KITTENS DEFEAT REDLANDS FROSH

DUAL TRACK MEET SHOWS POWER OF KITTEN TEAM

At last LaVerne has a real track team. The Freshmen went to Redlands last Saturday and there they showed their power as tracksters when they defeated Redlands frosh 80 to 60. From the various marks made by Freshmen in this track meet and others, they should be right up among the winners in the frosh conference meet at Caltech next Saturday.

Roy Smith was the iron man of the meet, taking 17½ points. He took second in the 100 yard, first in the 440 yard, first in the broad jump, second in the low hurdles, and ran the last lap in the relay. Roberts, captain of the team, took first in the mile in his best time of the season. He also took first in the 880 yard, and ran the first lap of the relay. Rothrock surprised everybody when he entered the high hurdles and took second. He also tied for first in the pole vault and placed third in the high jump.

Umsheid was the big surprise of the meet when he took third in the 440 yard, third in the 880 yard, and ran the second lap of the relay.

STUDENT VOLUNTEERS HOLD WEEKLY MEETING

"Optimism, Helpfulness and Cheerfulness" was the nature of the regular Student Volunteer meeting last Wednesday night, held at the home of Dr. W. I. T. Hoover. The program was in charge of Fred Brunk and presented by the Junior members.

Group singing led by Virginia Stern accompanied by Cleo Beery, started the program. A short business meeting followed, during which announcement was made that next Tuesday evening would occur the election of the new year's officers. Evelyn Deardorff read, for the group, "The Heart of a Rose." Ruby Williams, one of Vera Hoover's students, played a piano solo, after which Hazel Barnhart read a group of interesting little clippings on the evening's topic. Bill Clinkenbeard played a violin solo, then Cleo Beery inspired the group with his remarkable talent of "getting one in the mood." He suggested that we sing a few songs, a suggestion which the group heartily accepted. After singing a number of songs, the meeting was closed, each member feeling a definite urge for optimism.

HELEN VAN FLEET WINS ORATORICAL CONTEST

Miss Helen Van Fleet, speaking on "The Effect of Alcohol on Body and Mind," took first place in the annual Prohibition Oratorical Contest, sponsored by the W. C. T. U. in chapel Thursday.

The contestants, of which there were six, were judged on the composition and delivery of their speeches, a prize of $25 being offered to the winner. All of the speakers gave unusually good orations, Helen Van Fleet winning upon the merit of originality of composition, as well as upon presentation, and Orlin Vaniman running a close second with his speech, "Sons of Progress."

Other participants were Marguarite Pobst, who spoke on "The Challenge to American Youth," Royal Glick, "The Call for Men"; Charles Manning, "Youth, Its After-self," and Ardith Horning, "The King of Slaves."

W. A. A. GIVES PROGRAM IN STUDENT ASSEMBLY

Prologues, rag-doll dances, dramatic and singing ability were all displayed by the W. A. A. as they entertained at the student body meeting Friday morning.

After a prologue produced by Ruth Rothrock, Bernice Brubaker, Harold Hylton, John Dickey, Howard Nordstrom, Wilbur Jones, Elwin White, and Myron Butterbaugh, the program proper began. It was given in the form of a rehearsal with Frances Nix as announcer. Elizabeth Lehman played two piano solos, Edith Eisan sang two solos, a rag doll dance was performed by Grace Ward and Kathryn Blickenstaff, and the poem, "The Highwayman," was acted with Opan Kuns as reader, Eleanor Shepp as highwayman, Helen Heisey, Bess, the landlord's black-eyed daughter, Edna Samson, the villain, and Fern Rule, the red-coat army. This cleverly worked out skit proved a great delight to the audience.

MRS. LORBEER TO TALK TO Y. W. C. A. FRIDAY

The Y. W. C. A. is being entertained Friday morning in the regular meeting by Mrs. Lorbeer of Pomona. She will give an illustrated talk on camp life.

CIVIC LEAGUE HONORS PLAYERS AT BANQUET

As a final event to end the Women's Civic League basket ball games, a banquet was held at the Y for the members of the six participating teams.

Mrs. Anderson was toastmistress of the evening. The cup for the winning team was presented to Covina, who lost but one game out of the ten played. Silver bracelets were also presented to each member of the team.

An honor award, a small loving cup, was presented to the girl who was considered to be the best and most co-operative player. Isabelle Sheller, guard on the LaVerne College co-ed team, was chosen for this honor. This was Isabell's first year on the co-ed team and it is hoped that she will be back next year.

EDNA SAMSON TO BE NEW EDITOR

WIDE EXPERIENCE FITS NEW EDITOR FOR JOB

The problem of selecting an editor for the Campus Times for the coming year has presented itself again. I am writing this from the viewpoint of the outgoing editor. First, the new editor should not be ignorant of the field; second, there must be some knowledge of the working of the paper; third, experience in one of the executive offices as news editor, make-up editor, or associate editor is or should be one of the prime requisites for the editor. With these facts in mind I feel that the new commission has selected wisely when it has announced its choice as Edna Samson.

Since I was in a similar position last year, I know that some may think that just because Edna is the newly elected Commissioner of Publications that she has given herself the job. It is this very fact that I want to dissuade. First, the other members of the commission know that this is not the case and so does the outgoing commission, of which I am a member. Now, speaking from past experience, I can say that the ideal combination is to have the editor of the Campus Times to be none other than the Commissioner of Publications. Secondly, Edna has had experience nearly the entire year on the paper as news editor. No one should know better the troubles of an editor or the workings of the paper than a person in this position. Thirdly, I feel that she has the qualifications and possibilities to fulfill the position to the best of anyone's expectations. Finally, she will not be burdened with the great number of outside activities which will hinder her in her work.

As editor for the year 1931 and '32 I wish to say that I feel that Edna has the possibilities of making the paper better, in fact the best that it has ever been, and I wish her success from the bottom of my heart. I urge every student to do his or her part in the coming year to help in producing a better paper.

(Signed)

CHARLES S. MANNING.

We, the commission of 1932-33, approve and appoint Edna Samson for the editorship of the Campus Times and do hereby agree with the spirit of the foregoing article.

Signed

MAX FORNEY,

President-elect.

ELIZABETH LEHMAN,

Commissioner of Welfare-elect.

ARNELIA BRUBAKER,

FIFTY PIECE ORCHESTRA TO GIVE CONCERT MAY 6

The LaVerne College fifty piece orchestra will present a concert May 6, providing no other conflicting date arises. At least, the orchestra is promising the students of LaVerne College and friends a very good and most enjoyable program for the very near future.

Director Howard A. Greene requests that every student who plays an instrument (any kind) come to rehearsals Monday evenings and join the orchestra for the concert.

KEISER CONTEST TO BE IN THURSDAY CHAPEL

The Keiser Oratorical Contest sponsored by E. T. Keiser of Pomona will be held in chapel Thursday, April 21.

Every year Mr. Keiser, in order to further the interest in oratory, offers the prizes to LaVerne College students for the best orations. The first prize is $8.00, the second $5.00, and the third $2.00.

The orations are limited to ten minutes in length on any subject chosen by the contestant.

Fred Brunk, "Internationalizing the Christ."

Harry Thomas, "Gravity of Attitudes."

Chalmer Faw, "Alive to the Times." Joe Pratt, "A Menace to World Peace."

Mrs. Holsinger will also deliver an oration at this time. She will give her oration for class credit and will not enter the contest. The subject she has chosen is "Doubt Bars the Way."

INTERCOLLEGIATE MEET TO BE AT U. C. L. A.

The intercollegiate parley, under the direction of the Economics Commission of the Student Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. extends an invitation through the Junior Council to all interested young people to attend an inter-student gathering for the discussion of the economic questions of the new era at the U. C. L. A. Y. W. C. A. Saturday, April 30 to Sunday, May 1.

In this crisis, not only to our pocketbooks but to our whole economic structure, it is vitally important that students should meet to discuss the foundations of our modern social-economic society. Among the leaders and speakers will be found such people as Robert Whitaker, author and lecturer; George Kirkpatrick, socialist candidate for senator; H. J. Voorhis, headmaster of Voorhis School for Boys; H. Bruce Anthony, professor Economics, U. S. C.; and Richard Pomeroy, president of Junior Council on International relations.

Following registration and welcome Saturday morning there will be a beach party, to be followed by a united meeting in the Y. W. building. After dinner will be discussion groups. At 9:30 Sunday morning will be more discussion groups followed by a tour of the campus, church service, or a musical program. The final meeting will be under the leadership of Francis N. Henson, economist.

All registrations are to be sent to Elizabeth Flynn, care of the Y. W. C. A. at U. C. L. A. The total cost will be $2.50. Orlin Vaniman has further announcements about this big parley.

DR. SCOVILLE SPEAKS IN TUESDAY CHAPEL

Dr. Scoville and his company, who are holding evangelistic services at the First Christian Church in Pomona conducted chapel here Tuesday.

The program, consisting of two piano selections by Isaac M. Ferris, and three vocal solos by Mrs. Scoville, was followed by a lively inspirational talk by Mr. Scoville, the main text of which was "Ride bareback, hit the bull's-eye, and keep your shield."

Upon request, the students were led in a school yell by our yell leaders.

SENIOR DITCH DAY CELEBRATED MON.

SENIORS SPEND WEEK END AT ARROWHEAD

Quietude and peace reigned supreme in the halls of L. V. C. last Monday, April 18. The Seniors were enjoying their annual ditch day while the other poor cusses less fortunate were going to school.

Saturday morning the members of the most august class loaded themselves into varying species of gas burners and headed for Lake Arrowhead. There in the solitude of the mountains thirty-two kids (they weren't grown up any more) had the time of their lives.

Baseball games were in style. Amos "aw hecked" himself all the way down a hill after a ball to bring the first game to a screaming close. Imagine Fred getting so excited that he called, "Com on, Ellis, you can make third." Someone thought that we had dwarfs for faculty because whoever made the beds short-sheeted them and Dale said he couldn't figure what was the matter with the darned bed so he just kicked. Naturally, at least I suppose it was, Coach and Ede were the last ones down to breakfast every morning. Someone said it was 14 miles around the lake. "Les" and "Van" didn't believe them, so about ten-thirty Sunday morning they started out and said they would be back in time for dinner. Just five hours and a half later they came in. Sunday evening everybody was taken for a yacht ride around the lake. The moonlight was perfect. On the way around, Coach got blue and started digging up the family skeleton of "Old McDonald." He found everything that old man ever had but two little guinea pigs that hid under the bed. I don't know how he happened to miss them.

One of the most exciting games of the trip was "Kick the Can." This was played in the moonlight and afforded more surprises than a barrel of monkeys. Prexy stood flat footed and watched Chuck climb into a tree and then couldn't see him. Coach and Jerry become so proficient in exchanging clothes that no one could tell which was which. The game netted one sprained ankle, one twisted knee, one knockout, and a fall down for everybody.

The kick of the trip was to watch President Studebaker move to keep in the shade of a tree while he was eating. I noticed he picked trees that had the most foliage. For some reason the sun didn't seem to bother anybody else's head.

Hiking, horseshoes, carems, reading, rowing, paddling and even sailing.

CIVIC LEAGUE AWARD GIVEN LAVERNE GIRL

LaVerne College was greatly honored last Tuesday night when Isabelle Sheller was chosen the best all around player in the civic league banquet of all players. The cup was awarded on the basis of sportsman ship and co-operation.

Isabelle played almost the entire time on the Co-ed team this year, and made a good showing at all times. LaVerne feels highly honored that a member of her student body should receive this award, and we certainly wish her all the success possible in the future. More power to you, Isabelle!

ADIOS, AMIGOS

Each day you and I write an indelible page in our lives. When the day closes our page is finished and all that we write thereon must remain forever.

This is my last time to write anything in the Campus Times from the editor's chair. As I sit here varying emotions come and go as the pages of the past year turn before me. Every page speaks a condemnation to me of that which I might have done, but that is past.

I want to thank each and every person who has had any part in the past year in making the Campus Times possible. If I have injured someone's feelings by anything I have said in the columns of this sheet, I beg your pardon, but, being human, I have not seen all things as others have, but I have endeavored to say things in the light of my own ideas.

Speaking from the experience of the past year's work on the paper, and I consider it one of the richest in my life, I can say that there is some basic underlying fault somewhere in the Campus Times. It does not hold prestige enough nor do the staff members consider it a privilege to be on the staff and write for the paper. The reason for this may be because we have so small a school or it may be because of the editor. I feel that I have not had the proper organization in the past year and that this attitude is probably largely my fault. Be that as it may, there is a great opportunity to create within the student body more ideas of the importance of the paper. The Campus Times is your own publication, not a lot of printed material compiled by one person. However, if the editor had the facts it would be possible to write a sheet of this size and do a commendable job, but that would not be a paper of the students and by the students.

In this, my last word, I urge every student to take more pride in the paper. Try writing something yourself sometime. Don't turn it in after the first draft, but rewrite it and criticize it until you finally are satisfied that what you have said can't be said any better. That you have said the most in the least possible space and have made yourself clear. Turn it in and figure up your time. You will find that it can't be done in a second. Stop and think that someone has to write quite a lot to fill the columns every week and then appreciate the paper just a little more. Keep your eyes open for all the little interesting things that happen every day around school. Write them up, tell someone or see that they get in the paper some way. Make it your paper.

Students, take pride, part, and enthusiasm in the Campus Times. Help your new editor to make the best paper that ever was printed and boost old L. V. C. to the skies.

Good-bye and good luck.

CHARLES (CHUCK) MANNING, Editor 1931-32.

HINTS FOR KNOCKERS

A peasant with a troubled conscience went to a monk for advice. He said he had circulated a vile story about a friend, only to find out the story was not true. "If you want to make peace with your conscience," said the monk, "you must fill a bag with chicken down, go to every doorway in the village, and drop in each one of them one fluffy feather." The peasant did as he was told. Then he came back to the monk and announced he had done penance for his folly. "Not yet," replied the monk. "Take your bag, go the rounds again, and gather up every feather that you have dropped." "But," said the peasant, "the wind must have blown them all away." "Yes, my son," said the monk, "and so it is with gossip. Words are easily dropped, but no matter how hard you may try, you can never get them back again."

He had proposed. She tossed her head haughtily.

"You!" came her scornful reply. "You want to marry me?"

"Yes," murmured the lover.

"But, my dear boy," she went on, "you've known me only three days."

"Oh, much longer than that, really," he said. "I've been two years in the bank where your father has his account."

He: "Are you fond of moving pictures, Jennie?"

She (hopefully): "Aye, Sandy."

He: "Then maybe, lass, ye'll help me get half a dozen doon out o' the attic."

"Papa, I've saved ten cents today. I ran all the way to school behind a street car."

"Why didn't you run behind a taxicab and save a dollar?"

ANDERSON DROWNED IN PUDDINGSTONE

Miriam Dickey, Ruthe Bishop, Serg Stowell Escape With Their Lives.

Benny Anderson, college sophomore, was drowned at Puddingstone about nine o'clock Tuesday night.

Benny, with Miriam Dickey, Serg Stowell and Ruthe Bishop, was rowing in a boat. The boat sprung a leak and started to sink. Ruthe Bishop clung to the boat and was towed in by Serg. Miriam Dickey, swam to shore and Benny, who started to swim, became frantic and was drowned. At the time of going to press, his body has not been found.

Benny entered LaVerne College last year, coming from El Monte high school. He was prominent in football during his freshman year and was on the varsity team as left end this year. He was a well-liked fellow, having many friends both in college and out.

THE SPY GLASS

Reflects on "Love's Stairway" this week:

1. At the curb (Frances Nix and Wilbur Jones).
2. On the lawn (Zelda Sheller and Max Forney).
3. On the entrance steps (Hazel Barnhardt and Royal Glick).
4. In the hall (Mary Hollinger and Sidney Hunter).
5. In Campus Times room ("Chuck" and Esther).
6. On the roof (Mary Throne and Howard Pederson).
7. In the eucalyptus tree (Harriet Hoke and Leslie DeHart).
8. On the flag pole (Jerry Deal "stretching" towards the Chino grammar school).

Caught Virginia Matthews and Ike Funk feeding one another chocolate ice cream cones and becoming all "plastered up" in the ordeal.

Has been focused upon Elvin Wilson the past two weeks and his activities, to-wit: carving white hearts on the cover of his notebook for several days, but suddenly blackening them with the darkest of ink, followed by the addition of an arrow day after day. Then a trip (on foot) about the campus with his lady friend, pluck in roses, talking incoherently the while. That evening, upon the face of his leather notebook—the renaissance dawns!

Nearly collapsed with mirth when Ed Ohanesian tardily entered Spenser's education class, the door slamming loudly behind him.

"The wind!" announced Ed by way of explanation.

"I thought so!" returned Spenser.

SPASMETTES

According to doctors, "orange juice has the same effect on the human body as sunshine."

Imagine taking an "Eze 2 Tan" chaser after the breakfast orange juice for internal sunburn.

After hearing the distinguished Charles A. Beard lecture and after reading some of his charming books, I can easily see why Mrs. Charles A. Beard would attempt to prove woman's value in her book, "Women in History."

Now that it is spring, the circus will come to town, with elephants 'n' everything. The first one to stop at LaVerne was a Mexican combination circus and vaudeville. Trapeze artists, some shady songs by the clown, trained dogs that had difficulty completing their act because of a barking police dog. A long harangue between the clown and the manager which seemed very funny to the Spanish speaking audience.

The Mexican circus was the setting for one of life's minor racial tragedies. A Filipino youth dressed exactly like the Mexicans tried to sit with a quartet of the young bloods, and be one of the boys. No matter what his intentions he was vigorously urged to scram and his departure was encouraged with raspberry honks.

SPRING CLOTHES

Who doesn't feel the urge to indulge in new spring clothes when all nature bursts forth into such glorious creations of color as it has been these past few weeks?

This spring there are so many tempting fabrics and color harmonies at very reasonable prices. If one sews, there are many opportunities to secure charming school frocks at less than a dollar including both material and pattern and thread, and the buttons, which are frequently used as trimming. I have seen many neat little prints in delicious new spring colors which can be used effectively in flattering any girl, and they cost only thirteen cents a yard. White or plain colors to contrast with or match the predominating color of the print can be used interestingly and I have seen some very smart plain-color dresses with trimming of checks or stripes.

Most of the spring clothes have tiny sleeves or shoulder caps in preference to no sleeves at all. The new length, half way between the knee and the floor, is very graceful and tends to create the illusion of tall slenderness. In selecting patterns or styles in ready-made frocks, don't forget the new shoulder width which reduces one's hips, and the very smartly gored skirts which fit snugly and provide a comfortable lower width at the same time.

For good clothes the eyelet and embroidered materials are still smart as well as the other sheer cotton, but silk shantung is especially interesting since its texture suits it to many different types of clothes. All these fabrics are moderately priced.

Shoes are fascinating, especially the new white sandals with boulevard heels, which are practical enough for school or dainty enough for good.

Frequently gloves and a hat are desirable, although not absolutely essential. However, snug fitting caps of woven materials are very appropriate for general wear and they cost a mere trifle. Inexpensive fabric gloves are nice, but they must always be kept immaculately clean.

Altogether, this spring offers an unusual opportunity to be well dressed on the most meager budget.

FACULTY WINS OVER SENIORS IN TOURNEY

If one had happened to be around the college campus at 4 o'clock a week ago Tuesday, he could have heard the clang and clash, also the arguing and probably a mild—a very mild—form of swearing. If his curiosity was aroused enough so that he would try to find the cause of this commotion, he would have found the Faculty and Seniors in the midst of one of the greatest tournaments that was ever staged at LaVerne.

"Never Miss" Eisan and "Bonnie" Bessey were twirling the horseshoes in a way that would make any horse or mule blush to see their footwear hitting the dust in such a manner. "Bonnie" finally weakened under the punishment delivered by Eisan, and as a result Eisan took the game.

At the same time, Prof. Brubaker was playing "Bob" Welty. If any one should think that an English professor can't throw horseshoes, he should have seen Brubaker take Welty. Maybe Prof.'s winning was due to the high sounding phrases that he used as a means to keep his pep up.

"Dead Eye" Brandt must not have had enough sleep the night before, because he lost his eye and "Dangerous" Fred Mahoney defeated him. Professor Frantz also bowed down in defeat to Ikenberry, who must have been throwing horseshoes all his life.

As to the doubles, the Seniors did not have a chance. Eisan and Frantz defeated Jones and Ikenberry. Jones knocked a ringer on for the Faculty which won the meet. Brandt and Brubaker won from Mahoney and Welty in the final game. Brandt was able to figure out with mathematical precision just where to place the horseshoes and Brubaker would retaliate in like manner.

As a result of these games, the Faculty will have their name placed on the cup which was won by the Seniors last year.

Good work, Faculty.

LEOPARD NINE WINS OVER BONITA HIGH 8-3

Last Thursday afternoon on LaVerne's baseball field the Leopard team defeated Bonita 8 to 3. This game was the second win of this season, LaVerne also defeating Pomona Junior College. "Peewee" Lathrop at catcher is the mainstay of the team, filling this position in a very successful manner and also keeping the other players on their toes. "Peewee's" peg to second base keeps practically all of the other team's men close to first base and very few steal second. Carter, at shortstop, due to his marvelous peg to first base and his ability to snag grounders, is the mainstay of the infield. Elder on second works with Carter in such a way that the middle section of the infield is kept covered and few grounders go through to the outfield. Gillette, Saylor and Welty have been holding down the pitching berth. Saylor and Gillette, although not having much pitching experience, should develop into good pitchers. Kelly and Calvert have been playing third and first bases, while in the field Adams, Stern and Booth have been playing.

All the team seemed to be on a hitting spree as there were 10 hits made. Elder collected two runs although he only had one hit. He walked once and was hit by the pitcher once.

The box score:

SPORT GOSSIP

by EDE

One could have had a very busy week just attending baseball games last week. We won two and lost one.

* * * * *

Hobbs was the hero of the Pomona game, getting a three-base hit with three men "on."

* * * * *

Frankie pitched the last inning of the Bonita game. Now he spends his spare time teaching Peewee how to throw them back hard.

* * * * *

Red Montgomery hit a nice one on the last up of the Caltech game—nice for the fellow who caught it and made a double play.

* * * * *

Saylor sure pitched a fine game, against Caltech. He just stood up and let them go.

* * * * *

The frosh took a fine track meet at Redlands Saturday. Too bad there weren't more around to see it.

* * * * *

"Peanuts" took first in the mile and 880, and ran a fine lap in the relay.

* * * * *

Smith fell and knocked over a hurdle in the low hurdles, got up and finished second. White took first in his place.

* * * * *

Rothrock made his debut as a hurdler. He had first and fell on the last hurdle, but also was able to get up and take second.

* * * * *

Jones took first in the high jump, second in discus, third in hammer. Maybe spring fever isn't so bad after all.

* * * * *

It's impossible to give a word of praise for all the fellows that came thru—because all of them did—and that's a feat for track men.

* * * * *

Don't forget the Frosh Conference Meet at Caltech and the Varsity meet at Oxy.

STUDENT SOCIAL LIFE

ing were some of the other pastimes enjoyed. In spite of all the pessimism concerning the feasibility of the sail that Chuck was making it was finished and put on a canoe. It worked, and if you don't believe it just look at the burn that Van collected on his nose while sailing on the lake.

Eats was one of the greatest games. Everybody helped cook and everybody helped wash dishes. It wasn't a case of too many cooks spoil the soup because the duties were apportioned out to each at certain times. If the entire class didn't gain ten pounds apiece it was because they walked it all off. Everybody ate three meals three times a day because they all went back three times.

The intellect was not neglected. Coach and Mrs. Glick squabbled for two hours over their own guess as to who was guessing right in hanging the chinaman. Prexy and Dale staged a mock war and each sunk the other fellow's battleship. The porch was fairly reeking with thoughts during this battle.

As all time uies, so it flew for the Seniors. Monday evening rolled around and they had to call their ditch day to a close. Tuesday found them back in school with just one more big thing to look forward to—graduation. Gee, but it is great to be a senior!

Y. M. TO PLAN STUDENT RETREAT IN FRI. MEET

At this week's Y. M. C. A. meeting many items of business will be taken up. Report from the play committee on finances will be given. More about the student-faculty retreat will be discussed as well as the intercollegiate parley which is to be held Saturday, April 30 and Sunday, May 1, at the University of California at Los Angeles.

An interesting program is being planned by the cabinet and everything is evident that a good time will be enjoyed by the group in the regular meeting Friday.

Y. W. HI-JINKS FEATURE UNUSUAL COSTUMES

Costumes fashioned to represent the charms of worn-out generations or to suit the fancies of imaginative intellects and made of anything or almost nothing were featured at the girls' hi-jinks Thursday evening.

There were wild, hilarious games in the gym directed by Mrs. Anderson. Relays with dumb-bells and Indian clubs and a circus in which every one participated by doing the broken-leg dog crawl, the kangaroo hop, or the elephants' walk were outstanding events. At the end every one felt as though she had had a complete work-out and was ready for a complete rest.

Some inquisitive young men managed to peek through the skylights at this annual event. They were more interested, however, in the costumes than in the sports. Frances Horner took first prize in a very ancient gown and Mary Hollinger and Arnelia Brubaker received honorable mention. The prize was a box of jelly beans which were immediately separated from their rightful owner.

Refreshments were served in Miller Hall afterwards, where an interesting program was presented under the direction of Helen Heisey. Kathryn Blickenstaff played the piano, Anna and Florence Messamer sang two duets, and Arnelia Bruba-

Y. W. C. A. CABINET TO ATTEND CONFERENCE

Headed by Mary Hollinger, president of the Y. W. C. A., four members of the cabinet will go to San Diego for the annual Y. W. C. A. cabinet conference. This is a three-day convention lasting from Friday to Sunday, April 22-24.

The women will leave the college some time late Friday, and will be entertained there on the San Diego State College campus. The housing and meals will be taken care of in the sorority houses. The conference is to give the new members of the local Y. W. cabinet training in Christian leadership, and to plant new ideas for the work during the coming school term.

Harriet Hoke, Florence Mesamer, Anna Messamer, and Edna Samson will be the other members of the cabinet that are planning on making the trip.

1932 LAMBDA READY TO BE PUBLISHED

The 1932 Lambda will soon be off the press. It is now being put into final shape before being sent to the printer. It has been a truly difficult job to publish an annual this year because of the financial situation, but it seems to be working out better than was expected and will compare very favorably with last year's publication.

The editor, Virginia Scarisbrick, and the associate editor, Ruth Rothrock, have been hard at work on final arrangements and have given no small amount of time to the project. Russell Frantz, snap-editor, succeeded in accumulating a collection of snaps which will be a revelation to all of you.

Don't fail to make the necessary three dollar payment for your annual, because if you do fail, it will be a cause of regret in later years.

ker read. Two little skits were presented by girls in the group. They were planned by Mary Hollinger and Virginia Matthews.

"I LOVE AN ACTRESS" TO BE AT PASADENA

Winifred Hanley, English stage star, who came to America and created the role of Mrs. Lincoln in John Drinkwater's "Abraham Lincoln," produced by the Theatre Guild and toured on the road for three years, will play a leading role in the forthcoming major spring production at the Pasadena Community Playhouse of "I Live an Actress," romantic comedy by Laslo Fodor, which will feature Sharon Lynn, motion picture actress and cast of sixty-five.

The comedy will be presented April 28 to May 7, following the current production of Gilbert Emery's modern comedy-drama, "Episode," featuring Margaret Mower, closing Saturday, April 23.

Sharon Lynn, who will play the "actress" in the new play, began her career in musical comedies on the stage and was subsequently featured in musical pictures. She is remembered by many for her introduction of the popular song hit, "Turn on the Heat" in "Sunnyside Up."
