BACCALAUREATE SERMON

The Baccalaureate Sermon was delivered on Sunday evening by President Samuel J. Miller at the Church of the Brethren. A large and attentive audience heard the message that specially sought to give inspiration and help to the graduates who have not finished, but are really commencing their real educational life.

The text of the address was "Ye shall receive power after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you."

President Miller said in part: "This service occurs on Whitsuntide, Pentecost Day. There is a parallelism between the instruction to the disciples and that of the student. Jesus was the master teacher, from whom all true teachers have learned. He taught as no other man has taught. He led his disciples on step by step, until he brought them to the facts of His death and resurrection. He was ever solicitous of their interest and welfare. He helped them thru their doubts and perplexities. He established their faith in Him.

They seemingly were prepared to do the work unto which they were called. He had faithfully taught them. Yet he tells them to tarry at Jerusalem until they have received the Holy Ghost, when they would be endowed with power.

Addressing the students directly, he said, "You have been learning from your teachers. You have been led on step by step, thru your doubts and perplexities. Your faith in God must be established. It is not enough that you have gained intellectual strength. You must have the guidance of the same Holy Spirit that led to such wonderful results at the Day of Pentecost."

BRUBAKER RECEPTION

The R. F. Brubaker home in San Dimas was the scene of a merry gathering on Sunday afternoon, May 30th, the occasion being the reception for Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Brubaker, bride and groom of the previous Saturday evening. The guests assembled immediately after the morning church services and were soon seated around bountifully laden tables, to which they did ample justice, partaking of plenty of laughter as a digestive agent.

After a snap shot of the group, the bride and groom, with Rev. and Mrs. R. H. Miller, left in order to be present at the Kaylor-Marshburn wedding. All of the brothers and sisters of the happy couple were present at the wedding and reception, except one sister of the bride and a brother of the groom.

DR. McLAREN GIVES COMMENCEMENT ADDRESS

COMMENCEMENT DAY

The Commencement day exercises of La Verne College took place in the College Auditorium May 28, 1920. At ten o'clock Miss Vera Hoover began playing the march, to which the faculty marched down the aisle, followed by the graduates. The first number on the program was the singing of "God of All Nature," by the Ladies Lyric Club. Pastor R. H. Miller then pronounced the invocation. Mrs. Lester Vaughn next rendered a delightful solo, entitled, "Love's Echo."

The address by Dr. James Henry McLaren on "The Waiting World," was indeed inspiring. His practical, uplifting ideals for the youth of America were good to hear. He said, "There is no reason why young people can not make a successful career even in this restless age. All nature is waiting to be moulded into useful things for man. Honesty, conscientiousness, vision and a clean character are the essentials that make success possible."

Dr. McLaren seems to have a strong affinity for strawberries. We wonder if it is possible that he is engaged in some form of the strawberry business! Dr. McLaren has spoken to us before, and it is hoped he will do so again in the future.

The climax of the exercises was the granting of the diplomas. Each diploma was a symbol of years of hard labor on the part of the graduate. Following is the list of graduates from each department:

College

Laura Esther Haugh
Ina Violet Marshburn

Bible

Charles Ernest Davis

Piano

Modena Elizabeth Minnich
Olive Grace Stouffer

Academy

Claude Charles Carl
Myrtle Crist
Flora Merle Fike
Walter Pryce Gilbert
Byrl Dunbar Harper
Norman Carl Jones
Guy Brown Jordan
Alida Fern Larimer
Evelyn Ruth Miller
Minnie Elizabeth Rhodes
Walter Guy Root
Fern Carol Stitser
Earl Lichty Schrock

As the graduates from the College received their diplomas, President Miller gave a few fitting remarks, and changed the tassels on their caps from the right to the left side, thus conferring upon them the degree of Bachelor of Arts.

The impressive services were closed by the benediction, which was pronounced by Pastor Bashore, of Glendora.

COMMENCEMENT MUSICAL EXCELLENT

The Music Department of La Verne College was represented in the closing Commencement exercises this year on Thursday evening, May 27th, when Miss Olive Stouffer and Miss Modena Minnich, the two piano graduates, very delightfully entertained a large crowd of people in the College Auditorium, under the direction of Prof. B. S. Haugh.

Both Miss Stouffer and Miss Minnich exhibited excellent talent. The ease and steadiness with which they played, told that they had mastered their pieces, which had been accomplished thru many, many weary hours of practice. The last number on the program, "Duo, Souvenirs De Russie" was especially well rendered, and was enjoyed immensely by the audience.

The vocal music rendered by a Ladies Quartet and Mrs. Vaughn and Miss Lucile Beckner, was very beautiful, and the fact that both received an encore is sufficient proof that they were enjoyed by the audience.

At the close of the program the ushers came forward with arms full of beautiful flowers for the two honored graduates of the evening.

The program of the evening was—Piano Duet, Fantasie Brilliant, Op. 67—Leybach, Miss Olive Stouffer and Miss Modena Minnich.
Sonata, Op. 2, No. 1—Beethoven, Miss Modena Minnich.
Prelude in C sharp minor, Op. 3, No. 2—Rachmaninoff.
Scotch Poem, Op. 31, No. 2—MacDowell, Miss Olive Stouffer.
Quartet, Spring—Myers-Helmund; Mrs. Lester Vaughn, Miss Lucile Beckner, Miss Martha Brubaker, and Miss Marie Woody.
Rondo Capriccioso—Mendelssohn.
Gondolera—Liszt, Miss Modena Minnich.
Vocal Duet, Pearls of Love—G. Piniuti, Mrs. Lester Vaughn and Miss Lucile Beckner.

CLASS '20 GIVES EXERCISES

Thursday morning, May 27th, at ten a. m. the Class Day exercises of the Academy Seniors were held. The program was very interesting and decidedly original, although it may be fitting to remind the Seniors that it is well to be a little more serious.

Mr. Claude Carl, official crier of the day, showed amazing growth during the intervals between the various announcements.

When the curtain rose the first time Father Time, with his long white beard was seen; his scythe by his side, and hour glass in hand, slowly telling the moments of time. Presently a fairy, the Spirit of the Class of 1920, skipped lightly in and asked Father Time to help her find a record of the class. The old father, after a long search, finally unearthed an immense book, the history of the class of '20, from which the spirit read a brief synopsis of the history of the class from the time of its unnoticed entrance into the famous La Verne Halls in 1916 until its glorious completion of the time of service in 1920. Earl Shrock played the part of Father Time, while Merle Fike, in dainty pink made a very pretty little fairy.

Perhaps the most original part of the whole program was the presentation of the will. The growing crier announced the time and setting of the next scene as a faculty meeting, May 31st. It seems that the Academy Seniors had completely disappeared on this class day, May 27th, without leaving their will. The scene opened with Evelyn Miller, as Miss Hollinger, busily engaged with the microscope, trying to discover whether a fish had swallowed the will, while Alida Larimer, as the mathematical Miss Sanger was figuring out by  $x + y = 4$ , etc. that the will should be discovered four days after May 27th, or on May 31st. Fern Stitser then appeared on the scene as Miss Vogt, carrying a pack of mental test papers, which she said belonged to the Academy Seniors, who had the highest mental average of any class she had ever experimented on.

Walter Gilbert, representing Prof. Frantz with his chemicals arranged about him, was about to make a startling discovery when Byrl Harper, imitating Prof. Shively, appeared with his telescope, announcing that he saw the Seniors on Mars, and that in case they had forgotten and taken the will along with them, that if they had started it back at once, it should be here very soon, in fact, as Prof. Frantz and the lady profs vainly gazed into the heavens in hopes of catching sight of the fast approaching missive, Prof. Shively figured that the will should be here in exactly nine seconds, and in nine seconds more, down fell the parchment roll from a clear sky. Prof. Shively then read to the audience and the faculty members with him, the last will and testament of the Seniors, in which they willed to their fellow students all of the good looks, brains and other desirable qualities that they ever possessed. Prof. Frantz and Miss Vogt in an undertone commented on the will very freely during its reading.

The music graduates, Olive Stouffer and Modena Minnich played a very pretty piano duet.

Two hobos, Carl Jones and Byrl Harper, now sauntered onto the stage, the time being 1930. Upon discovering themselves to be classmates, they told each other—and incidentally the audience—where all of their classmates were. All of the members of the class had risen to just about as

ALUMNI BANQUET IS WELL ATTENDED

Friday evening at 6:30 the Alumni of La Verne College met in the parlor at the Ladies' Dormitory and held their annual business meeting. At this meeting it was decided to raise the Alumni dues one dollar, which makes the annual dues $2.50. The main business of the evening was the election of officers, the result of which was:

President, Jesse Brandt
1st Vice President, Harper Frantz
2nd Vice President, C. Ernest Davis
Secretary, Mrs. Grace Miller
Treasurer, Byrl Harper
Auditor, Elliott B. Thomas

After the meeting, they all marched down into the dining room and found their places around the tables, there being about 70 of the alumni and their friends, together with the faculty.

C. Ernest Davis, acting as toastmaster for the evening, started the banquet off right with jokes and a toast of welcome to the classes of '20. Mrs. B. S. Haugh, a member of the college class of '20, and Byrl Harper, a member of the academy class of '20, answered the toast. The program for the rest of the evening was:

1st Course of the Dinner—fruit salad.
Toast—"Hypodermic Hot Points," or Jokes on Members of the Alumni, by Dr. W. I. T. Hoover. Manchester College conferred the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws upon Dr. Hoover this year.

2nd Course of the Dinner—Chicken, gravy, potatoes, vegetable salad, pickles, peas, and buns.

Toast—"Former Days of the Alumni Association"—Jesse Brandt.
Vocal Duet—Mrs. Lester Vaughn and Miss Lucile Beckner.

3rd Course of Dinner—Ice Cream and Cake.

Toast—"Progress of this School Year"—Marie Woody.

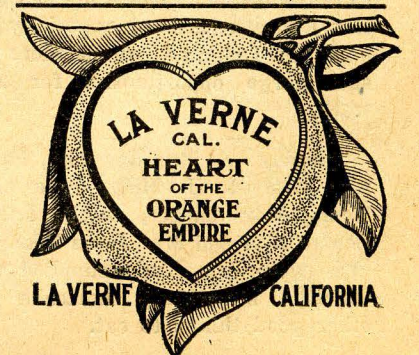

4th Course of the Dinner—Coffee.
Address by the incoming Alumni president, Jesse Brandt.

A very impressive service was held at the church Sunday evening, when Mrs. A. S. Brubaker was installed into the office of wife of a minister and Mrs. J. I. Kaylor installed as the wife of an elder in the church.

Prof. H. W. Frantz left on Sunday for the east, probably McPherson, Kansas. His sudden leave taking is an unfathomable mystery. Oh, well, we all know the fever is contagious—the Professor will return soon, but not alone.

CANTATA IS GREAT SUCCESS

THE JAPANESE GIRL

The operetta "The Japanese Girl," given by the Lyric Club on the evenings of May 22nd and 24th was one of the prettiest things, if not the prettiest ever staged in La Verne College. The scene was laid in a Japanese garden with the porch of a Japanese house to one side. The occasion was the coming of age of O Hanu San, the part played by Miss Beulah Noll.

Eighteen good looking Japanese girls rushed merrily into the quaint little garden and sang a greeting song to O Hanu San for her birthday. O Hanu soon appeared at the door of the house and returned the greeting, joining the girls in the garden, where O Hanu and her cousins, O Kitu San and O Kayo San—Lucille Beckner and Naomi Harshbarger—sing of their heroes.

After a "Flower" Chorus, during which all of the girls make wreaths of the flowers they have brought to O Hanu San, the girls run away and O Hanu's servant, Chaya,—Vera Hoover—comes into the garden, telling of her many duties, always ending her little recitation with "Whatever shall I do?" Miss Vera completely won the hearts of her audience. Chaya hears from the house a mournful song, and hastening to discover the cause of grief, finds that the father of O Hanu San has been called away to war. But the father has left a singing canary in his place, and as O Hanu sings, the bird trills along with her. After the solo of O Hanu San, the girls of the chorus return to the garden, and all fall asleep for their mid-day siesta, while they are singing.

Act Two finds two American girls—Mrs. Lester Vaughn and Miss Elsie Colbert—Nora and Dora, with their governess,—Miss Marie Woody taking the part of Miss Knowall—wandering into the deserted garden, where

ONE ROUND IN THE LADDER

Commencement days are with us, with all their joys and sorrows. We look back over the departed school year with mingled feelings of pleasure and perhaps a little regret. One of the best years in the history of our college is gone, never to return. We as students will never have just the same experiences again. But these experiences have become a part of our life. We cannot know now how much this year has meant in the lives of the students and our institution. That we have made progress in our student activities there is no doubt. So many changes have taken place, we are getting a larger vision of the world and of the meaning of our education in relation to it.

And now we have reached the closing day—glad to rest from studying a little while, but already looking forward to next year. As we separate and go to our respective homes, let us ring true to old L. V. C.! May we be true representatives of the higher things for which this school stands, that others might see those ideals being realized in us. We are planning for many more students next year and are expecting the best year yet.

Graduation has very fittingly been called Commencement, for so it is. We are not through when we leave the Academy or College. The race is not all run yet, just one round is completed. Each year is but a step on to something higher. We are not finished yet, we are only commencing. Not that the years in school have not counted and we are but now beginning real life, but each attainment is the beginning, the commencement of something higher. Each experience in life prepares for another. So education is life, it is service. These years are not wasted, they only open up infinite possibilities for greater, more abundant life.

He who stops along the way is ruthlessly swept aside in the onward rush of the world's life. He becomes mere backwash. Onward, ever onward, never ceasing, always striving, may we attain the goal. As the immortal poet has expressed it:

"Heaven is not reached by a single bound,
But we build the ladder by which we rise
From the lowly earth to the vaulted skies,
And we mount to its summit round by round."

AMERICANIZATION LECTURE

STEREOPTICON LECTURE IS GIVEN

On Wednesday evening, May 26, Mr. D. Welty Lefever, a college Junior, gave a lecture at the church on the subject of Christian Americanization. The mission study classes of the Church of the Brethren have been studying a book on this subject, and Mr. Lefever has made a thorough study of the problem. The stereopticon slides illustrating the lecture were very interesting and vividly portrayed the situation in the United States. They showed the Indian, the first American, then the different types of immigrants were thrown on the screen. The problem created by the vast flood of immigration into our country is a serious one. The foreigner presents a big opportunity or a menace, which depends on the treatment they receive. The lecture showed the conditions in which the immigrants live and the possibilities in them. The problem is one of Americanization, and that cannot be solved without Christianization. The study of Christian Americanization is especially valuable in La Verne, where there are such large opportunities for such work.

Tuesday evening, May 25th, Pastor and Mrs. R. H. Miller entertained Naomi Harshbarger, Estella Landis, Beulah Noll and Mrs. Irene Fike. The girls were bountifully supplied with delicious strawberry shortcake and other good things to eat.

MISSION BAND

The Student Body of La Verne College has branched out in many new lines this year. Perhaps the greatest of these is the progress made by the Mission Band. This Band was very small at the beginning of the year, but now, at the close of this school year, has a membership of a round one hundred. Forty-nine of these are regular members, while fifty-one are associate members. The Band is ever growing and its activities are increasing proportionately.

The organization of the Band consists of a regular organization plus a Practical Service Committee and a Look-out Committee. With this organization it has been able to extend its activities and accomplish a great deal of practical work.

Deputation work of the Band has been very wide spread this year. In Southern California ten churches were visited, and during Christmas vacation a deputation team was sent to the Northern District, making a total of nineteen churches visited and twenty-three programs rendered. The churches of the North kept their offering and used it for mission work, while the churches of the Southern District gave their offering to the Band. This offering goes for the support of a native worker in India.

The practical work has been stressed. On Sunday afternoons the sermon is carried by members to those people who are shut in and cannot come to church. Singing in the afternoon is done by the Intermediates. Twice a month the Band goes to the

The Band sent one representative to the Des Moines Conference and they are also sending one delegate, Mr. Leland Brubaker, to the Confer- ence at Sedalia. Next year they hope to be still better represented at the different conferences.

A new line of activity was started this year in the form of a medical missionary play, "The Pill Bottle." It was a grand success and five calls have come in for it next year.

The Band has increased its library this year by using the Sunday morn- ing collection for that purpose. The books purchased are of such a nature as to be useful to the whole Student Body.

Brother J. I. Kaylor, a returned missionary from India, has been with the Band this year, and he has been a great help to all the members. He and three others will soon be in the India field. There are about twenty more of the members who are prepar- ing for foreign work. The harvest has truly been great this year, and we hope to have still greater ones the coming year.

STUDENT BODY ACT-IVITIES

The year just passed has been one of experiment in Student Body government for La Verne College. This has been the first year of the new commission form of government. The new plan was launched at the begin- ning of the school year was an entire- ly new venture for the college. When the plan was adopted, there was doubt in the minds of some as to its probable efficiency. Today it is conceded that the commission plan is based on sound principles and that it is exceedingly practical.

The commission form of student body government provides for five commissioners, who are elected by ballot in the fall and who have the appointive and executive power of the organization. The following is a brief outline of the organization this year:

SOCIETY

WEDDING BELLS

BRUBAKER-CRIST WEDDING

The ceremony which united Albert Brubaker and Mable Crist in marriage took place at the bride's home Saturday evening, May 29th, at 6 o'clock. Sixty-five guests gathered to witness the simple and impressive service. Pastor R. H. Miller performed the rites which transformed the couple into Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Brubaker.

After the ceremony, a bountiful lap supper was served, the last course consisting of a delicious piece of wedding cake, cut and served with a smile, by the bride herself. Congratulations were then extended and many good wishes will follow the couple as they leave for the East.

The bride wore a beautiful dress of white satin, and the groom a handsome black suit. Many useful and artistic gifts of linen, silverware, and leather were received by the couple. The bride's bouquet was of white carnations.

The guests from out of town were the bride's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Jameson; and brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Crist, all of Kansas; her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Crist, of Los Angeles, and an uncle and aunt of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Brubaker, of Los Angeles.

Late in the evening the bride and groom made their escape unnoticed by their friends, going to Pasadena, where they spent the night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Gibbel.

Mr. and Mrs. Brubaker left May 31st for Quinter, Kansas, where they will spend the summer. They go by auto in a party of three cars, consisting of Mrs. Brubaker's parents and brothers and sisters, and a brother of the groom, David Brubaker. The party will go by way of Yosemite Valley, and expect to reach Kansas in a little over two weeks.

MARSHBURN-KAYLOR WEDDING

The home of Mrs. Martha Marshburn on Lincoln Avenue, Sunday, May 30, at 3:00 p. m., was the scene of a very beautiful quiet wedding, in the marriage of her daughter, Miss Ina Marshburn to Mr. John I. Kaylor, returned missionary from India.

The bride was attired in a dainty white gown, wore a long white veil, tucked up with orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of roses. The house was beautifully decorated with Cecil Brunner roses and asparagus fern. It being Memorial Day, a canopy was made by a large American flag being placed in one corner, over which the ferns and roses and a small Union Jack, the emblem of India, were placed. Under this canopy the knot was tied, Rev. R. H. Miller officiating at the ceremony.

After congratulations, the guests were served with cuts of delicious wedding cakes and ice cream.

The young couple were both students of La Verne College. Mrs. Kaylor has spent seven years here, taking her B. A. degree this spring. Mr. Kaylor was a College Junior.

This wedding claims the seventh college girl from La Verne this year, six of whom were married in May.

The couple expect to leave this week for the Annual Conference of the Church of the Brethren at Sedalia, Mo., to spend the summer at the home of Mr. Kaylor's parents in Ohio, after which they will return here before sailing for India.

The good wishes and prayers of their many friends go with them to their chosen field of service.

The guests present at the wedding were Mrs. Martha Marshburn, mother of the bride; Dr. Elsie Marshburn, of Los Angeles; Mr. A. R. Marshburn, of Fullerton; Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Marshburn, of Yorba Linda; Mr. Sylvester Marshburn, of Orange; Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Marshburn, of Orange; Alvin Erma, and Eva Marshburn, of La Verne; Mrs. Burton Coover, of Empire; Dr. and Mrs. Marshburn and two sons, Harold and Hubert, of Yorba Linda; Mrs. Leslie Seamons, of Whittier; Mr. and Mrs. John Pierson, of El Monte; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Sydnor, of Berkeley; Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Marshburn, of Whittier; Miss Irene Marshburn, of Whittier; Messrs. William, Clifford and Franklin Marshburn, of Yorba Linda; Pastor and Mrs. R. H. Miller, Prof. and Mrs. B. S. Haugh, Mr. and Mrs. I. Brenaman, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Blickenstaff, and two sons Leonard and David, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Brubaker, Miss Bertha Fike, and Miss Kathryn Forney, all of La Verne; and Miss Lena Swank of Los Angeles.

MAY SHOWERS

On Wednesday afternoon, May 26, Miss Mabel Crist was taken to the home of Hazel Minnich, where her Sunday School class, the Altruistic Girls, were waiting for her. When she was settled for a nice talk with Mrs. Vaniman, several doors were opened and many gifts were tossed in upon her in a true shower fashion. These she opened in the presence of all. The packages contained many useful gifts. After chatting for some time, dainty refreshments of fruit salad and cake were served by the groom's sister, Mrs. Minnie Jones. We all wish Miss Crist much joy in her married life.

On Wednesday evening, May 26, a delightful shower was given Miss Ina Marshburn. She was requested to come to the home of Prof. B. S. Haugh after prayer meeting, as Mrs. Haugh had something very important to tell her. When Mrs. Haugh admitted Miss Marshburn, a large number of girls came rushing forth. One of the girls carried an umbrella and another a large basket filled with gifts. In the midst of many curious and watchful eyes, Ina sat in the middle of the floor and untied the packages. She received many useful and pretty presents. A good time was then spent around the fire place, toasting weiners. Those present were Ruth Barnhizer, Kathryn Forney, Pauline Miller, Hazel Brubaker, Beulah Noll, Mrs. Irene Fike, Rhoda Price, Erma Marshburn, Mrs. Jesse Brandt, Naomi Harshbarger, Hazel Minnich, Olive Stouffer, Marie Woody, Estella Landis, and Mrs. Haugh.

A most delightful time was given to a number of the college students Sunday, May 23rd, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Larimer. A dinner consisting of fried rabbit, marshmallow sweet potatoes, apple pie with whipped cream, and innumerable other good things, completely won the hearts (?) of the guests. The chief difficulty lay in the fact that John Price could scarcely be induced to leave the table under any consideration, and most certainly not at the proper time. The afternoon was spent almost entirely by sitting in big rocking chairs. The young people present were Martha Brubaker, Vada Zug, Modena Minnich, Vera Hoover, Alida and Gladys Larimer, Maurine Miller, John Brooks, Dean Zug, Dwight Welch, Marion Roynon, Byrl Harper, Omar Garst and John Price.

On Saturday night, May 15, Mr. Mageno, the preacher at the Mexican mission, entertained about fifty of his friends in honor of one of the young men's birthday. Incidentally it was Mr. Root's birthday too, so there was a double celebration. The guests were given a supper of chicken, salad and home-made tamales. The evening was very enjoyably spent the entertainment consisting of singing by various ones present, accompanied by two guitars and a banjo. The two honored ones of the evening were each given a bottle of perfume by a Spanish lady. Those who attended the social from the college were Misses Beulah Noll, Lois Miller, Naomi Harshbarger, Mrs. Grace Miller, Messrs. Herman Landis and Ernest Root.

Mrs. Ellis will also be with us next year. She will spend the summer visiting friends in the East.

"How do you tell bad eggs?"
"I don't know, because I never told any; but if I had anything to tell a bad egg, I'd break it gently."

First Damsel—Is she modest?
Second Damsel—Modest! Why, she won't eat anything but dressed beef."

MUSICAL COMMENCEMENT

Concluded from First Page

Nora and Dora sing a very pretty duet. But the girls run away while Miss Knowall is telling them of the time when she was a girl, and she sits down to make a sketch of the garden. She grows drowsy and falls asleep however, and is discovered and surrounded while she is sleeping by the Japanese girls, who are very indignant over her rude intrusion. The girls awaken her very suddenly by opening their parasols all at the same instant. Miss Knodall, so unexpectedly awakened, imagines herself surrounded by soldiers and calls wildly for help. She soon discovers her mistake and implores the girls in German, French, Italian and Japanese to let her pass, but they, not understanding, only reply in their saucy unintelligible Japanese. Miss Knowall is frantic, when Nora and Dora, with O Hanu San, come to her rescue. O Hanu has invited the girls and now invites Miss Knowall to stay for her birthday celebration.

The song by O Kitu San with the chorus, "Carmine Lips," to O Hanu San is very pretty.

The ceremonies begin by the chorus singing the Japanese National Song, while the girls in pairs, bow to the picture of the Mikado.

The most picturesque part of the cantata was the final "Procession of Lanterns."

high stations in life as had the hobos themselves. The constantly growing cryer announced, however, that this prophecy was no indication of the ambitions of the Seniors.

Mr. Ernest Davis, the lone Bible graduate, announced himself to the audience as a time killer while the Seniors changed costumes. Mr. Davis succeeded admirably in fulfilling his mission, for he used an enjoyable means for killing time—he told some jokes and besides those he told positively the killingest joke you ever heard.

The Senior class now took its place on the stage and the traditional Senior ladder was presented to the Juniors. The ladder was received by Modna Minnich, president of the Academy Junior class. The Senior president, Byrl Harper, unveiled before the audience a beautiful large picture of the College "L." After a few appropriate remarks on the significance of the "L" by President Miller, the class song, whose words were written by Miss Evelyn Miller's mother, and the music by Prof. B. S. Haugh, was sung, and the audience dismissed.

The stage was beautifully decorated in mountain fern and red flowers. The Academy Juniors were the decorators.

Misses Modena and Hazel Minnich will spend the summer in the East, returning next year to take part in "Dorm life."

The recent Slumber Party was enjoyed by all, especially the sounds of revelry about 2 a. m. when the ice cream was coldly devoured.

Miss Hollinger will spend the summer at her home in Ohio, returning to L. V. C. next year.

DEAN W. I. T. HOOVER RECEIVES L.L.D.

Announcement was made at the College commencement of the conferring upon Dr. W. I. T. Hoover of the Honorary Degree of Bachelor of Laws, by Manchester College.

Manchester College, a college of the Church of the Brethren, has had an enrollment of 600 during this last year, and the graduates from the A. B. course numbered thirty. Dr. Hoover was a professor in this college for five years, from 1901 to 1906.

Dr. Hoover took his degrees of Bachelor of Philosophy, Ph. B., and Master of Arts, A. M., from the De Pauw University of Indiana, where he majored in social science and philosophy. He then went to Central University in Indianapolis, from which he received the degree of Doctor of Philosophy, Ph. D.

Dr. Hoover has been a teacher of philosophy, including history and philosophy of religion, for twenty-three years. He has taught in Manchester, Ind., Blue Ridge, Md., Bridgewater, Va., and La Verne. Aside from philosophy, Dr. Hoover has taught during these years history, mathematics, physics, botany and zoology, thus having received a remarkably broad education. Along with his teaching, he has been preaching and has studied theology constantly. Dr. Hoover has been a Sunday School teacher and has been vitally connected with district and state Sunday School work for years, and, too, has been connected with the work of the Y. M. C. A. He has written for various publications rather extensively. For the last twenty years he has taught in the Bible Institute.

It is in recognition of this broad knowledge and experience, which has not been confined to one line of work, that he has now received his latest degree, L.L.D. He has earned it, not by having completed a prescribed course of study, but as recognition of his achievements.

Dr. Hoover is a scholar and a deep thinker, one who goes beneath the surface and distinguishes between the fundamental and the incidental, between the true and the false. All of his students have the deepest respect for his statements. La Verne College is indeed fortunate in having Dr. Hoover as a member of its faculty—one who is devoting his time for the good of the students and for the upbuilding of the College.

NEWS ITEMS

The last gong has sounded, the last class called for this year, and students scatter north, east, south and west for their various occupations of the summer and then next year back again to a greater La Verne College.

The Misses Hazel and Martha Brubaker returned to their home in Raisin by auto, leaving Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Brandt came down from the north and attended the alumni banquet. They will make their home in La Verne this summer.

Miss Fern Stitser and her mother will spend a few days visiting friends in Southern California before returning to their home in Ashland.
