Dear Mother,

I was perfectly satisfied with the copy of of Margaret's Religion which I paid at 9:30 this A.M.

I had made up my mind not to go as it was all - night.

I have just returned from the City, I called on Maria Nellie and found her had had with the grip. She had been with the Bradlins and when she came back instead to her, caught cold and now is in bed. Little Juliet is

She did not know I was here at school but when she rec'd the invitation to the musicale supposed I was visiting a friend.

It is really time so good-bye. I hope to come read this. I wrote it very hurriedly as I expect the Love to all your affectionate
