearly six feet in the high jump and forty-two feet with the shot. Don Miller and Rupert are distance runners, Mahoney, R. Brownsberger and Brubaker are trying for middle distances. Heminger is a weight man, while Dellenbach is a broad jumper and a javelin heaver.

The ability of these tracksters is not known fully but some measure will be taken during the early meets.
