COMING--A WEEK OF GOOD THINGS FROM SHAMBERGER

YOUNG PEOPLE'S WEEK FOR DISTRICT OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

C. S. Shamberger's coming next week is looked forward to with much interest. He will represent the Christian Workers Society, as well as the Student Volunteer Organization, and will thus be in a position to meet in a large way the needs of the young people.

Mr. Shamberger has visited all of the colleges of the Church of the Brethren this year, except La Verne and we are anticipating some interesting reports. The entire week, beginning next Sunday, March 6th, will feature Shamberger. He addresses the Mission Band Sunday morning, and preaches at the church. He will give a short, snappy address in chapel every day.

Saturday, the 12th, will be Fellowship Day on the College Campus. The afternoon and evening will be spent in a jolly social and recreational time, made spicy with appropriate refreshments. A number of young people from the Southern California churches are expected to be here.

On Sunday, March 13th, a special Life Work and Consecration program has been arranged, in which Shamberger will take a prominent part.

Let us give our distinguished visitor a royal welcome and make his visit worth while.

ORANGE BLOSSOM STAFF APPOINTED

An Annual rally was held in chapel Wednesday, the 23rd. The occasion for the rally was the fact that two Senior classes decided to get back of the Annual and to assume the responsibility for its publication. The school demonstrated its enthusiastic support of the annual and its willingness to co-operate with the Seniors by a unanimous vote.

The Annual has not been taken entirely out of the hands of the Commission, or of the Commissioner of Publications, but rather the Seniors have gotten behind it with their pep and enthusiasm. The Seniors were granted the privilege of electing the executive staff.

In a joint meeting of the Academy and College Seniors, a committee was appointed to submit nominations for the Executive Staff. This committee reported Thursday noon, and an election was held. The following staff was elected:

D. Welty Lefever ... Editor-in-Chief
Hazel Minnich ... Assistant Editor
George Hollenberg ... Write-up Chief
Ralph Netzeley ... Art Chief
Elliott Thomas ... Business Manager

The staff is busy arranging a schedule of staffs for the different departments of the Annual. The new staff will work with the Commissioner of Publications as well as the Seniors. The staff will report to the Seniors from time to time as to the progress of the work. Right now the big need is co-operation on the part of all the students. The Annual must be well under way within a week or it will not be a success.

STEARNS-HELLEKSON TRIO

FOURTH NUMBER OF MUSIC AND LECTURE COURSE

Owing to the fact that the Webster Simonsen Hope Concert Co., which had been engaged last fall to give one of the numbers of the college music and lecture course, has disbanded, it was necessary to make other arrangements.

Through a fortunate arrangement with the University of California Extension Division, the Stearns-Hellekson Trio will give this number. They will appear in concert at the College auditorium on Monday evening, Mar. 7th, at 8 p.m.

The trio consists of Miss Vere Stearns, violinist, Miss Ethel Stearns, cellist, and Miss Mina Hellekson, pianist. They come to La Verne very highly recommended, and music lovers of La Verne are fortunate in having the opportunity of hearing them. Not only are they artists in finish and rendition from the standpoint of technique and interpretation, but also in their judgment of what pleases an audience.

Seat reservations for this event may be obtained at Kenyon's Pharmacy on and after Tuesday, March 1st. The price of single admissions will be 75 cents.

Cadman Concert

The college auditorium was crowded to its capacity on last Saturday evening, when Charles Wakefield Cadman and Miss Margaret Messer appeared in recital, giving Cadman's own compositions almost exclusively.

Miss Messer has a full-toned soprano voice, capable of doing justice to the beauty and melody of Cadman's songs, while with Cadman himself at the piano, the accompaniment left nothing to be desired.

Mr. Cadman gave a very interesting talk on the music of the Amaha and Onondago Indian tribes, playing on an Indian flute or flagella a number of Indian melodies of those tribes. One of these he reproduced on the piano as he had harmonized it, demonstrating that with proper supporting harmony, the melody itself lost none of its wierd beauty.

The groups of vocal selections and the piano numbers were alike well received, and the concert left an impression of greater appreciation for the music of our famous Southern California composer.

SKEETERS TIE WITH WHITTIER

LA VERNE OUTCLASSED BY WHITTIER

The Whittier lightweights again defeated La Verne "Skeeters" 20 to 25. La Verne has not held up the fast pace set at the first of the season either in practice or in the games. The first half the score stood 10 to 13 in La Verne's favor. Whittier came back strong the second half and although the skeeters fought hard, they were unable to get going enough to hold them down.

VICTORY OVER LONG BEACH FASTENS TIE

La Verne lightweights and Whittier crescent lightweights are tied for first place in the championship tournament of the A. A. U. Each school has lost two games. La Verne finished the schedule by defeating Long Beach 10 to 30 at Claremont. L. A. Polytechnic Night School forfeited. The "Skeeters" will undergo a series of hard practices before the Whittier game in order to get back to form. Coach Douglas promises them that if they play the game as they did at first, Whittier will be defeated by a double score.

The deciding game will be played on a neutral floor, probably next Thursday, March 3. La Verne believes that the third time is a charm, and is expecting her team to bring home the bacon in the form of the championship of the A. A. U. lightweight division.

LAVERNE BRINGS DOWN SECOND

On Saturday, February 19, La Verne accounted for its existence very nobly by placing second in her class in the A. A. U. relay carnival held on Paddock Field, Pasadena. Compton, who took both relays in which La Verne was entered, won our class by taking three first places.

Three of our men entered in the 100-yard dash found themselves in company a little too fast. In the medley relay, La Verne lost by hard luck and three feet. Johnny Brooks, running the 220 was boxed and the lead which we should have had, went to Compton. Welch picked up four men on his 440, and placed La Verne third. Ernest Landis turned the fastest half mile for high schools that day and incidentally put La Verne in first place, which was lost in passing the baton. "Bill" ran the biggest race of his career when he ran the mile in time close to 4:44. He ran a race that anyone could be proud of, and he gave every ounce of his energy as was proven by his fall just as he crossed the line.

In the half mile relay Compton took the lead and held it thruout. La Verne lost too much time in passing the wand, but even then she stepped away from Huntington Beach, who placed third.

We did not even get any competition from any school that will participate in the Gala Day and Valley track meets. Keep on, boys, the world is ours.

DEBATERS VICTORIOUS IN FIRST DEBATE OF SEASON

LAVERNE ACADEMY WINS FROM CITRUS HIGH IN CLOSE CONTEST

Friday, Feb. 25th is a day that the La Verne Academy Department will remember with pride, for it was a day in which they made a big step forward. It will be remembered as the day on which the La Verne Academy, represented by Jeanette King, Ora Weddle and Herman Moomaw, debated Citrus High School in the college auditorium on the subject, "Resolved: that the closed shop should be prohibited by law," and won 2 to 1.

For the last month the three worthy representative debaters have been working hard under the splendid supervision of J. Hugh Heckman. They have had many difficulties, such as term examinations, Bible Institute, and vaccinations, put in their way, but in spite of them, they worked faithfully on. And the desired results came on Friday evening, when the judges decision was read, which was 2 to 1 in favor of the affirmative. La Verne is proud of you, Jeanette, Ora and Herman, and thank Mr. Heckman for his untiring efforts and interest.

The interest of the students and the patrons of La Verne was clearly manifested, for judging by the way they flocked into the auditorium, one would think that there was to be a lyceum number rendered. The well-filled room inspired the debaters on to success, and this fact should encourage the Academy Department to not let this interest drop, but keep it alive by having more lively debates either inter-class or interscholastic.

DEBATE WITH TECH. FRIDAY

Next Friday, March 4th, the College Department, represented by Welty Lefever, Leland Brubaker and George Hollenberg, will debate Throop Institute of Technology, of Pasadena at that place. The subject will be, "Resolved: That immigration should be restricted by the literary test." This squad has been working hard, and promise to do their best in making the debate lively and to bring the "bacon" home. La Verne students, let us help them do it by supporting them.

Large Attendance at "Pill Bottle"

The largest audience which has attended any college function this year gathered at the auditorium Saturday evening February 12, when the "Pill Bottle" was given by the Mission Band. The auditorium was crowded long before the beginning of the play, and large crowds were standing around the walls, in the hall, and at the windows. Some returned home because they were unable to find a place from which to see. This was the third time the play has been given at La Verne. This was the last evening of the Bible Institute, so that many people from the Northern District were present.

The play was given under a somewhat difficult situation, since one of the leading parts had to be supplied at the last week because of the illness of Naomi Harshbarger. Several of the minor characters were also absent because of some of the students returning home at the end of the first semester. However, each did their part splendidly and the effect was very good. The Missionary Offering at the close amounted to $66.08

The Mission Band Committees, which have been appointed for the second semester, together with the Committee from the Faculty, met in a joint session Tuesday evening, February 22. Problems of vital interest to the Band were discussed and suggestions for the action of the Band were formulated. It was decided that there should be a joint meeting of the committees at four o'clock on the first and third Wednesdays of each month.

Seniors Choose Play

Watch for the "Lost Paradise," the College Senior class play to be given the first part of May. This play is one of the most powerful of all American dramas, and under the able direction of Mrs. B. S. Haugh should achieve a great success. The characters have been chosen and the Seniors are at work in earnest to make the play worth while. Keep posted,

J. RAYMOND SCHMIDT SPEAKS HERE

On Tuesday, Feb. 22d, a stirring message was brought to the La Verne student body by Mr. J. Raymond Schmidt, the field secretary of the Intercollegiate Prohibition Association. This organization of the colleges of the United States, whose headquarters are at Chicago, is in no way entangled with political movements of the same class.

Mr. Schmidt not only portrayed the conditions and need of the United States in regard to prohibition, but he also stressed the prohibition cause of the great Empire of China. We are not merely working for National Prohibition, but for World-Wide Prohibition, and Schmidt is in the thickest of the fight to win.

The L. V. C. student body was given an opportunity to help fight for the great cause by pledging money for the support of the organization. The amount pledged was $25.00.

and when the play is produced, come and boost the largest Senior class ever graduating from La Verne College.

VACCINATION VERSUS SMILES

"But the man worth while is the man who can smile when everything goes dead wrong." During the past two weeks, more than one of us has felt that we have reached the place where everything has gone dead wrong, and it isn't spring fever nor the heat. Student Body! are we not agreed?—one vaccination is equal to ALL of these. (How could a man with shooting pains in his left forearm write either poetry or editorials?) When one has approached so near to the last stages, about all that is left that he can do, is SMILE. It's THEN the smile is the very most worth while.

MAKE THE BEST OF THINGS

We meet with many troubles and disappointments in life; there are imperfections and evil and sorrow. On the other hand, life is full of sunshine, gladness and beauty if we have eyes to see. Always we can find the good, the true, the beautiful. There must be some shadow and some rainy days, but how many more sunny days the year contains. Whether our days are full of gloom or sunshine depends largely upon our attitude and viewpoint.

So it is in school life. Many imperfections appear and will continue to appear as long as we are human. We see so many things that aren't right and that need to be changed. 'Tis well that we look at these imperfections fairly and squarely. Those that we can remedy—let's get to work and do it. Those things that aren't within our power to help—let's just make the best of them. Fault-finding and grumbling won't change them one iota.

Making the best of things that can't be helped is an art well worth the learning. First, it helps you. It gives you an inward feeling of content and happiness, which is unknown to the habitual fault-finder. Grumbling has never yet succeeded in bringing anyone that universally desired state of being—happiness. Then too, if you make the best of things, others will catch the spirit, for it is very contagious. You will be helping others.

In the second place, making the best of things is a big factor in winning popularity. No one likes a grouchy person. Practically every one does like the student with a cheerful disposition. Such a student wins friends easily, and nine times out of ten, is popular. If you want to be popular, just look on the bright side and make the best of things that can't be helped.

The logical step from popularity is leadership. The average person covets the power of leadership. The popular student finds himself the recipient of student body offices, and a leader in social and student activities. While merely making the best of things doesn't guarantee popularity and leadership by any means, it is an indispensable requisite to the attainment of these things.

It isn't always easy. Sometimes it takes the best in us, but when we can't help the way things go, it pays to make the best of it. By doing so, we help ourselves and others, and pave the way to popularity. —N. L. H.

DEBATERS ON A "SPREE"

Every possible source of knowledge within a short radius having been exhausted, the L. V. C. debating squad decided that it was necessary to go to the metropolis for sufficient material. So on Saturday last, we find this determined forensic crew wending their way to Los Angeles in one of those capricious, yet all-sufficient 20th Century products—the "Tin Lizzie."

As to how they happened to come by this happy means of conveyance, the rumors run thusly: Said Ford was incidentally the property of the exalted and respected administration of the worthy institution for which these self-sacrificing verbal artists were diligently working. Pres. Miller, official pilot of aforesaid chariot, was absent with the switch key. But they couldn't be bothered by such a little impregnable thing as a Yale lock! What did they do? Why simply resorted to the every-ready accessory—the hair-pin. Thanks to the girls of the party!

we find our "word-slingers" using their forensic powers in "blessing" a particular spot on their back tire for being "puffed up" beyond capacity. A full-fledged blow-out, and not a patch to be had. But again their genius came into play! This time in the form of a gunnysack. It takes Ralph Netzley to tell how they bumped into El Monte on a "burlap wart," where they made the necessary tire reinforcements.

Finally they arrived safely at the L. A. Public Library, a hungry and weather-beaten crew. Here they displayed their "bring'n' up" and "country manners" by unceremoniously attacking some home-made sandwiches, right in full view of all by-standers and pedestrians. Incidentally—John Rhodes devoured ten sandwiches on his way home Saturday evening.

After dinner they settled down to business and since "All's well that ends well," they returned home with the bacon and without the hoodoo, and they think they've been on a "spree."

JOKES BY GEORGE

"Willie!"
"Yes, pop."
"Can you carry a tune?"
"Certainly I can carry a tune, pop."
"Well, carry that one you're whistling out in the back yard and bury it."

Be Patient

Ed:—Have you forgotten you owe me five dollars?
Ned:—No, not yet. Give me time, and I will.

Overlooked

"William," said mother severely, there were two pieces of cake in the pantry this morning, and now there is only one. How does happen?"
"I don't know," said William, regretfully. "It must have been so dark that I didn't see the other piece."

The Literal Salesman

"May I change this shirt at this counter?"
"No, sir;" you'll find the dressing room at the rear of the store."

Father:—What are you shaking your brother for?
Harold:—Well, the silly little fellow took his medicine and forgot to shake the bottle.

Mother (who was teaching her child the alphabet):—Now, dearie, what comes after "G?"
The child:—Whizz.

Jack:—Did you read about the man who swallowed his teaspoon?
Dick:—No, what happened to him?
Jack:—Oh, he can't stir.

Auntie:—You must not whistle at the table!
Bobby:—I wasn't whistling at the table, Auntie, I was whistling at the dog!

Offspring:—Yes, Dad, I'm a big gun up here at the University.
Wise Father:—Well, then, why don't I hear better reports?

A small boy was scrubbing the front porch of his home the other day, when a visitor called.
"Is your mother in?" asked the visitor.

"Do you think I'd be scrubbing if she wasn't?" replied the youngster.

Note to Johnny's teacher:—Please excuse Johnny today, he's dead.

J. H. R. (getting poetical in botany)—Oh! thou artichoke!
Mary G.:—Thou art another.

Tailor:—For $45 I'll give you a fine fit.
Benny:—Yes, and for that you'd give father a dozen.

Don't give your friends away because you are liberal.
Crack a smile, even if it does break your face.

I wish something would turn up. Goodness nose!

Otis:—What did you make on that job.
Ray:—Made a bone.
Otis:—Your head is at least.

Byrl Harper:—We are going to have a dual meet with Chino. Bonita may run too.

IMMAGINATION

(Essay Written by a Frosh)

Some great man has said "Without the imagination, life would not be worth living,"—that is, I think some great man said that—and I certainly agree with him. For when we stop to consider that it is really our imagination that gives most of our pleasures, especially during school life we are fully convinced of this fact. Now let me point out just why I consider this true. First, what is it that gives us courage to drudge on day after day, in Latin class? Nothing more than that A, B, or at least a C which we picture in the imagination.

Do you think any one of us Freshmen would keep on slaving if we didn't dream that passing grades would loom up on our grade cards? Then there is another aspect of life which the imagination aids very materially, and that is the courtship, especially the courtship of Freshmen. The reason for this is because if it did not aid our courtship we would have very little. There is perhaps no delight equal to the joy of seeing, or thinking you see, a girl, the girl of your fondest dreams, turn her wonderful eyes in your direction. Then you begin to plan how the next time you'll have a cleaner collar on, your hair just a little better brushed, and above all, to have your coat on. Just a little comment on that subject. I have certainly found that nothing in the world will make my best girl sore quicker than to leave my coat off and come down to a meal. I've found that it always puts a damper on my imagination. I cannot dream with as much joy for several days after I have had such an experience. And now since I have mentioned dampers, I have a few I wish to enumerate. There are always some teachers who insist on giving you poor grades even if you do come to class with a little preparation. And then there are other things—such as college seniors, who always want to ruin things, or the president of the commission who tries to boss everybody, that squelch any ideas that blossom, which if left to develop, would produce worthy fruit. But, even considering everything, I am certainly thankful for my imagination, for without it, life would be unendurable, even at La Verne College.

FORMER LA VERNE COLLEGE STUDENTS WED

On Wednesday evening February 16 Miss Ruth Blickenstaff was united in marriage to Dr. Russell B. Lichtenwaller, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Blickenstaff. It was a beautiful and simple home wedding, the decorations being spring blossoms and ferns, the fireplace being especially attractive.

The ceremony took place at eight o'clock, and was performed by Pastor R. H. Miller, of the Church of the Brethren. Before the ceremony Miss Ruth Tracey, of Rosemeade, sang "At Dawning," and "Because." The bride was beautifully gowned in white georgette crepe over satin, and wore a veil caught with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white roses, lillies of the valley and smilax.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Lichtenwaller are very well known here, having lived here for many years; and both having graduated from the Academy at La Verne College. Dr. Lichtenwaller is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Lichtenwaller, of La Verne, and after graduating at La Verne College he took up the study of dentistry in Los Angeles, and for the past two years has been practicing his profession in Corona.

The bridal couple left after the ceremony for San Francisco, and will spend several weeks on their honeymoon. They will make their home in Corona.

A three course lap supper was served to the guests during the evening. The young couple received a lavish quantity of attractive and useful wedding presents from their many relatives and friends.

COLLEGE CHUMS SHOWER MISS HERSHBERGER

The climax of the celebrations in honor of Bessie Hershberger, a graduate of La Verne Academy in 1918, was reached in a shower given by Miss Maude Brubaker on Monday, Feb. 28th in Los Angeles. A group of six college girls attended.

The trip for itself would have been very much appreciated. The party left La Verne in Hazel's "Chiver," with every spare crevice packed with delicious things for lunch. Upon arriving in the city the crowd started upon a shopping tour. With a few actual purchases to keep spirit and interest up, the girls joyously "window shopped."

At 2:30 all were found present at the apartment of Miss Brubaker, thus surprising Miss Hershberger, who was paying a little visit without ever expecting any attention. The gifts were much appreciated by the guest of honor.

Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess, and after wishing Miss Hershberger much joy in her married life, the party again took their lives into their hands, got into the "Chiver," and after many thrilling experiences arrived safely home.

ALPHA GIRLS ENTERTAINED

On Monday, the 21st, the Alpha Girls met at the home of their assistant teacher, Mrs. A. J. Beckner. After a short business meeting, a large box of pop corn was put in the center of the room, and everyone helped herself. Partners were then chosen and escorted to the kitchen, where a pan of taffy was placed in the hands of each couple.

Oh, my! such a time as they had. Most of the girls thought that they knew how to pull taffy, but from the looks of their faces and hands, one would think they had fallen into the molasses barrel. Nevertheless, a good time was enjoyed by all, just ask Edythe and Harriette.

On February 22d, a group of girls enjoyed themselves immensely at a birthday party given by Elva Gillette and Marguerite Ives in honor of Martha Brubaker. The guests assembled at the hour of nine and the time was spent in telling jokes and having a general good time. Last, but not least, dainty refreshments of pink and white ice cream with delicious birthday cake were served.

Those present were Martha Brubaker, Eva Brownsberger, Rose Landis, Wanda Carl, Wilma Lett, Jeanette Ring, Mary Gackley, Elva Gillette, Marguerite Ives and Hazel Brubaker.

KOLLEGE KNEWS

Vaccination is the fad at present. Dr. Eaton has made several appearances at the dorm, and the number of his victims daily increases. Everyone who "took" proclaims it a very painful and uncomfortable process, however, it gives a rather comfortable feeling to know you can look a smallpox germ in the eye unflinchingly.

Naomi Harshbarger is almost recovered from her combination of diseases, and will soon be out of quarantine.

The college debating team is hard at work preparing for their debate in the near future. Sixteen college students spent the afternoon and evening at the Pomona library recently, and a party made a trip to Los Angeles to the public library on last Wednesday. Those who assisted on this trip were Elva Gillette, Maurine Miller, Ralph Netzley, Leland Brubaker, John Rhodes, George Hollenberg, Byrl Harper, Roy Flory and Welty Lefever.

Several of the students have attended the Orange Show at San Bernardino, which is being held from the 18th to the 28th.

Pres. Miller made a short trip to Live Oak from Saturday to Thursday. He will leave again soon for the north.

Miss Hazel Minnich entertained on Monday evening, February 21, in honor of Miss Bessie Hershberger of Macdoel, Calif. The guests were the Misses Marie Woody and Bessie Hershberger, and the Messrs. Leland Brubaker and Ralph Netzley.

The great evangelist Scoville is at present holding revival meetings in Pomona at the Christian church. The frank, fearless directness of the speaker has won much applause from his large audiences. Mrs. Scoville's beautiful solos are also greatly appreciated.

Miss Beulah Smith is quarantined at her home indefinitely, as her mother has smallpox, although in a very mild form.

THE HOPELESS HOPE

Ouch! Ouch! Oh me, my arm is sore
I cannot cease from crying.
I would that I were in my grave,
Instead of ever dying.

I've planned my coffin o'er and o'er—
I want no imitation;
I want my grave dug all alone,
So they can't hurt my vaccination.
I made these mournful tones aloud
And made plentiful my wishes,
And even had the nerve to ask
The Matron to wash my dishes.

I hemmed and hummed my funeral dirge
And sang that song "Forsaken,"
But the Doctor came and spoiled my plans—
He said it wasn't takin'.

"I say, Ralph," said Herman M.,
"can you change a twenty dollar bill for me?"
Ralph:—"Great Scott, is there another counterfeit in circulation?"

Miss Horn:—"Decline food."
John Hilton:—"Never."

LAVERNE DEFEATS CHINO IN DUAL MEET

La Verne defeated Chino in a dual track meet Friday afternoon. Fairly good records were made in the various events, and La Verne has good prospects of taking both the Valley and the Gala Day track meets this year, while several men may even enter the Southern California meet at L. A. High School.

Some of the best records were:—100-yd. dash, won by Nash of Chino, time 10.1; mile run, won by Landis of La Verne, time 4 min. 56 sec.; 440 yd. dash, won by Welch of La Verne, time 55.1 sec.; broad jump, won by Nash of Chino, distance, 20 ft. 8 in.; and shot put, won by J. Brooks of La Verne, distance 42 ft. 1 1/2 in.

Just before the main event of the meet—the relay—the score was 56 to 59 in favor of La Verne; and as the relay counted five points, the entire meet depended on the relay. Chino took the lead and held it for nearly a 440, when the second runners from each school finished a tie. La Verne then forged ahead and held the lead the rest of the race, winning by about five yards. The final score was 64 to 56 in favor of La Verne.

La Verne lost several points owing to the fact that two of our star men, Hepner and Riddlebarger, were unable to compete because of sickness.

In this world, it is necessary that we assist one another.

LEAGUE MEET NEXT SATURDAY

One of the two big track and field meets of the season is scheduled for the coming Saturday. This will be held at Puente; and all members of the Valley League are included in it. La Verne has won this meet the past two years, and judging by marks established so far, many of them better than existing school records by wide margins, we should repeat the victory. Our relay team has already shown speed nearly equal to the best previous mark, and should make the perpetual relay trophy our permanent possession this year.

Our entries are in. We have John Brooks in the weights and 220-yd dash. Welch is entered in the hurdles and 440. Landis has made the best recorded time in the half mile in Southern California so far this season, and with the help of Riddlebarger should ably care for the distance events. Our weak spot is in the pole vault and high jump; but our strength in other events will more than make up for this.

Besides the men already mentioned, there are O. Brooks and Bennie Hepner in the sprints; Brower and Shaver in the broad jump, and Marshburn in the hurdles, as well as a few others.

The tickets for the meet and evening performance are on sale. Get yours early, so that we may sell our quota and reserve a place in the auditorium.

COMMISSION NOTES

In chapel last Friday, Howard Beckner, Commissioner of Athletics gave the Student Body some very interesting statistics showing the Track Meet records of La Verne College. A great many of these records were made last year, and although they are good, it is the aim and the goal of each man entered in track this year to break all former records and set a new standard for the college. Boys, we are behind each one of you.

The Annual proposition, which is indeed a very important one, has been a very difficult situation to handle this year for many reasons. It seems that this year has been a record breaker for the multiplicity of student activities, and the Commission have found themselves almost overwhelmed by pressing duties. Then a group of students in school came to their rescue and valiantly offered their assistance in the way of managing the Annual. This group of students are called the Seniors, and they are taking hold of the work with a vim. The Annual will be still a dis-
