PUBLIC RESPONDS TO HOBBY SHOW AND PUBLIC SCHOOLS WEEK

PARENTS AND FRIENDS ATTEND THREE MEETINGS

Patrons of the public schools and neighbors of the North Fork community responded to three meetings recently to show their appreciation for the efforts of their fellow workers and their neighbors.

A large crowd attended the showing of the hobbies of the community on the twenty-third of April and on the twenty-sixth of the month the parents were invited to the classrooms of the public school, and regardless of the snow about two-thirds of the parents were present. Then on Thursday the twenty-eighth of April the public responded with a near capacity crowd to attend the first all musical program by the pupils of the North Fork Union School.

Mrs. Catherine Ware, the Music Director and the pupils are to be congratulated for an excellent program.

NOTICE

School will be dismissed at 2:30 P. M. on May 10, so the teachers may attend the Institute called by Mr. Bain.

May . . .

The month of May was named for MAIA the Roman goddess of spring. Mother's Day and Memorial Day are special days during the month.

Now the bright morning star, day's harbinger,
Comes dancing from the east, and leads with her
The flowery May, who from her green lap throws
The yellow cowslip, and the pale primrose.
Hail, bounteous May, that doth inspire
Mirth, and youth, and warm desire;
Woods and groves are of thy dressing,
Hill and dale doth boast thy blessing,
Thus we salute thee with our early song,
And welcome thee, and wish thee long.

—John Milton, "On May Morning"

The sun will shine after every storm. There is a solution to every problem, and the soul's highest duty is to be of good cheer. —Ralph W. Emerson

I have but one lamp by which my feet are guided and that is the lamp of experience. I know no way of judging the future but by the past.

—Patrick Henry

Thoughtfulness for others, generosity, modesty, and self-respect are the qualities which make a real gentleman or lady.

—Thomas H. Huxley

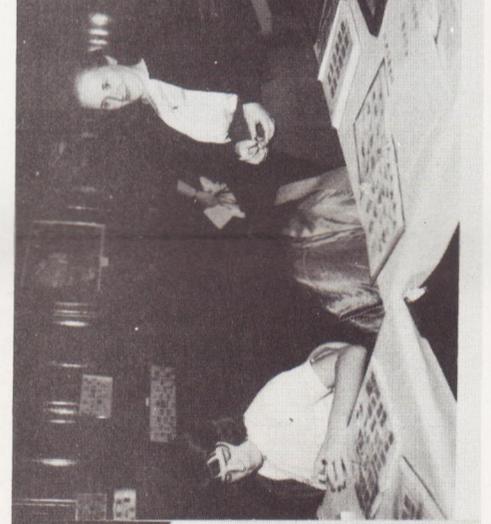

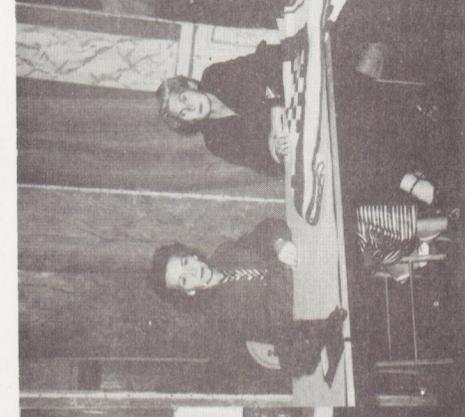

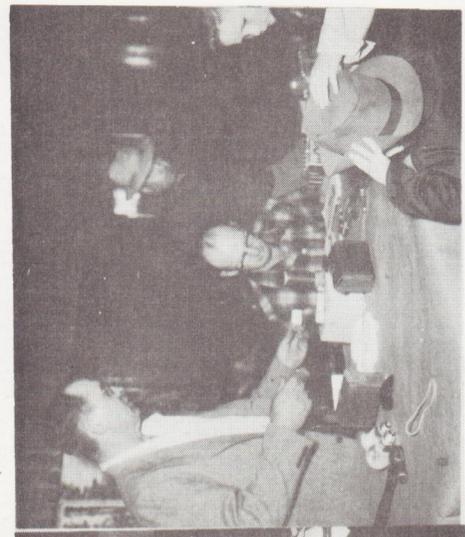

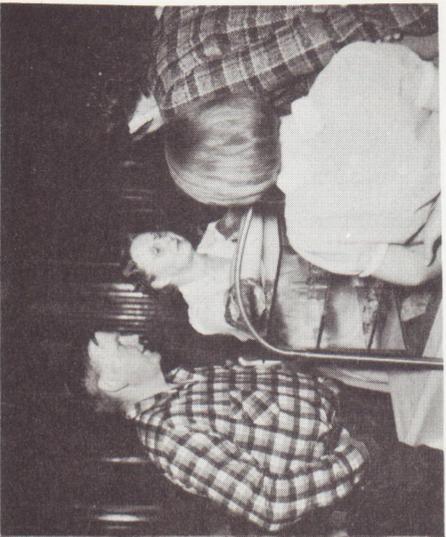

It is well when the wise and the learned discover new truths; but how much better to diffuse the truths already discovered amongst the multitudes. Every addition to true knowledge is an addition to human power; and while a philosopher is discovering one new truth, millions of truths may be propagated amongst the people . . . The whole land must be watered with the streams of knowledge.

—Horace Mann

Language is not an abstract construction of the learned, or of dictionary-makers, but is something arising out of the work, needs, ties, joys, affections, tastes, of long generations of humanity, and has its base broad and low, close to the ground.

—Walt Whitman

HOBBY SHOW

THE HEARTBREAK OF cancer IS ALL TOO FAMILIAR

A mother dies, leaving three small children. A businessman who was the spark plug of his company is lost "after a long illness." A six year old girl, who used to sing to her grandmother, passes slowly away.

If we know them—and who has not known and loved someone lost to cancer—we realize why it is man's cruelest enemy. We are sad, we feel hopeless and helpless, too often we do nothing but mourn.

But there is new hope...great hope...among scientists, physicians and the volunteers of the American Cancer Society.

By our action we can help make that hope come true. Hundreds of thousands who had cancer are living today... a pretty high school girl in Georgia won the battle with cancer years ago; a dairy owner in Minnesota was cured of cancer of the stomach; a personable New Yorker, cured of cancer of the breast, helps others facing the disease.

Each year there are some 75,000 personal victories over cancer. That and the great program of attack on the disease explain why the symbol of the American Cancer Society is the sword of hope.

Today as people awake from feeling helpless and hopeless, they ask questions, questions like these.....

1. Will I have cancer? Cancer strikes one in four Americans. Earlier estimates were one in five but current studies show the greater threat. You cannot know whether cancer will strike you—but today, if our knowledge were used effectively, half who have cancer would be saved.

2. What can I do to help? Strike back at cancer by giving a thoughtful, generous gift to the American Cancer Society. Your dollars will support education to arm us all with protecting information, service to suffering patients, research to find the final answers—a thousand topflight scientists now work in 132 laboratories in 36 states.

3. What can I do to protect my own life from cancer? *Have a thorough medical examination annually. Six months after this examination, a woman over 35 should return for a pelvic check-up; a man over 45 should have a semi-annual chest X-ray for signs of lung cancer.

Go to a doctor at once if any one of the Seven Danger Signals that may mean cancer appears. These signals are:

- 1 ANY SORE THAT DOES NOT HEAL
- 2 A LUMP OR THICKENING IN THE BREAST OR ELSEWHERE
- 3 UNUSUAL BLEEDING OR DISCHARGE
- 4 ANY CHANGE IN A WART OR MOLE
- 5 PERSISTENT INDIGESTION OR DIFFICULTY IN SWALLOWING
- 6 PERSISTENT HOARSENESS OR COUGH
- 7 ANY CHANGE IN NORMAL BOWEL HABITS

strike back — give to conquer cancer
