Dear Mother

After supper last evening, Mrs. Richards said we might go to church because there was ^{to be} special service in town. Oct. 12, 1892. I asked Miss Coker if I might mail a letter and she said yes so I did not trouble Mother. Don't know my return Mrs. R. handed me a telegram from Miss Eagan saying she would be at Washington to-day. I can not go there because I have four restations and a more learn. I am very sorry she did not come another day because it will always be impossible for me to go to the city on Monday or Thursday unless I miss my most lesson.

I think I can select a coat alone. Maybe I shall go this Saturday. The other Saturday when I go in the winter coats were not out, and perhaps they are not in stock yet.

I will send a telegram to Miss Lagan.

This is a beautiful day and I would enjoy a trip to the city but do not wish to miss so many things.

Love to all
