

Free Tickets To Woodland Park Zoo Now Available For Kids And Teens

Thousands of children and teens have taken part in The Seattle Public Library's 2015 Summer of Learning program, and now it's time to pick up your free tickets (while supplies last) to Woodland Park Zoo!

Just by filling out a simple survey, children and teens (ages 0-18) who participated in Summer of Learning can receive two free tickets to an end-of-summer party at the zoo on Friday, Sept. 11, Saturday, Sept. 12 or Sunday, Sept. 13.

The surveys, which will help improve next year's program, are located in the back of the Summer of Learning activity booklets and on the fliers for early learners and teens (all available at your local Library branch) or online on the Library's Summer of Learning Web page. Turn surveys in to your local Library branch by Thursday, Sept. 10 for zoo tickets.

Tickets provide free admittance to the zoo for one person 18 or under and one guest. There will be a welcome program at noon every day, followed by free music in the North Meadow.

A free bus shuttle to the zoo for ticketholders will operate Sunday, Sept. 13. The shuttle will depart between 9 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. from the following three locations:

•Central Library, 1000 Fourth Ave., 206-386-4636

•High Point Branch, 3411 S.W. Raymond St., 206-684-7454

•NewHolly Branch, 7058 32nd Ave. S., 206-386-1905

The shuttle will return every 30 minutes from the zoo between noon and 6:30 p.m. Patrons boarding buses need to have zoo tickets or will need to purchase tickets to enter the zoo. Children ages 12 and under must be accompanied by a parent or guardian.

The 2015 Summer of Learning program is designed to keep students reading and learning while school is out. This year's program features the theme "Wild Science!" and encourages reading and activities around science, technology, engineering, arts and math. The program is sponsored by The Seattle Public Library Foundation, U.S. Bank and Woodland Park Zoo.
