EDUCATIONAL.

MOTTO.—To illuminate the mind, is to lay the foundation for sound government and human happiness.

Educational Changes and Tendencies.

Lecture by C. W. Eliot, Harvard University.

School, college and professional school, being but three stages in the same process, should have the same aim and use the same methods, with some necessary and evident adaptations. In their principles of government they should be essentially alike.

Development in education should be consecutive, not disjointed. The innate objection to physical penalties with children is that they appeal to a set of motives that presently lose their force. The only analogous motives for adults are the fears of prison and of hell, neither of them very powerful over educated minds. But such permanent motives as prudence, emulation, self respect, pleasure in achievement, beauty or power may be relied on to grow and strengthen with the child himself, and should therefore be appealed to from the start.

The really important difference between school and college lies in the transition from the constant supervision of the schoolboy to the unwonted liberty of the collegian; from responsibility to others to responsibility to one's self. This change, while fraught with danger to the weak-minded, is necessary for the development of character, and the best schools will prepare the way for it during the later years of their course. College is really the safest place for young men having power within, for they can put themselves under influences of the most inspiring kind.

There was a time when the chief duties of the teacher were to give out lessons, hear them recited, and mark each performance with all attainable justice. Individual assistance to students was discountenanced as favoring of partiality. The laggards were driven inexorably, yet the rate of progress fell below the average ability. The mutual attitude of teacher and pupil was unsympathetic if not hostile, an armed truce, at best. Now the teacher points out the aim and means to it and leads the way, adapting his instruction to the individual needs of each pupil and giving appropriate work to each; for possible tasks educate, while repeated failures stultifies the mind. The general softening of manners has helped to render discipline in schools and families less arbitrary. It is now generally recognized that education must encourage existing powers to reveal and exercise themselves, and that fear does not quicken mental activity. The object of school and family discipline is self-control, not automatic regularity, as in an army. The will-power must be cultivated, not effaced; self-direction, independence, originating power, are needed in every station of life. Moreover the general management of a school should be for the advantage of its best pupils, in contradistinction to the old college regulations, which seemed to assume that every student needed penal restrictions. Improvement has been retarded by the diversity of nationality, defective home training and the increasing number of women teachers among whom the ratio of the inexperienced is always greater than among men.

Religious instruction in schools has been much modified since the time when the teacher read the Bible and prayed ad libitum, and the chapel and church attendance were compulsory at colleges. The tendency is toward undenominational institutions and the influence of the associated scientific schools and the general trend of public opinion have impelled many of the older colleges to abandon their sectarian bias. The undenominational school attacks no religious belief and dictates none, but fosters voluntary religious activity, pure morality, and a catholicity of mind that scorns to wrangle over the petty differences of Protestant sects.

Secularized schools are a still different class, and simply ignore religion in their teaching. But this policy disregards the ineradicable instinct of reverence, and the religious elements permeates history, literature and all human life, and cannot be thus eliminated. It might be feasible for schools to make provision for varied religious instruction, in which the churches should co-operate, ministering to the children of their own parishoners. The large proportion of laymen among college presidents is characteristic of modern times. The increase of enrollment and expenditure indicates real progress in these institutions. University extension is a movement of general interest, but not altogether new, for the Lowell institute lectures are of similar nature and antedated it by forty years.

This resume of changes in so many directions may raise the query whether all past experience counts for nothing, whether the educational world is indeed in a state of perpetual flux and permanent solutions impossible. But the problem is tremendous; society in this country is new, and the recognition of the claims of humanity as such has over-turned many ancient theories. The new aspirations of the race demand new adaptations, and such demands are a reassuring promise of future growth.—Journal of Education.

University Extension.

University extension is rapidly assuming organic form. The movement is of course showing the most coherence and energy as emanating from those centers where something of the extension spirit has been already working for a more or less extended period. One of the best prepared and most vigorous of these centers is the University of the State of New York. And this institution has been put upon a specially favorable footing for such work by a direct and unanimous authorization, plus a $10,000 appropriation, from the Legislature of the State to organize and push forward the university extension system, the first instance in the world of official recognition given by any state to this new and unmeasurably promising mode of practically realizing the modern ideal of universal education.

Extension Bulletin, No. 1, issued by the University under its newly acquired powers contains a large amount of varied and valuable information upon the subject, both as to its legitimate purpose and as to the methods likely to prove the most efficient.

Free trade in both goods and ideas must at last prevail.

Teach the children to beware of being mere babies or burdens to lay down on friends or enemies.

Use a good thing when you see it and wherever you find it. All poets, painters, orators, essayists, editors, borrow and lend.

The teacher works rather more for the quiet, unobtrusive victories of intelligence, than for the brutalities of force and cunning, and in this work is great, no matter how humble his name or station.

The Boy that is wanted.

BY RUSSEL SAGE.

Don't be afraid of work. It is the only road to success. Work incessantly. Whatever you do, do it as well as you know how. Don't be afraid of soiling your hands. Work is honorable, no matter how lowly. You cannot get on in the world unless you work. Try and give your employer one hundred and fifty per cent for every dollar you receive from him. Do not shirk anything. Do not be in a hurry to get away on the extra stroke of the clock. Be patient; tomorrow will be another day. If you are faithful and watchful of your employer's interests, have no fear that he will not know of it, for boys who observe this rule are rare, and promotion will surely come if you but work and wait. Patience and work are the handmaidens of success.

Why not learn a trade? The master of a good trade is better equipped for the struggle of life than the young man who is proud to soil his hands by handling tools. All boys should be made to learn a trade. It was the custom of kings, once upon a time to see to it that not only their sons but their daughters, also, were taught trades or some useful occupation. One of the necessities of the times is for better facilities for industrial education. By all means learn a trade, boys. It will be of service to you in after life. I could name scores of successful men of to-day, who were printers, engravers, telegraph operators or members of some other useful craft.

Be neat in your apparel. Men do not like boys who are slovenly in their attire. A good personal appearance is much in a boy's favor.

Be thrifty. Save some portion of each days earnings. No matter how small your pay, save some of it. Begin early in life to save, and you will be surprised to see how the dollars will roll up as you grow older. Do not be parsimonious with your money; do good with it when you can; help some worthy brother along the rough road; money is valuable for the good it may do. Let me advise you strongly to keep out of debt. Thousands of great commercial houses have been wrecked by getting into debt. Begin by putting some money in the bank early in life, and add to it when ever you can. When opportunity offers, invest it securely. Do not borrow or lend, both are vices to be shunned.

INDUSTRIAL.

PHOTO.—The reward of industry is not alone in current coin, but also in an approved conscience.

How Many Hens in one Lot.

I frequently have the above inquiry Of the large breeds not more than and of the smaller never to exceed fifty—better not more than forty. As a rule the fewer hens there are together the greater the profits from them. It is well to so arrange that the house can be divided into two parts and use them alternately. This gives a chance to seed the vacant yard with growing grain and when well up turn the fowls upon it, and serve the other in the same way. Doing this enables the breeder to afford his flock fresh green food constantly. A great many people make the mistake of arranging their roosts like stairs, or a ladder, which the fowls will all want to climb, to occupy the topmost one, and crowd for it. It is better to make the roosts low and level. There will then be no crowding for places, and the birds will not get practice in flying up, so as to teach them more readily to scale high fences. To be profitable, hens must be well fed, with a good variety of grain, meat and vegetables. When they are well cared for they are like a machine power "turned on"—it must work. Eggs they must lay and cannot help it.

Money in Eggs.

I am frequently asked if poultry pays. My answer is, certainly it does. My own experience proves it to my entire satisfaction; poultry can be made to pay better than any other live stock on the Pacific coast, in proportion to the capital invested. Prices for eggs and fowls are always high, compared with the eastern market. The demand for eggs is unlimited, and will always exceed the supply. In order to pay well, however, the best laying breeds must be secured to start with. Chickens must be hatched early, so that the pullets will be old enough to commence laying in the early winter when eggs are high. The fowls must have constant attention, dry quarters during cold rains, and not allowed to suffer from neglect in feeding.

Fresh blood should be mingled yearly, by introducing a new cock, to ensure health, size and stamina. There is more profit in producing eggs for the market than in raising chickens, unless very early broilers be raised, which always command a high price during the winter and early spring months.

Watch well the characteristic marks of your varieties; breed only from your best fowls.

The chemical composition of hoofs, hair, wool and feathers is substantially the same.

"What lovely weather!" is the expression of nearly every one you meet. Well, in fact it is lovely weather and no mistake.

While some go others are coming, for the west-bound overland has stopped several times this week letting off passengers from the East.

Drummers have been carrying off grips for years, but things will even up now that the grip is carrying off the drummers.—Roanoke Call.

THE hills to the south of town are fast changing appearance, the beautiful green taking the place of the dull brown soil which has been visible for several months.

WE have placed upon our exchange list, The Roanoke Call, published at Roanoke, Ill., by the Call publishing Co., and edited by P. B. Hobbs. It is a clean newsy sheet and is a weekly, welcome visitor.

The constant drop of water wears away the hardest stone; the constant gnaw of Towzer masticates the bone; the constant wooing lover carries off the maid, and the constant advertiser is one who gets the trade.

WHAT are you doing for your home paper? Do you not know that the local paper is the pulse of the community? Put yourself in harmony with the pulse if you would possess a good business circulation.

A MEETING of pioneer horticulturists of the State—those who commenced the business prior to 1865—is to be held in San Francisco on the 26th inst, under the auspices of the California State Horticultural Society. Gen. John Bidwell of Chico is to preside, and it is expected that there will be an interesting assemblage of old-timers.—Times.

WHERE was, and is Foster's storms that he has been predicting for this coast, about every week all winter? We believe Mr. Foster knows just about as much about the coming weather, as the Mrs. Johnson, of Kas., knew about the world coming to an end on last Christmas day, consequently nothing. If these would-be prophets and storm predictors would set the time for happenings and storm periods at a more distant date they would, perhaps, secure more followers or believers, for the time being.

WE agree with the Citrograph on its article of last week, "Gone clear Daft." But in reading the correpondents(?) report we notice that the storm occurred on December 17th. Well say that wasn't such a fierce wind after all, if it was a whole week traveling from here to Riverside, a distance of not over forty miles. The storm occurred here on the 9th, 10th, and 11th. It can't be possible that the correspondent(?) in question can be a week a head of the times.

WHAT do the citizens of Lordsburg say about a meeting for the purpose of organizing a village improvement association? By concerted effort tree planting along the streets, and other improvements may be made and now is the time to begin. Lordsburg is beautifully situated and its citizens should see that is beautified with shrubbery and flowers.

LIVE for something. Do good, and leave behind you a monument of virtue that the storm of time can never destroy. Write your name in kindness, love and mercy on the hearts of the thousands you come in contact with year by year. You will never be forgotten. No, your name, your deeds, will be as legible on the hearts you leave behind as the stars on the brow of evening. Good deeds will shine as the stars of heaven.

Reports from Salton state report that there have been heavy rains on the desert and the lake has risen about a foot. This rise is caused solely by rains, and serves to indicate how rapidly the lake will fill up now that the ground is thoroughly saturated with water. The Colorado river has risen five feet, but as yet no water is flowing into Salton from the river. When the Colorado does get high, the Salton lake will be ten times greater in extent than last year. All doubt as to the lake being permanent is fast disappearing.—Bannig Herald.

WE have recently received a number of letters from parents who wish to send their children, who are from six to twelve years of age, here to attend the Model Training Department in the college, and want them placed in families where they can be cared for outside of school hours. Here is an opportunity for widows and others who are qualified to care for children to do some good work and get remuneration therefrom. Houses to rent to such as are unable to build, should be erected, and this opportunity embraced to improve the town.

THAT country is best for a poor man, where a poor man can get the most work at the best wages; but where work and a man are strangers and the man studiously avoids to becoming acquainted with work, there is but faint hope that the country will profit by the man's stay. He should find a place where work has not possession of the ladder of life from the bottom to the top.

THE San Antonio Electric Light and Power company, have employed the Berkshire company to put lights in Pomona. That this valley is on the eve of remarkable developments cannot be longer doubted, for with water in the mountains to water the valley and to manufacture electricity for light and power, what may not be accomplished by way of material development. Heretofore the want of cheap fuel has been the only hindering cause to the erection of manufactories, but with the water in the canyons to turn the wheels which give power to generate electricity with which to run machinery, our raw material can be utilized, and new industries will spring up in all the towns. Do you see them coming? What is being done in San Antonio canyon can be done in San Gabriel, San Dimas, Cucamonga, and other points.

IN 1891, there were 6602 acres planted to oranges and lemons in San Bernardino county, or 50 per cent more than in all the year prior. The same is true of all other sections in Southern California. There are 3,500,000 trees not in bearing and 1,000,000 which bear. In three or four years there will be 20,000 carloads of oranges worth perhaps $8,000,000. While 20,000 carloads of oranges looks like a large quantity, it would give less than one orange a week to each family in the United States during the year. While such a thing as overproduction is possible, it is not probable, for people are learning to eat oranges today who did not eat them pesterday.

THE Journalistic feat of the Los Angeles Times in delivering the paper in towns along the five shaped track, inaugurated Feb., 15th, is an era in Journalism on this coast. It says: "Glendora, San Dimas and Lordsburg, which the train rapidly passes, were all to have been centers of dense population, but it was ordained otherwise, and the useful fruit trees are there instead of the useless brick blocks. The great hotel building at the last named place—now a Dunkard college—would be an accession to Los Angeles." It further says: "Lordsburg is known as the Dunkard German Baptist colony. A good college, located here, is under the patronage of that society."

Land Prices too High.

AS we have repeatedly maintained, since our advent into California, a great deal of land owned by syndicates and even individuals, is held at too high a price. The prosperity of any country depends upon the producer and the more that the producer can be put in touch with prosperity, the better for the whole country. That the man who develops—who clears the land, improves and cultivates it should have a large share of the profits of the development goes without saying. But so long as the present owners are determined to secure all the profits, so long will the country make slow progress in wealth and population. Land that cost from $1. to $10. per acre, and water that cost from $30. to $50. per acre, ought to go at $50. to $75 per acre; but for this same land $150. to $250. per acre is asked.

Another misleading method is to collect and publish the profits of an unusually good year, or to pick out some of the most successful growers and herald these as a guide for beginners or "strangers in Isreal." Our custom has been to divide all statements by three and take the quotient as a basis for safe operations for beginners. Now if those who own large tracts of land will divide their prices for ten and twenty acre blocks by three and let purchasers accept the quotient as a beginning, the country will assume a position unequalled by any other portion; new improvements both public, and private, will spring into existence, and a worthy class of settlers will come flocking into this land of promise. Give the tiller of the soil an opportunity. Be satisfied with a reasonable profit, and stand as a benefactor and promoter of your country's welfare rather than as a retorder of its true greatness.—E.

In these days of factory made linen it is especially essential that the goods should be carefully laundered. The fiber of linen is easily cracked when it is in a frozen state, and for this reason it is much wiser to dry it in the house during cold weather. Old-fashioned linen such as our great-grandmother wove could be easily hung out doors in winter and allowed to bleach in the frost as well as in the dew; but when the fiber has been weakened by the use of bleachers it is impossible that it should wear like the old time linen.—N Y Tribune.

It now seems to be pretty definitely settled that the Santa Fe will build a line from somewhere on the Mojave through to Utah. This will open up untold wealth in the line of mining and manufacturing, as it will give the whole of Southern California cheap coal, and it will also open up immense deposits of iron ore. Utah is said to be the richest territory in America in coal and tin.—Champion.

A Mammoth Incubator.

An ingenious hop grower of Ukiah, Cal., put his kiln to a novel use the past summer, while waiting for the usual fall curing of his crop. After lighting the great furnace underneath the wire drying floor, he carefully gauged the temperature with a thermometer, and spread freshly-laid eggs upon the screen, thus changing the building into a gigantic incubator. At the first trial, 6,500 eggs were tirelessly watched during the incubating period. There was much excited interest evinced by the good townspeople when it came to the hatching out of the chicks. The capacious brick kiln was invaded by miscellaneous crowds of amused, curious visitors, and finally at the solicitations of prominent inhabitants, a regular exhibition was made of the multiplied broods. On this occasion there were exposed at one time on the raised platform of the kiln, 2500 downy peeping mites in infantile chickens. Whether the experiment successfully demonstrated in this instance will be repeated by other hop growers, remains to be seen.—American Agriculturist.

DIED.—At her home in La Verne on the morning of Feb. 10th, Mrs. Olive Douglas, wife of M. F. Douglas and adopted daughter and niece of Dr. H. A. and Dr. Rachael F. Reid of Pasadena. She leaves a husband and four little children to feel their irreparable loss. A good wife, a good mother, a good daughter, a good neighbor, a good friend, a good woman. Oh, how much she will be missed by all.

In Memoriam.

Preamble and resolutions adopted at the regular meeting of the Lordsburg W. C. T. U. held Monday afternoon Febr. 22d 1892.

By the death of sister O. J. Douglas, Lordsburg W. C. T. U. has lost one of its most faithful and devoted members one who evinced a deep interest in its welfare and assisted in cementing those bonds of sisterhood that has made us happier and bound us closer together in our social ties. Rare indeed do we meet such an attractive personal presence, such a warm hearted and generous spirit as hers; ever cheerful, courteous and pleasant in manner, ever generous kind and true. She has gone to to join the great majority beyond the shadows of the dark valley.

We feel her loss most keenly and while not only we but the whole community regret her demise, our hearts go out to her family who stands in the deeper gloom. Therefore be it Resolved, That we tender to her family our most sincere and heartfelt sympathy in their hour of bereavement:

Resolved. That a copy of these resolutions be spread on the minutes of our Union and transmitted to the husband of the deceased and published in the Lordsburg paper as a final tribute to a worthy sister, a loyal friend and a beloved member.

Mrs. B. J. Davis, Sec'y.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

The Y. M. C. A. at Lordsburg is progressing nicely under the circumstances that surround it. In the Lordsburg college sometime in Jan, a college Y. M. C. A. was organized with about eight members, most of whom were active members. A few more have been added since and the little band is slowly moving along and will if it continues, be a nucleus around which a greater band will finally gather.

This is the beginning of a good work and if continued will result in much good. This organization has for its object the bettering of the young men at college. If it only improves the morals of the young men it will do a noble work. It is an adjunct to the church for it reaches those the church does not reach by filling an intermediate place between the church and the world. The church works with sinners at long range and thus fails in many instances to reach them, but the Y. M. C. A. steps in and gets closer to the unconverted and gradually draws them toward the church.

The church fails simply because it is not pliable enough and thus fails to be "all things to all men." Men saw this breach and to supply this lack they organized the Y. M. C. A. and it admirably fills this gap. It is non-sectarian and thus work alike for all churches. When denominations begin to make their denominational differences a matter of minor importance and work with each other in harmony and unity, and also become more pliable and thereby becoming "all things to all men," then and only then, will they be ready to do the work of the Y. M. C. A. The denominational differences that exist are somewhat of a barrier to the progress of Christianity for some take the ground that there is only one way to heaven and we have the way and the others have not, and thereby say to the unconverted if you wish to be saved you must go with us. Another says, no, you must go with us and by so doing confuse many and in fact hinder some from coming into the church and putting on Christ. The world cannot be successfully converted under such conditions. It is to be hoped that the day is not far distant when all these differences will be laid aside, and only Christ and Him crucified, taught.

SURE THING!

That people have discovered that W H Goodrich, of Pomona, sells new and second-hand furninre as cheap or cheaper than it can be had in Los Angeles or any other place in Southern California; people are wondering how it is that great mirrors, fine chairs, upholstered furniture, bedroom furniture, carpets, stoves, tinware, crockery and many other useful things are going so cheap at Goodrich's; again some say: "I have heard of Goodrich's cheap store, but had no idea he sold cheaper than elsewhere until I tried him."

Israel at Work.

MOTTO.—Not dull sloth but earnest activity, is the Christian's high privilege through Christ our Lord.

"All Manner of Evil."

The Lord Jesus gave no greater assurance of true and loyal discipleship than when he said, "Blessed are ye when men shall reproach you, and persecute you and say all manner of evil against you for my sake," Matt. 5:11.

It is far easier to endure reproach with a conscience void of offense toward God than for those who do the reproaching. Men in the church of God take as much, yea even pleasure in saying "all manner of evil" against those who are identified with them in the same body, than the worst enemies outside of the church. It is a matter of regret and sorrow to good men in and out of the church to see so much defamation by those, who, if they were ever born of water and of the spirit, would certainly be far from spending precious-time in that kind of work.

To the defamed and those reproached because of their adherence to divine principles, let me say, "stand fast in the Lord" and "be strong in the power of his might." Marvel not that your intentions and honest convictions are warped, twisted and held up to ridicule by those who lay large claims to discipleship with Jesus. Those like them did the same to the "Green Tree" and you need not marvel if these do it in the dry one. While many are true and good and holy, others will be spiteful, malicious, "speaking all manner of evil" against those they hate; but God is true and in Him all is well with every creature who endures in the doctrine of his Son our Savior.

You are required to rejoice, and more; to "be exceeding glad." It is not enough to be glad when you are defamed, but to "be exceeding glad," not because you are to obtain a reward on earth—not because you are to have a preachers occupation or a bishopric, but a great reward in heaven. A little honor, a little brief authority over men's souls and consciences in this life may produce a small degree of joy and satisfaction, but there is greater joy, a greater reward in heaven for all who patiently endure abuse for Christ sake.

Above all let no one cultivate a spirit of revenge, a spirit of abuse, of hatred, of malice, of reproach and persecution; for God is against all these. In the apostolic days men persecuted the whole of man; now the persecution is against the spirit and character of the hated ones. As the unregenerate class persecuted the prophets, so did they Christ and his people in Judea and in all countries down to this time, and still it goes on.

I have written this for the poor and defamed in Christ of whom there are many.—E.

CHEAP LANDS.

ANY one coming from Missouri River points and purchasing 20 acres of fruit land through the

Lordsburg Real Estate Agency,
Lordsburg, California,

Will have the amount of their railroad fare credited on the first payment.

Parties coming from points east of the Mississippi River and purchasing 30 acres of land will have the amount of their railroad fare credited on their first payment.

These lands range in price from $40. upward, and will be sold no cheaper to parties living in California. Absolute fairness to all, and satisfaction guaranteed on business principles; as we shall in all cases carefully see that titles are perfected before sales are concluded.

No. 7. Fine 20 acre tracts near Hemet in the San Jacinto Valley. Loose sandy soil ready for trees at $50. per acre, on easy terms

No. 4. Olive and lemon land at Eswenia. 210 acres at $50. per acre, or $10,500. With this goes 120 acres of mountain land containing water for irrigation and domestic use. Water piped to this tract and more can be developed.

Lordsburg Real Estate Agency,
Lordsburg, California.

KINGSTON TRACT!

MAGNIFICENT FRUIT LAND AT $100 PER ACRE, WITH WATER RIGHT.

The Kingston Tract is part of the famous Jurupa Ranch in San Bernardino county, and lies just north of the Santa Ana River, midway between Riverside and Chino.

The world-wide reputation of this section for orange growing needs no puffing, and parties in search of citrus land at bottom prices will not hesitate to buy in this Tract when once they see the land and surroundings.

The soil is a rich sandy loam, easily worked, and of a similar character to Riverside, the elevation being about the same.

The Chino factory is within easy distance—about six miles in a direct line. Parties will find some of this land well adapted for raising sugar beets.

Two inches of water will be deeded to every ten acres of land and an interest of a like proportion in the fifteen-mile Irrigation Canal.

We are prepared to contract to set out land for non-residents and take care of it for three years at a small extra charge, so that persons now in business or otherwise occupied can reap the advantages of a growing orchard without the toil of tending the ranch themselves and know exactly what will be the cost.

First cost of land, at present price per acre.....$100.00
80 orange trees, 2-year-old, budded, $60.00

Putting out and care for first year, $25.00

Care of orchard second year, $12.50
" " " third " $12.50

Actual cost of land in three years, set out with five year-old trees, per acre.....$210.00

The price, now, is $100 per acre but this low figure will only hold good for a short time as the Tract is rapidly being sold.

The terms are very liberal: One-half cash, balance in 10 years at 6% interest; or if purchasers prefer paying all cash 5% discount will be allowed on deferred payments.

Clubs or Colonies buying eighty acres or more will have special inducements and terms offered.

The Pomona and Elsinore Railroad is graded across the Kingston Tract, and will doubtless be in operation by the time the crops are ready for shipping.

INCORPORATION.

The Lordsburg College Association was incorporated under the laws of the State of California March 9, 1891, with a capital stock of $100,000

The financial condition of the institution is excellent, the building and grounds being unencumbered, thus enabling the trustees to secure and maintain an efficient corps of instructors.

COURSE OF INSTRUCTION.

The College will sustain the following departments of instruction: Commercial, Normal, Collegiate, Preparatory, Art, Musical, Model Training and Biblical.

Any student desiring to attend only a few terms is allowed to choose a special course of studies, approved by the Principal or the Faculty.

COLLEGIATE DEPARTMENT.

This department offers three courses of study: Classical, Scientific and Literary.

No effort will be spared to make this department equal to that of any other well regulated educational institution.

PREPARATORY DEPARTMENT.

This will cover a three year's course giving a thorough training to those who expect to take the higher courses.

>NORMAL.<

This course is similar to that of the California State Normal. We invite especial attention of teachers to this feature of the institution.

Three year's work is included, besides a Post Graduate course of one year.

Credit will be given to students for work done in other reliable institutions

>COMMERCIAL.<

Just what is needed to prepare young men and women for efficient work in the business world.

Instruction and drill equal to the best.

Charges less than half the rates usually charged by business colleges.

It requires from six to nine months to complete this course, including Penmanship, Orthography, Grammar, Book-keeping, Commercial Law, Commercial Arithmetic, Business Correspondence, and actual business.

After the theory of Book-keeping is well understood, the pupil is admitted into the Business Department where he has actual practice in banking, wholesale and retail, commission, shipping, business correspondence, and becomes acquainted with all kinds of commercial paper, such as deeds, mortgages, notes, drafts, etc.,

STENOGRAPHY and TYPE-WRITING.

We call special attention to this department of our work. Ten dollars pays for tuition for fourteen weeks in this department.

The "Remington type-writer" will be used.

BIBLICAL.

The Bible Course, for the systematic study of the Old and the New Testaments offers excellent inducements to all who desire to become familiar with the teachings of this wonderful Book.

ART DEPARTMENT.

In this is offered superior advantages for painting in the various branches.

The instructor of this department is prepared to give lessons in charcoal crayon, pastel, India ink, drawing and water color.

MODEL TRAINING COURSE.

The Model Training Department admits pupils six years of age and over. The best methods of instruction will be followed, and pupils promoted to higher grades as rapidly as their standing will permit.

Those preparing to teach, are expected to take training lessons in the model school.

MUSICAL.

The authorities of the College propose to make the department of music in this institution equal to the best in the country.

Arrangements have already been made and others projected which will render its facilities of the first character.

The department is under the charge of an experienced instructor, and all the instruction given and advantages offered are intended to be unsurpassed.

The methods of teaching will be the best that are now known to the profession.

MORAL AND RELIGIOUS.

The college will be under the auspices of members of the German Baptist Brethren Church, and all students irrespective of creed will be admitted, and the best moral and religious influence will be maintained to the interest of all who are identified with the institution.

LOCATION.

The College is located at Lordsburg

California, on the Santa Fe Railway thirty-three miles east of Los Angeles and distant from the Pacific Ocean about thirty-five miles. It is peculiarly favored for healthfulness, having an altitude above the sea of 1,000 feet, and less than three miles from the base of the Sierra Madre mountains, the scenery of which, in connection with that of the valleys, awakens the admiration of the lovers of the beautiful.

BUILDING.

The College structure has a south frontage of 183 feet; a wing at the east end extends north 109 feet; another wing at the west end extends north 183 feet. It is three stories high with a basement of five rooms under the east wing, and was erected at a cost of $73,000, and contains 131 rooms, many being suites of two connected by sliding doors.

Three fine eucalyptus groves grace the north side of the campus, while on the south are cypress hedges, palm and other semi-tropical plants.

A fountain twenty-two feet in diameter sends up its silvery sprays in every direction.
