COLLEGE FRIENDS CONTRIBUTE GIFT

Saturday, December 14, the hearts and halls of Miller Hall were gladdened by the receipt of a most welcome Christmas gift, a fine radio set given by Rev. Edgar Rothrock, former pastor of the LaVerne Church of the Brethren. The set was installed and working in time for the Varsity banquet, where its sweet singing was much enjoyed.

The dorm possessed a battery set several years ago, but dorm life long since hushed its feeble voice; and the A. W. S. have been working towards the purchase of an up-to-date radio ever since the first of the semester.

The women have been earning money for this purpose by selling hot lunches in the social hall, and had planned a benefit program for this week.

Rev. Rothrock early expressed his desire to help procure the radio set, and when the planned program was crowded off this week's calendar, he played Santa Claus most splendidly by presenting a fine, new, seven-tube A. C. table model.

Incidentally, Mr. Rothrock's kindness has contributed not only to the aesthetic life of the college, but helps to raise the physical tone as well, since a group of the Miller Hall women have already started taking the setting up exercises broadcast each morning from Los Angeles.

Women Win From Southwestern Team

Yesterday evening at 8 o'clock in the auditorium was the time of one of the warmest and best conducted women's debates that the LaVerne women have ever participated in up to date. The team may well be proud of its victory.

LaVerne's negative team consisting of Miss Neva Snell and Miss Lucille Hylton debated an affirmative team from Southwestern University in Los Angeles. The Southwestern debaters were Misses Margaret Wiesz and Bess Komen-sky.

Viewed from all angles, it was a very interesting debate. The question, "Resolved, that social fraternities and sororities in American colleges and universities are undesirable," is obviously appropriate to the schools debating it. The women handled the question very capably.

This is the second debate of the season for this team, as they debated Whittier last Thursday evening upon the same question. The women lost a two to one decision at Whittier but they now feel repaid for the loss. The team has improved somewhat since their premier contest and they are growing into a formidable team. Coach Crawford Brubaker should receive a great deal of credit for his fine work in coaching his debating squad.

The affirmative team, Miss Arnelia Brubaker and Miss Virginia Stern, goes to Los Angeles tonight to meet the Southwestern University's negative team on their home platform. This will mark this team's first try at college debating.

MERRY CHRISTMAS 1929

REV. BRUBAKER SPEAKS ON MISSIONARY LIFE

Leland Brubaker, familiarly known as "Dutch," gave a very interesting and helpful speech during Tuesday's chapel. Mr. Brubaker is the pastor of the Covina Brethren Church and a very popular alumnus of LaVerne College. Miss Mina Throne, accompanied by Mary Throne, sang a solo, "Flee As a Bird."

Rev. Brubaker said that one of the greatest needs of a young person's Christian experience is the reality of a genuine Christian life. "Dutch" brought his message from China, where he had formerly been a missionary. His message to the assembly was that God will take care of every Christian. Instead of preaching a sermon, he related some of his experiences in China to illustrate his point.

Rev. Brubaker first told of his trip to the interior of China to his mission station. He rode on the trains, not in a nice comfortable coach, but in any kind of a car available, including freight cars. Besides these difficulties it was extremely cold.

On the first of April, during the Civil War in China, Christian missionaries were ordered to depart for the coast. They were given three days to do so. The missionaries had to close up their affairs, ride in their Fords a few miles to the station of a French railway, where they took the train on the way to the coast. The French officials were very kind to the party of missionaries and allowed them to select their places before the mobs of escaping Chinese were permitted to enter the train. When the missionaries arrived at their stopping place they encountered difficulties. No trains had been communicating from there to the coast for two weeks. However, it so happened that a train was to be made up the following day which made it possible. (Continued on Page Two)

RUSSIAN DRAMA TALK GIVEN ENGLISH CLUB

The English Club of LaVerne College met in the Y. M. C. A. room for its third meeting of the year on the evening of December 12. Miss Dorothy Soper brought material on Russian drama; and the second installment of the cooperative serial being written by the members of the club was read by Miss Wilma Baldwin as her presentation to the meeting. These attractions lent a great deal of interest to the discussions of the meeting.

Serious consideration was given by the group concerning the admission of new members to the club. It was decided to enlarge the group, but to keep the club exclusively for those who are interested in literature. No one is to be admitted for social reasons. Several LaVerne College students were discussed for election to the club. Dorothy Soper and Louise Griset were appointed as a committee to invite several people to become members.

"Heart wave lengths are the same the world over. There's no more variation than there is between a permanent wave in Seattle and one in Atlanta, Georgia. Say Merry Christmas, good and loud; here it is at the top of the column, and it will be heard by our readers in China as plainly as by those who live surrounded by pineapples, ukuleles and black ants."

So we are saying MERRY CHRISTMAS! We hope your hearts will all pick up the old short and joyous message with exactly the same love length that it goes out on from LaVerne College.

FILIPINO TRIO PLAY FOR STUDENTS

The meeting of the Associated Students was entertained by a trio of Filipino boys, including our own Camillo Amplayo. The boys play frequently to radio audiences. Their presentation of Filipino and Hawaiian music demonstrated great skill with stringed instruments. The lead was by the trio was exceptionally excellent with the steel guitar and ukulele. The program was enjoyed immensely, and the performers departed only against the vociferous will of an enthusiastic audience.

Following the musical program, Rex Whittemore, popular coach of the frosh football team, was presented with an appropriate trophy as a demonstration of the appreciation of the freshman players. Captain Maurice Shirk was chosen to make the presentation, and Coach Whittemore responded with a speech of gratitude to the frosh, and of inspiration and encouragement to the whole school.

C.W. GIVES MIS- SION PROGRAM

Thursday night, Dec. 12, the young people of the C. W. gave their second program of this year at the Midnight Mission in Los Angeles.

About twenty-five students drove to the city to conduct the services between 8 and 10 p. m. The music and the short talk were especially appreciated by the audience. In fact, the entire program was the finest that has been put on by a LaVerne group for some time. The group itself thoroughly enjoyed its own presentation.

Those who took part were: Mina Throne, Esther Thomason, May Chronister, Pearl Niswander, Molly Warrington, Vena DeHart, Mary Platt, Glena Betz, Laura Frantz, Kenneth Deardorff, Ed Cunningham, Leslie DeHart, Daniel Stover, Joseph Cosner, Marvin Bolinger, Vernon Heckman, Lynn Ebersole.

Part of the group stayed for the supper after the program and saw 250 men fed in the large dining room.

The way to improve traffic conditions in your town is to abolish pedestrians.

DEPUTATION TEAMS PLANS COMPLETED

The Northern Deputation Team expects to leave LaVerne next Friday, December 20. They will be gone thru the holiday season and return Sunday, January 5. The eighteen churches of the Northern District are on their itinerary. Definite word has been received from all in approval of the dates set by the team for programs.

The play, "Living waters," by Lydia Grover Deseo, is the main feature of the program this year. It is distinctly Biblical in theme and setting, and pictures the later life of the Woman at the Well. The costuming and staging are simple and the time period for the two scenes is about twenty-five minutes. The four character parts are being taken by the members of the quartet, May Chronister, Lois Rupert, Marvin Bollinger and Vernon Heckman. Elizabeth Masterson of the Advanced Drama class is coaching the play.

A short speech will be given by Hazel Rothrock on "The Satisfying Christ." This subject has been chosen as the general theme of the program. The vocal music as now planned will consist of five quart numbers, a duet, and a solo.

The Arizona deputation team has completed arrangements for its Christmas trip, and at present is putting the final polish on its program. Due to the difficulties in securing dates in several Southern (Continued on Page Two)

STUDENTS DISCUSS CAMPUS PROBLEMS

The Student Volunteers met last Wednesday evening in the Y. W. room for their regular meeting.

After a short devotional period consisting of Scripture verses and the Lord's Prayer in unison, Everett Calvert led the group in an informal discussion of student problems within the group and the relation of its members to the general student activities; also the true meaning of Christianity to the individual.

Discussions of this type prove very enjoyable and helpful to each one.

Geneva Suttle and Virginia Stern sang a duet, "Unanswered Yet," at the close of the meeting.

Greetings from the Volunteer groups at Mt. Morris College and Bethany Bible School were read by Fern Bowman. LaVerne group decided to send greetings for the New Year to all the sister colleges and special ones to Bethany by Dr. Emmert, who will spend a few days in Chicago next week while attending several board meetings and conferences.

A request for more singers for the Christmas program at the Mexican Mission was announced by Geneva Suttle, who helps with the work there.

The meeting next week will be held at Pastor Walker's home and will be a special consecration meeting for the deputation teams and the plays which will soon go out.

AEOLIAN QUARTET SINGS IN CHAPEL

Thursday morning's chapel hour featured a short talk by Rev. Albert Brubaker of Rice Lake, Wisconsin, and a musical program presented by the Aeolian Quartette.

After a few announcements by the dean, Mr. Brubaker, an alumnus of the college, gave a short address on "All things work together for good to them that love the Lord."

The Aeolian Quartette conducted their program in the manner they used on their recent tour of the high schools. Their first number was a greeting song, "Hello, People," after which each member was introduced in an original way which was highly amusing to the audience.

The quartette sang four groups of songs and each time were called back for encores, most of which they responded with extra numbers. The songs were as follows:

"Where My Caravan Has Rested," "Mosquitoes," encore, "Green Grass."

"Paradise," "Singin' in the Rain," Saxophone numbers, "Aloha Oe," "Lauderbach."

"Uncle Moon," "Honey," Encore, "The Skunk Song."

A few dramatic farces completed the bill and judging from the laughter and cheers of the audience, the program was a very successful one in the high schools.

Varsity Club Hold Banquet For Guests

The LaVerne College Varsity Club held a meeting and banquet in honor of lady friends last Saturday evening in Miller Hall. The representation numbered fifty.

Dwight Welch of Monrovia served as toastmaster and directed the banquet program. A short address of welcome to the guests was given by J. M. Roynon. Miriam Shirk gave the response. Jokes and fines were in order during the entire evening, as the treasury was in need of money.

Levi Dickey, president, resumed charge during a short business session in which Chester Shirk, Raymond Root and Ben Hepler were appointed as a committee to complete the varsity club record book.

A box of candy was auctioned off, each bidder forfeiting the amount of his bid. Ivan Betz was the lucky bidder and President Studebaker the high bidder, giving the most money.

Harvey Brubaker led the group in songs and Mr. Murray of Monrovia, who has won many medals and ribbons in athletic meets, gave an address.

Miss Marie Bryant of Monrovia rendered several selections on the Morinla xylophone.

A three course dinner was served by the mother's class of the Church of the Brethren under the leadership of Mrs. T. P. Oxley.

At the close of the meeting the following directors held a short session: Levi Dickey, president; Truman Fuderburgh, Orville Thomason, H. B. Beckner and Glenn Vaniman.

In the flight of the twelve months we come to Christmas. In those skies that the years are soon to fill with throbbing motors and climbing wings, we pause to look again for a star.

There are birthdays of the mind, when we give reverence to the memories of those great among men. There are birthdays of the heart, when we turn to those we love, or have loved. But Christmas is the birthday of the spirit, and worship not before marble mausoleum or sculptured arch, but at the story of a manger and a cross.

On that first Christmas, Herod, in his great city, was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him. They knew not where Christ was born. They saw not the star. Yet in that same country "were shepherds abiding in the field and keeping watch o'er their flocks by night, to whom a light shone and to whom came the good tidings of great joy." For there was a babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger.

"And when they were come into the house, they saw the young child, with Mary his mother; and when they had opened their treasures, they presented unto him gifts; gold and frankincense and myrrh."

The promise of the Star had been fulfilled. The story of the cross was to come.

It was the first Christmas day.

Radio, television, the triumphs of aviation—these are some of the latter-day gifts of science to the world's huge stocking. And greater gifts will come from the achievements of man's research and ingenuity. The world to which Christ was born in Bethlehem of Judea, in the reign of Emperor Augustus, knew nothing of such wonders.

No words of man penetrated the ether, no wings of his soared through it. On that first Christmas day man had not challenged the air and heavens, his motors droning toward the sun, and his message vibrating from the sky. Yet the men who then walked the streets of Rome, or talked on the street corners of Jerusalem, were exactly the same sort of men we see today in Los Angeles, or San Francisco, New York or London. They were men with the same human wants, the same capacity for joy or sorrow, the same possibilities of hope or despair. For throughout history man has been making and remaking his world; building his cities on the ruins of the past; winning, losing, changing and conquering his environment, yet the human heart has remained the same. Its wave-length has not changed.

As I see the streets of Pomona and Los Angeles crowded with happy, jostling gift-buyers, the shops jammed with rich merchandise, "gold, and frankincense, and myrrh," gathered from all parts of the world, it seems to me that each Christmas brings us more money to spend and more haste to spend it. Certainly we can happily say that the record of our country's prosperity is a great one. And this piled up wealth centers in cities where it is most evident and where it is most easily spent—in cities where it is difficult to see the stars!

Watching this, I say that as Christmas is the birthday of the spirit, let us remember to celebrate at this time the wealth of the spirit and not our material prosperity which is so great and so plainly evident. For through the years the lights of many cities have vanished and the lights of many more will die. But the light of the stars will still be there above their ruined streets and splendors—and the Light which the shepherds watched in the desert skies.

We need not let the golden glare of our prosperity blot out for us the gleam and leading of the Bethlehem Star. It is to this star we need to turn at Christmas time.

Let us build the prosperity of the spirit. Let us remember our sonship with God. Let us not forget the brotherhood of our fellows.

DEPUTATION TEAMS' PLANS COMPLETED

California towns, the schedule for this team has been cut from a considerable tour to two programs.

The two programs are: Glendale, Arizona, Sunday morning, Dec. 22; and Phoenix, Arizona, that same evening.

The program consists of five quartet numbers, a duet, possibly a solo, a talk by the speaker of the team, and the one-act play, "The Living aWtters." The Arizona team has worked long and faithfully, and the program is an excellent one, well presented. The personnel of the team is: Pearl Niswander, soprano; Neva Spell, alto; Albert Gnagy, tenor; Everett Calvert, bass, and Paul Daugherty, speaker and chairman of the team.

Following is the schedule of dates:

Bakersfield, Friday, Dec. 20.
Lindsay, Saturday, Dec. 21.
Reedley, Sunday a. m., Dec. 22.
Fresno, Sunday p. m., Dec. 22.
Laton, Monday, Dec. 23.
Modesto, Tuesday, Dec. 24.
Waterford, Wednesday, Dec. 25.
Patterson, Thursday, Dec. 26.
Rio Linda, Friday, Dec. 27.
Live Oak, Saturday, Dec. 28.
Chico, Sunday a. m., Dec. 29.
Codora, Sunday p. m., Dec. 29.
Elk Creek, Monday, Dec. 30.
Oakland, Wednesday, Jan. 1.
Empire, Thursday, Jan. 2.
Chowchilla, Friday, Jan. 3.
Rasin, Saturday, Jan. 4.
McFarland, Sunday a. m., Jan. 5.

STIVERS "SAWS OFF" MORE TUNES FOR "Y" MEETING

The Y. M. C. A. has not had such an interesting, laughable, and entirely enjoyable program for a long time as was presented Monday morning by Rev. Dave Stivers, assistant pastor of the First Christian Church of Pomona. "Dave," as the young men have already learned to call him, is an excellent entertainer, for he is a good bass soloist, an accomplished performer on the saw, and a very interesting and dynamic speaker and reader.

In his musical numbers he was accompanied by his wife at the piano. His program was as follows:

Vocal:

"Three for Jack" (Squires).

"Big Bass Viol" (Bohannon).

"O, No, John," English folk song.

Saw:

"End of a Perfect Day" (Bond).

Encore, "Aloha Oe."

Readings:

"When Pa Tried to Wean the Spotted Calf."

"Mrs. Rastus Johnson at the Wedding."

Encore, "Cohen on the Telephone."

The men were very reluctant to let him stop when the period closed, but they have his promise to come back some time next semester, and everyone will anxiously await the time when he will again appear before them.

sible for the missionaries to reach the coast. The compartments were not fancy in the least, but still furnished a safe and comfortable place for the babies and children.

When the Flory party, as the party of missionaries was called, arrived at Peking they found that every hotel was filled. Beds were made up and people were sleeping even on the station platform. Again the party was fortunate. This time acquaintances took them in and gave them a place to sleep and a meal.

The missionaries decided to move on to the next stopping place, but here they encountered difficulties again. There were no hotels or rooms to spare. Just as the party was about to give up, some new apartments were opened up. The fugitives had no furniture, but the American Army afforded them a few crude pieces which sufficed for the short time they were there.

It was thought best that some of the party return to America, so the next step was to get passage on a steamer. Due to the civil war every boat was filled up for three months. Again the party was rescued just as they were beginning to give up hope. The Dollar Steamship Company remodeled the steerage in one of their boats so missionaries could return home. The missionaries closed up their home again and boarded the train for Japan from where the boat was to sail. The Japanese train officials gave the party every advantage over the crowds of Chinese trying to escape the war zone.

"Dutch" Brubaker closed his thrilling talk by saying he would let his story tell the message, that "God will take care of all those who love him."

TIMES DO CHANGE

A hundred years ago today
A wilderness was here.
A man with powder in his gun
Went forth to hunt a deer.

But now the times have changed somewhat,
Along a different plan.

A dear with powder on her nose
Goes forth to hunt a man.—Ex.

Myrtice Butterbaugh (in chapel)
"For goodness sakes, Eddie, haven't you got a handkerchief?"

Eddie Brubaker: "Yes, but I don't lend it to folks."

CHINO HI MEN EAT BEANS

At the second roughhouse and beanfeed of the year, about sixty boys from Chino high school were the guests of the local Y. M. C. A. The program started with strenuous games, which served as an excellent appetizer for the beans. After consuming about three plates of beans each, the fellows watched motion pictures of the local college life, and adjourned with the singing of the Alma Mater.

No man can harm us but ourselves. Sin is misdirected energy, just the same as dirt is merely matter out of place. The head devil is fear. The universe is planned for good.

No better medicine can be prescribed for any man or woman, than several good, old-fashioned, hearty laughs a day. Happy the wife who has a good honest fun-loving husband, and vice-versa.

Two old Scotchmen were found crying on a corner recently; crying because they had spent their youth together.

Professor Holleberg plans to spend part of the holiday season at Pacific Grove observing the marine plant, Halicystis, of which he is making an extended study.

Miss Lenhardt expects to spend the holidays with her sister, whose home is in Sacramento.

Professor and Mrs. Brubaker entertained the following at dinner Friday night: Rev. and Mrs. Albert Brubaker and little son, of Wisconsin, Prof. and Mrs. Jamison and family.

A reunion of the class of '21 in honor of Rev. and Mrs. Albert Brubaker was held at the Jamison home last Thursday evening. Other class members present were Rev. and Mrs. Leland Brubaker of Covina, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Landis, Prof. and Mrs. Holleberg, Dr. and Mrs. Harper Frantz, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Brooks.

Next Thursday afternoon President Studebaker will act as chairman for the College Section of the California Teachers' Association, Southern Section, which convenes in the president's parlors at U. S. C. Pertinent topics concerning secondary education will be discussed by C. L. Phelps, president of Santa Barbara State Teachers' College, H. E. Edwards of U. C. L. A., and Dr. A. A. Douglass of Claremont Colleges. This evening Dr. Studebaker will attend the banquet session of the Football Section at the Chamber of Commerce dining room. President Dexter of Whittier will give the address.

At an educational meeting at Redlands on December 27, Pres. Studebaker is to read a paper on "Education should result in learning, but what is the substance and essence of real learning?" Dr. I. S. Westerburg, head of the Department of Education at Redlands, is sponsoring the meeting.

Y. W. C. A. Notes

Santa Claus with all his reindeer, jingled into "Y" meeting Monday morning and distributed presents to all who had been good girls, learned their lessons, written term papers, and been attentive in chapel. In Santa's judgment, all were well-deserving of presents, and everything from candy cats and pin cushions to "household furniture" was taken from Santa's pack.

The "Y" room was beautifully decorated to carry out the Christmas spirit, with a large Christmas tree, a fire place, and greenery everywhere.

Each year the Y. W. C. A. enjoys such a Christmas party and helps to spread Christmas cheer and good will to all of its members.

Alumni Notes

Miss Olive Throne is home for the Christmas vacation. She is teaching kindergarten in Colton.

Rev. and Mrs. Ora Weddle of San Bernardino are rejoicing over the birth of a little daughter November 30.

Miss Edith Bowman is working hard preparing a Christmas program to be given Friday afternoon by her school at Buttonwillow, near Wasco.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Dickey, Herman Landis and Mr. and Mrs. Otis Brooks will not begin their Christmas vacation until the middle of the week. Los Angeles county teachers are attending county institute this week.

Miss Genevieve Page's class put on a beautiful pantomime in the LaVerne Lincoln school Christmas program. Miss Ruth Price's group sang a number of Christmas carols.

Cards are out announcing the approaching nuptials of Miss Grace Looney of Olympia, Wash., and Ralph Shrock. The wedding will take place Christmas eve in the Olympia Church of the Brethren. Grace was here in school two years ago. Ralph is teaching in the Azusa schools and plans to take his bride there to live.

Mrs. Levi Dickey had charge of taking four Camp LaVerne girls thru the initiation process Saturday evening in Live Oak canyon. Misses Nellie Frantz, Alberta Maust, Miriam Shirk and Mary Throne, tent leaders, also assisted the camp superintendent, Mrs. C. P. Shaffer.

Mrs. Maurine Miller King is entertaining the Dorcas Club tomorrow.

Claude Bowman is assisting with the Christmas program in the Hermosa Church of the Brethren.

Mrs. Annie Nelson Hagawalt is entertaining the Mother's class of the LaVerne Church Wednesday. She has asked the members of the class to wrap carefully any "white elephants" they may have in their homes, bring them to the meeting, and they will be auctioned off; the proceeds to go to the new church building.

A group of visitors from Kingsburg included Mr. and Mrs. Swinson, their two daughters, and Miss Johnson, and Miss Sardenburg. Miss Sardenburg and Miss Swinson expect to be enrolled in college here next fall.

Miss Kathryn Paul of Los Angeles was a Monday visitor. She, too, is a prospective student for next year.

Verna Sheets and Daniel Stover are anticipating an unusually happy vacation. They expect to go to their homes in Seattle, Washington, for a two weeks stay.

At last! The world is spending more money for face powder than for gunpowder and more for the lik-stick than for the "big stick." Peace smiles thru her "make-up."

Personals

President Studebaker entertained the Commission of the Associated Students at dinner Sunday. The commissioners are Margaret Price, Marie Tingle, Ed Cunningham and Glen Harmon.

Miss Virginia Dull spent Sunday with Eleanor Maryott of Pomona.

Neva Snell and Miriam Murray hiked to Lookout Point Sunday afternoon.

Florence Brubaker, Laura Frantz and Orli Vaniman were guests of Miss Zelda Morelock at her home in Redondo Sunday.

The Northern Deputation team gave their program in Pomona Sunday afternoon.

Miss Opal Hull and friends visited in Los Angeles Sunday.

Ruby Saylor was a dinner guest of Mina and Mary Throne.

Miss Zelda Morelock's sister is visiting LaVerne this week.

The Orange Blossom Singers gave a program at the Church of the Brethren in Glendora Sunday evening.

Chester Flory gave a talk before the Adult C. W. group at the Church of the Brethren Sunday night. He spoke on International Relations, having gained considerable information on the subject at the Riverside Institute which he attended last week.

Mrs. Snider of Covina visited college Monday morning.

Bernice Conley, Marion Souter, Frances Sandblom, Ruth Gible, Edith Coffman and Opal Kuns spent the week-end at their several homes.

Lucille Hylton and Iva Livingston went to Hollywood for the week-end.

Esther Statler and Vivienne Wyne spent the week-end in Los Angeles.

The Aeolian Quartette gave a concert in the First Baptist Church Sunday evening, December 15. They entertained the Azusa Rotary Club yesterday, December 16, at the noon hour.

The Bachelor's Tribute

"What a lovely baby you have, Mrs. Smith! I adore babies, really. She's the picture of health, isn't he? He looks the image of you, especially your eyes. How old is it? Five months? My, what a big baby she is for his age. Pretty soon he'll be walking, won't it?"

Little work in studies,
Little fights with teachers
Makes so many football players
Sit upon the bleachers.

It is not a good idea to keep all of your love and appreciation for others and spend them in tears over the grave of those you shall see no more, in this life.

The lights were low; the fire was falling in glowing embers. They were seated on a long sofa before the fire. It was so romantic and cozy—there—just they two. He gazed with a gently questioning look at her. She looked at him and sighed. Each was wondering—which was going after more wood.

BOBETERIA TO TACKLE LAVERNE TONIGHT

Our fast stepping Leopards have two important games on their schedule for this week. The quintet play the Bobeteria team Tuesday night and on Friday evening they take on the Southwestern Lawyers. Both games will be in the local gym.

The Bobeterias are a local team that has made a good record in this part of the valley and expect to give the Leopards a real battle.

The Lawyers are a well known outfit and have shown up as a good match for Southern Conference teams. They played Oxy on Monday night and a comparison of scores may show something of the relative strength of Oxy and LaVerne.

There are several tentative games that may take the locals north during Christmas vacation, but at the present writing it is doubtful as to whether they will make the trip.

On January 2, the Leopards have a tough game with the Cal-Christian Panthers in the local gym. The Panthers beat the Leopards last year by six points and have the same squad again this season that has won from several conference quintets. This is second in importance to the U. C. L. A. tilt in the pre-conference schedule. Last week the Cal-Christian outfit mopped up Santa Barbara State, 64-25.

On Tuesday, January 7, the locals play the L. A. Olympic Club at LaVerne in the final practice tilt before the conference opening with Whittier on January 11.

Inter-collegiate Tennis

Starting Monday afternoon the four classes are to pick their intramural tennis teams. The seniors play Monday afternoon, the juniors Tuesday, sophomores Wednesday, and the frosh Thursday. These games are minor tournaments to pick the best players in each class.

The interclass play will not take place until after vacation, the first game being scheduled for January 9, and the final game for January 15th.

The juniors are favored to cop the intra-mural honors, with the frosh as runners up. The varsity squad is to be chosen from the best material brought to light in inter-class play.

There is a rumor that the faculty will challenge the winning class to a play-off. If this be so the winners' crown will rest none too secure.

Conference Notes

San Diego is the only conference basket ball team which has not strutted its stuff to date. In games last week, "Oxy Dental" won from U. S. C. Dental College; Whittier lost to L. A. A. C., 40-19; Caltech was beaten by Pasadena J. C.; Pomona lost to U. C. L. A., 48-19; and Redlands won from Riverside J. C.

Frosh Give and Take In Games Last Week

The frosh played two games last week. They won from Claremont, 31-12, and lost the preliminary game on Friday evening to the Chino Hi quintet by a score of 18-15.

The pea-greeners seemed terribly out of place during the entire first half of the Chino game and could accomplish little toward doing the necessary things that win basket ball games. The score at the end of this period was in Chino's favor, 10-3.

In the second half the frosh came to life, played basket ball, especially during the last five minutes. Their last minute rally fell short of tying the score by just three points. Snell and Shirk each made four points to tie for high point honors for the frosh.

The frosh line-up consisted of Snell and Howell, forwards; Forney, center; Adams and Stover, guards. Substitutions—Heckman, Wilson, Shirk, Stern, Bolinger.

The Kittens will play El Monte Hi Tuesday evening as a preliminary to the Bobeteria game and meet another high school team which has not yet been chosen for Friday night as a prologue to the Southwestern fray.

LEOPARDS DROP FAST GAME TO BRUINS

By making a strong second-half comeback, the U. C. L. A. Bruins were able to nose out the Leopards by a 37-22 score in a fast game last Friday night in the local gym. It was the old story again of ten good men being able to outplay five good men.

To start the game the Leopards got an early lead, but from the first five minutes on to the end of the half the game was nip and tuck, with first one team going into the lead and then the other. In the latter part of the first period the Bruin second team was injected into the fray and proved to be better defensively than the first stringers. At half time the score was deadlocked at thirteen-all.

The Leopards came back strong in the second period and held the Bruins even for a short time, but by the time the first string was sent in again the locals had been played off their feet and the Westwooders went on a scoring spree.

It was remarkable the way the Leopard five held the Bruin ten, who had a big advantage in both height and weight.

High point man of the Westwood quintet was Wildes, who sunk fourteen points. Stutzman led the Leopards with eight. The Bruins made numerous personal fouls, twenty-two in all, with five of their outfit having three each chalked up against them. The locals were unable to sink more than fifty per cent of their foul shots.
