Regular Fellow" Described by Chapel Speaker Tues.

Speech Among the Most Interesting this Year

Beautiful Side of Life Is Seen
Only When People Are Together

The best thing in the world that can be, according to Rev. John Snape, pastor of the Temple Baptist Church in Los Angeles, is a "regular fellow." After making a startling announcement, he proceeded to tell the Tuesday evening chapel audience why he loved that.

Mr. Snape said that the best compliment he has ever received came from the sincere heart of a young man whose admiration and confidence he won through his ability to "Ford" jokes. Mr. Snape and the boy happened to be riding together and were telling jokes to each other. When the young man reached home, he exclaimed to his mother, "Gee, mother, I like him. He's a regular fellow." This compliment, Mr. Snape said, has meant more to him than any that he ever given him, and consequently he wished to point out the deeper and fuller meaning of the man's last words.

In the first place, a "regular fellow" must have a clean, strong body; for it is the conservatory of good moral seeds are planted. A clean, strong body is the kind in which good moral seeds can develop. Besides, the body is the gateway through which sensations get at you, and perceptions that are formed from these sensations are determined to a great extent by the condition of the body.

The man with the mind is the "regular fellow." The will, the memory, the perceptions, in fact, those faculties which govern belong to the mind. When these faculties have been exercised to their fullest ability, one is said to be cultured. "Culture is disciplined ability to see things as they look at."

An active soul is also an integral part of the "regular fellow." The activity of the soul is commonly expressed in religion, which, in turn, is expressed as life—God's life in our soul expressing itself in our actions.

In concluding the attributes of the "regular fellow," the speaker stated that he is a "fellow among fellow." That is, that he can fully recreate his fellowman and realize that the only thing which makes the world seem beautiful is the other fellow. There are two fellows in the world—yourself and the other fellow; and the beautiful part of life is the fact that you are together.

Reverend Snape concluded his address by reciting part of Rudyard Kipling's "If," in which the fundamental essentials of being a "regular fellow," one with the right kind body, mind, soul, and ability of being a fellow among fellows, is clearly expressed.

SUNSHINE QUARTET GIVES PROGRAM

Associated Students Entertained
in Tuesday Chapel
Period by Girls
Quartet

After the announcement, "The sun will now shine upon you," the Sunshine Quartet favored the chapel audience with a thirty-minute program last Thursday morning.

The program was given in the same order as the girls gave it to their audiences on their tour, with Myrtice Butterbaugh making the introductions and Anna Emmert announcing the numbers.

The following program was presented:

1. Women.
2. Heab'n.
3. I Love a Little Cottage; Little Bluebird of My Heart (a lullaby).
4. The Indian Group: Indian Dawn; Little Papoose.
5. The Southern group: Little Cotton Dolly; Dixie Kid.
6. Duet, Lucky Me and Loveable You—Anna Emmert and Flossie Page.
7. Harry Lauder, impersonated by Myrtice Butterbaugh.
8. Alma Mater.

The girls were received by much enthusiasm, which was undeniable evidence that their program was enjoyable.

The singers were becomingly gowned in semi-formal ensembles of two shades of orchid.

P. S. Overheard: "I sure like the new combination with Vera as second soprano."

CHI DELTA CHI TO GIVE PLAY THURSDAY

Remember that "The Nine Who Were Mother" is going to be presented next Thursday
during chapel period by the Chi Delta Chi and the dramatics class, and also that it is not only free and open to the student body, but also to the whole community.

It is the story of a family who does not appreciate mother until —, but that is the climax. Come and find out the whys and whens of it.

Some of the best dramatic ability in school is being used in this production, so do not miss it.

NOTICE!

There will be no Associated Student Body meeting Friday because it is the last day before Christmas vacation—so students, study hard and catch up with your work.

1200 Attend Oratorio at the Church of Brethren

Selections from "The Messiah," greatest of all oratorios and composed by George T. Handel, was presented at the Brethren church Sunday night, Dec. 14, at 7:30 p. m., by the Choral Union of the college.

The church was crowded and approximately 1,200 people heard
"The Messiah" given for the first time in LaVerne, or in this vicinity.

Professors Haugh and Travis are to be commended very highly upon their faithful and hard labor in training the students. Never before, outside of "David and Goliath," which will be given again soon, Feb. 2-3, 1931, has such a complimentary production been rendered.

cluded:

Redlands Debators Present
Unexpected Item

Last Tuesday evening, Dec. 9,
our negative debate team, Arnelia Brubaker and Virginia Scarisbrick, went over to Redlands and brought home a 2 to 1 victory. They debated on the conference question,
"Resolved, That the United States should establish a department of education with a secretary in the president's office," with the Redlands girls, Miss Garland and Miss Hills.

The debate was extremely exciting and showed keen-witted thinking. The Redlands team was very good, one of the girls having debated for several years. However, our girls were a little ahead of them and made the second win of the season.

Thursday evening, the affirmative team, Opal Kula and Mary Hollinger, debated the Redlands negative team, Miss Hotchkiss and Miss Trullinger, at LaVerne.
The girls lost 2 to 1. A rather unexpected item came up which the girls were not quite prepared for.
Our team had a non-decision practice debate with 2 men from Pasadena college on the Monday preceding.

Tuesday and Thursday evening
of this week the girls' debate U. C.
L. A. Tuesday evening Mary Hol-linger and Virginia Stern debate
the negative team at Westwood, and Thursday evening Arnelia Brubaker and Virginia Scarisbrick debate their affirmative team here.

LEOPARDS DEFEAT SHAMROCK CLUB

SECOND STRING SEES
MUCH ACTION

The Leopard quintet opened the 1930 season Saturday evening, meeting the Shamrock club of Inglewood and defeating them 38-27.
The closeness of the score may be explained by the fact that the "Five Horsemen" were kept under wraps the greater part of the game.
They saw action only during the first ten minutes and for another five minutes at the close of the contest.

The work of these five, Stutz-man, Weybright, Thomason, Hubbell, Nicolas was polished, smooth running for such an early season game. During the ten minutes they were in the game they ran up a large lead over the clubmen.
They are experiencing some difficulty in adopting the Eisan system but by falling back on their old style of basketball they were able to register baskets with a monotonous regularity. Weybright was high point man for LaVerne, proving unusually deadly on the dump shots. The teamwork was first-class and the passing was short and snappy. The two guards, Hubbell and Nicolas, were in the game as usual and the clubmen were able to ring up only a couple of baskets while these two were in the game and these were of the long variety.

Most of the game found the so-called second string in action.
Their work in the first half was terrible. They booted the ball around and passed with a wild abandon. This was largely due to

Bonita Takes Tournament

Bonita came through the First Annual La Verne Varsity Club Invitational Basketball Tournament held Friday and Saturday, December 12 and 13, undefeated, to win the Perpetual Trophy offered. It was presented to Captain Evans between the halves of the Leopard varsity vs. Shamrock Club game Saturday night by President
Wayne Bohn of the Varsity Club.

The Bearcats never faltered once, defeating by safe margins all opponents. First, Delano was defeated 19-5; then Citrus 26-15; and finally Chino 20-10. Jones was the outstanding player for the winners and possibly of the whole tournament, although Camunez from Delano, Sagouspie from Chino, and Elder from Bonita were all outstanding at their respective positions during the playoffs.

If any second, third, fourth and fifth place honors were awarded they would probably go to Chino, Citrus, Lompoc and Delano respectively, although El Monte would probably have ranked third if it had played more games.

Individual scoring honors go to Jones of Bonita who chalked up 25 points in the three games played.
The next 11 men in order of their total scores were: 2. Camunez, 20 (Delano); 3. Sagouspie, 17, (Chino); 4. K. Kelley, 16, (Delano); 5.
McCullough, 11, (Bonita); 6. Elder 11, (Bonita); 7. McClintock, 10 (San Jacinto); 8. Ruffner, 9, (Lompoc); 9. Canfield, 9, (Lompoc);
10. Evans, 9, (Bonita); 11. Fergusson, 9, (Chino) and 12. Kelley, 9 (Delano).

Team scoring honors go to Delano with a total of 68 (boosted by 43 points against San Jacinto) followed by Bonita with 65 points a close second. The others were in their order, Chino, with 48; Lompoc, 37; Downey, 35; Citrus, 28;
San Jacinto, 22, and El Monte, 13.
The first three teams played three games, and with the exception of El Monte which played only once the rest played two. Many of these extra games had no bearing on the tournament, but were practice games scored by the coaches.
However, some of them were included in the tournament, and all been included in the statistical compilation.

Following are the box scores of the games tabulated in the tournament scorebook:

The Symphony of Christmas

Above all other holidays of the year, Christmas is the holiday (Holy Day) of the home.

The wonderful spirit of the Nativity makes it that.

Even those far from the welcome shadows of their own portals find themselves returning in spirit to join with loved ones still here and with those who are precious memories to this gladsome festival of the home.

Christmas is first of all a feast of love in its highest form. It exerts a mystic force on the hearts of men which draws together from all parts of the universe those who love us in spirit.

The tokens of this spirit of love have the form of presents—the frankincense and myrrh—which we unconsciously place on the altar of Christmas.

The joy of giving to make others happy is one of the fundamental principles of Christianity. He who has not learned this first step in the religion of Christ has not gone very far in the spirit of Him who made the supreme sacrifice for the salvation of man. Naturally and properly, Christmas has become a carnival of giving; and those who get the most from Christmas give the most in proportion to their means.

The symbolism of the present is a beautiful one, only when it embodies the ideals of real giving. Perhaps we all give too little—far too little to those whose lives contact with ours and make our own happiness possible.

Giving at this season, without Christmas joy, is little better than avarice.

Because Christmas is the festival that brings us all together in harmony, there is very good reason why music has become a part of the feast. Whether it be the glad song of the ruddy cheeked carolers, the happy blare of little trumpets, sleigh-bells jingling over the crunching snow, juniors irrepressible drum, chorals of laughter from tiny tots, the roll of majestic organs, or above all, the chimes—the everlasting chimes—it is the Symphony of Christmas, the day which more than all others is the happiest of the year to those who love the great message of the Little Babe of Bethlehem.

To the Child Jesus

I. THE NATIVITY

Could every time-worn heart but see Thee once again,
A happy human child, among the homes of men,
The age of doubt would pass,—the vision of Thy face
Would silently restore the childhood of the race.

II. THE FLIGHT INTO EGYPT

Thou wayfaring Jesus, a pilgrim and stranger,
Exiled from heaven by love at Thy birth,
Exiled again from Thy rest in the manger,

A fugitive child 'mid the perils of earth,—
Cheer with Thy fellowship all who are weary,
Wandering far from the land that they love;
Guide every heart that is homeless and dreary,
Safe to its home in Thy presence above.

The White Rose

I heard the Christmas bells ring out
Across the drifted snows;
'Twas morn, and on the window-sill
Had bloomed a great white rose.
Across the street a little girl
In poverty was dying;
"I wonder, will Christ come today?"
The little girl was sighing.

I heard the Christmas bell ring out
Across the golden way,
But I was sad—no coins had I—
No presents for the day.
I leaned above the great white rose,
My tears were slowly falling;
The ringing of the bells was sweet;
My name I heard them calling.

I heard the Christmas bells ring out
As I stood praying there.
And lo! an angel came to me,
In answer to my prayer.
"Just take the rose across the street,
And tell the sweetest story
Of how Christ comes to those who pray,
In all his love and glory."

I heard the Christmas bells ring out,
As close against her cheek
I laid the fragrant great white rose,
And tried so hard to speak
The message that the angel gave,
But those white lips were dying;
I knew that Christ would come to-day,
The little maid was sighing.

I heard the Christmas bells ring out
Across the drifted snows,
And Christ, He came to me that morn
In one white, fragrant rose.
And this I know, if we will pray,
And in our hearts believe it,
That prayer will never go astray!
The faithful shall receive it.

Christmas Vesper Service Planned by Y.W.

TO BE HELD IN NEW CHURCH DEC. 18

Plans for the Christmas Vesper service and Christmas party were discussed at the Y. W. C. A. cabinet meeting held in the "Y" room Tuesday, Dec. 9, at 3:45.

The vesper this year will be held in the new Church of the Brethren Wednesday, December 18, at 7:30 p. m. The program will be carried out in much the same manner as in previous years; but with the pipe organ music and the beautiful picture of the Madonna on the platform of the church, the service should be more meaningful and impressive than ever before.

Many of our best known and best loved Christmas songs will be sung by an octet; the three wise men will sing, "We Three Kings of Orient Are;" Marvin Bolinger will sing a solo, and the Candle Lighting service will follow. As a closing number, the group, with lighted candles, will sing "Joy to the World."

A Christmas party for all members of the college Y. W. C. A. is planned for Monday night, Dec. 15, in the "Y" room. Presents for the Mexican girls' club will be made at this time. Christmas gifts will be given to those whose names are drawn as each girl enters. And Santa Claus will forget no one who is present—that is sure!

Cy Nical Comments

In the last issue there was something about what the sweet young boy says to the sweet young girl when the moon is a half-peeled orange. Well, be that as it may, what they say when the moon is full is much more interesting, or disgusting.

In the Commission mail box, I have noticed letters addressed to Mr. Ralph Fesho, Fester, and Fessler. All three are the same fellow, but he certainly is versatile. I wonder if Willie knows how many fellows she is getting.

I have heard that Fern Glick lost a nice juicy wad of gum and wanted to reward the finder if the gum was returned. Yeah, I imagine she would say "prunes."

I see where the affirmative side of our woman's debate team won. Did you ever see a woman lose an argument when she said, "I am right?"

I heard a speaker mention a time before college profs had been invented. I wonder who was idle enough to waste time on such things in those antediluvian days.

The more I think about grades, the madder I get. Grades are grafts and if you can graft better than I can you get a better grade and get grafted into a better place, while the rest of us get budded or butted.

I get a tickling sensation in my liver every time Dean Hoover explains to the chapel speakers that our hand clapping is a sign of appreciation. Yep, either liked 'em or glad they stopped. It may make some of them feel better, however, so let us continue.

A chapel speaker said that there are just two fellows in the world, yourself and the other fellow. Very true, but you and I can't seem to get it through our sideburns that there is anyone but ourselves.

I noticed that Frances Nix has advertised for a most untidy notebook which she has lost. Say, Frances, you might ask Mr. Woody what he did with that bundle of old papers. He probably thought it was one of Deain Hoover's old psychology texts full of jokes.

I wonder who the Freshman lady is who has such an influence on Russell Frantz that he loses all sense of time. Maybe I should compose a "want ad" for a punctual profundo basso, but that is just the way love treats a fellow. Never mind, "Russ," the blues will wear off after awhile.

Last Friday Prof. Cullen was speaking of tramps. He said, "Nowadays you can't tell whether they are college professors making a survey, or just any other kind of tramp." I imagine Prof. Cullen will be voted three demerits by the faculty at their next rook party. He deserves them.

Volunteer Cabinets Enjoy Retreat

LaVerne Officers Are Hosts to Others of Southern Conference at Canyon Camp

LaVerne Student Volunteer cabinet officers acted as hosts at a retreat in Icehouse Canyon last week-end when about twenty officers of the various organizations of the S. C. V. U. met for fun, business, and inspiration. Friday evening the group gathered at the cabin of Dr. and Mrs. Ellison of Eagle Rock for a hearty supper, and for an hour of fun and serious thoughts before bedtime. The four cabins at the disposal of the party were convenient and unmodious.

After four or five hours of slumber, logs were laid to replenish the fire and the group gathered again for morning watch led by a representative from Glendale, and, after delicious breakfast, hiking was the main feature until 10 o'clock. The goal of frozen snow at the top of the ridge was reached by several. Fred Butterbaugh had the misfortune of nearly losing the end of a finger by a sharp rock, but with medical attention in Pomona, he was back at the retreat again by noon.

Rev. Leland S. Brubaker was the speaker of the morning and addressed the group on the subject "Power" and the "Open Door," which proved to be full of inspiration.

After dinner, various games interested them until the football game came in on the radio, and all other operations ceased. By midnight, the party broke up and packed back over the trail for home.

Representatives from Occidental, Redlands, Glendale, and LaVerne were present; those from LaVerne were Martha Baer, Dortha Gans, Leile Forney, Ed Cunningham, Larry Thomas, Joe Cosner, Glenn Harmon and Fred Butterbaugh.

MISS LEAR'S HOME IS SCENE OF VOLUNTEER MEETING

The Student Volunteers met Wednesday evening, Dec. 10, at the home of Miss Hortense Lear, on Fourth and Lincoln.

Wednesday's discussion considered "I Am the Way," in its relation to God, salvation and the permanent things of life today. A number of good points and helpful were brought out during the course of evening.

MISS ANITA BOWMAN ENTERTAINS

Miss Anita Bowman entertained fourteen girls at a slumber party Friday night, Dec. 12, at her home on College Way.

The girls were picked up at their homes by a large truck and given an airy ride before they at last reached Anita's home.

The evening was spent in playing games, drawing names and giving Christmas gifts, and in naming the gifts received. The Misses Hollinger were very pleasantly surprised by the arrival of twin dolls, and a monkey. They named them Pet, Repeat, and St. Peter. Refreshments were served in the form of a miniature dinner. The table was set with toy dishes, yet very beautifully arranged. The only trouble was that the girls had to eat according to the tableware. Pot pie, string beans, salad, hot biscuits the size of thimbles, jam, pumpkin pie, and hot chocolate made up the menu.

Since there were five beds, each girl drew a slip with a number on it to decide where she should sleep, if sleep were possible. Many times during the night raids were made on the occupants of different rooms. Each time clothes were taken, tied in knots, and hidden. Water fights were also in order. When morning finally arrived the fourteen girls searched high and low for lost clothing and hurriedly dressed for a breakfast of toast, hot chocolate and jam.

Those who enjoyed the party were: Arvilla Stayer, Evelyn Edminster, Mary Hollinger, Beulah Eikenberry, Grace Gans, Virginia Sterne, Dorothy Page, Evelyn Deardorff, Grace Gockley, Geneva Suttle, Hazel Barnhart, Iva Mae Fyoche, Zula Hollinger and Anita Bowman.

"Some Xmas Spirit"

Once upon a time there were two little orphans. We will call them Gibbel and Opal. They were lonely and hungry and cold, because it was snowing and snowing. They trudged slowly down the street. The wind whistled through the roadside bushes.

The snow whirled, wrapping the children in a cold white blanket. Suddenly they stopped before a brilliantly lighted store window, which was filled with a Christmas tree and many toys.

Eagerly the children turned as a kind voice sounded behind them. They gazed wistfully up into the benevolent face of an old man.

The kind gentleman took the children to his home where there was a little Christmas tree. He gave them gifts, and stuffed them with candy and other food. Gibbel, with a charming lisp, called him Santa Claus.

After drying their clothes and warming their toes by the fire, they became sleepy. The kind Santa Claus, full of the Christmas spirit, filled the children's pockets with candy and nuts. HAZEL GILSON.

1931 FOOTBALL SCHEDULE ANNOUNCED

Santa Barbara Admitted To Conference At Regular Meeting

After a stormy session of the annual Southern Conference football coaches and managers' meeting last Thursday and several hot discussions at the faculty meeting Saturday, football schedules were finally made out and passed on for the 1931 season, and Santa Barbara was admitted to the conference.

Occidental, Pomona and San Diego all refused to play the Leopards in 1931 for various reasons, seemingly all their own. However, Occidental was forced to play La Verne in 1931 because of the "round Robin" agreement in the conference that every team must play every other conference member at least once in every three years; but after Occidental's refusal to play, the many ensuing heated arguments, the decision at the faculty meeting that Oxy must play if La Verne chose to do so, and Eisan's proposal to let the matter drop and not play in 1931—anyway, (after all these things), the La Verne schedule was made up excluding the Tigers. It might be mentioned that neither Pomona nor San Diego had to play next year; but Pomona must play in 1932.

The Roadrunners were taken into the Conference on their 1930 season's record which isn't bad at all. In fact, they tied Caltech, defeated Whittier, Redlands and La Verne, and lost only one game to Occidental which would have placed Santa Barbara third in the Conference had they been a member this year—which is a real record. On the behalf of La Verne College, we, the Campus Times Sports staff, welcome Santa Barbara!

The following is the present 1931 La Verne conference football schedule:

- Whittier at Whittier—Friday night, November 16.
 - Santa Barbara at Santa Barbara, Friday night, November 23.
 - Caltech at La Verne—Saturday, November 31.
 - Redlands at Redlands—Friday night, November 7, or Saturday November 8.
- Games will probably be scheduled with Cal. Christian and Fresno State and possibly Loyola, and one or two Arizona teams, also.

"THE NINE WHO WERE MOTHER" TO BE GIVEN BY CHI DELTA CHI

Members of the Delta Chi have been very busy during the past week learning their lines for their first public appearance which will be Thursday, Dec. 18, during the chapel period. At this time the one-act play, "The Nine Who Were Mother," will be staged. The fol-

The play is being directed by members of the club, and the club advisor, Mrs. Haugh, will put on the finishing touches; so a good production is assured.

As this is to be the club's first appearance, it was decided that no admission be charged. Tell your friends and come Thursday morning to enjoy a different type of a Christmas program in the form of a rollicking Christmas play, "The Nine Who Were Mother."

NICOLAS AND ADAMS ON TEAM

Here it is! The first and second All-Time LaVerne Varsity Football Teams, chosen by ballots cast by 17 outstanding alumni. And what teams they would be! The first team has everything any coach could ask for from Lehmer to Adams, or end to end, and also in the backfield.

Dale Glick was without doubt the best quarterback that has ever played for dear old LaVerne, averaging eight yards per crack his last year; and "Ote" Brooks and "Chet" Shirk combined make up the snappiest, flashiest and most consistent halfbacks ever at LaVerne, having both speed and cleverness in Brooks and a hard charging back that can run excellent interference in Shirk. At the fullback berth we have John Brooks, who with Dale Glick as a possible exception, ranks as the greatest back ever graduated from LaVerne. Without any exception, he was placed on the first team backfield of every voter; and because he received the most votes for fullback, he was placed at that position.

In the line, there are two clever and fast ends in "Hobbs" Adams and Lehmer; two hard playing tackles in Root and Hoff that are willing and ready to get in there and fight it up; two guards that were truly great in Nicolas in particular, and also Hollinger; and the greatest center of all-time in the annals of LaVerne college history in Levi Dickey.

On the second team are many outstanding players but none who challenged the right of any first team man for his position by virtue of the ballots cast. However, with the exception of Bessey, Funk, Welch, and Weybright, all accorded second team positions had many more votes than his nearest competitor.

Bessey at end beat out H. Brownsberger by only three votes, having received three of them for halfback; Funk was only one point ahead of V. Brooks at guard; Welch beat out Bohn and Orville Brooks by two points, the two latter being tied, and Weybright was placed at fullback on the second team because Shirk got more votes at half and made the first team, although he had nearly ten more votes than Weybright for the fullback position.

As to the method by which the teams were chosen: Each man listed on the ballots was given two votes for first string mention and one vote when put on the second

Varsity Club Holds Short Meeting

Change in Varsity Sweater and Monogram Discussed

The Varsity Club held a short meeting in the Chemistry lecture room of the college Saturday, Dec. 6th at 6:00 p.m., with Dwight Welch presiding.

A change from the plain letter to an "L V" monogram for varsity sweaters was discussed as well as a change from the maroon varsity sweater to a dark green.

After much discussion, it was decided to hold the business over until the next meeting which was set for Saturday, December 27 at the Chocolate Tavern in the form of a banquet.

This will give the committee a little time for further investigation. Although there is much controversy as to the nature of the letter or monogram and the shade of color, it looks like a change will be made to a dark green sweater with possibly a green letter trimmed with orange and deep orange stripes on the left sleeve designating the number of letters made.

EISAN JOINS LOM IN GAME AT SAN PEDRO

"Brick" Marcus and Frankian Also Play; Eisan Shines on Pass Defense and Offense

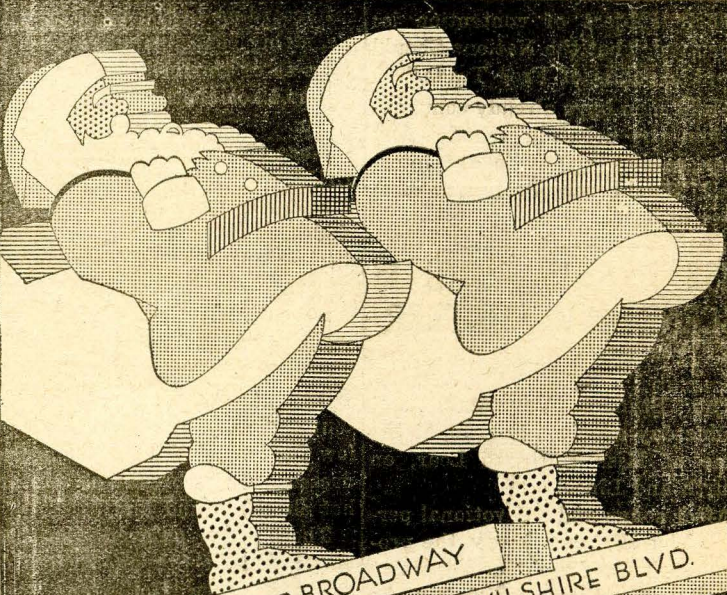

Coach Leland Eisan went "back to nature" for a while this weekend, joined Benny Lom and several other old teammates of his and played football.

The game was between Benny Lom's San Francisco Legionnaire and Manuel Laranetta's San Pedro Longshoremen, on Trona Field, San Pedro.

Eisan played the first half and the last five minutes of the second half; and while in the game thirty-five minutes he played with the Longshoremen's pass and also caught a few tossed Lom on his own hook. Evidently he made few mistakes, if any, for several Leopard critics who were hand found nothing to criticize, and came back to LaVerne with praise of their coach, only, on their lips.

"Brick" Marcus of California and Frankian, an all-American end from St. Mary's last year, also played on Lom's team.
