STUDENT BODY ELECTION NOW LOOMS CLOSER

The Presidential campaign is receding into the background in comparison with the white-hot interest manifested over the election of Student Body Commissioners. Though not quite as dangerous as an election for President of Mexico, there is at the same time a noticeable thrill of excitement as the hour of the election draws near.

Hidden ambitions are blossoming forth as the rose, and hope rises high in the youthful hearts of aspiring candidates. Many of the hopes that today are, will have by tomorrow been broken, crushed and buried. It is ever thus with those who aspire to the seats of honor.

One of the curious developments of the campaign was the rise and fall of the Woman Suffrage Party. A ticket of five names was presented to the Faculty for approval. The individual candidates were approved, but the party was frowned upon by the powers that be. The enthusiasm that rose so high at the incipency of the Party died a natural death—no doubt because of the lack of masculine persistence.

According to the constitution of the Student Body, each candidate must obtain the approval of the Faculty and twenty signatures of Student Body members. Each candidate will be represented by his manager, who will make his campaign speech. The campaign speeches will be made in the Student Body meeting to be held today at 12:45.

At four o'clock the election will be held. Election officials will be appointed from the Faculty to have charge of the election. The Australian Ballot system will be used.

Remember only those who have paid their Student Body dues may vote.

STUDENT VOLUNTEERS ORGANIZE

The first meeting of the Volunteer Band, this school year, was held in the College Auditorium Sunday, September 19. The attendance was larger by far than had been expected, there being 175 present.

The program was not only interesting, but also of a very helpful and practical nature. Mr. Leland Brubaker, who represented the Band at the Annual Conference this year, spoke on the subject, The Mission Band, from the Volunteer's Viewpoint. Mr. D. Welty Lefever gave a splendid talk on the Practical Service of the Mission Band. Mr. Lefever has been closely associated with the practical work of the Christian Workers Society and also of the Mission Band for the past year. Pastor R. H. Miller then spoke on the Relation of the Mission Band to the Church.

A large number responded to the call for afternoon workers. Some visited homes of sick or shut-ins, and took to them a report of the morning church service. Some went on the usual Sunday afternoon singing tour, while others went to the Spanish Mission to assist in the work there.

The regular election of officers was held Thursday at 12:45. Practically every member of the organization was present and a keen interest was shown in the problems and work of the Band.

The new officers are: President; Naomi Harshbarger. Vice President; D. Welty Lefever. Secretary-Treasurer; Hazel Minnich.

The future outlook for the Band is encouraging. The active membership is not quite so large to begin with, for a number of our members are not in school here this year, but it is hoped that these vacancies may soon be filled by the new students.

A hearty invitation is extended to all to come and see what the Mission Band is doing.

Remember the time, 8:45 each Sunday morning in the College Auditorium.

else answered, "Lois Lehmer!"

We've already sampled the Florys and found them good to both the eye and to the ear. So we're glad the second installment has arrived in the person of Mr. Carl Flory.

Wanda Carl is light and gay, Always has something bright to say.

No, his name isn't Tom, Dick or Harry. It's just plain Jimmy, or to be quite proper, Mr. Keller. He is fresh from that land of Modesto, but that doesn't imply that he is fresh, not a bit!

Earl Barnhart must have a heart like a barn, but pray tell what kind of a heart has Ada Moothart? 'Dena says, "Change the M to C and she'd have a 'cute' heart."

Another fair one has come among us. Her name is Elizabeth Thomas. She's just as sweet as she can be, You just look, and you shall see To ye new students all, Both the short ones and the tall— We give you a welcome most sincere And wish you happiness thru all the year.

SENIOR "PEP!"

A. B. '21

We're the people,
We're the stuff!
Get off the earth and
Give us no bluff!
Left, left;

That's the Seniors' yell—Senior class yell.

Dr. Hoover gave 'em that.

Of course he didn't exactly say that was the Senior's yell, but he introduced it here, and it's easy 'nuff to see it belongs to only the Senior class. Don't-cher-know? It wouldn't fit any other class but Seniors—Just naturally belongs to them. And you should have heard them yell it. Oh! say! Have you heard? Some yellers, too—no "yellow" tho, not a streak—they're white! Test it out if you feel blue.

12:45 Senior meeting.

Some jolly bunch, I say!

Sure is a mob of 'em!

Seniors hold the unique distinction of having the largest A. B. class in the history of the school. Why there's even one whole family of A. B.'s in this class. Think of it! It's rather uncertain just how many are in the class, Technically one more. Theoretically one less. For Dr. Hoover declares Albert and Mrs. Brubaker to be one. Might do for dues, but not eats or seats. Guess there's union, unanimity, but hardly unity—in its first meaning. But anyway there's the whole family of A. B.'s.

Yes, it's a big class!

Seniors voted upon class properties.

Cactus: class flower. Some flower! Really, truly, thorny, sticky, prickly cactus. Not the spineless kind. Plenty of spines. Stiff spines. Can't accuse Seniors as spineless creatures. They have backbone enuff!

Yes, some flower! Isn't much for fragrance or odor, I'll admit. But anyway, Seniors, THESE Seniors aren't in the habit of kicking up a smell over anything. Really an agreeable bunch. But say! Just step on 'em once! Sit on 'em! Better still sit on their flower! I'll wager you'll receive some sharp response. You'll be much impressed. I offer a pointed argument for your carefulness.

"We've a deep touching feeling for our flower," say Seniors. "We took our motto from our flower," they say. "Stickers!"

That's their motto.

Rather original at that, for a motto, isn't it? But it has a meaning—a deep meaning—deeply impressive. Just clings to you. "Stickers"—They are a sticking class alright—stick to everything. Always "faithful to duty." Get the point? Takes a sharp person to see the connection. But there's connection alright.

"Fliver"—that's their emblem.

Some emblem! 1917 model.

Same little old boat that's carried the class from its beginning. Still a "sticker." It might have been a Pierce Arrow or Marmon or some other high priced car. But Seniors, not ever overly pretentious, chose the Ford. Just a common ordinary people's car. The Fliver does look mean in the dazzling light of the limousine. But "The Little Old Ford, She Rambled Right along" (class song) and, tho shown up at the start by a superior display of "power, wealth, luxury, eventually overtakes the classy cars when rivers, gravel, steep grades are encountered. Commonly admitted, the Ford goes anywhere, likewise the class of '21 goes anywhere—to success. The Fliver has the greatest

WELCOME TO NEW STUDENTS

We now have in our midst the "Rose of No-Man's Land," at the Ladies dormitory. Rose Landis, of Live Oak is performing her mission cheerfully.

To Mr. Earl Stoops, from Fig Garden, was it your auntie Eve that Stopped to picking apples in the Eden Garden?

Janet King, of Washington, is a great inspiration to the Academy Senior class. It is really an honor to study with the "King of Washington."

Mr. Freddie Fillmore, is it brains you desire to be filled with? It will come, just be patient!

Glen Dickey has arrived on the scene of action. He says, "Yes sir-ee, better late than never."

When Zafon Hartman and Catheryn Byerly were discussing the redness of Miss Byerly's hair, Zafon gallantly remarked, "Your hair isn't red at all, why, it's completely brown!"

Many of the new students are thinking of "home" just now. Cheer up, ye weary one, we have "Holmes" here at L. V. C. Give Cecil Holmes of Washington a call.

Dimon Hartman, you're a diamond, aren't you, even though you may still be in the rough. While there's life there's hope.

We are glad to say that there is still another "Brooks" running in and out, up and thru, and all around L. V. C. Virgil Brooks, of Modesto, is the 'latest."

Miss Ruth Helfer, we're sorry you had to have an affliction upon your first visit among us. We hope you soon "peel pine."

The four Arizona girls, Eva Brownberger, Elva Gillette, Pearl Coffelt and Velta Platt are greatly reducing the price of food-stuffs at the college. They are furnishing free of all charge Brown-sugar, Jelly, Coffee, and a famous Platter. Thanks be to thee, fair maidens.

The Oregon gentleman, Mr. Bill Riddlebarger, is an acceptable addition to our number. We hope that people will not try to avoid you as they sometimes do our trustworthy "cop" Bill Morrow.

Why, oh ye Bright Ones, is Susan Stoner's name Ston'er instead of Ston'm? I make a motion the name be changed to Ston'im.

Oh, Mr. Royal Ott,
You surely hit the spot

And we're glad to welcome thee.

Miss Audry Brookshire is another newcomer that has come to L. V. C. to 'lend her ears" to the witty sayings of our beloved professors. May your "lending" be not in vain, Miss Brookshire.

Have a heart! have a heart! This saying should at last go out of existence since we have four Hartman's with us this year. We're wondering if they can afford to lose any hearts very soon.

You have a jog on hands, Mr. and Mrs. Gregory, to direct in the paths of right and truth, this lively bunch; but we believe you can do it. Little Lorán Stanley will win the hearts of Miss Ruth Boose came from far off Canada just to get to see us. We hope she won't be disappointed.

Alva Brower also rained down to L. V. C. with the recent shower. Mr. Brower, we're expecting wonderful things of you.

ENROLLMENT BREAKS PREVIOUS RECORDS

On Monday, September 13th, the first phase of College activity began anew by the registration of students for both the College and Academy. It seemed from the number of students flooding the College halls Monday and Tuesday that this was going to be an outstanding year in the history of La Verne. Although a great many of the students were here before, it seems as if an exceptionally large number of them are experiencing their first year in La Verne. They have come from all parts of Oregon, Washington, Idaho, and even Canada.

By Wednesday noon the majority of the students had enrolled, showing approximately 200 in both departments, about 50 of these in the College, although no accurate statement can as yet be made. The Senior classes are exceptionally large, fourteen in the College and thirty-five in the Academy.

Although the records are incomplete thus far, there are approximately the following number of students from the different sections named:

Canada, 5
Montana, 1
Idaho, 4
Washington, 9
Arizona, 6
Illinois, 1
Kansas, 1
Oregon, 8
Northern California, 25
Central California, 40
Southern California, 80

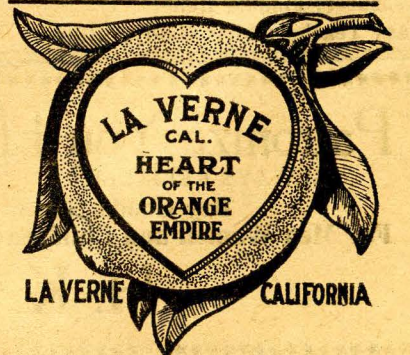

There are in the men's dormitory 47 men, and 50 women in the ladies dormitory. Mr. Orin Gregory, of Oregon is the very able supervisor of the men, and the girls are very much pleased with the new matron, Mrs. Alice Vaniman.

If the enrollment increases next year in the same proportion as it has this year, it will be necessary to push out the walls of the building and erect a new and larger La Verne College.

During the summer Prof. I. V. Funderburgh had charge of a Deputation Team consisting of the Misses Beulah Noll and Naomi Harshbarger, Messrs. David Bomberger and Ernest Root, who toured Oregon, Washington, and Idaho in the interest of the College. A number of students have registered from these states. Mr. C. Ernest Davis toured Northern California, and President Miller looked after the Southern Part of the state.

Another school year has begun. La Verne College has flung wide her doors welcoming the students, both new and old. From the north, south, east and west they come flocking to our institution of learning. We remember the mingled feelings we experienced during commencement week last year, how we were already looking forward to the opening week in the fall. The summer months passed rapidly and now that time has come. We who have been here in the previous years are glad to get back and greet old friends, and take up our studies once more. To those who are among us for the first time, we give you a hearty welcome, we're glad you are here to work with us and enjoy this school year.

Students, let's remember that we can make the next nine months what we will. The school year is before. It is up to us to determine what it shall be. We can always find what we are looking for. We will get out of this year just what we put into it. So let us get to work with a will, resolving that we will all work together for the best good of all and train ourselves for a life of usefulness.

When we think from how many different places our student body comes, when we consider the different training and environment of each one, we realize that it requires much adjustment on the part of each to live together harmoniously and make the year a pleasant and profitable one. The person who has not acquired the art of adjustment will find life hard and unpleasant. So we as students must learn to adjust ourselves in the right way. Together, united, forward we march!

It is essential to the best interests of the Student Body that we attach a peculiar dignity to the office of Commissioner. Unless we do make the Commission a body possessed of dignity and respect we cannot hope to interest the best talent of our school in becoming candidates for this office.

The responsibility felt by the Commission will be great or small varying largely with the respect given it by the Student Body. The work of being a Commissioner must seem worth while or little will be done to advance the interests of the school.

Do you know the Student Body cannot co-operate properly with the Commission unless a certain dignity and respect is attached to the Commissionship? Who is willing to work under an authority which he does not respect.

To obtain this necessary respect of office we must exercise care in selection of the candidate, because he is qualified for the office—not because he is a personal friend of ours. We, the Student Body, should recognize the high place that the Commissioner holds in the life of the school.

Unless we accord them a place of dignity and reasonable authority, the Student Body cannot hope for a successful year.

HERE AND THERE

Altho about one-half of our student body are new members this year, and we are glad to see them all, we are especially glad to see some of the students who have not been here for a year or two back again. George Hollenberg, who has spent the last year wandering from western Canada to Florida, is back to join his old class, the Senior class. Mr. John Rhodes, who has been gone for five years, is soon to be with us again. From Reedley come Ruth Emly to resume her studies and her place in the dining hall, and Cecil Brower to join the Academy Seniors.

But with all our rejoicing we do not forget those who were here last year and have not returned

Miss Alma Hollinger, who has been professor of Biology for the past two years spent her vacation at her home in Ohio and is now teaching in a Woman's College in Tennessee.

Prof. B. S. Haugh still lives in La Verne, but spends most of his time at U. S. C. in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Kaylor spent the summer in the east and Mrs. Kaylor is now attending the Moody Bible Institute. At the beginning of the year she will join Mr. Kaylor, who is in Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa., where they will both then attend school.

Mr. C. Ernest Davis is principal of a school in Northern California. Mr. Davis is sadly missed when chapel speeches are needed.

Three of last year's sophomore class are gone. Miss Katherine Forney is attending school in North Manchester College, Indiana. Miss Bessie Hershberger is now in Northern California, but will be back at the beginning of next semester. Charles Fisher left La Verne last Monday a week to continue his course at the University of California in Berkeley.

Of the freshman class, two are teaching school, Miss Elsie Colbert at her home in Arizona, and Hazel Calvert in Indiana. John Price is attending school this year at McPherson College, Kansas.

We miss these from our halls and several of the old academy students are not here, and we are wishing them all success in their work this year.

STUDENT BODY SOCIAL.

On Saturday evening, September 25, the Student Body entertained itself and the faculty. This was the first big social event of the year and set a commendable precedent for similar events to follow. The college auditorium assumed a festive air which was heightened as the groups of students assembled.

A very important and enjoyable feature of the evening's entertainment was the abundance of good music. The College Band certainly is a credit to the institution. It has been practicing under the able leadership of Mr. Truman Funderburgh, and made its first public appearance for this year upon this occasion. There were also a number of mandolin and guitar solos, and saxophone solos, duets and trios. The vocal duet by Messrs. David Bomberger and Leland Brubaker received hearty applause, and the selection "Lucky Jim" rendered by the male quartet was a source of much laughter.

Since so many of the Student Body are here for the first time, an opportunity was given every one to get acquainted. Perhaps the most interesting thing was a strange machine invented by Mr. George Hollegberg. This machine was rolled into the auditorium and its inventor demonstrated its utility to an appreciative audience. He put a pumpkin into an opening,

PUP'S OF '23 HOLD GREAT BOW-WOW

On the 17th day of the ninth month of the year 1920, the College Sophomores met in a great concourse and discussed many ponderous and weighty matters of the day. Their first great task was completed when the class officers were elected as follows:

President; Howard Beckner.
 Vice President; Martha Brubaker
 Secretary; Eunice Kreps
 Treasurer; Loyd Funk

Deeming it wise to revise their former constitution, the following changes were made.

Colors; Mustard yellow and "wienie" brown.

Emblem; "Hot Dog."

Flower; Mustard flower.

Motto; "Grab, root and growl."

Song

(Tune—"Where oh, Where has My Little Dog Gone.")

Oh what, oh what are the Sophomores doing,

Oh what, oh what can't they do,

With their time cut short and their course cut long

And their teachers all in a stew.

Oh where, oh where will the Sophomore's be,

Lo, three score years from now?

In the halls of fame you will read their name,

Tho' now you may wonder how.

SOCIETY

BETHANY GIRLS WED CHARACTER BUDS

One of the first social events of the school year occurred on the evening of September 20, when the Bethany Girls Sunday School class entertained their new members and the Character Buds class, with which they have been united. More than fifty girls gathered at the Ladies Hall in the evening to be transported to the place of revelry. They were taken by machines to the home of Margaret Forney, near Chino, where, after making themselves comfortable on rugs placed around two large bonfires, the event of the evening took place. Many were surprised to find that they had come to attend a wedding, at which the Character Buds became the bride of the Bethany Girls.

At precisely 8:30 to the familiar strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March the bridal party took their places before the glowing fires. The ceremony was performed by Miss Grace Forney, after which the newly wedded Bethany Girls received the congratulations of their friends. The bride was beautifully attired in lace window curtains and carried a magnificent bouquet of red geraniums and onion tops. She was attended by three of her Character Bud friends and her small train bearers.

The wedding dinner consisted of wieners, maternelon and peaches.

The Mothers and Daughters Association, with the thought of starting the school year out right, entertained the teachers of the schools of this district on Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 22 in the college auditorium. The address of welcome by Mrs. R. H. Miller made all feel very much at home, and a short program rendered by some of the students was very much enjoyed. Perhaps the most important part of the program was the introduction of the teachers of the four schools, the La Verne District and La Verne grammar schools, Bonita High School and La Verne College. While the mothers and teachers were becoming acquainted with each other, light refreshments were served to all, even to some of the dormitory boys.

President Miller received an announcement of the engagement of Miss Ruth Horn to Rev. Paul Warnhius. Rev. Warnhius is at present studying at Pittsburg, in the Western Theological School.

Saturday, Sept. 18th, Mrs. Vaniman, matron of the Ladies Dormitory, entertained the girls at an afternoon tea between four and five o'clock. The purpose of the entertainment was "to get acquainted." Mrs. S. J. Miller, Mrs. R. H. Miller and Mrs. J. L. Miller were the honored guests at the tea. After a short talk from each Mrs. Miller, tea and wafers were served.

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT OPENING ADDRESS

The formal opening of La Verne College took place on Wednesday morning, September 15th, with an opening address by N. J. Brubaker. The auditorium was packed, and the hall outside filled with the students and friends of the College. Following is the program of the morning: Doxology by the audience

Invocation, Rev. H. A. Brubaker, of Pasadena.

Vocal Solo, "Harvest, by Del Riego; Miss Maybelle Thompson.

Address, "The Least Common Denominator;" N. J. Brubaker, A. B., A. M. Los Angeles.

Piano Solo, "C Minor Polonaise," by Chopin; Miss Maybelle Thompson.

Benediction, Rev. Jacob Funk, of Pomona.

The solos of Miss Thompson, who is a contralto and an accomplished pianist, were very much enjoyed and appreciated. Miss Thompson is the musical director of the College.

Mr. Brubaker, a member of the Board of Trustees of La Verne College, held the closest attention of every one of his hearers as he spoke on his chosen subject, "The Least Common Denominator." The purpose of education, he says, is to reduce men to a common denominator. He used a number of unique and striking illustrations to bring out his thought. Altho specialization is necessary, too much specialization narrows one—if a man wears microscopes on his eyes he can see nothing but the microscopic. He misses entirely the big things of life. Mr. Brubaker illustrated very forcefully from hog psychology how people are afraid of new ideas. We must be educated in order to be able to understand each other.

The general atmosphere of the morning was one of enthusiasm for the coming year, which promises well for a very successful school year.

utility. It can always be cut down into "road bugs." It's a car of service. A class of service, too. And you can always catch a ride on a Ford. No one's too mean for a lift. No one's too mean to be helped by Senior class.

But do beware! It makes a sound—a tinkling sound. You think it's made of tin. But don't go pounding. You'll find differently. Ye underclassmen, Freshmen, Sophs, Juniors, take care lest in meddling ye be meddlesome in Seniors affairs! Consider their Flower, their Motto! Don't rub up against them the wrong way! Don't monkey! Stay off their Ford! Don't monkey with the band wagon unless you can toot a horn!

Colors—Green and white.

Pretty colors. The reason for choosing green is obvious.

Cactus doesn't have much of any other color, so a match for green was hard to find. Each suggested, each protested, all couldn't, but all wished to be pleased. So happily white, the presence of all colors, was selected—to the satisfaction of all.

there was a grinding sound within and lo! a beautiful pumpkin pie came out. Finally a dog was put in and while the spectators waited in breathless suspense to see what the wonderful machine might bring forth, behold! a long string of wieners! Everyone pronounced this a most clever invention.

The Commissioner of Student Welfare and the various committees are to be congratulated upon the fine way in which they handled the crowd of perhaps two hundred. Everyone expressed himself as having a splendid time, and all felt better acquainted and more like participating in the life of the school. By no means least on the program were the refreshments of buns, wieners, coffee, ice cream and wafers.

ATHLETICS

GIRLS' ATHLETICS

Wordsworth said in his poem, "The Tables Turned;"
 "Up! Up! my friend, and quit your books,
 Or surely you'll grow double.
 Up! Up! my friend and clear your looks,
 Why all this toil and trouble?"
 If the women of La Verne College were to respond, I'm sure they'd say: "Oh, Brother Wordsworth, why we're sad

And have such solemn faces,
 Girls Athletics, they are dead,
 And we fail to find their traces!"
 Why need the girls athletics be dead? Is it not equally as important as the boys? Is it not just as necessary for the women of La Verne College to have strong physiques as it is for the men? I respond in the affirmative. How many are with me?

I know some of us have our pet excuses about basket ball and hockey, such as it towlsing our curls, freckling our noses and making us "Tom-boys;" but since some nice person has said, "There is a time for all things," there must be a time for girls athletics.

Now as for the reasons for wanting Athletics. We have all heard arguments as to its making fat girls thin, skinny girls in good living order, sick girls well, and ugly girls beautiful, and of course this is all true, but there is another purpose for Athletics and this is for the installation of Pep. We all know, whether we've studied it in psychology or not, that if we are efficient in one line of our work, it carries over into another. Likewise if we have the spirit of push and Pep in a game of basket ball, it is bound to carry over in making the goal in every subject we're taking!

Now girls, when shall we schedule our first game of basket ball?

WATCH FOR THE SPECIAL

Here we are aboard the basket ball special, No. 1920, running along the main line of the L. V. C. She's a thru train, with engineer Funderburg, called Fundy for short, at the throttle. No stops are made except when flagged to take on passengers, until it reaches the end of the line at Championship.

She has a full crew, too, with Welch and Landis as conductors, and J. Brooks and Marshburn as brakemen, and Davis in between. The members of this crew are all old experienced men who have seen previous service with the L. V. C. line. Welch, our old Hop, is already working ahead of his old form; and Landis is surely there when it comes to running the special. Then too, she is a safe train with Marshburn and Brooks guarding her every movement, and standing ready to stop it immediately if anything should go wrong.

Better still is the fact that the Special is not entirely dependent upon this single crew, for besides this one, there are men of such value to the read that even now they are threatening to gain a place in the crew. For instance, there is Hartman, who is after a place as brakeman, and Bohn, Root, Harper, Schrock and Dickey, to say nothing of those twins. Oh, the limited is well equipped. Watch her! Watch her, as she steams into Championship!

FUNDY SAYS

The Academy Basket Ball outlook is pleasing. It's fine to see so many men of spirit and pep out each night. Twenty men and more. The only trouble is the lack of equipment. It isn't much fun to go out for only a few minutes play. Some men have become a little discouraged for just this reason. Keep coming out. Eventually everything will be in working order. We face a rather peculiar situation at the opening of this semester. We find ourselves without an athletic commissioner. No. one seems to have definite authority to purchase goals material for backstops, etc. Hence both courts are not in commission for excellent basket ball. So no one should feel badly if he does not have a chance to play a full period, or even every night. This will be rightly adjusted soon.

The old men need no mention. They are familiar enough to us all. But we are glad that much new material is present. More so, since this new material is largely in the Freshman class—for that means four years experience for some men. A good strong second team is possible, and this makes a better, stronger first team.

"The Reserves do the work and the first team takes all the glory," we commonly complain. But stick to it, Reserve Squad. Just remember your unselfish, sportsmanlike spirit in coming out faithfully, even if you aren't a star, will count favorably toward making a letter.

LEAGUE MEETING HELD AT PUENTE HIGH SCHOOL

The Valley League held its first meeting of the school year September 24th. Representing the Faculty and the Student Body respectively, J. T. Funderburgh and Howard Beckner attended. The chief purpose of the meeting was to arrange the Basket Ball schedule for the coming season, which opens with the first game, October 15th.

Girls' Basket Ball opens officially the second Friday of January. It is expected a greater interest will be shown this year in this sport, and a committee was appointed to formulate a set of rules which will permit a faster, more exciting game than is possible under the present playground or indoor rules.

An official ruling was adopted prohibiting the playing of practice games in any sport, more than four weeks prior to the scheduled opening of that sport. This does not prevent inter-class games or combinations of teams within the school. This is to prevent a school engaging in only one sport, from having an unfair advantage over other schools at the opening of the season. For instance, a school playing baseball all year with other teams finds itself in better trim and practice than other schools which have engaged in basket ball and track

Supt. Whaley and the principals of the Pomona City Schools have drawn up a schedule which means a school year of 38 weeks in its entirety, closing June 10th, 1921. There will be four weeks in all of vacations, so that only 34 weeks in all of school work will be done.

The Horse Association of America, thru its coast representative, Hamilton Bassett, of San Luis Obispo, calls attention to the fact that horse and mule buyers are buying up all the good work stock they can find, and are making the representation that "trucks and tractors are replacing horses and mules and there is no market for them." Mr. Bassett says, however, that they are scarce and the country is being scoured for them. He says that "good, straight-up" horses should be worth from $155 to $225, for horses weighing 1400 to 1500 pounds.
