

July 5, 1941.

J. J. Akers, Treas.
Myers Park Methodist Church
Charlotte, N. C.

Dear Mr. Akers,

I have your letter at hand and I am rather surprised by its contents. I find it difficult to think that you may wish to find a release from obligation in the contract awarded to me by your church.

As at this distance I have no protection against the wiles of roving salesmen with questionable ethics, I think I should be within my rights in asking to be heard in committee as to the position I hold in regard to the completion of the glass in your church.

I shall be glad, upon notice, to come down and bring the contract and correspondence which show the validity of my claims, and also put your mind at rest on questions that have arisen from having had to listen to the siren's songs of the many competitors.

I think I am due this much consideration as I wish to do your work, not with your ill will, but in amity.

I should like to hear from you again so that we may come to a friendly understanding on this subject. I am sure that you are as anxious as I to maintain our mutual respect and deference.

Sincerely,

A. L. Pitassi