GEORGE JOHN VANDEVEN

George was born 30 May 1879 in Leopold, Bollinger County, Mo. He was baptizes "Gerhardus Johannes" on the same day. Baptismal sponsors were Meinard Gerh Hinkebein and Mary Engelen. On 17 April 1907, in Leopold, Bollinger Col, Mo. at St. John's Catholic church he married Bernadine Margaret (Dina) Tenholder who was born 31 Jan 1888 in Leopold. She is the daughter of Hendrikus(Henry) Tenholder and Anna M. Steinnerd/Steinert)

An article in the Marble Hill Press December 13, 1906 states

An article announcing their marriage published in the Marble Hill Press state:

" Vandeven-Tenholder - Leopold, Wednesday, April 17, 1907, George Vandeven and Miss Dina Tenholder were united in the holy bonds of matrimony, Rev. P. Kurtenbach officiating. The bride is one of Leopold's most excellent young ladies. She is the second daughter of Henry Tenholder, one of our foremost citizens. The groom is a first class, sober and industrious young man, and has been a prominent figure in society. He is the second son of Martin Vandeven also a number one first-class citizen. John Tenholder, brother of the bride, and Miss Ann Vandeven, a sister of the groom, both of St. Louis, were the attendants. After the ceremony the young couple repaired to the home of the groom's father, where a large number of relatives and friends were awaiting them. Rev P. Kurtenbach honored the young couple with his presence. When noon time came the table was loaded with good things, and everybody was at home, for to be the guest of Martin Vandeven and Henry Tenholder gives one a comfortable and home-like feeling. The bride received a great many presents both costly and beautiful. The afternoon was spent pleasantly by the company and, after the table was spread again and all had done the good things justice once more, everyone went home happy and content, wishing the young couple a long and happy union. May the hand of a kind Providence guide them through life. May all be sunshine, and may life's sun never set till after their golden anniversary, is the sincere wish of A Friend."

Another article in the Leopold News in the Marble Hill Press April 25, 1907 states:

" George Vandeven and Miss Dena Tenholder were married Wednesday, April 17. John Tenholder, brother of the bride and Miss Anna Vandeven, sister of the groom were witnesses. Rev. T. Kurtenbach officiated. George is an industrious young farmer and has many friends in this section of the country. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Tenholder, and is a bright young lady, highly respected by all who know her. HENRY"

An article appearing in the Slimmerville News in the Banner Press, March 6 1924 states:

"Henry Tenholder and George Vandeven, both of Leopold, were welcome visitors in Slimmerville last Friday. Mr. Tenholder has not been in Slimmerville for a long time and was much surprised at the rapid growth of the town. After having dinner at the principal hotel (The Grant House) the two gentlemen toured the town and also visited one of the large saw mills located near us. Later on they transacted business and made a few purchases and left for home. We had a pleasant visit from both and hope to see them over our way again often."

The family is found in the 1920 Federal census. Federal census records of Bollinger County Mo. indicate five children.

A verse depicting the valiant woman reads:

She bath girded her loins with strength and bath strengthened her arms.

It is hard honest labor which this verse brings to mind and involuntarily we think of our deceased Sister Mary Matilda Van de Ven.

Sister Matilda, the daughter of Martin and Mary Van de Ven, was born at Leopold, Missouri, on February 11, 1884. She began school at the age of eight, but on account of the early death of her mother and older sister she was obliged to leave school at the age of eleven years. Until she was eighteen years of age she took care of the Van de Ven home and was early inured to the self-sacrifice and steady work of a substitute for mother in a rural district. Having attained her eighteenth year she spent the winters working out, but in summer work at home demanded her presence there.

She felt herself called to the religious state and finally resolved to enter a convent. Not knowing whither to go, she turned for advice to her Father Confessor who directed her to the School Sisters of Notre Dame. She entered at Sancta Maria in Ripa on August 27, 1906. In August of the following year she wore the wreath of roses and lilies. The thorny crown of the Crucified Spouse was placed upon her head on August 12, 1909. She sealed these vows forever on July 20, 1916.

As novice Sister Matilda was sent to St. Andrew Mission, St. Louis. Her next missions were Perpetual Help, St. Louis; Krakow, Missouri; and SS. Peter and Paul, St. Louis. She was engaged in these places as cook and laundress. Her last mission was St. Philip, Edgemont. Here rheumatic pains tortured her body. Other physical troubles added their share of crucifixion and in the summer of 1936 in order to recuperate after an operation, she was sent to the Villa Gesu.

In less than a month after her arrival here, Sister was obliged to return to the hospital where her case was diagnosed as cancer. After spending several weeks more in the hospital she returned to the Villa. She recovered to such an extent that she made herself useful in sewing and doing odds and ends about the house. After some time her suffering became so intense that her return to the hospital for treatments became imperative. Again she returned to the Villa, became bed-ridden for several months and was anointed on the Feast of St. Joseph. Her strong will power and energy brought her to her feet again, — and again she made herself useful here and there.

In October 1938 Sister took to her bed and lingered on until the following January. She was again fortified by the last rites of the Church. Intense was the suffering and hard and long the struggle of that strong body and powerful will. She tried to bear all with patience and resignation to the holy will of God, in expiation for her shortcomings and faults and in union with the Suffering Christ. She strove to gird her loins and strengthen her arm against the attacks of racking pain and sore trials. On January 7 while the chaplain recited the prayers for the dying her chastened soul returned to its Maker.

Sister Matilda ever proved herself a dutiful Martha, a prayer-loving soul and a special client of St. Joseph who never failed her. She was ingenious in her methods of making other people happy. On feastdays and holidays she surprised the community with extra dishes which she had carefully planned. She prepared little games to amuse all. Her capacity for work was unbounded and untiring. She would take upon herself the various household duties of any Sister especially of such that were overburdened. With all her work in kitchen and laundry, she never considered herself when there was question of rendering extra services, such as mending habits, veils, etc. Hers was a cheerful disposition, radiating joy and spreading sunshine into the lives of those who were privileged to come in contact with her sunny personality. Even in her extremely acute pains she preserved her cheerful outlook on life as much as possible.

May she soon be admitted into the radiance of a blissful eternity and may she there, her loins girt with strength and her arm strengthened, plead with St. Joseph and through him with the Foster Son to bless the Order spiritually and materially and ensure for all its members entrance into Heaven.

ANNA VANDEVEN

Anna was born 07 Mar 1887. She was baptized "Anna Bernardenam" on the same day. Her baptismal sponsors were Henry Elfrink and Bernadina Vandeven.

Anna entered the convent.

An autobiography of Anna (Sister Mary Martinella Van de Ven:

" My home is in Leopold, Missouri, where I was born on March 7, 1887. My father was a native of Holland, and my mother was a born American of German descent. My parents were good practical Catholics, who endeavored to bring up their children in the fear of God. Most of our training we owe, however, to our good father, since our dear mother died when we were quite young; I was then but three year old. My father appreciated it very much that two of his daughters, an older sister of mine, our Sister M. Matilda, and myself entered the convent. Whenever he paid us a visit he said that he does not know how he ever merited the grace of having two children dedicated to God in religion.

Owing to the early death of my mother, my childhood was not a bright and happy one, for my father was obliged to put me to one of his brothers, so that his wife might take care of me. She, however, as it seemed, was not too well pleased with her charge, and though my uncle was usually kind to me, my aunt was not. When I was seven years old, a neighbor who had been witness of the hard treatment I received, told my father of it. He immediately took me home, and I began to go to school. But soon another great sorrow befell our home, for my oldest sister died just five years after my dear mother's death.

Having passed through the classes of our Parochial School, I received my First Holy communion at the age of twelve. After this I spent seven years at home with my father, and at the age of nineteen, I came to St. Louis, where I found a position in a good Catholic family. A year later, I came to Reverend Father Bettels, Pastor of St. Bernard's Parish, Divine Providence had evidently marked this path for me, since it was there that I discovered that my vocation was to dedicate my life to God. Next to the grace of God, I think I owe this to the good example of the Sisters of Christian Charity, for it was there that I became acquainted with them. That I was attracted to the Order of Notre dame, is principally due to the edification given me on my visits to Santa Maria in Ripa, when I came to see my older sister, who had entered four years before I did. I began to thnk that, what these good sisters could do, I, too, can do with the grace of God, and so I applied for admission. I entered on the 25th of May, 1910. This date had been selected by myself, as it was the twentieth anniversary of my sainted mother's death. The next year I was received, and two year later, I was one of the happy number permitted to pronounce the Holy Vows. I have always been employed in the Motherhouse, where I am happy and contended.

FAMILY NOTES

MEINARD GEORGE HINKEBEIN

Meinard George married in Germany and they came to the U. S. on a boat as their honeymoon. Meinard's first wife died when Theodore was 3 years old. It was not customary at that time to remarry before a year has passed after the death of a spouse. But Meinard said "I have 2 babies that need a mother" and he married his second wife in Cincinnati only after 6 months. The second wife was a Stuebervelt from Holland and she wanted to move to Missouri because old friends she knew there. One was a Mr. and Mrs. Kohler.

Grandpa and Grandma Hinkebein lived on the Hinkebein farm all the rest of their lives.

Meinard's farm became John's after his death and John's children lived on it: Henry, Herman and George. It's still existing (1988) but has been sold out of the family. On it was 2 barns, a corn crib, smoke house and the home.

From Matthew Hinkebein (grandson)

I didn't know my great grandparents, Meinard and Mary Catherine. Both died before I was born. I did hear that he was a good blacksmith and had made all the locks on his home. Meinard might also have lived in Covington, Kentucky, which is near Cincinnati.

From Laurence Hinkebein (great grandson)

FAMILY NOTES

Theodore Hinkebein

Grandpa Hinkebein's house was made of logs and he built it himself. It was made up of several rooms with a sort of breezeway in between. The whole house had a common roof and there were two gables I believe. There was a back porch and it ran about halfway across the rear of the house, the front porch was added on later and it went the length of the front of the house.

There was an upstairs, called the loft, where the boys all slept. It had a floor but the walls were left unfinished. They used feather beds and some had straw mattresses. In the summer, the men would come in from the fields around noon, for the big meal of the day and then they would take a 'siesta' in the breezeway where it was cooler. No air conditioning back then ! Grandpa also had a blacksmith shop on the property as he did some smithing for himself and neighbors.

From Laurence Hinkebein (grandson)

Grandpa's house was made of logs, later added on to. I can remember those hand hewn logs. A long porch ran the length of the front of the house and there was a big cedar tree in the front yard. I can remember the wooden rocking horse that Uncle Joe had carved and that all the cousins loved playing on. I also liked to run the emery wheel, it was good size and ran with a pedal.

Grandpa spoke mostly German but he did know English. He was very crippled and walked with a cane. I was about ten when he died. They lived in Leopold and we lived in Chaffee. I thought it was very far away but , of course, I know now it was only about 25 miles. We would go to visit Grandma and Grandpa in our Model T about every month or so. There were no highways back then, just dirt and rock roads and it took 3-4 hours, especially if it had rained and was muddy.

From Clementine Hinkebein Wagner (grand daughter)

FAMILY NOTES
THEODORE HINKEBEIN

I remember both Grandpa and Grandma (Anne) Hinkebein's funerals. They were laid out at their home in the big room across the hall. Relatives and friends sat up all night with the family and the next morning the body was taken to St. John's Church for the funeral mass. Then the casket was carried by the pallbearers to the cemetery which was about a block from the church. All the people walked in a procession behind, praying the rosary in German.

From Edna Hinkebein Vega (Grand daughter)

I have heard that Catherine, Grandpa's first wife, had a big loom, six foot wide, and that she made blankets on it. They raised sheep and that is where the wool came from. Grandma Anne had a spinning wheel. All of the children (my dad, John, and all his brothers and sisters) knew how to knit and they made their own scarves, mittens, socks, etc.

Grandpa had a log smoke house on the farm where they would smoke hogs that they had raised and butchered. There was also a nice apple orchard and they had a cider press. Every year they made good cider and some they would let ferment for use as vinegar. Grandma had a couple of fig trees too and grew hops.

From Laurence Hinkebein (Grandson)

I can remember Grandmother Anne Hinkebein. She was a rather slender woman but short and had a long face. She had suffered with ulcerated varicose veins for 16 years and the infection made it smell bad. This terrible infection is what caused her death in 1929.

From Clementine Hinkebein Wagner (Grand daughter)

FAMILY NOTES
THEODORE HINKEBEIN

Grandma Anne made beautiful wool coverlets from the wool off the sheep they raised. I can especially recall a blue and red one that she made.

From Edna Hinkebein Vega (grand daughter)

Grandpa was about 5'10" and never very heavy. He had dark hair and very little gray hair when he died. He was crippled and walked with a cane for as long as I can remember. I heard he was thrown from a horse at one time making his wrist crooked and breaking his hip. Another time he was severely injured when one of the children, (I think M.G.) fell from a load of hay and landed on Grandpa's back, breaking his neck and back.

From Laurence Hinkebein (grandson)

My grandpa Theodore Hinkebein had a brother named John and he had three sons: Herman, Henry and George. George was called Big George or Red George because he had a red face.

FAMILY NOTES

They were doing photo's of Aunt Annie's anniversary. Frank came in bib overalls, but they wanted him to look better for the photo, so they made him lower his bib and put on a coat.

From Sister Mary Ambrose Peters (granddaughter)

Aunt Olivia was Clem's godmother. I remember she would give all of us kids boxes of homemade cookies at Christmas. My godparents were M.G. Hinkebein (dad's older brother) and Aunt Mina (Stoverink)

From Edna Hinkebein Vega (granddaughter)

Uncle Bill Hinkebein dad's youngest brother, was close to Laurence's age and they were very close. Laurence would always play with him when the families got together.

From Edna Hinkebein Vega (granddaughter)

I used to go visit the grandparents in Leopold in the summertime and go hunting with Bill. Bill is the youngest of dad's brothers. I didn't talk much with my grandpa Stoverink since it was hard to communicate, as he didn't speak much English.

From Laurence Hinkebein (grandson)

FAMILY NOTES

I built a play sawmill by using a 55 gallon barrel and taking the top off and cutting teeth in the edge, then drilling a hole in the middle. We took the blade out to a field to make a sawmill. Whenever dad moved the real sawmill, he cleared the field by burning. So we boys decided to clean the field for our sawmill. We started the fire but needed all the neighbors to put out the fire.

From Ambrose Peters (grandson)

Uncle Bill used to come down and take his kids swimming, but the Peters kids never got to go. So FX, Bernice, Ambrose, Margie Ann, and Januar decided to build their own. They dug a hole in the front yard and filled it with cistern water.

From Sister Mary Ambrose Peters (granddaughter)

Another time, the same Peters kids were skinny dipping and a neighbor saw them and went to tell Aunt Kate. They all ran home and hid under the bed (still naked). Their mom had come after them with a razor strap. She used a broomstick to get them out from under the bed.

From Sister Mary Ambrose Peters (granddaughter)

Ted Peters had bought a thrashing machine but was late in making payments because his customers were late in paying him. A collector came looking for him and asked Aunt Kate for directions. After he left, she had all the kids pray that the collector wouldn't find Ted - and he didn't.

From Sister Mary Ambrose Peters (granddaughter)

FAMILY NOTES

Mom was a very kind, fun loving and hard working person. She was known as a very good cook. She always raised a big garden and did a lot of canning. If a relative, neighbor, or friend needed help, either from sickness, or having a new baby, or with the wheat harvest in the summer, or even butchering the hogs in winter, she was always glad to help.

Mom liked to crochet, knit and tat. She knitted wool stockings for us to wear to school and also knitted socks for the servicemen during World War I. She even made her own wedding dress and veil and baked her own wedding cake.

She was very much afraid of storms (lightening and thunder). When she was still at home, lightening struck Grandpa Theodore's barn and killed several horses. The hay caught on fire. Mom said they had done the laundry that day and the wash water was still siting there, so they carried it to the barn to put the fire out. At that time, all the farming was done with horses, so it was a great loss.

Dad has two sisters, Gertrude and Dreika. Aunt Dreika married mom's younger brother, Uncle Joe Hinkebein.

FAMILY NOTES

JOHN HERMAN AND BERNADING HINKEBEIN

My favorite song that grandpa Hinkebein Sang:

Well I walked around Chaffee
And I walked around the block
I walked right into a donut shop.
I took two donuts right out of the grease
And handed the lady a 5 cent piece.

She looked at the nickel
And she looked at me
She said "This nickle's no good to me
There's a hole in the nickel
And it's all the way through
Said I, there's a hole in the donut too!

Kathy Krewson

Pop would often sing us children to sleep at night. He sang songs like "Sloft Kinchen Sloft", which is German for "Sleep Baby Sleep", "Here Kindelein Comet", which is "come Little Children" and mom would sing harmony with him. Other songs they would sing that I remember were: "Red Wing", "Silver Bells" and "By the Light of the Silvery Moon". Pop loved to sing and he was the bass singer at St. Ambrose church in Chaffee for many years.

FAMILY NOTES
JOHN HINKEBEIN

Grandpa took me to see the first diesel railroad engine that was on display at the round house. This was the first in the nation and it traveled the country with the cars full of memorabilia. I got special treatment because I was John Herman's grandson.

From John B. Wagner (grandson)

In Benton, or it might have been Allenville, we grew watermelons and cantaloupes to sell. It wasn't too profitable though, as the shipping to St. Louis was expensive. One year I remember, we grew peanuts.

When we lived in Allenville, every spring, it would come a flood. The house we lived in there stood on stilts, but the water would come up sometime within inches of the porch. Dad kept a small canoe tied up to the front porch of the house to get around in. Our barn stood on a hill across the road, so you would have to use the boat to milk and feed the cows.

From Laurence Hinkebein (son)

I can remember the wheat harvest time when I was young. The women would all get together from around the community and cook and bake. They would prepare a huge meal for the threshers and field hands.

I also remember that mom would make homemade soap when she had any old grease. I can't recall that we ever made candles but could have.

From Edna Hinkebein Vega (daughter)

FAMILY NOTES
JOHN HINKEBEIN

My mother, Bernadine, wore bone corsets and had a 20 inch waist. She had brown, almost black eyes and her hair was dark brown. Dad had gray eyes. All of us kids had brown except for Edna, her's are gray like dads.

Dad knew German well and some Dutch, and mom could speak Dutch and some German. They usually only used the other languages when we would visit the grandparents. One expression mom often used was "Mi Ya Sus" which was "My Jesus" I think. She said this when she was angry or disgusted.

From Laurence Hinkebein (son)

I remember when we moved to Chaffee. I got to ride in a wagon with mom, Paul and Olivia. The others rode in a different wagon. This was in November of 1923. Uncle Joe Hinkebein (dad's brother) came to live with us and worked as a blacksmith's helper for the Frisco RR with dad. Later Uncle Joe got married in Leopold and we all attended the all day wedding.

In late May of 1925, mom was to have a baby. Dad hired Mary Stoverink to come and help the family for a couple of weeks. Weeks went by and no baby. Mary had intended to attend a friends wedding in late June in Leopold. So she took us three girls, Edna, Nettie and Me with her. We rode the caboose of the local train, there were no passenger trains, just freight. Louis Holzum, Mary's fiancé, met us at the station with a horse and buggy for the rest of the trip to Leopold. Mom delivered a stillborn baby, James, on June 18, 1925.

From Clementine Hinkebein Wagner (daughter)

JOHN HINKEBEIN

John was a 'sport about town' in his younger days. He latter married into the Stoverinks - a nice family. He was a farmer till he went broke, then worked as a blacksmith for the Frisco Railroad and he did well at it. He was very popular and talkative and everyone liked him.

From Matthew Hinkebein (brother)

Both mom and pop were very religious, never missing Mass or any other service at the church. They were very family oriented, teaching us love, obedience, honesty and faith.

I remember when my baby sister, Patsy, was born. It was a Sunday morning and the next day Uncle Bill and Aunt Annie came to the house. Patsy was baptized about 4 p.m. at St. Ambrose church in Chaffee. Uncle Bill and Aunt Annie Vandeven were the godparents and they had come about 25 miles from Glennon, Mo.

From Clementine Hinkebein Wagner (daughter)

When I was young, sometimes we had taffy pulls if we had friends over. We went to dances, some were in the surrounding towns. We always donated and helped at the parish picnic at St. Ambrose's to make money for the church. All the other little towns around had picnics too and we would often go. That's where most people spent their summer weekends or else there might be a wedding to attend.

My teenager years were in Chaffee. For fun we went to dances and once in a while to a movie, they were only 10 cents then! We also had CYO at church where we attended meetings and had recreation. We didn't spend much money as there wasn't any to spend! Of course, not many folks did have any, so I guess we didn't know if we were being deprived of anything. I went to work in the garment factory in Chaffee to help the family during the depression years.

FAMILY NOTES
JOHN HINKEBEIN

The family mostly shopped in Chaffee for things we may need.

After I had started working, we shopped in Cape Girardeau if we bought clothes. My dad would say "Keep your money in your home town to help with the economy".

When we went to Leopold to visit the grandparents, we all would go and it was a carload! Seems cars were made smaller then. It was about 25 miles to Leopold and we usually went on a Sunday after church.

From Edna Hinkebein Vega (daughter)

Nettie and I were in Chaffee Central High School together. I started in high school in September of 1933 and Nettie in 1934. She had to stay out in 1933 to help mom at home when Patsy was born. Edna didn't get to go to high school I don't believe and she went to work at a pants factory to help support the family.

From Clementine Hinkebein Wagner (daughter)

When Gene was born April 30, 1927, we older kids went to the neighbors to stay. He was a real skinny baby and only weighed about 4 pounds. Teresa was born just before Christmas (Dec 21, 1928) and she had a dresser drawer for her crib. I remember mom made her a beautiful quilt from a piece of silk that my aunt had sent to her.

Patsy was born on a Sunday (October 15, 1933). Dad had the boys go by to tell Doc Finney on their way to Mass. He didn't get there till after the baby was born though. I remember my brother Vince brought a bunch of boys from school the next day to see his new baby sister.

From Edna Hinkebein Vega (daughter)

FAMILY NOTES
JOHN HINKEBEIN

When we lived in Chaffee, we made about ten gallons a week of 'home brew'. The recipe? Well, you'd mix yourself up five pounds of sugar, a two pound can of malt syrup and a package of Fleischman's yeast in a big jar or crock. Then just let it sit awhile.

From Laurence Hinkebein (son)

I never had any part of making moonshine !!!!

From Edna Hinkebein Vega (daughter)

I started school in September 1924 in the "chart" class. We learned from a big chart, our ABS's and numbers. In the first grade, I learned to read words like CAT, DOG, ETC and to write my name - all 19 letter of it! I received a holy card for that and wrote my name on it. I didn't miss a single day of school in chart class A. Once, in a deep snow, Laurence and Vince pulled Nettie and me to school in the wagon.

While growing up, the girl's chores were helping mom with the housework, dishes, sweeping and mopping floors, laundry, etc. Nettie always said that water hurt her hands (she had nice soft hands) and she said I couldn't make a bed the right way. So, she usually did the beds while I did the dishes.

In July, we'd all go out to pick blackberries. We would bring home 10-15 gallons or more at a time. We would go out every other day or so while they were in season. Then we'd have to sort and wash them in big tubs of water. Mom canned them in half gallon jars and, of course, made jelly and jam too. I always hated milk from the cow, so I'd use the juice from the canned berries or peaches on my cereal for breakfast.

From Clementine Hinkebein Wagner (daughter)

FAMILY NOTES
JOHN HINKEBEIN

In Benton, the Catholic school was about two miles away from our place. I had to walk there, of course, and it was uphill all the way. I remember the worst of it was that I had to pass right by the public school on the way there.

From Laurence Hinkebein (son)

When I was about 7 years old, I stepped on a nail with my left foot. It became infected with tetanus. The tetanus was horrible and I was very sick for a long time. I had to have tetanus shots every day. They said my blood was poisoned and I would often get bed sores and Pustules all over with terrible drainage. There were places on my right arm that drained for nearly 10 years and I had to keep it wrapped up. My brothers and sisters prayed a lot for me and made novenas to St. Teresa the Little Flower. I feel I owe a lot to her in my eventual recovery.

During the depression, Laurence, my brother, was in the CCC's for about 7 years. He earned $30 a month plus his room and board. He kept $5.00 for his own needs and the rest was sent home to help out mom and dad. Laurence learned to live on very little. Later, he also helped run a movie house and made a little more at that.

From Edna Hinkebein Vega (daughter)

Grandma Hinkebein (Bernadine) always kept lemon drops in the china cabinet in the dining room for us kids. We lived just a few doors down from them on Summit.

From Louise Hinkebein Tolle (granddaughter)

I have heard that Grandma Hinkebein was very kind to all the neighborhood children and was very active in the church.

From Claudette Vega Daly (granddaughter)

FAMILY NOTES
JOHN HINKEBEIN

Our teacher, Sister Mary Basil, had a favorite saint, St. Teresa, the Little Flower. She called her the patron saint of girls. Sister also had a younger sister in Olympia, Washington, born after she had joined the convent that was named Agnes Teresa. So we transposed the names to Teresa Agnes and that is where Teresa got her name from.

I think we just liked the name of Patricia and Ann was probably for her godmother, Aunt Annie Vandeven. I was named for Father Clement Moaning, a family friend and Ann for grandma Annie Hinkebein.

From Clementine Hinkebein Wagner (daughter)

I lived in the household until I was 4 years old. We all lived in the house that grandpa rented at 2728 Summit. Grandpa always seemed to have time for me even after working a long day as a blacksmith for the railroad. He would often walk with me to the "Indian Scout" a bronze statue of an Indian on a horse which I believe still stands at the south end of Penn Valley Park. He let me climb up and sit on the horse. I can remember the old family dog, Gipp. He was a Chow, I think, and he would sit at the front door until all the family members were home safe before he came in at night.

Grandpa's best friend worked at the railroad with him. He was named "Bub" Clifford. They walked to work together each day. I can remember grandpa buying a live chicken from Dandy's grocery store, on Southwest Blvd. He would take me along to pick out the bird and then let me chop off its head in the backyard. We would soak it in a tub of water heated over an open fire and then pick and clean it. Aunt Patsy thought the entire process was cruel.

FAMILY NOTES
JOHN HINKEBEIN

We had a piano in the hall at the house on Summit, and we all sang a lot. I also remember eating pickled pig's feet and ears with grandpa. He also liked the part of the chicken that went over the fence last !

From John B. Wagner (grandson)

When Pete went overseas during the war and Claudette was just a baby, Nettie and I lived on Oakley together. Then Nettie moved to San Antonio, Texas, which is where Johnny was stationed. I didn't like being in the house alone, so I went to stay with mom and dad. Mom needed help in the household anyway, as she was in poor health from high blood pressure, etc, and the three youngest, Patsy, Teresa, and Gene were still at home and needed looking after. Later, I moved back on Oakley.

From Edna Hinkebein Vega (daughter)

Grandpa John was a strong man who was very proud of hard work. I knew him when he was getting quite old and crippled though he always had a strong character. He was very fond of my mother (Teresa) who in turn was fond and tolerant of him. My favorite memories of him are walking through the park with him and my brothers, where we would collect walnuts for my mother.

From Mark Harris (grandson)

Grandpa John Hinkebein was tall and loved to sing especially German songs. He would often sneak sips of whiskey to us kids from the lid of his bottle. I can remember the card games that the adults would play at our house. Grandpa, Uncle Gene, Uncle Laurence, Uncle Vince, and my dad (Pete Vega) would play and sometimes I thought they would break the dining room table when they pounded the table when they played their card.

From Claudette Vega Daly (granddaughter)

FAMILY NOTES

When I was only about two year old, we lived on Summit a few doors down from Grandpa and Grandma. Grandpa used to take me over to Penn Valley Park and we would walk around the rock wall edging the pond and watch the ducks there.

From Louise Hinkebein Tolle (granddaughter)

Grandpa was very tall and lanky with a large frame. He had very large feet! He liked to drink whiskey and play cards, mostly pinochle. At the Vega's house when playing cards with mom, dad, Aunt Edna and Uncle Pete, if Grandpa saw thst something went wrong in the hand, grandpa would pound his fist on the table and shake his little finger , saying "My fault, my fault".

Grandma Hinkebein died on my birthday when I was one year old, July 15, 1946. She had given me a doll that was about 7 inches tall and made of wood. I had the head for many years.

From Anita Wheeler Morrison (granddaughter)

I must have been pretty young, but I can remember walking with grandpa Hinkebein to a corner store where he would buy a pint of whiskey and buy me a piece or two of candy. Lots of times he would give me a small capful of whiskey, warning me not to spill it ! He had a brown wooden cane that he used. I remember one time I way playing with it (disobeying as usual!) and the reddish rubber end came off. I hid it under the couch so no one would notice. Of course they did and I sure got yelled at.

I remember later that we would go visit him in the nursing home. I didn't like going there, grandpa didn't seem the same anymore. Once we brought him some new handkerchiefs and I can remember thinking what a stupid gift that was but grandpa liked them (or pretended to anyway!)

FAMILY NOTES
JOHN HINKEBEIN

I can remember the big birthday party for Grandpa Hinkebein's 80 birthday. It was at our house on Valley. Aunt Nettie made a huge three layer cake. All the cousins and aunts and uncles were there and we had a fun time.

From Kathy Harris Serrano (granddaughter)

Grandpa Hinkebein was tall and mostly bald, with bushy eyebrows and a scratchy beard. He had large hands and his fingers were stiff and shook from Parkinson's. A bottle of whiskey (Hill and Hill, I think) could usually be found in his back pocket and he would give us some from the cap. I thought it was a real treat. I was told that he lived with us when I was a baby. One day, mom went out to hang the laundry and left me in the house with grandpa. I had stated to cry and grandpa was trying to give me a drink from the cap when mom came back in. The whiskey splashed all over my face. I guess she wasn't too pleased! (but I've liked the taste ever since!).

Mom used to take me with her on Sunday Afternoons to visit grandpa when he was in the nursing home. He would usually have the radio on, listening to either a ball game or the Rosary recitation. His rosary was either in his hands or on the bedside table.

I remember Grandpa's 80th Birthday party. It was held at our house. Aunt Nettie baked a huge cake, 4 or 5 tiers, with 80 candles and we lit them all. I also remember Grandpa at Vega's one Christmas Eve, probably 1963 or so. He was sitting in the chair to the left of the front door (under the whizzo banks) and all the grand children were seated at his feet. He sang Silent Night in German.

FAMILY NOTES
JOHN HINKEBEIN

I have few memories of Grandpa Hinkebein. I do recall him as a tall, bald man. I have some memories of him at some picnics, mom says that we went to several of his railroad picnics at Budd Park. Mom also tells me that he liked to wiggle his ears to amuse the grandchildren. I do remember probably the last time I saw him. It was at a nursing home on one of our trips back to K. C. He was very weak and shaking very badly then. I have a picture of Jenny and me with grandpa on this visit.

From Paul (Butch) Hinkebein (grandson)

Grandpa Hinkebein seemed very frail and thin as I remember him. I remember him most at the nursing home when we would go to visit him there. He sometimes gave me a small swig of his whiskey

From Judy Harris Cruse (granddaughter)

We moved to Kansas City in July 1937 when dad was transferred. Actually, I didn't move there until August of 1938 when I came up with Edna. Nettie also didn't move until she had graduated in May 1938. Anyway, the move was great since dad had only been working two or three days a month from 1923 - 1937 there in Chaffee and the move meant full time work. We lived on Madison Avenue first and then later moved to 2728 Summit in 1939. It was a much larger and better house and we lived there for quite awhile. In Kansas city, we didn't have a car. Before we had moved, dad had a 1924 Dodge touring car and I think an old Chevrolet. In Kansas City, we walked everywhere or rode the bus. In 1940, Laurence bought a 1934 Plymouth which was the only transportation for the family. In 1946, Pete (Vega) got an Oldsmobile.

JOHN HINKEBEIN

After we moved to Kansas City, dad would have to walk to work from our house at 28th and Summit to his job at 17th and Jarboe. When he got there, he had to walk down 165 steps and then back up again at the end of the day. The house we rented on Summit was found through a friend of dad's at the railroad, a Mr. Clifford. He walked with dad to work.

During the war WWII, many things were rationed or scarce - sugar, meat, lard, laundry soap, gasoline, coffee, even wool material. You couldn't buy anything made of steel like washing machines or cars. Everything was going for the war effort and we used ration coupons.

JOHN HINKEBEIN

I remember a trip to Leopold when I was about 13 years old. Larry Nesbit (Aunt Patsy's husband) had a brand new '54 Mercury which was the sharpest thing I had ever seen ! A couple of days later he let me drive it on a back country road, the first time I had ever driven a car. Grandpa Hinkebein rode down with us that time.

A year or two later, I made a trip to southeast Missouri and Richard Harris (Aunt Teresa's husband) drove that year. I think grandpa and Gene were with us. We stayed overnight in St. Louis at some relatives but they didn't have enough room for everyone, so Gene and I slept in the car at the curb.

From John B. Wagner (grandson)

I always remember the visits to the Wagners, especially the week that Mike and I spent with them. It was a lot of fun visiting with the Vega's at Christmas, too. My mother and Aunt Patsy were very close and so our families got together quite often.

The family picnics were always a lot of fun. On the fourth of July, everyone went to the Wagners. There were big tables set up down under the trees with lots of good food. There were firework flares. Usually there was too much drinking though. I'm glad it's more civil now and everyone seems to tolerate the liquor better.

Aunt Patsy occasionally babysat for us and she also cut my hair several times. We visited relatives quite often in the years past. I remember one huge shrimp dinner at our house with Teresa and Richard and Family, but I don't recall the occasion.

I remember that Uncle Gene would sing "The Night of the Wedding" or other Irish songs and he did the Irish jig many times. He also slept out on the front porch in the summer sometimes.

From Claudette Vega Daly

I remember Aunt Patsy as a teenager and her friends Delores (Dodo) Hernandez and Pauline Woods. They were always taking popular songs and changing the titles and lyrics.....LEPROSY, OH MY GOD I'VE GOT LEPROSY' sung to the top hit "Jealousy". They were really funny.

Uncle Henry (Gene) would sit in the grass at Penn Valley Park or on the concrete retaining wall of Lowell School at 27th and Madison and practice his bugle. Gene traveled to Florida with his Drum and Bugle Corps for a parade in the early 50's. He brought me back a coconut right off the tree. I couldn't peel it and got mad. Everyone laughed.

From John B. Wagner

I remember one Christmas Uncle Pete and Aunt Edna (Vega) my godparents, gave me a little nativity set. Inside was a little ring box with a gold ring that had a ruby stone, my birthstone.

When visiting Aunt Clem and Uncle Jack (Wagner) in the summer, we usually brought home some home grown green beans.

FAMILY NOTES
JOHN HINKEBEN

At Uncle Vince and Aunt Lucille's (Hinkebein) on Myrtle Street, we would sit on the front porch at night on a swing talking.

When we visited Uncle Laurence and Aunt Louie's (Hinkebein), my cousin Louise made up a game where we were blindfolded and felt some strange things in her garage. She would make up fantastic stories about what they were.

From Anita Wheeler Morrison

I remember when we used to visit fairly regularly with all the different families. Each place was unique and holds different memories and experiences.

At the Vega's, there were always crayons and color books in the bottom kitchen drawer for the kids and in the living room closet was a big box of Little Golden books. We played on the back porch when the weather was too cold or raining, but most of the time we either played in the back yard or in the street. We played 'invisible baseball' (who made that one up????) and 'City". There was a bit of mystery here for me as a child because Uncle Gene lived upstairs and we kids weren't allowed to go up there.

At the Wagner's it seemed like we drove forever to get there and it was way out in the country. They had those 'funny' mailboxes and lots of frogs. We played outdoors most of the time, pushing each other down the hill in an old wagon or walking along the railroad tracks. Aunt Clem always had a nice garden and we always come home with something from it.

FAMILY NOTES
JOHN HINKEBEIN

Going to the Harris' was also an adventure. It seemed far away also and the first thing I looked for was the KCPL building. Then soon you could smell the stockyards and as soon as we got to the brick roads, I knew we would soon be there! Mom and Aunt Teresa would go off in the kitchen to visit. I don't know where daddy and Uncle Richard went, and the kids would play outside on the big swing set. Kathy and I would always try to devise a way to spend the night together, either I would stay or she would come back with us. The boys were always mean, but I guess we liked it since we were always egging them on!

From Barbara Nesbit Hausey

I remember staying with Aunt Teresa. It was fun to play with the neighbors in the dirt. Uncle Gene used to sing "We're poor little sheep who have lost our way...Baa" He also played the trumpet I think. Claudette and Kathy (Vega) played the piano. My favorite thing to eat at the Vega's was Uncle Pete's apple pie.

From Anita Wheeler Morrison

Uncle Gene and Richard Harris' cousin Roy Hurst used to take me roller skating at the Pal-Mor rink over on Main Street. We would return home (walking) through Penn Valley Park. No fear of mugging, etc. then.

Uncle Pete (Vega) came back from the war with only one leg. I was fascinated with his stub. He got an Oldsmobile (New '46 or '47) and it had an automatic transmission, no clutch. I always thought the Army had built this special feature especially for him because he was missing a limb!

From John B. Wagner

FAMILY NOTES
JOHN HINKEBEIN

Uncle Pete (Vega) was a man of great integrity and I feel I learned much from him. He had a strong love of family and was very straight forward. He was also very courageous, not only for his duty to country but in his own battle with cancer.

Aunt Patsy was a wonderful woman who cared deeply for her children. Her loss was a deep family tragedy—the same is true for Aunt Nettie.

I remember Claudette (Vega) getting married. It was just after the loss of my mother and grandpa Hinkebein. The wedding was a great tonic for everyone, bringing joy back to the family.

From Mark Harris

Louise Hinkebein used to baby-sit for me and my sisters and brothers when I was little. When I was older I babysat for Mark & Mike Harris and Barbara Nesbit.

One time when visiting the Vega's the grownups were all playing cards and us kids decided to put on a skit. We cluttered up the kitchen, then beckoned the parents to watch and sang "Cleaning the Attic is Lots of Fun!".

In the summer when we visited there, we kids spent a lot of time in the tree out back.

I remember that Charley (Vega) would like to eat raw potatoes!

JOHN HINKEBEIN

When very small, I used to stay overnight with my cousin Louise (Uncle Laurence's) when they lived on Norton Street. I would also spend a night once in awhile with cousin Paul Corwin (Wheeler) when they lived on Kensington. There were yards with trees at both places. This was the nearest to country living I had encountered at that time!

Paul and Ted used to come spend a few days each summer out on Murkin Road (now 75th Street) after we moved out there in 1952.

I went to the first keg party of Richard Harris' but have not managed to attend another, though I understand some of his boys continue the tradition. I appreciate receiving an invitation each year, though.

From John B. Wagner

Nearly all of us kids had nicknames, when we were younger. Here are some of them that I remember:

Erline	Erlidene
Anita	Anilu
Dorothy	Dottie Jean
Jerry	Werry Wheeler
Laverne	Love Laverne
Corwin	Corny
Mary Ruth	Mary Ruthendale
John	Johnny Joe

Mom told me that on her first dinner date with dad, Corwin Wheeler, she invited him to dinner at her home and they served pigtails and sauerkraut. She met him at a dance place called Wolfs.

I can recall staying overnight with Paul and Pauline Hinkebein not long after their marriage. They had a record player, the first I had ever seen. The greatest song I had ever heard they had, "Woodman Save That Tree" by Phil Harris. I don't think I have heard it since.

From John B. Wagner

Uncle Pete (Vega) lost his leg in Kohn, Germany. He tied a tourniquet on his own leg and then passed out. He was in a Catholic Hospital over there for quite a while and then sent home. The plane trip back to the States was very rough on him and is probably why he never did like flying. There was a bridge that crossed the Rhine River over there that was named for Pete, the "Victor J. Vega Bridge". It was later replaced.

He was in the 283rd and I have a book about it that was written by one of the men in his unit. When Pete was injured, it was about 6 weeks before I was notified by a chaplain and just a few days later I received a note from Pete. It was on what they called 'V-Mail' which were very small letters that were used in the war. Of course, during that time, all the mail was censored.

I met Jack Wagner when he came to work at Freedman Manufacturing Co., where I had been working since 1939. We were married 22 May 1943. We lived at various places over the years; 84 & Troost, Clinton (Mo.) 3738 Belleview (KC) 2728 Summit (K.C.) 2724 Summit (K. C.) and then 12018 E. 75 (Raytown, MO) and we lived there for 28 years.

Teresa Wheeler used to baby-sit with us and I think she taught us how to play "M for Murderer". We'd pick a piece of paper out of a hat and if you drew the one that had an M on it, you were the murderer. Then we'd turn off the lights and the murderer would 'kill' some one. The victim would have to guess the murderer. She also taught us some milder games such as "I see something you don't see!"

When I was 6, Teresa was babysitting on Saturday and spent the night. Sunday afternoon we were playing baseball in our backyard and Teresa was the batter and I was catching. Somehow I got too close and was hit in the mouth with the bat, breaking my jaw. I never played catcher again!

When I would stay at my cousin Barbie's (Nesbit) we would play "Spin and Marty" from the Mickey Mouse Club with her neighbors. Barbara was always Spin and they made me be 'Ambitious' They used to make me mad because I didn't like being a boy, especially a stupid and ugly one!

By Kathy Harris Serrano

I was always "Spin" because I was the oldest and Becky Trussell was always "Marty" because she wouldn't play if she couldn't be. Besides how many GIRLS do you remember there being on the Triple R anyway? Guess we could have made you be 'Pee Wee" or the cook! YIPPY A YIPPY I YIPPY O

When mom (Teresa Harris) went to the hospital for surgery, she knew that grandpa Hinkebein was very ill. She made the doctor promise that if he should die while she was hospitalized, that she would be allowed to go to the funeral Mass. She was supposed to be in the hospital about a week. She had surgery on Monday, May 15, 1966 and grandpa died on Tuesday. Mom never regained consciousness and so did not know of Grandpa's death until he greeted her in heaven, May 21. What a horrible week that was. I know it was especially hard on mom's brothers and sisters. Thank God for our strong faith that gets us through times like that.

I have a painting of St. Teresa, the Little Flower, that Erline Wheeler painted for my mother when Erline was 18. Mom was her godmother and she cherished that painting. It now hangs in my daughter Teresa's bedroom. My brother Patrick has one that Erline painted when she was 11. They are both very beautiful. I always wished that I'd gotten just a little bit of the artistic talent that my Wheeler cousins were blessed with. The last time I saw Aunt Nettie was in May 1968. She came to Roy's 8th grade graduation with Uncle Pete and Aunt Edna. She looked so good and said she felt good. I was shocked when she died just 6 months later.

Christmas 1966 could have been a very difficult Christmas for us, as it was our first one without Mom. Dear Uncle Gene dressed as Santa Claus and came to our house with Uncle Pete and Aunt Edna bearing gifts for all of us. Between Pete, Gene and my dad, they kept everyone laughing and took away some of the sadness. Thanks!

I wore my mother's wedding gown when I was married, the same one that Aunt Patsy wore also. It was kept in a brown paper bag in my Grandmother's attic. I was overjoyed when it fit! My dad told me as we were walking down the aisle of the church that I was as pretty as my mother had been in the dress which made me feel so good. Valerie Wagner wore her mother's dress. We were both married in 1978.

I remember in the mid seventies that my dad (Richard Harris) had a get together. Uncle Gene and I were dancing the 'bump' a popular dance then. Uncle Gene 'bumped' me clean across the yard and I fell. He was still dancing.

At one of my brother's Roy's parties, my brother John sang 'You Are so Beautiful' to Aunt Clem. The video we have of it is great!

One tradition we have in our family is on birthdays. The birthday person gets to sit in a special 'Birthday Chair'. I have made one of red trimmed in white netting, that covers the back of the chair. It had HAPPY BIRTHDAY and our names and birth dates on it. This is your special chair for all meals and the birthday party. I think my Grandma Lattin (Brank) started it when we were little.

One of the things I remember about mom (Teresa Harris) is that she would have all us kids get in a big circle and kneel down to say the Rosary. She also sang "Go to sleep my little Buck-a-Roo's" to my younger brothers. I remember going to confession on Saturday afternoons when I was very young. Mom would go to confession and be in there FOREEVER, talking and laughing with the priest. I often wondered what they talked about.

Uncle Pete Vega was always very nice. I remember he smoked a cigar and of course, his wooden leg. Aunt Edna fixed me donuts that she made with biscuit dough. She would poke a hole in the middle, deep fry it, and then we would shake them up in a paper bag of sugar and cinnamon. They were fantastic! Aunt Edna and Uncle Pete also made us spaghetti and meatballs. The meatballs were as big as softballs! I could only eat half of one. Vega's also made popcorn and put Parmesan cheese on it. I still eat it that way.

I don't remember my dad (Paul Hinkebein) at all since I was only 19 months when he died. I do have some of his records and a little bit of information from mom. I have a certificate of completion of the eighth grade parochial school in Chaffee Mo., from May 26, 1935. I also have his diploma from Ward High School in Kansas City, Ks, dated June 2, 1939. Dad enlisted on July 9, 1940 and served in the Pacific during several major campaigns. He was First Sgt Co. C 110th Engineers at the time of his discharge November 1, 1945. At the time of his death, he was employed as an apprentice carpet layer for the Harper Rug Co. Mom said he loved sports, especially baseball and also enjoyed playing cards (pinochle). Mom also said that dad loved music and had a large collection of records. They went dancing when some of the big bands came to Kansas City. I also think he must have liked photography, since I have several photos of the war taken of him and by him.

By Paul (Butch) Hinkebein

Aunt Clem (Wagner) always had a garden and would send home grown green beans home with us when we visited. We thought that was about the best eating around! She gave me a ceramic figure of a girl carrying wheat when I graduated from high school. I still have it although it has been repaired more than once.

Aunt Patsy (Nesbit) didn't like to ride in cars. My mom told me that Aunt Patsy had fallen out of a taxi when she was a teenager and had been afraid since. I remember how pretty she was. I used to stay at their house and she always sang as she did housework.

FAMILY NOTES

I remember spending the night with the Wheeler cousins and in the evening at a certain time(?) everyone would stop whatever they were doing and Uncle Johnny would lead the family in praying the Rosary. I thought that was very special. Uncle Johnny came to my high school graduation. He was the only one of my relatives besides immediate family that was there and I was very touched.

By Kathy Harris Serrano

Most of my memories of the Hinkebein family are of Aunt Edna's and Uncle Vince's families. I think that we spent more time with these since we are also related on my mom's side. We moved away from Kansas City when I was twelve years old. We did visit at least once a year for the first few years after we moved to Colorado, and then less frequently. A few of the relatives have visited us. I remember a visit from Aunt Nettie and Uncle Johnny (Wheeler) and some of their family. We all went to see Mother Cabrini's shrine. This is a religious shrine in the mountains, and even though she was ill, Nettie climbed over 100 steps up the side of a mountain to get to the top of the shrine. I believe this visit was shortly before her death.

From Paul (Butch) Hinkebein

I remember spending a week with the Nesbits one summer, probably about 1964. Barbie had to go to the doctor and I went along for the ride. We had the same doctor, Dr. Elliott, and while we were there, Uncle Larry had him check my record in case I needed anything. Lo and behold, I was due for an injection and they got telephone permission from my mother and I got the shot!

Some of the childhood games I remember "City" that we played at Vega's on bicycles and Jimmy was always the cop., also "Kick the Can". Jimmy had an "Uncle Wiggly" board game. Jimmy seemed to have everything, or so we thought! I remember a huge closet at the Vega's house. It think it was in the girl's room. It was like a toy store! I'll bet most of it is still there. The Wheelers' taught us "I'm going downtown to smoke my Pipe" and it was a lot of fun.

I remember the first time I saw Wilma Wagner, Ronald's wife. I thought she was so pretty. I went home and named one of my dolls after her!

When my brother Roy got married in June 1973, it was very hot. The band was playing the Bunny Hop and about 200 people "Bunny Hopped" out of the hall and into the parking lot to cool off. I think Peppy and Erline Lynas were leading the group.

THE BELLS OF LEOPOLD

At dawn across the eastern hills
I used to hear the clear-toned bells,
Now low and sweet, now loud and bold,
The ringing bells of Leopold.

I've heard them in the gay springtime
Ring out the merry wedding chimes,
In silver notes and not too bold
Those gala bells of Leopold.

And sometimes on an autumn day
They say they sing a roundlay,
In softened tones-in notes of gold,
The mellow bells of Leopold.

I've heard that at the midnight hour
Sometimes there creeps out from the tower
A solemn song of days of old
Speak through the bells of Leopold.

And one day when a dirge was played
And sadness hearsed both man and maid
I hear that moan across the world,
Those solemn bells of Leopold.

I've gone afar from childhood scenes,
But still there comes to me in dreams,
Those memories sweet of joys old
And I hear the bells of Leopold.

By Dr. Vest C. Myers

This poem by Dr. Meyers (now deceased), former dean of Southeast Missouri State College in Cape Girardeau, was written in 1931 on the occasion of the 75th anniversary of the founding of the community and of the first church. It has been published in the booklet, "Verses from an old vase," by the press of Moore Bros, Fulton, Ky.

PREPARATION FOR THE FOUNDING OF LEOPOLD

The following translation is from earliest records of St. John's Church giving an account of events which led to the establishment of Vinemount, Missouri in 1856. The account was written in Latin by the Reverend John van Luytelaar and is presented as accurately as possible.

"In the year 1856, after the nativity of Our Lord Jesus Christ on the 12th day of February, I, John van Luytelaar asking it, my Reverend Brother Thomas van Luytelaar was created pastor of the Church of Saint Willibrod by the Most Reverend J. B. Purcell, Archbishop of Cincinnati, after I had ruled that church for three years, and permission was given to me of going to the Diocese of St. Louis, within which territory some Hollanders and Germans had bought a good portion of land for themselves, and already lived there or intended to go there.

Many of these professed the Catholic religion, but the nearest church was (at) Cape Girardeau, which they were unable to visit often on account of the long distance. These, therefore, for the reason of supporting and propagating the Catholic religion directed me to Peter Richard, Archbishop of St. Louis, and having been well received by him I was named Pastor of those "forest-lands" (which to us seemed very available for farming and which because of that mountain on which I lived was called Vinemount) especially since afterwards in the same place a church and by chance a certain home were to be buildt.

On the 18th day of March of the above said year coming my new parishioners (some of whom, it is incredible to say, I had already been acquainted with before as best of Christians) with what joy and gaiety they were afftd. They offered themselves, and they worked, so that a house be erected in which the Holy Sacrifice might be accomplished and I might dwell."

LEOPOLD SETTLED 1856

(This article appeared in THE BANNER PRESS Bollinger County's weekly newspaper on August 2, 1969)

In the Spring of 1856, Father John Van Luytelaar and 12 families of the parish of St. Willibrod in Cincinnati, Ohio, immigrated down the Ohio River and up the Mississippi to Cape Girardeau. From there they went in ox drawn wagons to where Leopold is now situated. These twelve families consisted of: Clement Beel, John Debrock, Herman Elfrink, Jacob Holweg, Arnold Jansen, F. Meyer, A. Rickhoff, John Scharenborg, J.G. Sonderen, J. W. Tuling, and William A. and John Holweg.

A town consisting of one long street was laid out and was named 'Vinemount', probably because of the abundance of grape vines growing in the uncleared area. It was quite evident that there were some families already residing in the town and the area surrounding it. These families were: H. Lohius; J.G. Rickoff; Henry Sander; Bernard Henpicke; H. van den Anker; N. Feith; D. Hinkebein; Stoverink; A. G. van Leunan; Herman Sander, H. van Wordragen,; J. A. Horsten; Gerald Sonderen; M. Schuttinger and J. W. Isseling.

On August 15, 1856, after Mass, work was begun on a church and rectory building. It was a two room log building in which the pastor might live and say Mass.

From 1860 to 1866 there was no resident pastor in Vinemount. From lack of records during these war years, the history of Vinemount is rather obscure, as it was located in the southern part of Bollinger county, it is very seriously affected by the Civil War. There was a skirmish between Union and Confederate forces fought from the two hills, which were less than two miles to the east of the little town. After this fight, bushwackers seized several men from the settlement and tied them to trees and shot them. Among these men were: Mr. Isseling, Mr. Husker, Mr. Alfred van Gennip, Albert Arnsen and Fritz Elfrink.

By 1872, a new rectory had also been built replacing the old one that had been destroyed during the war and a log school house had also been added. In 1879, another school building was built and came to be known as the 'middle school'. This building stood until 1950 when it was torn down.

Just before Christmas of 1881, a freight bill for $3.00 was paid on an organ. Since there was no bill for the organ itself found, it is quite likely that it was a gift from outside the parish.

It is evident that the first picnic celebrated in the summer of 1880. The main course was chicken and dumplings and each meal cost 24 cents.

During the year 1887, the people of Vinemount applied for a Post Office. Since there was already a Post Office in Missouri by the name of Vinemount, the settlement had to find a new name. It was decided to name the town Leopold in honor of the Pope at that time, Leo XIII.

In the spring of 1889, work was started on the foundation for a new church, which is still in use. In 1910, the church was finished. Although the church itself cost just $16,730, the remodeling job done in 1955 cost $74,000.

Following 1901, there was a succession of priests each bringing with them new ideas for the parish and for the church of St. John. Also, during these years, Leopold, as a farming community needed little business development but there were small early businesses suited to fit the need of the area. The towns wood shoemaker was Anton Rickoff and his establishment stood near where the well house stands now. There were several general stores operated by many different families.

During the 1880s a very picturesque man served as blacksmith in the area. Philip Hausen held the reputation of being a snake charmer. It is said that he kept a box of snakes in his shop

In the years of the Model T Ford, Leopold boasted an automobile agency. Henry Scharenborg and Fred Thiele were sales agents for Ford cars. The first automobile in Leopold was owned by Mr. Martin Van Doren. It is said to have been a 1916 Ford.

In 1924, A. J. Elfrink initiated the first trucking service between Leopold and St. Louis. He hauled livestock to St.

Louis and brought back merchandise for the stores in Leopold. Since it's humble beginnings the Elfrink Truck Lines has owned more that 60 trucks and 15 semi trailers.

In 1948, work was begun on the new school building. The school was actually built by the people of Leopold with the parish acting as its own contractor. Some of the bricklaying and plumbing was done by professionals but the rest of the job was done through cooperation of the men of the parish. The actual total donated labor amounted to 23,940 hours. In the fall of 1949, the first class of high school students was enrolled. With Richard Elfrink as a teacher, 21 ninth graders attended classes in one room of the parish rectory until the interior of the new building was finished.

THE CIVIL WAR IN BOLLINGER COUNTY

At least two skirmishes during the Civil War were connected with Marble Hill, or as it was known then, Dallas. One, in April 1863, was during Marmadukes Confederate invasion of Missouri. Col John McNeil retreated in the direction of Pilot Knob after an attack by Carter's Texas Cavalry. Another was during the great movement of the Confederate troops through Missouri in 1864, known as Price's Raid. His army included a large number of Missourians and he hoped to arouse enthusiasm and seek assistance for the Confederate cause from the people of Missouri. Marmaduke was again in command of a division whose route was by Poplar Bluff, Castorville, and Marble Hill, and whose orders were for all divisions to drive the Union forces before them, to unite at Fredericktown and prepare for an attack on Pilot Knob. They eventually came into conflict there.

The Missouri Historical Society states that in the Civil War, Major Jones Pewalt, with 100 Union troops, took 18 prisoners here (Marble Hill) in 1862 and in April 1862 Col Kitchen with 120 Confederates, raided the town and courthouse of Dallas (Marble Hill). On Crooked Creek, some 300 Confederates under Col. W. L. Jeffers put off about 268 Union troops led by Major Lazar on August 24, 1862.

Guerilla bands ranged the area around Marble Hill throughout the war. At one time, a small battle was fought between Union and Confederate soldiers on the hill east of Marble Hill, at about where the Hahn Chapel building is now located.

The war left Bollinger county and all of southeast Missouri in deplorable condition. Since this part of the state was really on the border between north and south, it was ravaged by guerilla bands made up of men from both sides. Many flourishing towns in S.E. Missouri were practically depopulated, the inhabitants either killed in the war or in the raids of the "bushwackers". Fields and fencing were destroyed, stock was killed, stolen, or left to starve to death. Many inhabitants were driven from their homes and found shelter elsewhere.

THE EFFECT OF THE CIVIL WAR
ON
ST. JOHN'S PARISH
AND IT'S PARISHIONERS

LEOPOLD, MISSOURI

From the 125th anniversary book of St. John's Parish

Because of the plundering and looting of the houses by outlaw border gangs, the loss of food outrages, the parish was completely scattered. Parish buildings and homes were ransacked, the rectory was destroyed, and the people lived in fear of the bushwhackers who roamed through the country. A number of men of the parish were seized by the bushwhackers and taken to the swamps just south of the territory where they were chained to trees and shot. Among these men were Mr. Isseling, Mr. Husker, Alfred Van Gennip, Albert Arnzen, and Fritz Elfrink.

It is said that the men of the community, in order to escape the fate which had befallen a few of them, found it necessary to hide out in the woods surrounding their homes. Food would be left for them in hollow trees where they might find it. As a result of the disorganization during this time, and the fear of losing their lives, the people became discouraged. Some of the families returned to Cincinnati to await the end of the war. Many of them left the immediate vicinity with little more than the clothes they wore and went to Cape Girardeau for protection, leaving their homes and property at the mercy of the brutal gangs. Some of the descendants of those early settlers are still living in Cape Girardeau.

Although their homes and property were destroyed or at least seriously damaged, the people who had left Vinemount during the war returned to rejoin the families who had chosen to remain through the ordeal.

WHO DOES SHE LOOK LIKE?

When the hand of fate shook the family tree
A little too much fell on me.
For the facts that came in that awful fall
Reveals me not myself at all.

Oh, I cannot say I am reconciled
For I'm not, all told, my mother's child.
I have father's walk, and laugh like him.
But I run they say, like Uncle Jim.

I have mother's hair, and sister's nose,
These are not mine, but brother's clothes.
My grandmother says, and she seems to know
I smile and wink like her brother, Joe.

That I carve meat like Her Uncle Jim
Tell Me! Someone, who I am.

Shade of my fathers, shadow or ghost
If I become Great I must not boast.
On the other hand, if I go wrong,
To Whom, Oh Please, does the sin belong?

Virtues and vices, cut dried, on the shelf,
And I wanted so much to be myself.
Aside from all this, the rule is set
That I am a part of all I have met.

Nature and Nurture, behavior acquired,
They have all "Tuned In" I am duly wired,
But something within me says I am free
As I run from the shade of that Ancestral Tree.

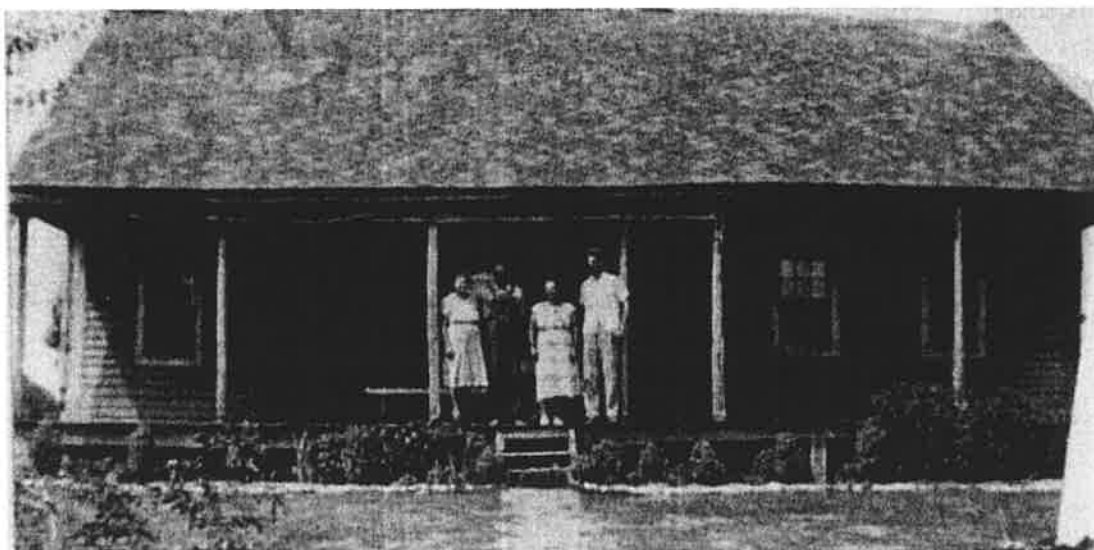

So I'll answer "Here" to Gabriel's Roll
For they tell me "I'm Captain of My Soul!"
