ELWOOD T. BAILEY DELIVERS A FINE LYCEUM LECTURE

Dr. Elwood T. Bailey gave a lecture at LaVerne last year entitled "All Aboard" and was so much appreciated that he was asked to furnish a number on the Lyceum Course this year. On Friday, March 11, he chose as his subject, "The Challenge of Life." The lecture in brief was that to accept the challenge of life there must be possessed the strength that can be spelled with three letters—P. E. P. The first "P" stands for purpose, "E" stands for enthusiasm, and the second "P" stands for perspiration.

The lecture was fully as good and even better than the audience had been given cause to expect. Mr. Bailey presented it in such a manner that the attention of the audience was held through to the end. Instead of being "dry" it was made spicy with humor and irony mixed with the seriousness. Dr. Bailey's points were well taken and accorded the emphasis which made them difficult to forget.

Some of the thoughts which were brought out are: "Self-pity begets defeat."

"Bodily weakness ought not to hinder a person from accepting the challenge of life."

"Strength is not measured by precepts or tritecepts, but through the acceptance of the challenge."

"Capability never guarantees success, it is the use made of it that tells."

1927-28 OUTLOOK IS BRIGHT

GROWTH OF COLLEGE IS NOW
ASSURED

President Forecasts Record-Breaking Attendance in Coming Year

Upon his return from the San Joaquin Valley where he has been appearing before several high schools in the interest of the college, President Studebaker stated that there was every indication that the 1927-28 school year would be a record-breaking one in regard to enrollment. La Verne now has 150 students and with the present equipment and faculty is able to care for an enrollment of 225.

President Studebaker addressed student assemblies at the Porterville, Strathmore, Lindsay, and Exeter high schools and stated that he found the college and its development was well known in the valley districts.

H. A. Frantz, field executive, will make personal solicitations at all of these places.

ORANGE BLOSSOM TO BE BEAUTY

The annual is a "thing of beauty" indeed, with the beautifully original cover, sixteen pages of colored pictures, and the fact that there are more and better pictures this year than ever before. Also there is an added feature of importance, in the way of professional art work.

The annual staff is doing excellent work, but of course we expect nothing less from such a splendid staff. It is composed of: Lloyd Emmert, editor; Alton Kurtz, assistant editor; Ernie Carl, business manager; Merle Butterbaugh, assistant business manager; Glen Vaniman, picture manager; Glenn Dellenbach, photographer; Lola Ramsey, write-up editor; Aileen Rothrock, calendar; Hilda Brubaker, jokes.

Be sure to get an Annual. It will be a pleasant reminder of your college days, and besides that, your grandchildren will get a kick out of "the funny old-fashioned clothes they wore 'way back in 1927."

Lowell W.: I certainly enjoyed Ernie's solo yesterday, Verda.

Berda B.: Why do you tell me? I just accompanied him.

Lowell W.: Well, don't you usually accompany him?

DELLENBACH DONATES WORK OF ART

If some Campus Times reporter needs new inspiration to write up articles, he will receive it if he betakes himself to the Campus Times room on the second floor of Founders Hall.

Glenn Dellenbach has donated an artistically designed maritime scene which he himself painted in beautiful green and blue shades. The picture consists of two clipper ships out on a turbulent sea with dark, gloomy clouds over-hanging in the sky.

Mr. Dellenbach has donated the money for part of the frame. We are seeking a charitable person who is willing to donate the remainder, which he states is a very small amount—something less than one dollar. If anybody wishes to help in the good cause of beautifying Founders Hall, make your wants known through the Campus Times or call at our office.

FORMER STUDENT SPEAKS

Rev. Gordon Whipple, pastor of the Baptist Church of San Dimas, spoke to our student body Tuesday, March 8. He gave a most interesting address on "Our Prayer Life." Rev. Whipple impressed his audience with the fact that if we would have prayers answered we must not only make definite prayer but above all else have such a true faith that we know our prayer will be answered. Prayer is answered as soon as it reaches the Father, but sometimes the answer is hindered in reaching us.

"God wants lives, which, through prayer, may be a channel of blessing to others," Rev. Whipple said.

STATISTICS---A FACT OR THREE

"How tall are you, and how much do you weigh?" The college statistician asked this question more than sixty times during the last few weeks in an effort to gather a few facts concerning the average dimensions of the sterner sex at LaVerne College. Most of those interviewed were seized with a burning curiosity as to the statistician's purpose in asking the question. Some acted as though they were guarding the most precious secret of their lives and reluctantly gave the desired information only after he had made a detailed explanation of his plans.

After interviewing practically all of the college men the statistician burned some midnight oil while he assembled his data in true statistical form. Statisticians, as the readers of this publication no doubt know, have a passion for putting information into capsules of which the following is a typical example:

"If all the dill pickles consumed by the constituency of LaVerne College in a year were placed end to end in a straight line, they would extend from Azusa, California, to Anamoose, North Dakota. If Mark Lehmer were to insert a toothpick in each pickle at the rate of 2400 an hour, it would take him a year and seventeen seconds to complete the task. The quantity of toothpicks required would keep the faculty of LaVerne College picking their teeth at a high rate of speed for thirteen years."

Thus, true to the traditional methods of his tribe, the college statistician has to come to the conclusions which follow:

If all the men of LaVerne College were placed in one pan of a huge pair of scales, they would exactly balance five tons of hay and an eight-year old boy in the other pan.

The average man at this college weighs 157 pounds and is sixty-nine inches tall. A Senior of average size, however, is two inches shorter and weighs only 152 pounds.

WOMEN'S TEAM LOSE TO OXY

OREGON DEBATING SYSTEM
PROVES POPULAR

Subject of Federal Education Department Causes Much Argument

The affirmative team of the women's debate club, composed of Ruth Stoner and Inez Eshelman met Occidental Wednesday evening, March 9, at LaVerne. The question was, Resolved: that a Federal Department of Education be established with a Secretary in the President's cabinet.

The affirmative team lost by a close margin. The judge stated that the affirmative team had better presentation and stage presence than the negative, but due to the fact that the affirmative failed to answer two questions, he gave it to the negative team.

The Oregon debating system is a new method of debate which has been adopted by the debating clubs in Southern California and people agree that it is more interesting and takes more ability than the old system.

This closes the debating contest for the season.

HISTORICAL PICTURE TO BE SHOWN

"Janice Meredith," featuring Marion Davies, will be shown in the college auditorium, Friday night, March 18 at 7:30. Also a good, laughable, one-reel comedy, "Hot Dog," will be shown.

Marion Davies is at her best in this picture and will be supported by Harrison Ford and a wonderful cast of 8,000. This picture has excellent dramatic value and also tends to arouse the patriotic instincts of Americans. It is a masterly, gorgeous page from history with the telling of the birth of our country from its conception the night of the Boston Tea Party, until it stands able-bodied, making its bow as a nation to the French court.

There is so much to be said for this historic drama and so much to be said for Marion Davies, that the only way to become convinced of the merit of this picture is to go and see it March 18th.

We never know the true value of friends while they live, we are too sensitive to their faults. When we have lost them, we see only their virtues.

Y. W. C. A. PLAN MOTHERS'-DAUGHTERS' BANQUET

At the first meeting conducted by the new cabinet of the Y. W. C. A. matters were discussed and plans laid for the various activities of the remainder of the school year.

June Hershey has received the honor of being chosen to represent the LaVerne Y. W. C. A. in the famous "Stuck Up" organization at Asilomar next summer.

Further discussion of the business on hand resulted in the election of Rose Landis as chairman of the committee for the annual May festival, and of Verna Shirk as chairman of the Mothers and Daughters Banquet to be held in the dining room of Miller Hall, March 22. Miss Shirk has organized her working force as follows:

Program Committee—Aileen Rothrock, chairman, Ruth Stoner, Ramah Maust.

Banquet Committee—Genevieve Page, chairman, Viola Smith, Hazel Studebaker, Olive Throne.

Ticket and Advertisement Committee—Verna Sheets, chairman, May Chronister.

Decoration Committee—Doris Welch, chairman, Kathryn Rothrock, June Hershey, Blanche Maust.

Place Card and Favor Committee: Hilda Brubaker, chairman; Ruth Wilkinson.

Waitress Committee—Eoline Johnson, chairman.

Property Committee—Olive Shirk, chairman, Miriam Shirk.

Table Committee—Laura Shaver, chairman, Florence Landis, Cecelia Shaffer.

Clean-Up Committee—Erma Saladen, chairman, Clovie Carrol, Blanche Young.

SOPHOMORES GIVE PEP RALLY

Who says the Sophomores aren't the peppiest class in school? The pep program they held in chapel last Friday was excellent proof of this fact. The program was in the form of a rally supposedly before the McPherson vs. LaVerne football game. The Sophomores were summoned to the stage by trumpeters and came in the form of a serpentine, led by the yell leader, Francis Crites. They wore caps of the school colors, orange and green and the sophomore colors of blue and white. Speeches were made by several students, Chet Shirk impersonating Coach Arnett, Alton Kurtz, Coach Kurtz, and Orville Brooks, Captain Mark Lerner. New yells and songs were introduced and were executed with a vim. The spectators became so enthused that several of them lit firecrackers to show their appreciation.

CORRECTION OF ERROR IN REPORT OF LAST ISSUE

It seems as though the reporter could not find enough letters on his typewriter to give the personnel of the Men's Glee Club in full. Through an error on the part of the reporter the name of Ralph Shrock was omitted as a first bass singer. We are sorry for this error and wish to beg Mr. Shrock's pardon.

It was a busy day in Herr's drug store. Owen Gibbel was hungry and had waited for some time for attention. Finally he rapped sharply on the counter and demanded impatiently, "Here, here, who waits on the nuts?"

CARRYING ONE'S BURDEN OF POPULARITY

A certain young man was a popular student in a small college. He was very popular with the girls as he had a right to be, if he could have kept his "head" and could have used a little self control. This young man was a member of the track team also. The coach, the team and the school depended on him to take points in a track meet that was pending. He had even promised the coach and track manager and his team that he would run.

The day of the meet came and lo, he was not to be seen. Upon inquiry he was found, and he enlightened his friends with the fact that he would not participate in the meet. This was a blow for he was the third entry that had dropped out, but the big blow came when he gave his excuse. He had made two dates and had no money so therefore he had to stay at home and work. This was done regardless of his friends on the team, regardless of the effect on the school, regardless of the veracity of his word hereafter and his reputation. And yet he remains popular in spite of this trait. I wonder whether the young lady who was the innocent partner in this tragedy, would think if she knew her part in this episode and if maybe she would inquire a little before hand to find out whether or not it was for the best.

This episode could apply in different cases and in different degrees of effect, but this certain case brought to a head some thoughts concerning the superficiality of popularity. Popularity is all right when it is deserved and as long as it does not turn one's head so as to hinder his progress through life. Then again we might consider those who are deserving when we are distributing our praises, and we might find one who could carry his honors a trifle more becoming to himself, his friends, and his school.

LET THE SUCKER PAY HIS OWN BILLS

America, are you a bully or a fair-minded, justice-loving country? This question is bound to come into the minds of those who think seriously of the present situation in Mexico and Nicaragua.

Should the United States protect the property of its citizens in Mexico to the extent of war?

The answer is no and no forever.

The capitalist who was so foolish as to put his money in a bad business proposition like Mexico should be ashamed to admit it. Everyone knows what sort of country Mexico is. One government may fall before another at any time. The poor, million dollar capitalist is likely to lose a few dollars at any moment. Yet he takes the chance and when he loses something which even poor brains know he would lose he has the nerve to ask the U. S. government to protect his slender pocketbook at the loss of human lives valued at a billion times that pocketbook. Poor Mr. Millionaire.

Mr. Millionaire says he is working for the good of Mexico. He is improving it, truly, but is he giving the improved land to Mexico? No, no, he has already bought the land. Why? So the Mexican natural wealth will not go into the poor Mexican treasury but into the already fat American millionaire's pocket.

And just because he finds that the Mexicans aren't quite dumb enough to let him take away their own national wealth he has the audacity to ask the U. S. Government to help him cheat an ignorant people by force because he isn't smart enough to know how to do it himself.

America, awake to the tricks of capitalism! This country should protect its foreign commerce and industries, but not to the extent of stealing natural wealth from another, and weaker province.

We should let the capitalist who is senseless enough to put his money into a bad business proposition save himself as any poor business man has to do in this country.

—DON C. MILLER.

THE PASSING THROG

I stand on the corner
And watch life go by.
Sometimes I laugh, or
Again I may cry.
I watch them go by in steady streams:
Little girls in ribbons and laces,
Dear old ladies with kindly faces
That I see again in my dreams.
What do they think and where do they go?

I truly would like to really know.
Some are commonplace,
Others are striking,
Some, I remember,
As quite to my liking.
An old blind man in a wheeled chair,
His wrinkled face raised to the sun,
Strives to catch a familiar voice
In the murmuring steady hum.
Over there an elfish sprite
Laughs with glee as he flies his kite.
Playing dolls with loving care
Is a little girl with curly hair.
On the corner I like to stand,
And watch the passing motely band.
Sometimes a word or a cheery smile
Makes me want to stay
And watch them awhile.

—Ruth Massey.

READ AND TAKE HEED THAT YOU DO NOT LIKEWISE

Some people are profuse in their affection and are not bashful about saying so. They either do not care, or else they have a poor memory when it comes to destroying evidence. Below is something which was accidentally found and which was written by two L. V. C. people. Don't try to discover who the writers of this are or who the finder of the note is, for all such evidence is lacking. Innocent folks with silent tongues tell no tales.

Note—as found:

Girl—What makes you so loving tonight?

Boy—I didn't know I was.

Girl—You are just wonderful, I never saw you so much before.

Boy—Thanks, honey, maybe I feel that way; you see I have you.

Girl—Do you? Why so much more tonight? Have I done anything extraordinary?

Boy—No, and I don't any more tonight than I did last night or lots and lots of other nights.

Girl—You show more of it tho'. Why?

Boy—I don't know—don't bother.

Girl—Why do you love me? How much? Are you hungry?

Boy—Yes. Gobs. Yes.

HORSES

A horse is an animal with four legs, one at each corner.

There are many varieties of horses namely: saw horse, red horse, clothes horse and horse radish. All horses are named Dobbin. If it were not for horses, modern art would become stagnant for lack of material. In fact, horses furnish an inspiration for most of the noble works of art. Eg.: "Horses, Horses, Horses," and "Got-a Horse and a Ring and a Ring and a Horse."

All horses are intelligent, mean, kind, spirited, vicious, and would risk death to serve their masters.

In the winter time people say, "I have a colt and I'm a little horse."

A colt is a stage in the metamorphosis of a horse.

LA VERNE'S TRAFFIC JAM

Motor Cop (To Prof. Brandt):

"So you saw the accident, sir. What was the number of the car that knocked this man down?"

Prof. Brandt: "I'm afraid I've forgotten it. But I remember noticing that if it were multiplied by fifty, the cube root of the product would be equal to the sum of the digits reversed."

A boy went into a butcher's shop and asked for a pennyworth of steak. "A pennyworth won't make much of a meal," said the butcher.

"I don't want it to eat," replied the boy, "I want to make hinges for my rabbit hutch."

ANY PERIOD IN THE LIBRARY

Good morrow, fair reader! Hast ever felt the need of diligent study before the dawning period of a goodly "exam"? Yea? Then hast thou ever repaired to the long room at yon end of spacious corridor, there seemingly to peruse the contents of ye assigned collateral reading? Aye! Thou, too, hast wandered discouraged about the spacious chamber of learning, and paused wistfully before the bookshelves, only to sadly shake thy shingled head in great weariness of soul when thou failed to find the especial book needed.

But how, now, fair modern damsel, or gallant golf-trousered knight? Hast found that for which thy course dost bid thee seek? Ha! At last to diligent study! But odds my eye! No collateral cards are in thy battered notebook. Sigh not in wrath nor pretend grief. Now thou hast in sooth good cause to read that latest American; or forsooth gaze through the windows at yon distant snow-capped mountains. Of what do those towering pinnacles and winding fire-breaks remind thee, young and tender freshie? Thou hast guessed it in truth! Botany flowers yet unclassified! Anyway the bell has rung now.

It keeps its head.

It doesn't fly off the handle.

It keeps pounding away.

It finds the point then drives it home.

It looks at the other side, too; and thus often clinches the matter.

It makes mistakes, but when it does, it starts all over.

It is the only knocker in the world that does any good.

If you are inclined to lose your head, and fly off the handle: "Consider the Hammer."

SOPHOMORES HAVE CLASS MEET

The sophomore class met at the home of their President, Alberta Maust, Tuesday, March 8, with the desire to plan the "peppiest pep rally that ever rallied." The evening was spent learning new songs and yells intermingled with the discussion of sociology and ethics. Some of those who were more disposed toward the culinary art, including "Adolph", made candy and popcorn, which was eaten with a relish by the arguers, who managed to wedge it in between words. This concluded the evening and everyone started for home. Whether they got there or not we do not know.

Y. W. INSTALLATION SERVICES HELD

The Y. W. C. A. held its installation service for the new cabinet members in the college auditorium, Monday, March 7th. This service was very impressive. The old cabinet lined up in one aisle and the new in the other. Then both groups marched down the aisles and up on the stage, the old cabinet taking the front row of chairs and the new cabinet taking the back row. Mrs. Haugh conducted devotions, and Miss Muir spoke on the "Ideals of the Y. W. C. A.," discussing the part the association plays in college life and the work that it does. She also stressed the importance of various officers and their duties. Following this Nellie Frantz, the retiring Y. W. C. A. president, took charge of the service. She gave the administrative powers over to the new cabinet and handed the new president the official books. The new president, Verda Brubaker, formally accepted the powers and duties of her office and the incoming cabinet committed themselves to the furthering of the purpose of the association.

Following this the newly installed group of leaders filed slowly to the front, accompanied by soft music, and the audience joined with the women in singing the Y. W. C. A. song, "Follow the Gleam." Mrs. Merritt closed the service with a consecration prayer.

Guests at Hemet Sunday, March 13, at the home of Mary Platt were Gladys Reppert, Lola Ramsey, Leta Ramsey, Zafon Hartman, Lorell Weiss and Galen Hilton.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard from Hermosa came for Nova and Onis on Friday and took them home for a short visit.

When the strains of "O Love That Will Not Let Me Go" burst forth in the singing at the chapel service last Thursday, Dr. Emmert was unspeakably shocked to see a boy in the Sophomore section gazing soulfully down at a beautiful blonde head which rested on his shoulder while he sang at the top of his voice.

"Shall I go down now or wait until after chapel and talk to them about it?" was the question which ran through Dr. Emmert's mind.

Unable to decide which course to follow Dr. Emmert took a second look just in time to see Paul Smith lift his head off the shoulder of Chet Shirk.

Up; Much Competition for Places

Suits were issued to a large squad of baseball men Thursday evening and prospects look rather bright in spite of the fact that much valuable material was lost last year. Among the veterans who are expected to form a nucleus of this year's team are Captain Marion Boots, W. Bohn, C. Shirk, M. Lehmer, F. Critis and Orv Brooks. Players who will fill the vacant positions and compete for places on the team are: Z. Hartman, O. Hollinger, I. Betts, N. Caywood, Jay Meyers, M. Brownsberger, R. Mahoney, and Russel Frantz.

Probably the big question is "Who will form the battery," since there will have to be an entire new one this year. Zafon Hartman is a strong contender for the receiving end while O. Hollinger, Marion Boots, Jay Meyers have been working hard under Coach Dale Glick with the hope of rendering some service toward the pitching staff. Coach Arnett is well pleased with the fashion in which Coach Glick is whipping these players in form.

LaVerne has a stiff conference schedule this season, meeting the strongest teams, but Coach Arnett announces that he expects the team to end well up in the percentage column.

WHITTIER WINS THE TRACK MEET

PENDLETON OF WHITTIER AND

IRON MEN

Seven-Man Team Runs up 99-41
Score on Quakers

Coach "Doc" Kurtz took a handful of performers to "Ye Friendly Towne" for a track meet Saturday and emerged from the scene on the small end of a 99-41 score. As the score indicates a track meet was staged at Whittier. Illness diminished the LaVerne team down to seven and the Quakers therefore won the mile, two mile and relay without any opposition whatever.

LaVerne showed the most strength in the four weight events by winning two firsts and two second places.

Lehmer displayed his prowess as an iron man by taking first in the shot with a heave of 39 feet, 9 in., and first in the discus with a toss of 119 ft. 9 1/4 in. He placed second in the javelin throw. Otis Brooks took second place in the hammer throw.

In the sprints LaVerne did not fare so well. Captain Milt Brownsberger took first place in the 440 yard dash and second in the century and 220 yard dashes. Harold Brownsberger placed first in the high hurdles and second in the lows.

Lehmer was the star for LaVerne with two firsts and two seconds, and Oak Pendleton starred for Whittier, Pendleton rounded up three firsts and two seconds. Whittier broke nearly all their school records as Saturday's meet was the first they have staged in over ten years.

NO GROPING UNDER BUREAU

"I've swallowed my collar button," gasped Professor Kurtz.

"Well," responded his wife, "you know where it is anyway."

FROSH SQUAD CHASE THE PILL

LEOPARD KITTENS UNKNOWN
QUANTITY ON DIAMOND

Most of Squad Aspire To Take
Mound Duties

No official practice has been called as yet although several of the fellows have been out getting used to the pill of the diamond sport. There is a good outlook for a well-rounded baseball team in the pea-green squad this year.

So far two pitchers have been working out. Don Miller (the small boy) looms as the "man on the mound," unless some first-class big leaguer suddenly makes known his "stuff." Otis Whipple has also been working out as a mound man. Several of the fellows have had considerable experience and should be a good boost to the squad. Among the outstanding is "Lolly" Brownsberger of Bonita's championship team last year. "Lolly" is a third baseman. Ross Heminger is a hardened man of the game, having had experience in the north both on the school team and on a church team. Thus far Ross has not made know his special spot on the diamond. Although he has been doing some catching so far.

"Blick" is a "receiver" of some experience having caught during his academy days here.

Several of the others have played some and should soon whip in the form of first class men of the "Swat." Probably no new "Kings of the Swat" will be developed, however.
