Bible Institute to Open on Thursday

Bible Institute, which is an annual occurrence at LaVerne College, will extend over a period of eight days beginning on January 30th and terminating on the evening of February 6th in the New Era Banquet. The chief speaker during the Institute will be Rufus Bowman, secretary of the Board of Religious Education, of Elgin, Illinois. He is to be the speaker for every chapel period, and he has prepared addresses that are particularly adapted to the interests of young people.

The 9:30 period is to be given over to the consideration of pastoral problems and opportunities.

General topics will be discussed during the 1:55 period by members of the faculty with one exception. On Wednesday, Feb. 5th, Dr. Louis H. Evans, who is the ideal of every student, will have charge of this hour.

Big events of the Institute season are the presentation of "David and Goliath," the Alumni banquet, the laying of the cornerstone of the new church, the ministers' banquet, the Y. W. cafeteria supper, banquet for church, C. W. and S. S. officers and workers, and the New Era Banquet.

Alumni Will Hold Banquet Saturday

The alumni banquet, a get-together affair, is to be held in the social hall of the college Saturday evening, Feb. 1, at 6:30. This is not the regular spring banquet of the association, but rather a social time including a supper for its members.

At the annual spring banquet the seniors are entertained by the alumni and they are initiated into the association. The banquet Saturday, however, is for the full-fledged members of the group. Reservations are being made with Mrs. Harper Frantz, secretary of the Alumni Association. A large crowd is expected, judging by previous years.

Dale Glick is president of the Association.

Women's Glee Club Sings in LaVerne

A very fine program was given by the woman's glee club in the Methodist church Sunday night. Due to a misunderstanding concerning the hour, the program was at little late in starting.

A large, attentive audience was present, and seemed to thoroughly enjoy the program.

A selection from David and Goliath, "Praise Ye Jehovah," was the first number. This was a good advertisement for the cantata.

The program was one of the best given so far this year by the women's glee club. The girls seemed to throw their whole spirit into the task of making the first program in the home town a success.

The Leopard must have been using some of "Doc" Herr's hair tonic—it's whiskers have ceased to grow.

LAVERNE PROFESSORS PERFECT PRODUCTION

"David and Goliath" is the product of years of hard work for both

Prof. and Mrs. Haugh. The first act of the cantata was written by Prof. Haugh in 1922, when he received his Bachelor of Music degree from the University of Southern California. Several years afterward he considered it with renewed energy and finished the whole production, relying only on his own knowledge of harmony and composition.

The music, which is of a bright, colorful quality, even brilliant in some portions, has been composed entirely by Prof. Haugh. The words have been written, selected and arranged by him. This cantata is a production which could not only be adapted to amateurs, but could be as successfully produced by professionals.

Mrs. Haugh, after months of research, has practiced her unusual ability in directing amateurs in the dramatization of this cantata. Every detail has been worked out so that it is historically correct. Many of the costumes, articles of jewelry, properties and stage settings have been constructed by the

New Era Banquet Plans Completed

Plans for the New Era Banquet to be held February 6 are progressing nicely and committee members are thinking in terms of a bigger and better celebration than ever before.

Students this year may avail themselves of the same privilege as in former years, that of attending the banquet for one dollar a plate. Mr. Yoder and Mr. Frantz in the business office are selling the student tickets. Needless to say, this is an opportunity to show loyalty and college spirit. It will be a real honor to be seated in the college group, which will occupy one section of the room. A stunt of some sort will be given by the students.

Harrison Frantz reports that the sale of tickets is advancing splendidly with more than usual interest, owing to the campaign for clearing the $15,000 deficit. A larger attendance from northern California than in any previous year is expected. A number of persons have purchased tickets and paid sums of $500. The interest shown by the constituency shows college loyalty of a high degree. Keen interest in general development of the college is also manifested.

The deficit is a remnant of that accumulated during the hard period previous to the present era of development. The feeling exists in college circles that the reaching of the desired goal will prove to be one of the strongest incentives to expansion in the near future that has yet been in our school history.

On the evening of January 27 a college meeting was called in Los Angeles by the executive board for the purpose of boosting the present campaign and the banquet. About sixty were present, representing a number of communities of the college constituency. The personnel included pastors, presiding elders, and financial boards of the various churches. Definite interest was shown in the special field of service in which LaVerne College functions, that of Christian education. The consensus of the group expressed in summary that the churches should definitely organize in planning to render assistance in promoting the present campaign.

Y.W. to Serve Supper Cafeteria Style Tues.

Folks who attend the Bible Institute are cordially invited to take advantage of the cafeteria supper which is being prepared under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. for Tuesday evening, Feb. 4th. The cafeteria will open at 5:30 and will serve until 7:00.

The staging of this affair will be in the gymnasium where decorative and appropriate booths are to be built.

Y. W. cafeteria suppers have been given at previous times during Bible Institute, and they have generally drawn a large crowd and been very successful.

Since the food is partially donated the girls are able to make a little profit on the affair

The second semester is like a new year—more like a new year than January first. A line of Tennyson's irritated me the other night: "The year is dying in the night." Now isn't that line an absurdity? I don't believe any year ever died. Just because we start new dates and schedules, must we consider that the past has been taken in charge by the undertaker? I'd like to see Alfred Tennyson or any other poet try to bury a year.

Then my better judgment said, "You know very well that is a figure of speech, one of those licenses of language allowed poets." Then I began to think just as Tennyson probably thought, that it would be well if a year could be really dead—dead to us with our record of old mistakes, our sins, our broken promises, our little and big falsities to ourselves and our fellows. It is a common and reiterated hope, born of students' weakness, that very new semester might begin with a clean slate, a new heart, a clear and smooth road ahead.

But it can't be done. There is no magic Land of Begin Again that can be reached by tearing a leaf from the calendar, by hanging a new almanac on a nail in the kitchen. We stand today a little ahead of where we were yesterday, a little behind where we will be tomorrow. But it is the same march and ascent. It is only from and by ourselves that we climb to higher things. We ourselves must be our start and destination.

So the journey goes on. No part is dead, lost or forgotten. The curves we have rounded, the hills we have climbed, the pebbles we have picked from our shoes at footsore pausings—these are all remembered even when well behind us. Here, for instance, is the second semester setting a new stretch of days' journeys ahead of us. It is pretty safe for us to consider it will take us through a Country of Life very much like that we knew last semester. There will be mud and dust, toilsome climbs, sunny hilltops and shady resting places—but we will be the same travelers. There will come the same blisters on our heels, the same wonder at what may be just around the corner, and the same morning hopes.

When we are out on a country road, the traveler we like to meet is the one with a smile, a cheerful greeting, straight shoulders and an alert look ahead to avoid stumbles and mudholes. There is no better way than this to travel 1930's road on the journey to the next big step.

I know the poets have said a lot about "Life's Road," "footprints on the sands of time," and so on. But it's sure no modern poet would dare to write about man hiking along in this slow manner, and I'm surprised that I even suggested it in our age of macadam, automobiles and filling stations. I certainly do not mean to walk if I can ride, and my idea of last semester is that it is not dead or buried, but is just being traded in for a new one. We ought to be able to go a long way in the fine new gas wagon and not get any blisters on our heels, either!

Let's all try traveling, then, in this semester's new motor; but I, for one, will not forget last semester's mileage, blowouts and bent fenders. You'll have to admit it was a good one while it lasted—but here's to the second semester with the glint of its new radiator! But any year's a happy year—or gear!—so long as we do not sit at the wheel and grouch at the landscape!

Student Group Have Problem Discussion

The Volunteer group, which met at the home of Edna Phillips last Thursday evening, spent the hour in attempting to solve vital problems relative to the life which they as individuals are trying to develop. Methods of conducting the weekly meetings in the most profitable way and of gaining a more definite group unity were discussed. Perhaps no final conclusions were reached; but the minds of all are set to thinking in meetings of this kind.

The devotional period was led by Hazel Rothrock, who read a story by Tolstoi. Sentence prayers were followed by a solo, "The Lord is my Shepherd," which Ed Cunningham sang.

Due to Bible Institute there will be no Volunteer meeting for two weeks, after which the student band expects to begin the new term with renewed energy.

When a man drops God, he puts out the sun; he is in darkness. How can he expect to be happy?

Professor Sarafian attended a banquet of the alumni of the Teachers College of Columbia University in honor of Dr. and Mrs. Frank McMurry, the famous authority on elementary education. Dr. McMurray was a former professor of Columbia University and he is the leading Herbartian in America. Dr. Merriam of U. C. L. A. presided at the meeting. The subject of the lecture was, "In what ways American education has progressed recently and in what things it has retrogressed." This meeting was held Thursday, Jan. 23, in the Women's Athletic Club in Los Angeles.

The Hiking Club, recently organized among the girls who live in the dormitory, held its annual between-semester retreat in a cabin at Mount Baldy the past week-end. There was not as much snow as the storms a few weeks ago promised, but by hiking up into Ice House Canyon the party found plenty of snow for the inevitable snow fights.

Those making up the party were Harriet Hoke, Arnelia Brubaker, Neva Snell, Vivienne Wynne, Lucille Hylton, Alma Linebaugh, Vesta Bowers, Hester Cox, Iva Livingston and Hazel Funk.

Dortha Gans, Harry Thomas, Russell Frantz, Prof. Travis, Marvin Bolinger and Daniel Stover were guests of the Hiking Club at dinner Sunday.

Registration for the second semester was almost completed Monday, although the jam at the business office detained a few until six o'clock or later. Several new students, both regular and special have been enrolled. Among them are William Eikenberry, of Wenatchee, Washington, who enters the sophomore class; Eleanor Shipp, from Pasadena J. C., who enters the freshman class; Melvin Bowman, special in music, who is also attending Pomona High; and Harvey Brubaker, alumnus, who returns for more music.

STUDENT SOCIAL LIFE

Studebaker Returns from Extended Trip

President Studebaker arrived home Saturday, January 25, after a rather extended business trip in the East, which has occupied his time for the past two weeks.

During the course of the trip he visited many important points, making stops at Amarillo, Texas; Chicago, and New York City. Dr. Studebaker reports a very interesting trip, and states that his enjoyment of it was greatly increased by the companionship of congenial fellow travelers.

On boarding the Apache at LaVerne for Rock Island, he met Attorney Watson of Los Angeles. Mr. Watson is a trustee of the Los Angeles Pacific College and the college attorney. Through his connection with the Free Methodist school the attorney has many interests in common with President Studebaker and proved to be a delightful traveling companion. Dr. Studebaker reports an interesting discussion of legal procedure.

At Amarillo, Texas, Dr. Studebaker made a stop-over of one day and visited a number of friends. Amarillo will be recognized as the wholesale point of the Texas Panhandle, as well as the center of a prosperous wheat district.

On Monday, Jan. 13, Dr. Studebaker reached Chicago and attended a committee meeting in the interest of Bethany Bible School. Being one of the directors of that institution, he has a great interest in its welfare. After the meeting he boarded the train for Washington, D. C., in company with President Wiend of Bethany. As college presidents they found much in common and the companionship was very congenial.

In the course of the trip much zero weather and snow was experienced, but Dr. Studebaker reports that as a Californian he felt very much at home in Washington, D. C., and was quite surprised at the similarity in the weather.

He remained in Washington until Friday, Jan. 17, attending an educational board meeting, in the interest of the schools of the Church of the Brethren. Various problems of the Church schools were discussed, an interesting point being the decision of the board to disperse with the academy in the Daleville-Bridgewater system. As a whole, the report from the meeting seems to be that the other colleges of the system are prospering in much the same degree as our own.

In New York City Pres. Studebaker visited Dr. Adam LeRoy Jones, who is chairman of the Committee on Admission of Columbia University and also chairman of the Association of American Universities. The purpose of the visit was a discussion of the problem of the approval of LaVerne College and will probably result in an examination of the college by a committee from the Association within the next year.

While in New York Dr. Studebaker made a special effort to see Dr. Arnett, former LaVerne professor, but was disappointed in not being able to meet him.

An interesting feature of the trip was a stop-over at Antioch College during which Dr. Studebaker made a study of the co-operative system of education in use there. Under this system the student spends from five to ten weeks in classroom work and then the same length of time in the industries or professions, receiving remuneration for the latter which partially defrays expenses.

On Monday Dr. Studebaker attended another committee meeting in the interest of Bethany Bible school. In the evening he proceeded homeward, arriving Saturday morning, in time to see the Occidental game.

President Studebaker reports he was disappointed in the eastern newspapers in that he failed during his entire absence to find any reports of the Conference basketball games. Still we are not the only ones slighted, evidently, for they failed to report the Stanford and U. S. C. games.

Altogether Dr. Studebaker reports a very enjoyable and profitable trip, but we are glad to welcome him back to LaVerne.

Personals

The Aeolian Quartette sang in the Mennonite church in Upland Sunday.

Dale Stutzman spent Sunday at his home in Inglewood.

Margaret Price, Kay Crist, Mabel Eisenbise, Ruth Price, Virginia Dull, Carolyn Nunn, Inez McEwen, Crawford Brubaker, Mrs. Williams, Wilma Long and Ralph Fesler heard Edna St. Vincent Malloy at Pomona College Friday.

Harold Brubaker is enrolling as a junior at LaVerne College.

Edna Amberson and Ruth Dickey were guests at dinner Sunday with friends in Pasadena.

Mina Throne is now teaching at Redondo. She graduated during the mid-year and secured a position where Elliot Thomas, an alumnus of LaVerne College is superintendent.

Mary Platt, Miriam Murray, Vera Hoover, Geneva Suttle and Marle Allen were entertained at Sunday dinner by Grace Brubaker and Edna Phillips. The afternoon was spent in playing rook and singing.

Grace Gockley and Esther Statler spent the week-end in Los Angeles at the home of Esther's aunt.

Louise Huff spent Monday night in Covina.

Dorthea Gans, Florence Brubaker, Lucile Forney, Harry Thomas, Glenn Harmon and Joe Cosner enjoyed the snow above Camp Baldy Saturday.

Everett Calvert reports that he spent the week-end hibernating.

Hazel Rothrock visited her aunt, Mrs. Ries, in San Bernardino over the week-end.

Alumni Notes

Marie Woody Brubaker's group of high school Christian Endeavorers were the guests of Herman and Hazel Landis' LaVerne group Sunday evening. During a social before the program the LaVerne group served sandwiches and chocolate. The Covina bunch put on a program.

A number of alumni are members of the David and Goliath dramatic cantata caste. Wayne Bohn is King Saul and Ernest Carl is Goliath. A number of the alumni group who live in other places are planning to come home next week-end to attend the alumni get-together meeting and to here this cantata in the Bonita high school auditorium Saturday evening. The college auditorium is too small for the 65-member cast.

Ernest and Katherine Root have written friends that they are having an abundance of snow at Julian this winter. It drifted so deep around their back door that they could not get in and out.

Mrs. Eva Marshburn Fike spent the week-end in LaVerne. Her home is in Bakersfield where she is teaching school. She came with her mother, Mrs. Nancy Marshburn as Ina Marshburn.

Rev. and Mrs. John Kaylor and daughter Eileen and his mother arrived in LaVerne a few days ago to remain until after the Bible Institute. Mrs. Kaylor is remembered as Ina Marshburn. She is at Loma Linda today where he mother is undergoing a major operation. The Kaylor's are spending their furlough year from the India mission field at Bakersfield where they are of assistance to both his and her mother.

The habit of hard and faithful work is one that is established slowly. It requires close watching of ones' polar star; it is not fully established in most men until they are somewhere near thirty or thirty-five years of age. And it takes about as many more years of hard and faithful work to get ready for something really large in life.

Leopards Win Big Tilt With Tigers

The Leopard cagers played the part of the original come-back kids last Saturday night and cashed in on a 31-24 victory over the Occidental outfit. For the first seven minutes of the game everything was Oxy and they displayed a scoring attack that swept the locals off their feet. All that the Tigers had to do during these initial minutes was to shoot at the hoop from anywhere and the melon never missed going thru the hoop. This enabled Oxy to lead by a 14-2 score before the tilt was seven minutes old. It looked like the Leopards were in for a terrific walloping.

After calling time out for a couple of minutes rest the LaVerne quintet started on a varied attack that held Oxy to only three points all during the rest of the first half and put themselves in the lead by an 18-17 score when the gun sounded to end the first period.

All thru the second half LaVerne held the lead by several points and came out better than the Tigers by a seven point margin.

Coach Van Cleave changed the usual line-up by placing Root at standing guard. This combination gave the team a tall guard. Hubbell at running guard played his position in his usual good style.

Thomason was high point man of the game with fourteen, followed by Stutzman with ten, and Weybright with six. All of the conference teams so far have covered Captain Weybright most of the time and when he gets a shot it is a difficult one.

Saturday's game had little effect on the championship except that it put Oxy out of the race for the championship. LaVerne was eliminated by two defeats at the hands of Redlands.

The line-up:

LaVerne (31)		Occidental (34)
Weybright(6) F		(10) Gliver
Stutzman(10) F		(6) Elliott
Thomason(14) C		(8) Dinter
Hubbell(1) G		Beebe
Root G		McAllister
Nicolas G		Murray

advanced drama class under the direction of Mrs. Haugh, as a semester project.

It is the hope of the cast and the college as a whole that the community will appreciate the effort which has been put forth to make this gigantic college project possible. This is a dream, a vision, which is being materialized so every student, every citizen of LaVerne, get your tickets now before it is too late. Tickets are being sold with reserved seats at Herr's drug store, at 50 cents a seat. Also see Don Miller or Joe Roynon if you desire to see "David and Goliath" on either Friday, Jan. 31, of Saturday, Feb. 1, at the Bonita high school auditorium.

Every member of the cast for the cantata is on his toes, ready for the good productions on both Friday and Saturday nights. The Broadway Costuming house has sent out a number of costumes for the principals and for some members of the chorus. There will be three dress rehearsals on the Bonita high school stage this week.

Varsity Face Bright Hopes in Second Lap

The varsity has finished half of the conference schedule with a no better than 50-50 break as a result of the two-game series with Redlands. The latter half of the schedule should be much easier.

Pomona has to be met in the last game and should be the only one to prove a tough customer. To complete the season LaVerne meets San Diego in two games, Caltech, and then Pomona. Non-conference tilts include two with Santa Barbara and a return game with Cal-Christian a week from Saturday in Los Angeles.

On Thursday evening of this week the varsity plays the Inglewood High alumni.

CONFERENCE NOTES

The games Saturday did not have any effect on the two undefeated teams and Redlands and Pomona still hold down first place as they both played non-conference games last week. There were only two games played: LaVerne won from Occidental 31-24, and San Diego beat Caltech 24-21. Whittier lost a non-conference game to Cal-Christian 27-18, and Redlands triumphed over Santa Barbara State 30-22. These two scores give LaVerne something to watch out for in the coming games with Cal-Christian and Santa Barbara.
