SAGEHENS HUMBLLED BY LEOPARDS, 27-23

Old Clarion Four Comes Back to LaVerne for Grand Finale

LaVerne Second in Conference Standing

With the outcome of the game in doubt till the final gun the LaVerne Leopards copped a 27-23 score from Pomona in the local gym last Saturday. The winning of this tilt definitely places LaVerne in the second position in conference standings.

The game started out slow with both teams playing rather cautiously and waiting for something to happen. The Leopards took the lead, only to find the Sagehens creeping up on them. It became nip and tuck the rest of the way and the score at half time found LaVerne with an altogether insecure lead of one digit only—14-13.

It was evident in the second period there would be more fireworks (not firecrackers) than in the first, and it so happened that way. The Sagehens came out into the lead several times before the locals finally came out and put the game on ice. The count stood at 23-23 when there were five minutes left to play and it was not till a field goal by Stutzman and another by Weybright were made that the LaVerne quintet had the advantage of a slight lead.

The close score and the occasion—

Dr. S. Z. Sharp Tells How to Stay Young

Dr. S. Z. Sharp favored the assembly again by a lecture at the regular chapel service Tuesday morning. His subject was based upon the reasons why he has lived to be ninety-four years old with all his faculties well preserved.

Preceding the lecture of Dr. Sharp, Orville Thomason sang a song from an opera in German.

Dr. Sharp gave his own experiences as illustrations of his talk. At twelve he decided to be a teacher, so began to study very hard. A friend informed him he should try to preserve his eyes by having the light in the proper place, or he would sooner or later pay for his carelessness. Ever since, Dr. Sharp has been careful in that respect. The speaker has strengthened his body by taking courses in physical culture. He is a subscriber to the Physical Culture Magazine. By writing to this magazine for consultation, he found out how to rid himself of the common but very harmful ills, such as colds and headaches. Dr. Sharp stated that if one would take good care of himself, it would be unnecessary to suffer from pneumonia. He advised his audience to avoid bad habits, such as (1) intoxicants, (2) tobacco and other narcotics, (3) overeating, (4) over-exercise, and (5) excessive mental exercise.

In conclusion, Dr. Sharp gave the following advice to those who would live as long and successfully as he: Preserve the eyes, exercise freely but not too much, avoid such ills as colds, and finally get a reliable book on dietetics.

'Stutzie' Is Elected Basket Ball Captain

Immediately after the game Saturday night the basket ball squad elected Dale Stutzman captain of the 1931 hoop team. He is very capable as successor of Red Weybright, this year's captain, and with all five lettermen back next year LaVerne will put in a stronger bid than ever for the cage championship.

Five basket ball lettermen were announced last week by Coach Van Cleave. Captain Weybright heads the list. He is one of the outstanding forwards in the conference, being placed on the all-conference selections last year and high scorer of the LaVerne team for the past two seasons.

Captain-elect Dale Stutzman is one of the key men on the local squad. His excellent floor work,

LA VERNE COLLEGE WELCOMES URBIN HARTMAN

I take pleasure in announcing to the students, alumni, and public that the difficulties which eliminated Mr. Urbin Hartman from LaVerne College on March 22, 1928, have been rectified by him and that he was reinstated to full standing by a unanimous vote of the faculty, March 3, 1930.

President Ellis M. Studebaker

LA VERNE WELCOMES QUARTET AGAIN

The Clarion Four, for several years famous on the Pacific Coast for beautiful harmony and excellent interpretation of numbers, is to sing on tonight's program, which is being sponsored by the Lambda staff. The program will begin at 8 p. m. Seats are now on reservation at the LaVerne Drug Store.

The Sunshine Quartet, the Honolulu Serenaders, and perhaps the Aeolian Quartet will appear with the Clarion Four on tonight's program. Due to a bad cold contracted by George Berg, first tenor of the Aeolian Quartet, it is possible that the Aeolian Quartet will not appear on tonight's program.

The Clarion Four, composed of Urbin Hartman, first tenor; Russell J. Frantz, second tenor; Harvey Brubaker, baritone, and Wayne Bohn, bass, was one of the most popular musical organizations in the west for several years. Two years ago the quartet disbanded, but thru the combined efforts of the Lambda and the Varsity Club, they were brought together again for several concerts, tonight's program being the climax.

With the great variety of numbers promised by the various organizations appearing tonight, this should be one of the best concerts of the year.

Czechoslovakian Addresses Chapel

Mr. Victor Martinec gave an inspiring lecture Thursday morning. The speaker has spent four years recently in evangelistic work in Czechoslovakia, where he was born.

Preceding the speech the assembly sang a hymn, after which Mr. Martinec offered the prayer.

When the speaker was born, his native land was a part of Hungary. The people were much oppressed by the Catholic church, as well as the officials, who wished to crush every desire for liberty. When Mr. Martinec was a child he went to a Catholic school. Though he was always the brightest in his class, he usually received barely enough credits to pass. The only reason for this treatment was that he was a poor boy. At the age of ten his father died, so Mr. Martinec was forced to leave school and work twelve or more hours a day in or—

Big Prep Rally Held Before Pomona Game

The LaVerne rooters actually reached their zenith of perfection Friday morning at a pep rally which exceeded all of the previous ones in enthusiasm. The general atmosphere, static with energy and ambition, was undoubtedly a result of the realization that the game with Pomona was to be the final one and that LaVerne's standing in the conference would be determined by its outcome.

The presence of the balloons in the decorative scheme, which were plastered with slogans such as "Beat Pomona," and "Pluck the Sagehens," lent a great deal of interest to the occasion.

By way of demonstration as to what would happen to the Sagehens, a pretty bright balloon two feet in length was held up to the admiring gaze of the audience, but it did not maintain its elevated position long, for there was an unexpected explosion and no trace of the object could be found thereafter.

LA VERNE COLLEGE BUYS PAINTED CURTAIN DROPS

The latest step toward progress the college has made is the purchase of a set of beautiful painted curtain drops. There are five in all: two garden scenes, one desert scene, one palace scene and a southern mountain scene with a cabin.

LaVerne needed this set to make its auditorium equipment complete. With the many stage activities which have been carried on there has been a lot of hard work and expense in fitting the stage. These settings were not always the best, but now that the problem is solved more time and effort can be put on the productions themselves.

One of the garden scenes will be used in this evening's program.

Lee Eisan Appears At Varsity Banquet

Another crowning event of the year for the Varsity Club was the "Guest Night" on Saturday evening before the great Pomona-LaVerne game. At this time LaVerne had a chance to look over its new coaches, Leland Eisan, University of California football star, and Dale Glick, Citrus high school coach at present.

Eisan takes the helm of the varsity sports at LaVerne in September, while Glick will coach the freshman teams. Glick is a former LaVerne College athlete.

The husky former Bear quarterback, who piloted the California eleven in its startling victory over University of Southern California

Negative Team Wins Second Debate

Again LaVerne is victorious in debate. This time the debate was held in the college auditorium Wednesday night with Redlands University. LaVerne's negative team, Ed Cunningham and Orlin Vaniman, deserves to be commended for their splendid work in the debate. Redlands' affirmative team, Messrs. Fairbanks and Dean, had good delivery, but they seemed to have misunderstood the question, which was, "Resolved, that all nations should immediately and completely disarm, except those forces necessary for police protection."

This was the only debate which our negative team takes part in at home, and a very large and attentive crowd was present. Both members did exceptionally well in upholding the name of LaVerne.

So far the negative team has won one and lost one debate. They lost to Southwestern University last week. We have reason to be proud of our debaters this year.

The judges, Mr. Green of Bonita, Rev. Raley of San Dimas, and Rev. Van Kirk of Pomona, rendered a 2 to 1 decision in favor of LaVerne.

Everett Calvert presided as chairman.

LESS FRICTION MAKES FOR MORE SUCCESS AND HAPPINESS

A remarkable paradox in mechanics has a psychological parallel that is of such importance as to demand careful consideration in shaping one's policy for coping with the vicissitudes of this life. As rubber outwears steel and renders better service than does the metal when, under the same conditions, both materials are subjected to friction or abrasive action in contact with a hard surface, and as its superiority in these respects is due to rubber being soft, pliable, yielding and elastic; so, also, a person possessed of a yielding disposition outwears the opinionated, stubbornly contentious person and is more successful because the former manages to get over the hard spots and rough stretches in life with less friction.

Another familiar example from common experience of this paradox in mechanics: steel skid chains on automobiles traveling over brick, stone or concrete pavement soon wear out, even before rubber tires on the same cars show any perceptible wear in the same service. The gritty pavement, like a grindstone, cuts particles of metal from the surface of the rigid steel which thus is rapidly worn away; pebbles, gravel and other hard substances have a like abrasive action on metal. But soft rubber, instead of rigidly resisting the force of impact against grit, pebbles and protuberant inequalities of a hard surface, absorbs the shock by its elasticity, allowing indentation of its own esurface without suffering abrasion, and instantly springs back into original form when pressure ceases. Reverting to the "psychological parallel," we note that Solomon said:

"A soft answer turneth away wrath, but grievous words stir up anger." Surely it is the part of wisdom to avoid a quarrel by returning a soothing answer to an angry person, but this policy needs to be supplemented by the rules of speech enunciated in Saint Paul's maxim, "Let your speech be always with grace, seasoned with salt, that ye may know how ye ought to answer every man." In these few words the Apostle has epitomized much practical advice. "Let your speech be always with grace" means that our talk should be courteous, dignified and pleasing, devoid of slang, vulgarity or profanity. Seasoned with salt" is used in the ancient figurative sense and, as applied in this connection, means edifying; the rest of the maxim specifies the purpose to be kept in mind and signifies that we should endeavor to shape our conversation discreetly, duly considering the mental attitude of our hearers and avoiding contentiousness. Taken all in all, it is a wonderfully comprehensive elementary rule for governing one's conversation in such a manner as to make a favorable impression on strangers and new acquaintances, to win and hold friends, increase one's influence and popularity, which are aids to attainment of social and business success.

Please understand that the foregoing advice does not imply sacrifice of conscience for policy's sake, nor that one should seemingly assent by silence or otherwise to opinions expressed in his presence that are contrary to his beliefs on moral or other important issues; it does not mean that one should shirk a citizen's duty by refraining from expressing in a calm, dignified, inoffensive manner his opinions on matters concerning the school welfare or the interests of the community. It means to avoid acrimonious discussions, which neither convince nor persuade, but cause personal ill will or even enmity. Politely and serenely withdraw from a discussion if your opponent displays discourtesy, intolerance or bitterness. Such a retreat is not defeat for you, but a victory in holding your temper that will command respect.

Finally, do not be exacting in asserting or demanding your rights; particularly in small matters not involving your honor or integrity it is better to manifest a yielding, compromising disposition and thus acquire the reputation of being a good fellow reasonably easy to please, rather than get the name of being a fault finder by fretting yourselves and others over trifles. Observance of the foregoing rules and suggestions will serve as a metaphysical shock-absorber in easing one over the rough places in life's journey.

Affirm. Debaters Lose their Last Encounter

The affirmative team of the men's debate squad had their last encounter of the season when they met Whittier Thursday evening, February 27. The debate was held at Whittier, and the conference question, Resolved, that all nations should immediately and completely disarm, was the subject of argument.

The team composed of Everett Calvert and Chalmer Faw put up a very strong defensive and certainly brought credit rather than disgrace to their Alma Mater in spite of an unfortunate two-to-one decision in favor of the Whittier team.

"The Heroine of Ava" Starts Presentations

The three-act play, "The Heroine of Ava," which has been prepared under the auspices of the Student Volunteers, was presented for the first time Sunday evening, March 2nd, at the Church of the Brethren in Los Angeles.

The play was directed by Ruth der to get a living. At thirteen he desired to learn a trade, so he became an apprentice for a tailor. During his apprenticeship the speaker was cruelly treated. He was beaten, had very little food, a hard bed, and in winter suffered from the cold.

Mr. Martinec had a brother who was the editor of a socialist paper. As a result of his socialistic views the editor was forced to leave his country. He came to America, and after a short while sent for his brother. Embittered by the cruel treatment, the speaker also became a socialist and soon became active in socialistic affairs in America.

Mr. Martinec became tired of his roving life, so decided to come to Southern California. He married a girl of his own race, and started in business in Pomona. However, he still clung to his socialistic tendencies and grew more and more bitter towards all society. One day his employer talked kindly to him and told him that he was well liked, but if his attitude was not changed he would soon get into trouble, for the people were getting tired of his socialistic talk. In order to change the people's opinion of him, Mr. Martinec attended church. Here his entire attitude toward life was changed, and he was convinced he needed to seek the salvation of Jesus Christ. Every night he prayed until one evening the light of heaven came into his heart.

After this experience the speaker led a life just the opposite of that he had formerly lived. He was possessed with a great desire to know the Bible, for he had never been allowed to read it in Czechoslovakia. For three years he attended night school at the Bible Institute in Los Angeles. When he heard of the wonderful things God had done for the people in Europe, Mr. Martinec went back to Czechoslovakia to carry the message to his own people. After spending four years there he was invited to speak to the people in Russia. Great crowds of communistic men and women flocked to hear his message, and many were converted.

After his lecture, Mr. Martinec offered prayer. The faculty, students, and visitors, alike, greatly enjoyed this inspiring message.

Frosh: "Naw, he tells me that is the board of health."

Paul Daugherty, as manager of the play, has succeeded in making a good many appointments for its presentation at various churches in the near future. The next presentation is scheduled for next Sunday evening at the Church of the Brethren in Santa Ana.

The play is of a missionary nature and proceeds from its presentation are being used by the Volunteers to carry out their project in missions. The very generous offering received Sunday evening was much appreciated.

Y.W.C.A. Elect New Corps of Officers

The election campaign for the coming year of the Y. W. C. A. was carried on with great enthusiasm in the meeting Monday morning. By the close margin of one vote Esther Dickey was chosen president of the organization; and under her leadership, the coming year is one of great promise, since Miss Dickey has had a variety of experience in working on committees and being a member of the cabinet.

Campaign speeches were of unusual interest, cleverly and originally made. Martha Baer, impersonating a Chinese lady of refinement, introduced as her candidate for the presidency Esther Dickey. LaVonne Putnam's name and fame were brought to the fore by Wilma Long, a poet-bicyclist-magician, who presented her candidate's qualifications in poetical form.

Other candidates and their managers were:

Vice-President: Wilma Long, Verna Sheets; Esther Thomason, Ruth Dickey.

Secretary: Dalzie Wimer, Harriet Butterbaugh; Verna Sheets, Treasurer: Ruby Saylor, Edna Brubaker; Glenna Betz, Mary Platt. Song Leader: Myrtice Butterbaugh, Anna Emmert; Martha Baer, Flossie Page.

Those chosen were: Wilma Long, vice-president; Verna Sheets, secretary; Glenna Betz, treasurer, and Myrtice Butterbaugh, song leader.

This corps of officers will begin their work immediately upon installation and will continue in office until next March. While the new cabinet is planning for the coming year's work, the old cabinet will be enjoying a general good time over the week-end at Balboa Beach for the annual cabinet retreat.

Dr. Emmert: "Why are you laughing, Miss Hoke?"

Harriet Hoke: Oh, Daugherty told a joke last Sunday night.

The latest one on the Scotch is on Sandy, who, upon receiving his doctor's bill, said he would pay for his drugs and return the calls.

The sophomores held their regular monthly class meeting last Tuesday at the home of Esther Thomason. A great deal of pep was shown by those who attended, although the number was few because it was the night after the day before.

Following a short business session, the class indulged in the usual frivolous diversions which follow business sessions of class meetings.

Esther served delicious refreshment of hot chocolate and wafers.

Sophomores, let's have more out at the next meeting regardless of the day before or the day after.

Murray: "There's only one time a Scotchman enjoys an automobile ride."

Dickey: "When's that?"

Murray: "When he's in somebody else's car."

Bob W.: "Do you know, John, that they don't hang men with wooden legs in China?"

John K.: "Zat so, why?"

Bob: "They use a rope."

"What makes you think that guy is Scotch?"

"Didn't you notice how he counted his fingers after we shook hands with him?"

STUDENT SOCIAL LIFE

Faculty News

President Studebaker will address the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. of Chaffey Junior College Wednesday night.

Dr. Harper Frantz attended last Wednesday the regular meeting of the American Chemical Association in Los Angeles. A lecture was given by Dr. H. E. Howe, a well known eastern chemist and editor of "Industrial Engineering Chemistry."

Dr. Emmert preached Sunday morning and evening at the First Church of the Brethren in Los Angeles.

Prof. Cullen was elected district secretary of the Y. M. C. A. Board at the annual banquet of the organization held in San Dimas Masonic Hall Monday night, Feb. 24. On the following Thursday at the same place the American Legion entertained all ex-service men at a program of which Mr. Cullen was chairman. Last Wednesday he gave an address on "Objectives of Life" at a banquet in honor of the boys of Pomona Junior College. This was held at the Pomona Y. M. C. A. building.

The chief news of interest concerning Professor Cullen is the arrival of John Arden, an infant son, born last Saturday, March 1, and named in honor of his grandfather. Professor Cullen received Monday morning from his Advanced Sociology class several valuable gifts for entertaining and rearing children, including a large doll and a nursing bottle.

Mr. Yoder made a business trip to Los Angeles Thursday concerning tax exemption papers for the college property.

Thursday afternoon at 4 p. m. the executive board of the college will have an official meeting at the Belvedere church. That evening there will convene at the same place a group meeting of the executive board, the pastors of Southern California, and laymen representatives from the church communities. They will discuss the progress and opportunities of the college with special emphasis upon means for completing the present finance campaign. This is the third meeting of its kind. At the one held in January, 55 were present. President Studebaker, Dr. Emmert, Mr. Yoder and Mr. Frantz will attend the coming meeting.

Professor Travis accompanied the Aeolian Quartet to Riverside last Thursday night.

Miss Lenhardt heard a French lecture last Friday night at the Los Angeles City Library. It was a character sketch of unusual merit on Cyrano de Bergerac. Professor Brionis of U. C. L. A. was the speaker.

Dr. and Mrs. S. J. Miller recently spent several days outing at the faculty cabin in San Dimas Canyon. Dr. Miller left Sunday for Chicago where he will attend a meeting of the ministerial board.

Professor Haugh states that unusual interest is being shown in the music department. He has more classes and private voice students than he has ever had and teaches a total of 43 hours a week. Three quartets, the Aeolians, Sunshine, and Acapella are in special training for concerts, the Aeolians having had almost daily engagements last week.

The summer catalog of U. S. C. contains notice of Dr. Sarafian again being on the faculty for the entire summer session. This will be his third summer there. He will offer courses in Educational Psychology and in Philosophy of Education. This is especially significant in view of LaVerne's changed affiliation. Dr. Sarafian's contact with many and noted educators is a worth-while means of advertising our college.

Alumni Notes

Dr. and Mrs. D. W. Lefever of Compton spent the week-end here. They were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Landis Sunday noon.

Mr. and Mrs. Urbin Hartman and little son of Oakland are visiting friends in LaVerne for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Dickey of Chino entertained at dinner Sunday Coach-elect Eisan and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Glick of Glendora.

Miss Vera Hoover gave a talk in the high school Christian Endeavor group Sunday evening on the vocational opportunities offered by music.

Mrs. Levi Dickey has charge of the "Manners and Morals" instruction in the Girl Reserves organization.

Miss Mina Throne of Redondo Beach and Miss Olive Throne of Corona spent the week-end in LaVerne.

Mr. and Mrs. Byrl Harper of Huntington Beach brought two high school boys to the Varsity Club banquet Saturday evening. They drove home after the basket ball game.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Studebaker of Loma Linda were dinner guests of President and Mrs. E. M. Studebaker Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Shrock of Azusa attended services in LaVerne Sunday morning and took Ralph's grandfather, Ephraim Lichty, home with them for a short visit.

Dorm News

Hester Cox visited Clovie Carol in Brea Saturday night and Sunday.

Ruth Gibbel, Edith Coffman, Frances Sandblom and Eleanor Shepp enjoyed the week-end at home.

Louise Huff went to her home in Imperial Valley Thursday night and returned Monday.

Wilbur Hoke brought the honor students of the eighth grade class of Tustin grammar school to visit LaVerne College Saturday afternoon. They were John Haskell, David Forney, Genevieve Eustis, Dorothy Graham, Odra Pieper, Lucille Griset, Eleanor Leihy and Ida Alderman. After inspecting Founders Hall, Miller Hall and the gymnasium, they had dinner in the dining room with the college students. They then attended the basket ball game with Pomona College. Before leaving for home all expressed their enjoyment and appreciation of this visit in preference to a theater party, because it was different.

Melva Corlmark of Los Angeles visited Frances Sandblom Monday and Tuesday.

The wedding of Miss Alice Kreps and Ralph Mishler, former students of LaVerne College, was solemnized by an impressive ceremony in the chapel of the Voorhis School, San Dimas, last Wednesday evening, Feb. 26. The young couple drove to San Francisco for a short honeymoon and will return to LaVerne to make their home on the corner of Second and F streets.

Last Friday night Dr. Hoover, Professor Brandt, Professor Hollenberg, Dr. S. J. Miller, and Rev. Walker attended at U. C. L. A. a program under the auspices of the Philosophical Union, of which Dr. Hoover is a member. "Evolution and Life" was the subject of brief lectures given by the following noted educators: Dr. Thompson, an outstanding biologist from Aberdeen University of Scotland; Dr. Hunt, biologist of California Institute of Technology, and Dr. H. Wilton Carr, late of the University of London.

Personals

The Comrades Class of the Church of the Brethren enjoyed Sunday morning an inspirational morning watch service at Inspiration Point in Ganesha Park. The class president, Ed Cunningham, gave a talk on "The Transfigured Christ," and Hazel Rothrock spoke briefly on the observance of the Quiet Hour. Breakfast was served afterwards on the tables at the foot of the hill by a committee consisting of Florence Brubaker, Glenn Harmon and Edna Phillips. This class is comprised of the junior, senior and alumni men and women and is under the direction of Prof. Cullen.

Eleanor Shipp was a guest at the bridal shower given for Virginia Worrel of Pasadena.

Frances Bishop entertained at her home after the game Saturday Weybright, Edna Amberson, Isaac evening Mildred Smith, Edna Amberson, Wilma Long, Cora Louder, Vernon Weybright, Isaac Funk, Ralph Fesler, Clarence Bishop and Dale Stutzman. LaVonne Putnam and Whitcomb Overholtzer sent regrets.

Dorothy and Genevieve Page were among those who heard the Clarion Four at Covina Sunday morning and Pomona Sunday evening.

Edith Murray entertained at her home Saturday afternoon Edna Brubaker, Esther Dickey, Myrtice Butterbaugh, Martha Baer and Josie Maust.

Dwight Welch Tells of Y. M. C. A. Missions

Last Wednesday evening, in the Y. W. C. A. room, the Student Volunteers enjoyed having Dwight Welch, an alumnus of LaVerne, talk to them.

In an introductory way he commended the work and developing spiritual life of such a group, charging each with the importance of creating fixed ideals and making use of every opportunity in school life, so that life purposes will not be forgotten when school days are past and certain activities are engaged in before permanent goals are attainable.

He spoke mainly of mission work, both home and foreign, from the standpoint of the Y. M. C. A., with which he is working. Attention was called to the appalling need for Christian-life instruction in dozens of communities in our own country, even in this state of California, where modern civilization has penetrated.

The Y. M. C. A. is one of the five greatest senders of foreign workers. The call for new establishments is far in advance of its fulfillment. In China the work of the Y. M. C. A. as a non-sectarian institution has had no interruptions, as has "mission" work in many places. Being non-sectarian has an advantage over mission-board work.

All sects and colors are found in its centers, where the intermingling of these is, beyond a doubt, contributing greatly toward the ideal of world peace. At the international conferences friendships are made which will stand the test of racial differences.

It is the aim of the organization to make itself self-supporting in the foreign countries.

The type of work done by the "Y" secretaries depends mainly on the individual himself. Here is the opportunity for young people interested in "Y" work.

The group was favored with a vocal solo by Lois Rupert. Hazel Rothrock had charge of the devotions, which were very effective.

Pomona Game

al outbursts of excellent basket ball kept the game as exciting as any this year. At times some terribly ragged playing was much in evidence, while at other times the best basket ball of the season was being displayed.

High point honors of the game went to Hahn, Pomona forward, who made 12 points. Weybright led the LaVerne team with 9, followed by Stutzman with 8, and Thomason, 7.

Much credit should be given the LaVerne guards, who broke up play after play. Hubbell was handicapped a great deal by an ankle, sprained in last Tuesday's practice, but nevertheless played full time. Nicolas put many Pomona shots astray at standing guard.

The line-up:

LaVerne (27)		Pomona (23)
Weybright(9) F		(12) Hahn
Stutzman(8) F		(6) Hadfield
		(2) Stroud
Thomason(7) C		Bishop
Hubbell(2) G		(2) Clemens
Nicolas(1) G		Shannon

Score by Halves

LaVerne	14	13-27
Pomona	13	10-23

"STUTZIE" ELECTED CAPTAIN

accurate shooting eye, and all-around knowledge of the game makes him a main cog on the team.

Orville Thomason has won two letters in the cage sport. He has held down the center position remarkably well. Considering his lack of height in comparison to the opposition he has been up against, and has made a fine average in getting the tip-off. Tommy contributes his share of the points in each game.

Fred Hubbell made his letter at running guard and has had a great deal to do with the fine defensive record of the team. He has a way of his own in stopping opponents' shots thru his fast foot work that gets him over the floor to wherever he is needed.

Alfred Nicolas won his letter at the standing guard position. He is not as tall as most of the others who play the same position, but breaks up plays and shots at the hoop time and again.

The substitutes had a great deal to do with making the team what it is. The old practice grind day after day and the hard scrimmages the second team gave the varsity was what brought the season thru to a successful close. With all the lettermen and substitutes as well as material from the frosh returning, next year should be a banner year for LaVerne in the cage pastime.

Baseball practice is scheduled to start this (Tuesday) afternoon, according to Manager Brownsberger. There will probably be only a few recruits on hand and Coach Van Cleave wants everyone out for the pastime that has ever thrown a baseball or attempted to hit one. There are plenty of positions that have to be filled and there is a good chance of those turning out to see some action in the practice games and the conference games as well.

ONE IN RESERVE

Joe C.: "If you could have two wishes, what would they be?"

Lucile F.: "Well, I'd wish for a husband."

Joe: "That's one."

Lucile: "And then I'd save the other till I saw how he turned out."

Tennis Teams Play Two Tournaments

Last Saturday Isaac Funk and Calvert entered the Redlands open tournament. Funk won all the singles matches to enter the semi-finals, which will be played next Saturday. Calvert and Funk coped their doubles matches.

The varsity tennis team lost to Chaffey J. C. yesterday afternoon in all their matches. Later on another tournament will be played in which the locals hope to win.

The racqueteers are working hard and hope to take Pomona down the line in the first conference tournament.

Frosh Lose Last Game of Season

The frosh cagers ended their schedule Saturday evening when they lost to the Throne's Business College by a score of 37-24.

The yearlings have not been any too successful this year, being severely handicapped by lack of eligible reserve strength. With only six eligible men they have played thru the season and made a fair showing.

In conference games all that they had a chance at were the Redlands pea-greeners, who copped the championship. Other frosh games were to have been played with Caltech and Pomona frosh, but these tilts were called off.

There is some good material in the class of '33, and should give the varsity more reserve strength for next year.

SEASON'S REVIEW

A review of the past basket ball season shows the LaVerne varsity played twenty-four games, winning all but three. The second team lost two games, one to the Bobeteria, and another to the L. A. Olympic Club. The first string lost to U. C. L. A., 37-22; and to Redlands 11-7, in an over-time game, and a second to Redlands, 26-21.

Games were won from Chaffey J. C., Whittier, Oxy, Caltech, Pomona, two from San Diego, two from Santa Barbara, and two from Cal-Christian.

Weybright led the team in points scored in conference games with 90, followed by Thomason with 74, and Stutzman, 62. Captain Weybright was high scorer in four conference games, Thomason in two, and Stutzman one.

Thomason and Stutzman tied one time in high point honors.

Mrs. Merritt: "A transparent thing is one that you can see thru. Give me an example."

Charles S: "A doughnut."

Alfred Adams: "I found fifty cents on your bed."

Leslie DeHart: "Oh, those are my sleeping quarters."

Flossie P.: "Kenny's moustache makes me laugh."

Kathleen: "It tickled me, too."

CONFERENCE NOTES

The cage season closed last Saturday and the final standings left Redlands with an undefeated record. By nosing out Pomona, LaVerne took second place and Pomona third. Oxy, who was favored to cop the championship before the season started, did no better than win four games and lose four.

Next year the hoop race will be still tighter as practically the same teams of Redlands, LaVerne and Pomona return next fall. Redlands and Pomona each lose a center, and LaVerne has the same team intact.

With basket ball out of the way attention is being turned toward track and baseball. Most of the track teams have participated in either dual or triangle meets. Baseball practice begins this week at most of the conference schools and the opening conference games will be played the latter part of this month.

VARSITY CLUB GUEST NIGHT

this season, made a hit with the club and guests, and will probably take over the position as director of physical education with more backing than has ever been the pleasure of a LaVerne coach to enjoy. Eisan warned his enthusiastic friends, as did the freshman coach, Glick, that they were not to expect wonders in the first year of coaching. Eisan said that if he was given the support necessary to a beginning coach, that he could promise results for LaVerne teams in the future.

He is stockily built, with a perpetual smile, emphasized because of a heavy jaw. He also has a sense of humor, which gives him a likeable personality. Recommendations from such men as Clint Evans a former Pomona high school coach and the fact that he was chosen three successive seasons as quarterback at California stand back of him to assure LaVerne that they are getting a coach in fact as well as in name.

Levi Dickey, president of the Varsity Club, coach at Chino high, extended the official welcome to Eisan, Glick and the hundred guests.

"Dutch" Brubaker, toastmaster of the evening, was like the inside of a stove-grate. Wayne Bohn led a few soul-inspiring melodies which made everyone yearn for a better life. Ralph Travis presided exquisitely at the piano.

Besides the coaching staff, there were more than sixty athletic stars constituting the cream of high school athletics who were guests of the club.

After the meal and the introduction of guests was over, the old Clarion Four, the college quartet of several years ago, sang a couple of numbers. Then a combination of the Clarion Four and the Aeolian Quartet sang a few octet numbers. The climax of the program was reached when after a storm of requests and a burst of uproarious applause, Wayne Bohn and Happy arose and with great dignity and solemnity rendered that old and beloved melody, "Jim Green."

After the program the club and guests went en masse to the gym. They formed a large rooting section with Francis Crites as yell leader. Good advice would be for Homer Kreps to bring a soap box along to stand on next meeting.

Harry T.: "You're half an hour late. What do you mean, keeping me standing around like a fool?"

Dot G.: "I can't help the way you stand."
