Dear Mother, -

Yesterday morning
I received Virginia's nice letter. In the after-noon we attended the foot-ball game between Princeton and the University of Pa.
I wrote in Sunday's letter that it was between Schuyl and Princeton but it was not.

The University was victorious. The game was exciting but rough as all foot ball games are.

On my return I found a package and a letter from Eleanor awaiting me. The maids and all right and I am very glad to get them.
In morn the dancing class commences and we will have free afternoon and study hours in the evening. Very few of the teachers are going to take lessons but more day scholars

Take. In morn of the Kindergarten children take lessons.
I received a letter from Elizabeth and Mary saying they had sent the mule to Walnut Point Station in the morning. After quite a hunt Alice Cushman and I found the station and the mule. I did not know there was such a station on the O.R.

I am feeling very well to-day.
My cat is almost well. I want to church this morning and run errands in the afternoon. I am the quietness of the day.
I will not write any more to-day.

Love to you and all.

Your affectionate daughter Georgia Fuller.

Monday, Nov. 9th 1892.

You at Grandville are taking your morning walk and I am dressed for breakfast. I had some studying to do, so got up fifteen minutes earlier.
Maybe I shall write to you this afternoon but if the letter does not come you may know that I was too busy writing a composition on "The Advantages of Studying History".

Love to all your loving daughter Georgia Fuller.
